OUR FUTURE

Roosevelt Speaks of Nation's Problems

Will Maintain Honor and Dignity of the Flag

What We Have Entered Upon Should Be Carried Out Unfalteringly.

Boston, May 1.—Vice President Roosevelt was the lion of the evening at the banquet of the Home Market club in Mechanics' building last evening. Sixteen hundred Republican leaders collected from all sections of Massachusetts represented the party in all its affiliations.

After the especial guest of the evening, Vice President Roosevelt, the principal speakers of the evening were Senators Hoar and Lodge, and Curtis Guild.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

In opening his address, Mr. Roosevelt dwelt upon the remarkable prosperity of the past four years, and said it had been brought about in large part by the policy for which the Home Market club stood. "So complete has been the success of our economic legislation and administration," he said, "that this very success brings with it a certain element of danger. Since the days of Heshurun the tendency of prosperity to unsettle the people who benefit by it has been a commonplace of philosophy. No law and no administration of the law can insure prosperity. All that can be done is to make the conditions such as to give the best chance for honesty, business capacity, industry and intelligence. This has been done.

"For good or for evil, we now find ourselves with new duties in the West Indies, and new duties beyond the Pacific. We cannot escape the performance of these duties. All we can decide for ourselves is whether we shall do them well or ill. Moreover the duties affect us each and all. Our interest, whether in the gulf of Mexico, in Central America, or in the Philippines, whether as regards the nations of Europe or the ancient people of Asia, are to be looked at always from the standpoint of our people as a whole.

"It is of course impossible that we should undertake these new duties across the seas without being brought into closer and more frequent contact with foreign nations than has been the case in the past; and indeed our own growth in wealth and population would alone ensure such growing frequency of contact. This should necessarily mean an increase in sobriety and in long-headed self-restraining when we deal with these foreign powers. To bluster, and above all to bluster and then back down, is a very bad trait in an individual, and if possible it is an even worse trait in a nation. We earnestly hope and believe that in the future the chance of any military complication will be small indeed: but in our commercial relations with foreign powers difficult questions are almost certain to be more frequent hereafter than they have been hitherto. In all such questions we must of course first consider our own interests; but we must also realize that in the long run we can best get justice by doing justice.

"Since the close of the war with Spain our chief problems as regards the outside world have been those in Cuba, the Philippines and China. We have a right to feel proud of the way in which in our action as regards all three we have been able to combine a proper disinterestedness with a just regard for our own national interests. We have neither failed in our duty to ourselves, nor in our duty to others. We could not afford to take upon ourselves world burdens without paying heed to what is due to ourselves. Still less could we afford to take them up unless willing to perform them in accordance with the dictates of the higher law, and with a view to the ultimate benefit of mankind at large.

"We must perform our future duties as during the last three years we have performed our duties to Porto Rico and Hawaii. In Hawaii the difficulty was but slight. Nothing but benefit has come to us from having this great outpost in the Pacific. And an even greater benefit has come to the people of the islands, themselves.

"In the case of Porto Rico, the problem was more difficult. We took the island of a million inhabitants who had never known what freedom was. We have established representative government and we have sent to be the first governor your own fellow citizen, Governor Allen. How well he has done let the bald recital of the facts show. The civil government of Porto Rico has not cost the people of the United States one dollar. It has been self-supporting from the beginning.

"As regards China, I need say but little, for it is hardly worth while wasting breath on the very few who criticize our Chinese policy. We have simply performed our part in a bit of international police duty; we, at any rate, have never sought aggrandizement as a result of our action; and whoever feels we were not justified in what we did ought logically to object to all exercise of police power at home. There was no more 'militarism' in what was done by us in China than there is 'militarism' when a policeman arrests a highway robber or murderer.

"Proud indeed should we be as Americans that the Stars and Stripes fluttered among the flags whose approach meant safety from torture and murder, and worse than torture and murder to the hunted women and children and despairing men who stood at bay behind their crumbling legation walls. We should be proud of the signal gallantry of our general and his troops; and we should be even prouder because that gallantry was unstained by murder and cruelty. Under the greatest provocation our government refused to yield to the clamor for mere revenge and refused to take part in, or connive at, any effort to partition China; while our soldiers have so borne themselves that their camps have been crowded by Chinese refugees of all sexes and ages, who flee to them because they have learned that though our people are terrible in battle, they are gentle in victory, and that the helpless are sure of protection under the American flag.

"In Cuba we have had to face a harder because a less simple task. We were pledged to bring peace and freedom to the island, and we have been resolutely bent upon keeping that pledge, not merely in the letter, but in the spirit. We would commit a grave wrong to our own people if we permitted the great island which is our neighbor once more to become a plague spot of civilization; a still graver wrong if we permitted the possibility of its ever being used against us by some strong alien power. Our business was to help in the development of those qualities in the Cubans which would render them able to solve the difficult problem of self-government; to further every movement for decency in the island; and to give our aid to the new Cuban commonwealth as it strove to walk alone. This has been our constant endeavor. Congress and the president have formulated the proper policy, and the President chose in Leonard Wood exactly the man to put this policy into effect. We ask that it be judged by its fruits. Remember that the change is solely due to the fact that we dared to go to war for a righteous cause. If ever in history an action has justified itself, our action in interfering in Cuba has thus furnished its own justification.

"Finally we come to the Philippines, where the difficulties were greatest of all. Perhaps few better tests of our worth as a nation have ever been offered than this Philippine problem. We could not give the islands back to Spain; we could not see them taken by some other European power; and least of all could we turn them over to be scrambled for by insurgent leaders, most of whom were but little above the level of banditti. The first thing to be done was to restore order by putting a stop to the insurrection. This has at last been practically accomplished in a succession of campaigns which have brought out into bold relief the daring, the skill and the indomitable resolution of our officers and men. The campaigns have been wearing and difficult beyond description, both because of the nature of the country and of the character of our opponents.

"The record of the struggle in the Philippines is one which should make all Americans proud because of the firmness and the mercy, the justice and the fearlessness with which their representatives in the islands have acted under as trying conditions as have ever been faced in a similar case. From Lawton to Funston many a name has been added to the honor roll of the republic.

"No greater stride towards securing prosperity for the island folk can be taken than to make the conditions such as to invite business enterprise. But in our own interest and for the sake of our own honor we must steadily insist upon one point. Our public men must understand that their relations towards the islanders are those of trustees and that no trustee is allowed to make any gain because of his relations with his ward.

"As for the offenses that are at times bound to occur in connection with the public service in the islands, we should on the one hand see to it that the most prompt and severe punishment is visited upon the offenders, and in the next place we should remember that it is simply silly to treat such an offense as in any way a condemnation of our policy. In every man who serves our government, in military, or in civil life, in these distant islands, we have a right to demand the highest standards, the most unblemished record of public conduct, and woe to us if we lower this standard, if we relax our just and jealous severity."

"Now, in conclusion, let me ask you to judge the future by the past. Look back over the last three years and see what we have done. Think how infinitely better off Cuba and the Philippines are, because of the policy upon which this republic has acted. Mankind is our debtor for what we have done, and the doing of it has raised our national character to a higher standard than ever before. We have made mistakes, of course; let us profit by them and avoid them hereafter; but at home and abroad let us continue on the course we have marked out. We talk much, and on the whole we talk truly, of the future greatness of our people. Let us see to it that our deeds make good our words, that we take advantage of our manifold opportunities, and do without flinching our manifold duties. We are not to be excused if we fail to do all that is required of a great nation, standing as one of the great powers of the earth; and least of all are we to be excused if we fail to keep in mind the principles that underlie all real greatness—the principle of justice and of mercy—of courage and of honesty, that go to make up a national record of clean living and true manliness."

Senator Lodge hinted of a possible league of Europe against the United States. "Hands off South America" was his warning to the powers. He advocated keeping our army and navy in such condition as to be prepared for any emergency. The Monroe doctrine must be upheld at all cost.

Morrison's Gloomy Picture

London, May 1.—Dr. Morrison, wiring to The Times from Pekin, protests that Count Von Waldersee's policy of punitive expeditions has "thrown the greater part of the province of Chih-Li into an a state of anarchy and disorder. This is so complete," he says, "that the neighborhood of Pekin is now more unsafe for foreigners than at any previous time since the occupation began. The trade with the interior is crippled. The only armed Chinese are robbers and Boxers. Restitution to the Chinese of territorial jurisdiction has become a paramount ned."

Prince Is Tired of Living

St. Petersburg, May 1.—Prince Dolgoroukoff, formerly Secretary of the Russian embassy in London, attempted to commit suicide at a prominent hotel here. His action was due to family troubles. He had been separated from his wife. His recovery is possible.

Miners Decide Not to Strike

Lens, May 1.—The French Miners' union has issued a manifesto declaring that, as 20,000 miners abstained from voting in the referendum on the question of a general strike, the union has decided not to assume the grave responsibility of ordering a strike.

Center Moves Westward

Washington, May 1.—The census bureau has issued a bulletin announcing that the center of population of the United States, excluding Alaska and recent territorial accessions, on June 1 last, was six miles southeast of Columbus, in southern Indiana.

Exeter, N. H., May 1.—Martin Tohan, convicted of breaking and entering and of aggravated assault upon William Judson, was yesterday sentenced to four years in state prison for breaking and entering and an additional year for assault.

FOR OLD AGE

To the old, as to babies, the even balance of health is more important than anything else in the world. The possible health, in age, is not high and strong; it is only even.

There is no end, but death, to the trouble that comes of its loss.

It ought to be watched like a baby's.

Their future is short; but oh how it turns on comfort! on whether the wrinkles are wrinkles of pain or of long serene enjoyment!

Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil—for very old and very young in different ways—is the food to secure this even condition of health.

Good Afternoon.

While we have no sympathy with the object of the Boston hotel men, to bring about an earlier closing of the theatres, in common with many we believe it a good idea. A few may be unwise and visit the hotels, but a large majority are anxious to get home earlier. Much of the pleasure of a night at the theatre is offset by the late hour of getting home. Now that many complete their day's work at 4 o'clock and more at 5 o'clock there is no reason why entertainments should not begin as early as 7.30. This applies to entertainments in Quincy as well as to the theatres of Boston.

Fifty years ago to day, the Quincy grandmothers put on thin dresses and shoes, and sometimes tissue paper wreaths and went down to the fields just off Greenleaf street. They usually dug out a few Mayflower roots, some hints of violets, got a solid cold but had the consciousness also, of celebrating May Day. Today that section is classic ground. The conservative Adams academy, the tried and proven Greenleaf Street school, the Quincy High school, and the younger Woodward institute cluster about the old May Day play grounds.

"Where shall we keep the holiday,
And duly greet the entering May?
Too strait and low our cottage doors
And all unmeet our carpet floors.
Nor spacious court, nor monarchs hall
Suffice to hold the festival."
—From Emerson's May Day.

Drift of Opinion.

☞Regarding out of town bids for public buildings, the Brookline Suburban says: To judge by the number of bids on the schoolhouses soon to be constructed here in Brookline, out-of-town builders take a great deal of interest in local operations. While this out-of-town competition is doubtless a good thing for the town from a financial point of view it is nevertheless to be hoped that whenever possible the contracts on town work will be given to local parties."

We doubt very much if these so-called out-of-town bids are a good thing for the town financially. We have practical builders in this town quite capable of constructing public building, and if their bids should be a little larger than out-of-town builders, it is more than probable that our local contractors from a sense of public spirit give the town a better building and give less reason for criticism of the work accomplished. Besides the local builder gives employment to home mechanics and labor, which is a point to be considered in the construction of public buildings.—Hyde Park Gazette.

Stolen Property Recovered.

Inspector McKay visited the home of Charles N. Perkins on Squantum street Tuesday, and with permission of the young man's mother made a search for stolen property. His search was successful, for in the cellar he found a quantity of patterns and brass castings that were stolen from Nyhan's foundry at Wollaston. One of the patterns recovered was valued at $25. Perkins was arrested some weeks ago for breaks at Milton and is now in jail serving a sentence on some of the counts.

One of the hottest spots on the globe is the region around the Dead sea. The sea is said to lose at least 1,000,000 tons of water a day by evaporation.

THE MAY FESTIVAL.

Attendance This Afternoon Far Exceeds Expectations.

Long before the doors of Quincy Music hall opened at 2 o'clock this afternoon it was evident that something of interest to the children was going to happen, for a big crowd assembled, and there was a grand rush when the doors did open. Soon the capacity of Music hall was tested, and the crowd was so large that it was with difficulty that one could get about.

But little in the way of decorations was attempted. In fact the decorations were confined wholly to the tables. The first table to greet the eye on entering the hall was that where May baskets were on sale. This was completely covered with pretty May baskets, every color of the rainbow being used in their make up. Then there was a table decorated with red, white and blue bunting. Across the hall was a third table and this was decorated with colored crepe paper.

Seats for the children who took part were arraigned on the platform in a tier. The little ones occupied the front seats, those higher up being filled with older children.

It was virtually a children's party and the little ones had a jolly time. The festival was also equally well enjoyed by the parents who occupied the seats in the centre of the hall.

The hours were from 2 until 5 and the following was the interesting program for the afternoon:

Part I.

1. Chorus, Coddington school, Primary pupils, Miss Annie P. Hall and Miss Alice Kelly, teachers.
2. Vocal solo: "Who'll buy my Lavender," Master John Findlay of Christ church choir and Lincoln school.
3. Club swinging, Woodward school pupils, kindness of Miss Small, and Miss Helen L. Blackwell, Woodward teacher of gymnastics.
4. Recitatons: "I go to School" and "So Am I," Angelo Bizzozero, of the Gridley Bryant school.
5. "Caddie song and dance," under direction of Mr. E. Landis Snyder.
6. Songs: Coddington school, Primary pupils.

Part II.

1. "Cake Walk" by Adams School pupils, trained by Miss Grace Howard; accompanist, Miss Annie W. Miller.
2. "Little old Woman Dance," by Miss Minnie Packard of Coddington school.
3. Preparatory fencing by Woodward school pupils.
4. Cornet solo by Miss Abby L. Green of the Quincy school, Atlantic.

May pole dance.
General dancing.

Mr. Emery L. Crane was the stage manager.

The festival committees are:

Committee of general arrangements—Mrs. F. H. Smith, Mrs. R. R. Freeman, Mrs. C. T. Hardwick, Mrs. W. W. Adams, Miss Eliza C. Sheahan and Miss Elizabeth Johnson.

May Pole dance,— Mrs. Dexter E. Wadsworth and Mrs. W. E. Burke, assisted by Miss Fay Hitchcock, Miss Fanny Ellsworth and Mrs. H. F. Spear.

Lemonade table, — Miss Margaret Thomas and Miss Harriet E. Johnson, assisted by Miss Grace E. Perry, Miss Annie F. Burns, Miss Elizabeth Sullivan.

May Basket table,—Mrs. James N. Nowland and Miss L. Alice Putnam, assisted by Mrs. N. S. Hunting, Miss Charlotte Burgess and Miss Grace G. Howard.

Candy table,—Miss Emily Wild, Mrs. E. E. Davis, Mrs. C. M. Bryant, Mrs. Joseph C. Morse and Mrs. Albert Parker, assisted by Miss Mary W. Holden and Miss Gertrude A. Boyd.

Mighty Powerful.

"The pumps on one of the torpedo boat destroyers being built by the Fore River Engine Company at Weymouth, have a capacity of 8,000,000 gallons for 24 hours," said Lieut. A. Gustav Kaemmering to the Beacon Society, the other night. "They could lift the whole craft to the top of Bunker Hill monument in 43 seconds." Lieut. Kaemmerling, like many other officers of the navy I have met, is a very interesting speaker. He is brimful of facts and figures about the navy.—C. A. P. column in Boston Journal.

Castle Square Understudies.

Great interest is being shown in the forthcoming production of "A Broken Compact," the new play to be produced by the Understudies of the Castle Square theatre at Quincy Music hall on Friday evening, the 10th of May. It is a heavy melodrama in five acts; the fourth and climatic one of which is the interior of a large coal mine, where some terrific explosions occur and the roof falls in blocking up all possibilities of escape. The climax of the last scene of the act which shows the mine in its wrecked condition is one which will please all true lovers of excitement in the drama.

The performance will take on a great degree of interest—as it will rank as a first night—something very rarely seen in an out of town place of amusement. It will be played in Quincy and one other place before a metropolitan production is granted it. Several managers will attend to see the progress of affairs and note whatever points may be of interest to them and to the author Mr. Geeorge Palmer Moore. The cast is exceptionally large, comprising about thirty persons in all. Besides these there will be several specialty artists, amongst whom Mr. Arnold, who is not in the regular cast, is expected to make his appearance.

The cast up to date is as follows, comprising several well known Quincy people:

William Hope,	Corliss Giles
Leonard Monckton,	Horace Pierce.
Richard Bartly,	William Lavean
Col. Clifford,	Frank Minzey
Walter Clifford,	J. H. Montgomery
Percy Fitzroy,	Charles A. St. Clare
Ben Armstrong,	T. W. Townsend
Jem Davies,	Frank MacHardy
Tom Kirby,	Frank Thomas
Bill Evans,	Frank Craig
Dan Ellis,	George Church
Mr. Rushton,	Richard Von Camp
Mary Bartley,	Miss Avonia Eldridge
Julia Clifford,	Miss Clara Hubener
Nancy Dawson.	Miss Helen Harding
Lucy Monckton,	Miss A. B. Cote
Little Grace Hope,	Marian Finley.

Prices of tickets will be twenty-five, thirty-five, fifty, and seventy-five cents. Excellent seats are procurable at the two lowest prices—most of the higher priced seats having been already sold. The advance sale will commence Saturday, May 4, at Hearns' and the Music Hall pharmacy

To the Interested Bicycle Public.

My opening day statement and challenge was that I would easily be the leading bicycle dealer of Quincy this year. I expected to gain this end by selling the finest line of bicycles within my power to secure, at fair prices. Not to misrepresent or deceive my customers and friends. It is your friendship and trade I want and in return you can expect honest statements, honest treatment and perfect satisfaction from me. I am pleased with the jealousy my success has developed in my competitors. It simply means that I have bicycles and a policy of selling that is popular.

Give me a call and examine my line of wheels. I am not a mud slinger or sharp skate. I can deliver all bicycles at the prices asked. This is more than my competitors can do.

THE ELOPEMENT.

Continues to be the Talk of the Young People.

The elopement of Jordan L. Mott and Miss Carol Pitkin of South Braintree was the only subject discussed yesterday; everyone was full of it. It was a great surprise, not that they cared for each other, but that it should have terminated in an elopement rather than a swell church wedding, with bridesmaid, ushers, a reception, etc.

Since coming to Braintree last fall, Mr. Mott, has shown a decided liking for Miss Pitkin and has been in constant attendance on her and her mother at the theatre and social functions. His attentions were so marked that many commented on it, and joked them occasionally. An engagement would not have surprised any of their friends, but an elopement—well that was a surprise and is still the subject of much comment. It was hardly a case of objection, so far as Mr. or Mrs. Pitkin were concerned, for Mr. Mott was very much in love and furthermore was desirable in every way for a son-in-law, but there must have been some doubt in the young people's mind as to how the Mott family would accept an engagement, hence they took matters into their own hands and went to Boston Monday morning and were quietly married at the Park Street church. After which they telegraphed Dr. Pitkin, and wrote to Mr. Mott. They spent the day and night in Boston, and Tuesday morning Mrs. Pitkin went to Boston and forgave them and they all returned to South Braintree.

Mr. and Mrs. Mott expect to start today on a bridal trip and will later call on is parents, when he hopes for a reconciliation, and that arrangements will be made to suit the change made in his life by his marriage.

Mr. Mott was fitting under Dr. Pitkin for Harvard, and his marriage may change all that, although he is full young at present to give up schooling, being but nineteen.

Mrs. Mott is very handsome and since her coming out has been a great belle. She was considered the prettiest girl in the young set, and moreover had a sweet disposition, so that it is no wonder Mr. Mott succumbed to her charms, being a member of her family since last fall and being thrown in her society constantly.

Every one hopes the young people will be forgiven, and doubtless they will when the stern parent sees his charming new daughter.

The bride is a sister of Mrs. Harry E. Russell of Greenleaf street, Quincy.

Fire in an Unoccupied House.

The alarm from Box 64 last evening at 9.10, was for a fire in the unoccupied dwelling on Newbury avenue, Atlantic, owned by Henry Hunt of Neponset. A still alarm was given first, as the engine house is situated almost opposite. When the firemen broke in the door, the flames burst forth, so the alarm was immediately sounded. In a short time the fire was under control and extinguished. The building was badly burned inside. It has been vacant for a couple of years. It is thought the fire was incendiary.

May Strike Next Week.

The Stone Workers union of Lanesville on Cape Ann held a meeting last evening, about 400 being present. It was voted to postpone action in the matter of a strike for one week. In case no terms mutually satisfactory can be agreed upon it is more than probable that the Union will declare a strike at its meeting next week. The men are decidedly adverse to striking, but declare that they are not getting living wages and that there must be a change in the schedule.

TODAY'S COURT.

Charles F. Gillegan was fined $5 for drunkenness at Weymouth.

Thomas Curran and Patrick H. Hand were arraigned for drunkenness at Randolph. The former case was continued for one month and the latter for two weeks.

Timothy O'Leary who was arrested at Randolph for drunkenness was released without arraignment.

Moses A. Boynton of Wollaston was arraigned upon two complaints, one charging him with the illegal transportation of liquors and the second with the illegal sale of liquor at Quincy. Cases continued until Saturday.

WOODWARD FUND.

Increase Sufficient to Pay Cost of Building.

The Woodward Institute fund was larger at the close of 1900 than it was at the close of 1890, although during these ten years $53,914.77 has been expended in the erection, enlargement and improvement of the school building.

The first cost of the institute in 1893 was $22,248.98, and in the six following years there were expended sums aggregating with the first cost $53,914.77. Of this sum $47,134.15 was for the building and $6,780.62 for grading of the lot.

The net funds at the close of each year, and the amount expended in erection and improvement of institute are given below:

Close of Year.	Cost of Institute.	Net Funds.
1890	—	$260,750.80
1891	—	279,585.46
1892	—	292,489.58
1893	$22,248.98	295,863.84
1894	4,254.14	293,694 65
1895	190.52	299,155.39
1896	10,144.94	286,068.44
1897	12,763.74	274,396.70
1898	335.60	275,632.18
1899	3,977.83	276,037.68
1900	—	274,448.50

The cost of maintaining the school, including teachers, janitor and incidentals has been as follows:

Year.	Total.
1895	8,874.89
1896	10,629.94
1897	10,847.08
1898	10,349.25
1899	10,458.30
1900	10,717.85

A Legitimate Investment
Which Increased Over 700 per cent.
WITHIN SIX MONTHS.

The Arcola Oil Company's stock sold for $135 per 1,000 shares, and in six months $1,000 per 1,000 shares was refused for the stock, for the reason that the first well was a large producer and there is room for forty wells on the Company's land, which makes it about certain that the stock in the near future will be worth ten dollars per share.

We offer you the same opportunity for a large gain by investing in the Dirigo Oil Company's stock, the first block of which is being sold for $150 per 1,000 shares. The Company owns a block of land adjoining the Arcola Company's land which has large producing wells on all four sides. There is eighty acres of the Company's land in the center of the oil belt, which we feel absolutely certain will give a large producing well in each acre.

We now have machinery on the ground, and are ready to sink the first well, and expect to strike oil by May 1st, which will then make the stock worth par value, if the well is as good a producer as the Arcola.

The block of stock we are selling is about three-quarters sold and quick application will have to be made to secure any of it at the present price.

A civil service examination for clerks, foremen and inspectors will be held at City Hall, Friday, and for police and firemen on Saturday. There are eleven applications for clerks, two for foremen, one for inspector, nineteen for police, and thirteen for firemen.

Pan-American Show Opened

Buffalo, May 1.—The Pan-American exposition opened this morning at 8 o'clock without ceremony, but at noon the United States government building was opened with formal exercises. At 2 o'clock there will be a salute of 45 guns. Following this there will be one shot for each state in the union, and a band concert on the espanade. At 3 o'clock a flight of 5000 homing pigeons will be liberated. They will carry to the governors of various states announcements of the opening of the exposition. At dusk the magnificent electrical features of the exposition will be displayed. William Hamlin, the horseman, secured admission ticket No. 1. He paid $5000 for it.

Resignation Quashes Trial

New York, May 1.—Police Captain Westervelt yesterday applied for retirement, on the ground of having served 25 years on the force, and the application was granted by Commissioner Murphy, who retired him on a pension of $1375 a year. As soon as the proceedings in the case against Captain Westervelt for neglect of duty were begun in court yesterday, District Attorney Philbin announced that Captain Westervelt had resigned, and he asked that the proceedings be dismissed. Magistrate Cornell thereupon dismissed the case.

A Tinker's Dam.

There is no profanity in saying that any certain thing "is not worth a tinker's dam," although it is so considered by many. The expression originated many years ago, when tinkering, or mending, leaky vessels was much cruder than it is now.

In former times the use of rosin to check the flow of solder when placed on tin was not generally understood, at least by the roving tinkers. When one of these gentlemen of the road found a job, such as mending a wash boiler or other tin household utensil, he would get from the housewife or domestic a piece of soft dough. With this he would build a dam around the place where he intended to put his solder. Inside of the circle thus formed he poured the melted lead. When the metal had cooled, he would brush away the dam of dough that had confined it to the desired limits. The heat had hardened the heavy paste and baked it thoroughly, so that it was absolutely of no use for anything else. It became one of the most useless things in the world, and there was not enough of it even to be worth while carrying to the pigs.

Hence the expression, which was originally intended to convey a certain idea, appears to have been retained, while the origin is not generally known.

Black Diamonds.

Black diamonds are comparatively rare and correspondingly high priced. They are three or four times as hard as the white ones, and fire cannot harm them, however great the heat, but if a drop of water should touch them while heated they will explode and leave nothing but a little heap of sand in their place.

Their beauty is not remarkable, but on account of their extreme hardness they are invaluable for dressing surfaces impervious to the friction of any other material. The largest black diamonds are set in the end of a round short bar of steel, with a handle of wood, and are used in dressing emery wheels that have lost their "trueness." A black diamond is the only substance that will not be ground away by contact with the emery surface.

Black diamonds are also used as points in scoring pencils which are used by sealers of weights and measures to mark glass receptacles. They are used by dentists for drilling teeth before filling them with gold. In appearance they look more like a shining little splinter of iron or grain of coal than a precious gem, and their chief mission is a distinctly commercial and not an ornamental one.

Blind persons acquire so great a delicacy of touch at the tips of their fingers that they may really be said to see with their hands.

The orchid, found in the jungles and difficult of access, sometimes commands $1000 for a single specimen. It takes months to stalk the "demon flowers."

The Chinese tael is a coin which has never existed. It is simply a unit used for convenience.

RECEIVES CARDINAL'S CAP

Cardinal-Elect Martinelli Is Formally Notified of His Promotion

Washington, May 1.—Cardinal-elect Martinelli last night received from the hands of a member of the papal guard of Pope Leo XIII, Count Colacicchi, who has just arrived from Rome, the consistorial letter formally advising him of his elevation to the cardinalate and the red zuchetto emblematic of that high office. The ceremony occurred at the papal legation in the presence of a number of church dignitaries.

Count Colacicchi had donned his uniform before leaving the train, and he entered the papal residence wearing his massive helmet and with a sweeping white cloak, heavily braided with gold, falling to his feet. The cardinal-elect waited in the parlor. He was attired in the silk robes of an archbishop, and was attended by Mgr. Conaty.

Putting aside his cloak, Count Colacicchi stepped into the parlor in the brilliant full uniform of the famous guard to which he belongs, with the sword at his side and spurs clanking from his heavy military boots. In his hand he carried two large letters and a large leathern case, enclosing the zuchetto. One of the letters proved to be the credentials of the official messenger. The second letter announced the elevation of Mgr. Martinelli to the cardinalate.

When the letter had been read, the count opened the case and took therefrom a red silken zuchetto, or cardinal's skull cap. Dr. Conaty removed the purple cap from the head of Mgr. Martinelli, and the latter placed the red cap of high office in its stead.

The count then addressed the cardinal, and Cardinal Martinelli responded briefly.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflamation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars; free.

LOVE OF CONFEDERATES

Expressed For President In His Journey Through Dixie

IN OLD UNIFORMS OF GRAY

They Escorted Chief Magistrate Through Streets of Memphis —Open Air Reception, Speeches and Banquet Round Out a Pleasant Day

Memphis, May 1.—The presidential train passed through the heart of Dixie yesterday, and at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon reached Memphis, on the banks of the Mississippi. This was the first resting place of the tour. After descending the mountains Monday night, the train yesterday skimmed along through northern Alabama and the valley of the Tennessee river and touched at Corinth, Miss.

The fresh, green southland, with its fruit in full blossom, was a great change from the backward spring which the party had left behind at Washington. The heat was rather oppressive, but the weather was not so warm as the president's welcome.

Confederate veterans at all the stopping places were among the president's most enthusiastic auditors, and that he was impressed with their remarks of love and esteem was evident from the brief speeches he made at Huntsville, Decatur, Tuscumbia and Corinth.

During the morning, at the regular hour for the cabinet to assemble, the president summoned his advisers into the executive car, and there, behind closed doors, the first cabinet meeting on wheels was held. No important advices had been received from Washington that required attention, but the foreign dispatches in the papers were talked over and some of the details as yet undetermined were discussed.

At Memphis the party received a wonderfully impressive welcome. A committee, headed by Senator Carmack, met the train at Corinth, and escorted the party to this city. A national salute of 21 guns signalled the approach to the city. At the station Governor McMillin and others met the party. A military parade, with a company of grizzled Confederate veterans in their old uniforms, acting as the guard of honor, escorted the party in carriages through the principal streets. The city was elaborately decorated with flags and bunting. Banners were stretched across the streets.

The cheering through which the procession passed was tremendous. In Court square, where the open air reception occurred, the platform was hemmed around with roses and other blossoms. Over 10,000 people were packed into the square when the president was introduced by Mayor Williams. In response to the cheers which greeted him, the president made a speech. His theme was the resistless power of a great united people, and was delivered in his best vein. When he referred to the noble record of the Tennessee volunteers in the Spanish and Philippine wars, Governor McMillin led the cheering.

After this speech the party was driven to the Twentieth Century club, a ladies' organization of this city. Here there was a veritable beauty show. About 30 charming southern belles held court in a bower of roses, ranged around a gilded arm chair, which was designed to hold the president. Mr. McKinley, however, did not take the chair, but after greeting each of the young ladies personally, he made a speech.

After this the ladies of the party were taken in hand by the ladies of Memphis. A reception was held in their honor, and later a banquet was given them at the Peabody hotel. At the same time the president and the gentlemen of the party, with about 200 prominent business men of the city, sat down to an elaborate dinner.

Much enthusiasm was manifested. Secretary Hay spoke to the toast "Our Country," and the president responded to the toast "The President of the United States." Mr. McKinley delivered an address on the future of the great transportation lines, and gave special attention to the ship subsidy bill.

General Davis' Daughter Weds

San Juan, P. R., May 1.—Miss Carmen Davis, daughter of Brigadier General Davis, former governor general of Porto Rico, and now provost marshal at Manila, was married yesterday to Philip Mumford, cashier in a banking office, Bishop Blenk officiating. A brillian reception was given at the Davis mansion, and the newly married couple left for the United States on the steamer Ponce.

Guardians Relaxed Vigilance

Middletown, N. Y., May 1.—Thomas G. Esterbrook, the baseball player, jumped from the window of a train near Tuxedo yesterday while he was being conveyed to the Middletown state hospital in charge of his brother and an attendant. He was brought to a hospital here, where he died later.

A Case of Manslaughter

Worcester, Mass., May 1.—Hagop Dostamian, wounded by David Simonian in the Armenian shooting affair Sunday last, died yesterday at the Worcester city hospital. Simonian's case was continued until Monday, and the charge will now be changed to manslaughter.

Four Suicides

Toledo, May 1.—Three bodies, two of men and one a woman, were found floating in the river here yesterday. All appear to have been the victims of self-destruction. The body of Albert Molosh, a youth, was also taken out of the river. He was a suicide.

THE GREATEST YET

Enormous Total of 3,202,100 Shares Sold on New York Stock Exchange

New York, May 1.—Monday's tremendous total of transactions on the stock exchange, making a new high record of 2,760,000 shares, was eclipsed yesterday, when 2,202,100 shares changed hands. The most active stock of the day was United States Steel, common, of which 459,100 shares changed hands. Second in activity was Erie, common, of which 283,000 shares were sold at from 38½ to 43 3-8. Next was Atchison, common, 229,500 shares of this stock being sold at prices ranging from 72 3-4 to 78 3-8. In United States Steel, common, the price was not so great, that stock only moving between 53 and 55. Union Pacific, Southern Pacific and Northern Pacific, which were among the sensational features Monday were comparatively quiet yesterday, the transactions in Union Pacific being 215,900 shares at a price range of from 116 3-4 to 120; in Southern Pacific the total sales were 137,800 shares at from 56 3-8 to 57 7-8, and the Northern Pacific, 89,500 were sold between 114 3-4 and 117 1-4. There was great activity in New York Central, which advanced from 157 1-4 to 164 1-8, and then reacted to 162, on sales of 95,800 shares.

Tolstoi on Excommunication

Paris, May 1.—The Temps publishes a two-column reply from Count Tolstoi to the decree of excommunication pronounced against him. He characterizes the decree as illegal or intentionally equivocal, arbitrary, unjustified and full of falsehoods. Moreover, he says, it constitutes an instigation to evil sentiments and deeds. Count Tolstoi denounces the practices of the church, and says he is convinced that the teaching of the church, theoretically astute, is injurious, is a lie in practice, and is a compound of vulgar superstitions and sorcery, under which entirely disappears the sense of Christian doctrine.

McGovern Whips Gardiner

San Francisco, May 1.—Terry McGovern knocked out Oscar Gardiner in the fourth round last night at Mechanics' pavilion. From the first minute until the end came there was never a doubt as to the outcome. Gardiner took a terrific pummeling, and went down repeatedly. In the fourth round Gardiner received a hard right squarely in the pit of the stomach, and as he was falling Terry sent in a left to the jaw which ended the fight. The men fought for a purse of $5000, the winner to take 75 percent and the loser 25 percent.

German Political Intrigue

Berlin, May 1.—Eleven of the Berlin papers reprint an article from the Hamburger Nachrichten, in which it is said that Baron Von Lucanus, chief of the emperor's civil cabinet, is intriguing against Chancellor Von Buelow, on the ground that the latter is poisoning the emperor's mind against him (Lucanus). The article in question also says that a reorganization of a ministry is probable.

Big Fire at San Juan

San Juan, P. R., May 1.—The new $150,000 pier here caught fire yesterday and was totally destroyed in half an hour. A large stock of sugar and rum was lost in the fire. The value of the quantity of the goods destroyed is not known. Lives may have been lost, but this is not yet ascertained.

Seven Deaths From Plague

Cape Town, May 1.—Seven fresh cases of the bubonic plague were discovered here yesterday, and five Europeans and two colored persons died yesterday from the disease.

CHEMIST'S TESTIMONY

Bullet From Center-Fire Revolver Killed Grogan

REFUTES EASTMAN'S STORY

That Rim-Fire Revolver Was Used—Admission of Testimony That Eastman Had Threatened to Shoot Grogan on a Previous Occasion

Cambridge, Mass., May 1.—Members of the immediate family of the deceased Richard Grogan took the witness stand yesterday in the Eastman trial. But most interesting of all, he whose testimony was listened to closest, and contested at point after point, was John Grogan, a brother of Richard. He detailed the quarrel in the Grogan stable in November, 1899, when Eastman threatened, witness testified, "I will plug you for this if I have to wait five years."

Taken altogether the pendulum of evidence in the trial yesterday swung slightly over to the government's side of the case, through a favorable decision in the morning, and some expert testimony in the afternoon, tending to show that the bullet taken from Grogan's body came from the center fire revolver, although Eastman in his many statements said that the accident took place while he had an old rim fire revolver in his hand.

On the other hand, the decision in favor of the government, which admitted the testimony of Grogan's brother, showing that Eastman had threatened to shoot Grogan, was somewhat counteracted by the evidence of another witness, who said that he and Eastman proposed Grogan's name as a member of one of the leading scientific societies within 10 days of the time of the tragedy.

In asking for the admission of the evidence of a threat, the government said that it would try to show that ill-feeling between the two men continued from that time, which was in November, 1899, up to the time of the shooting. A number of witnesses, nearly all of Grogan's family, testified that at times they had noticed that the two men did not speak, and that in April Eastman said that he did not want to ask Grogan for his horse, because he was not on good terms with him.

The expert testimony on the bullet was the most interesting of the day, and one of the prominent Harvard medical chemists told of a careful examination which he had made of both rim fire and center fire bullets. The rim fire was composed of pure lead, while the center fire contained 2½ percent of tin. He stated that in the fragment of the bullet which it is claimed was taken from Grogan's body he found traces of tin. His evidence was not concluded when the court adjourned for the day.

Efficacy of Fire Drill

Dedham, Mass., May 1.—The coolness of the teachers in putting between 300 and 400 children through the fire drill at the Ames school yesterday saved a panic and possible injuries to many little ones, due to fright from the blowing off of a rubber tube on a gas tank used in a stereopticon lecture. The children were assembled in the school hall, and the explosion made them start for the door. Discipline, however, asserted itself, and no one was hurt.

Lowell Carpenters Strike

Lowell, Mass., May 1.—At a largely attended meeting of the Carpenters' union last night, it was voted unanimously that all union carpenters in the city go on strike, beginning this morning. This will tie up several important jobs now in course of construction. The cause of the strike is the refusal to recognize the demands made by the union for an eight-hour day and a minimum wage scale of $2.25 per day.

Bay State Legislature

Boston, May 1.—The house refused yesterday, by a vote of 46 to 132, to substitute for the adverse report of the judiciary committee the bill accompanying the petition of Representative Frost of Lawrence, and providing that juries may qualify verdicts of murder in the first dergee by adding "without capital punishment," and that in this case the punishment shall be imprisonment for life.

Will Avoid Strike If Possible

Gloucester, Mass., May 1.—About 400 members of the Stone Workers' union held a meeting last night and voted to postpone action in the matter of a strike for one week. The men are decidedly averse to striking, but declare that they are not getting living wages and that there must be a change in the schedule.

Governor Allen at Home

Lowell, Mass., May 1.—Governor Allen of Porto Rico spent a quiet day yesterday with his daughter, Mrs. Alexander Hobbs. He received but few callers. The governor will remain here two weeks. He says he has no idea how the report became current that he intended to resign his office.

Labor Contest Probable

Portland, Me., May 1.—As a result of the meeting held by the trades unions, several builders employing members of the Masons' union have notified their workmen that unless they withdraw the demands they will be paid off and the work under way will be suspended.

Wanted on Bigamy Charge

Boston, May 1.—Adolph Barth, 33 years old, of this city, was arrested yesterday charged with being a fugitive from New York city, wheer he is wanted on the charge of bigamy. He will return without requisition papers.

A REMEDY FOR THE GRIPPE.

A remedy recommended for patients afflicted with the Grippe is KEMP'S BALSAM, which is especially adapted for the throat and lungs. Don't wait for the first symptoms of the disease! get a bottle today and keep it for use the moment it is needed. If neglected the grippe has a tendency to bring on pneumonia. KEMP'S BALSAM prevents this by keeping the cough loose, lungs free from inflammation. All druggists sell KEMP'S BALSAM at 25c. and 50c.

CHECKS IN WASTE PIPE

Lead to Arrest of Arlington's Assistant Town Clerk

HAD BEEN UNDER SUSPICION

Of Knowing Something of the Whereabouts of Books Which Disappeared During a Fire In Town Hall—Theory That They Were Not Destroyed

Arlington, Mass., May 2.—There was an undercurrent of feeling in Arlington yesterday that the authorities had discovered some important clew concerning the books taken from the vault in the treasurer's office, and that there would be an arrest soon. This was borne out late in the afternoon, when Roland Swan, assistant to the town clerk, was arrested on suspicion of being connected with the disappearance of funds of the town, as the result of an investigation that has been in progress for the past few days. He had been under suspicion since Tuesday noon.

Swan will be taken to the Cambridge police court, but the selectmen and police will not give out any information as to what charge the prisoner will be arraigned on.

Swan has lived with his sister, Mrs. Knight, in a double house on Water street, and it was learned by the police that the tenants in the other part of the house had complained lately that the water backed up in the sewage pipes. Upon investigation a plumber found that the Y-shaped sewage pipe, with which the pipes from each side of the house were connected, clogged with pieces of paper, and when these were examined it was found that they included pieces of checks and some whole checks. Among them was one check for $35, drawn on the First National bank of Rockland, Mass., and another for $53 drawn on the Arlington National bank, both in favor of the town. These discoveries immediately directed suspicion to Swan.

The town officials worked all day on the accounts in the treasurer's office, but they stated last night that they were unable to say how long it would take to straighten out the tangle. It is understood that Swan was not under bonds. The town treasurer is under $50,000 bonds, and is believed to be responsible financially for Swan in his work for the town.

It was learned yesterday that the money deposited by the town in the Faneuil Hall National bank is not missing, but that a large amount, in the neighborhood of $4000, is missing from the Arlington National bank.

There is an expression of opinion by those directly interested in the town's affairs that the missing books have not been destroyed, and this statement has caused considerable comment, as the theory hitherto held was that the books were burned in the fire at the town hall.

Experts from Boston electrical companies were here testing and examining the wires which run over the roof of the town hall, with a view to ascertaining whether or not they could have caused the fire. All their experiments tended to show that there was no defect in the wiring system, and that the fire could not have originated from that source.

Not a Political Visit

Berlin, May 2.—A member of the foreign office said to the correspondent of the Associated Press: "France and Russia informed Germany before M. Delcasse, the French minister of foreign affairs, went to St. Petersburg, that his trip had no political significance, and Germany is satisfied that this is the case. His visit had for its purpose the looking after the interests of French investors with their investments in Russia."

Clark After U. P. Stock

Los Angeles, Cal., May 2.—The Express says private advices have been received here to the effect that John W. Gates is responsible for the recent phenomenal advance of Union Pacific stock, and that he is acting for Senator W. A. Clark and his associates, who are endeavoring to secure control of the Union Pacific as an outlet for the San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake railroad.

Germany's Transvaal Claims

Berlin, May 2.—The reichstag committee on petitions has been informed that Germany has demanded $25,000 from Great Britain on account of certain Transvaal expulsions, and that Great Britain had refused the demand on the ground that she did not wish to establish a precedent, but was investigating the whole subject.

Quarantine Not Yet In Force

Washington, May 2.—The time in which free intercourse between the United States and Cuba will be permitted without quarantine restrictions has been extended to May 15, but the extension is made with the understanding that the order will be immediately repealed if yellow fever makes its appearance.

WERE FRIENDS FOR YEARS

Worcester Men Had a Falling Out and Fatal Tragedy Resulted

Worcester, Mass., May 2.—John F. Reynolds, a veteran of the Spanish-American war, was shot dead yesterday afternoon by John P. Cummings. Both men have been friends for years, and on April 23 had a quarrel.

Cummings purchased a 32-calibre revolver and a box of cartridges yesterday morning, and spent several hours in walking about the city. The shooting occurred in Compton park, where the men met. As far as the police can learn, Reynolds' death was deliberately planned by Cummings, and the men had been together but 10 minutes when Cummings fired the shot which pierced Reynolds' heart.

Reynolds grappled with Cummings after the shot had been fired, and forced his assailant to the ground and then fell dead. Cummings, lying on the ground, fired two more shots before he was overpowered by Edward Mara, a friend who witnessed the shooting. The third shot Cummings evidently fired at Mara, but, missing his aim, sent the ball through his own left leg. Mara held Cummings on the ground until the arrival of Officer Hanson, who placed him under arrest.

Cummings says he was afraid of Reynolds, and knew the latter would injure him in a fight. He says he warned him he was armed, and thought Reynolds and Mara and another man named John McLoughlin were going to jump on him. Mara and McLoughlin say there was no fight, and that Cummings pulled the revolver as soon as the men met in the park.

Seeking Storti's Release

Boston, May 2.—Justice Loring of the supreme court yesterday heard the petition for the release of Luigi Storti, the condemned murderer, on a writ of habeas corpus. Counsel for the petitioners alleged that the electrocution act is cruel, as it gives the warden, and him only, the power to name the hour for the execution of a prisoner and gives no notice to the person to be executed. The arguments will be acted upon by the full bench, which comes in next Monday.

Employers Expected to Yield

Boston, May 2.—The electrical linemen will undoubtedly settle their differences with the Boston Elevated railroad and the New England Telephone and Telegraph company within a day or two. The electrical linemen ask for eight hours a day and their pay increased to $3 for a full day's work. It is believed that the demands will be acceded to by both companies and all electrical concerns.

Held on Abduction Charge

Bridgeport, Conn., May 2.—Fred J. Thibideau was yesterday bound over to the superior court for trial on the charge of abduction, bail being fixed at $1500. His accusers were two young women, 17 and 18 years old, respectively, who told of his offering them inducements to accompany him to New York, and of his placing them in a disreputable house there.

Portland Strike Situation

Portland, Me., May 2.—The striking masons last night decided to publish warnings in New England papers to workmen in other cities not to come to Portland. None of the contractors have made any effort yet to obtain men to take the places of the strikers. They admit that they are practically tied up.

A Surplus of Rain

Concord, N. H., May 2.—William W. Flint, local weather observer, reports the total rainfall for the month of April in this city as 6.87 inches, the largest fall for April in 45 years. The temperature ranged from 84 to 25 degrees, and for 21 successive days the wind was from the east.

Bowdoin Student Drowned

Brunswick, Me., May 2.—John P. Webber, Jr., of Brookline, Mass., a sophomore at Bowdoin college, was drowned in the Androscoggin river yesterday while canoeing. His canoe capsized in the swift current of the narrows.

Lowell Strike Settled

Lowell, Mass., May 2.—Ten boss carpenters have yielded to the demands of the Carpenters' union, 300 of whose members went on strike yesterday morning for an eight-hour day and a minimum wage of $2.25.

Freight Handlers to Strike

Springfield, Mass., May 2.—All freight handlers of the freight depots in Springfield, 110 in number, voted last night to strike because of the refusal of the railroads to raise wages from $1.50 to $1.90 a day.

Condition but Little Changed

Portland, Me., May 2.—The condition of Lane and Wadsworth, the two men who were shot by George Brainerd, has not materially changed. It is stated at the hospital that both are fairly comfortable.

Torrid Weather at St. Paul

St. Paul, May 2.—All heat records for May weather during the last 30 years were broken yesterday. Unofficial thermometers registered as high as 92 degrees in the shade, while the government instruments, many feet above the sizzling asphalt streets, reached 90.

New Industry For Jamaica

Kingston, Jam., May 2.—Much interest has been excited by the discovery of what is believed to be a very large coal deposit on property near Kingston. A company is forming to work the deposit.

DARKER FOR EASTMAN

Bullet In Court Came From Center Fire Revolver

DEFENSE ADMITS THE FACT

Will Attempt to Show That the Missile Was Not the One Taken From Grogan's Body at the First Autopsy —Expert Found Tin on Vertabræ

Cambridge, Mass., May 2.—The defense has made an important admission in the trial of Professor Charles R. Eastman for the murder of his brother-in-law, Richard R. Grogan, by voluntarily admitting that the bullet which has been frequently produced during the trial, and which the government claims was taken from Grogan's body, was fired from a modern Smith and Wesson centre fire revolver of the same pattern as those used by Eastman and Grogan in their target shooting. The government also shows that the revolver which discharged the fatal bullet must have been at least six feet from Grogan when it went off.

Eastman, in his numerous statements, claimed that the fatal bullet was fired from an old rim fire revolver and that he stood within five feet of Grogan. This variance was clearly impressed upon the jury by the government.

It was evident from the cross-examination that the defense will attempt to show that the bullet which has so frequently been shown the jury was not the one which killed Grogan, nor was taken from his body at the first autopsy.

How the change was made and when it was done has not yet appeared, but the severe cross-examination whenever the bullet appeared, indicated in a way the line of the defense.

The testimony yesterday was almost wholly confined to expert testimony on firearms and cartridges, and there was no attempt by the government to show any additional evidence as to the ill feeling between the two men.

Previous to the admission by the defense, Professor Wood of Harvard college continued the important testimony he gave regarding the bullet taken from the body of Grogan. The testimony of the witness was in support of the contention of the prosecution that the bullet contained an alloy of tin, and must, therefore, have been part of a center fire cartridge, and could not have come from the defective rim fire revolver such as the defendant alleges was accidentally discharged in his hands, causing the tragedy.

Professor Wood told of having analyzed the sawdust taken from the vertebrae removed from the body of Richard Grogan, and of having found it contained tin and lead. It will be remembered that in sawing through the bone in searching for the bullet, Dr. Swan cut into the bullet, cutting off a small piece.

World's Largest Dry Dock

Washington, May 2.—The big steel floating dock to be located at Algiers, La., and now being built by the Merlam Steel company of Baltimore, is practically completed, and Admiral Endicott, who designed the big structure, went to Baltimore yesterday to inspect it. It is the largest floating dry dock in the world. Over 13,000,000 pounds of steel has been used in its construction, and it has cost $810,000. The towing of the structure through the Atlantic and gulf will be made at the risk of the contractors.

Civil Government In Porto Rico

San Juan, P. R., May 2.—The first anniversary of the establishment of civil government in Porto Rico, which occurred yesterday, was in no way observed here. The trades unions observed the day as labor day. They petitioned the acting governor, Mr. Hunt, to continue all the public works possible in order to relieve the destitution existing in some parts of the island.

Premier Salisbury Is Worried

London, May 2.—The Sun describes Lord Salisbury as perturbed by certain revelations which the "financial adviser of Lord Kitchener has unearthed." The premier is also pictured by The Sun as not in so good health as recent announcements have led the public to believe. It is also alleged that there is friction between Lord Salisbury and Lord Lansdowne.

Much-Wanted Robber Caught

Paris, May 2.—The principal author of the robbery of the American Express company's office in Paris on the night of April 26, when three masked burglars escaped with 30,000 francs, has been arrested. His name is George Miller and he was born in Chicago. For some time he has lived in Paris under the name of James Samuel, being employed in a barber shop.

Proposed Addition to King's Title

London, May 2.—At a meeting of the British Empire league yesterday, it was disclosed that the colonial office has been in correspondence with the government of Canada in regard to including Canada in the title of King Edward. The result of the negotiations will not be made known until the correspondence is published, later.

To the Interested Bicycle Public.

My opening day statement and challenge was that I would easily be the leading bicycle dealer of Quincy this year. I expected to gain this end by selling the finest line of bicycles within my power to secure, at fair prices. Not to misrepresent or deceive my customers and friends. It is your friendship and trade I want and in return you can expect honest statements, honest treatment and perfect satisfaction from me. I am pleased with the jealousy my success has developed in my competitors. It simply means that I have bicycles and a policy of selling that is popular.

Give me a call and examine my line of wheels. I am not a mud slinger or sharp skate. I can deliver all bicycles at the prices asked. This is more than my competitors can do.

Proposals for Coal and Wood.

CITY OF QUINCY.

THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE of the City of Quincy will, until Wednesday noon, May 15, 1901, receive proposals for furnishing and delivering the whole or a part of the following: 325 tons White Ash Egg Coal, 100 tons Lehigh Egg, 400 tons Lehigh Broken, and 200 tons High Grade Bituminous Coal.

The best quality of screened coal must be furnished in proper quantities and sizes to supply the several school buildings. The bids must include the trimming of the bins.

The Committee will also receive proposals for furnishing and delivering within the school buildings, the whole or a part of the following: 24 cords of pine wood and 10 cords of hard wood. The wood must be of the best quality and must be cut into lengths required by the different schools. The bids for the pine and the hard wood must be separate.

Storage rooms of the several school buildings to be filled on or before August 31, but the prices to hold good up to January 1, 1902.

The right to reject any and all bids is reserved. Address sealed proposals, distinctly marked on the outside of the envelope, "Proposals for Fuel," to Wickless Blue Flame Oil Stove.

Good Afternoon.

A great many persons forget how largely the future depends upon what use we make of the present.

The South has shown President McKinley that it knows how to receive a President, if its judgment is somewhat warped in voting for one.

People who live in the vicinity of billboards, who like to keep their estates tidy and attractive, complain because papers are blown about. They say the bills when scratched off the boards should be gathered up and not left to blow about as now. The billboards themselves are unsightly enough without this added injury.

Some idea of the equality of the county tax may be found in the figures of Gloucester of Essex county and Quincy of Norfolk county. The former whose valuation in 1899 as $16,344,497.00 is this year assessed for $13,636.06 while Quincy whose valuation the same year as $18,945,036.00 is this year assessed $14,462.92.

Brainard's Insanity.

The Herald prints the following dispatch of May 1 from Portland, Me.:

A conference between County Attorney Whitehouse and the defending attorneys, to determine the course of procedure to be followed in the case of George H. Brainard, will be held to morrow.

It was announced yesterday that the prisoner's counsel had decided to make no application for his temporary commitment to the insane hospital till after the action of the grand jury next week, but the county attorney desires that a petition for such commitment be filed at once by the defence, in order that the whole case may go over till the September term.

It is said that all of the insanity experts who have thus far reported on their examination of Brainard at the county jail have agreed that he has one form of insanity.

Service Stripes.

Chief of Police Hayden promulgated an order at roll call Wednesday night, authorizing the use of service stripes by the permanent police force. By the new order officers are allowed to wear one strip for every five years service. The date of service dates back to the first competitive examinations held in 1889. Under this ruling Officers Hanson, McKay, Barry, Nicol, Holloran and Ferguson will wear two stripes and Officer Bradley one. The order went into effect Wednesday night.

Dismissed.

The case of petition for guardianship of Charles A. Belcher, of Braintree, an alleged insane person, which has been before the Norfolk probate court by adjournment, several times, has been decided adversely to the petitioners. Judge Flint on Wednesday last, rendered his decision dismissing the petition.

TODAY'S COURT.

James Devine was arrested for drunkenness at Milton Wednesday and later admitted to bail. When the case was called this morning he failed to answer to his name and was defaulted.

Roger J. Denny was fined $5 for drunkenness at Milton.

It is probable that the portable and table clocks were invented in Germany during the revival of clock making there in the 16th century.

A GRAND FESTIVAL.

Nearly $200 Netted by the Home Science Association.

There was a perfect jam at Music Hall Wednesday afternoon at the children's May festival and those who were late in arriving, not only had difficulty in finding seats but it was next to impossible to see the stage. The trouble was that the audience was made up of many children, and fond mothers were anxious that their children should see, and this was attempted by standing them on the seats. However as it was a children's party the unfortunate older people who had their vision obstructed did not find much fault. That the affair was a success goes without saying, and best of all the children had a good time.

The program opened with a chorus by the primary pupils of the Coddington school, which was cute and amusing.

This was followed by Master John Finlay of the Lincoln school, who gave a vocal solo "Who'll buy my Lavender." Master Findlay possesses a remarkable voice for a boy, and has a great musical future before him.

A number of the Woodward Institute young ladies gave an exhibition of club swinging. There is no more healthful or muscle developing exercise than this, and the manner in which the young misses went through the various movements reflected great credit upon their instructor and the school.

Master Angelo Bizzozero- of the Gridley Bryant school in recitations told why "I go to school" and "So am I," which took with the crowd.

The boys who appeared in the caddie song and dance, which met with so much favor at a recent entertainment at this same hall, was then given. The caddies were dressed as Scotch laddies and of course made a hit.

Songs by the primary pupils of the Coddington school closed first part of the program.

Pupils of the Adams school opened part two with a cake walk. With blackened faces and fantastic costumes the walk was executed with a snap that immediately captivated the audience. An encore was of course demanded.

Miss Minnie Packard dressed as a little old woman, and wearing a masque to carry out the effect, gave a laughable dance.

Pupils of the Woodward Institute then gave an exhibtion in preparatory fencing. The young ladies handled the foils in a masterly and skilful manner. Their work was fully appreciated by those who know more of this art than do most ladies.

Miss Abbie L. Greene of the Quincy school gave a cornet solo and showed herself quite proficient with this difficult instrument, especially for one so young.

At this point the cake walk was repeated and grew in favor. The May pole was then placed upon the platform and the dance around the gaily decorated pole concluded the entertainment. General dancing was then in order for those who desired, but a larger part of those present did not remain to see it.

Following were those to take part in the May pole dance: Queen, Grace Spear; Pages, Winslow Sears and Hobart Lawton; dancers, Marion Weeden, Thomas Hardwick, Carlena Walker, Harold Curtis, Margarite Davis, Roscoe Ricker, Mila Bates, Foster Hitchcock, Elsie Fortier, Carl Marsh, Helen Lincoln, Lyndon Hardwick Gertrude Thompson, Percy Sears, Edna Smith and Ambler Welch.

The names of others to take part in the entertainment appeared in yesterdays Ledger.

It is thought that nearly $200 will be netted by the Home Science association.

Among those who contributed to the success of the festival was Prof. Kaplan who escorted fifty or more of his pupils to the hall and paid their admission.

May Festival.

In place of regular monthly social the Baptist society of Wollaston gave a very successful May festival Wednesday evening in the vestry. The special attraction in the way of entertainment was the May pole drill consisting of the following sixteen children—Marian Sheldon, Ralph Blake, Marian Corey, Harold Nash, Gladys Parker, Reginald Sprague, Ada Stone, Otto Elwall, Dorothy Sayward, Theodore Corey, Grace Seeley, Harold Battison, Abbie Wilde, Robert Goodrich, Muriel Badger, George Emmel. Miss L. Barber, Miss Carrie Brown and Miss Sarah Litch had some very handsome May baskets for sale. Home made candy was sold by Miss Edith Olney, Miss Jones and Mrs. Battison. Potted plants were also for sale. The church decorations were very noticeable and the pleasant weather brought out a large number of people, making it a financial success.

—Prominent citizens of South Weymouth are taking steps toward the erection of a memorial to the late Col. Henry A. Thomas former postmaster of Boston and secretary to Governor Greenhalge. The National Postmasters' association and the Post Office Clerks' association will be invited to confer with the citizen's committee.

Proposals for coal are asked by the School Committee.

Post 88 will attend a campfire of Post 58 of Weymouth next Tuesday evening.

The Grand Army will have headquarters on Memorial day at Faxon hall.

The ladies of the Atlantic Congregational society will give a dance next week.

The grounds around the Washington Street Congregational church are being graded.

Mr. Parker Sheldon left last week for Newfoundland, where he will remain through the summer.

The children hung hundreds of May baskets last evening, and many older people enjoyed the sport.

C. B. Underwood, dentist, has moved his office from West Quincy to Hancock street, 2 doors south of Music hall.

Miss Kate Lunden is to address a union meeting of Swedes Sunday afternoon, May 5, at 3 o'clock in the Swedish Methodist church, Fort street. This address will be in the Swedish tongue.

The apron sale, which took place in Memorial church, Tuesday evening, was largely attended and aprons of every kind and color were to be had at moderate prices. Ices and cake were also for sale during the evening.

Ex-Councilman F. B. Rice is among the Harvard graduates opposed to conferring the degree upon President William McKinley. The Quincy men are generally in favor, the following being recorded: Ex-Councilman W. S. Pinkham, J. O. Hall, Jr., and Delceware King.

The prizes for the best scores at the whist tournament at the Granite City club Wednesday night were captured by B. Johnson, Jr., and George W. Prescott. The prizes for the best scores last month were awarded to George Meade, John Curtis, W. W. Ewell and John Lennon.

The Edward Hewitson associates expect to give a most pleasing entertainment soon in the vestry of the Wollaston Baptist church. There will be both mandolin and violin music given by boys of club. The attraction will be the Knida Symphony under the entire charge of Miss Jean Willard of Boston. There will also be addresses by Mr. Simmons, Mr. Nickerson and Mr. Albee.

The annual business meeting of Woman's Alliance was held yesterday afternoon in the Wollaston Unitarian vestry. The following officers were elected for coming year. President, Mrs. Chandler B. Smith; vice presidents, Mrs. W. E. Simmons, Mrs. Frank W. Pratt and Mrs. Howard Barnes; secretary, Mrs. Charles Comins; treasurer, Mrs. Sylvester Brown.

Large New Hotel.

It is rumored that a large new hotel is to be erected at Houghs Neck for Joseph Lee, the well known proprietor of Squantum Inn, which has been famous for its Shore dinners. It is said that the hotel will be erected on the site of the Mears House. This adjoins the wharf that is being built for the steamboat line that is to run between Houghs Neck and Boston. Mr. Lee has always complained of lack of room at Squantum, and the new hotel will be built with ample accommodations for a large number of guests. A sail down the harbor will furnish the tonic to sharpen the appetite, and Mr. Lee will do the rest. If there plans are carried out as proposed, things at Houghs Neck will boom this summer.

Cheap Bicycles

Are like cheap furniture. It cost more to keep them in repair than the original cost of the bicycle.

When you ride a high grade bicycle you can feel sure that any part of your wheel will not break, and throw you and probably result in fatal injuries.

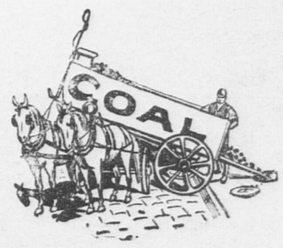

We make a specialty of High Grade Wheels and do not handle jobber's wheels which are listed high but are cheap constructed wheels.

We prefer selling high grade wheels cheap rather than cheap wheels.

I. O. O. F. BANQUET.

Wollaston Odd Fellows Observe the Anniversary.

John Hancock Lodge, 224, I.O.O. F., celebrated the 82d anniversary of Odd Fellowship Wednesday evening with an entertainment and banquet. A large number of brothers and their friends including many visitors from out of town lodges were present. Fully two hundred sat at the table during the course of the evening.

The entertainment consisted of instrumental music by Sprague's orchestra of Wollaston, tenor solos by Mr. E. A. Sullivan, readings by Mr. Bartlett A. McLean, coon songs by Miss J. F. McKenna and J. Brennan. Mr. Thomas Whalen as a comedian more than convinced the audience of his already well known ability. Misses Hisgen, Radcliffe, and Master Kallenback gave several excellent musical sketches. One of the hits of the evening was the dancing of the Misses Lee and Goltz of Boston in the Highland fling and the Irish reel.

Following the supper an able address on Odd Fellowship was delivered by P. G. M. Louis A. Cook of Weymouth.

Past Deputy E. Q. S. Litchfield and Deputy Cooper honored the lodge with their presence. The hall was tastefully decorated with palms and potted plants by Brother Patterson.

Much of the success of the evening was due to the untiring efforts of Noble Grand Charles F. West, and the entertainment committee, Brothers Brown, Merrill and Plummer.

Choir Guild Festival.

The choirs of Christ church of Quincy, and St. Chrysostom of Wollaston united with the choirs of St. Paul's of Brockton, Christ church of Andover, St. Paul of Brookline, Advent of Boston, Grace of Everett and St. John's of Jamaica Plain in the second section of the Choir guild in giving the annual festival of song at the Church of the Advent in Boston. S. B. Whitney was choirmaster, and H. E. Wry was organist.

All of the choristers, together with those who sang recently at St. Paul's and the other sections belonging to the guild, used formerly to hold their festival in combination at Trinity church, but the guild has now grown to such enormous size with a membership of 1300 men and boys, that its annual service must be thus given in sections, although the program of music are the same.

At the Advent the same choir melodies and solos rendered at St. Paul's were repeated, only with greater volume, for there were more singers.

The soprano solos, says the Globe, were beautifully sung by Master Finlay of Quincy.

Probate Business.

There was considerable business before the Norfolk county probate court at Dedham Wednesday, but included no Quincy wills or administrations. Among the accounts allowed were: First and final of Francis A. Dunbar, administrator of estate of Andrew Dunbar, late of Quincy, for $310.48. First and final of William N. Swain, guardian of Ida M., Charlotte R. and Helen M. Kingman of Quincy, for $2655.72.

Ladies Golf Series.

The ladies team of the Wollaston golf club opened the series of the Women's Golf Association Wednesday by defeating the County club of Brookline 6 to 0. The Wollaston ladies are Miss M. Adams, Mrs. J.H. Child, Miss Louisa Barker and Miss Marion Barker and none were defeated by their adversaries. The Concord team defeated the Vespers 28 to 3, and the Brae-Burn team fell before the Lexingtons 13 to 4.

Dido Tomorrow Evening.

The finishing touches are being given to "Dido," the play to be presented by the High school, Friday evening of this week, at Music hall. The performance will begin promptly at eight o'clock and patrons are requested to be in their seats at that time, as no one will be allowed to take their seats while the curtain is up.

New Rebekah President.

The Rebekah Assembly of Massachusetts held its third annual session in Boston, Wednesday. Mary J. Mills, Cambridge, was elected as the new president. The secretaries' reports show a membership of 26,285. In the evening the Rebekah degree was exemplified by Ione Rebekah lodge of Everett.

Walter S. Redding is building an addition and making extensive repairs to his house now occupied by the Wainwright family. It is understood that Mr. Redding will take up his residence there in the fall.

During April there were 106 hours of sunshine out of a total of 401, or 27 per cent. The next lowest per cent. on record is 37, so that figures prove April to have been an unusually cloudy month. The rainfall was over seven inches, twice as much as normal. The rainfall for the year is about one and one-half inches above normal.

ANOTHER VICTORY.

Adams Academy, 21; Mechanic Art High School, 19.

Adams Academy won another victory on the lower field at the Park yesterday afternoon. The visiting nine came with a good record,—four victories out of five games—but the home nine proved able to administer defeat. The game was loosely played by both sides. It was late before play was called, as it was expected that the game could be played on the upper field, but the repairs to the diamond were not completed, and the change to the other field took considerable time. It was 6.30 when Boyd's fine catch in left field ended the game.

For the Academy, the best work was done by Tate, Boyd and Reardon. The playing of the infield was not as good as usual, and in parts of the game the throwing was bad. The team however made up in batting and base-running what they lacked in fielding. Doble pitched an excellent game, showing exceptional coolness at most critical points of the game.

For the visitors the best fielding was done by Hanson and Curtis. Sheppard, who by the way is a Quincy boy, the son of Representative Sheppard, played a good game at first base. Bjorklund pitched a good game, but was unable to make up for the lead which the home nine had secured in the third innings.

Fell on Buzz Saw.

Leonard Embree of Quincy Point, the well known boat builder, met with a singular accident on Wednesday, which came near being fatal. He was operating a buzz saw, when the saw struck a knot; it stuck and Mr. Embree losing his balance fell against the rapidly revolving saw. Fortunately the saw just grazed his chin which was lacerated in a frightful manner. It was a narrow escape for Mr. Embree, as had he struck his neck against the saw his head would probably have been severed.

A Legitimate Investment
Which Increased Over 700 per cent.
WITHIN SIX MONTHS.

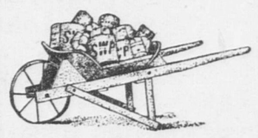

The Arcola Oil Company's stock sold for $135 per 1,000 shares, and in six months $1,000 per 1,000 shares was refused for the stock, for the reason that the first well was a large producer and there is room for forty wells on the Company's land, which makes it about certain that the stock in the near future will be worth ten dollars per share.

We offer you the same opportunity for a large gain by investing in the Dirigo Oil Company's stock, the first block of which is being sold for $150 per 1,000 shares. The Company owns a block of land adjoining the Arcola Company's land which has large producing wells on all four sides. There is eighty acres of the Company's land in the center of the oil belt, which we feel absolutely certain will give a large producing well in each acre.

We now have machinery on the ground, and are ready to sink the first well, and expect to strike oil by May 1st, which will then make the stock worth par value, if the well is as good a producer as the Arcola.

The block of stock we are selling is about three-quarters sold and quick application will have to be made to secure any of it at the present price.

A DAY IN NEW ORLEANS

Presidential Train Is Sidetracked Until This Evening

THE TRIP FROM MEMPHIS

Several Stops at Small Towns to Permit the President to Talk to Cotton Mill Operatives—Crowds Actually Impeded Progress of Train

New Orleans, May 2.—The presidential party travelled across the cotton belt yesterday from Memphis almost to the gulf of Mexico. Down the low-lying Yazoo valley, fertile as that of the Nile, it went to Vicksburg, teeming with its memories of 30 years ago, thence east to Jackson, the capital of Mississippi, and from there down into the land of the magnolia and the orange to the old and romantic city near the mouth of the Mississippi, with its traditions of French and Spanish rule.

The outpourings of the people to see the presidential train along the route yesterday were larger, if anything, than on the two previous days, and the demonstrations at Vicksburg and Jackson, the two principal stops, were very striking. The visit to Vicksburg was in some respects the most interesting yet made. Here a triumphal arch of cotton bales, with the word "Expansion," pointed out to the president, as he passed under it, the path of the new south.

Although it had not been intended to make any stops after leaving Jackson, the train was halted at several of the smaller towns where cotton mills are located to permit the president to see and speak to the operatives. At some of the stations the crowds actually impeded the progress of the train, and the engineer was obliged to slow down to avoid danger of running over enthusiastic people.

As the sun was lowering the train crossed the bayous with their tangles of moss-covered cypress and light oaks and, skirting Lake Pontchartrain, steamed into New Orleans.

This is the first time New Orleans has ever had a visit from the chief magistrate of the nation, and it was a royal welcome that the old city extended to President McKinley. Mr. McKinley himself has been here. He made a notable speech here the year preceding his nomination for the presidency, but never before has a president, while in office, visited the Crescent city.

The air was filled with the blare of bands, the booming of cannon and the scream of whistles from the harbor craft, as the train drew into the station. Here the president and his party were greeted by Governor Heard, Mayor Capdeville, Senators McEnery and Foster, the entire Louisiana congressional delegation, the city council and representatives of the various commercial exchanges.

The president and his cabinet passed out of the station between a line of smart-looking militiamen on one side and a smarter-looking line of young cadets from the Jesuit military college on the other. Outside the governor's staff awaited the presidential party. The crowd around the station was dense. A big military parade, consisting of the Louisiana cavalry troop, the Washington artillery and all the milita from this end of the state, escorted the party to the St. Charles hotel.

Mrs. McKinley and the ladies of the party dined quietly at the hotel, and later received the ladies of New Orleans. The president and his cabinet, with the other gentlemen of the party, were given an elaborate banquet at the hotel in the evening. About 300 of the prominent men of New Orleans were present, and the banquet was said to have exceeded in every respect anything of a similar character attempted heretofore in this city.

The party will drive about the city this morning, and in the afternoon take a sail along the river front. The presidential train will again resume its journey towards the Golden Gate at 6 o'clock this evening.

Women's Protests Unheeded

Washington, May 2.—Secretary Root has given orders to the quartermaster general's department for the execution of the act of congress requiring the reburial in Arlington national cemetery of the Confederate dead now there, numbering 126, and with them the remains of the 128 Confederates buried at the national soldiers' home here. Protests have been received by the secretary from the women of Virginia, who wish the remains taken south, but the order remains unchanged.

Conflict at a Funeral

Paris, May 2.—The body of Madame Paule Minck, the agitator, who was transported in connection with the commune troubles and was subsequently granted amnesty, and who died last week, was buried yesterday. At the cemetery a conflict occurred between the Socialists and the police. Several arrests were made.

Formal Opening on the 20th

Buffalo, May 2.—The beautiful electrical display last night was the culminating event of the opening day of the Pan-American exposition. The formal opening day ceremonies have been postponed until the 20th, when they will be combined with dedication day exercises.

Chinese Scampered In Disorder

Berlin, May 2.—A dispatch from Field Marshal Von Waldersee, says: "Lessel's column has returned. He reports that the Chinese force which he encountered at the great wall numbered 15,000 men. They retreated in complete disorder.

OVERDOSE OF MORPHINE

Suspicious Circumstances Attending Death of a Young Man at Concord

Concord, N. H., May 2.—Frank P. Menard of Boston, 21 years old, died at a local hotel yesterday as the result of an overdose of morphine. Coroner Palmer impanelled a jury which, after lengthy investigation, adjourned until today without reaching a verdict. Menard's friends say his death was accidental, but there are features which seemed to the jury to require further research.

Young Menard's mother is dead, but his grandmother is living, and is understood to have helped him out of several scrapes. Last September he announced that he had reached his 21st birthday, and had come into an estate yielding $850 a month, left him by his grandfather. He soon became prominent here and in Manchester, figuring especially in horse circles. For some time he had been negotiating for the purchase of an interest in a local livery stable, for which he was to have paid $6000 yesterday afternoon. A lawyer came here from Boston to draw up the papers, and Menard stated that he had received a check for the amount necessary. When the time came for him to sign the papers he was dead, and a search among his effects revealed only $1.35 in money and no check.

Menard was accompanied here by a young woman who has posed as his wife. She acknowledged last night that she was not married, but that she had been living with Menard since last September. A few weeks ago she came near dying from the effects of an overdose of laudanum, but prompt action by the doctors saved her.

Menard is said to have been drinking heavily lately. Yesterday noon he complained of not feeling well and went to his room in the hotel. When Miss Hall joined him there a little later he told her he had taken morphine and was afraid he had taken too much. Two physicians were summoned at once, but their efforts were without avail, and Menard died shortly after 3 o'clock.

Bow-wows Got Stirred Up

Chicago, May 2.—A photographer brought the dog show here to an abrupt close last night. He took a flashlight picture of the show where 2000 dogs are chained up, the aisles between the kennels being jammed with sightseers. Ten pounds of flashlight powder were used and the flash and fumes set every dog in the place frantic with excitement. They made every noise of which a practically insane dog is capable, and many of them tugged wildly at their chains in the attempt to get at the crowd. There was a rush for the doors, and a number of women fainted, but no one was injured. The dogs continued in such an excited condition that it was found necessary to close the doors for the night.

Cabbies on Parade

New York, May 2.—More than 1000 New York cabmen paraded the streets yesterday. It was the first annual parade of the Public Hack Owners and Drivers' association. In the parade, after the officers on foot, came the cabmen, 700 strong, who own their horses and vehicles. Next came the 250 drivers who are not owners. President Prince said the purpose of the parade was to show what a well-regulated body of men belonged to the organization, which, he says, is opposed to overcharges.

Further British Successes

London, May 2.—A dispatch from Lord Kitchener says: "Grenfell attacked the Boers at Bergplatz, where the last long tom opened fire at 10,000 yards. Kitchener's scouts advanced to within 3000 yards, when the gun was blown up, and the Boers fled. Ten of them were made prisoners. Other columns report 10 Boers killed, 6 wounded, 6 made prisoners, and 60 surrendered, and 30,000 rounds of ammunition captured. The British had four killed and seven wounded."

Ludlow Is Coming Home

Washington, May 2.—General MacArthur has notified the war department that General Ludlow has been found incapacitated for active service by reason of lung disease and will be sent home for treatment, and that the vacancy will be filled by the detail of Brigadier General Davis, at present serving as provost marshal at Manila.

A Pittsburg Mystery

Pittsburg, May 2.—The body of Nicholas Darrie, a painter and decorator, 28 years old, was found in his room yesterday with the throat cut. There is evidence enough to show that a severe struggle had taken place. Darrie was last seen alive on Saturday. No clue as to the identity of the murderer has been discovered.

Rumors of More Fighting

Pekin, May 2.—It is persistently reported here that there has been fresh fighting between the Russians and the Chinese in Manchuria. No great credence is placed in such rumors, however, as it is believed they are circulated to show the necessity for an increase in the military strength of Russia.

San Juan Fire Caused $300,000 Loss

San Juan, P. R., May 2.—The fire which broke out on the pier here Tuesday afternoon destroyed that structure and its entire contents in 45 minutes. The total loss is estimated at about $300,000. The fire started under the pier's deck, and was apparently of incendiary origin.

Weather Conditions and Forecast

Almanac, Friday, May 3.
Sun rises—4:28; sets, 6:45.
Moon rises—7:10 p. m.
High water—11:15 a. m.; 11:30 p. m.

There has been a sharp fall in temperature in New England and along the coast south to Norfolk. The temperature will rise and the weather will be fair in New England. On the coast fresh east to southeast winds will become variable.

IN FRONT ALL THE TIME

American Soldiers Don't Make Great Display, but They Are Fighters

New York, May 2.—General James H. Wilson addressed the Loyal Legion at its dinner here last night, devoting his time to anecdotes and recollections of the Pekin campaign. "We were not a very large contingent," he said, "but we were easily in the front rank among the allies. The Russian commander of artillery told General Chaffee that he took off his hat to our artillery. As for our infantry—well, let me recall the story of the storming of the walls of Pekin, when the Fourteenth infantry, commanded by Old Daggett, found itself under the shadow of the wall. A private went to the colonel and said as he looked critically at the battlements above him. 'I can scale that wall, colonel.' 'All right,' said Daggett, 'go ahead.'

"He went ahead, and scaled the wall. Then he hauled the colonel up and then soon had the two companies on the wall. They found there a number of Russians who had got to the top during the time, but were afraid to go out to a sally port in the vicinity and clear it. Daggett and his men went through the sally port, and let in Riley and his guns. Then it was all over.

"We musn't be vainglorious about the American soldier. He isn't a great disciplinarian, his collar doesn't always fit just right and his leggings may lack a few loops of being fastened. But when it comes to fighting he gets there. It's my private opinion that the American solider is the best killer on top of the earth."

"McQuade" Furnished Protection

New York, May 2.—The safe seized in the raid on an alleged gambling resort at 54 West Thirty-first street, by the anti-vice committee of 15, was opened yesterday in the presence of Justice Jerome. The justice announced his determination to discover the identity of the person to whom the gamblers are alleged to have paid money for protection. Inside the safe were found a number of roulette balls, a lot of poker chips, $230 in cash, a number of "I. O. Us," a pile of checks and an account book. This book showed that regular payments were made to a man named James McQuade. The payments were for from $125 to 250 and were made about once a week. There was nothing to indicate the identity of McQuade.

The Bellicose Brodrick

London, May 2.—At a banquet given in his honor at Guildford last night, Secretary of War Brodrick challenged the opponents to his army scheme and declared that if Great Britain is to maintain her commercial and imperial position, she is quite ready to fight on the Nile, on the Yang-Tse, the Orange river or the Indus. Mr. Brodrick further declared that as a government they would stand or fall in their determination to improve the army without any delay whatever.

May Be a Boston Woman

Halifax, May 2.—An unknown woman shot herself at the Halifax hotel yesterday. She took every precaution before committing suicide to destroy all letters and marks to establish her identity. The woman registered as Mrs. Charles Eastman, Quebec, but is believed to have come from Boston.

Carrie Back In Jail

Wichita, Kan., May 2.—Mrs. Carrie Nation returned to Wichita yesterday, after attending the funeral of her brother at Louisburg. She went directly to the jail and surrendered, to await hearing on the charge of destroying saloon property.

St. Vitus's

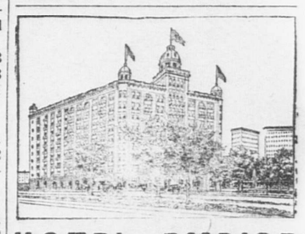

Dance, or chorea, is one of the most pitiable afflictions humanity is called on to endure. That this disease can be cured, however, is proven by the fact that it has been cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. The tranquilizing effect upon the nerves exercised by this remarkable medicine is witnessed to by thousands who have found healing and strength in its use. It not only cures womanly diseases, but it promotes the health of the whole body. It is a nerve-feeding, strength-giving, sleep-inducing medicine. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

"Favorite Prescription" contains no alcohol and is entirely free from opium, cocaine, and all other narcotics. It cannot disagree with the weakest or most delicate constitution.

"When our daughter Lizzie had St. Vitus's dance, I happened to get one of your small books and read it," writes Henry L. Miller, Esq., of 1016 North 7th St., Burlington, Iowa. "Among other things I found that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cured patients suffering from that trouble, so I went out and got a bottle. She was very bad at that time and could hardly talk. When I read about your medicine in that small book, I said to myself, with the help of God and that medicine we can cure our daughter. We did so. Four bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' cured her, and I did not have to take her to the doctor any more. She is well, thank God and the 'Favorite Prescription' for it."

To the Interested Bicycle Public.

My opening day statement and challenge was that I would easily be the leading bicycle dealer of Quincy this year. I expected to gain this end by selling the finest line of bicycles within my power to secure, at fair prices. Not to misrepresent or deceive my customers and friends. It is your friendship and trade I want and in return you can expect honest statements, honest treatment and perfect satisfaction from me. I am pleased with the jealousy my success has developed in my competitors. It simply means that I have bicycles and a policy of selling that is popular.

Give me a call and examine my line of wheels. I am not a mud slinger or sharp skate. I can deliver all bicycles at the prices asked. This is more than my competitors can do.

REVERSAL OF DECISION

Asked For by Prosecution In the Eastman Case

TESTIMONY OF DEFENDANT

Before the Grand Jury, Previously Ruled Out by the Court, Again Under Consideration—Further Identification of Much Discussed Bullet

Cambridge, May 3.—It was confidently expected that the case of the government against Charles R. Eastman, charged with the murder of Richard H. Grogan, Jr., would close yesterday, and the unexpected attitude of the defense caused much speculation as to what the position of Mr. Elder would be in his statement outlining his theory as to how the deceased was killed. These two expected incidents, however, failed of realization.

Although the larger portion of the proceedings was taken up in unimportant expert testimony on powder stains on clothing and alloys of lead in bullets, there were one or two witnesses who proved to be the most important in the trial, while the day ended with a magnificent forensic effort on the part of Attorney General Knowlton to obtain the admission of the testimony of the accused which he made before the grand jury which indicted him.

This testimony the court earlier in the week, after a private hearing to the different lawyers, excluded, but the attorney general yesterday made another effort in open court to obtain a reversal of the decision of the judge through numerous legal citations backed by an earnest and eloquent plea. The defense, relying on the court's former decision, made no reply to the argument of the attorney general, and as the court withheld its decision on the last plea of the attorney general, the latter will today cite additional cases bearing on the subject. In giving the attorney general another opportunity to be heard the court, just before adjournment, said that it had yet to hear of a case where the testimony of any witness before a grand jury called to indict that witness could be used as evidence in the trial.

By far the most important witness of the day was the aged and decrepit mother of the dead man, who tottered feebly into the court and gave an instance where Eastman looked towards her son and said: "His days are short." This was a little over a week before the tragedy, and was used by the government to show Eastman's bearing towards the dead man.

Late in the afternoon two witnesses were recalled, who were present at the autopsy, and identified the little bullet as the one taken from Grogan's body, the identification being made by its peculiar formation, which corresponded to the rim fire bullet and which they said they noticed at the time of the autopsy.

This last testimony will have a great bearing on the case if the defense should claim that the bullet which has been frequently shown to the jury, and which is admitted by the defense to have been a center fire bullet, was changed some time after the autopsy by some governmental official, and that the bullet which really killed Grogan was of a rim fire variety.

Should the government's plea for the admission of the grand jury's testimony be overruled, it is likely that the case against Eastman will rest there and that the defense will then be begun.

Couldn't Agree With War Minister

Yokohama, May 3.—In consequence of the continued postponement by the Japanese minister of finance, Viscount Vatanabe, of the carrying out of the expected public works, the cabinet crisis has reached a climax, and Premier Ito has tendered his resignation to the Mikado. All the other members of the cabinet did likewise, with the exception of the minister of war, Baron Kodama. The probability is that Marquis Ito will reconstruct the cabinet, excluding Viscount Vatanabe.

The Yellow Man's Burden

Berlin, May 3.—The statement that the total indemnity to be demanded of China amounts to $325,000,000 has been officially confirmed here. This amount includes all private claims. It is believed here that if China will now undertake to pay this sum in indemnities the evacuation of Pe-Chili province can begin immediately.

Kennebec Arsenal Not Needed

Washington, May 3.—Secretary Root yesterday issued an order abolishing the arsenal at Kennebec, Me. The property at the arsenal will be disposed of by the staff department, and the men serving there will be assigned to duty elsewhere.

Cummings Held Without Bail

Worcester, Mass., May 3.—John P. Cummings, who shot and killed John J. Reynolds in this city, was yesterday held without bail on the charge of murder. A hearing will be held on May 6. Cummings was wounded in the melee, but the injury is slight.

SWAN HELD IN $10,000

Charged With Larceny of $5000, Four Books and Two Checks

Cambridge, Mass., May 3.—Roland A. Swan, assistant to the Arlington town treasurer, was arraigned before Judge Almy yesterday. He was charged with the larceny of $5000, four books and two checks from the town of Arlington. The prisoner pleaded not guilty. He was held in $10,000, and the case was continued until May 10. In default of bail he was committed to the East Cambridge jail.

Expert accountants and Arlington town officials are busy trying to straighten out the accounts. They think they know the number of the last check drawn before the fire, and are trying to trace the checks bearing the intervening numbers. The $5000 which Swan is accused of stealing is an approximate figure, but from present knowledge is it thought that the loss will amount fully to this sum. The shortage is probably all in the town account with the First National bank of Arlington, for the account with the Faneuil Hall National bank of Boston has been found to be correct.

Further than this the police and selectmen have discovered little on the question of either the robbery or the fire that they could give out.

The papers found in the sewer pipe connecting with Swan's house were examined yesterday by the authorities, who found among it a part of one of the missing tax collector's books, also a check for $75 from the town, payable to A. B. Franklin. The cashbook and two other books are still missing from the collector's office.

An attachment was placed yesterday upon a house in which Swan has an equity of $6000, and upon which there is a mortgage of $15,000.

Stole Money Every Night

Gardner, Mass., May 3.—Felix Antaya, who for four years past has been a clerk and acting bookkeeper for R. W. Platts, a shoe dealer, was arrested last night charged with larceny of money belonging to his employer. Antaya lived with his parents and officers recovered at his house cash and bankbooks representing about $1800. Mr. Platts thinks the amount of his clerk's peculations will aggregate $4000. Antaya admitted having taken different sums during the past three years. His method was to take a certain amount of cash each night, then change the cash register and books so that the account would balance. He is about 22 years old.

Guild Criticizes Regular Army

Boston, May 3.—The regular army came in for some sharp criticism from Colonel Curtis Guild, Jr., in an address before a Grand Army post here last night, especially in his description of the bad effects of the system of seniority promotion. He said that "the system of promotion by seniority bore its fruits in the Spanish-American war. Incompetent men like Shafter stood near the top, and able men like Wheaton and Lawton were below the star of the brigadier. Wheaton was sidetracked with Fitzhugh Lee, and had to wait for the Philippines to get his chance."

An Old, Old Story

Boston, May 3.—Two men went into a restaurant yesterday and when they left in a hurry one of them had $85 in bills from the cash register. It was the old game of one man keeping the cashier busy talking away from her desk while the other man tended the cash drawer. The men got away.

Possibility of Recovery

The Portland Strike

Portland, Me., May 3.—The Central Labor union reports that five small contractors have conceded the eight-hour day demanded by their carpenters.

VISIT TO CRESCENT CITY

Was Thoroughly Enjoyed by the Presidential Party

EVENTS OF OLDEN TIMES

Recalled by Ceremonies In the Seat of Government of Former Spanish and French Rulers—Whole Population Turned Out to Greet President

New Orleans, May 3.—The day spent in New Orleans will live long in the memory of the president and of the members of his party. In no other city in the United States is the old and romantic preserved and placed in such sharp contrast with the modern as in the Crescent city, and yesterday, as the presidential party drove through the city from the new into the old French and Spanish quarter, it was like passing mysteriously from America into a foreign land, from this country into another that has gone. And the illusion of the transition was heightened by interesting ceremonies which occurred in the old Cabildo, the seat of the government of the former Spanish and French rulers, which is yet preserved in its original integrity by the Louisiana Historical society.

The weather could not have been fairer. The heat was tempered by a light breeze from the river and the entire population apparently was out to see the chief magistrate. After a short visit to the Southern university, where a thousand colored students greeted the president with waving bits of colored bunting, so arranged as to make the whole an American flag, and where the president made a brief speech, the party passed the boundaries of the new city into the old town, with its narrow streets, its quaint galleried residences, its cathedrals, old Spanish buildings and French markets—all now unfortunately going into picturesque decay.

There was a striking picture when the party drew up before the mouldering Cabildo, over 150 years old, situated opposite what is now called Jackson square. Around the entire streets the balconies were thronged and down in the square was a crush of people. Many races were represented, but the foreigners were mostly Spanish, French or Italians.

Drawn in line before the building were the young cadets from the Jesuit college, and up the winding stairways at the entrance of the building was ranged the Continental Guards, a local organization in the buff and blue of the Revolutionary era. As the president alighted, a squad of the cadets blew a fanfare on their French trumpets, the Louisiana field artillery fired a salute of 21 guns, and the bells of the cathedral and all the churches in the quarter pealed out their welcoming greeting. Up the stairway, past the Continental Guards, the president and his party mounted into the crimson-draped chamber where the exercises took place.

Alcee Fortier, president of the Louisiana Historical society, delivered the address, and the president in his response spoke of the memorable day, nearly a century ago, when the keys of the city of New Orleans were delivered to Wilkinson and Claiborne, the American commissioners, by the representatives of France. The speech was received with enthusiasm by the gathering present. When the president appeared upon the balcony the cadets below presented arms. The applause was tremendous as the president, an impressive figure, stood waiting for the cheering to subside. He acknowledged the demonstration with a bow, and spoke as follows:

"My Fellow Citizens: I have great honor in standing on this historic ground to receive the greetings of my country and to recall the fact that here, nearly 100 years ago, a great scene was enacted that dedicated a larger area barked on a Mississippi river steamboat for a trip along the river front from Audubon park to the battlefield of Chalmette.

The ladies of the party had remained quietly at the hotel during the ceremonies of the morning, but they participated in the river trip, and enjoyed it.

At 6 o'clock the presidential special resumed its long journey to the Pacific coast. Houston was reached this morning.

Bath Plants In Combine

Bath, Me., May 3.—A telegram to the Bath Times from New York is to the effect that in connection with the $70,000,000 shipbuilding combination formed in New York the Bath Iron Works company and the Hyde Windlass company are to receive $2,250,000 for the two plants. Of this sum $1,400,000 is to be in cash and the remainder in stock of the combination.

May Be Miss Graney's Body

Springfield, Mass., May 3.—The body of a woman, about 30 years old, was found floating in the Connecticut river opposite the city yesterday. It is thought that it may be the body of Miss Lizzie Graney, who disappeared from home in East Hampton a year ago. The body was taken to the morgue, where it awaits identification.

Good Afternoon.

The lowest of all thieving is that of those trusted with the money of others, and there has been an unusual amount of that sort of thing among officials of late. Prompt punishment is about the best remedy.

Only those with five thousand dollar tastes and one thousand dollar incomes can fully appreciate the absurdity of attempting to say what income a man should have to marry. To make even a reasonable guess it would be necessary to know something of the tastes of both.

Aguinaldo may mean every word he says in his manifesto, but Gen. MacArthur shows good sense in keeping a guard over him. The best way to be certain of his good faith is to give him no opportunity to be tempted. He has fallen several times and he might fall again.

The proper place to make a beginning in abolishing political conventions and the substitution of caucuses would seem to be in municipal nominations and then in Representative districts. Where a senatorial district is smaller than a city as those of Suffolk county in Boston it might be well to abolish the conventions and allow the voters in caucuses to make direct choice as proposed, but where a district is made up of many towns with little in common it might be difficult to make a choice of a candidate by the caucus system.

Drift of Opinion.

☞Even if the great Fall at Niagara is wearing away, the chances are that those who go to the Buffalo exposition early will have a good opportunity to see it before it has gone entirely.—New Bedford Standard.

☞Mr. David Nation, who is said to have been robbed in a saloon, apparently needs at once the assistance of his energetic and capable wife. Mr. Nation's plight perhaps explains why his wife is so strenuous in the art of hatcheting liquor magazines.—Brockton Enterprise.

☞Sir Thomas thinks he has the best challenger ever built and reminds us Americans that if we want to save the cup we have a "big job" ahead of us. But Sir Thomas should remember that we have two of the best defenders ever built and that America always has the ability to fit the job, so that there is no worrying on this side of the Atlantic at present.—Haverhill Gazette.

☞Theodore Roosevelt was made a Mason the other night. Those who do not know what that is are saying a great deal more about it than those who do. Those who do will never start talking about it and those who do not will never stop. Confidentially, however, there is no goat in Masonry. The candidate is made to ride a rail. The rail rests on the shoulders of two men. The front man is required to be lame in his left foot and his dexter optic must be of glass. The other man must have suffered amputation of the right foot and his sinster optic must be of tin. There are other requirements which will commend themselves to persons with creative memories, but disclosure must here cease. Mr. Roosevelt is doing as well as could be expected, and no man ever shot more people in the lodge than he did that night.—Brooklyn Eagle.

INCREASE DEMANDED

Linemen of Electric Light Company to Strike.

The indications are that the linemen employed by the Quincy Electric Light and Power Company will go out on a strike tonight. The eight men employed by the company gave notice, Thursday, that they wanted $3 a day for nine hours, and time and a half for overtime and that unless their demands were granted by tonight that they should strike. Supt. Austin, when interviewed, said that the company were now paying the men $2.50 for nine hours, and that they should refuse the demands.

A dispatch from Boston printed on page 4 shows that the movement is not a local one, but includes the linemen in and about Boston, and that a strike may interfere with business generally.

Sylvester—Gould.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. R. Gould, of Trafford street, South Quincy, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Tuesday evening, April 30, when their daughter, Miss Emily M., was united in marriage to Mr. Arthur H. Sylvester of Quincy. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. G. A. Strong, rector of Christ church, the full Episcopal marriage service being used.

The bride was becomingly attired in a pearl colored travelling costume, and carried a bunch of bride roses. She was attended by Miss Alberta Sylvester of Allston, sister of the groom. The room was dressed in conventional black, and was attended by Mr. Herbert McCormick of Dorchester. The bride was given away by her father.

After a reception, in which the happy couple were assisted in receiving by the bride's parents and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Sylvester, uncle and aunt of the groom, the invited guests sat down to a bountiful collation. The presents were numerous and costly.

Friends and relatives were present from Allston, Dorchester, Norfolk Downs, Wollaston, Quincy, and Deer Isle, Me. The young couple are at home to friends at 38 Trafford street.

Dramatics and Dance.

"Placer Gold," a three act drama, was presented at St. Mary's hall Thursday evening by the St. Mary's C. T. A. society. In the cast of characters were: George Berry, Edward Forbes, Lewis Pendis, John King, John Duane, Stephen Conners, John Dillon, Joseph Stahl, Josie Berry, Emma Ready, Kitty Bolger, Lizzie Farrell, Nellie McCarthy. There was dancing after the play.

Unity Club Banquet.

The program for the final meeting of the Wollaston Unity club which will be held in the Unitarian church, on the evening of May tenth will comprise: A club history, oration, poem, address to undergraduates and prophecy. Some fine music will be interspersed with the literary numbers, after which a collation will be served in the vestry by Caterer Cook of Boston, and a social and musical hour will be participated in. Ladies are requested to come with the head uncovered.

Ward Two Polls.

Assistant Assessor Keating says he expected to find a large increase of polls in Ward Two, but that the total will probably exceed expectations. In the few days he has been out he has found many shipbuilders, mechanics and draughtsmen who were not residents of the city last year. He now expects to find about 1,200 polls.

Refunding Favored.

The House engrossed on Thursday notwithstanding the objections of Representative Badger and others, the bill to authorize the town of Medway to refund to Lawrence Maginnis the sum of $2,300 paid for a liquor license which was revoked for improper posting.

Thayer vs. M. I. T. 1904.

Thayer won its third consecutive victory of the season from Technology Freshmen Wednesday afternoon, on French's common, South Braintree. The visitors batted hard the first inning, but after that only made two hits in the rest of the game.

Dolan, Tech's pitcher, was hit all over the field in the fifth inning and was relieved in the sixth by Donovan, a crack Randolph player, who pitched the remainder, of the game very effectively. With the exception of a two base hit by Townsend, the best playing for the visitors was done by Chandler who made two difficult stops.

The batting of Borden, Townsend, Remick, Carr and Winslow was very strong. Both Borden and Townsend made clean two base hits.

The fielding of the home team was almost errorless while that of the visitors was very poor. Out of small material Mr. Towsend has equipped a decidedly fast team this year which will doubtless rival any preparatory school team in the vicinity of Boston It has yet games to play with the stronger teams in the country going up against St. Mark's Saturday, and presently Dean Academy. The score in full:

May 22, Noble and Greenough at South Braintree.
May 25, Roxbury High, South Braintree.

Grammar School League.

The Grammar School base ball league opened Wednesday with victories for the Coddingtons, Gridley Bryants and the John Hancocks. There is a remarkable sameness in the three scores, each of the winning teams making between 20 and 30 runs, while the defeated teams made less than 10, as will be seen:

Coddington, 23; Adams, 7,
Gridley Bryant, 29; Willard, 6.
John Hancock, 26; Lincoln, 9.

The standing to date is as follows:

	Played.	Won.	Lost.	Per cent.
Coddington,	1	1	0	100
Gridley Bryant,	1	1	0	100
John Hancock,	1	1	0	100
Adams,	1	0	1	00
Willard,	1	0	1	00
Lincoln,	1	0	1	00

The standing will be changed considerably tomorrow as two of the leaders, the John Hancocks and Gridley Bryants will play together, and two of the tailenders, the Lincoln and Adams, while the Coddingtons will play the Willards at West Quincy.

Seriously Burned.

Mrs. Myric W. Choate of Glover place, Atlantic, was severely burned, Thursday, about the arms, face and body.

From what can be learned, it appears that Mrs. Choate went to the stable to look after an incubator. While thus engaged her clothing in some way took fire from the lamp and in an instant she was enveloped in flames. Her cries alarmed her brother, who was near at hand. He grabbed a blanket and wound it about her, and extinguished the flames, but not before Mrs. Choate was severely burned. He also had his hands quite badly burned. Mrs. Choate was in a precarious condition this morning.

Reception of Dancing Classes.

The dancing classes of Prof. Kaplan closed this week, the reception of the children being held at Hancock hall on Wednesday evening, and that of the adult class on Thursday evening. At the former an exhibition of fancy dances was included, in which the children showed great proficiency. The closing party of the adults was in no sense an exhibition, but a good time attended by pupils and friends. Prof. Kaplan announced his intention to reopen classes in Quincy next September; also a benefit party for May 10, and a shirt waist party for May 29.

CITY BREVITIES.

A Local Budget With the News in a Nut Shell.

A good smart shower fell at midnight.

High school play tonight at Quincy Music hall.

Auctioneer Johnson will have two sales tomorrow.

Henry H. Faxon has had his lawn mowed and a great many others are following suit.

The up-to-date dry goods store of Miss Hubbard, has something to say on timely topics.

Mrs. W. H. Ripley of Cross street, who sprained her ankle recently, is rapidly recovering.

Civil service examinations for clerks, foremen and inspectors are being held at City Hall today.

Emelio Paul of Boston has taken rooms with Mrs. Chase on Appleton street for the summer.

The show windows of George W. Jones store have been adorned with some handsome new signs.

E. J. Sandberg has the contract to furnish 10,000 tons of ballast for the State dock at South Boston.

A dress rehearsal of "Dido" was given at Music hall last evening, and assures a fine play tonight.

The grounds about the new house on the Woodward property on Linden place are being graded by E. J. Sandberg.

W. G. Chubbuck is still in the furniture moving business for himself, and prepared to attend to business promptly.

Rural lodge of Masons instituted in 1801 is planning for a two days' celebration of its centennial in June, which promise to be gala days for Quincy.

While a freight train was shifting cars near the Cross street crossing of the Granite branch of the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. Monday night two cars came violently together, one of which was telescoped.

The funeral of Ethel May, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Miller was held Thursday from the home of her parents, Services were conducted by Rev. Preston Gurney of the Wollaston Baptist church. The burial was at Mt. Wollaston.

The funeral of Mrs. Ellen, widow of Mr. Michael Dunican was held this morning from her home on Willard street. A requiem high mass was celebrated at St. Marys church by Rev. John J. Powers. The burial was at St. Mary's cemetery.

We are much pleased to see that Mr. Faxon has had set out on his property, along the Coddington boulevard, about a dozen young maple trees. The street widening was a great improvement and if all the property holders would set out trees it would help to beautify the street.

Banquet of Junior Endeavorers.

The Junior Christian Endeavor society of Bethany church, held their annual supper in the chapel Thursday evening, at 6 o'clock. The tables looked very pretty, decorated with fruit and May baskets at each plate. Everyone said the ice cream was very cold—Mr. Rogers furnished the ice. There were about 60 Juniors who partook of the supper served under the direction of Miss Blanche Peters, assisted by Miss Addie Park, Miss Maude Macfarlane, Mrs. Packard, Mrs. Peters, Henry Taylor and M. P. Hayward.

After the supper there was an entertianment directed by Miss Minnie Packard, consisting of a May Basket story by Rev. E. N. Hardy, readings by Miss Annie Sanderson and Mrs. Packard and songs by Miss Mabel Wentworth and Miss Ruth Packard. Then all sang America and went home.

Proposals for Coal and Wood.

CITY OF QUINCY.

THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE of the City of Quincy will, until Wednesday noon, May 15, 1901, receive proposals for furnishing and delivering the whole or a part of the following: 325 tons White Ash Egg Coal, 100 tons Lehigh Egg, 400 tons Lehigh Broken, and 200 tons High Grade Bituminous Coal.

The best quality of screened coal must be furnished in proper quantities and sizes to supply the several school buildings. The bids must include the trimming of the bins.

The Committee will also receive proposals for furnishing and delivering within the school buildings, the whole or a part of the following: 24 cords of pine wood and 10 cords of hard wood. The wood must be of the best quality and must be cut into lengths required by the different schools. The bids for the pine and the hard wood must be separate.

Storage rooms of the several school buildings to be filled on or before August 31, but the prices to hold good up to January 1, 1902.

The right to reject any and all bids is reserved. Address sealed proposals, distinctly marked on the outside of the envelope, "Proposals for Fuel," to

Which Increased Over 700 per cent.

WITHIN SIX MONTHS.

The Arcola Oil Company's stock sold for $135 per 1,000 shares, and in six months $1,000 per 1,000 shares was refused for the stock, for the reason that the first well was a large producer and there is room for forty wells on the Company's land, which makes it about certain that the stock in the near future will be worth ten dollars per share.

We offer you the same opportunity for a large gain by investing in the Dirigo Oil Company's stock, the first block of which is being sold for $150 per 1,000 shares. The Company owns a block of land adjoining the Arcola Company's land which has large producing wells on all four sides. There is eighty acres of the Company's land in the center of the oil belt, which we feel absolutely certain will give a large producing well in each acre.

We now have machinery on the ground, and are ready to sink the first well, and expect to strike oil by May 1st, which will then make the stock worth par value, if the well is as good a producer as the Arcola.

The block of stock we are selling is about three-quarters sold and quick application will have to be made to secure any of it at the present price.

MILTON.

About twenty will be confirmed at the Mission of Our Saviour church next Friday evening by Bishop Lawrence.

Fred Walters and his sister, Miss Augusta Walters, of Pond street, go to Denver, Col., in June.

Mrs. Harriet C. Tucker, a daughter of the late Albert K. Teele died Thursday at her residence off Canton avenue.

While John Delory was passing through East Milton Monday with the contents of a cesspool on his wagon a wheel broke and the contents was dumped into the street. Things were anything but sweet for a while.

The steam roller is at work on Edge Hill road this week.

Commencing Sunday, the evening services at the Mission of Our Saviour church will begin at 7.30 o'clock.

A regular business meeting of the Thursday Evening club will be held this week.

The King's Daughters of the Congregational church hold a rummage sale next week.

Mr. Crowell and family of Ashmont have moved into Hadland's house on Otis street.

A prominent town official and a citizen of Belcher circle got into a dispute Monday and the town official ended the affair by pulling the citizens ears and nose. The affair was settled Thursday in a quiet manner at the Quincy court.

Walter Bates has moved into the Smith house off Bryant avenue.

Miss Alice Babcock of Adams street has gone west on a trip.

The fire department was called out Monday evening at 7.50 o'clock by an alarm from Box 31 for a fire in a barn on Pleasant street. Loss $100.

Patriotic Services.

Paul Revere Post 88, G. A. R., with pleasant recollections of the patriotic service held at the Weymouth Baptist church last spring, has accepted an invitation to attend the service to be held this year on May 5, at 7 P. M. Rev. Frank B. Cressey the pastor, says members of all patriotic organizations will be cordially welcome. Music will be a prominent feature including the singing of Keller's "Angel of Peace" by 25 children, anthems, vocal numbers, a sextette, and a bugle solo. The pastor will speak on — "The passing of the soldier," and there will be several recitations. At the conclusion will come the "Post of Sorrow" in fifteen parts, a very impressive service.

In the Dido Cast.

In the cast of Dido, the High school play at Music hall tonight, will be: Carl A. Lewis, Harris M. Barbour, Charles J. McGilvray, James Forrest, Albion Ilsley Dole, James B. Mahoney, Henry F. Lalley, Edna L. Smith, Alice G. Higgins, Sadie I. Adams, E. Lois Metherall, Helen D. Rhines, Walter L. Gurney and Beatrice R. Walker. Among others to appear will be: Misses Brown, Dorman, Fowler, Greer, Hayward, Murphy, Schillander and Vogler; Messrs. Mrs. H. W. Conner, violin; Mr. Fred Plummer, violin; Mr. S. P. Moorhouse, viola; Mr. John Little, cello; Miss Witcher, soprano; Mr. Gilbert, organist.

Funeral of Mr. Dixon.

The funeral of Mr. Fred C. Dixon was held Thursday from his late summer residence at Houghs Neck the Bostonian cottage. The Rev. A. A. Ellsworth of Quincy officiated. The services were largely attended. Among the many floral offerings was a bank of sixty-three lilies from the members of the Bostonian Opera Company and a large piece from the Boston Protective Order of Elks. Mrs. J. J. O'Callahan sang the solo "Paradise," and Miss Ina Colby the "Ave Maria." The interment was at Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

☞ On next Tuesday night, May 7, Miss Nellie Coffey will give a grand performance of the "Social Outlaw" at Music hall, Quincy. Miss Coffey will be assisted by Mr. George W. Wilson and his entire company and a strictly first class performance may be looked for. Mr. N. Harris Ware, leader of the Wilson orchestra will give a delightful half hour concert and pleasing specialites will be introduced by the Bastedo Sisters. Prices 25-35 and 50 cents on sale at Music hall pharmacy.

Curious Conditions Changed.

When jaded by the cares and worries of this life, when filled with a spirit of unrest, the best thing imaginable for the afflicted to do is to hie himself to new scenes —to the primeval wilds, in that part of New England known as the fishing regions, there to enjoy a period of absolute quiet.

The enjoyment, the complete retirement in which one finds himself, is the best health restorer you can find. The manipulation of hooks, nets and lines, the sight of a big, wary fish anxious for a tussle, and the excitement attending the landing of one of these fine fellows, will drive away the blues, and every moment of the spring vacation is one of intense enjoyment.

The regions, or sections, which offer allurements to the early fisherman are several, but the most prominent and conspicuous are the Moosehead and Rangeley regions, through many sportsman prefer the Allegash region or the territory in Washington County, Maine, while others single out Lake Winnipesaukee or Memphremagog, or Sunapee or Champlain, or, perhaps, some one of the streams or lakes of the Adirondacks is the choice for the spring sport.

The Boston & Maine Railroad reaches every section in which spring fishing is a predominant feature, and the pamphlet "Fishing and Hunting," gotten out by its General Passenger Department, whose offices are in Boston, Mass., is chockful of interesting information which every sportsman should read, and a two-cent stamp sent to the above address will procure it for you.

To San Francisco.

The fifth International Convention of the Epworth League, to be held in San Francisco, July 18th to 21st, is already eliciting great interest throughout the country, and the prospect for a very large attendance is most flattering. The present prosperity, and the very great interest in the Pacific Coast in view of its proximity to our new possessions in the Pacific and the far east, are likely to prove a strong incentive to travel in this direction the coming summer.

San Francisco, already noted for its hospitality, is preparing to entertain the largest number of eastern guests that has ever fallen to her lot within a single year.

The very low rate for the round trip, the liberal stop-over privileges, and the thorough arrangements which will be made for side excursions will offer every possible attraction to those who attend the Convention.

The programme of the Convention will include the consideration of timely topics under the caption, "Through the Open Gate of the Twentieth Century." The great living themes in church and society will be discussed by prominent speakers, lay and clerical.

Geo. W. Penniman of Clinton, formerly of Quincy, is the excursion manager for Massachusetts, and will give information.

To Go Before Grand Jury.

A Portland dispatch to the Herald says: County Attorney Whitehouse stated Thursday that the case of George H. Brainard, charged with the murder of Isaiah H. Farnham, would be presented to the May grand jury which meets here next Tuesday. If an indictment is found the defence will file a plea of insanity, immediately after which Brainard will be taken to the insane asylum at Augusta for an examination.

A Brockton Idea.

The plan for furnishing the schools of the city of Brockton with books from the Public Library was successfully inaugurated Wednesday says the Enterprise, and the first list of books was sent out during the afternoon and the remainder left the library on Thursday. The schools which were provided with the first installment of books yesterday were the Lincoln, Whitman, Union, Huntington and the Sprague schools, and this morning the carrier took out the remainder of the lot to the Winthrop, Perkins and Howard schools. In all 11 baskets were delivered, and these containing some 20 books each makes a total of over 200 books which have been thus distributed.

A very important matter in this connection is an offer which was made to Librarian Ayer whereby the library will be provided with 1,000 new books suitable for the lower grades, from the first to the eighth grades, called the young folks' library of choice literature. This offer was made to the library by the Boston Educational Co., through its agent, Mr. Dyer. Councilman Langelier of Quincy is in charge of the Boston office of this company.

Mail Orders.

Advertising in the Ledger pays. Not only does it make the people of Quincy acquainted with our business men and what they have to offer for sale, but out of town people as well. An incident to illustrate this point happened this morning. D. E. Wadsworth & Co., the well known dry goods merchants received a mail order from Chatham this morning from a lady who said she saw the article wanted advertised in the Ledger. As Messrs. Wadsworth make a specialty of mail order it is hardly necessary to say that this order was promptly filled and mailed before noon.

The Magazines.

The leading feature of The Smart Set for May is a novelette entitled "The Wage of Character," by Julien Gordon (Mrs Van Rensselaer Cruger.) This is the most ambitious story that Mrs. Cruger has published in some years, and is perhaps the strongest and most brilliant she has ever written. She has dared to write of New York and Washington society, in which she has so long been an admirable and commanding figure. Mrs. M. E. W. Sherwood contributes to the number an appreciation of Edward VII, entitled "England's Princely King."

Those who are contemplating a college education will do well to write for a copy of a Special Edition of the paper published by the students of the Massachusetts Agricultural College. It is an attractive pamphlet of twenty-four pages, handsomely illustrated with engravings of the college buildings and typical college scenes, and contains a variety of information directly from the instructors concerning their work, a classified list of the faculty, a statement of requirements for admission and of expenses, which for the individual are very low, tuition being free.

The Plague's Ravages

London, May 3.—Sir Walter F. Hely Hutchinson, the governor of Cape Colony, has wired Secretary Chamberlain that the total of deaths due to the bubonic plague up to April 27 is 217. This number includes 41 Europeans. If the reported cases at Mafeking that have the symptoms of the plague are embodied in the report, the total number of cases would be 519, these including 135 Europeans.

Got State Prison Sentence

Boston, May 3.—James E. Hamlin, a restaurant keeper, was yesterday sentenced to state prison for a term of not more than four nor less than 2½ years for receiving stolen goods. He received daily for more than a year cigars and tobacco from three young men, who recently pleaded guilty of stealing the goods from a wholesale house where they were employed.

GAYETY AND GLADNESS.

Great Abundance on the Pan-American Midway.

The Midway of the Pan-American Exposition will have the choicest of the world's amusement novelties. A visit to the different concessions will seem like a peep into foreign countries, the representation of life will be so true. There will be a Trip to the Moon, Beautiful Orient, Colorado Gold Mine, Glass Factory, Scenic Railway and Rivers, Captive Balloon, Darkness and Dawn, Dreamland, War Cyclorama, Around the World, Turpin's Panopticon, Bostock's Wild Animal Show, Old Plantation, Cleopatra, Cineograph, Jerusalem on the Morning of the Crucifixion, Diving Elks, Indian Congress, Old Nuremberg, Infant Incubator, Ostrich Farm, Venice in America, Moving Pictures, Thompson's Aerio-Cycle, Roltaire's House Upside Down, Johnstown Flood, Hawaiian Volcano and Theater, Streets of Mexico, Miniature White City, Miniature Railway, Gypsy Camp and Filipino, African, Japanese and Eskimo Villages.

The Midway covers an area of more than 40 acres. The cost of building it was $3,000,000. The amusement palaces are set close together, and the long intervening distances which have wearied pleasure seekers on other Midways will be agreeably lacking here. The concessions have a frontage of something over a mile. More than 50,000 incandescent lamps will be used in the illumination of this amusement quarter. There will be 2,000 lights upon the Thompson Aerio-Cycle, which will be operated by Niagara Falls power. Such a tempting amusement feast as has been provided for visitors to this Exposition has never before been seen. The wonderful Midway of the Pan-American Twentieth Century celebration is the culmination of colossal amusement enterprise.

CUBA AT THE EXPOSITION.

A Splendid Exhibit of Its Resources to Be Made at the Pan-American.

The diversified and valuable resources of Cuba will be exhibited at the Pan-American Exposition.

A Cuban building has been erected in the Court of State and Foreign buildings, and it is one of the most picturesque of this fine group. Its architecture and materials are peculiar to the Island. The building is surmounted by the traditional "Tower of Havana" and attracts the attention of all visitors. It has a splendid view of the Park Lakes, The Approach, The Fore Court, The Triumphal Bridge and other parts of the Exposition.

Among its nearest neighbors is the Honduras building, which overlooks The Approach. The work of gathering the exhibits is in progress. An active campaign is being made throughout the Island, and especially among the planters, for exhibits. While careful attention will be devoted to the collection of exhibits to represent the manufacturing interests of Cuba, the bulk of the exhibits will come from the country and will be collected so as to serve as inducements to those with limited capital who may desire to invest in Cuba. The exhibits will be the best ever collected in the Island and will entirely be representative of its industries.

New England Building.

The New England building in the Court of State and Foreign Buildings at the Pan-American Exposition reminds one of a fine old colonial mansion. Its broad piazzas and terraces are typical of a New England home of the Revolutionary period. The design is plain, yet rich. The building is 104 feet long by 52 feet wide. The walls are covered with staff, painted to represent red brick with white marble trimmings. The shields of the six New England States are placed in colors on the front, and there is a staff for each state flag. On the ground floor is a large reception hall, nearly 47 feet square, supported by four columns, and at the rear are colonial staircases leading in two directions from the first landing. On the right of the reception hall are the bureau of information, the coatroom and custodian's quarters. On the left are lounging and writing rooms, from which a beautiful view of that section of the Exposition is possible. In both these rooms large colonial fireplaces are arranged, and the furnishings are all in accordance with the colonial idea. The arrangement on this floor is simple, thoroughly convenient and withal decidedly in keeping with what the building will be used for. Up stairs there have been arranged six large rooms. Each New England State is allotted one, and it is used for a rendezvous for people from that particular state.

This building is located on a street, or path, connecting directly with the Grand Court and is in almost as central a position as the New York State building. It is near the lake, in the midst of over 10,000 transplanted shrubs and trees. The cost of the New England building was $15,000.

Moore Under Arrest

Portsmouth, N. H., May 3.—Former City Clerk William H. Moore was placed under arrest last night upon a warrant charging him with the embezzlement of city funds aggregating $1700. Moore was placed under bonds for his appearance in the police court for a further hearing. The charges against him are in 13 different counts, and are the result of a partial examination of the books for the four years preceding last March, during which time Moore held the office of city clerk, he having failed of re-election last March.

Strike Would Tie Up Business

Boston, May 3.—The 420 linemen employed in Boston will strike tomorrow unless their employers grant them a uniform workday of nine hours, with $3 a day. Negotiations have been under way for several days, but fell through yesterday. The linemen "string" and repair electric wires for the Boston Elevated railroad and for the telephone, telegraph and electric light companies in and about Boston. Their strike will, therefore, interfere with general business.

Attempted Suicide In Jail

Montpelier, Vt., May 3.—Arturo Bernaco, a prisoner in the Washington county jail, in some way secured a jackknife, and last evening stabbed himself in the temple and throat. The blade missed the jugular vein and he will probably recover. He was picked up unconscious. He is awaiting sentence for murderous assault.

Bullet In His Forehead

Lewiston, Me., May 3.—E. J. Howard of Corinna attempted suicide by shooting at a hotel here Wednesday. The affair was not discovered until yesterday afternoon when Howland was found unconscious and taken to a hospital. The bullet wound is on the forehead and in all probability will prove fatal.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflamation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars; free.

TARIFF COMPLICATIONS

Caused by Aggressive Zeal of American Producers

"LIKE A PACK OF WOLVES"

Anxious to Get Their Commodities Into Cuba on Easy Terms, but Not Willing to Give Anything In Return —New Tariff Will Be a Mixed One

Washington, May 3.—The commission now at work upon the new Cuban tariff, it is understood here, is much disturbed by the aggressive zeal of American producers to get their commodities into the island on easy terms, and at the same time their seeming indifference to the Cubans' need of markets here.

The rice planters of Louisiana are strenuous in their desire to have the rate of duty against their product exceedingly low, believing they can command the market there against other foreign producers. American tobacco manufacturers are insistent that no Porto Rican tobacco shall be allowed to get into Cuba, as their interests demand that the integrity of the Cuban product be maintained. Our cotton goods manufacturers, it is also asserted, are making demands which if granted would benefit foreign manufacturers quite as much.

These are but typical instances of the desire to get into Cuba, and yet against her products the markets of the world seem closed. As one man connected with the commission has expressed it: "These interests are all howling like a pack of wolves, and yet are not willing to give Cuba anything in return, not even an opiate to deaden her sufferings."

The markets of Europe are practically closed against Cuban products. Shortly after the war Spain put a very high tariff upon Cuban tobacco; England already taxes it roundly for revenue purposes. The United States wall is very high, and as for sugar the great crop must depend largely upon the market, and to what extent it will be admitted remains to be seen. Until these industrial conditions are settled the affairs on the island cannot be prosperous.

Considerable misunderstanding exists here, it is said, as to the commercial classes of Cuba; they are practically all foreigners, including an insignificant number of Americans. The Cubans themselves are agriculturists, and those whose future will chiefly depend upon close trade relations with the United States.

It has been decided to make the new tariff a mixed one, but with a minimum of ad valorem duties. The merchants of Cuba prefer a high specific duty to a moderate ad valorem, such are the difficulties in getting experts in the custom house to assess values properly, avoiding under-valuation through dishonest importers and over-valuation of arrogant officials. For the peculiar conditions of the island, it is felt that specific duties are an element of safety, and so the schedule will adopt them as far as possible.

Shavings Probably Saved His Life

Lynn, Mass., May 3.—Willie Taylor, 14 years old, fell three stories down an elevator well in a box factory yesterday, a distance of about 60 feet. He turned several somersaults before he struck the bottom. He landed flat on his back upon a pile of shavings. In a few seconds Taylor was as well as usual, save for a scraped leg and a shaking up.

Putting Screws on Studeuts

St. Petersburg, May 3.—It is reported in the press here that the ministry for war is contemplating reorganizing the military medical academy, where the students are submitted to military discipline and are required to serve three years as military surgeons after graduation. This academy is the principal Russian medical college.

Won't Be Prosecuted

London, May 3.—Jack Roberts, the pugilist, and the other men accused of manslaughter as a result of the death of Billy Smith from injuries received at the National Sporting club, were released yesterday on their own recognizance. The magistrate said he saw nothing to distinguish the contest from an ordinary prize fight.

Different From American Order

Rome, May 3.—King Victor Emmanuel will sign a decree next Sunday creating a new order, to be known as the Order of the Knights of Labor, which will be conferred upon citizens, including workmen distinguished in the study of labor questions for the amelioration of the condition of the laboring classes.

Menard Evidently a Suicide

Concord, N. H., May 3.—The coroner's jury in the case of Frank P. Menard rendered a verdict that said Menard came to his death as the result of an overdose of morphine, supposed to have been self-administered, and taken with suicidal intent. It is said that financial complications caused the deed.

Three Negroes "Found Dead"

Selma, Ala., May 3.—Three negroes were found dead yesterday near the cabin in which Deputy Sheriff Edwards was killed Sunday night, 10 miles south of Selma. They are supposed to have been implicated in the murder of Edwards. The negroes are terrorized and are fleeing to the city.

Martinelli Takes Oath of Office

Washington, May 3.—Cardinal Martinelli took the oath of his new office and subscribed to the profession of faith at the papal legation yesterday. The oath was administered by Mgr. Conaty. The ceremony was private, and was extremely simple.

DRINKS WHEN HE CHOOSES

Clergyman Who Does Not Think Saloons Have Evil Influence

Baltimore, May 3.—"I left my reverend title and my church coat hanging together on the back of a chair at home," declared Rev. A. F. Sterger of Trinity Evangelical Lutheran church yesterday, as he stepped upon the platform to deliver an address on "Temperance" to the Retail Liquor Dealers' Beneficial association.

Rev. Mr. Sterger spoke in part as follows: "I've brought with me only the sympathetic heart of a man for his friends. I don't like to see you trodden down. I have spent many hours with saloon people listening to their troubles and I know their lives are hard. When I go into a saloon, and stay there for an hour, and maybe take a glass of beer or wine, I come out as good a man as I was when I went in. I will not subscribe to temperance, for I like a glass of wine or beer myself, and take it when I choose.

"I would, if I could, go to the people who are against your business and tell them to go and see it before they condemn it. It is as good and as honorable as any other business, and the day will yet come when people will respect it."

Naval Authorities Keeping Tabs

Washington, May 3.—Although the matter never has figured before the state department, the navy department has been closely watching the happenings near Margarita island, off the coast of Venezuela, which have given rise to the report that a German coaling station is to be established there. This led to an examination on our own account, which developed the presence on this important strategic point of one of the finest harbors in South America, the possession of which would afford any nation with a navy practical control of the Panama canal from the eastern side. In view of the reported German surveys in that quarter, the naval authorities here are showing unusual interest in the points available for American use.

An Amazing Statement

Washington, May 3.—The director of the geological survey of Canada in his last report states that practically nothing is known of one-third of Canada. So states United States Consul Seyfert at Stratford in a report to the state department. It is shown that more than 1,250,000 miles of Canadian territory is yet unexplored. The mineral wealth of part of this region is said to be undoubtedly immense, while the dense forests of hard wood, when brought to the markets of the world, are expected to become a source of large profit.

An Unlooked-For Incident

Nyack, N. Y., May 3.—Norman Hemingway, formerly of Kansas City, was initiated in the lodge of Odd Fellows at Spring Valley last night. During part of the ceremony, W. R. Sherwood, an officer of the lodge, acted in a stern manner and rushed toward Hemingway, intending it as a joke. Hemingway thought Sherwood was in earnest and fired a revolver. The powder burned Sherwood's face, but the bullet missed him. The incident broke up the meeting.

Midway Concessionaires' Complaint

Buffalo, May 3.—Another factor in the situation with regard to the Sunday opening of the exposition developed yesterday. It is said that the midway concessionaires will make a formal request that they be allowed to keep open their shows on Sundays. Some concerted action, it is said, will be taken to compel the board of directors to fulfill what the concessionaires allege is a provision in the contract.

Bryan to Work as a Citizen

Boston, May 3.—William J. Bryan sent a letter to the Commonwealth club (formerly the Bryan club of Massachusetts) which was read last night. In it he said he was glad that the club had changed its name, for, he said, "It is better for the club not to appear as the champion of any particular person, and better for me to do my work as a citizen rather than as a candidate."

Government Showed Mercy

Boston, May 3.—William Aylesbury, just released from state prison, where he had served a sentence of eight years, was before the Chelsea court yesterday on a charge of alleged larceny committed in 1893, but the case was nol prossed. The government took the course because of a desire to be merciful to Aylesbury.

Grieved Over Friend's Death

Harrisburg, May 3.—Despondency over the murder of his friend, Cashier Ryan, of the Halifax National bank, recently, in an attempt to prevent two men from robbing the bank, led John Kohler, cashier of the Millersburg National bank, to take his own life yesterday by shooting. Kohler was 56 years old.

Parents Think Child Stolen

Rochester, May 3.—Irene Boehler, aged 4, mysteriously disappeared from her home here last night. Her parents say an effort was made last summer to kidnap the child, and they are almost certain the child has been stolen.

In a Pitiable Plight

St. Petersburg, May 3.—Starvation and typhus are increasing among the village population of Bessarable. Seventy percent of the farmers of that district have lost all their horses, and have no seed for the spring sowing.

Weather Conditions and Forecast

Almanac, Saturday, May 4.
Sun rises—4:36; sets, 6:46.
Moon rises—7:52 p. m.
High water—11:45 a. m.; midnight.

There have been occasional showers and thunderstorms in the lake region and rain in eastern New York and New England. It will be fair, except rain on the Maine coast, and showers in Massachusetts. The wind on the coast will be brisk southwesterly, probably becoming northwesterly.

GREAT MISERY IN CHINA

Vouched For by Minister Conger, Who Is Acquainted With Conditions

Des Moines, May 3.—Minister Conger received messages yesterday from a New York paper asking his co-operation in giving relief to the starving millions in northern China. His telegram in reply was:

"Your telegram received. The suffering of the famine-stricken people in Shan-Si is indescribable. Your plan of relief is the best. Put the latter in the hands of our consuls at Shanghai and Tientsin, and head of missions there. The Chinese government and people will be grateful. The demands of humanity will be answered and future good will result. I send by letter $100."

Minister Conger says that the condition of the unfortunate people referred to is beyond description. "Prince Ching told me only two days before I left Pekin," said Minister Conger, "that these people were literally eating each other. They have eaten every blade of grass, every bit of bark—everything, in fact, that can be eaten—in the province. Nothing has been raised there for two years, and unless relief is given, many, many thousands must perish."

Mr. Conger will go east Monday, to be gone about two weeks.

Tax Collector's Accounts Short

Plaistow, N. H., May 3.—William L. Cushing, who had been tax collector of the town of Plaistow since 1898, has resigned his office, at the request of the board of selectmen, who state that a shortage of $800 was found in his accounts. Cushing was summoned before a meeting of the board and when told that Selectman Gosselin had discovered the shortage admitted that the charge was true and promptly tendered his resignation.

Coler to Forsake Politics

New York, May 3.—The Herald says: It was announced in Wall street yesterday that Controler Coler would retire from politics at the end of his present term of office to become the head of an important trust company, at a salary of $40,000 a year. When seen at his home last night, Mr. Coler declined to either confirm or deny the report of his retirement from the political field.

Gathering of Railroad Men

Boston, May 3.—One hundred and eighty practical street railway men were the guests of the Boston Elevated Railway company yesterday, in an inspection of the new elevated system. Last evening a banquet was served at the American House, followed by an illustrated lecture by Superintendent Bancroft upon the working system of the Boston Elevated road.

Effectually Concealed Identity

Halifax, May 3.—The identity of the expensively dressed woman who signed herself Mrs. Mary Eastman, and who shot herself at the Halifax hotel Wednesday, is still unestablished. The distinguished appearance of the woman and the care she exercised to conceal her identity has aroused unusual interest in the case. She is an American without doubt.

Crushed to Death by Wagon

Fitchburg, Mass., May 3.—Robert Barr, 10 years old, the eldest of five children of Mrs. Marion Barr, fell from a tipcart upon which he was riding yesterday and the load of gravel passed over his body, killing him instantly.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Mrs. Mary Sankey, mother of Ira D. Sankey, the evangelist and singer, died at her home at Newcastle, Pa. She was 90 years old, and death was caused by the infirmities attendant upon her advanced age.

The official celebration of the reopening of the North German Lloyd line piers at Hoboken, N. J., was carried out in that city. The singing societies of the place gave a concert on the piers. 2000 men marched in a torchlight parade and there were fireworks and a banquet.

The bill making May 24, the late Queen Victoria's birthday, a permanent holiday, was passed in the Canadian house of commons. It will be called Victoria day.

Josiah Drummond, president of the board of trustees of Colby college, says there is nothing in the story that Professor Small of Chicago will accept the presidency of the institution.

A REMEDY FOR THE GRIPPE.

A remedy recommended for patients afflicted with the Grippe is KEMP'S BALSAM, which is especially adapted for the throat and lungs. Don't wait for the first symptoms of the disease! get a bottle today and keep it for use the moment it is needed. If neglected the grippe has a tendency to bring on pneumonia. KEMP'S BALSAM prevents this by keeping the cough loose, lungs free from inflammation. All druggists sell KEMP'S BALSAM at 25c. and 50c.

The Social Realm.

The tree of deepest root is found
Least willing still to quit the ground:
'Twas therefore said by ancients ages,
That love of life increased with years
So much, that in our latter stages,
When pain grows sharp and sickness rages,
The greatest love of life appears.

Next week is a quiet one socially, very little going on te way of enterainment. Some say all the good times come in a bunch.

Misses Josephine and Carrie Underwood of Spear street spent a few days at Marblehead the first of the week.

Letters are frequently received from Miss Elizabeth Souther, who has now been in Paris about three weeks. She enjoyed the trip over, and her journey to Paris. As Miss Souther jots down each day everything of interest, her friends look forward to her return in the fall with much pleasure.

The Braintree club have made arrangements to hold a "ladies night" in their rooms, Friday evening, May 10.

The Woman's Press club is to have an unique entertainment the middle of May at Copley hall, Boston, in aid of the club funds. It is to be a Colonial day festival, with bazaar, stage pageant, pictorial and artistic presentation of various phases of Colonial America. Attendants at booths are to dress in old style. The dancing is to be under the charge of Madam Arcan and will include an Indian medicine dance, the genuine Sir Roger de Coverly, minuet, country dance and a dance of Canadian Voyageurs. Mrs. F. H. Bishop of Wollaston and Miss Annie L. Prescott of Quincy are to assist at the Colonial Housewives' booth.

Mr. Asa P. French of Randolph was best man at the wedding of Miss Mary Hart Welling, the daughter of the late Charles Hunt Welling, and Mr. Heinrich Rudolf Baltz, on April 23, at Calvary church, Philadelphia, Bishop Satterlee of Washington officiated.

Everyone enjoyed the dance given in Music hall, Atlantic, on the evening of May first, for all it was a small party. Orders were dispensed with, and the whole affair very informal. The women were given a taste of leap year by being allowed to choose partners for one waltz, and the introduction of a fancy medley and waltz German made agreeable change in the usual program. Ices were served at intermission and were for sale during the remainder of the evening. The music was by Poole's orchestra.

Miss Laura Hanson' sister to Mrs. W. E. Nightingale, arrived on the Saxonia, May 2d, from Norway, and is stopping at her sisters No. 83 Water street.

Mrs. Roger Wolcott and family closed their town house on Commonwealth avenue, Boston, last week, and are at their estate, Hill farm, Milton, for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Lassen celebrated the 25th anniversary of their marriage at their home at East Braintree, Saturday evening, and about 150 friends called and extended their congratulations. Friends were present from Boston, Newton, Quincy, and other places. There was a program of vocal and instrumental music and a delightful lunch was served.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Morton left for New York on Thursday and today sail for Europe. They are to touch at the Azores and then go directly to Italy. They will be away all summer, and expect to visit the land of the midnight sun and the important cities and countries of Europe. Mr. and Mrs. Morton kept open house a day or two before leaving and were deluged with callers.

Mrs. Joseph F. Berry has returned from her brother's in Somerville to her home on Hancock street.

The young ladies of Quincy Mansion school held a very successful "sale" on Monday last. The proceeds completes the endowment of a Quincy Mansion school bed in Boston Floating Hospital and leaves also some funds towards furnishing an Art room in the new school building.

Mrs. William Gassett of Faxon road, has been visiting relatives in Hartland, this week.

Miss Lillian Hammond of Billings street gave a chafing-dish party Monday evening in honor of her cousin who is visiting Miss Hammond for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Cook of Webster street, entertained the Webster street whist club, Tuesday evening, at their home. It was the initial meeting of the club this year and it was the prettiest and most artistic party ever given in Atlantic. The house was all flashing with flags inside from the banner floating over the stairway to the Chinese effect around each picture. A large table with a snowy cloth over which bands of red and blue crossed, was laden with punch and dainties of all descriptions. Partners were chosen by flags of different nations, which matched the standing flags on each table. All nations were represented. Music was in order at the close of the evening. Prizes were awarded in whist to Miss Evelyn Bassett and Mrs. Charles Hadlock; Councilman Hadlock and Mr. C. R. Hendrie.

For County Commissioner.

The Hyde Park Gazette notes: "There is a good deal of quiet work going on in the county for the Republican nomination for county commissioner to succeed the late Captain Wadsworth of Milton. It is pointed out that both of the present commissioners, Messrs. Blanchard and Hewins, come from the second senatorial district and that the new candidate should come from the first district to give fair representation. If the convention takes this view of the matter Hyde Park ought to stand a show for the nomination. It is claimed that Brookline will send a solid delegation favraoble to ex-county commissioner Bowker, but if the locality argument has any standing in the convention he will be side-tracked for a candidate form the first district.

The Thibetans have a week of five days, named after iron, wood, water, feathers and earth.

Female fishes of all species are considerably more numerous than males with two single exceptions, the angler and the catfish.

HIGH SCHOOL PLAY

An Epic Tragedy From Æneid and Vergil.

Dido by Miss Beatrice R. Walker.

Carthaginian Maidens, Youths and Guards.

The High School play of "Dido" at Quincy Music hall last evening was a marked success. The attendance was very large, in fact a full house, including many friends of the pupils from other cities and towns as well as Quincy. The play was well staged and the parts creditably taken, especially the leading role of Dido by Miss Beatrice R. Walker. It was a difficult character for an amateur to take, but she was a stately and beautiful queen, supliant later to the arrows of Cupid, and artful at the close in clearing the field that she might end her life with the dagger.

Mr. Carl A. Lewis, as Æneas, was also particularly good, and Miss Metheral, as Venue took her part well.

The cast was as follows:

Æneas, Prince of Troy and leader of the Trojan exiles, Carl A. Lewis
Achates, confidential friend of Æneas, Harris M. Barbour
Ilioneus, a Trojan noble, Charles J. McGilvary
Iarbas, a Moorish Prince, suitor for Dido's hand, James Forrest
Iopas, a Carthaginian minstrel, Albion Ilsley Dole
Mercury, Jupiter's messenger, James B. Mahoney
Cupid, god of love, son of Venus, Henry F. Lalley
Anna, sister of Dido, Edna L. Smith
Barce, nurse to Dido, Alice G. Higgins
Juno, Queen of the gods and hostile to the Trojans, Sadie I. Adams
Venus, goddess of love, mother of Æneas and protectress of the Trojans, E. Lois Metherall
A court dancer, Helen D. Rhines
AND
Dido, Queen of Carthage, Beatrice R. Walker
Carthaginian Maidens and Youths,—Misses Brown, Dorman, Fowler, Greer, Hayward, Murphy, Schilander, Vogler. Messrs. Arnold, Field, Hayward, Histen, Parlin, Sweeney, Teasdale.
Carthaginian Guards. — Messrs. McTiernan and Healy.
Trojan Nobles—Messrs. Anderson Gannett, Nichols, Jones.

While a few parst have been singled out for special mention, great credit is due to all. The Grecian costumes added much to effect. There was little or no humor in the production, but Barce, the nurse to Dido, amused the audience, and was nicknamed by some, "Grandmother."

Three choice bunches of flowers were presented to Queen Dido, and were well merited. If in the future any one in Quincy desires to present an actor a bouquet, the audience can recommend Mr. Fred Howe. By request, it was his duty to present the bouquet to the Queen at the close of Scene I of Act IV. He was prepared to do this, but the curtains were raised and lowered very quickly on this night, and a slow young man would not have been successful; but Mr. Howe was alert, and bound to get there, and he dashed under the curtain when it was almost to the floor.

Another amusing incident was the capacity of the cup from which all drank at the Queen's banquet. It might well be termed the "fountain" cup, for there was enough for all, and some were heavy drinkers. In this scene Miss Helen D. Rhines gave a stately court dance which met with favor.

Miss Mary L. Hunt was accompanist for the evening, and incidental music was furnished by Miss Mary B. Burns and Miss Hannah O. Litchfield. Credit for the musical part of the program is due to Miss Fish, one of the teachers of the High school, while Mr. Severance, another popular teacher, should receive praise for the success of the whole production. The pupils should feel encouraged to give a play annually. Miss Hayes also rendered valuable assistance in arrangement of costumes, etc.

Mention has already been made of the quick curtain. The whole work of the new stage manager and his assistants at Music hall should not go unnoticed. The changes of scenes were made quickly and noiselessly, and the light effects where well handled. The thunder shower was surprisingly well given.

Proposals for Coal and Wood.

CITY OF QUINCY.

THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE of the City of Quincy will, until Wednesday noon, May 15, 1901, receive proposals for furnishing and delivering the whole or a part of the following: 325 tons White Ash Egg Coal, 100 tons Lehigh Egg, 400 tons Lehigh Broken, and 200 tons High Grade Bituminous Coal.

The best quality of screened coal must be furnished in proper quantities and sizes to supply the several school buildings. The bids must include the trimming of the bins.

The Committee will also receive proposals for furnishing and delivering within the school buildings, the whole or a part of the following: 24 cords of pine wood and 10 cords of hard wood. The wood must be of the best quality and must be cut into lengths required by the different schools. The bids for the pine and the hard wood must be separate.

Storage rooms of the several school buildings to be filled on or before August 31, but the prices to hold good up to January 1, 1902.

The right to reject any and all bids is reserved. Address sealed proposals, distinctly marked on the outside of the envelope, "Proposals for Fuel," to

Which Increased Over 700 per cent.

WITHIN SIX MONTHS.

The Arcola Oil Company's stock sold for $135 per 1,000 shares, and in six months $1,000 per 1,000 shares was refused for the stock, for the reason that the first well was a large producer and there is room for forty wells on the Company's land, which makes it about certain that the stock in the near future will be worth ten dollars per share.

We offer you the same opportunity for a large gain by investing in the Dirigo Oil Company's stock, the first block of which is being sold for $150 per 1,000 shares. The Company owns a block of land adjoining the Arcola Company's land which has large producing wells on all four sides. There is eighty acres of the Company's land in the center of the oil belt, which we feel absolutely certain will give a large producing well in each acre.

We now have machinery on the ground, and are ready to sink the first well, and expect to strike oil by May 1st, which will then make the stock worth par value, if the well is as good a producer as the Arcola.

The block of stock we are selling is about three-quarters sold and quick application will have to be made to secure any of it at the present price.

LOVE'S WAKING.

Love lies asleep. What dreams be round him thronging
Poets may guess.
But he is tired of hope and fear, of longing,
Of passion's stress—
Tired, though long years, from the world's first beginning;
Too tired to wake
At wealth's loud call, at beauty's whisper, winning
Or answer make,
Though king command and minstrel, in true meter,
Plead, praise and weep—
Than anything on earth, ah, rest is sweeter!
Love lies asleep.

Lo! Two young pilgrims come from woodland closes,
Barefoot, yet gay,
Clothed with scarce else than garland veils of roses,
Sweet beggars, they—
Full of health's bliss, of life, of joy, immortal,
Untouched by sin,
Who know not why they sing beside love's portal
Till love joins in.

MY RIVAL.

HOW HE GOT THE BETTER OF ME IN CONSEQUENCE OF AN ACCIDENT.

I cannot say that I thought much of Mackintosh. He seemed to me a great prig. Good looking? Well, yes, in a barber's block sort of way—curly, oiled hair, pink complexion, white teeth. His teeth were good, I must say, and when he smiled his appearance varied from that of a skull to that of a dog out of temper about bones. In the summer I had met Dr. and Mrs. Cherry, who were friends of mine. We had been at Delhi once together. They were going out again in December and intending to take their daughter Ellen with them. She was an exceptionally nice girl, with light hair and blue eyes and a low, musical voice (I must say I like blondes, and a harsh voice is one of my crosses), and I saw a good deal of her and should have seen more only Mackintosh was rather in the way.

However, I found out that my friends proposed to go to India by the steamer leaving Marseilles on Jan. 2. And that was just the time my leave was up. It was in the days when one steamer started from Southampton and a few days after another from Marseilles, and they met in Egypt. The journey was cheaper by the bay, and I had intended to take that route, but I met Mackintosh at the office and found he was going from Southampton to please a chum. You would scarcely believe it, but it was the case nevertheless, that the Marseilles passengers thought themselves rather more in society than the Southamptons. So I pondered, "If my agents will find the money, I will give Master Mackintosh the go by." I took a Southampton berth, but the clerk said I might change it for a Marseilles one afterward if I liked. And this I did. I started from Dover the day after Christmas day and at Paris went straight to the Hotel Byron, where I knew the Cherrys were staying.

"Friend Mac," I said to myself, "with the brand of Southampton on his brow, will never be able to cope with my continental prestige."

I traveled with my friends in a leisurely way. We gave 24 hours to Lyons and reached Marseilles on the evening of Dec. 31. Our inn, the Du Midi, was on the road to the New Quarter, and I have been told, since the building speculations were not so successful, it has been altered and let out in flats. But at that day it was a high, well like house, having a courtyard in the middle, adorned with pomegranates in green boxes, where we sat after table d'hote and drank coffee and cognac.

Mrs. Cherry had a letter that evening by the post, and I observed that its receipt created interest, and I heard one or two observations which did not, however, in any way interpret themselves to me at the time. "Really, after all?" "But is there time?" "How has it been managed?" and so on.

And when I asked what projects were in view for seeing the place next day Mrs. Cherry only replied, "Something will suggest itself."

Jan. 1 was a general holiday, and from an early hour the streets began to fill, for the peasants came in from the neighborhood, and all the artisans turned out in their gayest costumes. The Cherrys had breakfast in their own apartments, and I on returning from the salle a manger went into my own bedroom, which was high up, and sat at the window smoking a cigarette. Hearing a noise below, I looked out and saw the Cherrys starting, without giving me notice. Ellen, however, observed me.

"Where are you off to?" I called down to her.

"We are going," she said, "to walk in the Canebiere. It will be great fun! Come along!"

Come along? Of course I would! I snatched up my hat and a dustcoat and on rushing from my room observed slight iron gates and within a lift, stationary. There was no gas in it nor any attendant, and I had not noticed it before or heard of people going up or down. But the thought struck me, "I may as well use it, time will be saved." The grating was unlocked. I entered, took a seat and pulled the rope. The lift began to descend. Darkness, but only for a moment or two, and then another grating, and on—into the darkness again. Suddenly I felt that the seat I was occupying was losing its horizontal position. It sunk on one side. There was grievous creaking, scraping, crashing and then stoppage. Half way between two landing places the machine had stuck immovably fast.

Of course it was very awkward, but there was apparently no cause for alarm. I knew I should get out in time, but still it might be a longish job, I did not hear much noise and concluded I was among thick walls and not near a grating. But there was some rumbling and shouts as I thought. In a short time, however, all was still. I had not called out, for I was anxious to show I was cool and not disturbed by a trifling accident of the sort. Indeed I had planned to come out smoking, for I had a fusee and a cigar case with me. As there was no vent, however, I put off lighting up till my release was near at hand. I did not wish the air to be closer than it was.

I had just thought vaguely, "They will get me out, and I will emerge smoking." But two things abruptly occurred to me, "How will they get you out?" and then, "Are you sure they will look for you?" By heaven! This later idea became serious. The lift must have been out of repair, unfit for use. It was careless to leave the grating unlocked. But still there was no attendant, as there would have been if the thing had been in working trim. They might perhaps think the lift passed down of its own accord and that no one was in it.

In point of fact this was so. The Cherrys, it seemed, walked slowly on and, as I did not follow, thought I was engaged and busied themselves about the drama of the streets. No one was near when I entered the machine, and it had sunk away once before, it was said, without any one touching it, and indeed it was disorganized and not employed.

The chambermaids were at the windows, the waiters at the door, the occupants of rooms were among the gay throng on the pavements enjoying the sunshine of the south, which danced in a thousand dimples on the blue expanse of the Mediterranean. I did not wish to seem frightened or frantic and so only called out for help at intervals and in an unexcited voice, and no one heard, or, hearing, failed to localize the sound.

The Cherrys were out for three hours and on returning, finding no trace of me and hearing of the fall of the lift, at last conceived the idea that I might be inside of it. Of course when this suspicion was once set on foot there was great excitement, but it was not very easy to do anything.

In the first place, on account of the fete, there was an unavoidable delay in getting workmen, and when they were procured the part of the wall where the lift had jammed ran down amid the walls of several small apartments and behind cupboards, and to find where the aperture should be begun was no light matter. With a fusee I could see my watch. I entered the lift at 11 and at 5 was still there, though the voices were close at hand, and the pickaxes seemed to be penetrating the framework of my little box. Even then it appeared long before friendly hands helped me down into the chamber, whence I reached the body of the house.

It was pleasant being an object of female kindness and solicitude, but Dr. Cherry was anxious and desirous I should keep quiet. When I went to bed, I found he had had reason for some apprehension. Sleep entirely deserted me, and an access of nervous excitement ensued. Twelve o'clock struck and then 1. It was intolerable. I should be altogether unmanned without rest. I had hydrate of chloral in my portmanteau, but there was no night light. However, I managed to get the bottle and the toilet tumbler and measured with my finger. The fluid seemed a good deal in drinking, but took effect at once.

When I awoke, I heard an exclamation of relief. There were two or three persons in the room. It was broad daylight. A foreign doctor, who spoke English with an accent, felt my pulse. "He will do now," he said to the others, and, turning to me, added, "You have had a squeak."

"I must get up," I said. "The steamer goes at noon."

There was a laugh.

"It is long past noon," said the landlord, who was a polyglot, and a young man, an interpreter who attended the trains, put in, with a grin, "I saw the steamer with my eyes pass Chateau d'If and a long tail of smoke following."

I soon learned that I had taken an overdose of chloral, was discovered in a profound stupor and could not be awakened. Dr. Cherry had done everything for me. The Messengeries steamer was going the next day, and the P. and O. agent had transferred my passage most kindly to the French boat.

Dr. Cherry had called in Bernardo, a local doctor, and intrusted my case to him. My pulse had been carefully watched and suitable measures taken to insure me against fatal effects.

By the way of cheering me the interpreter said: "Your friends have lost one comrade and got another. A gentleman arrived from Paris early this morning. He was aggrieved at your accident and accompanied your good doctor and madam and the young lady on board the steamer."

"What was his name?" I asked.

"I cannot say his name. It will be in the book."

"Do get it."

The book was brought. Behold the entry, "Jan. 2, from London to Bombay, M. Mackintosh, rentier!"

"Confound the fellow!" I bawled out. "He must have changed his plans at the last moment! Bandbox! Prig! Intruder! Oh, that lift!"

"You are better," observed the interpreter, "but you must not overdo."

A Difficulty Removed.

"Dickie, when you divided those five caramels with little sister, did you give her three?"

"No, ma. I guessed they wouldn't come out even. I e't one 'fore I begun to divide."—Puck.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning May 5—Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

TOPIC.—Decision of character.—Rev. iii, 14-16; Prov. iv, 23-27.

Decision is one of the most admirable and necessary traits of human character. It is defined as "the quality of being decided, prompt and fixed determination, unwavering firmness." This trait of character is essential to success and happiness in any sphere of life, but it is peculiarly so in the religious realm. Decision of character is absolutely essential to religion. One cannot believe and act in accordance with his beliefs who is not steadfast in his faith and unwaveringly firm in his life. Wavering is inconsistent with religion. It demands steadfastness, firmness and stability. Decision of character requires a fixed purpose and object in life. "Let thine eyes look right on, and let thine eyelids look straight before thee." That decision and firmness may be exercised in life we must have a definite point in life ahead of us toward which we are steering. A vessel upon the sea could not practice steadfastness unless it had a definite, fixed destination in view. No more can we upon the sea of life display this virtue unless we have a fixed point before us toward which our lives are moving. When it comes to life, this fixed point should be the will of God as revealed in Jesus Christ. The chief end of our lives should be to glorify God, and steadfastly and without wavering we should bend our lives toward that end. This has been the objective goal of the lives of the world's greatest men, and they have been most successful who have been most unfaltering in their pursuit of this end. "Ponder the path of thy feet and let all thy ways be established."

Decision of character demands the power to resist temptation. "Turn not to the right hand nor to the left; remove thy foot from evil." No man ever led a decided, determined life without opposition and without temptation. The strongest temptation is to turn aside, but decision of character is against turning aside as well as against turning back. However steadfast our characters, we will be tempted to waver, to turn aside and to turn back. Success therefore depends upon the power to resist temptation, and this power should be prayed for and cultivated. God can and will give us the power to stand firm and decided amid the fiercest temptation if we will depend upon Him and not trust in our own strength.

Indecision of character is injurious and punishable. It harms us among men, and God Himself will punish it. This is illustrated in the church at Laodicea. It was neither cold nor hot, neither decided for God nor decided against God, and therefore the Lord said, "I will spew thee out of My mouth." Let us believe in God, make the will of God the end of our existence and even amid the temptations of life be firm in faith and steadfast in action.

THE PRAYER MEETING.

Have a biographical meeting, with papers or addresses on the lives of men who have been conspicuous for decision of character.

BIBLE READINGS.

Ex. xxxii, 25, 26; Num. xiii, 25-33; Joshua xxiv, 15; Ruth i, 16-18; I Kings xviii, 21; Math. vi, 24; Luke xv, 17-20; Acts xxi, 8-14; I Cor. xv, 58; Jas. i, 5-8.

God's Kindness.

When we recall what God has given us in excess of all necessity for the purpose of pleasing us, let us remember that we have taken but the first and lowest step leading up to a vast and glorious subject. If God has done so much for us here on earth, what will He not do for us hereafter in heaven? If God is so generous now, what will He be in the world to come? The eye looks forth upon the streams and meadows and trees, and up to the skies, all so full of beauty, and reports that these material images are employed to describe that better country which is reserved as our eternal home. That heavenly world is not described in the dull lines of didactic prose. All the pleasant things in the universe are made to complete the promise of that ultimate enjoyment. Now it is a landscape—green pastures, still waters, the tree of life with leaf and fruit—every image of contentment and delight. Now rises an imperial city—its gates of pearl, its foundations of precious stones, its streets of gold, and all the nations pouring their glory into it. Now it is our Father's house with many mansions; a festive board, with unmeasured plenty; with songs of joy and garlands of gladness upon the head.—Rev. William Adams in Universalist.

Trust In God.

Trust your Heavenly Father at any cost, and when heart and flesh fail still bid your soul to hope in God and buoy it up with the assurance that it shall yet praise Him "for the help of His countenance." God is good when He gives, but better when He keeps in order to give an accumulated blessing—heaped up, pressed down and running over—into the bosom of His child in whom patience has had her perfect work.—F. B. Meyer.

The Beauty of Holiness.

Many who see a glory in flower and leaf, sunset and mountain height, overlook the glory inwrought in man, who is created in the likeness and image of God, a glory potentially present in the most degraded, needing always and only the divine touch to cause it to bloom into the "beauty of holiness."—American Friend.

Walking Toward Heaven.

There is nothing which can so assist you to walk toward heaven with good speed as wearing the image of Jesus on your heart to rule all its motion.—Episcopal Recorder.

Vol. 13. No. 105. QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, MAY 4, 1901. PRICE 2 CENTS.

Regulations of the Board of Health of the City of Quincy -- 1901.

At a meeting held April 25, 1901, the Board of Health of the City of Quincy, revised and adopted, and do hereby publish the following regulations:

REGULATION 1. No person shall collect, remove, or carry in or through any of the streets, lanes, avenues, places or alleys within the City of Quincy, the contents of any cesspool, vault, privy or privy well, the drainage of any stable, dwelling house, slaughter house or other building in the city, unless expressly licensed therefor by the Board of Health, upon such terms and conditions and by such methods as the Board may deem that the public health requires, and upon failure to comply therewith, the license shall be forthwith revoked and cancelled. No privy vault or cesspool shall be cleaned between 6 P. M. and sunrise.

REG. 2. No person shall deposit the contents of any privy-vault or cesspool, or any other filth, upon any premises within the limits of the city, without first having obtained a permit to do so from the Board of Health. Nor shall any cessspool for the retention of waste water be within ten feet of any house, unless the cesspool be cemented water-tight. No privy vault or cesspool that is not water-tight shall be maintained within two rods of any well, spring, or other source of water supply used for drinking purposes.

REG. 3. No person, unless expressly licensed therefor by the Board of Health, shall collect, transport or convey swill, fat, grease, bones, or any decaying, putrifying or offensive animal matter or vegetable substance through any of the public streets or ways of the city. All vehicles and vessels for the transportation of the above-named substances shall be made and kept in such condition as will prevent the escape of any of their contents, or the odor thereof, and each wagon shall in addition, be covered with a clean and sound, heavy canvas, fastened securely to the wagon so as to entirely conceal the same from view. Every vehicle so used shall have the initials of the owner, and number of the wagon, in letters and figures three inches in size, painted on the outside of each side thereof.

Any violation of this regulation will be punished by a fine not exceeding $100.

REG. 4. All persons licensed by the Board to remove the contents of privy-vaults and cesspools, and all who collect and transport swill, refuse and offensive animal or vegetable substances, shall keep all carts, equipments and implements used therefor, disinfected and free from all noxious or offensive odors when not in immediate use, and shall not allow the same to become obnoxious or offensive to the public or to the owners or occupants of premises adjoining those where the same are kept or stored.

REG. 5. No person shall place, or cause to be placed, empty, or cause to be emptied, upon any street, way, place or sidewalk, any house dirt, offal or rubbish, any sewage, or the draining of any sink or stable, or the contents of any cesspool, vault, privy or privy well. No person shall cast any decayed vegetable or dead animal substance, house dirt, offal or rubbish, ashes or cans, into any cesspool, privy-vault, or into any well, cistern, reservoir, pond or waters within the city, nor drown, or cause to be drowned, any animal in any of said waters. And the carcasses of animals dead of disease or killed for any cause, shall be buried at such distance from dwellings, or wells, or other source of water supply, that no danger or nuisance can result; and no person shall establish or maintain any stable, swine pen, privy, privy-vault, cesspool or sink drain within ten feet of any stream, watercourse or pond, or to allow any overflow from such stable, swine pen, privy-well, cesspool or sink drain to enter any stream, watercourse or pond in this city.

REG. 6. The keeping of swine, goats, cows, or poultry in any part of the city where such keeping shall be held by the Board of Health detrimental to the public health or offensive to the neighborhood, is hereby prohibited, and after due notice by said Board to the owner or person in charge, he shall forthwith remove the same or cause the same to be removed, from any place at which the keeping thereof shall be prohibited by the Board.

REG. 7. No person shall burn, boil, try or decompose any refuse substances, either animal or vegetable, in such a manner that the same shall evolve odors or gases obnoxious or offensive to the public or to the owners or occupants of adjoining premises.

REG. 8. The Board of Health hereby adjudges that the deposit of sputum in public places is a nuisance, source of filth and cause of sickness, and it is hereby Ordered that spitting upon the floor, platform or steps of any railroad or railway station, car, public building, hall, church, theatre, market, or any sidewalk immediately connected with said public building, be and hereby is prohibited.

REG. 9. Every occupant or owner of any dwelling house, tenement or other building in this city, shall keep such house or building, and the yard belonging to the same, free from all filth and from all substances having offensive odors.

Whenever a vault, cesspool, barn or cellar or any building or premises of any description, becomes offensive, the same shall be satisfactorily cleaned, ventilated and disinfected, by the occupant or owner within such reasonable time as the Board of Health may in a notice thereof prescribe.

Whenever the Board of Health is satisfied on due examination that a cellar, tenement or building within the city occupied as a dwelling house, has become, by reason of the number of occupants, want of cleanliness, or other cause, unfit for such purpose, the occupants shall remove therefrom within forty-eight hours after written notice has been given them.

REG. 10. No rags, old paper or other refuse material collected from dumping grounds, streets, or recovered from any source, shall be brought into or allowed to remain within any building used as a dwelling.

REG. 11. No person shall store or keep, or allow to be stored or kept in any living rooms in house of which he is the owner or occupant, any fruit for merchandise.

REG. 12. The waste pipe of every sink now in use shall be furnished with a four inch round trap unless there is already some trap connected thereto, approved by the Board of Health.

Whoever violates any provisions of any kind of these regulations shall be punished by a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars for each offence.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES.

REG. 13. The Board of Health considers the following diseases as dangerous to the public health within the meaning of the statute: Cholera, yellow fever, small-pox, diphtheria, membraneous croup, scarlet fever, measles typhoid fever, typhus fever, and epidemic cerebro-spinal meningitis.

REG. 14 When a physician knows that a person whom he is called to visit, or a householder knows that a person in his family is sick with any of the above diseases, he shall immediately give notice thereof in writing over his own signature to the Board of Health (see Pub. Stat. 80, Sect. 79, Acts of 1884, 98, Sect. 2, Acts of 1891, Sect. 188.

QUARANTINE.

REG. 15. Any person sick with any disease dangerous to the public health, and all articles infected by the same, shall be immediately separated from all persons liable to contract or communicate such disease, and none but nurses and physicians shall have access to persons sick with said disease. No person sick with any of said diseases shall be removed at any time except by permission and under the direction of the Board of Health.

REG. 16. Any home in which any of the above diseases shall occur, may be declared in quarantine by the Board of Health, or its authorized agent or agents. When a house has been declared in quarantine, all persons residing therein shall be subject to the Rules of the Board of Health relating to quarantine.

REG. 17. All persons residing in a house that has been declared in quarantine shall confine themselves to said house or its immediate grounds, and shall not hold communication with well persons. Communication with said house shall be limited to physicians, nurses, and undertakers, and such persons as may be needed to supply its inmates with the necessaries of life and in such manner as the Board of Health may direct.

REG. 18. When in the opinion of the Board of Health, or its agent, the necessity for quarantine has passed, it shall declare the quarantine raised, and disinfect the house.

See Public Statutes, Chap. 80, Sect. 75: "When a disease dangerous to the public health breaks out in a town, the Board shall immediately provide such hospital or place of reception for the sick and infected as is judged best for their accommodation and the safety of the inhabitants, which shall be subject to the regulations of the Board; and the Board may cause any sick and infected person to be removed thereto, unless his condition will not permit of his removal without danger to his health, in which case the house or place where he remains shall be considered as a hospital, and all persons residing in or in any way concerned within the same shall be subject to the regulations of the Board as before provided.

REG. 19. Every dwelling where diphtheria, scarlet fever and small pox is known to exist, shall be conspicuously labelled at its entrance with a card, properly specifying the disease; such card there to remain until removed by the Board, or its agent, or by by permission of said Board.

REG. 20. No child shall be allowed to attend the public schools while any member of the family to which said child belongs is sick with cholera, yellow fever, small-pox, diphtheria, membraneous croup, scarlet fever, measles, typhus fever and epidemic cerebro-spinal meningitis, or during a period of two weeks after the death, recovery or removal of such sick person; and any pupil coming from such family shall be required to present to the teacher of the school the pupil desires to attend, a certificate from the attending physician and endorsed by a member of the Board of Health, of the facts necessary to entitle such child to admission in accordance with the above regulation. No child or person living or boarding in family in which any of the above diseases exist, shall be allowed to remove or caused to be removed from such family until all danger from contagion has passed and the house has been relieved from quarantine.

REG. 21. No person from any dwelling wherein a disease dangerous to the public health exists, shall take any book or magazine to or from the Public Library without a permit from the Board of Health. The Board will inform the librarian of all cases of said diseases, and until a written permit is given, the librarian shall allow neither books nor magazines to be taken to, or returned from the dwellings where such cases exist.

REG. 22. In all cases of disease dangerous to the public health, the house or tenement occupied during the sickness, must be disinfected under the direction and supervision of the Board of Health. No house shall be disinfected less than four weeks after the reporting to this Board of a case of scarlet fever.

REG. 23. All bedding and personal clothing or property exposed to contagion or infection by any of the diseases dangerous to the public health, shall be at once properly cleansed, fumigated or destroyed, as the Board of Health may direct.

REG. 24. No patient affected with any contagious disease will be considered well and free from quarantine until the attending physician, or a physician employed by the Board of Health, certifies that he has personally inspected the patient and found that he is no longer a source of danger. No such certificate will be received by the Board of Health, in case of scarlet fever, until at least six weeks have elapsed from the reportiag of the illness, and desquamation is complete. No certificate of recovery, unless endorsed by a member of the Board of Health, will admit said patient to attend any school in the city.

REG. 25. When a person who has been sick with any of the diseases specified in Regulation 10 has recovered or died, the Board of Health, upon notification in writing by the physicians in attendance, that the house is ready for disinfection, shall proceed to disinfect said house in such manner as it shall deem proper, provided that in cases of scarlet fever at least six weeks have elapsed since the reporting of the sickness.

REG. 26. No pupil affected with whooping cough, mumps, chicken-pox or German measles, shall be permitted to attend school until fully recovered.

REG. 27. Every person engaged in the production storage, transportation, sale, delivery, or distribution of milk, shall immediately on the occurrence of any case or cases of disease dangerous to the public health, either in himself or in his family, or amongst his employes, or within the building or premises where milk is stored, sold or distributed, notify the Board of Health, and may be made to suspend the sale and distribution of milk until authorized to resume the same by the Board of Health. No vessels which have been handled by persons suffering from such diseases shall be used to hold or convey milk until they have been thoroughly sterilized.

REG. 28. Any undertaker or other person having in his care or possession the body of a person who has died of a disease dangerous to the public health, shall give immediate notice to the Board of Health, and shall cause such body, including the face, to be wrapped in a sheet saturated with a solution of Corrosive Sublimate not less than 1-500 in strength, or a 40-100 solution of Formaldehyde, and shall immediately place it in a sealed coffin, which shall not thereafter be opened. He shall notify the said Board or its agent, of time when body is to be removed, and shall sign a certificate containing a true statement of the fact that he has complied with the foregoing provision of this section, and he, and every person having charge or custody, or right of disposal of the body, shall cause the burial to take place immediately, and in all cases within eight hours after the time of death, unless further time shall be allowed by the Board of Health. A private funeral shall be held, at which none but the immediate adult relatives and clergymen shall be present. The body shall, in no case be removed in any carriage used in conveying passengers.

REG. 29. The use of "wall draperies" in any room or place used for the preparation or retention of any human body before a funeral, is hereby forbidden.

See Public Statutes, Chap. 80, 76: * * * "and whoever obstructs the selectmen, Board of Health, or its agent, in using such means to prevent the spreading of the infection, or wilfully removes, obliterates, defaces or handles the red flags, or other signals so displayed, shall forfeit, for each offence not less then ten nor more than one hundred dollars."

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES AMONG DOMESTIC ANIMALS.

REG. 30. Whoever has knowledge of, or has good reason to suspect, the existence of a contagious disease among any species of domestic animals, whether such knowledge is obtained by personal examination or otherwise, shall forthwith give notice thereof to the Board of Health.

REG. 31. No person except as ordered or directed by the Board of Health, shall drive or cause to pass through said city, from place to place, or from place to place therein, animals diseased or infected with pleuro-pneumonia, farcy, or glanders, or rabies, or any other contagious or infectious disease.

REG. 32. Persons having the care and custody of animals diseased or infected with pleuro-pneumonia, farcy, glanders, or rabies, or any other contagious or infectious disease, whether their own property or otherwise, and having received an order for their isolation, shall neither sell, swap, trade, give, nor in any way dispose of such animals; nor drive nor work, nor move, nor allow them to be moved away from the place of isolation, nor allow other animals, not already exposed, to come in contact with them until otherwise ordered by the Board of Health, of the City of Quincy, or the State Cattle Commissioners.

Whoever violates any of the provisions of the foregoing regulations (30, 31 and 32) shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment not exceeding one year.

ABANDONED CESSPOOLS AND VAULTS.

REG. 33. When vaults, privies or cesspools are hereafter abandoned they shall within ten days (unless otherwise permitted) be thoroughly cleaned, disinfected and filled with earth or other suitable material and left in a proper condition satisfactory to the Board of Health.

Whoever shall violate the provisions of this Section shall be punished by a fine not exceeding one hundred (100) dollars for each and every offence.

AN ACT RELATIVE TO PRIVY VAULTS.

[ACTS OF 1890, 74 §1.]

No privy vault shall be established in a city which accepts this act, either upon premises situated upon a public or private street, court or passageway where there is a public sewer opposite thereto, or upon premises connected with a public or private sewer, without permission in writing first obtained from the Board of Health of such city, and whenever there is in such city a privy vault so situated which, in the opinion of the Board of Health of such city, is injurious to the public health, said board shall declare the same to be a nuisance, and forbid its continuance, and sections twenty-one to twenty-three, inclusive, of Chapter 80 of the Public Statutes shall apply to such nuisances so declared.

AN ACT RELATIVE TO VACCINATION.

ACTS OF 1894, CHAPTER 515.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Parents and guardians shall cause their children and wards to be duly vaccinated before they attain the age of two years, except as provided in Section 2 of this act. For every year's neglect the party offending shall forfeit the sum of five dollars.

SECT. 2. All children who shall present a certificate signed by a regular practicing physician that they are unfit subjects for vaccination, shall not be subject to the provisions of Section 9 of Chapter 47 of the Public Statutes excluding unvaccinated children from public schools, and all children upon such a certificate shall be exempted from the provisions of this act, and the parents and guardians of such children shall not be liable to the penalties imposed by Section 1 of this act.

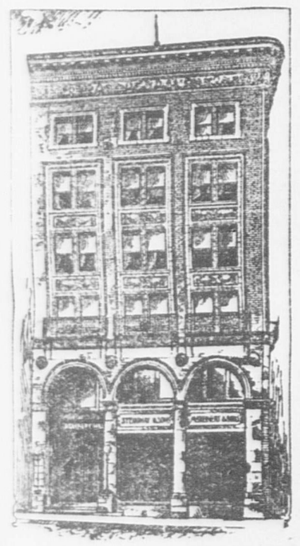

SECT. 3. The Board of Health in any city or town shall require and enforce the vaccination and re-vaccination of all the inhabitants thereof, whenever in the opinion of said Board the public health or safety requires such action. Every person over twenty-one years of age, not under guardianship, who neglects to comply with such requirement, shall forfeit the sum of five dollars.

SECT. 4. The Board of Health in any city or town shall furnish the means of free vaccination or re-vaccination to all the inhabitants thereof whenever in the opinion of said Board the Public safety requires it.

DESOLATION

In Wake of a Great Fire at Jacksonville, Fla

Ten to Fifteen Thousand People Are Homeless

Mayor Estimates Property Loss at Over Fifteen Millions

Jacksonville, Fla., May 4.—Millions of dollars' worth of property have gone up in smoke and thousands of people have been made homeless as the result of a fire in Jacksonville yesterday. The entire business section of Jacksonville is in ashes.

Such is the sad story of destruction caused by the displacement of a bit of innocent-looking wire, which accidentally got into the shredding machine of the American Fibre company. The fire started shortly after noon, and, owing to this fact, loss of life will be comparatively small.

According to the city map one hundred and thirty blocks were burned, many of them in the heart of the business and residential sections. The estimate of houses to the block is ten, hence thirteen hundred of them went up in smoke. Many of the finest public and private buildings were destroyed, including hotels, theatres, churches and residences.

The casualties cannot be accurately estimated yet. That there were several seems to be well authenticated. Among them was that of the fire chief, who sustained a bad fall.

The mayor ordered that all of the saloons be closed, and has impressed help to clear the wreckage.

Mayor Bowden says the property loss will exceed fifteen million dollars. Ten to fifteen thousand people are homeless.

The situation is one approaching desolation in a large section of the city. The width of the desolated area is thirteen blocks. Within this space practically everything is blackened ruins.

At 10:15 o'clock the fire was under control, having practically burned itself out. The suburban settlements, with the exception of La Villa, are intact. La Villa was badly hurt. The extent of the damage cannot be told until later.

Thousands of persons are on the streets homeless, with practically all of their worldly possessions upon their backs. The depots of the railroads, situated in the southeastern section, have been turned into temporary lodging houses and hospitals. Luckily the weather is fine, so that there will be no suffering on that score.

About 5 o'clock there was a report of drinking among the lawless element. The report was substantiated, and soon the terrors of the fire were added to by the dread of drunken men. Then the authorities sent around mounted police, armed with carbines, and the saloons were all closed and kept closed. No drinks could be had and the demon that was being rapidly aroused in a disorderly element was kept down.

The military companies were ordered out, and the entire force of police, many of the men mounted, was on duty, their carbines strung across their backs. Looting was started and it was indulged in to a certain extent. The efforts of the soldiers and of the police, however, were in the main successful in preventing vandals from taking advantage of the great disorder that prevailed on every side.

Piled about the sidewalks, removed from the path of the flames, were household goods of all descriptions. Men, women and children stood about them, looking on in abject terror. They saw their homes, caught in the onward rush of the flames, dwindle to ashes. Not only women and children, but strong men were weeping.

Meetings of the city council, the commercial bodies and the charitable institutions will be called today to devise ways and means for meeting the situation. It is hoped that an appeal can be avoided.

IN LONE STAR STATE

The President Gets a Glimpse of Cowboy Life

CONTINUATION OF OVATION

Cheering Crowds at Every Station Along the Route—Confederate Veterans and Grand Army Men Join In Presidential Procession at Austin

Austin, May 4.—Out of Dixie the presidential party yesterday traveled into the heart of the great southwest. After leaving New Orleans, beautiful bayou Teche and the rice fields of western Louisiana were passed during the night, and the new oil fields of Texas whirled by just at the peep of day, too early to be seen by the president.

When the party arose yesterday morning, the train was already flying over the plains of Texas. Until 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon, when Austin was reached, the train passed in succession through the cotton belt of Texas, the rich agricultural region known as the Black Prairie, much wooded country and fine grazing land. The president had his first glimpse of long-horned Texas cattle and picturesque cowboys on western range horses.

The president's reception in the Lone Star state was a continuation of the ovation he had received throughout the south. Governor Sayers and other prominent state officials met the president at Houston, the first stopping place inside the state, and accompanied him as far as Austin, the capital. There were some interesting features in the reception at Houston, and a very picturesque scene at Prairie View, where the president addressed the colored students of the state normal school on the open prairie at the side of the track.

Minute stops were also made at Hempstead, where the president shook hands with a number of people; at Brenham, the home of Colonel Geddings, one of the president's old colleagues in the house of representatives, and at Elgin, at each of which places he spoke a few words. At every station along the route there were cheering crowds.

The feature of the day was the reception accorded the party at Austin, which, like New Orleans, had never before had the honor of entertaining a chief magistrate of the nation. The city was profusely decorated, and in the evening there was a brilliant illumination. Austin never before held such a crowd of people.

A procession headed by a fine military band and consisting of 15 companies of state militia, the Confederate Veterans and Grand Army of the Republic organizations, marching side by side, escorted the party to the east portico of the capitol building, where the president delivered an address. There was a delightful reception in the senate chamber where the belles of Austin received the president and Mrs. McKinley. Then followed a drive through the city to the state university, where the students, citizens and school children greeted the president.

Later Mr. and Mrs. McKinley, with the ladies of the cabinet, dined informally at the governor's mansion, and at 10:30 o'clock last night left for San Antonio, where this morning was spent. The train arrived at San Antonio at 1:15, and remained on a side track until the rising hour.

London Has 4,536,034 Inhabitants

London, May 4.—The population of London, including the city of London and 28 metropolitan boroughs, the whole forming what is termed the administrative county of London, is now 4,536,034. This is an increase of 308,747 since the last census, in 1891.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Seventeen buildings were burned at Gridley, Ills., before the fire was brought under control. The damage is about $80,000.

Ernest Metcalf, a weaver, 33 years old, was run over by a freight car at Lowell, Mass., and died later. His wife and family live in England.

Bluford Wilson of Springfield, Ills., died at Yale college infirmary of typhoid fever. Wilson is the second victim of the disease at Yale during the present epidemic.

POISONED HER HUSBAND

Mrs. Rathbun Is Convicted and Gets Imprisonment For Life

New Haven, May 4.—"Guilty of murder in the second degree" was the verdict which a jury last night rendered against Ann M. Rathbun, charged with killing her husband by poison intended for another. A sentence of life imprisonment was immediately imposed by Judge Elmer.

As the verdict was pronounced Mrs. Rathbun sank to her seat overcome. A few minutes later she was assisted from the court room by the sheriff and taken to the jail. Thence she will be taken to the state prison at Wethersfield, near Hartford.

The three children of the women were not present when the last scene of the tragedy was enacted. The verdict was announced to them in the sheriff's office on the lower floor of the building.

William Rathbun died from the effects of poison which he drank in some coffee prepared for John F. Hart, a boarder at his house and his wife's paramour, on Dec. 21 last. It has been the contention of the state that she poisoned the coffee with rough on rats, intending that Hart, who had transferred his attentions to another, should drink it. The defense claimed that Rathbun, jealous of Hart, poisoned the coffee and afterwards drank a small quantity himself to allay the other's suspicion, not suspecting that the amount taken would be fatal.

Hart, who, through the trial of Mrs Rathbun, has been awaiting sentence on a charge of having committed adultery with her, was last night sentenced to 30 months jail.

A REMEDY FOR THE GRIPPE.

A remedy recommended for patients afflicted with the Gripe is KEMP'S BALSAM, which is especially adapted for the throat and lungs. Don't wait for the first symptoms of the disease? get a bottle today and keep it for use the moment it is needed. If neglected the grippe has a tendency to bring on pneumonia. KEMP'S BALSAM prevents this by keeping the cough loose, lungs free from inflammation. All druggists sell KEMP'S BALSAM at 25c. and 50c.

Good Afternoon.

Both the Boston base ball teams have lost more games than they have won, and base ball has not taken a very encouraging start.

Hingham has a ministers' club, which brings together all the ministers of all creeds in the town. New ministers are welcomed and farewell receptions given those leaving town. Quincy ministers meet occasionally in a business way if they do their duty as the board of managers of the Woodward Institute.

Brookline may be put into the new Tenth Congerssional district instead of Quincy and Milton. As it is almost surrounded by Boston it would seem a wise thing to do. It is suggested to include Wards 10, 11, 12, 19, 21, 22, 23, and 25 and Brookline, making a district with 203,565 population. This would place Quincy in a Norfolk county district, with the addition of some Middlesex and possible Plymouth towns.

The new regulations of the Board of Health, just adopted, are published in full in this issue, and should be carefully read as there have been many changes, and there may be something which applies directly to each and all.

Regulation 10 is new, and is necessary from the fact that Italians and others make a practice of carrying to their homes about everything that is placed on dumps. As disease may be spread this way the rules are precautionary.

As some fruit pedlars are said to ripen fruit in their living rooms and even in their beds, regulation 11 seems also necessary.

Many people have found that as soon as they made any changes in their sink drains that certain things were required. Th new regulation, No. 12, requires that all sinks shall now have traps.

Slight changes are made in regulation 14. In section 20 a clause has been added prohibiting a child or person living or boarding with a family in which any contagious disease shall be, to remove from said premises until the house has been relieved from quarantine.

Rule 22 provides that no house shall be disinfected less than four weeks after a case has been reported to the Board of Health.

Rule 27 is aimed at the milk men and provides is case of disease dangerous to public health occurring in his family or among employees, the Board of Health must be notified and they may stop the sale or distribution of milk by said peddlar.

Rule 29, is a new one and prohibits the use of "wall draperies in any room used" for the preparation of or retention of a human body before a funeral.

Drift of Opinion.

☞Seats in the stock exchange come high, but they are all stuffed with lambs' wool.—New York World.

☞There is no mystery in the yielding of the steel trust to organized labor in the recent scrap. The steel trust is busy just now in selling wind and water to the dear people at a premium. When it has finished this little job it will find both the time and the excuse for smashing labor like an egg shell.—Johnston (Pa.) Democrat.

☞Three years ago Admiral Dewey astonished the world, and incidentally the Spaniards by some gun practice in Manila bay. It was a great day for Dewey, and a greater for the United States, and also the Philippines. Events have moved so rapidly since that Sunday morning in May, 1898, that the event seems a part of the ancient history of the nation, and the anniversary is hardly thought of, except by the men who had a part in the naval engagement.—Lynn Item.

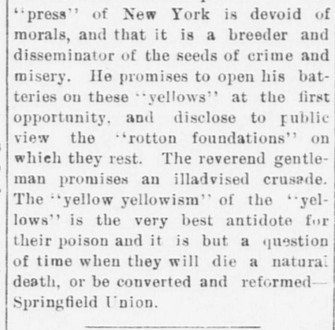

☞Phillips Brooks delighted in making things easier for others and harder for himself. Self was sunk in desire to lighten burdens for his fellowman. He gave himself up, body and soul, to the great work of helping others. Wherever he went, he did it to do good. He could not rest because rest meant lost time in the cause with which his every pulse beat was identified. His life was one long, continued bugle blast of goodness."—Uncle Tim.

☞Throughout the country the newspapers with a unanimity which they never exhibit on any other subject are warning the speculation-mad people that there is bound to come a disastrous crash in which the tremendous loss is bound to overtake hundreds of the unwary. The prediction is so obviously true that no supernatural foresight is required for its making. But the papers might as well talk to a lunatic asylum. Crazy men are not open to reason.—New Bedford Standard.

☞Rev. Dr. Rainsford of New York declares that a certain portion of the "press" of New York is devoid of morals, and that it is a breeder and disseminator of the seeds of crime and misery. He promises to open his batteries on these "yellows" at the first opportunity, and disclose to public view the "rotton foundations" on which they rest. The reverend gentleman promises an illadvised crusade. The "yellow yellowism" of the "yellows" is the very best antidote for their poison and it is but a question of time when they will die a natural death, or be converted and reformed—Springfield Union.

☞All the indications seem to point to a nice little smash in Wall street pretty soon. The present wonderful boom cannot be permanently maintained and something must drop soon in the nature of things. Meantime fortunes are piling up. Even clerks in the brokers' offices have quit because they can make more by speculating on the tips they have gathered while at work. Book-keepers who used to be glad to get $100 a month are receiving $50 a week. Messenger boys are receiving as high as $15 a week. Everybody is on the top wave of excitement and delirious with prosperity. It's a great game while it lasts.—Brockton Enterprise.

☞A poll of the men in the financial community whose opinions are of any value, from the highest government officer to the smallest banker, would result in a unanimity of opinion that prices are at a dangerous level, and that the future has a reckoning in store. But bankers and public officers dislike to incur the odium of helping a break in stocks; brokers do not wish to lose customers by advising against speculating on which the customer is determined; experienced investors, whether engaged in "syndicates" or not, are ready to endure a market which adds to the chance of selling out profitably. Meanwhile the general public, in and out of Wall street, has so far identified the boom in stocks with the country's prosperity that they regard disapproval of the one as an attempt to undermine the other.—New York Post.

SILVER WEDDING.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. William Birnie Entertained.

Mr. and Mrs. William Birnie of Franklin street were last evening unceremoniously interrupted in the quiet enjoyment of their home by a party of friends who paid them a hasty and uninvited visit. Of course there had been much planning and preparation previous to the time, but for some good reason Mr. and Mrs. Birnie were not in the least consulted, and consequently had no knowledge of what was in store for them.

In these "presto change" days we should be prepared for all things, and surprised at none, but somehow, for a moment at least, the worthy couple forgot themselves and showed some concern when the half-hundred of unexpected visitors marched in on them. It was only for a moment, however, for they quickly grasped the situation and made haste to accommodate and entertain their callers.

The occasion was in celebration of the 25th anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Birnie's wedding, and was in every sense a rousing happy time.

Before proceeding to enjoy the sociabilities of the evening, there was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Birnie, as commemorative of their silver jubilee a handsome oak brass-mounted hall stand.

The presentation was made by the Rev. Dr. Todd who is a frequent and welcome caller at the house. Mr. Todd very felicitously complimented the happy pair on their long and happy union, and wished them, yet many days of useful, happy lives.

The evening was most pleasantly spent in singing, games, etc. Misses Lulu and Belle McIntosh contributed very largely to the entertainment, with a variety of songs and piano music.

Mrs. George Donald, as a songstress, also helped to make the moments fly in happy mood. Others who were heard in this way were Mr. D. T. Drummond, Mr. William Pratt, Mr. A. Hall, Mr. Robert Duthie, Mr. Alexander Birnie and Mr. A. Diack. Mr. John C. Murray with his flute and Mr. Alexander Kenn on his violin, rendered several pleasing pieces.

Refreshments were liberally handed round during the evening. Not until the small hours of the morning did the company think it time to break and seek a moment's rest before the new day would demand of them duties, which well performed go far to make such happy nights.

Among those present were:

Mr. and Mrs. A. Diack, Mr. and Mrs. G. Donald, Mr. and Mrs. R. Philips, Mr. and Mrs. A. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. D. Drummond, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Murray, Mr. and Mrs. W. Pratt, Mr. and Mrs. A. Cowe, Mr. and Mrs. James Birnie, Mr. and Mrs. John Birnie, Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Birnie, Mr. and Mrs. J. Mason, Mr. and Mrs. F. Craig, Mr and Mrs. F. Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. A. McIntosh, Mr and Mrs. W. McIntosh, Mr. and Mrs. A. McIntosh Jr., Mr. and Mrs. A. Kenn.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Harrington, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Warmington, Mr. and Mrs. Kirkland, Mr. and Mrs. Howie, Mrs. Stronach, Mrs. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. J. McLeod, Mr. and Mrs. P Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. K. Duthie, Mr and Miss McKitchie, Misses Lulu and Belle McIntosh, Mr. Alexander Wilson, Mr. Norman Wilson, Mr. T. Smith.

NOT APPROVED.

City Council Must Take Responsibility for Appropriations.

The ten days which Mayor Hall had in which to veto or approve the annual appropriation bill expires today. He did not sign or veto any part of the bill, but allowed it to become a law without his signature. There was a question between His Honor and the Finance Committee of the City Council, as to what the receipts this year would be. The estimate of the Finance committee is considerable in excess of the estimate of Mayor Hall.

His Honor, in conversation with the Ledger, said he did not desire to curtail the amounts appropriated, although the total amount that could be raised for current expenses had surely been reached in the bill and should anything arise it would be necessary to borrow. He further said that he should watch the receipts closely, and if he found that they were not likely to reach the amount estimated by the Finance Committee, he should notify the different departments that they must curtail their expenditures so as not to exceed the amount that could be legally raised.

CITY BREVITIES.

A Local Budget With the News in a Nut Shell.

The wind still hangs about the north, and it is not a warm wind.

The Assessors will complete their work in Ward Two this week.

The Milton public schools have been closed this week for the spring vacation.

A civil service examination for police and firemen is being held at City Hall today.

The West Quincy's and Hartford A. A., meet on the diamond at West Quincy this afternoon.

The local stores are well stocked with seasonable goods and all that is now wanted is some good weather.

The engagement is announced at Hyde Park of Miss Daisy M. Frosythe and Mr. Beverly M. Chittick.

The Women's Christian Temperance Union will meet Friday, at three, in the Baptist church, Wollaston.

C. S. Jasmine of West Quincy is the new agent at the North Abington railroad station, and is found to be most genial and accommodating.

The Chinaman who has a laundry in Loring's block on Hancock street has been ordered to vacate, as the room has been let to the Wollaston band.

Rev. W. W. Dornan of the First United Presbyterian church will deliver a course of lectures on "Great Needs," beginning Sunday evening at 7.30.

The linemen employed by the Quincy Electric Light & Power Co., not having been granted their demands for increased pay, went out on a strike this morning.

The Universalist ladies' association hold their May fair at the vestry next Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons; supper and dramatic entertainment each evening.

Rev. Edward A. Chase of the Wollaston Congregational church, has been invited to become Instructor in Oratory in the Theological Seminary at Hartford, Conn.

Mr. J. B. Stewart, superintendent of the Institute of Boys, Boston, will give a chalk talk to the Junior Endeavorers of the First Presbyterian church tomorrow afternoon.

Mr. George Wilson and his entire company including Miss Nellie Coffey, the Quincy girl, present "The Social Outlaw" on next Tuesday night, May 7th, seats are going fast.

Next Wednesday evening a concert is to be given at the Universalist church, Abington, when Mrs. Jeannette Noyes Rice of Boston and Miss Florence R. Emery of Quincy will sing.

Rev. E. N. Hardy of Bethany church accompanied a party of thirty or more Junior Endeavors to a May festival at Berkeley Temple, Boston, this afternoon. Deacon Sherman, M. P. Hayward and others went with them.

Next Tuesday evening, Post 58 of Weymouth, will light a grand campfire in G. A. R. hall, East Weymouth. Members of Paul Revere Post, No. 88, have been invited and also several other posts and department officers.

A surprise party was tendered last evening to Mr. John McVay of Albertina street. The diversions were games, dancing, etc. Miss Jennie Gorman in behalf of the guests presented a ring to Mr. McVay. Refreshments were served.

For some time past the station agent at Norfolk Downs has been accustomed to put out the lights at the station between trains at night. Complaint having been made to Mayor Hall he has seen the railroad officials and the lights are now kept burning.

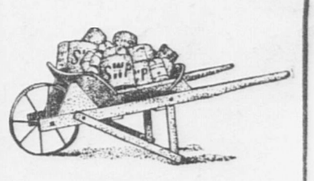

Apropos of the item in the Ledger of yesterday, in regard to the planting of trees on Coddington boulevard, by property owners, a resident of the street announces the fact that, if the city authorities had done as they agreed to do, there would have been a line of trees on each side of the street.

The Truant School.

Sewell A. Faunce of Dorchester, clerk of the boards of Norfolk, Bristol and Plymouth Counties, has filed his report of the quarter ending March 31, of the Union Truant school at East Walpole with Charles H. Smith, treasurer of Norfolk county. There are now 66 truants in the school, all boys. Of this number Bristol County sends 25 from Fall River, 14 from New Bedford, 4 from Attleborough and 3 from Taunton—a total of 46; Norfolk County—4 from Stoughton, 3 each from Brookline and Quincy, and one each from Norwood, Foxborough, Milton and Randolph—a total of 14, and Plymouth county, 5 from Brockton and one from Middleborough—a total of 6. The board of these truants for the past quarter was $708.99, of which Bristol County paid $491.09, Norfolk County, $152.89, and Plymouth County, $65.01.

He first came into notice some short time ago—through the authorship of some very clever vaudeville sketches which in many ways were considered preeminently successful. Some few weeks ago when Mr. Edmund Breese—one of the leading actors of the Castle Square Theatre Sock Co. was playing a short engagemeent at Boston Music hall, he gave as an opening piece, amongst his various dramatic recitations, "The Outcast" by the same author as "A Broken Compact." Despite Mr. Breese's brilliancy and strength of expression it was an inevitable fact that considerable credit was due to the beauty of this recitation and the pathos of the well-worded text, which Mr. Moore had so cleverly constructed.

The young author has on hand now several contracts for dramatic sketches for some of our best vaudeville actors therefore the public is free to expect considerable from the new play which has for its recommendation that its plot is dramatized from one of the well known author, Charles Reade's, best novels—entitled—"Love and Money."

In the audience will be several managers and critics who will have considerable to do with the after fate of the piece.

Miss Avonia Eldridge, who is to play the leading character, is one of the best known girls of Quincy's younger set. Her father was the well known and brilliant John L. Eldridge, the Boston lawyer, from whom she inherits much dramatic ability. Many of her friends will be in attendance on the night of the production.

The character of William Hope is to be portrayed by Corliss Giles, who has played many parts at the Castle Square theatre. He is a young man of fine physical attributes, and no small degree of talent, and much is to be expected from him; J. H. Montgomery, the juvenile man, is a son of the actor, J. H. Montgomery, for so many years connected with the famous "Bostonian" Co. It is rumored that he is considerable of a favorite with the matinee girls. There are many others in the casts worthy of mention for whom there is no space.

Mr. Frank Craig and Frank Thomas of Quincy will take part, together with Miss Adelaine B. Cote.

Mr. Seth A. Arnold, who is stage director of the company, will be expected to do a specialty for the benefit of his Quincy acquaintances. It is probable that he will comply.

The mine scenes of the fourth act will be most exciting.

Tickets are now on sale at Hearn's and Music Hall pharmacy. Prices are twenty-five, thirty-five, fifty and seventy-five cents. Good seats procurable at the lower prices.

A novel souvenir, to be given to patrons on the night of the performance, will be announced next week in the Quincy Ledger.

ROYAL
ABSOLUTELY PURE
BAKING POWDER

No other article used in the domestic economy of the household has so many enthusiastic friends among the housekeepers of America.

No other article of food has received such emphatic commendation for purity and wholesomeness from the most eminent authorities.

The great popularity and general use of the Royal Baking Powder attest its superiority

LIQUOR CASES.

Wollaston Expressman Fined for Illegal Transportation.

Moses A. Boynton, the well known Wollaston expressman, was in court this morning upon two complaints for violation of the liquor laws, viz: illegal keeping for sale, and illegal transportation. The complainant in the case was John A. Gardner, a Wollaston druggist. He testified that in May, June and July, 1899, he ordered liquor of Boynton many times. Sometimes he would write an order and leave it in the store, and sometimes at his office in Merchants row, Boston. The liquor would be delivered at night by Mrs. Brown or by witness.

There was no mark on the jugs or cases and no book or receipt was signed for their delivery. He also exhibited a bill for $93.35, which was largely for liquor bought of Boynton & Russell.

Mrs. J. B. Brown, housekeeper for Gardner testified that she had seen liquor delivered at Gardner's house and had personally ordered liquor of Mr. Boynton. Also to receiving bills from the firm for liquor.

Mr. Boynton is his own behalf, testified that Gardner never ordered any liquor of him. He left an order at the Boston office once which was not filled.

John T. Jordan, formerly a driver for Boynton & Russell, was put on by the defense, but proved an excellent government witness. He testified that in 1899 he had delivered jugs of whiskey and cases of beer at Gardner's house a number of times. He received the order in Boston and purchased the goods. He delivered the goods to Mrs. Brown and to Gardner. He never took any receipt for them. He knew it was liquor as they had given him drinks of it.

May Magazines.

Fall River, Mass, is the city taken up for treatment this month in the series of articles upon New England cities, which is appearing in the Magazine. Fall River is the greatest cotton manufacturing city in the United States. How extensive the industry is one cannot realize until one reads an article like this; and even then it is hard to believe the figures which are given. Essentially a city of factories, Fall River has the larger interests of an active and public spirited New England city; and its history and its present life are depicted here by one of its own citizens, Rev. Payson Williston Lyman, with royal pride. His account is reinforced by a great wealth of pictures.

"What has become of your son? I haven't seen him for nearly a year."

"He is at college, taking the ecclesiastical course."

"Indeed! How is he getting on"

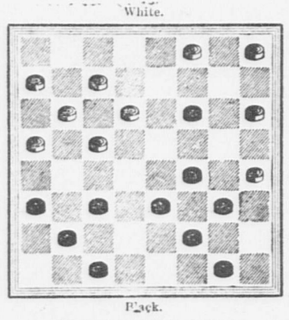

"Magnificent! He is middleweight champion of his class."

CHECKERS--CHESS.

A Weekly Problem a New Feature of Saturday Ledger.

Hereafter checkers and chess problems will be a regular feature of the Saturday eight-page Ledger, alternating each week. The solutions will be given the following week. Today it is a checkers problem, No. 1, black to play and win.

TODAY'S COURT.

Joseph Dunkley was fined $10 for larceny at Braintree; appealed.

The case of Daniel W. Loud for violation of the liquor law at Weymouth, was called, and he was fined $50; appealed.

The case of W. J. Boyd of Milton was called and again continued for two months.

The liquors seized from Daniel W. Loud of Weymouth were forfeited; appealed.

George B. French was fined $5 for drunkenness at Quincy.

The continued cases against Moses A. Boynton of Wollaston for violation of the liquor law was heard.

a Boynton was fined $75 on the charge of illegal transportation; appealed. On the complaint for keeping with intent to sell, he was discharged.

Costantino Di Bona was arraigned for keeping liquor with intent to sell at Quincy, and Donato Sullicci was arraigned for keeping a liquor nuisance at Quincy. On trial.

State Highways.

Wrentham will get the bulk of the appropriation for State Highways to be expended in Norfolk county, the commission having decided to expend $5,-238 there. A deficit of $39.25 for Cohasset is the only other Norfolk county appropriation. The total for State Highways this year is $100,000.

A fire in Elkton, Me., destroyed a will by which a young lady of that town had been disinherited by her father, and she got his property all right.

WEYMOUTH.

Timothy D. Bagley is seriously ill at his home on Commercial street.

Rev. William Hyde of Trinity church, was a guest of the Episcopalian club, at the dinner held in the Brunswick hotel in Boston, Monday evening, April 29.

Ex-Selectman Andrew J. Bates suffered a severe shock of paralysis Tuesday afternoon; and Captain T. D. Bayley of Weymouth, a former resident of Braintree, also had a shock the same day.

Keith's Theatre.

One of the real big sensations of the latter part of the season in New York has been the debut of one LaPressa, a quick change artist of the Fregoli school, who is claimed to outshine the latter. Like the Italian, he acts a farce, taking all the characters himself, making a complete change of costume and facial disguise in the time it takes to pass rapidly out one door and in another, a few feet removed from one another. Unlike Fregoli, however, he is a skilled musician, being an expert performer on the violin, and this gives a pleasing variety to his act. Other entertainers in the same bill, for the week commencing on Monday next, will be: Kathryn Osterman, a clever and popular comedienne; Frank Bouman and Rose Adelle, in a screamingly funny farce, with singing and dancing specialties; the DeForests, whirlwind dancers and exponents of the latest terpsichorean movements.

Castle Square Theatre.

The attraction at the Castle Square theatre the coming week, Daly's laughable farce comedy "A Night Off," will be anticipated with equal pleasure by those familiar with its amusing scenes and those to whom it will be a dramatic novelty. "A Night Off" has for many years been accepted as the most successful of all the plays of its class made known to the American public by its author, and it offers continual opportunities for the best light comedy work. This production will have an especial interest to the Castle Square patrons because it will include the re-appearance of Miss Mary Saunders who has enjoyed so much popularity at this play house in earlier seasons. The cast of characters in "A Night Off" is announced as follows: Justinian Babbit, John T. Craven; Harry Damask Charles Mackay: Jack Mulberry, John Craig; Lord Mulberry, J. L. Seeley; Marcus Brutus Snap, Edmund Breese; Prowl, Lindsay Morison; Mrs. Zantippa Babbit, Leonora Bradley; Nisbe, Lillian Lawrence; Angelica Damask, Leonora Gnito; Susan, Mary Saunders; Maria, Sadie H. Galloupe. Following "A Night Off" comes a revival of "Led Astray" in which Miss Eva Taylor, formerly leading lady of the Tannhauser stock company, of Milwaukee, and Miss Maye Louise Aigen will both appear with the Castle Square company for the first time. The Monday matinee distribution of boxes of choice chocolate bonbons will be continued until further notice.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

To the Interested Bicycle Public.

My opening day statement and challenge was that I would easily be the leading bicycle dealer of Quincy this year. I expected to gain this end by selling the finest line of bicycles within my power to secure, at fair prices. Not to misrepresent or deceive my customers and friends. It is your friendship and trade I want and in return you can expect honest statements, honest treatment and perfect satisfaction from me. I am pleased with the jealousy my success has developed in my competitors. It simply means that I have bicycles and a policy of selling that is popular.

Give me a call and examine my line of wheels. I am not a mud slinger or sharp skate. I can deliver all bicycles at the prices asked. This is more than my competitors can do.

STATE RESTS ITS CASE

Court Again Refuses to Admit Eastman's Testimony

ARGUMENT FOR DEFENSE

Claim That Grogan's Death Was Accidental and That Relations Between the Men Were Not Only Intimate, but Cordial

Cambridge, May 4.—The state closed its case in the prosecution of Professor Charles R. Eastman for murder yesterday. The state's side was closed with an adverse decision by the court relative to the testimony of Professor Eastman before the Middlesex county grand jury, which indicted him. Before the defense could outline the whole of its case, however, the illness of one of the jury made postponement necessary until today.

The decision of the court in excluding Eastman's grand jury testimony was not unexpected, for this was the second time that the government has sought to introduce it, although at the first attempt no extended argument in favor of it was made by the attorney general. On Thursday, however, that official spoke for nearly an hour on the subject and intimated a desire to continue the argument yesterday, but the court decided not to listen to anything further, and shelved the matter then and there. The government without more ado rested its case.

The rest of the day, some two hours, was taken up by Charles W. Bartlett in a partial outlining of the case of the defense. His remarks were in two parts, one relating to the law bearing on the case, and the other on the relations between the two men, which, he claimed, were not only intimate, but cordial, or exactly contrary to the contention of the government.

Mr. Bartlett said that the defense would show that the men were almost constant companions up to the very day of the shooting, and that instead of being jealous of Grogan's taking the lens business, Eastman assisted him in every way possible.

Mr. Bartlett had not reached that point in the case bearing directly upon the circumstances of the shooting, but in giving the law bearing on the degrees of murder and of manslaughter, he said that the case was one of excusable homicide that took place by reason of the accidental discharge of the old rim fire revolver.

If Juror Grant is able to appear in court today, Mr. Bartlett will finish his argument and the evidence of the defense will begin.

During his argument Mr. Bartlett said that the defendant claims that he had no intention whatever of shooting Grogan; that no crime was intended; that the death was an accident, and that he should be discharged.

Another Victory For Taylor

Bordeaux, May 4.—The American cyclist, Major Taylor, continuing a series of victories in Belgium and France, yesterday won the international cycling race, over a course of 2000 metres, in 3m. 41s. The contest had been postponed from Thursday evening, when at the last moment the light failed, and the enormous crowd smashed the railings and seats, piled them in a heap and made a bonfire of them. The police finally quelled the disorder and the gate money was returned. Yesterday's affair was orderly.

Telegram May Furnish Clue

Halifax, May 4.—There is only one way apparent now to establish the identity of the woman who shot herself here on Tuesday. A telegram from New York, addressed to Mary Warren Cross, the name under which the woman registered at St. John, reached there the day after she left for Halifax. Mrs. Cross awaited two days at St. John for the telegram, and then apparently gave up hope of receiving a message.

Providence Plumbers May Strike

Providence, May 4.—The Plumbers' union of this city last night voted to demand of the employers that the length of the working day be reduced from nine to eight hours, without reduction of wages, and go on a strike if the demand is not acceded to. It is not thought likely that the master plumbers will agree to the eight-hour day.

Will Settle Out of Court

Providence, May 4.—An agreement has been reached whereby all pending suits between the heirs of Joseph Banigan, once president of the rubber trust and the United States Rubber company, have been settled, and the suits will be dropped. These aggregate amounts sued for reach over $4,000,000. The basis of settlement was not given out.

Town Destroyed by Fire

Marshalltown, Ia., May 4.—Fire at Ewart has practically destroyed the entire town, including a large grain elevator, Iowa Central railway property, the postoffice, all business houses, the Presbyterian church, and a number of residences. The fire originated in the elevator. Estimated loss, $100,000.

Antaya Furnishes Bonds

Gardner, Mass., May 4.—Felix Antaya, who was arrested on a chage of larceny of money from the shoe store of L. W. Platt, where he was employed as a clerk, and who was locked up in default of bail, was released yesterday under $3000 bonds.

Forty Thousand Italians Coming

Rome, May 4.—Forty thousand Italian emigrants, according to The Fanfulla, are booked to leave for the United States this month.

SWAN APPEARS DAZED

Shortage In Arlington Town Funds Thus Far Amounts to $4500

Arlington, Mass., May 4.—The expert accountant who has been engaged in examining the books and accounts of the town clerk's office suspended his investigation temporarily last night, having discovered no additional shortage. Nothing more has been found among the rubbish removed from the sewer pipe that has any bearing upon the alleged irregularities of Assistant Town Clerk Swan. The latter takes but little notice, apparently, of what is going on, and seems to be in a partially dazed condition.

The chairman of the selectmen says that they have not been able to ascertain yet when the defalcations began, and that it may be at least a week before the expert can fix the exact time. The amount of the shortage as at present revealed is about $4500, but this amount may be increased, as it is possible that more than $1300 was taken out of the safe. Swan stated on the morning after the fire that there was $1300 in the safe the night before, and the selectmen took his word for it, but in the light of later developments it is believed that there may possibly have been more than that amount.

Electric Linemen to Strike

Boston, May 4.—After a session lasting until 2 o'clock this morning, the Linemen's union, representing some 400 electric linemen employed by the various electric companies of this city, ordered a strike to go into effect today. The men demand $3 for nine hours' work. They now receive $2.50 for 10 hours. An effort had been made to have the matter arbitrated by the state board of arbitration, but the attempt failed, and the vote to strike was the result. The union includes among its membership employes of electric companies in Somerville, Cambridge, Malden, Everett, Brookline, Quincy, Newton and other nearby places, all of whom come under the strike order.

Held on Lesser Charge

Middlebury, Vt., May 4.—The examination of Nelson Jones, charged with the murder of Ida Fosburgh, who died on March 19 from strychnine poison which she received through the mails, came to an end yesterday by the state attorney agreeing to have the respondent discharged on the murder charge, but insisting on his being held on the charge of attempting to commit an abortion. Bail of $7000 was furnished by Miner Jones, the father, and the respondent was given his liberty until the grand jury meets in December.

Extension of Time Necessary

Fall River, Mass., May 4.—With the curtailment term almost up, only three corporations announce that their machinery will shut down this afternoon in full for one week, and two other corporations in part. Five mills completed the full curtailment term this week, making a total of 19 corporations finishing the full four weeks. The balance of the corporations, 11 in number, will require an extension of time in order to comply with the terms of the agreement.

No Objectors to Resignation

Lynn, Mass., May 4.—A meeting of the East Baptist Church society was held yesterday evening to consider the resignation of the pastor, Rev. Neil Andrews, Jr., and it was unanimously accepted without discussion. In his letter the only reference made to alleged indiscretions, which brought about the request for resignation, was contained in the following words: "If mistakes have been made, they have been rectified when recognized."

To Cost Nearly Two Millions

Boston, May 4.—An extensive realty transaction which will result in the erection of a board of trade building opposite the custom house has been concluded. The entire block of properties surrounded by State, Broad, Central and India streets has been bonded, and plans for the construction of a modern building of 11 stories high have been started. The total amount to be invested in land and building will be $1,800,000.

Alleged Misuse of Funds

Boston, May 4.—James G. Baker was arrested here yesterday for the New Bedford police. Baker was treasurer of the local committee in charge of the state Christian Endeavor convention at New Bedford last October, and it is claimed he has admitted taking for his own purposes $272 of the funds of the convention, and left the New Bedford Christian Endeavor society with a debt to pay, instead of a surplus to distribute.

Chicken Coop Raider Shot

New Britain, Conn., May 4.—John Haslip, a teamster, was shot and probably fatally injured last night by Charles D. Ellis, while entering the latter's chicken coop. Ellis heard a noise about the coop, and went out with a shotgun. Perceiving a figure he fired and Haslip received the charge full in the breast. Ellis surrendered to the police.

But Few For Investigation

Clinton, Mass., May 4.—After the question of investigating the methods of the board of selectmen of the year 1900 in the granting of liquor licenses had been debated for three hours at a special town meeting called for that purpose last night, just seven voters stood up in favor of an investigation, while the remaining several hundred voted against it.

Bills Were Overlooked

Providence, May 4.—The box office of the Westminster theatre was broken into yesterday and $31.10, mostly in silver, was taken away. About $75 in bills, which was lying nearby, escaped the thief. Entrance was effected by smashing in one of the windows of the office while the treasurer was at supper.

"The pitcher that goes often to the well is broken at last." There's a world of wisdom in that familiar proverb, and a sound application of it to disease, especially to such familiar forms of disease as coughs and colds. Singularly enough the very thing that ought to cause alarm is given as excuse for a feeling of safety. "It's nothing; only a cough. I've had it before." The fact that a cough recurs periodically should be warning enough to take it in time, for the most serious and disastrous of all maladies begins with a cough.

The use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery not only stops the cough but cures the cause. It cures obstinate, deep-seated coughs, bronchitis, weak lungs, hemorrhages, diseases which if neglected or unskilfully treated find a fatal termination in consumption.

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is no other medicine "just as good" for weak lungs.

"I was very sick indeed," writes Mrs. Mollie Jacobs, of Felton, Kent Co., Delaware, "and our family doctor said I had consumption. I thought I must die soon for I felt so bad. Had a bad cough, spit blood, was very short of breath, in fact could hardly get my breath at all some times. I had pains in my chest and right lung, also had dyspepsia. Before I took your 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pleasant Pellets' I was so weak I could not sweep a room, and now I can do a small washing. I worked in the canning factory this fall, and I feel like a new person. I believe that the Lord and your medicine have saved my life. I was sick over two years. I took thirteen bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and four vials of Dr. Pierce's Pellets."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

This is an age of accomplishment, and it is a noticeable fact that the greatest successes are gained by young men. In sporting circles this tendency is particularly in evidence. The younger generations are wresting the honors from the "old stagers," and as matters now stand the only question that seems to be in order is, "Where will they stop?"

Theodore T. Maxfield of Bloomfield, N. J., although but 24 years old, is attaining considerable prominence nowadays as a driver. He is known throughout the country as a horseman of sterling ability, and his work during the last two or three years on track, speedway and road has been nothing short of sensational. Mr. Maxfield is owner of a fine string of trotters and pacers, and his training quarters at Bloomfield, the Oakfield stables, are models of system and equipment. His unbeaten pacing team, Monopole, 2:08½, and Amokin, 2:14¼, are conceded to be the champions of the world in double harness. Mr. Maxfield has met many so called "champion teams," but always with the same result. His team of pacers has never yet failed to land him the winner.

Mr. Maxfield's race with J. A. Murphy of Chicago last Christmas on the New York speedway was one of the most exciting and noteworthy contests ever witnessed on that great speeding stretch. Mr. Murphy, well known as the former owner of Star Pointer, had his redoubtable pacers Tom and Lotus in harness. Monopole and Amokin, however, showed the pair their heels in magnificent fashion, winning straight heats. They can cover a half mile straightaway in 1:05.

Other horses in Mr. Maxfield's stables are Beldia, 2:15¼; the stallion Cuyler Coast, 2:11; Acrobat, by Rex Americus, raised by C. J. Hamlin, breeder of The Abbot; Nimrod, the game campaigner, and San Ton.

Mr. Maxfield has never indulged in a single drop of alcoholic stimulant nor smoked any tobacco whatsoever during his career as a horseman. He is very popular among his compeers and is hailed by experts as the coming leader of American drivers. He will take his string of racers to Elkwood park, Long Branch, to prepare them for the season's work.

British Took "Unclaimed Property"

London, May 4.—Lord Hamilton, answering a question in the house of commons yesterday, said General Gasslee had stopped the British troops from looting at Pekin, but the general had authorized parties to bring in unclaimed property from deserted houses in districts occupied by the British. Such property was subsequently sold for the benefit of all. "This action, in my judgment," said the secretary, "was proper and judicious."

Thief Didn't Want Checks

Springfield, Mass., May 4.—On December 20 last, a bank book was stolen from the desk of Cashier Gaffney of the local postoffice. At the time of the theft the book contained $483 in cash and $63.82 in checks. Yesterday the book was found minus the cash, but the checks had not been disturbed. It had been thrown into the yard of the Springfield Foundry company, where it was found by a workman.

Yellow Jack Has Appeared

Washington, May 4.—Yellow fever has made its appearance in Havana, and the order of the secretary of the treasury suspending the quarantine regulations until May 15 has been revoked. Dr. Glennan chief quarantine officer for Cuba, reports that there are two cases of the fever in Havana, but makes no report for other ports of the island. The quarantine regulations go into effect immediately.

Children Burned to Death

Muskegon, Mich., May 4.—Four little children were burned to death yesterday in a farmhouse, six miles from this city. Mrs. Wertman, who was alone in the house with the children, went out to the well for a pail of water, and when she returned she found the house in flames. It burned so rapidly that she could not enter it to aid the children, and they perished.

WEEKLY TRADE REVIEW

General Conditions Have Warranted Activity In Wall Street

New York, May 4.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: The greatest activity ever seen in Wall street diverts attention in a measure from progress in distributing and manufacturing operations. But while on every hand stock market interests are counselling caution and attempting to prove that prices are really more than the condition of some railroads warrants, the fact is that, without the brilliant crop outlook and great activity of general trade, Wall street could hold no such carnival. Labor difficulties are fewer and less threatening than for several years before in the first week of May, and prices of merchandise hold well.

Dullness is still reported in the textiles. A further reduction to 2.56 cents for standard print cloths did not accelerate operations, as buyers appear confident that goods will soon be available at 2½ cents. This unsatisfactory condition of the manufacture is not helpful to raw cotton.

There s no improvement in woolens. Small concessions are reported in a few grades of shoes, and in other cases manufacturers are making slightly better goods at old figures.

Further advances were secured in the cereal market. Attractive prices brought more liberal receipts at interior cities, and also stimulated operations on the farms.

According to correspondents of R. G. Dun & Co., there is reason to expect a heavy spring wheat crop this year. In the principal states a full acreage has been planted and the weather is most favorable for germination.

Perished of Hunger and Thirst

Prosser, Wash., May 4.—With her hand and mouth stained with green from the grass and flowers she had eaten in her desperate hunger, and with her features drawn in the dying agony of thirst, the body of the 5-year-old daughter of W. B. Mathews, who lost her way on the dreary wastes of Horse Heaven plains, nearly a week ago, was found yesterday by searchers. The child in her agony had crawled into a badger hole on the prairie and died. From the appearance of the body the child had been dead about 36 hours, and for five days and nights she had been without food and water. Barefoot when she left home, the little girl in her wanderings had bruised and cut her feet, and had gathered the tough prairie grass and wound it around them for protection. Beside her in the badger hole lay a bunch of flowers and grass which she had been eating.

Political Excitement In Cuba

Santiago, May 4.—Yesterday was the last day for registration for the municipal elections in June. Governor General Wood's order that an American officer should be present at each registration office to receive protests caused much excitement, the politicians claiming that it was another case of American interference. There were thousands of protests. There seems to be no doubt of the success of the white Republican party, notwithstanding the overwhelming majority of the Nationalists.

Cold Day at Exposition

Buffalo, May 4.—The sun shone brightly all day yesterday, but a sharp, cold breeze swept over the exposition grounds, causing the denizens of the midway who hail from warmer climates to shiver and to seek sheltered nooks. The inhabitants of the Eskimo village were the only members in the motley crowd who looked comfortable. They had their troubles, however. A case of measles developed in their camp, and the patient was removed to the temporary Pan-American hospital.

Virginia Lake Free at Last

St John's, May 4.—The sealing steamer Virginia Lake, with 270 men on board, that has been frozen in the ice floes at White bay for the past six weeks, was freed yesterday by a furious hurricane driving the ice pack into the northern Atlantic, where the waves broke the floe to pieces. The Virginia Lake is expected to reach here today.

Three Went Down With Tug

Little Current, Ont. May 4.—The tug Tecumseh was picked up in a disabled condition on Lake Huron near Gore Bay last night by the steamer Germanic. While being towed to Gore Bay the tug suddenly sank, carrying down the captain, his sister and a man named Forbes. Two men and a woman were rescued by the Germanic.

Soldiers Condemned to Death

Tienstin, May 4.—Sergeant Bretschueider and Trooper Janisch of the German cavalry have been condemned to death for the murder of two innocent Chinese while doing patrol duty in December at Pao-Ting-Fu. They await execution, pending Emperor William's sanction.

A Globe Bank Dividend

Boston, May 4.—Globe National bank depositors will be paid another dividend the latter part of next week. This time it will amount to 20 percent, making a total of 80 percent paid thus far. Next week's payments will reach to about $535,000.

Part of Family Still Missing

St. Paul, May 4.—The body of William Rosenfield, who disappeared last week with his four children, was found in the river yesterday near the place where the body of his oldest boy was taken out of the river, two days ago.

Ten Thousand Homeless and Thousands Destitute

THE MAYOR SOLICITS AID

Outgoing Trains Are Crowded With Refugees—Not Yet Definitely Known How Many Lives Were Lost—Martial Law Being Rigidly Enforced

Jacksonville, Fla., May 6.—Mayor Bowden has sent out the following:

"One hundred and thirty-six blocks, covering the best residential and business portions of the city, were destroyed. About 10,000 people are homeless and thousands are destitute. Our people are responding liberally, but the demands for help are beyond our ability to meet."

The hunger of 10,000 homeless people was satisfied yesterday upon the arrival of relief trains and boats bringing provisions from neighboring towns. A commissary was established in the center of the city, and thousands were fed during the day.

The relief fund is growing hourly and every mail brings offers of assistance.

An order was promulgated yesterday under martial law requiring all merchants whose stores were spared by the conflagration to open their doors and sell to all who asked. The streets have been crowded with shoppers who lost all in the fires and many stores remain open all night.

It is estimated that 3000 persons have left the city, and every outgoing train is crowded with refugees. Five carloads of tents were received yesterday, the property of the state, which are to be used by the homeless temporarily. Another shipment of tents is expected from the government to arrive today.

The Times-Union and Citizen estimates the total property loss at $11,000,000. These figures are based upon an itemized statement furnished by a volunteer committee of citizens.

Rumors of loss of life are on every hand, and the river has been closely watched. Many persons have confirmed the report of loss of life at the Market street wharf. Numerous advertisements appeared in local papers asking for aid in searching for persons who are missing. As many have left for the gulf it is impossible to ascertain who have been lost in the Market street pier tragedy.

A committee of Atlantians was here yesterday to deliver $1000 worth of provisions, promising another car during the week. Atlanta also furnished by express one thousand feet of hose.

Martial law is being rigidly enforced and the town is quiet, although much anxiety prevails because of the threats said to have been made by the negroes that they would obtain provisions by force at their first opportunity.

In the eastern portion of the city the debris is still burning, but no further outbreak of the flames is anticipated.

Grand Master Campbell of the Masonic grand lodge of Florida last night issued the following appeal to the Masons of the United States:

"There is hardly an inhabitant of the city of Jacksonville, Fla., who has not lost his home, business or employment, and, in many cases, all three, by the practical destruction of our city by fire on May 3. The portion destroyed comprises 140 squares in the heart of the business and most populous section of the city, covering an area about two miles long and three-quarters of a mile wide. Twenty thousand of our citizens are homeless. Among the victims are those who would under other circumstances be the first to contribute to the relief of the distressed. Being unable to help ourselves, we issue this appeal for assistance to the Masonic fraternity of the United States. All contributions should be addressed to W. P. Webster, grand secretary, Jacksonville, Fla."

President Hears of It

Tallahassee, Fla., May 6.—Governor Jennings yesterday afternoon received the following telegram from President McKinley: "I have just learned of the calamitous fire that has swept over the city of Jacksonville, and hasten to express the deep sympathy, in common with our country, I feel for those who have suffered. The government will do all it can in the work of relief."

Progress In Co-education

Chicago, May 6.—At the annual meeting of the stockholders and board of directors of the Chicago homoeopathic medical college, it was determined to admit women on an equal footing with men. Heretofore this has been the only homoeopathic college in Chicago and the west to exclude women. It is one of the largest and best equipped medical schools in the country.

The Gotham Bakers' Strike

New York, May 6.—Two hundred more Hebrew bakers joined the ranks of the strikers yesterday, and 25 of the bosses conceded the demands of the union for a 10-hour working day and six days' work a week. Thus far 700 of the 1000 bakers have struck, and 75 of the 220 bosses have yielded. About 300 of the men have returned to work.

HOW HE SHOT GROGAN

Secret of Eastman's Defense Revealed by His Counsel

Cambridge, Mass., May 6.—The second week of the Eastman trial ended with the most interesting events in its course, the disclosure of the line of defense by counsel, the announcement that the accused man will take the stand in his own defense, and the testimony of several witnesses to show the friendly relations existing between Eastman and Grogan. Counsel Bartlett asserted that while Eastman was examining the old rim fire revolver, trying to dislodge a jammed cartridge, the hammer slipped and the revolver was discharged. The explosion drove Grogan into a panic of fright, and he turned upon Eastman with the revolver with which he had been firing at the target. Eastman rushed to Grogan's assistance, thinking he had shot him. As he did so, Grogan's revolver was discharged in Eastman's direction. Eastman then struggled with Grogan to get possession of Grogan's revolver, to keep Grogan from doing further harm. While they were struggling, Grogan's revolver was discharged twice or three times. Then Eastman got possession of it and threw it away, and Grogan, shot, started toward the house. Counsel Bartlett asserts that the bullet shown by the commonwealth is not the one produced and marked last October.

No Shows on Sunday

Buffalo, May 6.—The first Sunday of the Pan-American exposition's official existence brought out a good-sized crowd. The gates were open, but the buildings were closed. On the midway two of the shows opened their doors yesterday and their criers announced that they were ready for business. They were promptly notified by the exposition officials to close their shows. They did so under protest, and a test case will be tried to decide whether the midway concessionaires have a right to give their exhibitions on Sunday.

Dry Sunday at Omaha

Omaha, May 6.—The Sunday closing orders, issued by Mayor Moores, were, in most instances, observed yesterday. Two saloonkeepers, in outlying portions of the city, were arrested for failing to bolt their side doors, and half a dozen bootblacks were also detected in the act of disturbing the Sabbath quiet.

Gala Day at Melbourne

Melbourne, May 6.—A hundred thousand sightseers thronged the streets of Melbourne yesterday, to view the beautiful decorations in honor of the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York. Governor General Hopetoun and his wife visited the Ophir to welcome the duke and duchess.

Big Coal Deal on Foot

Cleveland, May 6.—A special to The Plaindealer from Columbus says: One of the largest deals in the history of the coal financial world is now on, and all indications are that it will be brought to a successful close before the end of another week. The deal includes all the leading mines in the Hocking valley coal fields, and a number in the Sunday creek district. The transfer has been engineered by agents of J. P. Morgan, and has been under consideration for 30 days. Options have been secured on at least 15 of the largest mines.

FOR CHILDREN

Nothing, that comes in a bottle, is more important for children than Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil. And "important" means that it keeps them in even health, on the highest plane of physical life.

"Do they live on it then?"

No; they don't touch it, except when they need it.

"When do they need it?"

Whenever they show, in whatever way, the least disturbance of even balance of health. It is not for acute diseases, with some exceptions; it is for a slight falling off from first-rate condition.

It is to be used as a food, whenever their usual food does not quite answer the purpose of food.

We'll send you a little to try, if you like.

AT GATEWAY OF MEXICO

McKinley and Diaz Exchanged Felicitations by Note

SABBATH QUIETLY SPENT

Official Ceremonies Postponed In Deference to President's Wishes—Bull Fight Just Across the Border Furnished Amusement For Mexicans

El Paso, Tex., May 6.—The presidential party reached El Paso, the gateway of Mexico, at 9 o'clock Sunday morning, and will remain here until noon today. President Diaz of Mexico had hoped to meet the president here, and shake hands across the border, but as the Mexican congress is in session he could not leave the capital. He sent a personal message to the president, however, and also dispatched General Hernandez, the commander of the second military zone of the state of Chihuahua, to present his good wishes to the chief magistrate of the United States.

Governor Thumada of Chihuahua, the most northerly state of Mexico, also travelled to El Paso to pay his respects, and these distinguished Mexican officials, accompanied by General Hernandez's staff, were received by the president in his car at the station. After exchanging felicitations, the president requested General Hernandez to convey to President Diaz his personal good wishes for the health and happiness of President Diaz, and for a continuation of the cordial relations at present existing between the two countries. President Diaz's message follows:

"When you arrive this day at the frontier of Mexico, I wished that I might shake hands with you, but I send to you as cordial a salute as corresponds with the cordial relations which exist between the two republics of North America. I also send General Hernandez to express to you the same feeling."

To this the president sent the following response:

"It gives me great pleasure to reciprocate the courteous greeting of your excellency, and to express my most cordial good wishes for your health and happiness, and for the continued prosperity of the Mexican republic, to which we are bound by so many ties of mutual interest and friendship."

It being Sunday the president had requested the local committee here not to arrange any program for the day. His wishes were respected, and the military parade and official exercises were postponed until today. The president and his wife and the members of the cabinet attended the Methodist church in the morning, and in the afternoon some of the party went for a drive.

While it was a comparatively quiet day in El Paso, notwithstanding the large number of strangers in town, it was otherwise in the Mexican city of Juarez, just across the Rio Grande. May 5 is the anniversary of the defeat of the French invaders at Puebla and is celebrated as our Fourth of July is in the United States. The Mexicans are not Puritanical in their observance of the Sabbath. Indeed, Sunday is always a fete day with them.

The great feature of the celebrations yesterday was a Spanish bull fight. A famous matador had come to Juarez from the City of Mexico for the occasion. None of the members of the president's immediate party attended, but bull fighting is the national sport in Mexico, as in Spain, and General Hernandez and the governor of Chihuahua occupied a box overlooking the ring.

The fight proved to be more than usually bloody and brutal. The net casualties were four bulls dispatched, one horse killed, two picadors unhorsed and one toreador severely, but not fatally wounded, as he was helped over the fence surrounding the arena by a maddened bull.

Governor Murphy of Arizona and his staff participated in the formal greetings today. One of the features of the program today was a Mexican breakfast, with the typical Spanish dishes for the ladies of the party.

Nerves Got Beyond Control

Stockholm, May 6.—While Baroness Von Dusen was introducing a patient named Nehrmann into a hospital for nervous diseases at Grenna, Nehrmann became violent, seized a knife and stabbed the baroness and her three daughters. The patient then escaped into the street clad only in underclothing, tried to force an entrance into several houses, and attacked and wounded five persons before being overpowered. One of the daughters of the baroness has succumbed to her wounds.

Out of the Ordinary

Kansas City, May 6.—Saloons in Kansas City were closed tight yesterday, the first time in six years. But one arrest for failure to respect Mayor Reed's order was made, and one of the quietest days for a long time was the result. Saloonkeepers spent an active day, however, circualting petitions requesting a resumption of the old regime.

Claims Self Defense

Little Falls, N. Y., May 6.—John Wallace of Warren is under arrest for killing Benjamin Hoyt, who had killed Wallace's wife. Wallace makes the plea that the killing of Hoyt was in self-defense, as Hoyt had a revolver drawn and ready to kill him.

To the Interested Bicycle Public.

My opening day statement and challenge was that I would easily be the leading bicycle dealer of Quincy this year. I expected to gain this end by selling the finest line of bicycles within my power to secure, at fair prices. Not to misrepresent or deceive my customers and friends. It is your friendship and trade I want and in return you can expect honest statements, honest treatment and perfect satisfaction from me. I am pleased with the jealousy my success has developed in my competitors. It simply means that I have bicycles and a policy of selling that is popular.

Give me a call and examine my line of wheels. I am not a mud slinger or sharp skate. I can deliver all bicycles at the prices asked. This is more than my competitors can do.

Council Business.

There is considerable business to come before the meeting of the City Council tonight.

The Commitee on Licenses have a large number of petition for minor licenses upon which they will report.

The Committee on Streets will report on the following matters:

Location of poles of the New England Telephone Co.; laying out of Prospect place, improvements on Grove street, establishing the grade of Howard avenue, curbing Clark street, lights on Berlin street, rebuilding Atlantic street, improvements on Central avenue, laying out extension of Rogers street, sidewalk on Liberty street, lights on Holmes street, and storm sewer on Water street.

The Committee on Ordinances will report on the order of Councilman De-Normandie relative to printing calendar of Council business, and on the order of Councilman Bass amending the rules.

The Committee on Finance will report upon several matters before them.

The Mayor will send in several communications.

On the table are the vetoes of the orders relative to the purchase of material, and on employing an expert accountant. The order for building the Warren avenue bridge, and accepting the reserve police act.

The Universalist Society.

The society in this city has for a number of years, until quite recently, been gradually on the decline. But since the parish secured the services of Rev. Mr. Ward, some two years ago, it has taken new lease, and is once more prospering. Mr. Ward is a gentleman and scholar, and welcomes all whom he has the pleasure of meeting. We copy the following paragraph from the Universalist Leader:

"The society in Quincy is growing gradually and surely. Fifteen have joined the parish and five joined the church since Jan. 1. Much interest is taken in the communion service, and in the preparatory church meetings. Our Sunday school is growing nicely and its concerts are excellent. The teachers are faithful at teachers' meetings. The congregations are growing. The church choir has received welcome additions of excellent singers. Several pledges of the "cent-a-day" and "two-cents-a-week" for missions are taken. At Easter our fellow townsman and true Christian citizen, Henry H. Faxon, gave each church in the city $100, to spend in social, spiritual and political work for the city. Would that every town and city had such a public spirited man as Henry H. Faxon. The men of the society served a banquet in March to 300 guests, winning deserved honors and earning a good sum of money. The Ladies' Association is about to be reorganized. A fair will be held in May."

Proved Fatal.

Mrs. Rachael A. Choate of Glover place, Atlantic, who was so severely burned about the face and body last week by her clothing taking fire from a lamp in an incubator, died Sunday night, after suffering intensely. She was the wife of Mr. Myrick W. Choate, and was 53 years of age.

A Quiet Strike.

The linemen employed by the Quincy Electric Light and Power Co., are still out on a strike. No attempt has been made by either party to effect a settlement. Supt. Austin of the company says that he is in no way hampered by his men striking, and that the company can get along without them.

THE CRUST CRACKED

Popular Educator Endorses Stand Taken by Supt. Parlin.

Referring to that portion of the annual report of Mr. F. E. Parlin, superintendent of the Quincy schools, which advocates shorter hours for primary pupils, a postponement of the time of entering school until six years of age, and abolishment of home study in the primary and grammar grades, the Popular Educator for May, after quoting liberally from the report, says:

"We have no hesitation in answering Superintendent Parlin's questions with an emphatic Yes! The astonishing thing to us is, that it should have been so long before these questions have found official utterance. Our files will show that the Popular Educator has talked along these lines for years. It looks as if the conservative crust has been cracked at last. It is wrong to send children to school at the age of five. It is wrong to confine them five hours a day within the four walls of a school-room, or any other room, except in inclement weather. It is wrong to so arrange a course of study that the work cannot be done during the five hours that children are thus confined.

"If wrong, where rests the blame? Almost always with the fathers and mothers of the children themselves. It is the mothers who want their children, at a tender age taken care of by alien hands. Committees are elected to carry out the will of their constituents and if these insist with much talk that their boys and girls shall be out of their way for five or six hours a day, how is the committee-man, especially if he is fond of office to resist the clamor? But the parents are not to be blamed for the methods and amount of work that requires many minutes, sometimes hours of study, outside of school hours. As a rule they condemn such study as a trespass upon the home.

"And yet it continues. Why? Largely, we believe, because the idea still dominates the school boards and the great majority of the teaching corps that the main purpose of school work is to make scholars. Therefore the undue attention paid to memory. Therefore examinations; therefore the lifting into ridiculous prominence mere knowledge, historical, geographical, or what not; and therefore the standards set for promotions—standards that lead to prolonged hours of work by young children with their accompanying irritation and ill health. Change the point of view and it would not be many years before the public would see the necessity of putting the whole man or the whole woman into the school-room a well as the whole boy and the whole girl.

QUINCY'S GENIUS.

Sketch of Eventful Life of W. H. Glennon.

An interesting sketch of "Quincy's inventive genius" was published in the Sunday Globe, and relates much that is news to even his neighbors of his eventful life. The story is reproduced in part:

One summer day in 1851 Willam H. Glennon, then a lad in his 14th year, could have been seen boarding vessel after vessel that lay at the wharves in Boston harbor. His quest was for a captain that would take him to sea with him, as he was tired of toiling from early morn till late at night on his father's farm at West Quincy.

His search was successful at last. The commander of the bark Western Star was to sail that day for Liverpool with more than 500 passengers, and the boy was engaged to work in the cooks' galley.

Two years later he was back on the farm at West Quincy, but his father was even more particular as regards the amount of work he exacted from his son.

On June 1, 1853, the boy was at work chopping down a large tree. His ax had cut a gash about half way through the trunk, when suddenly he embedded the ax in the opposite side of the tree, picked up his coat and started to walk out of the woods.

His father noticing him, asked where he was going. "To California," answered the lad, as he started to run toward the road. Reaching home, he bade his mother adieu, and with 25 cents he started upon those travels that were to occupy more than a quarter of a century of his life.

When he arrived at Boston he went directly to the captain of the ship Forester, which, he had learned, was to sail for California, and that night the runaway sailed out of Boston harbor for the Golden Gate.

He arrived in California in good time, and worked as longshoreman and at odd jobs for about a year. Fortunately, he met a native of West Quincy, who had been engaged by Mr. John Shaw of New York to build the bridge at Mormon island, the first suspension bridge in that state. Young Glennon was employed as a mason, although he knew but little about the business, but even indifferent mechanics were scarce in California in those days.

Before the bridge was finished he had become quite skilful in handling large blocks of stone, and was engaged immediately to build the courthouse and jail at Nevada City, one of the most imposing buildings on the coast at that time.

The excellence of his work gained him a reputation, and his services were in demand constantly by contractors. His last work in California was done in 1862 when he repaired the bridge at Fulsome after it had been partly carried away in the great flood of that year.

The same year he was sent for by the famous Harry Meiggs better known probably as the "modern Monte Cristo" to finish the mason work of the car station on the Valparaiso & Santiago railroad in Chile.

The finishing of this railroad by Meiggs after it had been abandoned by the English contractors was the beginning of those engineering achievements that made him the best known and the wealthiest man in South America.

Mr. Glennon was associated with Mr. Meiggs from that date until 1876, during which time he built more than 100 bridges and buildings in Chile and Peru.

When the Oroya railroad was being surveyed. Mr. Glennon accompanied Col. La Tora and his delegation to the head of the Amazon river to treat with the Indians for a part of their land. Col. La Tora left the company and proceeded to the place of meeting accompanied only by an interpreter. But so soon as he stepped ashore 34 arrows were sent quivering into his body from the bows of concealed savages.

Mr. Glennon built the largest theatre in the city of Cuzco, and erected the monument to Gen. Rodrigues, at Til-Til. While digging a tunnel at Chimbota he was taken sick, and had to be carried to the coast, where he remained nearly two years.

After his return to health he finished a contract in the guano mines, and then went to Callao, where he built the railroad station. After the great earthquakes that cause so much damage in the city of Arequipa, he was engaged for several months in repairing churches and monasteries injured at that time.

When the war between Chile and Peru broke out Mr. Glennon returned to West Quincy. His parents died soon afterward, and left to him and his sister the old homestead and a comfortable fortune. Brother and sister have lived together since, and are well-known for their benevolence.

Mr. Glennon devotes his time to perfecting his many inventions, of which he has patented about a dozen.

Mrs. George Bennett is lying ill at her home on Arlington street from the effects of a severe cold.

Coddington street between Newcomb and Canal streets has settled badly and will have to be filled in again.

Competive drills of the companies of the Ancients will be held at Faneuil hall, Friday evening, May 10.

The street scraper was at work in City Square this morning putting it in condition to be resurfaced.

The Edward Hewitson associates meet Tuesday evening in the vestry of the Wollaston Congregational church.

On May 7 in 1899 the noon temperature was 81 and on May 10, 1896, the mercury climed to 93. Last year it reached 90 on May 15.

A still alarm was given Saturday morning at 10.30 for a fire on the Atlantic street bridge. It was started from sparks from an engine. Damage small.

N. B. Furnald has recently erected upon his lot at Mt. Wollaston a very handsome all-polished Quincy granite monument. The monument is of the sarcophagus design.

E. J. Sandberg now handles many large contracts in Boston. He now has the contract for excavating for a block of houses on Boylston street.

Rumor has it that a branch track is to be built from the main line of the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R., near Capens bridge to the plant of the Fore River Ship and Engine Co.

Co. K will go into camp with the Second Brigade July 20 to 26 inclusive at the State camp grounds at South Framingham. The First corps of Cadets will be at Hingham July 14 to 20.

The civil service examination of candidates for firemen and police which was held at City Hall Saturday, was an all-day job. It was nearly 5 o'clock before the examiners completed their work.

Work was commenced this morning preparing City Square for the resurfacing that is to be given it. The street was first scraped and then picked with the steam roller. It will be resurfaced with trap rock and thoroughly rolled.

Charles Hall of Wollaston was riding a bicycle in Boston, Sunday, when he ran against a pile of dirt in the street and was thrown off. He was removed to the Boston City Hospital, where his injuries were attended. He was then sent home.

Stephen E. Wilson was driving through City Square Sunday afternoon when the wheel of his carriage came off and he was tumbled into the street. Fortunately he escaped without injury. It is thought that he neglected to put on the nut of the wheel before he started out.

In addition to the performance of the Social Outlaw by Miss Nellie Coffey and the George Wilson Co., the three Bastedo Sisters, who are the recognized leaders of refined vaudeville, will render several clever selections, with the assistance of Prof. N. Harris Ware, leader of the Wilson orchestra.

From 1,500 to 2,000 children attended the May festival at Berkeley Temple, Boston, on Saturday, including 30 from Bethany church, and 20 from the Wollaston Congregational church. The exercise by Mrs. F. E. Clark — Some stories my room told me—was very interesting, bringing to mind Japan, Africa, Turkey, India, Spain, China and Miconesia. The children had a special car on the return trip.

The Committee will also receive proposals for furnishing and delivering within the school buildings, the whole or a part of the following: 24 cords of pine wood and 10 cords of hard wood. The wood must be of the best quality and must be cut into lengths required by the different schools. The bids for the pine and the hard wood must be separate.

Storage rooms of the several school buildings to be filled on or before August 31, but the prices to hold good up to January 1, 1902.

The right to reject any and all bids is reserved. Address sealed proposals, distinctly marked on the outside of the envelope, "Proposals for Fuel," to Adams Academy Wins from Quincy A. A.

West Quincys Down the Hartfords.

Coddingtons and Gridley Bryants Lead School League.

Adams Academy won again Saturday in what proved to be a close finish—17 to 15. They had as rivals the Quincy Athletic Association team who excelled at the bat, but the Academy boys managed to field the base runners out in time to prevent runs. On the whole it was a loosely played game. It was the third consecutive victory for Adams.

AT WEST QUINCY.

The Hartfords began the run getting in the base ball game at West Quincy on Saturday but the home nine tied the score in the third innings and took the lead in the fourth, and won 11 to 7. The West Quincys played a good all round game, and Dolan pitched a fine game for the the visitors.

GRAMMAR LEAGUE.

The Gridley Bryants downed the John Hancocks Saturday in a well played game. The Coddingtons and Lincolns were other winners, the scores being:

Gridley Bryant,	9;	John Hancock,	4.
Coddington,	15;	Willard,	9.
Lincoln,	15;	Adams,	9.

The standing to date is as follows:

	Played.	Won.	Lost.	Per cent.
Coddington,	2	2	0	100
Gridley Bryant,	2	2	0	100
John Hancock,	2	1	1	50
Lincoln,	2	1	1	50
Adams,	2	0	2	00
Willard,	2	0	2	00

The Coddingtons and Gridley Bryants are now tied for first place. These two clubs will meet on the grounds of the former on Wednesday and the winner will secure a good clinch on the pennant.

OTHER GAMES.

The Mechanic Arts High school fared better at Hyde Park, Saturday, than at Quincy, defeating the Hyde Park High 5 to 4.

At Weymouth the Norfolks were defeated Saturday by the Randolphs 10 to 5.

Saturday Golf.

The Wollaston Golf club team scored another great victory on Saturday, defeating the crack Country Club team at Clyde Park, 9 to 6. Councilman Freeman of the Wollaston club won the day with 5 holes up in his match with G. O. Thacher. Mr. Bremer however led Mr. Tilton 3 up and Mr. Pratt led Mr. Rogers 1 up. For the Country club Mr. Thorp and Mr. Frothingham were the only ones to come out on top while Mr. Amory halved with Mr. Price.

Col. Bogey was successful against all comers in the bogey handicap of the Wollaston Golf club at Montclair on Saturday, the scores being:

The Lexington and Wollaston women clubs will play in the Women's series at Montclair on Wednesday.

On Friday the Agawam club of Providence will be here to play the Wollastons.

The Wollaston club will have an open tournament June 6 and 7.

The season will be opened by the Braintree Golf club May 18 with a Scotch foursome. Other fixtures are:

May 25 Mixed foursome handicap.
June 8—One club match 12 holes.
June 17—Handicap stroke competition for men and women.
June 23—Driving and putting contest.
June 29—Mixed foursome.

Merry Mount Golf Club.

The old course of the Wollaston golf club, situated at Norfolk Downs, and regarded as one of the finest in the east, has been secured by the Merry Mount golf club. The new club has a large membership list already, many prominent golfers of Milton, Quincy and Boston being enrolled.

It is proposed to have a comfortable clubhouse erected with necessary conveniences for golfers. It will be situated on a high elevation overlooking the entire course. Mr. Willie Chisholm spent the past week laying out new holes and relocating the old ones. There will be several holes of more than 500 yards in length and admirable opportunities will be presented for long seconds. The entire playing distance will be more than 3000 yards.

Trap Scores.

The following scores were made out of a possible 10 in the ten events of the Wollaston Trap club on Saturday:

Straightway, Barry and Whitmarsh, 9 each.
Unknown, Barry 8.
Straightway, Bowen and Barry, 9 each.
Unknown, Whitmarsh 9.
Reverse angle, Barry and Bowen, 8 each.
Unknown, Bowen, 10.
Doubles, Barry and Whitmarsh, 9 each.
Doubles, Barry, 9.

ANCIENT MASONRY.

George Washington Esteemed by Craft While President.

Next month Rural lodge of Masons of this city will have a two days' celebration of the centennial of its institution.

It is the purpose of the Daily Ledger in the meantime to give almost daily some reference to this popular fraternity:—its history, its origin, its advantages; its progress; its prominent members, etc. And especially incidents of 100 years ago, and also the history of Rural lodge.

About four years previous to the institution of Rural lodge, the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts sent the following letter to George Washington, who had seventeen days previous vacated the high office of President of the United States to John Adams, the distingnished son of Quincy:

"The East, the West, and the South, of the Grand lodge of Ancient Free and Accepted Masons of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, to their most worthy brother George Washington:

"Wishing ever to be foremost in testimonials of respect and admiration for those virtues and services with which you have so long adorned and benefited our common country; and not the last nor least to regret the cessation of them in the public councils of the Union; your brethren of the Grand Lodge embrace the earliest opportunity of greeting you in the calm retirement you have contemplated to yourself.

Though as citizens, they lose you in the active labors of political life, they hope as Masons to find you in the pleasing sphere of fraternal engagement. From the cares of State, and the fatigue of public business, our institution opens a recess, according all the relief of tranquility, the harmony of peace, and the refreshment of pleasure; of these may you partake in all their purity and satisfaction; and we will assure ourselves that your attachment to this social plan will increase, and that, under the auspices of your encouragement, assistance, and patronage, the craft will attain the highest ornament, perfection, and praise.

"And it is our ardent prayer, that when your light shall be no more visible in this earthly temple, you may be raised to the all-perfect lodge above; be seated on the right of the Supreme Architect of the Universe, and there receive the refreshment your labors have merited.

"In behalf of the Grand Lodge, we subscribe ourselves with the highest esteem, your affectionate brethren.

(Signed)

Paul Revere, Grand Master,
Isaiah Thomas, Senior Grand Warden,
Joseph Laughton, Junior Grand Warden
Daniel Oliver, Grand Secretary.
Boston, March 21, 1797."

The reply of George Washington will be published tomorrow.

The Wife Blamed.

The case of George H. Brainard will go before the grand jury at Portland next week. On Saturday 26 persons were summoned to appear as witnesses. Brainard is kept in close confinement in jail. He has little to say to other prisoners, but spends much of his time in reading. He appears dejected much of the time, and his appetite has been gradually failing. The prisoner's wife visits him daily. Brainard treated her very coldly today, and told her, it is said, that were it not for her he would not be in his present predicament.

TODAY'S COURT.

Edward Nolan of Quincy, Joseph P. Curley and Patrick Crowley of Weymouth and William H. Barrett of Holbrook, were fined $5 each for drunkenness.

John J. Tracey was sentenced to thirty days in the house of correction for drunkenness at Weymouth.

The continued case of Frank J. Kiernan was called, and he was fined $7.

ADJT. KINCAIDE.

Former Captain of Co. K Now Regimental Adjutant.

William H. Oakes the new colonel of the fifth Infrantry, M. V. M., has made staff appointments as follows:

Dr. Charles W. Galloupe of Boston, to be surgeon with the rank of major.

Arthur C. Wyer of Woburn, to be quartermaster, with the rank of captain.

Henry L. Kincaide of Quincy, to be regimental adjutant with rank of captain.

Henry D. Warren of Boston, to be battalion adjutant with rank of first lieutenant.

Rupert D. Worcester of Boston, to be battalion adjutant with rank of first lieutenant.

Adjt. Kincaide has earned his appointment by the great interest he has taken and faithful work performed during a service of thirteen years. He joined Co. K. in 1887 and has step by step risen to his present position. In 1897 he was commissioned captain, and went into camp with Co. K. when it volunteered for the Spanish war, at great sacrifice to his business, and resigned only when it was certain that the 5th regiment would not go to the front. For the past year he has served as battalion adjutant. Mr. Kincaide is also a member of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company and visited London with the organization a few years ago. He is one of Quincy's most progressive and successful business men.

Valley Forge Monument.

The monument to be erected at Valley Forge to which the Daughters of the Revolution of Quincy and also the Junior Society were contributors, is to be a granite shaft, 40 feet high, with a base relief in bronze reproduced from William Bruckner's "Washington at Prayer at Valley Forge." A plot of ground, 30 by 33 feet, has been set apart in the field where the revolutionary heroes are buried, for the monument, which will be unveiled in the early fall. The national society, D. R., intends to raise $2000 more for additional expenses in the placing of the monument, improving the ground around it and the approach to it.

—A new lodge of Odd Fellows will be instituted at Brockton, May 29, at 3 P. M., to be known as Old Colony, No. 70.

A Legitimate Investment

Which Increased Over 700 per cent.

WITHIN SIX MONTHS.

The Arcola Oil Company's stock sold for $135 per 1,000 shares, and in six months $1,000 per 1,000 shares was refused for the stock, for the reason that the first well was a large producer and there is room for forty wells on the Company's land, which makes it about certain that the stock in the near future will be worth ten dollars per share.

We offer you the same opportunity for a large gain by investing in the Dirigo Oil Company's stock, the first block of which is being sold for $150 per 1,000 shares. The Company owns a block of land adjoining the Arcola Company's land which has large producing wells on all four sides. There is eighty acres of the Company's land in the center of the oil belt, which we feel absolutely certain will give a large producing well in each acre.

We now have machinery on the ground, and are ready to sink the first well, and expect to strike oil by May 1st, which will then make the stock worth par value, if the well is as good a producer as the Arcola.

The block of stock we are selling is about three-quarters sold and quick application will have to be made to secure any of it at the present price.

Cheap Bicycles

Are like cheap furniture. It cost more to keep them in repair than the original cost of the bicycle.

When you ride a high grade bicycle you can feel sure that any part of your wheel will not break, and throw you and probably result in fatal injuries.

We make a specialty of High Grade Wheels and do not handle jobber's wheels which are listed high but are cheap constructed wheels.

We prefer selling high grade wheels cheap rather than cheap wheels.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Miss Helen Gould has presented to Vassar college a scholarship of $10,000 in memory of her mother. This is the third scholarship received from Miss Gould within a few years.

The American National bank of Boston, an entirely new institution, in the success of which many prominent men are concerned, has been organized, with a capital of $200,000.

The historic old Minnesota, now lying at Boston, has been condemned and will be sold at auction.

The 700 union carpenters in Toledo have won their strike and gone back to work, receiving $2.40 for eight hours, instead of $2.25 for nine hours, as was the case before the strike.

A fire, probably started by a careless smoker, broke out underneath the center of the grandstand at the National league baseball park at St. Louis, and the grandstand, pavilion and office of the company were destroyed. The spectators got out of the grounds without injury. The loss is $30,000.

Farquhar McLennon, aged 24, and Charles M. Arnold, Jr., aged 17, were drowned while fishing near Ballston, N. Y.

The new Sacred Heart church at Malden, Mass., was dedicated with elaborate ceremonies.

John H. Shaw, 5 years old, of Wakefield, Mass., accidentally fell into a brook and was drowned.

The 2-year-old daughter of Edward Parker of Boston obtained some matches and set fire to her clothing. The little one was terribly burned ,and died later.

A portion of the business section of Greenfield, N. H., was wiped out by fire, resulting in an aggregate loss of $20,000.

Mark Brennan, 4 years old, was knocked down at Salem, Mass., by the horses attached to an oil wagon, and the wheels of the wagon passed over the child's chest. He died in a short time.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflamation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars; free.

Three Perished In Fire

Montreal, May 6.—Brunelle's hotel, a small hostelry in an eastern suburb of the city, was burned yesterday, and three inmates perished in the flames. Their bodies were charred beyond recognition.

THE CHINESE PROBLEM

Congeu Thinks Powers Will Soon Reach a Conclusion

EMPIRE WILL DO ITS BEST

To Expedite Matters and Resume Peaceful Pursuits—Partition Would Lead to Serious Difficulties and Disputes—Stories of Looting Untrue

New York, May 6.—The coming number of Leslie's Weekly will contain an article by Minister E. H. Conger, who has lately returned to this country, on the Chinese situation. Mr. Conger says in part:

Unless matters have changed very materially since I left China, six weeks ago, the powers will reach some conclusion in regard to China very soon. Of course it is difficult for 11 men to agree on anything, especially when they have 11 governments with different views behind them. China is perfectly willing to do anything that the powers agree upon—that is, anything within her ability to accomplish. She is only too anxious to expedite these matters, and hold down to peaceful pursuits again. Of course the powers must not demand an indemnity which China will be physically unable to raise. It is possible that China will not be able to meet quite all the expenses of the war, but even if there should be a slight balance left on the wrong side it would pay the powers far better to abate a little in the amount of their demands and allow trade to commence again than to insist on the last farthing and delay the renewal of commercial relations.

It is not certain that, finally, some nation may not demand territory of China, in lieu of a money indemnity. It is perfectly certain that if any nation does make this demand, the partition of China will follow, and this will inevitably cause much dissension between the powers. These difficulties and disputes would be long in the settling, and would lead to terrible confusion in China. No man can tell how long it would be before the country would be peaceful, and there would be constant strife between the powers and the provinces which they attempted to govern—all this to the detriment of trade.

Russia has so far mitigated her demands that there is not now much danger of serious difficulty between her and Japan. Personally I am very much in favor of the continued existence of China as an empire, governed by her own emperor. It will save us and all the rest of the world lots of trouble if the integrity of the empire is maintained.

The empress dowager has done much harm. She is not, however, entirely to blame for the Boxer uprising. Among her counsellors and near to her were many men of strong anti-foreign feeling, and she listened only too willingly to what they said, her own prejudices coinciding with theirs.

As far as the punishment of Chinese officials goes, China has already done all that she could. Something out of the ordinary had to be demanded by the powers, for it takes a good deal of punishment to impress this people, and this was no ordinary offense. In some cases the officials whose punishment was demanded were more powerful than the government, and then, of course, the punishment could not be enforced. Except in these cases, everything was done as the powers demanded.

At home I understand that I was thought bloodthirsty, but in China I was the most lenient of all the ministers, except one. We knew the conditions better than those who are not there could possibly know them. Drastic measures were demanded, but I do not think that we were cruel. What would seem a severe punishment to us at home would not impress the Chinese at all, for the reason that they indulge in so many cruel and unusual punishments.

The reports of cruelty on the part of soldiers have been grossly exaggerated.

Nor were the stories of unrestricted looting true. In Pekin the soldiers took what they needed, of course, just as we would have seized anything that we needed while we were caged up in the compound, had we been able to fasten upon anything that would help us to withstand the siege. As for the stories of missionary looting, they are undisguisedly false. The missionaries did not loot.

Russia's Work In Manchuria

St. Petersburg, May 6.—The Russky Invalid publishes details of the recent operations in Manchuria. It appears that the north Manchurian division fought over 20 engagements, losing altogether 24 men killed and 7 officers and 61 men wounded. A quantity of guns and rifles were captured. The total results of the operations is that, of three bands which at the beginning of the year were menacing the peace of Manchuria, two have been annihilated, and the third, after sustaining a number of defeats, is now being pursued by the Russian division.

Evacuation of Pekin Begun

Pekin, May 6.—The United States cavalry and artillery left Pekin yesterday to march to Ton-Ku. Imposing farewell ceremonies attended their departure. General Chaffee publicly thanked the cavalry and artillery for their services in the international relief expedition, and for their behavior since, which had been, he said, a credit to themselves and their nation. The infantry and headquarters staff will leave by rail as soon as the transports arrive at Taku.

ARMY IN PHILIPPINES

To Be Reduced to Forty Thousand Men or Perhaps Even Less

Washington, May 6.—After a careful consideration of the situation in the Philippines as it exists today, the administration has decided to reduce the army in the islands to 40,000 men. The opinion prevails here that this number will be ample for the present needs of the service in the islands, and if conditions continue to improve in the satisfactory manner that has been shown in the past few months, the force may be reduced still further. The expectation of the war department is that all the volunteers now in the Philippines will have left the islands by the end of June, leaving only the regulars on duty there. Following the departure of the volunteers will come the regulars who were sent to Manila in 1898, just after the outbreak of hostilities, and their movement home will continue until the force is reduced to approximately 40,000 men.

Graat Faith In Shamrock

Southampton, May 6.—None of Sir Thomas Lipton's party came ashore here after the return of the Shamrock II from Saturday's spins. "I consider it demonstrated beyond question," Sir Thomas said to a representative of the Associated Press, "that the new challenger will make the finest fight ever made in a contest for the America's cup. I do not know what America has to array against us, but I am convinced that the Americans will be well pleased to see a good race and will bear me no ill will if, as I now think it possible, I should win the cup."

Immigrants Bringing Disease

New York, May 6.—The ocean liners arriving of late are averaging 1000 immigrants each. On Saturday among 1122 German immigrants on a vessel from Hamburg a case of smallpox was discovered. The patient was sent to the pest house, and over 100 passengers were removed from the vessel to Hoffman island. A steamer from Marseilles, which arrived here yesterday, had three cases of smallpox aboard. They were also sent to the pest house and 210 immigrants were sent to join the other suspects at the lower quarantine.

Cuban Delegates Satisfied

Havana, May 6.—The special commission of the Cuban constitutional convention, who went to Washington to obtain a better knowledge of the intentions of the United States goverament regarding Cuba, arrived here yesterday. Senor Llorente said the commission had held several conferences during the trip and that an understanding had been reached. He added that it would be necessary to hold another meeting, when the report of the commission would be drawn up, and a call issued for a conference with the other delegates.

Frances Raymond's Taking Off

New York, May 6.—Frances Raymond, an actress, committed suicide by inhaling gas yesterday in her home here. From clippings found in the apartment, letters, manuscripts, etc., the police learned that she once played with one of the Frohman traveling companies in the part of Lucy Hawkesworth, in "The Girl I Left Behind Me." For two weeks she had acted in an erractic manner. Miss Raymond's real name was Mrs. Schaffer. Her husband died 10 years ago.

Said to Have Used Clients' Money

New York, May 6.—Walter S. Miller, a colored lawyer of New Haven, was arraigned yesterday, charged with being a fugitive from justice. Miller is said to have had a large practice among the colored people of New Haven, and it is said that he collected about $1000 of his clients' money and left town about two months ago. Miller was held until Tuesday, and it is the intention to make an application for extradition papers.

Obstinacy Caused Seven Deaths

Chicago, May 6.—Seven persons were burned to death while asleep early yesterday in a tenement house at South Chicago. A freight train of 65 cars which was standing in front of the building, and which, it is claimed, the crew refused to move, blocked the firemen, who were unable to get near the burning building until it was too late. The train crew was arrested, and is being held without bail.

Dole Averse to Wasting Time

Honolulu, April 27.—Governor Dole has refused to extend the session of the legislature, although he was requested to do so by both houses. In a letter to the senate, answering its request for 30 days more to complete the legislation, the executive says that the session has been a waste of time and money, and he has no confidence that an extension would result in anything better.

Russian Police Are Busy

St. Petersburg, May 6.—During the last few days there have been wholesale arrests and seizures in connection with the alleged revolutionary movement. It is reported that persons of high position and reputation are involved. Several hundred persons have been arrested during the last 48 hours, including a number of prominent men.

Students Beaten by Cadets

Annapolis, Md., May 6.—In one of the prettiest and most exciting races that has ever been witnessed here, the naval cadets came out victorious in their annual eight-oared shell race with the Yale college crew, a distance of two miles and over a straight course.

Weather Conditions and Forecast

Almanac, Tuesday, May 7.
Sun rises—4:32; sets, 6:50.
Moon rises—9:37 p. m.
High water—1:15 a. m.; 1:45 p. m.

An area of high pressure seems to be developing over the mouth of the St. Lawrence, and a second area over the northern Rocky mountain region. The temperature will rise slowly in New England, and it will be fair. On the coast the winds will be brisk north to northwest.

CUT BY ITALIANS

Two Clinton Men Sustain Wounds of a Somewhat Serious Nature

Clinton, Mass., May 6.—Michael Joyce and Thomas Manning, both young men, were mixed up in a fight with two Italians yesterday on the tracks of the Boston and Maine railroad, about a mile from the center of the town, and when the row was over both young men were badly cut, while the Italians were nowhere to be found.

Joyce was able to get to his home unassisted, but was later taken to a hospital, where the doctors sawed up a gash eight inches long and three inches deep in his hip, while his collar bone was found to be dislocated.

Manning chased the Italians for some distance, until he fell to the ground from the loss of blood, and when attended by doctors was found to have one cut on his back three inches long near the spine, and two others in his head. Both men are very weak from loss of blood, but are expected to recover. The police searched the shanties where more than 1000 Italians are housed, near the reservoir, but were unable to find the men who are wanted.

A Mysterious Disappearance

Boston, May 6.—The disappearance of J. F. Bicknell of Bowdoinham, Me., on March 13, is singular enough to receive the attention at this time of the police. With something like $1000 in his pocket, Bicknell dropped out of sight. Two days later a postal card, dated Boston, was received by Bicknell's brother, George H. Bicknell of this city. The postal said: "I will go to Portland tonight. Will be back tomorrow." Bicknell got his money by legacy from an uncle who died in New Orleans recently.

Struck by Blazing Stove

Torrington, Conn., May 6.—Mrs. Henry Chiron, 40 years old, was fatally burned yesterday by the explosion of a kerosene oil stove. The stove caught fire while the woman and her husband were in the yard. Mr. Chiron rushed in and attempted to bring the stove down from the second story, and threw it just as his wife turned to ascend the stairs. It struck her clothing, enveloping her in a mass of flames. Chiron was severely burned in attempting to aid his wife.

Italians Stricken With Smallpox

Greenwich, Conn., May 6.—Six cases of smallpox have been discovered in a small Italian settlement at Bryan, near the New York state line. As the victims are unable to speak English, the health officer has been unable to ascertain the source of the disease. As the houses are in an isolated section the patients will not be removed, but a guard of six constables has been established to prevent any communication with other Italians.

The Linemen's Strike

Boston, May 6.—Sunday passed with scarcely a ripple to indicate that practically every lineman in the city and immediate suburbs are on a strike. There was no meeting of the union, nor conference with the officials of the different companies, and, as far as is known, no conference has been arranged for. The strike so far has caused no interruption to traffic and the public have not been perceptibly inconvenienced.

Fell on Top of Two Men

Manchester, N. H., May 6.—Philip Trottier, aged 27, fell from the third-story window of the Webster block last evening, and sustained injuries which may prove fatal. In his fall he struck Policeman Foye and Cornelius Jones, injuring the former slightly and the latter severely. Jones and Trottier were taken to a hospital.

Badly Governed Cities

New Haven, May 6.—Dr. Lyman Abbott of Brooklyn, in his sermon to the Yale students yesterday, made a strong arraignment of the municipal government of New York city, stating that New York was the worst governed city in the country, with Philadelphia a close second and Chicago in third place.

Despondency and d Suicide

Methuen, Mass., May 6.—Charles S. Lane, 42 years old, a pedler, died from arsenical poisoning last night. He had taken paris green and was found in a stable. Despondency over ill health is considered the likely cause. He leaves a widow and two children.

Shakes In New Hampshire

Milford, N. H., May 6.—A very perceptible earthquake shock was felt throughout southwestern New Hampshire at 3:27 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The shock was especially noticeable at Merrimac, where it lasted several seconds.

New England Baseball League

Augusta, Me., May 6.—The New England Baseball league schedule was given out by Manager Burnham last night. The schedule provides for 98 games, 49 at home, seven games with each club. The season will open May 15, and close Sept. 7.

Third Time Was Successful

Exeter, N. H., May 6.—Albert Lord, a fish pedler, aged 47, committed suicide by hanging. He had made two previous attempts, once taking laudanum and again by inhaling gas.

Poison Put In Wells

Vienna, May 6.—A gang of gypsies, in revenge for their previous capture by gendarmes, poisoned the wells in the village of Kapolya, Hungary, with the result that 15 persons have died of poisoning. Several of the gypsies have been arrested and strychnine was found in their possession.

Matters Straightening Out

Berlin, May 6.—In view of the favorable development of events here, says the Pekin correspondent of The Lokal Anzeiger, it is possible that Count Von Waldersee will return home about the middle of June.

A REMEDY FOR THE GRIPPE.

A remedy recommended for patients afflicted with the Grippe is KEMP'S BALSAM, which is especially adapted for the throat and lungs. Don't wait for the first symptoms of the disease! get a bottle today and keep it for use the moment it is needed. If neglected the grippe has a tendency to bring on pneumonia. KEMP'S BALSAM prevents this by keeping the cough loose, lungs free from inflammation. All druggists sell KEMP'S BALSAM at 25c. and 50c.

CONSTITUTION AFLOAT

The Launching Takes Place Without a Fault

CROWD SEES RACER'S SHAPE

Is Thought to Possess All of Columbia's Virtues and None of Her Faults —Pyrotechnic Display Added to the Gaiety of Baptismal Ceremony

Bristol, R. I., May 7.—The yacht Constitution was christened last evening by Mrs. W. B. Duncan, who broke a bottle of wine on her glistening bow just as she started slowly down the ways into the sea. The hull of the racer was gaily decorated with flags and her deck well filled with sailors.

A platform had been rigged under the bow of the boat, and on this Mrs. Duncan stood when the gong for the starting was sounded. Beside her on the platform was her husband, the manager of the new boat, but all the rest of the party stood a little distance off.

At the sound of the gong, Mrs. Duncan, with a banner in one hand and a bottle of wine in the other, dashed the bottle on the bow and as the wine gushed in the foam on the prow of the racer, the yacht acquired motion and slowly began her descent into the water. With the breaking of the bottle Mrs. Duncan said: "I christen thee Constitution."

The scene was a brilliant one as the Constitution was slowly lowered into the water, the cheering from the boats outside being vigorous, while the searchlight from the steam yacht Colonia just outside the dock illuminated the stern of the Constitution. Fireworks added not a little to the gaiety of the occasion.

The Herreshoff contingent was present in large numbers, but the crowd from New York was a small one, August Belmont and 17 others being present.

As the stern of the craft emerged from the shop the private signals of the members of the syndicate were displayed on small flagstaffs upon her deck. The signals were those of Messrs. Belmont, Stillman, Payne, Bourne and Walters. In addition there was the flag of Mr. Duncan.

As the vessel reached the water the flash of the searchlight grew more intense and greater became the display of rockets and roman candles. Twelve minutes after the yacht started the cradle was floated from under the bilge and the Constitution was fairly afloat.

The New York party repaired almost immediately to the tender Mount Morris where more bottles of wine were cracked and general merriment ensued.

In half an hour the ceremony was over. The clear night was admirable for the pyrotechnical display. The spectators generally came to the conclusion that the new cup defender is actually a much improved Columbia, with all her sterling virtues and none of her trifling faults. The yacht was hauled out of her mooring. She will be taken alongside the dock today and her masts will be stepped.

There was no hitch, everything worked without a fault. The Herreshoffs, seeing that only a small crowd was present, practically opened the shop to all comers. It was possible to see much of the yacht's shape as she rested on the ways illuminated by the brilliant electric lights. Once clear of the shed she was lost in the blackness of the night.

Commons Adopts Coal Tax

London, May 7.—The house of commons early this morning adopted the coal tax by a vote of 333 to 227. Consequently the tax of a shilling a ton on export coal was adopted by a majority of 106. These figures, apparently, do not represent the feeling of the members of the house, but the government made the issue strictly a party one and secured the record attendance for this parliament, and by vigorous efforts polled within a score of the normal majority.

Stomach Out of Order

New York, May 7.—Charles F. Jones, who, with Attorney Patrick, is charged with the murder of William M. Rice, is ill at the house of detention. It is the intention of the district attorney to have him removed to a hospital. Jones is suffering from an attack of acute dyspepsia, and for a week has only been able to take milk and seltzer into his stomach.

Census Fraud Indictments

Washington, May 7.—The director of the census has been notified that indictments had been returned yesterday to the federal court siting in Baltimore in the cases of the four men under arrest for census frauds in Maryland. There are 3565 items in the counts and the papers in the cases weighed 48 pounds.

Three Fishermen Drowned

SWAN WON'T TALK

Refuses to Answer Questions Concerning Arlington's Town Books

Arlington, Mass., May 7.—A number of the town officials and several police officers visited Roland A. Swan, the former assistant to the town clerk, in the jail at Cambridge yesterday, in the endeavor to obtain some information regarding the missing cashbook. Swan refused to say anything or to answer any questions, but whether this was from his physical condition or a deliberate attempt to mystify the town officials could not be ascertained.

The stubs on the checkbook have been carefully gone over, and foot up a total of $12,600, while the amount on deposit showed only $8000. The officials state that Swan did all the calling off, and that the other officials in the office left all such matters to him.

There was a small run yesterday on the Arlington Savings bank caused, it is said, by the remarks of a priest in his sermon on Sunday. The deposits withdrawn amounted to between $5000 and $6000, but as the bank is one of the strongest in the state, the run gave the officials little anxiety.

Canoeists Meet Death

Springfield, Mass., May 7.—Charles N. Wrightington, 31 years old, superintendent of the Ludlow Manufacturing company's No. 8 mill at Ludlow, and Foster W. Taft, 28, chief electrical engineer for the company, were drowned in the Chicopee river last evening, while attempting to shoot the rapids at Indian Leap rock. Their canoe capsized and they were carried away by the undertow. Wrightington was the son of a Boston merchant. He was a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of technology. Taft was a native of Providence, and a graduate of Brown university.

Textile Workers' Convention

Somersworth, N. H., May 7.—The annual convention of the National Association of Textile Operators of America began yesterday in Weavers' hall in this city. President Hart welcomed the delegates and predicted a prosperous year. Secretary Hibbert reported that the association was in good condition, that there had been no large strikes during the year and therefore no calls for assistance. Considerable money was spent for legislation, both in New Hampshire and Massachusetts. An amalgamation of all the textile workers in America was strongly advocated.

Status of Linemen's Strike

Boston, May 7.—The striking linemen won their first victory yesterday, when the Charlestown Gas and Electric company yielded to their demand for a nine-hour day and $3 per day pay. The Boston Elevated road has practically decided to ignore the strikers altogether. The board of directors yesterday decided that no action was necessary, for the reason that the union had ordered the strike before the company had been given an opportunity to consider the request of the men.

Thief Captured by Bicyclists

Boston, May 7.—Two bicyclists yesterday chased a house thief from Jamaica Plain to Brookline, and caught him. He gave the name of Daniel Edwards. He had been found by Mrs. William Cronin ransacking her apartments, and she grabbed him and held on to his clothing until he had dragged her out into the street. Two officers saw him and gave chase, later asking for aid from the cyclists.

Strike of Freight Handlers

Boston, May 7.—A committee from Springfield, representing the freight handlers employed on the Boston and Albany railroad, held a conference here yesterday with General Manager Barnes in connection with the demands of the men for an increase in wages from $1.50 to $1.75 a day. No agreement was reached, and as a result the men struck. Freight is tied up to some extent.

A $250,000 Fire at Lowell

Lowell, Mass., May 7.—The plant of the Fifield Tool company was destroyed by fire last night, entaining a loss of $250,000, exclusive of that on orders which it will be necessary to cancel. The origin of the fire is a mystery. The shop, which was devoted to the manufacture of iron-working machinery, and lathes, was running to its full capacity, 100 men being employed.

Strike Quickly Ended

Springfield, Mass., May 7.—The journeymen plumbers who went on strike yesterday morning for an 8-hour day and a $3.50 wage, were granted their demands by the master plumbers last evening. At a conference between the Plumbers' union and the Master Plumbers' association it was agreed to appoint a joint standing grievance committee to settle future differences.

Worcester, Mass., May 7.—Robert H. Hartford, 29 years old, an employe of the Shredded Wheat company, had both legs severed while at work yesterday afternoon, and died from the shock and loss of blood. Eastman and Grogan Enjoyed Each Other's Company

INDULGED IN MANY SPORTS

In Which Shooting at a Mark Mostly Took Their Fancy—Wife of Accused Man Testifies to Cordial Relations Between the Two Families

Cambridge, Mass., May 7.—The third week of the trial of Charles R. Eastman, charged with the murder of Richard H. Grogan, Jr., on July 4 last, opened yesterday. The defendant faced the trying ordeal with which he was confronted with the same confident air that has characterized his demeanor since the trial was begun, two weeks ago.

The day was spent by the defense in piling up additional evidence to support the contention that the relations between the defendant and the victim of the shooting were at all times pleasant, amicable and cordial. No mention was made of rim fire or center fire bullets or revolvers, and no witnesses were introduced to qualify as experts on firearms.

The incidents of the fatal day were scarcely touched upon, for both morning and afternoon sessions were given up entirely to Eastman's friends and his wife, and the witnesses one after another testified that the relations between the two men were of the best. The evidence showed that the families were at all times congenial, that the two men enjoyed many athletic sports, boxed, jumped and played ball and frequently indulged in checkers together. But the sport which mostly took their fancy was shooting at a mark.

No word of quarrel, ill-feeling or jealousy came out during the day, although one or two of the witnesses underwent a rigorous cross-examination by the attorney general.

Mrs. Eastman, wife of the defendant, took the stand just before the close of the afternoon session, and had not finished her testimony when the court adjourned. She went over briefly her marriage with Eastman, her life in Germany, and the period up to six months before the shooting. She also said that the relations of the two men were cordial, and she never remembered a time when they did not speak. The families frequently dined together, the children had their Christmas trees together, she spoke to Grogan about taking the lens business, and on Thanksgiving joined with him in giving a dinner to a poor family.

It is expected that the defense will finish with its testimony on the relations between the two men by this noon, and that their experts in opposition to those that the government produced will consume the rest of the day. This will bring the chief witness of the trial, the accused man, on the stand tomorrow, giving Thursday and Friday to the arguments and charge, so that the jury will get the case about Friday night.

Echo of the Maine Disaster

Washington, May 7.—A claim was filed with the Spanish claims commission yesterday in behalf of Harry McCann, a seaman on the Maine when she was blown up in Havana harbor, asking $10,000 for injuries sustained by him in consequence of the explosion. A claim of $20,000 was filed in behalf of Catherine Burns, whose son was killed by the same explosion. Butler & Harwood of New York city, who filed the claims, base them on the ground that Spain directly, or by reason of negligence, was responsible for the explosion.

Noted Peruvian Dead

Paris, May 7.—Mariano Ignacio Prado, ex-president of Peru, is dead. He was born in 1826. He participated in General Castilla's revolution against Echenique's government in 1854. He marched against Lima in 1865, and entered the capital at the head of a victorious army. He declared himself dictator and was subsequently elected constitutional president by the Peruvian congress. He was again elected president in 1876.

Jouisville Workmen Idle

Louisville, May 7.—Three thousand union working men of the Louisville building trades are on strike, and failed to appear for work this morning. The cause is a disagreement with the contractors regarding the employment of non-union labor, other points of difference having been settled. The contractors will advertise for men to take the strikers' places.

Probably Killed Himself

Brockton, Mass., May 7.—Theodore D. Blackwell disappeared from his home here last Saturday. His wife has received a letter from him saying that it was his intention to take his life. Sometime ago he began building a tenement house, but met with financial reverses, which brought on despondency.

Found in the Kennebec

Waterville, Me., May 7.—A floating body was discovered in the Kennebec opposite this city yesterday. The body was evidently that of a boy, and had been in the water a long time. Inquiry among the towns up the river bring no information regarding the drowning of a boy during the winter.

To the Interested Bicycle Public.

My opening day statement and challenge was that I would easily be the leading bicycle dealer of Quincy this year. I expected to gain this end by selling the finest line of bicycles within my power to secure, at fair prices. Not to misrepresent or deceive my customers and friends. It is your friendship and trade I want and in return you can expect honest statements, honest treatment and perfect satisfaction from me. I am pleased with the jealousy my success has developed in my competitors. It simply means that I have bicycles and a policy of selling that is popular.

Give me a call and examine my line of wheels. I am not a mud slinger or sharp skate. I can deliver all bicycles at the prices asked. This is more than my competitors can do.

Proposals for Coal and Wood.

QUINCY.

THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE of the City of Quincy will, until Wednesday noon, May 15, 1901, receive proposals for furnishing and delivering the whole or a part of the following: 325 tons White Ash Egg Coal, 100 tons Lehigh Egg, 400 tons Lehigh Broken, and 200 tons High Grade Bituminous Coal.

The best quality of screened coal must be furnished in proper quantities and sizes to supply the several school buildings. The bids must include the trimming of the bins.

The Committee will also receive proposals for furnishing and delivering within the school buildings, the whole or a part of the following: 24 cords of pine wood and 10 cords of hard wood. The wood must be of the best quality and must be cut into lengths required by the different schools. The bids for the pine and the hard wood must be separate.

Storage rooms of the several school buildings to be filled on or before August 31, but the prices to hold good up to January 1, 1902.

The right to reject any and all bids is reserved. Address sealed proposals, distinctly marked on the outside of the envelope, "Proposals for Fuel," to

Good Afternoon.

Quincy will have distinguished visitors in July, for we are now assured that President McKinley will visit the "City of Presidents" on Friday, July 5. It is expected that His Excellency will be accompanied by Mrs. McKinley and several members of his cabinet, and it is probable that Senator Lodge, and some of the Massachusetts Congressmen will also come. Mayor Hall is enjoined not to make arrangements for a grand hurrah, as it is not the wish of the President, particularly on account of Mrs. McKinley, who is constantly in the care of a physician. It is the desire of the President to quietly visit this historic city—the birthplace, the home, and the burial place of President John Adams and President John Quincy Adams; also the birthplace of John Hancock whose signature heads the names signed to the Declaration of Independence. The city where the first incorporated railroad in the United States was constructed and operated, and where is now building some of the powerful ships of destruction for the modern navy of the country. A city renowned for its public schools and for its unexcelled Quincy granite for memorials.

It would be fitting that the patriotic societies and the school children should take a prominent part in the welcome to be extended to the President. Let the children be massed with color effect upon a grand stand, either in the vicinity of the birthplaces of the Presidents or in City Square. Let them be heard in songs, to include "Our Public Schools," by Mr. Frederic Allison Tupper and other patriotic selections. Let the city be decorated in flags and bunting and become in every way a gala city. Some mementoes of granite might be presented to President and Mrs. McKinley. It is only eight weeks from next Friday to the eventful day, and plans should be speedily made and work commenced.

To Welcome President.

The May meeting of Adams chapter, Daughters of the Revolution, was held on Monday afternoon at the John Adams birthplace with about fifty present. The usual routine business was transacted, and the delegates to the National convention in Brooklyn, N. Y., gave interesting reports of the meetings after which came the literary program, which came the literary program, which was in the hands of Mrs. Walter E. Simmons, chairman of the committee for the afternoon.

Rev. Merrill C. Ward of Hingham, pastor of the Universalist church of this city, gave an interesting paper on Brattleboro, Vermont, and Mrs. Herbert J Gurney a very bright talk on Plympton, an old Massachusetts town. Her anecdotes and bits of history, interwoven with ancient legends and Indian stories interested all.

Chocolate, tea, cake and tempting refreshments were served by the committee during the social hour.

The June meeting will be the last before the summer vacation, but there will be occasional informal meetings. Members will meet on the morning of July fifth to welcome President and Mrs. McKinley, to the birthplace of John Adams.

Great Bankrupt Sale.

The Retailers' Clearance Co., of 1521 Hancock street, Quincy, Brasee's old stand, will open Saturday, May 11, with a fine stock of dry goods bought from the assignees of Charles Rice, Athol's leading merchant at 53 cents on the dollar. Watch for particulars.

To Committees on Fire Department and Ordinances.

NEW SAFES.

A communication of the Mayor set forth that additional safe accommodations were needed for the Assessors and City Clerk.

Later an order for $500 was offered which was referred to the Committee on Finance and Public Buildings.

CLAIMS.

A communication of the Mayor stated that the Quincy Mutual Fire Insurance Co. claim for damages by widening Coddington street and the claims of T. J. Lamb and Sarah J. Dolan, for damages for widening Copeland street, could be settled by the Council cheaper out of court. To Committe on Claims.

NO LIGHT.

The Mayor returned the order for a street light on Federal avenue as the location was not an accepted street. Placed on file.

APPOINTMENT.

The Mayor forwarded the appointment of Francis A. Spear as sealer of weights and measures and the appointment was confirmed.

PRESIDENT COMING.

The Mayor in a communication stated that assurances had been received that President McKinley would visit Quincy, July 5, and suggested the appointing of committee of the Council to act with the Mayor to arrange details.

Councilman Freeman moved and it was voted that a committee of seven, to include the president of the Council, be appointed.

PETITIONS.

The Old Colony Street Railway Co. petitioned for a location on the Washington street bridge.

To Committee on Streets.

Mrs. J. McIntosh petitioned for an award of $400 for damages by the laying out of Arthur street. To Committee on Claims.

Several petitions for State aid and minor licenses were received and referred.

Order for $500 for gravel sidewalks on Clark street. To Committee on Finance.

Leave to withdraw on laying out Prospect street as a public way.

Order for $3,000 for improving Grove street $800 of which to be for paved gutters. To Committee on Finance.

Order for $800 for improving that portion of Central avenue between Prospect and Belmont streets. To Committee on Finance.

Order for $1,400 for rebuilding Atlantic street. To Committee on Finance.

Order for a gravel sidewalk on Liberty street. To Committee on Finance.

Order for street lights on Berlin street, and at the corner of Holmes street and Billings road. Rules suspended and orders passed.

Order for public hearings May 20, on acceptance of Rogers street and establishing the grade of Howard avenue.

Order for $2,000 for a storm sewer on Water street. To Committee on Finance.

Order for location of poles for New England Telephone Co. on Beach and Shaw streets. Ordered to a second reading.

ASSESSORS PLANS.

The Committee on Finance reported a substitute order for $1,000 for Assessors' plans. To Committee on Ordinances.

The same Committee reported on the order for $6,000 for house connections with the sewer. Rules suspended and order passed.

The Committee on Licenses reported favorable on number of petitions for minor licenses, and unfavorable on a number of junk wagon licenses. Reports accepted.

CALENDAR.

The Committee on Ordinances reported favorable on the order authorizing the clerk to have the calendar of matters pending in the Council printed.

Councilman Gassett stated that the cost would not exceed $250.

Councilman Freeman moved to refer to Finance Committee.

Councilman DeNormandie opposed. If the expense would not be over $250 a year we should have it, and if it was to be of any use it should be passed now.

The motion to refer to a committee was lost. The rules were then suspended and the order passed.

NEW RULE DEFEATED.

The Committee on Ordinances reported ought to pass on the amendment to Rule 25 providing all orders shall be referred to a Committee.

Councilman Freeman opposed. It would work badly for the city in certain cases. For instance the order to sell the sewer plant. If the rule was then in force it would have prevented the order passing on time.

Councilman Bass thought the last speaker's remarks were without logic. In cases of urgent need the rules could be suspended. It would stop snapshot legislation by the Council. Under the present rules an order can be passed without consideration.

Councilman Alden was called to the chair.

President Bryant taking the floor said: We do not want to load up committees with useless orders that could be disposed of here. This rule had been tried by early Councils who found it retarded business. Whenever an order is introduced any number can have it referred to a committee upon request. He did not believe in hampering legislation by such matters.

Councilman DeNormandie said that but a small number catch the full import of an order when introduced. A majority of City Councils have such a rule. He believed a committee could better consider these matters than the whole council. They could make a more intelligent report. He thought it wise to go slow on many questions. Under this rule a person wishing to object had two opportunities.

Councilman Nichols thought the rule unnecessary. The Council had ample opportunity to have matters referred if it desires. Matters had been acted upon in undue haste, but it was because members were not alert. They must be alert.

The Council refused to adopt the amendment.

STREET RAILWAY TAX.

Councilman Freeman offered an order that the street railway tax amounting to $6,330 be expended by the Commissioner of Public Works as provided by the act. To Committee on Finance.

WARREN AVENUE BRIDGE.

Upon motion of Councilman Nichols the majority and minority reports on the order for the Warren avenue bridge were taken from the table.

The report which favored the order was adopted, and the order referred to the Committee on Ordinances.

Adjourned at 8.35.

A Legitimate Investment

Which Increased Over 700 per cent.

WITHIN SIX MONTHS.

The Arcola Oil Company's stock sold for $135 per 1,000 shares, and in six months $1,000 per 1,000 shares was refused for the stock, for the reason that the first well was a large producer and there is room for forty wells on the Company's land, which makes it about certain that the stock in the near future will be worth ten dollars per share.

We offer you the same opportunity for a large gain by investing in the Dirigo Oil Company's stock, the first block of which is being sold for $150 per 1,000 shares. The Company owns a block of land adjoining the Arcola Company's land which has large producing wells on all four sides. There is eighty acres of the Company's land in the center of the oil belt, which we feel absolutely certain will give a large producing well in each acre.

We now have machinery on the ground, and are ready to sink the first well, and expect to strike oil by May 1st, which will then make the stock worth par value, if the well is as good a producer as the Arcola.

The block of stock we are selling is about three-quarters sold and quick application will have to be made to secure any of it at the present price.

BRO. WASHINGTON.

Strongly Attached to the Masonic Order While President.

Next month Rural lodge of Masons of this city will have a two days' celebration of the centennial of its institution.

It is the purpose of the Daily Ledger in the meantime to give almost daily some reference to this popular fraternity:—its history, its origin, its advantages; its progress; its prominent members, etc. And especially incidents of 100 years ago, and also the history of Rural lodge.

In reply to the letter of Mar. 21,1797, of the Grand Lodge of Masons of Massachusetts in yesterday's Ledger, George Washington wrote as follows:

"To the Grand Lodge of Ancient, Free and Accepted Masons in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

"Brothers—It was not until these few days, that I have been favoured by the receipt of your affectionate address, dated in Boston the 21st of March.

"For the favourable sentiments you have been pleased to express on the occasion of my past services, and for the regrets with which they are accompanied for the cessation of my public functions, I pray you to accept my best acknowledgments and gratitude.

"No pleasure, except that which results from a consciousness of having, to the utmost of my abilities, discharged the trust which has been reposed in me by my country, can equal the satisfaction I feel from the unequivocal proofs I continually receive of its approbation of my public conduct; I beg you to be assured, that the evidence thereof, which is exhibited by the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts, is not among the least pleasing or grateful to my feelings.

"In that retirement which declining years induced me to seek, and which repose, to a mind long employed in public concerns, rendered necessary, my wishes that bounteous Providence will continue to bless and preserve our country in peace, and in the prosperity it has enjoyed, will be warm and sincere: and my attachment to the society of which we are members, will dispose me always to contribute my best endeavours to promote the honour and interest of the craft.

"For the prayers you offer in my behalf, I entreat you to accept the thanks of a grateful heart, with the assurance of my fraternal regard, and the best wishes for the honour, happiness and a prosperity of all the members of the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts.

(Signed) G. Washington."

Tomorrow the Ledger will publish a letter of the Grand Lodge written to Mrs. Martha Washington on the death of the ex-President.

Expect a Full House.

The understudies of the Castle Square theatre who are to perform here on Friday evening, have been augumented by many others who were not to be found in the cast of April 12, when "Ten Nights in a Bar-room' was given. Many of these additions are older and more experienced persons—therefore it is but fair to expect at least as clean cut and smooth a performance as the last one, and possibly a little better.

Enough has been said of the cast in former issues to give the public an idea of who are to take part, and doubtless many of those who were conspicuous for the degree of excellency they attained in the first play, will be remembered. Foremost among them are Messrs. Pierce, MacHardy and Savean and the Misses Hubener and Harding.

There were considerable number of persons who foretold failure for the performance of April 12, because of the ancient and time-honored piece presented. There is perhaps little doubt in our own minds that the play was a rather stale one, although one which is always certain of a degree of patronage.

This time, however, there is no such vehicle for the talents of the performers. The play to be given is new in every sense of the word—one which should be of interest to all on account of its being a first professional production. The performance on the 10th will undoubtedly take on the aspect of a first night in many ways—and should therefore be looked forward to on that account. The cost of the production being large in proportion to what such productions generally are the prices are slightly higher than they were a month ago.

The excellence of the performance will be of a higher grade—and the entertainment of a more gratifying and satisfying nature. It might be well to mention that the prices will be twenty-five, thirty-five and fifty cents to the general public as only about a dozen of the seventy-five cent seats remain unsold.

A "sold right out" house is assured if advance sales are anything to go by. A novel souvenir will be given all male patrons of the Understudies. It might be mentioned that this is not because the company is not fond of the ladies.

Grammar school league games tomorrow.

THEY LET HER OUT.

A Very Satisfactory Trial of the Lawrence.

Twenty-eight knots an hour, or about 32 1-4 land miles—the speed of an express train—was the rate at which the trim little torpedo boat destroyer Lawrence plowed through the waves on one of its builders' trial trips on Monday says the Post, which comments as follows:

On the first trip a vessel of this class proceeds very slowly, while every position of the machinery is closely watched and tested. The next trip is only a little faster, and the speed record gradually climbs from 14 to 15 knots up into the twenties.

Such was the case with the Lawrence, but after 24 knots had been attained there came a month of foggy, stormy weather, when it was not safe to venture out—safe enough, perhaps, for the Lawrence, but not for other vessels which she might come upon in the mist.

Yesterday, conditions favorable, the Lawrence went over the course off Gloucester, which will be the course for its official trial trip in a few weeks. The engineer "let her out," with the results above stated. Greatly pleased were the proprietors of the Fore River Engine Company, which had built the ship. It is believed that she has not yet come any where near her limit of speed, and on her trial trip will be able to establish a speed well up in the thirties.

Some of the builders of torpedo boats and torpedo boat destroyers for the navy are said to be greatly wrought up over the prospect that the plans of the crafts being built under departmental design will have to be changed if the high rate of speed required is to be attained.

The builders of the Lawrence say that they will not have to change the model of that boat, because she is built after the company's plans, and that she will undoubtedly fulfil all requirements. As a matter of fact, the department is using the Fore River model boat in making experiments, the results of which are to be embodied in other topredo boats; their model is being used to work up to the standard.

Birthday Surprise.

"With a woman's tact," a very successful surprise was arranged for and delightfully carried out Monday evening by Mrs. Williiam H. Fay in the gathering of some twenty-five or thirty of her husband's relatives and near friends upon his birthday. Number 12 Greenleaf street, their home, was the place of gathering, and a more complete surprise or delightful occasion seldom comes to our notice. Many kind remembrances were added to greetings, and when the last "who'll be the next" had escaped his lips, Mrs. Fay presented to him a package of letters from an infirm mother and other would-be participants. Mrs. Fay seems to have imbibed, either from her husband's business life or from heredity, the ability to "insure" at least a good time to such as are favored with the request—"the pleasure of your company." A nephew and a neighbor provided the musical treat, and led in the young folks' "indispensable sing."

Tonight.

The performance of the "Social Outlaw," will be the event at the Music hall tonight, when Miss Nellie Coffey and George W. Wilson, with the entire company, will present the above play. It is the strongest in Mr. Wilson's repertoire, and will be given with attention to detail, etc. As in the in the past, Miss Coffey will try to excel each previous performance, and the public may depend on seeing a first class performance in every respect if not the very best of the season. Seats are on sale at Music hall pharmacy at 25, 35 and 50 cents, and the largest sale of the season is recorded.

Supt. Parlin Elected.

An important meeting of the directors of the Woodward Institute was held last week at which it was voted to employ Supt. Frank E. Parlin of the public schools as superintendent of the Woodward Institute for one year, commencing with the fall term next September at a salary of $300 per year.

Whether or not Mr. Parlin will accept is not known as yet, but probably much will depend upon the wishes of the School Committee.

There are now attending the high school over one hundred Quincy born girls who could easily be accommodated at the Woodward. Removing this number from the high school would greatly relieve the pressure, and possible put off the necessity of enlarging the present building.

New Factory.

The United States Standard Scale Co., manufacturers of automatic weighing machines, whose factory is now located in the Bay State Aluminum building on Granite street, has purchased of Sherman & Nickerson 70,000 feet of land at Wollaston for factory purposes. The land purchased is situated off Standish avenue and adjoins the factory of the Translucent Fabric Co. It is understood that the company will immediately commence the erection of a brick factory building for the manufacture of its scales and will give employment to 50 or 100 hands.

Strike Extended.

Five linemen employed in the construction department of the Old Colony street railway, have joined the linemen's strike, which is now in progress in Boston and vicinity. The street railway people say that they are in no ways hampered by the strike.

A Tragedy In Earnest

Davenport, Ia., May 7.—Emil Mohr and Charles Reis, with Gus Siems were teasing August Blunck, and wound up by tieing a rope about his waist with the avowed intention of hanging him. The strain on the rope caused the fastenings of the pulley, 60 feet above, to give way. An iron pulley struck Reis on the head, killing him. A falling scantling brained Mohr. Blunck was slightly injured.

How the Sultan Punishes

London, May 7.—It is rumored, says the Constantinople correspondent of The Daily Express, that the sultan shot dead a physician who, while attending him for ear complaint and massaging him, unwittingly caused his majesty intense pain. The chamberlain rushed into the room and the sultan, who supposed there was an attempt upon his life, fired again, wounding the chamberlain.

A REMEDY FOR THE GRIPPE.

A remedy recommended for patients afflicted with the Grippe is KEMP'S BALSAM, which is especially adapted for the throat and lungs. Don't wait for the first symptoms of the disease! get a bottle today and keep it for use the moment it is needed. If neglected the grippe has a tendency to bring on pneumonia. KEMP'S BALSAM prevents this by keeping the cough loose, lungs free from inflammation. All druggists sell KEMP'S BALSAM at 25c. and 50c.

SPEECHMAKING AT EL PASO

President Bids Welcome to Mexicans and Expresses Belief In Arbitration of International Differences—No Militarism or Imperialism Exists Here

Phoenix, Ari., May 7.—The presidential special reached here this morning. Just before leaving El Paso the president, in a public address, thanked the people for their hospitality. Continuing, he said:

"I cannot fail also to recognize the cordial welcome which has been given to me by the governor of the neighboring state of the Mexican republic. I cannot go over there, but they can come here, and we bid them welcome with open hearts. Here we are on the border line between the United States and another great republic, and on this side of the line we have 35 American soldiers, and on that side of the line there are less than 150 Mexican soldiers. So that we are dwelling in peace and amity, causing peace on earth and good will to men.

"We want to settle our differences, if we have any with any of the powers of the world, by arbitration. We want to exhaust every peaceable means for settlement before we go to war, and, while we have authority to raise 100,000 troops, the necessity does not exist for that number, and we do not propose to raise but 75,000. So don't be alarmed about militarism and imperialism. We know no imperialism in the United States, except the imperialism of a sovereign people."

Members of the cabinet also spoke. At the conclusion of the address the party, including the Mexican officials, went for a drive. The president expressed a desire to take a look over into Mexico, and was driven down to the international bridge. There, at the office of the American customs officer, he alighted and chatted for some time with those around him. On the way back to the city the party stopped and cheered the Mexican consulate.

Shortly after leaving El Paso, the train crossed the line into New Mexico and ran through the grazing section of the territory. The first stop in the territory was made at Deming, where the president was welcomed by Governor Otero and his staff. The address of welcome at Deming was largely devoted to New Mexico's claim for statehood.

Grand Scenes at Melbourne

Melbourne, May 7.—There was a picturesque scene at the parliament house when the procession of the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York, accompanied by overnor Hopetoun, the state and federal ministers and the guard of honor arrived there yesterday afternoon. Assembled on the steps of the building were the foreign ministers, the representatives of the colonies, the American and other consuls, the officers of the visiting warships and a host of other prominent persons. The royal party reached the government house at 4 o'clock. Then there was a scene of the greatest enthusiasm. It is believed that a crowd numbering 300,000 persons witnessed the procession. Last night the city and harbor were ablaze with illuminations of a most elaborate description.

Bad Wreck In Iowa

Ottumwa, Ia., May 7.—A Burlington passenger train, while passing Thayer yesterday, struck an engine attached to a freight train which was endeavoring to get out of the way by backing on the side track and was derailed, killing Engineer Brown and injuring 30 people, two or three fatally. Both tracks for a great distance are heavily curved and neither engineer could see the other train until within 200 feet of it. The passenger engine was hurled down a 20-foot embankment, followed by the baggage car, express car, day coach and three chair cars.

Squabble Over a Flag

London, May 7.—A dispute has arisen as to the ownership of the flag which Queen Victoria presented to the hospital ship Maine. Mrs. George Cornwallis-West (Lady Randolph Churchill) asserts that it belongs to her, and Bernard Baker, owner of the vessel, declares that it is his property. The flag is now in Lady Randolph's possession. Mrs. West claims the flag as her own, but has intimated her willingness to send it to the United States government, to be placed as a relic in some national museum.

Monongahela Is Safe

Washington, May 7.—A good deal of apprehension which has been felt in regard to the training ship Monongahela, which left San Juan March 23 last for Yorktown, Va., and was due to arrive at the latter point on May 1, was set at rest yesterday by the receipt of a telegram from her commanding officer at the navy department, indicating her safe arrival in port. The six days' delay was caused by head winds.

New Treaty Advises Neutrality

London, May 7.—The Associated Press has been officially notified that Lord Pauncefote has received from Secretary Hay the draft of a new Nicaraguan canal treaty. It is understood that it advises neutrality.

Complimentary to Milner

Cape Town, May 7.—A complimentary address, signed by 10,000 persons, was presented to Sir Alfred Milner at a banquet here last night.

RELIEF POURING IN

Money and Supplies Helping to Alleviate Suffering at Jacksonville

Jacksonville, Fla., May 7.—The work of relief here is progressing systematically. The relief association yesterday increased its committee of nine to 15, appointed a financial committee of five, adopted a constitution, and made temporary organization permanent. Three dead have been recovered.

Six thousand destitute were fed yesterday by the Relief association. The receipts of cash by the Relief association and other agencies approximated $50,000 last night.

Ten carloads of supplies were received yesterday from Charleston, and one from Atlanta, as well as many other smaller lots. Perfect order prevails, and the work of rebuilding has commenced.

Shooting In a Cuban Theatre

Santiago, May 7.—The Cubano Libre had published a statement accusing Ricardo Miranda and two companions of indulging in drunken and disorderly conduct on Sunday night. Miranda, accompanied by his companions, called at Editor Corona's house yesterday, and left a message that they would whip Corona on sight. Last night, at the theatre here, Miranda entered Corona's box, and attempted to assault him with a cane. Corona quickly drew a revolver and shot Miranda above the ear, inflicting a painful, but not dangerous, wound. The attack is a result of the political feeling between the two Cuban factions and considerable excitement has been aroused. All the participants in the affair are in jail.

All Must Be Vaccinated

Greenwich, Conn., May 7.—One new case of smallpox, making seven in all, was found yesterday in the Italian colony. Six large hospital tents have been erected for the patients' occupancy and the houses where the disease was found will probably be burned. A general public vaccination has been decided upon.

Profitable Sealing Season

St. John's, May 7.—The season's seal fishery came to a close with the arrival at this port of the sealer Virginia Lake. The total catch was 350,000 seals, valued at $600,000. There was not a single fatality or serious accident among the 5000 men engaged, and only one vessel, the Hope, was lost.

Unusual Importation of Onions

New York, May 7.—There are on the steamer Georgic, which is now due here from Liverpool, consignments of onions amounting to 16,933 bags. It is estimated that their value is about $42,330. It is said that good onions are now rather scarce in the New York market, and such sell rapidly.

Desperate Woman's Deed

Petosky, Mich., May 7.—Mrs. William A. Martin, wife of a railroad agent here, yesterday threw her two children and herself into the bay, after a family quarrel. All three were rescued by fishermen, but the youngest child, aged 4, will die from exposure and shock.

New Move of Boers

Klersdorp, May 7.—General De La Roy's force of 4000 Boers, who have been in the hills around Hartebeestfontein, is splitting up. Some of the men are moving to the southwest, while others are going north. De La Roy himself is moving south.

Russian Used a Dirk

Tientsin, May 7.—The Russian lieutenant, Telekovsky, from the gunboat Bohr, was shot dead by a German soldier during a fracas on the Taku road. The German fired in self-defense, Lieutenant Telekovsky having attacked him with his dirk.

NEWS IN BRIEF

The State Street Trust company of Boston has increased its capital stock from $500,000 to $600,000, making its total capitalization $900,000.

The London Daily Express asserts that Miss Irene Van Brugh, the actress, is betrothed to Dion Boucicault.

George Ide, a retired manufacturer, died at Lyndonville, Vt., at the age of 80 years, after several years' illness. He had served in both branches of the state legislature, and as sheriff of Caledonia county.

A curfew ordinance was passed by both branches of the Portland, Me., city council. It stipulates that children under 15 years of age must be off the public streets by 9 p. m.

Nicholas Wall, a Boston coal cart driver, fell from his seat and was killed under the wheels.

HART SENT TO PRISON

Swindler Admits Having Been Convicted of Crime In Many States

New York, May 7.—The trial of Paul D. Hart for grand larceny was begun yesterday before Recorder Goff. Hart was first heard of when he was arrested some time ago on a charge of attempting blackmail. While in the tombs it is charged that he wrote to Mrs. Elizabeth C. Currie of Toronto, representing himself to be her husband, saying he was in the tombs under the name of Hart. Mrs. Currie sent $400.

The jury found Hart guilty of grand larceny, the defense putting in no testimony. To the court the prisoner acknowledged that he had been convicted of forgery in Pennsylvania, Illinois, Tennessee, Massachusetts, Connecticut and New Jersey, and that he had been known as Hart, Stoddard and David E. Adams.

Hart had in cash $413, and during the closing of the trial the court ordered $400 of this to be paid to Mr. Currie of Toronto, who was in court, and this was done. Recorder Goff then sentenced Hart to four years and six months in prison.

Murdered Her Child

New Bedford, Mass., May 7.—Martha Roseman, a German mill operative, aged 33, married, but living apart from her husband, was arrested last night for the self-confessed murder of her infant illegitimate child. The child was killed at birth, although she confesses that the child was born alive. Afterwards she concealed the body under the sink in her tenement for a week, and later she buried it in a hole which she dug under the concrete floor of her cellar. The details of the woman's crime as related to the police are horrible in the extreme.

Bank President Missing

Cleveland, May 7.—The doors of the Cuyahoga Savings and Banking company in this city were not opened for business yesterday. Notice was posted that "on account of the continued absence of R. N. Pollock, the president, the directors have concluded to suspend payment until such time as they can make an examination of their affairs." President Pollock left the city 10 days ago, ostensibly for New York. Since that time nothing has been heard from him. Experts were put to work on the bank's books yesterday.

Wind Wrought Havoc

Houston, May 7.—A high wind, accompanied by heavy rains and hail, did considerable damage to houses and crops in Milam Falls and Limestone counties last night. Paileyville, a town of 175 people, is reported as having been wrecked, and a number of people are reported injured. At McClanahan the Baptist church was wrecked and a colored man killed and a dozen white people injured. The cotton and grain crops over a wide section were laid waste.

Conger's Estimate of Wu

Chicago, May 7.—"Minister Wu is a hero and is entitled to the lasting gratitude of every American citizen. This statement now being circulated that I ever challenged the truthfulness or his honesty of intention is absolutely false." In these words Minister Conger disposes of the charge that he is at enmity with Wu Ting Fang. Minister Conger arrived here last night on his way to Washington, where he is going to report to the state department.

A Novel Bequest

Paris, May 7.—Count St. Ouen De Pierrecourt, whose family dated back to William the Conqueror, and who died recently, has bequeathed to the city of Rouen his fortune of 10,000,000 francs on the condition that the city annually gives a marriage gift of 100,000 francs to a couple of giants, in order to regenerate the human species. The candidates are to be medically examined and the healthiest couple will be chosen.

Widow Has Great "Nerve"

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., May 7.—Lizzie Halliday, a murderess now in Matteawan aslyum for life, has employed a lawyer to prosecute a claim for a widow's pension, her husband, whom she killed, having been a soldier. The question is raised: Can a widow receive a pension when she became a widow through her own act of murder? Her attorney says there is nothing in the way to exclude her.

Would Reduce Officials' Pay

Fall River, Mass., May 7.—An order was adopted by the board of aldermen last night, the vote being 6 to 3, reducing the salaries of nearly all the prominent city officials, the average cut being about one-third. The order was adopted after the common council had adjourned for the evening, so it will not reach that body until next week.

Death's Harvest

London, May 7.—The war office yesterday officially gave out the total number of deaths in the South African war at 714 officers and 14,264 men. Four officers and 314 men have been invalided home and subsequently died; 2493 noncommissioned officers and men have left the service unfit for duty.

Balloon and Occupants Missing

Cologne, May 7.—A military captive balloon, with two men in the car, ascended here during maneuvers Sunday afternoon. It broke loose in a gale, was soon lost to sight in the clouds and has not been seen since.

Weather Conditions and Forecast

Almanac, Wednesday, May 8.
Sun rises—4:31; sets, 6:51.
Moon rises—11:05 p. m.
High water—2:45 a. m.; 3:15 p. m.

The temperature has risen in New England; it has fallen along the middle Atlantic coast and locally in the Mississippi valley and the southwest. There will probably be local rains in Western New England; elsewhere it will be fair. The temperature changes will be unimportant. On the coast the winds will be fresh southwesterly.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and perseverance in its use will work wonders for the most hopeless woman. If Mrs. Newton, whose letter is given below, had not persisted in its use, she might never have known the happiness of perfect health. Perhaps the reason for her persistence was because she used "Favorite Prescription" as a "last resort." Physicians had failed. If "Favorite Prescription" could not help there was nothing to hope for. It did help. It always helps and almost always cures. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It imparts strength and elasticity to the organs of maternity and makes the baby's advent practically painless.

"When I consulted you in April, 1899, I was in poor health," writes Mrs. E. H. Newton, of Vanburen, Aroostook Co., Maine. "Had been sick all winter, and, to add to my trouble, was on the road to maternity, which the doctor said would end my days. I was almost discouraged; did not expect any help, but thought the end was only a matter of time, and—oh! my two poor, little, motherless children.

"It was in this condition that I began the use of your valuable medicine. On receipt of your letter of April 6th my husband purchased six bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medical Discovery,'" and I used it as you directed. When you wrote me words of encouragement on April 27th I had received no benefit from the medicine, but determined as a last resort to give it a fair trial. I am now taking the thirteenth and last bottle. I have a lovely baby girl three weeks old, that weighed 11½ pounds at birth. My baby and I are enjoying perfect health, thanks to your wonderful medicine, to which I believe I owe my life."

CALIFORNIA IS REACHED

President's Trip Across Continent Nearly Ended

A VISIT TO A GOLD MINE

American Flag Fifteen Hundred Feet Under Ground—Cowboys Vociferously Inquire For "Teddy"—Militia, Cowboys and Indians at a Reception

Red Lands, Cal., May 8.—The Colorado river, which is the boundary of Arizona, was crossed by the presidential party this morning at Yuma, and the party awoke in California. The first stop was made at this place.

The party spent an interesting day in Arizona. In the congress gold mine up in the Blue Tank mountains, a large American flag was draped across the tunnel through which the president passed, and after he emerged he said he had seen Old Glory floating from tower and state house and warships in many different places, but that never before during his life had he seen the American flag 1500 feet under ground.

Leaving the rich mining section in the mountains, the train dropped down into the Green Salt river valley. On Monday, passing through New Mexico, and yesterday, in Arizona, the cowpunchers at the stopping places along the route inquired vociferously where "Teddy" was, and there was much disappointment that the vice president was not in the party.

On the way to Phoenix the tire of one of the wheels of the engine tender became loose, and for the first time since the long journey began the telegrapher with the train was compelled to climb a telegraph pole to tap the wire.

At Wickensburg, the scene of the recent gold mine strike, the train was halted long enough to permit the president to receive a visit from the schoolchildren, who presented Mrs. McKinley with a cabinet of specimens. The president thanked the children in Mrs. McKinley's behalf, and addressed them briefly.

An accident to the locomotive tender delayed the arrival at Phoenix two hours and somewhat disarranged the program there. Nevertheless the party received a rousing welcome. Governor Murphy and the territorial officers had met the party at the Congress mine and accompanied them back to Phoenix. At the station the territorial militia, a company of cowboys, and some of the friendly Pima and Maricopa Indians joined in the reception. After luncheon the party was escorted to the territorial capitol, where the formal exercises took place. Governor Murphy delivered an address of welcome to which the president responded.

A drive afterwards gave the president an opportunity to see the interesting ruins of the ancient Aztec irrigation system. At the Indian industrial school, four miles from Phoenix, a pretty little ceremony was enacted. While an Indian band played "Hail Columbia" a beautiful Indian maiden in pantomime pleaded with a man dressed to represent Uncle Sam for statehood for the territory.

A Warning to Gamblers

Freehold, N. J., May 8.—Judge Fort, in charging the grand jury here yesterday, called attention in a forcible manner to the alleged gambling places and disorderly houses in operation at Long Branch. He said: "The situation has reached a point where it is simply a question whether the courts of Monmouth county are to abdicate and turn the country over to these criminals and their apologies, aiders and abettors, or not. The gambling places along the Atlantic coast in this county must not open this summer without knowing that if they do they will be dealt with as severely as the law permits."

Vengeance Will Be Terrible

Leavenworth, Kan., May 8.—Miss Bonnie, while gathering mushrooms near Lansing, was struck on the head by an unknown man and rendered unconscious, after which she was assaulted and her body thrown into an old well. The young woman regained consciousness and finally reached the surface. She stated that she would be able to identify her assailant. Searching parties are scouring the country. The assailant will probably be burned at the stake if caught.

The Turk Is a Wonder

New York, May 8.—Nouroulah, the big Turkish wrestler, made short work of Tom Jenkins, the champion wrestler of America, here last night. He downed Jenkins twice in a catch-as-catch-can match, the first time in 4m. 35s. and the second time in 5m. 2s. The match was decided on the best two out of three falls.

Ochs Takes Philadelphia Times

Philadelphia, May 8.—Adolph S. Ochs of the Chattanooga Times and the New York Times yesterday purchased the Philadelphia Times. His brother, George W. Ochs, will take the management of the paper.

SHIPBUILDING COMBINE

Takes In Plants With Aggregate Orders of Over $63,000,000 In Hand

New York, May 8.—A circular has been issued by H. W. Poor & Co., regarding the organization of the United States Shipbuilding company under the laws of New Jersey, to acquire the Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock company, the Union Iron Works of San Francisco, the Bath Iron Works, limited, and the Hyde Windlass company of Bath Me., the Crescent Ship Yard and the Samuel C. Moore & Sons' company at Elizabethport, N. J., and the Canda Manufacturing company of Cartaret, N. J. The total annual capacity is estimated at 380,000 tons.

The aggregate of orders now in hand of the constituent companies is said to exceed $63,000,000, covering an average of 18 months for completion, on which the estimated profit is over $7,000,000.

The company will be authorized under its charter to issue capital stock as follows: Preferred stock (7 percent noncumulative) $32,500,000; common stock, $32,500,000. The plan will become operative as soon as the organizers notify the Mercantile Trust company, as depository, that the corporation has acquired the properties of the constituent companies.

A Daring Crime

New York, May 8.—Tony Sangeorge and Sylvester Getto were working in Sangeorge's shoemaker shop yesterday when a man who was unknown to them called and had a pair of shoes fixed. He offered in payment a bill of large denomination. Sangeorge pulled out $200 in smaller bills, whereupon the man said he would get his bill changed and buy a pint of beer. He returned with the beer in a few minutes and when the shoemakers drank it they were made unconscious. The man fled with Sangeorge's $200. Getto recovered, but Sangeorge was taken to a hospital in a dying condition.

What Kitchener Is Doing

London, May 8.—Lord Kitchener's first long review of the South African operations, dealing chiefly with the invasion of Cape Colony and dated March 8, is published in The Gazette. He says it has been his constant endeavor to improve the fortifications works along the lines of communication, thus reducing the guards; also evacuating the garrisons remote from the railroads, thereby obviating convoy escorts. He commandered upwards of 25,000 horses in Cape Colony since December.

Government Going to Extremes

London, May 8.—A Rueter dispatch from St. Petersburg says: The agitation against the government continues, especially among literary and educational circles. Many arrests and domiciliary visits have been made in this and other cities, and the police are extraordinarily active. The correspondence of several foreign newspaper correspondents and of members of the diplomatic body has been secretly examined, many letters never reaching their destination.

Bryan Speaks For Fusion

Omaha, May 8.—The annual banquet of the Peter Cooper club was held in this city last night. Mr. Bryan spoke upon "Fusion," urging its continuance. He said: "Fusion is the open and honest plan of co-operation. The middle-of-the-road policy has twice been the secret and dishonest method of co-operation. I believe in the open and honest method, and shall continue to advocate it so long as the allies agree upon paramount issues."

AS TOLD BY EASTMAN

Story of the Fatal Shooting of Richard Grogan

SAYS IT WAS ACCIDENTAL

Went to Grogan to Assist Him, but Expression on His Face Caused Him to Struggle For Possession of Revolver—Knowlton's Thrusts Parried

Cambridge, Mass., May 8.—A court room crowded to suffocation with attorneys and interested Cambridge citizens, both women and men, saw Professor Eastman's leading counsel carefully direct the accused man to the minor events of his life and to that dreadful tragedy which will ever be its chiefest feature. The climax in the trial was reached yesterday when the defendant himself took the stand to tell his own story and to exchange blow for blow in the cross-examination combat with the attorney general.

The spectators saw Eastman calmly relate his acquaintance with Grogan, which, he declared, was always pleasant; saw his horror and emotion as he told of the tragedy, and his grief when he related the death bed scene on the evening of the last Fourth of July.

Eastman's story was clear and concise and he wavered but little. He went into no elaborate details, but answered only the questions put to him by his lawyer. For two hours he was on the stand giving his testimony as to his relations with Grogan and the incidents of the fatal day. He declared that the shooting was an accident and that up to last October he had always believed that it was the old rim fire pistol that discharged the bullet which killed his brother-in-law.

The struggle which followed, he said, was for the possession of the centre fire pistol, which Grogan had in his hand. Eastman said that he went to Grogan first to assist him, and then, because of the expression on his face, to get the weapon away from him. He said that there was so much noise and confusion in that struggle that he could not recall how many times Grogan's revolver went off. But that it did go off was almost certain. He did not know how he received his own wound, but he did everything possible after the affair to assist Grogan into the house, and was prostrated with grief when he found that Grogan was dying.

Up to last October he had always thought that it was the rim fire bullet which had killed his brother-in-law, but the production of a centre fire bullet by the government at the grand jury hearing had shaken his belief, until now he was not prepared to say whether it was the rim fire or the centre fire from Grogan's pistol which was discharged during the struggle that did the killing.

The day closed with an interesting sparring match between the accused man and one of the leading criminal lawyers in the state, Attorney General Knowlton. The latter planned his leads in the most subtle manner and executed them with great brilliancy, but he found all his well-intended blows parried with but few exceptions, and then they drew but little blood.

He made Eastman say that he could not remember how he held Grogan's revolver when he got it away from him, whether he grasped it by the muzzle or the handle, or that after he had obtained it whether it went off. The attorney general's last question was: "Do you think you could stand before your brother-in-law today, holding his pistol in your hand, discharge it, and then not remember that you had shot him?"

Eastman's reply was: "Not if I was in my right senses."

The cross-examination was not finished when the court adjourned for the day.

Markham Keeps His Promise

London, May 8.—A. B. Markham, addressing his constituents at Mansfield last night, boldly fulfilled his pledge to repeat to them the recent attack in the house of commons on the firm of Wernber, Beit & Co. He charged Alfred Beit and Mr. Eckstein with being thieves and swindlers, and challenged the former to bring an action against him for libel.

Fight Ended by Amalgamation

Columbus, O., May 8.—The Cincinnati Gas Light and Coke company yesterday increased its capital stock from $9,280,000 to $28,280,000, in accordance with a consolidation effected at Cincinnati, and then changed its name to the Cincinnati Gas and Electric company. This step marks the end of a bitter fight between the lighting companies of Cincinnati.

Pugilists Let Down Easy

St. John, May 8.—Dan Littlejohn of St. John and Billy Critich of Lynn, arrested on charge of engaging in a prize fight, were discharged in the police court yesterday, Chief of Police Clark not prosecuting. He said he only wished to prevent brutal exhibitions. The men had to promise not to engage in such contests here again.

Mystery For Buffalo Police

Buffalo, May 8.—The body of a man with his throat cut, with a five-pound weight in his pocket and a stout wire bound about the body was picked up in the harbor yesterday. He was identified as Harry Hoch, a painter, but who had worked as a marine fireman. The police have no doubt but that the man was murdered.

Quincy Real Estate Trust—Store to let.
Mertgagee's Sale of Real Estate.

Good Afternoon.

This is going to be a memorable summer for the city of Quincy, Mass., Next month its new hook and ladder truck will arrive, and the following month President McKinley will pay the town a visit. Already the price of real estate that certain barometer of business, is feeling the potent influence of coming events, and everybody is correspondingly happy.—Herald editorial.

The Herald might have added that Rural lodge of Masons will have a grand two-days' celebration of its centennial in June. That a steamboat line to Boston will be established. That a large seashore hotel will be built at Houghs Neck. That a 12-room brick school house will be erected. That ground has been broken for a $10,000 factory. That the Metropolitan Water and Sewerage board are completing a large reservoir and ornamental granite standpipe. That the Metropolitan high-level sewer is being constructed through the city, and that Quincy has been taken into the district. That takings have been made for a Metropolitan boulevard from the seashore near the Boston line to the Blue Hills reservation.

That a commodious bathhouse for both sexes will be opened by the city at the seashore. That Merrymount and Faxon parks and the four playgrounds will be improved. That large expenditures upon our streets in recent years have made a marked improvement, and that they are in good condition. That Quincy is still renowned for its public schools an endowed secondary schools, and also for Quincy granite. That modern battleships for Uncle Sam's navy is our latest industry and promises to employ about 3,000 skilled mechanics for three years, when the plant will be permanently established and prepared to build the largest ships required.

Why should not Quincy be elated and proud. Should it not be an incentive to all citizens of the city to talk Quincy; to boom Quincy; to improve Quincy. The increased valuation this year is almost sure to reduce the rate of taxation, and surely the outlook for the City of Presidents is encouraging.

Both Boston base ball team are neck and neck in the two National leagues, for fourth places. Each have won five and lost five and there are hopes.

Drift of Opinion.

☞Don't dodge a two dollar poll tax. Be sure your name gets on the assessors' list.—Haverhill Gazette.

☞ The sentinels of the king's English might wisely cry out against the overuse of the word "evidence" both as a noun and a verb. "Very much in evidence" is a stilted phrase which is unpleasantly frequent in books and magazines and newspapers in these days. It means nothing more than the single word "conspicuous" or "prominent" or "debated" or "discussed," and it is a sadly overworked allocution. To "evidence" and "to be evidenced" are blots on the purity of the language which are also too often recognized in current speech and print.—New York Tribune.

☞Brainard's outburst of insanity would have been attended with little mischief but for that loaded revolver in his pocket. The habit of carrying firearms in the ordinary New England community admits of no extenuation or excuse. It is always attended with danger, to the man who carries them, as well as to others. While there is slight chance of a man's becoming suddenly insane and using them as Brainard used them, a man who has them handy may be tempted to resort to them in the heat of passion, or they may be discharged accidently, with fatal results. This tragedy ought to prove a solemn and impressive warning against going armed with a deadly weapon. The pistol habit, more than anything else, perhaps, accounts for Kentucky's reputation as a state where men are killed on very slight provocation.—Portland, Me. Press.

☞It was recently said that at the stroke of 9 at night, all New Bedford is in the habit of going home and going to bed, now we hear the same story from Taunton. It only takes about 15 minutes to clear the streets there on ordinary evenings, and by 10 o'clock the town looks like Sleepy Hollow on a stormy night. It is a fine idea to get all there is out of life, but there are varied ways of getting it. The Taunton plan is to indulge in a great deal of refreshing slumber. The best thing about life, to a Tauntonian, is the ability to forget it and forget his surroundings in sleep. He loves to enjoy himself after the manner of the bear in winter—he hibernates the year around when in his own town, and about all that he cares to do is to eat, drink and sleep. And they do say the average Tauntonian is a compartively light eater, at that.—Brockton Enterprise.

☞A new plan in relation to the use of books in our public library has been called to our attention, and it seems to be something that will become popular. There are a great many people who do not feel like spending the time necessary to visit the library to change their books, and an enterprising man has gotten up a route, agreeing to act as agent for these parties, and for a trifling fee carry books back and forth. It is the policy of the library authorities to encourage the use of books, and the business of this agent is right in that line. It works both ways, accommodating the patrons of the library and increasing the use of its literary treasures. In some cities the libraries appoint and pay such an agent, regarding his service of advantage to the library as well as to its patrons. Perhaps something like that may come out of this individual effort. We should say that the plan is worthy of the encouragement of the trustees and librarians, and that the agent should be assisted in his effort to build up a business that will be of so much public benefit.—Lynn Item.

☞ Curfew was adpoted in North Adams two and a half years ago at the solicitation of the W. C. T. U., the members of which seem to be satisfied with the results. The public is satisfied because the curfew whistle at 9 gives all an opportunity to set watches and clocks by standard time. The police are satisfied because it gives them authority to exercise some supervision over boys under curfew age who are suspected of mischief but against whom nothing can be proven. The newspapers are satisfied because it offers an opportunity for copy making when news is dull. Consequently, curfew in North Adams may be considered an unqualified success without being of any great practical value.—North Adams Gazette.

Base Ball at West Quincy.

The lovers of base ball in West Quincy met Friday evening May 3 and formed what is to be known as West Quincy Base Ball Association. The following gentlemen were elected as an executive committee: Richard C. Walsh, chairman; William P. Hughes, secretary; James A. White, treasurer; William H. Callahan, Matthew Morrisy, James Ogle, John Barron, James Dillon, John McGowan, Frank Daveron, Daniel O'Connell, Allen Farnum, Wm. P. Barry, Wm. H. Dell.

The Committee intend to put as strong a team as possible in the field and have appointed Mr. Frank Daveron as manager, who is desirous of arranging games with the strongest teams in the State for Saturday afternoons and holidays for the season.

☞Cuba has not grown unattractive to the people of the Spanish peninsula because of American oversight, if one may judge from the statistics of an immigration. Of the fourteen and a half thousand persons who took up their abode in the island in the last six months of 1900 all but twenty-five hundred came from Spain. On the other hand, while it would not seem improbable that unusual interest might center about the island for the people of the United States but seventeen of the immigrants were from this country.—New Bedford Standard.

Large Land Deal.

John D. Hardy has filed in the court of land registration a petition as trustee, for the registration of 228 lots of land at Hillside Park, in Quincy, located near the Milton line and metropolitan park reservation, all together assessed for $20,000.

A SOCIAL OUTLAW.

Miss Carroll Appears in Geo. W. Wilson Company.

The best show of the season by an out-of-town company was that given Tuesday evening by the George W. Wilson company at Quincy Music hall. Of course the star of the production was Mr. Wilson himself, but great interest was taken in the appearance of Miss Ellenore Carroll, a Quincy young lady, who has achieved success on the Boston stage. Miss Carroll's part was not as prominent or difficult as some she has taken, but yet one of the leading character, and one well acted. She appeared at ease and without affectation. A comedy drama in four acts, entitled "A Social Outlaw," was presented with the following cast:

Jack Worthington,	Fletcher Harvey
James Blackburn,	Harry Arnold
Col. Matthew Lee,	Dwight Gaylord
Officer,	A. H. Hurley
Frances Lee,	Jessie Henderson
Mrs. Lee,	Ellenore Carroll
Sadie,	Gertrude Roberts
Gerald Weston, alias Jerry the tramp,	Geo. W. Wilson

Mr. Wilson was the life of the play in all its stages—tramp, gentleman, laborer and mine owner — and his various make-ups were perfect.

It was difficult to believe Miss Carroll was a young lady in her motherly make up of fifty years. She was greeted with applause upon her first appearance and faithfully took the part of Mrs. Lee.

Miss Jessie Henderson as Francis Lee also deserves special mention, her situations being different in each scene.

Harry Arnold was a good villian, and all did well, so that the play ran smoothly.

Between the acts there were songs and dances by the three Sisters Bastedo, who were recalled and recalled; also lively piano selections.

A Melodrama.

"Castle Square Understudies" on Friday evening the performance of "A Broken Compact" is to be given by the Understudies of the Castle Square theatre at Quincy Music hall. The play is a melodrama of the English country life type—so well known and understood by play-goers of all kinds and conditions.

Rehearsals promise a tremendous success, the play being of the snap and go class—which cannot but contain interest for the majority.

The plot is clear and well conceived and holds the listener attentive to the end of the very last scene.

There are several heavy climaxes during the course of the production the heaviest and most effective of which are found in the fourth act—when after the mine in which the victims have been confined by the treachery, they cannot defend themselves against—has been blown up—; the relieving miners rescue them in their exhausted condition.

The full capacity of the Quincy stage with the addition of special scenery and effects—will be taxed to their utmost to make this thrilling scene as realistic as possible.

The cast has been announced in a former issue of the Ledger. It will contain several persons well known in Quincy circles.

Mr. Frank E. Minzey—the young Boston song-writer, who is to play the character of Col. Clifford, is also to furnish the incidental music for the production; he is very well known through Quincy and Wollaston.

There will be some excellent specialties between the acts—including Mr. Savean and Mr. Seth A. Arnold the stage-director of the company.

Only a few of the seventy-five cent seats remain on sale—the principal prices being, twenty-five, thirty-five and fifty cents.

Cars will connect for all points—from the turnout outside the hall—after the performance.

A novel souvenir will be given to all male patrons.

CONGRESS OF SPORT.

Buffalo Will Have Greatest Athletic Carnival on Record.

WORLD'S CHAMPIONS TO COMPETE

The Pan-American Exposition Has Monster Schedule Prepared—James E. Sullivan Arranges For A. A. U. Championships In the Stadium.

Many notable athletic meets, where men of international repute have been brought together in test of strength and skill, are now on record, but what will probably be the greatest congress of athletes of recent years is to take place at the Pan-American exposition during the coming summer. Buffalo will be the Mecca of thousands of members of the sport loving fraternity not only in America, but from foreign lands as well.

The Stadium, erected for the express purpose of accommodating the many different games and events, is undoubtedly the largest and most imposing arena for sports ever known to have been built on this continent. It is 678 feet 6 inches long and 450 feet 6 inches wide, having a seating capacity of 12,000. The top row of seats will be 60 feet from the ground.

The events scheduled for the six months between the dates set for the opening and closing of the great athletic carnival include every branch of sport in existence. The Amateur Athletic union championships, intercollegiate and interscholastic contests, baseball, gymnastics, bicycling, automobiling, lacrosse, track and field games, football, trap shooting, Scottish and Irish games, swimming, basket ball, etc., are all in the list of pastimes.

James E. Sullivan, president of the Amateur Athletic union, is one of the principal members of the advisory board in charge of the exposition sports. Mr. Sullivan's energy and ability are well known throughout the country, and the fact that the Pan-American athletic gathering will cover such a large scope is mainly attributable to his work and direction.

Mr. Sullivan has arranged for the holding of the all around championships of the A. A. U. and a series of handicap events on the Stadium athletic field July 4. The rules of the A. A. U. will govern both the championships and the handicaps.

With but few exceptions every prominent amateur athlete in the country will compete on the national holiday. J. W. B. Tewksbury and Alexander Grant, the University of Penn runners; Arthur Duffy, the famous Georgetown sprinter, and so down the list, are to strive for more honors. World's records will receive a pretty thorough shaking up at this meet.

The A. A. U. gymnastic championships occur Saturday, Aug. 24. An entrance fee of $1 a man will be charged. The A. A. U. championship medals will be awarded to the first, second and third men in these contests. Entries close Aug. 1 with James E. Sullivan, 16 Park Place, New York.

New Thames Rowing Record.

The latest Thames sculling record has been established by Gollan, a New Zealand amateur, in a match against the professional oarsmen, Towns and Sullivan. The course was from Oxford to Putney, a distance of 104 miles. Gollan's time was 13h. 57m. The best previous time, which was made under more adverse conditions, was by Lehmann of Holland when he rowed against Grenfell in 1899. His time was 22h. 30m.

The Shamrock I Too Slow.

Advices from Gourock, on the frith of Clyde, say Sir Thomas Lipton has given up the idea of taking the Shamrock I across the Atlantic as a racing partner for the Shamrock II for preliminary trials in American waters. Experts who have seen the new challenger unanimously agree that the old Shamrock would never be able to push her in a windward race.

WASHINGTON RELIC.

How the Grand Lodge of Masons Would Immortalize the Hero.

Next month Rural lodge of Masons of this city will have a two days' celebration of the centennial of its institution.

It is the purpose of the Daily Ledger in the meantime to give almost daily some reference to this popular fraternity:—its history, its origin, its advantages; its progress; its prominent members, etc. And especially incidents of 100 years ago, and also the history of Rural lodge.

Washington lived but a short time after the correspondence with the Grand Lodge of Masons of Massachusetts already published in the Daily Ledger and his retiremment from the Presidency in 1797, as he died Dec. 14, 1799.

The Grand Lodge of Massachusetts wrote to Mrs. Washington on the death of the General as follows:

"Boston, January 11, 1800.

Madam:—The Grand Lodge of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts have deeply participated in the general grief of their fellow-citizens, on the melancholy occasion of the death of their beloved Washington.

"As Amerians, they have lamented the loss of the Chief who had led their armies to victory, and their country to glory; but as Masons, they have wept the dissolution of that endearing relation, by which they were enabled to call him their friend and their brother.

"They presume not to offer you those consolations which might alleviate the weight of common sorrows, for they are themselves inconsolable. The object of this address is, not to intenutp the sacred offices of grief like yours; but, whilst they are mingling tears with each other on the common calamity, to condole with you on the irreparable misfortune which you have indvidually experienced.

To their expressions of sympathy on this solemn dispensation of the Grand Lodge have subjoined an order that a golden urn be prepared as a deposit for a lock of hair an invaluable relique of the hero and the patriot whom their wishes would immortalize; and that it be preserved with the jewels and regalia of the Society.

"Should this favour be granted Madam it will be cherished as the most precious jewel in the cabinet of the Lodge as the memory of his virtues will forever be in the hearts of its members.

"We have the honour to be with the highest respect your most obedient servants.

(Signed) John Warren
Paul Revere
Josiah Bartlett.

Mrs. Martha Washington.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflamation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars; free.

CONCILIATION IS URGED

Unionism and Finance Meet In Discussion

LABOR MEN ARE FOR PEACE

Relations of Wage Earners and Capital Declared to Be Purely a Business Proposition—Conciliation More Acceptable Than Arbitration

New York, May 8.—Leaders of unionism and finance discussed conciliation as a means of maintaining industrial peace between labor and capital at the chamber of commerce yesterday afternoon. The meeting was arranged by the industrial department of the National Civic Federation and all of the contributors to the symposium were leaders in their several fields of activity.

The speakers were Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor; Bishop Potter, John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers of America; Charles R. Flint, president of the American Rubber company; Daniel J. Keefe of the Illinois board of arbitration; William H. Sayward of the National Association of Builders; James O'Connell, president of the International Association of Machinists, and Herman Justi, commissioner of the Illinois Coal Operators' association.

Samuel Gompers presided and in opening the meeting expressed the hope that a new epoch had come in the relations of labor and capital. "We want industrial peace, but not at the sacrifice of any of the elements of manhood," he said. "The increased growth of the organization of labor has brought greater responsibility. We are dealing with living men, and living women, and living children in the hope to create things for all. The toiling people insist that they be regarded as something more than wage earners." He said that the unions sought to do injustice to no man, but were formed to conserve the rights of those who formed them.

Bishop Potter expressed his gratification at the growth of the spirit of conciliation. He praised the humanity of American diplomacy in China, and said that it offered a splendid example for emulation.

John Mitchell said he was for peace because he had known the bruises of war. "The relations of labor and capital," he said, "are purely a business proposition. There is no sentiment in it. Peace is better for both, and I am for peace if the employers and employes could meet in fair conference."

Charles R. Flint, the capitalist, expressed his confidence in the good that would come of closer relationship between labor and capital.

Daniel J. Keefe said that conciliation was more acceptable than arbitration, for in the latter system there had to be a decision defeating one side or the other.

William H. Sayward believed that employers should meet their men in a greater spirit of frankness.

James O'Connell said that in the metal trades employers and toilers had learned the benefit of organization and mutual concessions.

Herman Justi said that our national prosperity depends upon the steady employment of every wage earner at a decent wage.

Samuel Gompers, in closing, said that the thorough organization of labor presaged complete protection for the honest employer against his dishonest competitor who "nibbled" at prices.

Strike of Railroad Men

Albany, May 8.—The lines of the United Traction company, operated in this city, Watervliet and Rensselaer, and those extending from this city to those cities and to Troy and Watervliet, are tied up. The strike has been brought about by the refusal of the company to accede to two demands. First, that the company employ none but members of a branch of the Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employes of America, and that those non-union men employed be discharged or compelled to join the union. Second, that "all night car" men and "extra" men who now get 18½ cents an hour, be paid 20 cents, the compensation of the regular day men.

Stone Workers Won't Strike

Gloucester, Mass., May 8.—The 900 members of the Stoneworkers' union will not go out on strike today. This decision was reached at a meeting last night, and was the result of conferences held yesterday with the granite companies' officials, slight concessions having been made by the latter. The men, while not perfectly satisfied with the outcome, believe that the manufacturers cannot pay more at present.

Telephone Men to Strike

Lowell, Mass., May 8.—After a protracted session last night the employes of the local division of the New England Telephone and Telegraph company voted to quit work next Saturday unless their demands for a 9-hour day at the minimum rate of $3 per day are granted.

Slate Pickers' Complaint

Shamokin, Pa., May 8.—Five hundred employes of the Royal Oak colliery were thrown out of employment yesterday by the slate pickers going on strike, because the breaker is in danger of collapsing.

Mrs. Botha to Visit Kruger

London, May 8.—The Daily Chronicle says it learns that the health of Mrs. Botha, wife of Commandant General Botha, has broken down owing to worry and her constant journeys between her husband and Lord Kitchener, and that she is about to sail from Delagoa Bay to visit Mr. Kruger and to appeal to him to persuade the Boers to surrender.

ANGRY STRIKERS

Making It Unpleasant For Those Who Work at the Paugasset Mills

Derby, Conn., May 8.—Two serious demonstrations occurred yesterday in the strike of the textile workers at the Paugasset mills. At noon Mrs. Ambrose Griffiths, who has been teaching the girls who have taken the places of the strikers, was set upon by several hundred women, led by two of Mrs. Griffiths' sisters, and was followed to her home, amid cries of "scab" and the tooting of horns.

At 6 o'clock a more serious disturbance took place when the strikers attempted to mob Amy Briggs, one of the recently employed. The police anticipated the action of the women and formed a cordon about Miss Briggs at the factory gate. So accompanied, and followed by a throng which was augmented until it numbered 3000, she made her way to the Shelton bridge, where the Derby police had to leave her. Here she was surrounded more closely, and threats of violence were made, but she ultimately escaped when persons in the crowd became engaged in a fight among themselves. The girl's home is now under police guard.

Steeple Climber's Narrow Escape

Marlboro, Mass., May 8.—J. E. Towne, a steeple climber, was working on the steeple of the Immaculate Conception Catholic church here yesterday, and was climbing by aid of a rope to a window about 100 feet from the ground, when his hand slipped on the rope. He slipped down rapidly to the roof, 25 feet below, then slid along that 50 feet more till he struck a snowguard. He clung there for 15 minutes, and was finally rescued by a hook and ladder company. The cartilage of one rib was broken, but he was otherwise uninjured.

Shumway Succumbs to Wounds

Northampton, Mass., May 8.—Albert E. Shumway, aged 31, superintendent of the Hadley town farm, mysteriously disappeared last Thursday night, and when overtaken in a field by a party that had been searching for him, he shot himself twice in the breast. He died yesterday from blood poisoning. He had become mentally unbalanced. He imagined that he had shot his wife, and when he was overtaken by the searching party he probably supposed that he was wanted for the imaginary murder.

Bay State Legislature

Boston, May 8.—In the senate yesterday the bill to lessen the term of imprisonment for non-payment of the poll tax from 20 to 7 days was passed to be engrossed. The bill to prevent misrepresentation in the sale of merchandise was refused a third reading. Senator Manning moved the substitution of his bill to put telephone and telegraph companies under the supervision of the gas commission. The motion was defeated, only five voting in favor.

To Be Launched at Night

Boston, May 8.—The date of the launch of the cup defender Independence is May 18, and the chances are that the yacht will be launched at night. This move is not made for the purpose of keeping a view of the yacht's hull from the public, but because there will be no adequate facilities for the thousands of people who will want to see a daylight launching, which would cause great danger of a loss of life by crowding and pushing on wharves.

Wouldn't Give Information

Arlington, Mass., May 8.—The selectmen were in session last night, but they would give out no information and stated that there were no new developments in regard to the financial affairs of the town. It is understood that the selectmen will call a special town meeting to consider the difficulties that have arisen from the disappearance of a large amount of the town's money and the supposed destruction of the town books.

Verdict In Famous "Boo" Case

New Haven, May 8.—A decision awarding the plaintiff $1000 was rendered in the superior court yesterday in the case in which Miss Ethel Bartholomew and her father sued Charles J. Parmelee for $10,000 for alleged injury to her nervous system by chasing her after dark and crying "boo." The defendant will appeal.

Veteran Crossing Tender Dead

Salem, Mass., May 8.—Charles B. Cross died suddenly yesterday. He had been the crossing tender at Grove street crossing for 51 years. He was born in Salem in 1817. During his long service, not a single accident has happened at the crossing that was due to the negligence of Mr. Cross.

Had Long Been Sick

Fall River, Mass., May 8.—Mrs. Maria Bamford, 42 years old, committed suicide yesterday by inhaling illuminating gas at her home. Mrs. Bamford had been in poor health for 15 years, but her illness became serious two days ago

A Hundred Cattle Condemned

Burlington, Vt., May 8.—The board of agriculture yesterday ordered killed 100 of the 160 head of cattle owned by L. H. Talcott of Williston, the animals responding to the tuberculin test.

Where Germany Isn't Interested

Berlin, May 8.—The Lokal Anzeiger, commenting upon the announcement from Washington that the United States government is working toward the opening of all China to the trade of the world, assumes that the plan includes Manchuria, and adds: "Here we have new points of friction which do not concern Germany, inasmuch as she has no interests in Manchuria."

Suspected of Killing Five Children

Parry Sound, Ont., May 8.—On April 30 the house of Joseph Parton, at Hurdville, was destroyed by fire and five children, the eldest aged 18, were burned to death. Parton was arrested here yesterday on a charge of murder. It being alleged that he deliberately cremated the children. Parton is 70 years old.

NOT DISCOURAGED

Jacksonville Is Rapidly Cleaning Up Ruins Caused by Big Fire

Jacksonville, Fla., May 8.—The almost superhuman work of the different committees has somewhat relieved the situation and it is now believed that in every instance those without food and clothing were in a measure provided for yesterday, and that last night there was vastly fewer people who were compelled to sleep upon the streets.

Two hundred tents were erected yesterday, and, while they were very crowded last night, and several churches and schoolhouses in the suburbs also were crowded with sleepers, this condition was relieved today by the arrival of 2000 tents from the general government at Washington, and before tonight there will be several tented villages in the city with cots and blankets.

There has been no outbreak of sickness in the city, and the several cases of nervous prostration which have been reported are now well on the way to recovery.

The cleaning up of the streets has been going on rapidly, telephone connections with the undamaged part of the city has been resumed in almost every district, and the wires which encumbered the streets are now cleared away.

The street car service has been running in the western part of the city, but there is no service in the north or the east.

Clouds of smoke still envelop the city from the smouldering embers of the conflagration, but many of the buildings have been sufficiently cooled off to allow the safes to be opened and the books and papers of a great many concerns have been found only slightly scorched. In other cases so intense was the heat that iron safes failed to protect the money or papers.

Twelve carloads of provisions arrived last night from New York.

No more dead bodies have been found, though a systematic search has not yet begun.

Gamblers Failed to Show Up

New York, May 8.—Justice Fursman yesterday ordered that bonds to the amount of $6000 be forfeited because of the non-appearance of four alleged gamblers whose cases were called for trial in the supreme court. Bench warrants for the arrest of the defendants were issued. These men were arrested during raids, and held by Justice Jerome in $1500 each for trial.

Wireless Telegraphy Feasible

Washington, May 8.—The board of naval officers yesterday submitted its report on wireless telegraphy to Admiral Bradford, chief of the naval bureau of equipment. Although the findings are not made public, it is known that the board reports on the entire feasibility of the system and recommends that it be adopted.

"Vibrator" Had to Give Up $25

Denver, May 8.—Thomas J. Shelton, publisher of The Christian, who claims kindship to Jacob and Moses, and the power to cure disease by sending vibrations to any distance, yesterday pleaded guilty to the improper use of the mails and was fined $25.

Still Gathering Them In

London, May 8.—Lord Kitchener reports the capture of another hundred Boers, one 12-pounder, one 9-pounder, one Maxim and a quantity of ammunition.

NEWS IN BRIEF

In a small fire, started probably by the dropping of a kerosene lamp, Mrs. Margaret Bowling, a widow 65 years old, was so badly burned at her home at Boston that she will probably die.

The Havana registration for the coming elections is 27,094, or an increase of 8000 upon the registration for the mayoralty election last June.

The United States government is preparing to fortify Fort Popham, at the mouth of the Kennebec river, and mines for that purpose have arrived.

A petition for a layout for a new street railway line, running from the heart of Manchester to Lake Massabesic, there connecting with the New Manchester and Haverhill Street railway, was presented to the Manchester, N. H., board of aldermen.

A Legitimate Investment

Which Increased Over 700 per cent.

WITHIN SIX MONTHS.

The Arcola Oil Company's stock sold for $135 per 1,000 shares, and in six months $1,000 per 1,000 shares was refused for the stock, for the reason that the first well was a large producer and there is room for forty wells on the Company's land, which makes it about certain that the stock in the near future will be worth ten dollars per share.

We offer you the same opportunity for a large gain by investing in the Dirigo Oil Company's stock, the first block of which is being sold for $150 per 1,000 shares. The Company owns a block of land adjoining the Arcola Company's land which has large producing wells on all four sides. There is eighty acres of the Company's land in the center of the oil belt, which we feel absolutely certain will give a large producing well in each acre.

We now have machinery on the ground, and are ready to sink the first well, and expect to strike oil by May 1st, which will then make the stock worth par value, if the well is as good a producer as the Arcola.

The block of stock we are selling is about three-quarters sold and quick application will have to be made to secure any of it at the present price.

FLORAL BOMBARDMENT

For President and Mrs. McKinley In California

HOLIDAY AT LOS ANGELES

The Air a Perfect Maze of Color From Confetti Thrown by Merrymakers—Chinese Residents Contributed to the Celebration With Firecrackers

Los Angeles, Cal., May 9.—The president and his party had their first taste of the hospitality of California yesterday. The introduction to the land of sunshine, fruit and flowers was like passing into fairyland, and nature seemed to wear for the occasion her brightest colors.

Governor Gage and the California congressional delegation met the president at Redlands, in the San Fernando valley, in the morning, and welcomed him to the state. Through an avenue lined with palms the presidential party drove to the Casa Loma hotel, on the balcony of which the exercises took place. All along the route of the drive that followed ladies showered the president and Mrs. McKinley with flowers, and through the streets they were bombarded from the windows with confetti until the air was a perfect maze of color.

From Redlands down to Los Angeles it was a continuous ovation. Every station was crowded by children with wreaths of flowers in their hands and by cheering men and women. Minute stops were made at Colton, Ontario and Pomona, and at 2:30 the train drew into Loss Angeles.

The approach to the city of Loss Angeles was heralded by the shrieks of steam whistles and the boom of cannon and as the train passed through the Chinese quarter of the city long strings of firecrackers, hung from awnings, exploded like the continuous rattle of musketry.

The fiesta is in progress here, and the town was beautifully decorated. The colors of the carnival, red, yellow and green, representing the wine, orange and olive, predominated. At the station the party was met by the citizens' committee, and many distinguished people from all over California. General Shafter had come down from the presidio. Secretary of the Navy Long, who was to have met the party at San Francisco, also came here to meet the president.

The party was driven to the Van Nuyes hotel, where the police were obliged to literally force a way to the entrance. There the president met Governor Nash of Ohio and the Ohio congressional delegation. In the rotunda of the hotel the mayor of Los Angeles formally greeted the chief executive, and extended to him the freedom of the city. The president responded in a graceful speech.

The president then held a short public reception. Meanwhile Mrs. McKinley and the ladies of the party met the ladies of Los Angeles at the Woman's club.

Last evening the president and Mrs. McKinley dined at "Bivouac," the residence of General Harrison Grey Otis, and after dinner a private reception was held there in their honor. They spent the night at the "Bivouac."

The members of the cabinet and the other members of the party witnessed the brilliant illumination in the streets. The whole city blazed with fantastic colors and the air was a blinding storm of confetti, thrown by the merry rioters.

The president and his party will witness the floral parade today, and a visit will be paid to the soldiers' home at Santa Monica. The train will leave Los Angeles early tomorrow morning.

Wound Up by Killing Himself

New York, May 9.—In a fit of insanity John C. Mersereau of Brooklyn tried to murder his wife and sister-in-law yesterday, and then killed himself. He first tried to brain his wife with a flatiron. Her screams brought her sister and the man attempted to murder her. The noise brought the sister's husband. He pushed the women out of the room, left it himself and then Mersereau bolted it on the inside and placed a rubber tube attached to a gas jet in his mouth and inhaled the gas.

They Buried Baby Alive

New York, May 9.—The Westchester county grand jury yesterday found indictments against Francesca Spinello and her uncle, Giovo Buttacavello, for attempted murder in having buried alive an infant of which they were the parents. The crime was committed April 22. The child died of exhaustion in an institution to which it was sent.

President Pollock a Suicide

Seattle, May 9.—R. N. Pollock, the missing bank president from Cleveland, ended his life here yesterday in a hotel by sending a bullet through his brain. A razor, a two-ounce box of rough on rats and a phial containing 100 tablets of aconite were found at hand. All papers belonging to him had been burned before committing suicide.

THE JACKSONVILLE FIRE

Professional Men Forced to Seek Manual Labor—Relief is Pouring In

Jacksonville, Fla., May 9.—The full meaning of the widespread suffering in Jacksonville was realized yesterday when it was announced in one of the meetings that a great number of men who had never been used to manual labor were clamoring for work. Among them were professional men. Three young physicians said they had lost everything in the fire. The department of labor has undertaken to give clerical employment to all such applicants.

The situation in the city shows that all of the departments have been arranged systematically, and the people are being cared for as well as conditions will permit. The city is still under martial law.

Over $500,000 worth of insurance already has been paid by the adjustors, and the people are commencing the erection of temporary places of business and dwellings.

Relief is coming in generously on every train, and the subscription list to date amounts to about $85,000, with promises of aid from many places which has not yet arrived. Commissaries have been established all over the city.

Father Wouldn't Employ Doctor

Chicago, May 9.—A special session of the juvenile court was held here yesterday to save the life of little Mabel Christensen, who was horribly burned in the fire which cost 11 lives Sunday morning in South Chicago. The child's father was a follower of Dr. Dowie, the "faith healer." He insisted that no physician be allowed to attend the child. The police forcibly took her from her father, and brought the matter before Judge Tuthill, who made the child a public charge.

An Alleged Green Goods Worker

Philadelphia, May 9.—William Hall was given a preliminary hearing yesterday before United States Commissioner Lewis on the charge of being a member of a gang of greengoods men, who have been operating throughout the country. Bail was fixed at $7500 for Hall's appearance before the New York district court. Hall was arrested at Fullerton by Detective Gargan of New York after an exciting fight. Two other members of the gang made their escape.

Serious Collapse Predicted

London, May 9.—The morning papers warn the British public against buying American railroad shares at the present inflated prices. The writer of The Times' financial article says: "The people of the United States have been seized with one of those extraordinary manias that periodically attack commercial communities and they do not do things by halves. The result must sooner or later be a serious collapse."

Explosion In Schoolroom

Ludington, Mich., May 9.—A gasoline explosion in an Amber township schoolroom, during an entertainment last night, resulted in fatal injury to one person, the wounding of one seriously and several slightly. August Cramer was giving a magic lantern exhibition when the gasoline exploded, demolishing the interior of the schoolhouse and blowing out the windows.

On Bread and Water Diet

Honesdale, Pa., May 9.—Charles L. Collison was committed to the county jail here last night for six days to be fed upon bread and water, because he refused to pay a fine of $4 for working in his garden on Sunday last. Collison is a member of the Seventh Day Adventists' church at Ariel, and he claims he is being persecuted for his religious belief.

Missing Man Heard From

Brockton, Mass., May 9.—Theodore D. Blackwell, who has been missing from this city since last Saturday morning, has notified his family that he is in New York and has not carried out his threat of self-destruction. The police of New York were notified on receipt of the letter, to trace and hold the writer. His wife believes that his mind is unbalanced.

Whooping Cough.

A woman who has had experience with this disease tells how to prevent any dangerous consequences from it. She says: Our three children took whooping cough last summer, our baby boy being only three months old, and owing to our giving them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, they lost none of their plumpness and came out in much better health than other children whose parents did not use this remedy. Our oldest little girl would call lustily for cough syrup between whoops.—JESSIE PINKEY HALL, Springville, Ala. This Remedy is for sale by all druggists.

EASTMAN QUESTIONED

In the Effort to Break Down the Entire Defense

HE ADMITS INACCURACIES

Testimony Under Examination by His Counsel and That Given Before the Grand Jury Varied—Further Testimony by Experts on Cartridges

Cambridge, Mass., May 9.—The cross-examination of Charles R. Eastman, charged with the murder of Richard H. Grogan, Jr., on July 4 last, was resumed yesterday. Every seat in the court room was taken, the majority of those present being women. For two hours the court room fairly quivered with excitement over the rigorous cross-examination of the defendant at the hands of the attorney general.

With the stenographic report of other proceedings in the case in his hands, the prosecuting officer hurled a perfect whirlwind of questions at the Harvard instructor, with the evident intent of showing many discrepancies, and, if possible, to break down the entire defense.

Eastman at times shook and wavered in the storm by admitting some inaccuracies and a variance in his testimony between that given at the grand jury and under his direct examination by his counsel, but in the end he still retained the main trunk and branches of his story, and came forth from the gale in comparatively good condition.

Whether the discrepancies, which were confined to his neglect to mention the struggle with Grogan to the officers until the next day, his position in the henyard and the number of shots which were fired during the struggle, are of vital importance, is for the jury to decide. The fact remains, however, that no other version of the shooting except that told by Eastman has yet been laid before the jury, although the government has used every endeavor to show many inaccuracies in the story.

Nothing that the attorney general could say could make Eastman waver in his story that the shooting was an accident, and that until the government produced the centre fire bullet he had always believed that Grogan had been killed with a bullet from the old rim fire revolver. He did not attempt to explain how Grogan might have been shot during the struggle over the centre fire revolver, and absolutely refused to give the attorney general any speculation in that line. He left the stand after being under examination almost exactly one full court day.

Interest in the trial waned sadly after the chief personage had finished his testimony, the balance of the day being given up entirely to experts on cartridges and revolvers. This evidence was produced by the defense to contradict similar evidence produced by the government. Nearly all the witnesses were from Lowell, where the defense has caused elaborate experiments to be made with bullets, the carrying power of powder and the fractures in bones made by centre fire and rim fire revolvers.

The principal witness of the afternoon was Manager Dimon of the United States Cartridge company of Lowell, who claimed to have secretly marked the bullet said to have been taken from Grogan's body. He said this mark was not on the bullet produced at the trial, but admitted that the bullet which he marked was a centre fire bullet.

Nineteen Counts Against Him

Boston, May 9.—William A. Hayes, a colored porter employed by General Passenger Agent Hanson of the Boston and Albany railroad, was arrested yesterday, charged on 19 counts with forgery and uttering. It is alleged that Hayes forged the name of Hanson to orders for postage stamps valued at $414 and secured the stamps.

The Barcelona Troubles

London, May 9.—Special dispatches from Madrid this morning describe serious conditions at Barcelona, and assert that several rioters have already been shot after drumhead court-martials. Collisions with fatal consequences have occurred between the troops and the strikers.

Good Afternoon.

It is proposed, when President McKinley visits the City of Worcester next month that the Second regiment shall parade. We would suggest that the Fifth regiment be invited to parade in Quincy on July 5, when the President visits this city. Soldier boys are always popular, and it would be a pleasing feature. A reception at the birthplaces of the Presidents, greeting by school children, parade of the Fifth regiment, and exercises at the Stone Temple, would make a good program for the day, and free from noise and objectionable features, as is the wish of President McKinley and Mrs. McKinley.

A reader who has not been enthusiastic for Quincy, says that, since reading the editorial in yesterday's Ledger, that he must get into line. With such an array of marked improvements as were there enumerated, he says there can be no doubt of Quincy's progress. The year 1901 which opens the new century, also opens a grand era for this city. If all would but realize this, and do their part, the boom which Quincy would receive just now would be surprising.

Drift of Opinion.

☞ Mrs. Robert Fitzsimmons, whose husband is an actor—as all successful pugilists are — has been drawing a revolver and threatening to shoot people if they didn't break up a fight between her Great Dane and a bulldog that had attacked him. The Fitzsimmons press agent is so busy lately that we are brought to think that business must be bad with Bob's theatrical venture.—Brockton Enterprise.

☞ The statement in a letter from Porto Rico to the Tribune that the excise duties on rum in that island have had no evil effects, coupled with the further statement that the sale of rum is constantly increasing, will give the temperance talkers something new to discuss—New Bedford Standard.

May Fair.

The annual May Fair at the Universalist vestry was held this week Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. Tables for the display of fancy articles, aprons, flowers and candy, were artistically placed around the room. The lodge of Good Templars had charge of a table, donating all the articles, the proceeds to go to the church.

Tuesday evening the entertainment consisted of piano solos by Miss Stella Wheble, readings by Miss Feltis, duet by Mr. Green and Miss Lulu Phelan, and selections by a trio — piano, harmonica and clappers.

On Wednesday evening, the entertainment included a trombone solo by Mr. Harry Field, solos by Mr. Everett Winslow and Mrs. Austin Winslow, concluding with the one-act farce entitled "The Obstinate Family." Those taking part were Mrs. H. R. Holmes, Miss Holton, Miss Newcomb, Mr. Holmes, Mr. J. E. Green and Mr. Gomez. The farce was exceptionally laughable, all taking the parts well.

Supper was served both nights of the fair by the ladies and were of the usual excellence. The fair was well patronized, about all of the articles being sold, and the ladies feel well satisfied by their success.

PRECIOUS JEWEL.

Mrs. Washington Complies with Request of Masons.

Next month Rural lodge of Masons of this city will have a two days' celebration of the centennial of its institution.

It is the purpose of the Daily Ledger in the meantime to give almost daily some reference to this popular fraternity:—its history, its origin, its advantages; its progress; its prominent members, etc. And especially incidents of 100 years ago, and also the history of Rural lodge.

Mrs. Martha Washington replied as follows to the request of the Grand Lodge of Masons of Massachusetts published in yesterday's Ledger:

"Mount Vernon,
January 27, 1800.

Gentlemen: "Mrs. Washington has received with sensibility your letter of the 14th inst. enclosing a vote of the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts requesting a lock of her deceased husband's hair, to be preserved in a golden urn, with the jewels, and regalia of the Grand Lodge.

"In complying with this request, by sending the lock of hair, which you will find enclosed, Mrs. Washington begs me to assure you, that she views with gratitude the tributes of respect and affection paid to the memory of her dear deceased husband; and receives with a feeling heart, the expressions of sympathy contained in your letter.

"With great respect and esteem, I have the honour to be gentlemen, your most obedient servant.

Widow of Comfort Whiting.

Mrs. Esther A. Whiting, widow of Capt. Comfort Whiting, who for many years was master of clipper ships and steamships engaged in the East India and China trade, passed away at her home on Beale street, Wollaston, on Wednesday evening.

Although she had been in poor health for a year, the immediate cause of her death was neuralgia of the heart.

Mrs. Whiting was born at Canton, Mass., in 1825. In 1852 she was married at Milton to Comfort Whiting, Jr., of New Bedford, who was then master of the East Indiaman "Celestial Empire." Milton then became their home. Of this union, there were five children, one of whom survives,—James S. Whiting. She has been a resident of this city for 25 years and for the past 15 years a constant attendant at the Wollaston Congregational church.

Violated Park Rules.

Robert F. Herrick of Milton, Joseph Hall of Virginia and Willam Byers of Newton, appeared at the district court through counsel this morning and contributed $5 each to the State treasury. The three men were out last Sunday for a horseback ride and visited the Blue Hills Reservation. The street was not good enough for them, so they cantered on the green for a mile or more. Here they fell into the hands of the park police who summoned them into court. They did not appear when the case was called, but counsel entered a plea of nolo, and paid the fines.

W. C. T. U. Convention.

The spring convention of the Norfolk county W. C. T. U. will be held on Tuesday, May 21, at the Old South Congregational church at South Weymouth, with sessions at 10 A. M., and 2 P. M. The principal paper in the morning will be by Mrs. Myra A. Raymond of East Weymouth, "How can we increase our membership?" Mrs. C. R. Waterman will tell of the early years of the South Weymouth union, and Mrs. Katharine L. Stevenson, the Massachusetts President of the W. C. T. U. will speak on "Our work and our needs." The noon lunch will be served by the South Weymouth union. Mrs. George A. Brown of Wollaston is the secretary of the convention.

AT HOUGHS NECK.

Busy Season Promised at This Popular Seashore Resort.

The season at Houghs Neck is fairly under way. New families are arriving every day. The demand for cottages is increasing and by the first of the month they will be at a premium. The causes for this unusual demand can be assigned to pleasant weather, growing popularity of the beach and the prospects of additional transportation facilities. T. J. Dwyer and J. E. Cavanagh, two local real estate men say the demand for cottages this year is unprecedented, and that nearly everything in sight had been let. Do not delay then, if you intend to lease a cottage this season or you will be too late.

Here are a few notes caught on the fly by the Ledger man.

C. J. Beausang is at his cottage on Littlefield street.

The Willow cottage will be occupied this season by the orphan aslyum connected with the Cathedral, Boston.

Mrs. John Hanlen and family are at the Mount Pleasant cottage.

William Jordan is at his cottage on Winthrop street.

Louis Mullet, the well-known tonsorial artist, will be located at Garbarino's rooms this year.

John Ross is behind the counter at Dunham's again this year.

A new house for W. H. Powers of Brockton is going up on Weymouth street.

Mr. Connolly has leased the Day cottage.

John F. Murray of Boston has leased the Cycle cottage.

Charles G. Elute has leased the Loretto for the season.

John MacRoberts has arrived and everything will go smooth from now on.

Maggie Kelliher has purchased the Clam-shell, and is making extensive alterations.

Melville Upham is at his cottage on the hill.

John Lewis has purchased the Robbins cottage.

Mrs. Eastman has arrived at the Dot for the season.

Joseph R. Vogel of Roxbury is at his cottage on Weston road

Interested in Florida Enterprise.

Thomas H. McDonnell, Esq., of this city sails today on the Clyde liner Novaloe for Florida, where he is interested in a railroad enterprise, the building of 100 miles of track from Plant city to Gasparilla island on the gulf of Mexico, and a branch of 25 miles on Navatee river. The legislature of the State has just extended the charter granted about two years ago and work will now be pushed. The company claim that the new route will be 152 miles shorter than the Port Tampa line between New York and Cuba, and expect big earnings from the transportation of vegetables, especially tomatoes, string beans and cabbages; also oranges, fish and general merchandise Mr. McDonnell is one of the directors.

Auction.

A. A. Linscott is selling at his store opposite the post office a large stock of jewelry at auction, which he has brought from his Wollaston store. Sale every afternoon and evening. Ladies specially invited. The stock consists of charms, chains, rings, pins, spoons, knives, and almost any article found in a first class jewelery store.

No Loss of Time.

I have sold Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea, Remedy for years, and would rather be out of coffee and sugar than it. I sold five bottles of it yesterday to threshers that could go no farther, and they are at work again this morning.—H. R. PHELPS, Plymouth, Oklahoma. As will be seen by the above the threshers were able to keep on with their work without losing a single day's time. You should keep a bottle of this Remedy in your home. For sale by all druggists.

—Attorney-Gen. Knowlton has decided that the various bills to allow street railways to carry merchandise and mail parcels are constitutional.

THE ADAMS LOSE.

The Rounders Pull Out Victory in the Last Innings.

The Adams Academy nine lost its game yesterday with the Harvard nine known as "The Rounders." There is a set of cups played for each year at Harvard by teams made up of ball players who are not members of the regular college nines. "The Rounders" are playing in that series of games this year, and the game yesterday was arranged by Lewis Hall, a graduate of the Academy, who is now a distinguished scholar at Harvard and who played centrefield in the game. The finish of the game was close and exciting. The visitors were last at the bat with the home nine one run ahead.

With two men on bases and one man out Hill knocked the ball safely and sent in two runs. The game was ended with the score 14 to 13 in favor of the Harvard boys. The Academy boys played the poorest fielding game they have played this year. At the bat they were strong, and if the fielding during the first three innings had been but moderately good they would have won. Yesterday's game also showed plainly that the coaching was weak. Several base runners were put out solely from poor coaching.

The fielding of the visiting nine was generally good.

Below is the score in full:

Willard,	3	1	2	33
Adams,	3	0	3	00

The next games will be played on Saturday.

Good Game Saturday.

The West Quincys will play the Boston Journals Saturday, May 11. This is one of the strongest teams that has played in Quincy for some years and a hot game is assured. The following is the line up of the two teams:

Boston Journals — Barrington or Parsons, c.; Conroy or Welch, p; Burke, 1b; J. McDermott, 2b.; B. McDermott or Jerry Callahan, ss.; Siller, 3b.; Pinkney, lf.; Ring cf.; Fallon, rf.

West Quincys — Forbes, c.; Ryan, p; Hathaway, 1b.; Kiley, 2b.; Duffy, ss.; Duane, rf.; C. Mullane, cf.; Logan, 3b.; Donaher, lf.

It is hoped the management will be able to secure the services of Mr. George Cahill for umpire.

Billiousness is a condition characterized by a disturbance of the digestive organs. The stomach is debilitated, the liver torpid, the bowels constipated. There is a loathing of food, pains in the bowels, dizziness, coated tongue and vomiting, first of the undigested or partly digested food and then of bile. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets allay the disturbances of the stomach and create a healthy appetite. They also tone up the liver to a healthy action and regulate the bowels. Try them and you are certain to be much pleased with the result. For sale by all druggists.

—It is estimated that the net earnings of the United States Steel Corporation for a year will exceed $100,000,000, which is a trifle better, perhaps, than the average country newspaper.—Mansfield News.

LIBRARY HOURS.

Shorter in Quincy than in Other Cities.

There seems to be a feeling among many that the hours at the Thomas Crane public library are not what they should be. Some say they do not find them convenient, and that the accommodations are not equal to those of other small cities. A lady who is a constant patron of the library has made an investigation, and the Ledger gives the result of her inquiries without comment:

The Magazine.

Paul Laurence Dunbar's new novel, "The Sport of the Gods," is published entire in the May "New" Lippincott Magazine. This is by far the strongest and best fiction from a pen noted for its humor and pathos. As "Uncle Tom's Cabin" in its day held the reader captive, so does this novel of the new Negro, enfranchised but still a charge upon our consciences.

In addition to the complete novel there is plenty of good short fiction, varied in theme. A story of Mexico, by Edwin Knight Buttolph, called "The Slavery of Mosies," gives a glowing instance of a man's sacrifice for one he loves. "The Supreme Court of Love," by Julia MacNair Wright, is an amusing prose farce in an apartment-house.

The three articles in the May number of the Woman's Home Companion will attract special attention. "Memorial Day in the South," by Mrs. V. Jefferson Davis, is a sympathetic story of how the Southern people honor their dead; "The Countess von Waldersee," by Mabel Percy Haskell, tells of the American wife of the great German general, and "Two Meetings With Garfield," by Clara Morris, is a pleasant chapter of reminiscense from that noted actress.

JONES—In Boston, May 7, Mr. Thomas B. Jones formerly of Quincy, aged 61 years.

Fast Running Caused Disaster

Paducah, Ky., May 9.—An Illinois Central fast passenger train from Memphis to Louisville was wrecked at Kuttawa yesterday afternoon. The engine jumped the track, and all but one car was turned over. Engineer Keegan and Fireman Stift were fatally hurt. Two train hands were badly hurt, and several passengers recived painful injuries. The wreckage caught fire, and a cafe car and coach were completely destroyed. Fast running to make up time is supposed to have caused the wreck.

Small Fortune In a Minute

New York, May 9.—An incident illustrating the quick turns in stocks occurred yesterday on the floor of the exchange. J. J. Manning, who was in the center of the crowd when 180 was bid for 1000 shares of Northern Pacific, sold the lot, and, turning only half around, bought 500 at 170 and 500 at 160. This netted a profit of $15,000. Other trades made equally quick turns.

Under Medical Treatment

New York, May 9.—Charles F. Jones, valet and secretary to the late William M. Rice, and principal witness against Albert T. Patrick, the lawyer, who is charged with Rice's murder, was removed from the house of detention yesterday to a boarding house for medical treatment. Jones is very sick with catarrh of the stomach. He will be guarded by several detectives.

Plea For Boxing Shows

Chicago, May 9.—A committee from the Liberal league, an organization claiming the support of 40,000 citizens, and which represents the prize fighting element of Chicago, called on Mayor Harrison yesterday and asked that he permit the resumption of boxing exhibitions in this city. The mayor will announce a decision within a few days.

Trophy Goes to Harvard

Atlantic City, N. J., May 9.—Harvard won the intercollegiate golf tournament on the Northfield links yesterday, contesting in the finals with the sons of Eli for the cup. Princeton held the trophy, which it now yields to the wearers of the crimson.

A Steeple Jack's Close Call

New York, May 9.—Charles Brockholtz, a steeple jack, had been regilding the ball on top of a 70-foot flagstaff in Hoboken yesterday, when his foot slipped and he would have been dashed to the ground had not the rope to which his paint pot was attached knotted about his left ankle and held him 60 feet in the air. The screams of the man attracted attention. Some one rang a fire alarm, and half an hour later a 70-foot extension ladder was run up the pole, and Brockholtz was carried in safety to the ground.

Steamer and Cargo Lost

Kingston, Jam., May 9.—The steamer Schleswig is a total wreck, having struck a reef while trying to enter Port Maria harbor. Her loss is considered a result of gross carlessness on the part of the local pilot. The Schleswig was chartered by the United Fruit company. Her entire cargo of fruit was lost.

Australian Parliament Opened

Melbourne, May 9.—The Duke of Cornwall and York opend the Australian federal parliament at noon today. The ceremony was brilliant.

At a meeting of the Massachusetts Total Abstinence society at Boston it was decided that there should be a pledge signing campaign in Massachusetts.

The world's record at candle pins was broken by a few pins by the Boston team rolling against Worcester in the New England championship at Boston. The scores were: Boston, 1425; Worcester, 1221.

At a meeting of the stockholders of the First National bank of Portland, Me., it was voted to reduce the capital from $1,000,000 to $600,000.

WICKLESS
Blue Flame
OIL STOVE

It will do any cooking that can be done on any kind of a stove. It is clean, quick, convenient, and cool for the cook. It uses the cheapest fuel—kerosene—but without wicks and without the least danger or odor. It does better cooking than a coal range, with the convenience of a gas range, at a fraction of the cost of either. Made in various sizes, from one burner up. If your dealer does not have them write to the nearest agency of

STANDARD OIL COMPANY

To the Interested Bicycle Public.

My opening day statement and challenge was that I would easily be the leading bicycle dealer of Quincy this year. I expected to gain this end by selling the finest line of bicycles within my power to secure, at fair prices. Not to misrepresent or deceive my customers and friends. It is your friendship and trade I want and in return you can expect honest statements, honest treatment and perfect satisfaction from me. I am pleased with the jealousy my success has developed in my competitors. It simply means that I have bicycles and a policy of selling that is popular.

Give me a call and examine my line of wheels. I am not a mud slinger or sharp skate. I can deliver all bicycles at the prices asked. This is more than my competitors can do.

THE SELLING OF CLOTH

Defects In Present System to Be Remedied

AN EXTENDED AGREEMENT

To Include All Plain Goods Among the Propositions—Likelihood of a Radical Change In the Power and Scope of the Selling Committee

Fall River, Mass., May 9.—Another effort is under way to reorganize the selling committee, and it is now proposed to call an early meeting of the signers to the agreement by which it came into existence. No date for a meeting has been fixed, and it is likely that it may be necessary to call the signers together through petition from men not on the advisory committee.

It is well known that the defects in the present system are with the methods of selling and not with the men who represent the signers of the agreement. The selling committee, as it now stands, perpetuates itself in office, and the members of the original advisory committee have elected men who have consented to fill the various vacancies which have occurred. Some of the mill directors think that rotation in office would tend to remove the trouble between buyers and sellers, and they hope the signers of the original agreement will meet and provide for the regular election of an advisory committee, they to elect their executive committee at their pleasure.

Many of the signers wish that some man be hired on a salary or commission to act as selling agent. He would be independent of any set of directors in a single corporation, and the adoption of this plan would necessitate the selection of a man who is not a mill owner. His acts would be in accordance with the instructions of the executive committee appointed by the advisory committee, but if he thought that a quick sale at a concession would be advisable and beneficial to all interests concerned, he would be empowered with authority to make the sale.

It is claimed that the present committee is unwieldy because of its large membership, and that many times the action of the committee has been known in New York before the people of Fall River knew it. In the opinion of many treasurers a committee of smaller proportions, controlled by a single sale head, would be a great improvement.

The selling committee does not now control any fancy weaves or any over 33 inches wide. Some think that an extended agreement, to include all plain goods, would be a good thing, but that if this were not done then the election of treasurers in wide goods mills to a position on the advisory committee should be discouraged.

Although the recent curtailment has not had the expected effect, it has shown that some of the mills represnted on the committee have not been wholly interested in narrow goods, but the men from the mills are conceded to be good traders and there is no indication of any attempt looking toward their resignations. At the Granite, Union and Border City mills, about one-third of the looms are engaged on committee goods, and each mill is represented on the committee, while several of the mills that are making committee goods almost exclusively are not represented on the committee.

Another suggestion that has been made is that the present work of the committee should be allowed to lapse until the stock now on hand has been sold and the prices reach a bottom figure, which would form the basis of more active trading. Although this plan has not met with any marked encouragement, it is well known that several of the mills would like to get away from the committee influence.

It is not thought that further curtailment of production will be discussed at the proposed meeting of the signers, but the matter of a new form of committee may be left to the judgment of the committee. There is little doubt that the form of selling to a committee will still be used, and the only question is as to details. There have been efforts tending toward individuality among the mills, but this movement has as yet shown no signs of coming to a head, and it is probable that the more important movement of a selling agent will be the one adopted.

Killed In a Street Brawl

New York, May 9.—Jeremiah Moore, released only a week ago from Black well's island, was shot in the breast and killed last night in a street brawl in front of the Cosmopolitan hotel. The police are working on the case, and early this morning arrested four men and one woman on suspicion. The proprietors of the hotel declare that there was a street fight in front of the place and that three shots were fired.

Resented by Porto Ricans

San Juan, P. R., May 9.—Handbills are being circulated here reproducing an interview with Wenceslao Borda, published in a New York paper, in which he was quoted as saying: "So hopeless is the state of affairs that fathers sell their daughters to keep them from dying of hunger." The people are indignant and should Mr. Borda arrive in Porto Rico now he would be liable to attack.

Dartmouth Wins In Athletics

Providence, May 9.—The track meet between Brown and Dartmouth resulted in the score of 76½ to 53½ points in favor of the latter. The Dartmouth men were evidently better trained, and their work was steadier. The Hanover men were strongest in pole vault, hurdles and short runs, but Brown came in for the weights and long runs.

CIRCUITS DISABLED

Crippling of Electric Light Service Attributed to Striking Linemen

Boston, May 9.—The first overt act to be attributed to the striking electric linemen was perpetrated in the Brighton district and Brookline last night, when electric wires of the Brookline Gaslight company were cut, throwing some 50 or 60 lights out of commission. Although the act has not been definitely fixed upon the strikers, the manner in which the work was done plainly shows that it was done by an expert at the business.

The circuits interfered with are the most isolated portions of the two places and the perpetrators could carry on thier operations readily, with but little fear of detection.

Inspectors were sent out by the company to search for the trouble, and it was soon located, but no trace of the persons committing the outrage was to be found. The break was mended and men were stationed at different points to prevent a repetition of the act, and remained on duty all night.

In the city proper there is little new to record in connection with the strike. The strikers are making their principal fight against the New England Telephone and Telegraph company, and in this direction they claim to have received most encouraging reports from several cities.

They have an elaborate system of pickets established and every incoming train is watched for new men who may attempt to take their old places.

Corruption In Politics

Boston, May 9.—In an address before the National club of Massachusetts last night, Dr. Leonard W. Bacon of Norwich, Conn., scored both the great political parties in this country and denounced the present system of politics. "It is not to be denied," he said, "that the profession of politics is looked upon as disreputable. Intelligent and conscientious citizens outside of party lines are not to be much blamed if they should fall into the mistake of not voting at all. There is a prior election to the primary election, to which the conscientious citizen is not invited. Re-enfranchise the individual citizen and they will smash the machine."

Testimony Favored Defendant

Boston, May 9.—The mysterious little girl who was with Henry E. Parsons on the day he shot William T. Hammond, June 18, was introduced into the trial yesterday. She was brought in by the defense. Her name is Sadie Ross, aged 12. The testimony was wholly favorable to Parsons, and was in brief that on that day she had asked Parsons for a nickle to pay for a ride on the merry-go-round. She followed him down to the wharf to ask for another nickel, when he told her to run along and play. Her dress, the tear in which has been mentioned, was torn when she left home.

Stubborn Fire at Boston

Boston, May 9.—After more than an hour's battle, the firemen succeeded in controlling a stubborn fire that started on the sixth floor of the six-story granite building 523 and 525 Washington street this morning. This floor, as well as the fifth, was occupied by A. N. Hardy and C. M. Littlefield, photographers, and the large amount of chemicals in their stock made it an extremely dangerous fire. The flames gutted the two upper stories, and the entire building was drenched with water. The aggregate losses will probably reach $75,000.

A Police Shakeup

Salem, Mass., May 9.—At a meeting of the board of aldermen last night Mayor Hurley made several police nominations. One officer and 13 patrolmen were renominated; two officers and 13 patrolmen will hold their places until their successors are named, and one officer and eight men were dropped from the roll. P. F. Packard was named for city marshal, in place of John W. Hart, who has held the office for 24 years.

Storti's End Is Near

Boston, May 9.—Luigi Storti, who within a few days will be put to death in the electric chair at the state prison in Charlestown, yesterday received a visit from Rev. Fr. Ubaldus, who remained with Storti for over an hour. The priest told the condemned man frankly that he must die within a few days. Storti appears to be as well as he has been during the past three weeks.

Ruined by Liquor

Worcester, Mass., May 9.—John N. Freed, aged 47, took his own life by hanging in his tenement yesterday. The body was discovered by his sons when they returned from work at night. Freed had lost his work four years ago on account of drink. For some time his wife has been at the city almshouse, and he has been supported by his sons.

Voluntary Issue of Mileage Books

Boston, May 9.—Beginning today the Boston and Maine railroad will issue $10 mileage books, equivalent to 500 mileage. The legislature has repeatedly been asked to pass a law to compel railroads to issue 500 mileage books, but the order as often failed passage. The Boston and Maine book will be good only within the state.

Suicide of a Boy

Gloucester, Mass., May 9.—Jacob Kaleo, 13 years old, a native of Finland, committed suicide by hanging yesterday, his body being found suspended from a tree at Folly Cove. The boy had been in this country but a short time and could not speak English. It is presumed that despondency was the cause of his act.

Burned to Death

Boston, May 9.—Mrs. Eva Heinser of Roslindale was stooping to throw some rags upon a bonfire in her yard when her clothing caught fire. She ran across the street into the house of Mrs. Raub, wher neighbors wrapped a blanket around her, smothering the flames. Mrs. Heinser died last night.

LABOR TROUBLES

Renewal of Demonstrations on the Part of Strikers at Derby

Derby, Conn., May 9.—The Paugusett textile mills, where women strikers made a demonstration Tuesday, were shut down yesterday afternoon, the management declining to make any statement in explanation. Crowds gathered in the streets about the mills again, but no outbreaks occurred.

The demonstrations of strikers from the Alling mills were renewed last night. Lewis Scarpa, the father of two of the newly hired girls, attempted, with the aid of several policemen, to escort his daughters across the Shelton bridge to their home. A mob outside the gates immediately closed around the party, throwing stones, eggs and sticks, and jostling them about the streets. Two other officers escorting employes were roughly handled, but no arests were made. A hack, supposed to contain the superintendent of the Alling works, was stones by the crowd, and an attempt was made to overthrow it, but without success.

Carpenters' Strike Ended

Waterbury, Conn., May 9.—The carpenters' strike, which began a week ago, ended yesterday, when the demands of the workmen for shorter hours without a reduction of wages, and that only union men be employed, were granted by the contractors, and 225 men returned to work today.

Traction Strike Still On

Troy, N. Y., May 9.—There are no new developments in the United Traction company strike. No conference has yet been held between the strikers and the railway officials. There is no disorder and few of the railway men are about the streets.

Nearly Three Thousand Men Involved

Reading, Pa., May 9.—Sixteen hundred employes of the Reading Iron company's tube mill are on strike for a restoration of wages to last fall's schedule. If the trouble is not adjusted in a day or two 1200 more men will be called out.

Made Nothing by Striking

St. John, May 9.—The strike of the Lumber Surveyors' association for increased scale of wages was abandoned last night, and the surveyors decided to work at the old rate. They have been out a month.

ON THE DIAMOND

Weather Conditions and Forecast

Almanac, Friday, May 10.

Sun rises—4:29; sets, 6:53.

Moon rises—11:58 p. m.

High water—3:30 a. m.; 4 p. m.

The area of cloud and rain that has hung over the middle Mississippi and Ohio valleys for the last four days is slowly drifting eastward. Unsettled weather and rain is indicated for New England. Important temperature changes are not anticipated. On the coast fresh southerly winds will shift to southeasterly.

Sciatic Rheumatism Cured After Fourteen Years of Suffering.

"I have been afflicted with sciatic rheumatism for fourteen years," says Josh Edgar, of Germantown, Cal. "I was able to be around but, constantly suffered. I tried everything I could hear of and at last was told to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which I did and was immediately relieved and in a short time cured, and I am happy to say it has not since returned." Why not use this liniment and get well? It is for sale by all druggists.

Is Heavily In Debt

Toledo, May 9.—Hon. Charles Foster of Fosteria, ex-secretary of the treasury, has made application in the United States court here as a voluntary bankrupt. His debts are set down as $747,008, and there are no assets.

Used Razor on Himself

Madison, Me., May 9.—Leonard C. Paine, aged 36, cut his throat with a razor yesterday in a thick growth of birch brushes. He had been in poor health and somewhat unbalanced mentally.

A REMEDY FOR THE GRIPPE.

A remedy recommended for patients afflicted with the Grippe is KEMP'S BALSAM, which is especially adapted for the throat and lungs. Don't wait for the first symptoms of the disease! get a bottle today and keep it for use the moment it is needed. If neglected the grippe has a tendency to bring on pneumonia. KEMP'S BALSAM prevents this by keeping the cough loose, lungs free from inflammation. All druggists sell KEMP'S BALSAM at 25c. and 50c.

Risking Life

To make a living! And we stand and stare up at the man in the clouds, wondering that any man can be so foolhardy. But what of the business man, who has barely time to snatch a hasty meal, and gulps down a lunch of pie and milk in a few minutes? He too, is risking his life to make a living. Life is sustained by food properly digested and assimilated. The result of hasty eating and irregular meals is "weak" stomach, and a "weak" stomach means a weak man. When the stomach is "weak" the food eaten is not properly digested and cannot be perfectly assimilated, so that there is a daily loss of nutrition, which in time will result in physical collapse.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enables the assimilation of all the nutritive values of the food eaten, and so builds up the body into sound health and strength.

Mr. Ned Nelson, the celebrated Irish Comedian and Mimic, of 577 Royden Street, Camden, N. J., writes: "We fulfilled an engagement of twelve weeks and the constant traveling gave me a bad touch of that dreaded disease called dyspepsia. I had tried everything possible to cure it till last week, while playing at B. F. Keith's Bijou Theater, Philadelphia, in the Nelson Trio, a professional friend of mine advised me to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I tried it, and, thank God, with good results."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

A Legitimate Investment

Which Increased Over 700 per cent.

WITHIN SIX MONTHS.

The Arcola Oil Company's stock sold for $135 per 1,00 shares, and in six months $1,000 per 1,000 shares was refused for the stock, for the reason that the first well was a large producer and there is room for forty wells on the Company's land, which makes it about certain that the stock in the near future will be worth ten dollars per share.

We offer you the same opportunity for a large gain by investing in the Dirigo Oil Company's stock, the first block of which is being sold for $150 per 1,000 shares. The Company owns a block of land adjoining the Arcola Company's land which has large producing wells on all four sides. There is eighty acres of the Company's land in the center of the oil belt, which we feel absolutely certain will give a large producing well in each acre.

We now have machinery on the ground, and are ready to sink the first well, and expect to strike oil by May 1st, which will then make the stock worth par value, if the well is as good a producer as the Arcola.

The block of stock we are selling is about three-quarters sold and quick application will have to be made to secure any of it at the present price.

WERE BADLY SQUEEZED

Northern Pacific Corner Caught Shorts Napping

STOCK TOUCHED $1000 CASH

General Slump Came Later In All the Leading Stocks—Big Interests Get Together to Help Those Who Were Caught In the Crisis

New York, May 10.—The threatening condition of affairs which developed in the stock market Wednesday culminated yesterday in one of the severest short collapses that have ever been known in Wall street. The corner in Northern Pacific was the impelling cause of the crisis, owing to the threat contained in the ruinous terms forced upon the shorts in that stock that disastrous liquidation would be forced at other points.

The casualties were many, but no actual fatalities of importance were recorded during the day. During the height of the panic there were rumors of many insolvencies, but no confirmation could be had. The indications at the close of the day were strong that the principal damage had been wrought upon the speculative class or upon holders of securities on margin.

In the late dealings, the principal banks in the financial district agreed to pool and raise a fund, bringing the loan rate down to 6 percent on the stock exchange. The bid for money had then been run up to 60 percent. The dozen banks quickly came to an agreement to raise $16,000,000, with implied willingness to increase the sum if necessary. There were very heavy loans placed also by individual banks, ranging in some cases to $25,000,000 and $30,000,000. Through the early part of the day bankers exacted the market rate for loans. But with the growing need to suppress the panic they offered the rate down to 6 percent.

In the brokers' offices sat many men who were reduced to absolute ruin as a result of the unparalleled rise of prices.

The glittering attraction of the recent market has brought out a constantly increasing assortment of inexperienced speculators—men and women who have brought their hoarded savings in the hope of making one successful stroke and then retire. The demonstration from this class, which includes many women speculators, furnished the hysterical scenes and sensations of the day.

There was a strong feeling in the morning, before proceedings had commenced on the stock exchange, that a panic could be averted only with the greatest difficulties. The fact was apparent that the corner in Northern Pacific was still unbroken. The price paid for the stock ran up quickly to $200 per share, and then to $300, to $500, and even to $700 per share on regular transaction, and $1000 per share for cash. The cash price paid meant that unfortunate shorts, who were unable to borrow the stock Wednesday night for delivery yesterday, had to pay whatever cash price the engineers of the corner chose to ask for it.

The concerted effort to support the market by buying all stocks which might be offered, undertaken, according to the current belief in Wall street, by some of the most powerful capitalists in the country, was swept away as in a whirlpool, under a deluge of offerings. As prices began to go down the disposition to buy decreased and the determination to sell seemed to grow. Such a shoveling out of stocks as occurred during the second hour of yesterday's stock market was never seen before.

In the outside market, the stress of the demand for funds was shown by the perpendicular drop in the price of Standard Oil of 171 points over night. The stock sold at 650, compared with 821 Wednesday night.

The same urgent need was reflected in the bond market, where all grades of bonds were offered on a declining scale. The sacrifices there were naturally much less than in the stock department of the market.

The shock which caused the collapse was the Northern Pacific corner, without dispute.

The decline once in force gained cumulative strength. Speculators' margins were wiped out, and brokers had to sell the securities placed with them as collateral to save themselves from loss, thus adding to the weight of the selling.

The announcement later in the day of the measure for the relief of the shorts and the relapse in the price of the stock to 300 allayed the demoralization almost immediately. Announcements by those who respectively represent the two contesting parties in Northern Pacific that they would not require deliveries of the stock yesterday meant a respite of the day at least from ruin for the shorts in the stock.

Rumors were very persistent that many prominent houses had been compromised seriously by the violent slump in prices. All of these specific rumors were emphatically denied on the direct authority of the parties affected. But so violent a collapse in prices as occurred yesterday necessarily involves enormous losses somewhere.

Night closed upon the eventful, trying day without definite settlement as to the Northern Pacific, the central figure in the fierce struggle.

A statistical review of the transactions in the stock market yesterday shows that at low water mark of prices 41 principal stocks had shrunk to the tremendous figures of $698,388,407. This shrinkage, however, is largely offset by the recovery of the market towards the close.

MERELY A "FEELER"

Ministers Present a Bill of $450,000,000 Taels For China to Settle

Pekin, May 10.—An indemnity claim of 450,000,000 taels was presented to the Chinese plenipotentiaries last evening. Official Chinese throughout the empire have been communicating with the court and giving advice. Most of them seem to favor a loan guaranteed by the foreign powers. Others believe in raising the money in every possible without a loan, and in paying off the entire demand within five years.

The court has considered methods of raising 20,000,000 taels extra, annually, and provisionally approves the plan, but the Chinese plenipotentiaries have instructions to obtain a reduction of the indemnity demand as far as possible. Whatever the final demand of the powers may be, it is not believed that the opposition will be much more than a matter of form.

The ministers of the powers decided that the Chinese should be given to understand thoroughly that the amount did not constitute the claim but was the total of the expenses, including private claims considered fair, and was meant more to obtain an opinion from official sources as to China's ability to pay and also as to what means she would employ.

Brigands Whipped by Frenchmen

Paris, May 10.—An official dispatch from Tonquin announces that a band of Chinese brigands, from the province of Kwang-Si, recently attacked the French post at Ling-lan, and drove out the garrison, killing five and wounding seven men. A few days later the brigands attacked the French post at Suegiang, but were driven off, leaving 33 killed. The band, finally, on May 2, was driven back into Kwang-Si with heavy loss. Ten Frenchmen were wounded during the fighting.

A Popular Young Couple

Berlin, May 10.—Queen Wilhelmina and the Prince of The Netherlands arrived yesterday at Schwerin, where they were enthusiastically greeted by the populace. At the town hall the burgomaster delivered an address of welcome, to which Prince Henry made a brief response. While in front of the castle the cavalry escort ran over two Dutch journalists, one of whom was seriously injured.

Pollock Was Heavily Insured

Cleveland, May 10.—It has developed that R. N. Pollock, the president of the Cuyahoga Savings and Banking company of this city, who committed suicide at Seattle Wednesday, carried life insurance to the amount of $65,000 in favor of his family. The policies are without the suicide clause or contain such a clause to be void after two years from issuance of the papers.

Reflected Upon Edward

Dublin, May 10.—The police last night seized William O'Brien's weekly paper, The Irish People. It is reported that the seizure was made on account of reflections upon King Edward.

Whooping Cough.

A woman who has had experience with this disease tells how to prevent any dangerous consequences from it. She says: Our three children took whooping cough last summer, our baby boy being only three months old, and owing to our giving them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, they lost none of their plumpness and came out in much better health than other children whose parents did not use this remedy. Our oldest little girl would call lustily for cough syrup between whoops.—JESSIE PINKEY HALL, Springville, Ala. This Remedy is for sale by all druggists.

GOT CAUGHT IN SQUALL

Shamrock II Comes to Grief In Her Racing Trial

WAS LEADING SHAMROCK I

When She Lost Gaff Topsail Yard and Had Steel Gaff Crumpled—Lipton Narrowly Escapes Being Killed by Falling of a Heavy Block

Yarmouth, May 10.—Off the Needles yesterday the Shamrocks, while engaged in a 60-mile racing trial, were caught in a fierce squall. Shamrock II lost her gaff and gaff-topsail yard. The sails of the yacht were wrecked, and she returned to Southampton for repairs.

The accident was primarily due to the carrying away of a heavy backstay, a block of which fell and struck the deck at Sir Thomas Lipton's feet. Had the block fallen a foot nearer, Sir Thomas would probably have been killed.

At the start both yachts turned out for the first time in full racing trim, having their biggest club topsails set over their full lower canvas and also carrying jib topsails. The Erin from off Cowes sent off the yachts at 2:21 p. m., the Shamrock II having three lengths the better of the start. They reached off with the wind just forward of the beam.

The Shamrock II's mainsail was setting better than on her previous trials, and she began at once to draw out her lead. The canvas of Shamrock I was drawing beautifully, and she went well on the reach, but was not quite able to hold the new challenger. Passing the Eastlepe buoy, two miles from the start, the Shamrock I was about one minute astern of the Shamrock II.

The wind came in a few hard squalls while the yachts sailed the next mile and a half to Westlepe buoy, and the Shamrock II proved herself wonderfully well able to stand up to her canvas. The timing taken at Westlepe showed the Shamrock to be one minute and 10 seconds ahead of her competitor, and in the next four miles the challenger increased this lead to two minutes and 15 seconds.

At this time a thick, black, thunder squall came driving off the Hampshire coast, and the two yachts were soon racing along with their lee rails hidden in a smother of foam.

The challenger sailed out of the squall, but the Shamrock I carried it longer and closed up rapidly. Off Hurst Castle only one minute and 35 seconds separated the two yachts. Another and much fiercer squall then came sweeping along. The lacing of the Shamrock I's topsail started and the sail was half lowered, and the Shamrock II's boom was run square off. When the squall struck, the challenger went racing along with every rope and spar straining and her boom lifting high under her bellying mainsail. The squall blew at the rate of about 20 knots an hour, and the Erin, doing a good 13 knots, was unable to keep step with the racers.

While the squall was blowing its worst, the backstay block broke and dropped. The mainmast was thus left without support aft and swayed ominously and the cutter plunged into the seas. Then from aloft came a tearing and rending sound. The topsail yard had broken. As this big sail fell on the gaff, that spar, which is built of hollow steel plates, crumpled up six feet from the rest and collapsed. As soon as possible the wreckage was cleared away. This work was attended with considerable difficulty. The disabled cutter was taken back to Southampton. The Dennys have a new gaff nearly ready.

In yesterday afternoon's trial the challenger sailed 12 miles in one hour and 10 minutes.

Chance For the Independence

New York, May 10.—The Mail and Express says: It has been definitely decided to admit the Boston 90-footer Independence to the trial races to pick a defender for the cup. A telegram is to be sent to Mr. Lawson informing him that the New York Yacht club will admit his boat to the trial races, and also in all the special races for the 90-footers.

Hard to Secure a Jury

New York, May 10.—Yesterday was the fourth day of the attempt to secure a jury in the case of Dr. Samuel J. Kennedy, on trial for the murder of Dolly Reynolds. When the court adjourned three more jurors had been accepted, making nine up to date.

BOYS SUSPECTED

Of Setting Fire to the Baxter Building on Franklin Street.

The alarm from Box 37 at 8.36 Thursday night was rung in for a slight fire in the old Baxter building on Franklin street. There was no damage.

An investigation by Inspector Adams and Officer McKay leads them to believe that the fire was the work of incendiaries, and they have their suspicions as to who the guilty persons are. The store in the building is vacant, being last occupied by W. P. Pinel.

The Petition was Dismissed.

The Justices of the District Court for East Norfolk, at the bar of the Supreme Court.

Frederic F. Haskell of Boston, representing Robert E. Belcher and Mary J. Belcher of Braintree, petitioners, filed a petition on May third, in the Supreme Judicial Court, praying the Court to issue a Writ of Prohibition estopping the Justices of the Distict Court for East Norfolk, from exceeding as was alleged in the petitioner's declaration exercise of jurisdiction beyond the scope of the Court's authority touching matters of action in the case of Charles A. Belcher, of Braintree, against whom its warrant for arrest, for larceny of money, had issued. The cause was heard by the Supreme Court at Boston this forenoon and the petition was dismissed. Frank Paul and Frederic F. Haskell for the petitioners, Robert M. Morse and Lewis Bass,, Jr. for the respondents.

Drift of Opinion.

☞Now is the time for parents to do what they can for the protection of the birds. Small boys ought to be cautioned against robbing birds' nests, and thrashed soundly if they disregard the warning. We have too few singing birds now, and the few left ought to be fostered in every possible manner. —Savannah News.

☞Two murder trials in progress at the same time, the one in Cambridge just over the Charles, and the other in the Suffolk Court House, affords the Bostonians who are interested in capital cases plenty of opportunity to gratify their curiosity. The wives of the prisoners in both cases are features of the trials, and they attract almost as much attention as defendants themselves. Also the widows of the victims of the tragedies come in for a share in popular interest.—Lynn Item.

☞Quebec's discourtesy to Americans in relation to the proposed tablet to the memory of Gen. Montgomery has found its match somewhat sooner than was anticipated, although it was inevitable, as human nature possesses the same traits the world over. The Prince of Wales regiment of Montreal has been forced to give up its proposed visit to Boston because somebody resurrected the old law which forbids the entrance into this state of armed troops.—Haverhill Gazette.

No Loss of Time

I have sold Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea, Remedy for years, and would rather be out of coffee and sugar than it. I sold five bottles of it yesterday to threshers that could go no farther, and they are at work again this morning.—H. R. PHELPS, Plymouth, Oklahoma. As will be seen by the above the threshers were able to keep on with their work without losing a single day's time. You should keep a bottle of this Remedy in your home. For sale by all druggists.

PASTOR WELCOMED.

Reception to Mr. and Mrs. John Peterson at West Quincy.

Rev. John Peterson, the new pastor at the West Quincy Methodist church, and Mrs. Peterson, were tendered a reception at the church vestry Wednesday evening. There was a very large attendance of the church people and a very enjoyable evening was had. Mr. Jonathan Keast welcomed the pastor and his wife in behalf of the people and Rev. Mr. Peterson responded. The Willing Workers of the society then presented Mrs. Peterson with a handsome bouquet. During the evening a quartette, composed of C. A. Goucher, F. W. Fuller, Miss Cassie Thayer and Miss Jennie Crowell, rendered several selections. Ice cream and cake were served by the ladies.

Rev. John Peterson, recently appointed pastor of the Methodist church of West Quincy, was born in Franklin County, Mass., of Revolutionary ancestory, his paternal grandfather having fought for liberty from British oppression. In boyhood and youth he enjoyed but the very meagre educational privileges of a hill town district school.

At eighteen years of age he was thrown upon his own resources and having a thirst for knowledge, two years later entered Wilbraham Academy, to prepare for college, the Wesleyan University of Middletown, Conn., whence he was graduated in the same class with Bishop Mallalieu, and Rev. Edward W. Virgin.

He entered the Methodist ministry and New England conference soon after he was gradated, and has served as pastor in several important towns in Massachusetts, including Athol, Leominister, Wakefield, Ware, Framingham and in several cities — Holyoke, Gloucester, Newburyport, Newton, Northampton and Lowell. He has had a large experience in the work and enjoyed at least a fair measure of success and he comes to this city full of hope that great good may be wrought in West Quincy.

Tonight.

Tonight the performance of the Understudies of the Castle Square theatre is to take place at Quincy Music hall. The play to be given is "A Broken Compact"—a new melodrama in five acts, by George Palmer Moore, the rising young Boston author.

The curtain will rise promptly at 8 o'clock, on account of the many patrons from Boston who desire to return on the last train. Cars will connect at the turnout—outside the hall — for all points along the line immediately after the performance is over.

Many persons will be present with a view to criticism of the production, it being practically a first night for the play. Tickets will be on sale at Hearn's and Music Hall Pharmacy up to 7.25 o'clock. Seats will then be on sale at box office. Doors will open promptly at 7.30. Prices are 25,35 and 50 cents. Excellent seats being procurable at the lower prices.

A novel souvenir will be given to all "male" patrons of the "Understudies."

Busy Bees at Atlantic.

Last week the "Five Little Busy Bees," Louise Wilde, Jessie Warren, Agnes Littlefied, Helen Wade and Ruth Bean held a May Basket sale at the home of Mrs. W. H. Warren, Billings street. They had one hundred and fifty May baskets and in less than an hour sold out their whole stock of baskets, candy, cream and cake, netting more than eighteen dollars. Another little party of girls is to have a sale next week and it is hoped they will meet with as good success as the "Five Little Busy Bees."

Conductor Killed.

Jared T. Thomas of Atlantic, a freight conductor of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad, was fatally injured Thursday afternoon at the yard at South Braintree. He was making up his train when he was struck by a car and rolled underneath it. One of the trucks passed over his body. He was taken to the Massachusetts General Hospital where he died. Conductor Thomas was 50 years of age and had been in the employ of the road for 34 years. He leaves a widow and aged mother.

Now a State Expense.

The following bill has been ordered to a third reading in the legislature:

A sum not exceeding fifty-five hundred dollars shall be appropriated, to be paid out of the treasury of the Commonwealth from the ordinary revenue, for the cost of maintenance and operation of the Quincy pumping station and force mains taken by the metropolitan water and sewerage board, during the year ending the thirty-first day of December 1901.

Quincy public is interested in the fact that Miss Cora C. Hood, daughter of the Rev. George H. Hood, who speaks at Bethany church this evening, is the fiancee of the Rev. Arthur Bumpus.

THE ATLANTIC CLUB.

Papers of Interest and Delightful Music.

The Atlantic Monday Evening club held its usual session this week.

Mr. Thomas Gurney gave an exceedingly interesting paper on the "History of Atlantic," showing much research and exceptional ability in securing local points specially honored in historic mention. And certainly, if pride in one's own history is commendable, then Altantic has a right to swing into line with the other patriotic localities of our Commonwealth and place a value on its memories as well as on its historian.

Mrs. Adelaide A. Claflin, formerly of Quincy presented to the club "Our duty to nature." She regretted the destruction so wholesale in many parts of the world of the forest growth, and depicted the disastrous results. Man could prevent further devastation because he has the power of proceeding intelligently and replanting the districts thus laid waste carefully removing the undergrowth from year to year, though it would take very many years to recover from the serious damage already done in the lack of water supply and even in the climate.

She favored the extension of knowledge in regard to the growth and habits of the different kinds of trees, and extolled the education gained at the Arnold Arboretum, the finest of the kind in the world.

The establishment of the reservations included in the Park system were regarded as an instance of the fulfillment of our duty to nature, and the name of Frederick Olmstead was recommended to be held in one of the highest niches of remembrance, to serve as an inspiration to this an future generations.

The protection of the wild flowers was urged by the speaker, and the prevention of the ruthless plunder now so prevalent was seriously considered lest several of the species now prized become extinct.

A plea for the shore birds and the songsters was made and the work of the Audubon societies highly commended.

The need that children should early learn to care for and not destroy the birds and trees and flowers was impressed upon the audience and the need that natural curiosities should be preserved in all their beauty and grandeur and not be demolished as attempted in the case of the Palisades on the Hudson.

The paper was a very thoughtful one and filled with subjects worthy careful consideration.

Miss Bean played "Polish dance" by Scharwenka, which was encored, and to which she responded. She also accompanied the vocal soloists Miss Woodbury, Miss Covell and Dr. Dawes.

Miss Woodbury sang in a very pleasing manner, and with excellent expression, the contralto solos, "Little Boy Blue" by Ethelbert Nevin, "Irish love song" by M. R. Lang, and for encore "Violets" by R. H. Woodman.

Miss Covell sang the soprano solo "A Gipsy maiden" by Parker, and "Jamie Dear" by Bischoff. Her selections were much enjoyed by the club.

Dr. Dawes sang the tenor solo "Song that reached my heart" by Jordan, and responded to encore with "Four leaf clover" by Isabel North. The club welcomes always the doctor, and indicates its enjoyment of his musical performances.

Mr. Tripp played "Air Melodieux" by Carl Bohm on the mandolin, and for encore a piece by J. A. Le Borgee. Also "The day is ended" by J. C. Bartlett. Mr. Tripp played the instrument with much skill and musical effect. He was accompanied by Mr. Loeffler who showed proficiency in his art.

Miss Mary H. Emery and Mr. Charles F. Merrick were the Literary committee, Miss Annie T. Kelley and Dr. A. P. Thompson the Music committee, and Mrs. Edward Crocker, Miss Florence D. Wilson and Dr. D. A. Bruce, the Introduction committee.

Work is progressing rapidly on the new coal pockets at Shepard's wharf, Quincy Point.

Mrs. Wainwright of Washington street, Quincy Point, has moved to Greenleaf street.

A cellar is being excavated on Chubbuck street for a new house on the estate of George Phillips.

Thomas A. Addison of Washington street has gone on a two weeks' vacation to Small Point, Me.

E. W. H. Bass, overseer of the poor, who has been confined to his home by illness for the past few days is reported as a little better.

The games in the Grammar school league tomorrow will be: Willards on John Hancock grounds, Lincolns on Coddington grounds, Gridley Bryants on Adams grounds.

Dr. Charles A. Dickinson, pastor of Berkeley Temple of Boston, has forwarded from California his letter of resignation. The pulpit is now supplied by Rev. Edward Anderson of Quincy.

A salad supper will be one of the attractions at the May festival at the Quincy Point church next Wednesday evening at 6.30. The entertainment of Tuesday evening will be by the children.

Jewelry at auction prices seems to be what the people like, as many are taking advantage of the sale at the store of A. A. Linscott in City Square this week. He is closing out his Wollaston store.

The Quincy Home Science Association will hold its annual meeting Wednesday afternoon, May 15, at the Unitarian chapel. Mrs. Wilson Marsh will read a paper on Manual Training and Supt. Parlin will speak.

A children's May party is to be given in Atlantic Music Hall, Saturday afternoon, under auspices of three ladies, members of the Ladies' Benevolent society of the Memorial church. This is the "dance" which has been unofficially announced as a part of the program to raise the church mortgage.

The men of Wollaston are at present enthusiastic over a new glee club which has been formed within a month. The officers are: President, Mr. Gurney; Secretary and Treasurer, Mr. J. Litchfield. The music is under the direction of Mr. Arnold. Next year they hope to employ an instructor.

Mr. John Anderson, assistant manager of the Floating Hospital, is doing good work and is daily receiving contributions to help the cause. Tuesday he addressed the people of the Malden Baptist church, and Sunday he will again go to Worcester to give an address in the Piedmont church.

Special services will be held next Sunday at the West Quincy Methodist church in celebration of the twelfth anniversary of the organization of the Epworth League. At the morning services the pastor, Rev. John Peterson will give an address to young people, and in the evening special anniversary exercises will be held by the Epworth League.

To the Interested Bicycle Public.

My opening day statement and challenge was that I would easily be the leading bicycle dealer of Quincy this year. I expected to gain this end by selling the finest line of bicycles within my power to secure, at fair prices. Not to misrepresent or deceive my customers and friends. It is your friendship and trade I want and in return you can expect honest statements, honest treatment and perfect satisfaction from me. I am pleased with the jealousy my success has developed in my competitors. It simply means that I have bicycles and a policy of selling that is popular.

Give me a call and examine my line of wheels. I am not a mud slinger or sharp skate. I can deliver all bicycles at the prices asked. This is more than my competitors can do.

AMONG YACHTSMEN.

"Squaddy" Makes a Visit to Shipyard at Wollaston Beach.

Your correspondent visited among the yachtsmen at Wollaston beach today. First calling at the Wollaston Yacht club, where the janitor, Mr. Henry Newman was met and whose reception to the writer was so cordial that the hour spent there passed away only too quickly.

After being shown over the house a trip out to the "yard" was next in order. A very busy scene greeted us as we approached the yachts resting on their winter cradles. Some were being painted, others being scraped, varnished and rigged even to the bending of the sails. There are at present no less than eight yachts at their moorings.

The big cat Neptune owned by A. E. Linnell was among the first to enter the water. She has made two successful fishing trips, taken out two sailing parties of the fair sex and has made a two days' trip to Marblehead already this season. Rather early, but those who participated are enthusiasts, so may be excused for their seeming haste in starting the yachting fun.

Commodore A. L. Baker of the Wollaston Yacht club had his big "Mudggie' at her moorings some two weeks ago, young Clare Baker and "Eddie" Brown having brought her around from the Point

"Al" Shay has the Sea Gull looking fine as silk this spring, she has been in the water for nearly a week.

The new 28 foot yawl, Rover, built and owned by Mr. James L. Smith, was put into the bay this week. A small party will go on a fishing trip in the Rover, starting Saturday to be gone two days.

The sloop Neried, formerly owned by Messrs. Lindholm and Fletcher has been sold to Messrs. Frank Dawner and Philip Kane; she will hail from City Point this season. Mr. Lindholm's gay parties will be missed this season from the Wollaston club floats.

Mr. C. W. Page, chairman of the W. Y. C. entertainment committee, was sure and in conversation expressed the belief that the coming season would be the banner one for this club. When asked upon what he based his belief, he unhesitatingly replied, "why, many things point to that conclusion. The substantial increase in membership, the new yachts to be added to the fleet, the ready response of the members to the call of the house committee to put out the run and floats, the unprecendent attendance at the Saturday evening socials, and the enthusiasm and vigor in which the various committees have entered upon their respective duties all tend to that belief."

After a talk with other members, and a personal observation of what was going on about me, I could see that Mr. Page's opinion was shared by others, and certainly there seemed to be no lack of interest in word or action on the part of any member whom I met.

With a "good day" and "come later in the season" from Mr. Newman, I mounted my wheel and left scrapers, painters and riggers in their glory.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflamation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars; free.

MASONIC FUNERAL.

Massachusetts Masons Honored George Washington in 1800.

Next month Rural lodge of Masons of this city will have a two days' celebration of the centennial of its institution.

It is the purpose of the Daily Ledger in the meantime to give almost daily some reference to this popular fraternity:—its history, its origin, its advantages; its progress; its prominent members, etc. And especially incidents of 100 years ago, and also the history of Rural lodge.

The funeral obsequies in Boston by Masons at the death of George Washington were notable. A Masonic book published in 1804 says:

Agreeably to previous notice, the Grand lodge of Massachusetts this day (Feb 11, 1800) performed Masonic funeral services in honour of the illustrious deceased Brother, George Washington. The tolling of the bells at 8 o'clock commenced the ceremonies. At 11, a grand procession, composed of upwards of 1600 brethren, was formed at the Old State House, and moved from thence in the following order:

Two Grand Pursuivant,
Clad in sable robes and weeds, mounted on elegant white horses, properly caparisoned, bearing an elliptical mourning arch, (14 feet in the clear) with the sacred text in silver characters—"Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord—For they do rest from their labours." The pursuivants were supported by two Continental veterans, in uniform, with their badges of merit.

A Deputy Marshal.

Nine Stewards of Lodges, with wands suitably shrouded.

Two Toilers.

Entered Apprentices of all Lodges.

Fellowcrafte.

Master Masons.

A Deputy Marshal.

Stewards of Lodges, with mourning staves.

Deacons of Lodges, with mourning wands.

Secretaries and Treasurers.

Junior and Past Junior Wardens.

Senior and Past Senior Wardens.

Past Masters.

The Chapter of Royal Arch Masons as Past Masters.

Masters of Lodges.

An elderly Mason bearing an elegant figure of Minerva on a banner—emblem "Wisdom."

Three times three sons of Masons, about 11 years of age, clad in funeral uniforms, bearing sprigs of Cassia, the centre supporting the banner of "Strength."

A Mason's Son, clad in funeral uniform bearing a banner emblematical of "Beauty."

Nine Daughters of Masons, clad in funeral uniforms, each bearing a basket of flowers.

A Deputy Marshal.

A full band of "Musick."

The Masters of the three eldest Lodges, bearing three candlesticks with candles; the right one extinguished.

The Reverend Clergy of the Fraternity.

A Master Mason, bearing a black cushion with the Holy writings, and a Grand Master's Jewel.

Eight relieving Toilers.

THE URN.*

surrounded by these pall bearers:

Rt. W. B. Scollay, Rt. W. B. Morton,
Rt. W. B. Bartlett, Rt. W. B. Revere,
Rt. W. B. Cutler, Rt. W. B. Warren,

A charger, properly and superbly caparisoned, and led by two brethren.

Grand Marshal.

The Most Worshipful Brother Dunn, as chief mourner, Attended by the Grand Deacons, and Grand Sword Bearer.

The Deputy Grand Master.

Grand Wardens.

Grand Chaplain and Orator.

Past Grand Officers.

Grand Treasurer and Secretary.

Three Grand Stewarts, bearing an arch with the inscription—"And their works they do follow them."

* The funeral insignia—a pedestal covered with a pall, the escutcheons of which were characteristic drawings on satin of Faith, Hope, Charity, Brotherly Love, Relief and Truth. The pedestal beside the Urn, which was upwards of three feet in length, and which contained a relic (a lock of hair) of the illustrious deceased, bore also a representation of the Genius of Masonry weeping over the Urn; and other suitable emblems. The whole of white marble composition. On the Urn was this inscription:

"Sacred to the memory of Brother
GEORGE WASHINGTON
raised to the All Perfect Lodge,
Dec. 14, 5799.
Ripe in years, and full of glory."

The Grand Master, pall bearers and Grand Officers were dressed in full mourning, with white scarfs and weeds. Each Brother wore a sprig of Cassia, and everyone wore appropriate badges of mourning.

The procession moved in the above order through several of the principal streets of Boston to the Old South Meeting House (so called in 1804) where the solemnities commenced by "an appropriate, fervent and judicious" prayer by Rev. Dr. Eckley. Then was sung an ode written by Rev. Br. Harris led by Brother Dr. Fay.

An eulogy, illustrative of the life, character, virtues and services of the glorious deceased, was delivered by Hon. Bro. Timothy Bigelow of Groton, which report says "did justice to the subject and honor to the speaker. It contained an assemblage of chaste portraits of the illustrious Washingon, drawn as a warrior, a statesman, a citizen, a Christian, a man, and a Mason—adorned with suitable improvements for direction."

The Grand Chaplain pronounced the benediction, and the solemnities of the house closed with a Masonic dirge written by Rev. Bro. Harris and led by Bro. Eaton.

From the Old South, the procession moved to the Old Stone chapel where funeral services were performed by Rev Bro. Bentley. Grand Chaplain, assisted by Rev. Bro. Dr. Walter. Flowers were strewed and the cassia deposited. The brethren then returned to the Old State House and were dismissed.

An eulogy of Gen. Washington as a Mason will appear in the Daily Ledger of Saturday or Monday.

MILTON.

William Clark, the Ledger and Patriot agent, met with quite a serious accident Thursday morning. While delivering papers he stepped on a rotten doorstep which gave way beneath him. He fell heavily to the ground and was unable to move until assistance came. He was then removed to his home and a physician summoned who found that he had fractured a rib.

Sciatic Rheumatism Cured After Fourteen Years of Suffering.

"I have been afflicted with sciatic rheumatism for fourteen years," says Josh Edgar, of Germantown, Cal. "I was able to be around but constantly suffered. I tried everything I could hear of and at last was told to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which I did and was immediately relieved and in a short time cured, and I am happy to say it has not since returned." Why not use this liniment and get well? It is for sale by all druggists.

Boxing Exhibits Illegal

Fall River, Mass., May 10.—James Cribbens was fined $100 by Justice McDonough yesterday in connection with the Fall River Athletic association boxing case. A REMEDY FOR THE GRIPPE.

A remedy recommended for patients afflicted with the Grippe is KEMP'S BALSAM, which is especially adapted for the throat and lungs. Don't wait for the first symptoms of the disease! get a bottle today and keep it for use the moment it is needed. If neglected the grippe has a tendency to bring on pneumonia. KEMP'S BALSAM prevents this by keeping the cough loose, lungs free from inflammation. All druggists sell KEMP'S BALSAM at 25c. and 50c.

GRAND FLORAL PARADE

Participated In by the President at Los Angeles

THE CITY GAILY BEDECKED

Flowers and Bunting Used Without Stint—President Stood Ankle Deep In Rose Leaves—Visits Soldiers' Home and Addresses Veterans

Los Angeles, Cal., May 10.—From a broad, blue canopied pavilion, surrounded by the members of his cabinet, the governor of Ohio and notables from many states, President McKinley yesterday reviewed the floral parade of the Los Angeles carnival. The city was packed. The population of Los Angeles is more than 100,000, but the streets must have held almost twice that number yesterday.

Every facade flamed with bunting, flags and pampas grass plumes, red, green and orange, the colors of the fiesta, prevailing. Mrs. McKinley did not witness the show, but drove along Broadway and received the plaudits of the multitude just before the procession appeared. The president rode at the head of the parade in an open carriage drawn by six white horses with yellow satin harness. The carriage was a mass of white carnations and yellow corcopsis blossoms. A troop of cavalry, with yellow plumes waving above their helmets, with wreaths of flowers across their shoulders and blanket rolls of red carnations behind their saddles, headed by a band, preceded the carriage of the chief magistrate to the reviewing stand.

As each carriage passed the reviewing stand, the ladies in it rose, and, smiling, saluted the president with deep courtesies.

Each lady carried a bag of rose leaves for use as confetti and after saluting the president, she threw a handful of the soft petals into his box. Before the parade was over he was ankle deep in rose leaves.

In the morning the president and his party were driven through the residence section of Los Angeles. In the afternoon the ladies of the president's party went to Pasadena and took a drive there, while the president made a trip to the natiolan soldiers' home near Santa Monica. It is 18 miles distant, and he made the journey in electric cars. Three thousand of the president's old comrades of the Civil war greeted him there, giving him a remarkable demonstration. The president addressed them briefly.

Considerable excitement was caused by the discovery after the speaking that a pickpocket, who had been at work in the crowd, had relieved Secretary Wilson and Colonel Charles A. Moore of their pocketbooks. Later the thief was arrested. Several pocketbooks were found on his person, a gold nugget that Mr. Moore's son had obtained at the Congress mine in Arizona, and Secretary Wilson's pocketbook, which contained $175. The thief proved to be a pickpocket well known to the police.

Upon his return to Los Angeles, late in the afternoon, the president received Governor Nash and the Ohio congressional delegation at the hotel. There was no public function in the evening. The president and Mrs. McKinley dined at the residence of Homer Laughlin.

The president and members of his party retired in their train last night and left at 3 o'clock this morning for Del Monte, where they will spend Sunday. Stops will be made on the way at Ventura, Santa Barbara and San Luis Obispo.

One of the most notable incidents of the day was a visit paid by President McKinley to Mrs. Jessie B. Fremont, the aged widow of General John C. Fremont. Mrs. Fremont was injured in an accident about a year ago, since which time she has been an invalid. The president spent a quarter of an hour in social conversation with her at her home.

Parsons Trial About Ended

Boston, May 10.—For nearly three hours yesterday afternoon Counsel McGeough, for the defendant, argued in behalf of Henry E. Parsons, who is on trial charged with the murder of William T. Hammond. The charge of the jury will be probably made by judge Sheldon, and the case will be in the jury's hands today.

Situation at Jacksonville

Jacksonville, Fla., May 10.—The main streets of Jacksonville are being rapidly cleared of debris. Plans are being drawn for a large number of business structures. Boston, May 10.—The annual convention of the Protestant Episcopal church of Massachusetts decided last night after a prolonged debate to divide the diocese, and then entrusted the details of division to a committee which will report to a special meeting of the convention in June.

Little Fellow Killed by Train

Pawtucket, R. I., May 10.—Howard Natke, 7 years old, was standing at one side of the railroad track last night just as an express was about to pass, when his brother called to him to run across. He attempted to do so and was hit by the engine. He died three hours later.

Population of England and Wales

London, May 10.—According to the returns of this year's census, the total population of England and Wales is 32,525,716, an increase, over the population of 1891, of 3,523,191.

SALARY OF 2,350,000

Amount Allowed by Commons For Support of King's Household

London, May 10.—The king, said the chancellor of the exchequer, Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, yesterday, in discussing the civil list in the house of commons, had no personal fortune, and was dependent on the revenues of the duchy of Lancaster and parliamentary grants.

The king was anxious for a further investigation into the system of management of the royal household, in order to correct any abuses and wastes. The sum of $550,000, which, out of the total of $2,350,000 which it was proposed to grant, was the king's privy purse, out of which came the sums expended as a result of innumerable requests for charities throughout the empire, and even from foreign countries.

The Liberal leader, Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, supported the government's proposals.

Mr. Labouchere (Liberal) tried to have the allowance cut down from $2,350,000 to $2,095,000, the amount granted to Queen Victoria and the prince consort. This motion was defeated by a vote of 58 to 261.

The civil list was agreed to by a vote of 307 to 58.

Two Checks Still Missing

Arlington, Mass., May 10.—The town cash book is still missing, and the financial situation has not cleared up much. One of the selectmen says that all of the checks of the town have been returned but two. The amount for which they were drawn is not known.

Brother Furnished Bond

Wichita, Kan., May 10.—Through the persuasion of her brother, J. W. Moore, Mrs. Carrie Nation consented to leave the county jail last night. Judge Dale reduced her bond to $100, and her brother put up cash to that amount.

British Revenge on De Wet

London, May 10.—Joseph Chamberlain, answering a question in the house of commons yesterday, said General De Wet's house had been burned in June, as the railroad had been cut near his farm.

A Sensible Conclusion

London, May 10.—Jack Roberts, the pugilist, who fatally injured Billy Smith of Philadelphia in a contest at the National Sporting club, has announced his retirement from the ring.

NEWS IN BRIEF

The 6-year-old son of Alfred Painchaud fell into the river and was drowned at Brunswick, Me.

As a result of a fresh spread of smallpox throughout New York city, Police Commissioner Murphy has issued an order that every member of the police force must at once be vaccinated.

The headless and badly decomposed body of a man was found washed up on the lake shore near Webster, N. Y. There was nothing to aid identification.

While Samuel Bolton, Jr., a brewer of Troy, N. Y., was examining a huge kettle of boiling beer he fell into the fluid. Life was extinct when he was rescued. It is believed that he was attacked with heart failure.

COLDS

The quickest relief, for a cold, is by Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil.

We all have colds, you can try it and see. You will find the edge taken off in a night; and, in three or four days, you'll be wondering whether that cold amounted to anything anyhow.

That's relief. If you tackle it quick, the relief is quick and complete, if you wait till the cold is in full possession of head and lung, why, of course, the relief is quick if it comes in a week.

A little emulsion won't clear and restore your whole breathing-machine in a minute; don't be looking for miracles.

We'll send you a little to try, if you like.

AFFAIRS IN CHINA

Discussed by Missionary Ament Before a New Haven Audience

New Haven, May 10.—Rev. William S. Ament of Pekin last night addressed the congregation of Dwight Place church. He said in part: "I believe that the reported atrocities by the allies are exaggerated. Chinese women are apt to commit suicide on trivial pretexts. A family quarrel may make a woman hang herself, or difficulty with her mother-in-law may make her jump into a well.

"You have heard many explanations for the outbreak in China. I think that it was begun by an old Buddhist priest who practiced mesmerism. He organized societies. Incantations were practiced. Charms were worn and all sorts of preventatives against death and harm. The Christians were attacked because they offered the least resistance.

"As to the indemnity. When we missionaries were ordered to vacate the British legation we went with 2000 native Christians to the premises of a Chinese prince. We forced no doors; we violated no rights. The prince had fled. We had sold the moveable property after consultation with the foreign ministers. When it came to the question of collecting indemnities, Li Hung Chang sent a representative to confer with us. We agreed that the villages were to be assessed indemnity for the outrages to provide for the homeless and the destitute widows and children. Li Hung Chang's representative suggested that an amount equal to one-third of the whole sum should be added and distributed generally to such persons. That is the explanation of the one-third extra referred to in regard to the indemnity."

Ready For Arguments

Cambridge, Mass., May 10.—All the evidence of both the prosecution and defense at the trial on the charge of murder of Charles R. Eastman has been presented to the jury, and all that remains before the jury finally gets the case are the arguments of counsel and the charge of the court. These began today. The defense rested its case at 10:40 o'clock yesterday, and then the government offered testimony in rebuttal until 11:25, when court adjourned. The public interest in the trial has visibly lessened since the defendant gave his testimony.

Many New Englanders Lose

Boston, May 10.—Not for years has the Boston market gone through such scenes of turmoil as during trading hours yesterday. Thousands of speculators from all over New England who traded through Boston houses lost all they had staked. While New York was the storm center, the feverish rush of speculation which has overwhelmed Boston resulted in the wildest confusion among the traders here, and terror was wrought in the so-called bucket-shop district. There are many rumors of failures, but none are verified.

A Midnight Collision

Somervill, Mass., May 10.—A theatre train from Boston for Waltham ran into the rear end of a freight train at a crossing here shortly after midnight. Three persons were considerably injured. The freight was shifting cars at the North Packing and Provision company's plant, and the train had nearly passed the crossing switch, when the passenger train, coming up, struck the rear cars, throwing them and its own engine from the rails. Both engines and freight cars were badly damaged.

Rather Late In Bringing Suit

Nashua, N. H., May 10.—Mrs. Lizzie J. Poff of this city has brought a suit for $20,000 against the New England Telephone and Telegraph company. Her husband, who was a member of the Nashua fire department, died several years ago as the result of injuries received in a collision of a piece of fire apparatus on which he was riding with a pole of the telephone company. Mrs. Poff has not brought any suit against the company until the present time.

Republicans Fail to Agree

Boston, May 10.—The meeting of the Republican city committee last night, called for the purpose of electing a president to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Jesse M. Gove, was a fluke. The plan to choose John W. Johnson to head the committee fell through, and so it was agreed that a committee of 25 should be selected as a nominating committee to find a candidate and to report to an adjourned meeting.

Youthful Sportsmen Astray

Portland, Me., May 10.—On the arrival of an evening train from Boston, two boys were taken into custody on request of their parents. The boys are Edward Dwyer, aged 12, and Paul Sturgeon, aged 8, both of Cambridge, Mass. They were bent on denuding the forests and streams of Maine of the big game and the mammoth fish which they had read about. The little fellows had $26 between them.

Not Worth a Million

Boston, May 10.—The contest over the will of the late Frances Hiller of Wilmington will be settled out of court, it is said, on account of the discovery that instead of leaving property valued at $1,000,000, she left property worth only $10,000. Three wills were before the court, which allowed the last document. This was in favor of Peter Surrette, the husband of the deceased.

Watch Combination Abandoned

Boston, May 10.—The officers of the American Waltham Watch company have informed the promoters of the proposed watch trust that that company will not become a party to any consolidation of watch companies. The other companies have also declined to join in any trust movement. In consequence, the $75,000,000 combination has been abandoned.

The Arcola Oil Company's stock sold for $135 per 1,000 shares, and in six months $1,000 per 1,000 shares was refused for the stock, for the reason that the first well was a large producer and there is room for forty wells on the Company's land, which makes it about certain that the stock in the near future will be worth ten dollars per share.

We offer you the same opportunity for a large gain by investing in the Dirigo Oil Company's stock, the first block of which is being sold for $150 per 1,000 shares. The Company owns a block of land adjoining the Arcola Company's land which has large producing wells on all four sides. There is eighty acres of the Company's land in the center of the oil belt, which we feel absolutely certain will give a large producing well in each acre.

We now have machinery on the ground, and are ready to sink the first well, and expect to strike oil by May 1st, which will then make the stock worth par value, if the well is as good a producer as the Arcola.

The block of stock we are selling is about three-quarters sold and quick application will have to be made to secure any of it at the present price.

A REBOUND IN PRICES

Wall Street Settles Down Into a Steady Condition

SHORTS LET DOWN EASY

Breaking of Corner by Settlement at 150, However, Brought Almost No Northern Pacific Stock Upon the Market—Scare Is About Over

New York, May 11.—The decision of the Hill-Morgan-Vanderbilt interests and the Harriman-Kuhn, Loeb & Co.-Rockefeller interests, which between them hold most of the Northern Pacific stock, to allow shorts to close their contracts at $150, and the action of the banks in offering to loan about $20,000,000 reassured the market, allowed brokers to meet their obligations and prevented yesterday on the New York exchange a repetition of the wild scenes of Thursday. Prices of stocks went up with a rush at the last, yesterday, closing at about the top and with the net losses left after Thursday's session pretty largely recovered.

There were some clouds remaining on the situation in the morning and some natural trepidation lest the violent collapse should have left some casualties which would not be disclosed until the clearing house sheets of the stock exchange had been made up. Early in the day the official annauncement was made that the sheets of all the members of the exchange had been cleared perfectly, and that all their checks had been honored. This relieved the last feeling of apprehension and the feverish and earnest signs which were manifest in the stock market during the first hour disappeared. Things quieted down into a steady condition of business such as has not been witnessed in Wall street for many weeks.

The measures taken over night to clear the situation left little to fear. The agreement to allow the shorts in Northern Pacific to settle at 150 really went to the root of the crisis and wiped out the impelling cause of the panic. The announcement was made by the banks that Thursday's loans, which had been provided by agreement among the leading institutions of the street, would not be called yesterday, thus keeping the situation free from additional tension.

With the threatening conditions removed, a rebound in prices was natural and in evidence. The extent to which it ran was, however, a surprise, and was attributed to various causes. There is no doubt that the heavy losers in Thursday's slump were many of ample resources, who viewed the situation with a sporting instinct and a determination to recoup losses by following the market. It was the popular belief that some of the Western potentates who were admittedly forced "to walk sideways" during Thursday were again in the market yesterday afternoon in a bold attempt to retrieve their losses.

The obvious leadership of the movement of Union Pacific and the Southwestern group gave ground for the conjecture that it was based on benefits expected to accrue to Union Pacific from a control of Northern Pacific, a control which was still stoutly claimed, but as emphatically denied by the Hill-Morgan parties. It was remarkable that the breaking of the corner in Northern Pacific by the settlement with the shorts at 150 brought almost no stock upon the market, as is the rule after the combination of a corner.

There is a scramble to get out usually on the part of the longs, after the settlement comes. But it is evident that the contesting parties in Northern Pacific are not yet prepared to let go of a single available share of the stock.

The settlement with the shorts progressed at the office of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., and J. P. Morgan & Co., and it is probable that only the completion of the settlement will reveal how much of the purchases of stock made by the two parties within the last week can be delivered.

The bargain hunters were also on hand in Wall street yesterday, although their operations fell away as the recovery in prices progressed.

There is a belief that the panic was made unnecessarily violent by the excitement of some of the newer members of the stock exchange, many of whom are very young men. It is supposed that some of these made undue sacrifices in the chaotic conditions on Thursday. There was some buying back of stocks from these sources and also by those who got out in time early in the week and wanted to get back.

At the Waldorf-Astoria last night none of the men whose names are prominent in Wall street were to be seen in the big hotel, and there was not even an echo of the great flurry, nor were there any of the conferences by which the affairs of the stock market have been influenced during the past few days.

Caught In Wall Street Collapse

New York, May 11.—R. W. Meyer, a real estate broker, committed suicide yesterday by shooting. It was said he had been speculating in Wall street and had lost everything. It is known that he was a prosperous business man when the stock boom started.

Too Soon to Be "Mentioned"

Cleveland, May 11.—Senator Hanna arrived in Cleveland from Washington yesterday and will remain in this city during the summer. Concerning the talk of his being the next nominee of the Republican party for the presidency, Mr. Hanna said that it is ridiculous for any man to be mentioned for the place three years in advance of the time of the nomination.

Aged Man Drowned

Corning, N. Y., May 11.—George W. Mourhess, aged 80 years, and his son were fishing at midnight and the boat was caught between some piles and overturned. Neither could swim and the son was obliged to see his father die, without being able to help him. The son clung to a pile for two hours, and was finally rescued in an exhausted condition.

Decrease In Customs

San Juan, P. R., May 11.—The customs receipts for Porto Rico in March were $87,758; in April they were $84,128. Exports in March amounted to $1,149,575; in April they were $979,702.

Severe Penalty Imposed

KILLING WAS ACCIDENTAL

Without Malice In the Heart of the Defendant—Effort to Strengthen Argument by Reviewing Evidence Lost Some of Its Effect

Cambridge, Mass., May 11.—Samuel J. Elder began yesterday morning with the argument for the defense in the case of the commonwealth against Charles R. Eastman, charged with the wilful and premeditated murder of his brother-in-law, Richard H. Grogan, Jr., on July 4, last, while they were engaged in pistol practice in a yard in the rear of their residence. Mr. Elder's plea occupied the entire court day.

In his argument Mr. Elder considered practically every jot and tittle of evidence produced in the case since it started, two weeks ago last Monday, and closed with a broad and general statement that the shooting was an accident, and that the government by its testimony had not only failed to show a motive for the crime, but that it had been unable to prove that Eastman shot Grogan with malice in his heart.

Mr. Elder considered the government's case under five heads.

1—The alleged threats of Eastman against Grogan in November previous to the shooting.

2—The defendant's action at the time of the shooting, and after.

3—That Grogan was killed by a center fire safety revolver, which could not have been fired by accident.

4—That Eastman did not tell the officers that there was a struggle until some time after the shooting.

5—That Eastman has always said he believed Grogan was killed by a rim fire bullet.

Consideration of these five heads and the attempt to answer every one of the government's contentions occupied the greater portion of the day, but instead of closing with the usual peroration, Mr. Elder sought to strengthen his argument by again going over the evidence in what he called his client's side of the case. This had a perceptible wearying effect upon the jury, so that the lawyer's brilliant closing evidently lost some of its effect.

The feature of Mr. Elder's argument was his attempt to show that the men were always on good terms with each other, and also to discredit the identity of the so-called Murray bullet, which was produced at the trial and claimed by the government to have been taken from Grogan's body.

Attorney General Knowlton will make the closing arguments for the government, and it is probable that Judge Aiken will make his charge some time this afternoon, so that the case will be in the hands of the jury before night.

Accidental Electrocution

Lancaster, Pa., May 11.—Roland Newbold, aged 13, was killed last evening while playing hide and seek with a number of young companions. The boy had climbed a pole to hide himself. When about 20 feet above the ground he slipped, and to save himself from falling grasped a heavily charged feed wire of the electric street railway company. Unable to let go, the boy hung in mid air, with over 6000 volts of electricity playing through his body, until a man climbed the pole and carried the boy to the ground.

"Merely Sail Stretching"

London, May 11.—The Field, in today's issue, refrains from criticism upon the performances of the Shamrock II, which, it says, have been merely sail stretching and should not be regarded as tests. It praises the "faultless manner in which she opens and leaves the water. Although the ex-challenger appears to be faster than when she met the Columbia," says The Field, "there are no means of actual proving that she is faster, as she is under different trim with a langer load water line.

Probable Victim of Cattlemen

Wichita, Kan., May 11.—J. L. Chandler, an old resident farmer of Leland, O. T., was taken from his home last night, presumably by cattlemen, and lynched. For some time there has been trouble between the farmers and the cattlemen, and during the past few weeks a great many cattle have died from poisoned water. Chandler was suspected and lynched as a warning to others. The identity of the lynchers is not known.

No Loss of Time

I have sold Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea, Remedy for years, and would rather be out of coffee and sugar than it. I sold five bottles of it yesterday to threshers that could go no farther, and they are at work again this morning.—H. R. PHELPS, Plymouth, Oklahoma. As will be seen by the above the threshers were able to keep on with their work without losing a single day's time. You should keep a bottle of this Remedy in your home. For sale by all druggists.

VERDICT OF NOT GUILTY

Rendered In the Case of Parsons, Charged With Hammond's Murder

Boston, May 11.—After being out 11 hours and a quarter the jury in the case of Henry E. Parsons, charged with the murder of William T. Hammond, at 2:25 this morning, returned a verdict of not guilty. The prisoner showed no signs of feeling when the verdict was announced, and stated later that he was not in the least surprised, as it was the only true verdict that could have been reached. Parsons was discharged as soon as the court had received the verdict and discharged the jury.

During the evening, while waiting for the verdict, Parsons slept more or less in an ante-room, although watched over by the court officers.

Parsons, after his discharge, shook hands with the few persons in the court room, including the court officers. Mrs. Parsons was not there, although she had stood by him faithfully throughout the trial.

Curtailment Continues

Fall River, Mass., May 11.—Although the limit of time set for the fulfillment of the curtailment agreement recently entered into by local corporations has expired, next week will witness a curtailment of production by the mills of eight corporations which have been unable to comply with the original agreement within the time set. Until they have complied with the curtailment agreement, no further steps will be taken towards relieving the cloth market.

Sailors In Demand

Boston, May 11.—Shipping brokers report a great scarcity of sailors for deep-water vessels, and, while there has been no detention to shipping here owing to inability to secure crews, several vessels have been detained at Portland on this account. The scarcity is due to the large number of yachts now getting ready for commission, and the fact that a great many sailors from the coast go to the Great Lakes in the summer.

Fishermen's Providential Escape

Rockland, Me., May 11.—While off Mosquito island yesterday the fishing schooner Mary E. Caswell was suddenly capsized by a squall and immediately went down. The small boat floated clear, and as all the men landed in the water free and uninjured they managed to crawl into the boat. They were picked up by Captain Gross of the schooner Oregon. The Caswell was partially loaded with lobsters.

Should Have Known Better

Boston, May 11.—Alexander Southerland told the police last night that he had lost $680 after accepting the invitation of a colored woman to pay her a visit. He was passing the house when the woman put her head out of the window and invited him in. He went in the house and lost his roll of greenbacks. His only description of the woman was that she wore hooked earrings.

Bay State Legislature

Boston, May 11.—There was another brief skirmish on Sunday legislation yesterday in the lower branch of the legislature. Only four members spoke on the measures, and then the adverse reports on the two bills were accepted. One of the bills aimed to permit shooting and fishing on the Lord's day, and the other was to repeal the law making Sunday a close season for birds and game.

Floor Couldn't Stand Strain

Brockton, Mass., May 11.—While Charles Kennedy and George W. Chapman were engaged in storing furniture on the second floor of a wooden building here the floor gave way, and the men barely escaped with their lives. On the ground floor, occupied as a livery stable, the fall of the ceiling was broken by some heavy wagons. The damage amounts to about $6000.

Backed by Lowell Unions

Lowell, Mass., May 11.—The linemen employed by the local division of the New England Telephone and Telegraph company went out on strike this morning for the same terms as are demanded by the Boston union. At a meeting last night representatives of several of the local unions pledged the support of their respective organizations to the strikers.

An Old Home Week Feature

Concord, N. H., May 11.—A feature of old home week in New Hampshire this year will be the presence in the state of the good roads train, managed by President Earle of the League of American Wheelmen. The train will visit and make roads in some town in which an old home week celebration is being held each day in the week.

Not Quite In Trim

Southampton, May 11.—The broken gaff of the Shamrock II was sent ashore for repairs immediately after the accident on Thursday, but Captain Sycamore says it will be impossible to start before Monday. The telescoping topmast is already giving trouble. It was sent down for resetting and now it is impossible to get it hoisted full up.

Smallpox Epidemic Feared

Leominster, Mass., May 11.—Benjamin Locke, a teamster and general jobber, who has been about the town regularly for the last week, was found last night to be recovering from a fully developed case of smallpox. Because of the large number of people exposed, the authorities are afraid of a smallpox epidemic.

Good Afternoon.

The citizens at large are very much pleased with the improvements of a permanent nature that are being made in City Square. These improvements include systematic draining to take care of the surface water, and resurfacing the street. Few cities of the size of Quincy have a more attractive square than is City Square. On it abuts several handsome substantial buildings, and the prospect of another in the near future, aside from its two churches, the historic old Stone church and Bethany Congregational church. There are, of course, other things that could be done to improve the appearance, and they will doubtless come in the near future. It is of great importance to the city that strangers arriving here should be confronted with substantial buildings. It gives the whole city a good tone, and does much to encourage people to make Quincy their home, and it therefore behooves all who have the interest and growth of the city at heart to do all they can to improve city square.

The Washington-Masonic articles which have appeared in each issue of the Daily Ledger this week have had more than a Masonic interest; more than an historic interest. As the letters were written over 100 years ago, and the obsequies over Washington were held in 1800, they have an antique flavor. Today's eulogy of Washington is a fitting climax of this series of articles, but Masonic reminiscences and history will be continued almost daily in the Ledger. Interest in the centennial of Rural lodge of Masons of this city in June is on the increase.

Drift of Opinion.

☞This is a good season of year to remember the local dealer—the man from whom you buy the little things. Remember that he also gives discounts on large lots and that nine times out of ten he will give you a lower price and quicker service than you can get elsewhere. You should not expect the same price on half a peck of potatoes that you can get on the same thing in bulk. Give the local dealer a chance on your bulk trade and you will find him all right. Of course, there are a few lines of goods that are not carried in the local stores, but a very large proportion of your wants can be filled here—as cheaply and more satisfactorily than elsewhere. It is in the power of our local residents and property owners to make the present spring season a very prosperous one for our local tradesmen. Remember that their prosperity has a direct bearing upon local real estate values.--Jamaica Plain News.

A REMEDY FOR THE GRIPPE.

A remedy recommended for patients afflicted with the Grippe is KEMP'S BALSAM, which is especially adapted for the throat and lungs. Don't wait for the first symptoms of the disease! get a bottle today and keep it for use the moment it is needed. If neglected the grippe has a tendency to bring on pneumonia. KEMP'S BALSAM prevents this by keeping the cough loose, lungs free from inflammation. All druggists sell KEMP'S BALSAM at 25c. and 50c.

SUED FOR $18,000

Sheahan & Co. Claimed Sum For Extra Sewer Work.

Sewer Board Maintained $1,173.25 was Enough.

Award of $2,137.96 Regarded as a Victory for the City.

The decision of the auditor in the case of John Sheehan & Co., the contractors who built the large city sewer from the Pumping Station, through Merrymount park and Hancock street, has been filed in court, and the auditor has decided in favor of the city.

Sheehan & Co. in October, 1897, were awarded the contract for constructing the sewer section 3, beginning at the Pumping Station and running through the places above mentioned, and presented their bill against the Sewerage Commissioners for something over $35,000. The board had experienced considerable difficulty with the contractors in the completion of the work and denied their right to compensation in any such amount as the bill presented.

Soon after the beginning of the work the contractors met many difficulties in the construction of the work. The land through which the sewer was constructed was found to be full of quicksand which the contractor claimed he was not allowed to care for in his own way, but that he followed the instructions of the engineer of the Sewer board and was greatly damaged.

It will also be remembered that great difficulty was experienced in the matter of water breaks on Hancock street near Beal street in the summer of 1898, one of the large breaks inundating Hancock street for a considerable distance from the break. For these and other occurances which the contractors claimed were without their fault but through the negligence of the City, suit was brought against the city for extra work amounting to some $18,000.

The case by agreement of counsel was referred by the Superior court to William R. Buckminster of Boston, as auditor to hear the evidence and report his finding to the court. During the spring, summer and fall of 1900, some eighteen or twenty hearings were held relative to the case, after which the auditor took the matter under consideration for his decision. The decision as now made and filed in court finds for the plaintiff in the sum of $2,137.96, and inasmuch as the City acknowledged a balance due to Sheehan & Co. of $1,173.95 and the auditor has awarded but $964.01 in excess of the amount admitted by the Board of Sewerage Commissioners, the decision seems to be a decided victory for the Board of Sewerage Commissioners, the decision seems to be a decided victory for the Board of Sewerage Commissioners and their engineer. The plaintiffs' attorney was City Solicitor Parsons of Lynn, and the City of Quincy and the Sewerage board were defended by City Solicitor Sears.

If the award is not accepted by the parties the case will be tried before a jury of the Superior court but the finding of the auditor will undoubtedly have a great effect ubon the court in its final decision.

There were many unique and perplexing points raised by the plaintiffs' claim, and the decision of the auditor seems to be a confirmation of the judgment and instructions of Engineer Branch during the progress of the work. The case, involving, as it does, nearly $20,000 is, next to the taking of the water system, the most important piece of litigation that has affected the City of Quincy, and the city can well congratulate itself upon the outcome.

Home from Philippines.

Henry Mercier of Cleveland avenue, Braintree, returned from the Philippine islands Wednesday noon, brown as a berry. He enlisted twenty months ago in the U. S. V. Company C., 35th regiment. During his absence of about eighteen months he has suffered many hardships and been in many engagements with the natives near Luzon, P. I.

He has gained in weight during his service but came home tired out from the long hard passage via. San Francisco.

While in service he was under the command of Gen Fred Grant and Capt. J. C. Plummer. He has seen and experienced enough to last him several years and is delighted to get back to Braintree where he will stay indefinitely.

Surprise Party.

The party who surprised Mr. and Mrs. Alex Hall at their home on Independence avenue last night were not favored with pleasant weather. It did not, however, deter any of the host of friends from turning out to do honor to the jovial couple, who were the guests of the evening in their own house.

The season is somewhat late for the usual in-door merry making, but those who planned and carried into effect the meeting of last night made amends for their tardiness by purchasing and presenting to Mr. and Mrs. Hall an elegant and superbly fitted refrigerator.

The gift was accepted by Mr. Hall, who thanked all present for their kindness and esteem of himself and wife. He noted the fact that the gift was seasonable and appreciated the thoughtfulness of those who were responsible for the choice. He hoped he could make it serviceable to any of his friends present who might in the future have an idea which they might consider worthy of preservation.

After the ceremony of presentation, the enjoyments of the evening commenced in lively order. There was singing of songs, sentimental and gay. Miss Belle Macintosh was the leading star in the comic order. Mr. Sam Futten was also a favorite in this class.

Mr. D. Drummond, Mr. John Hall and Mr. Alex Hall gave much pleasure by their singing. Ih sentimental Mrs. Fyfe was well received.

Games and other kinds of amusements filled up the balance of time until the small hours of the morning. Refreshments to the tastes of all were served during the evening.

Among those present were:

Mr. and Mrs. William Farquharson, Mr. and Mrs. John Lawry, Mr. and Mrs. John Robbie, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mavers, Mr. and Mrs. James Malcolm, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Ross, Mr. and Mrs. John Ross, Mr. Andrew McIntosh, Mr. and Mrs. William McIntosh, Mr. and Mrs. William Pratt, Mr. and Mrs. A. A verdict for the defendants was given in the Suprior court at Dedham this week in the case of Henry Horsford of Braintree vs. Francis Dings of Quincy and Bernard O'Neil of Hyde Park. It was an action of tort to recover $1000 for three dogs killed by the defendants who were Park policemen.

Services over the remains of Mrs. Esther A. Whiting were held from her late home on Beale street, Wollaston, this afternoon. They were extremely simple, consisting of reading of the scriptures, a few remarks, and prayer by her former pastor, the Rev. Edward A. Chase of the Wollaston Congregational society. The interment was in the family lot at the Milton cemetery.

"Our Folks."

In spite of the bad weather the High school hall at Braintree was filled last evening to witness the farce, in three acts, entitled "Our Folks."

Miss Bessie A. Roberts, a teacher in the High school, had worked long and hard to make the entertainment a success and when she was called home on account of the death of her father Mrs. B. J. Loring of the school committee with the assistance of the High school teachers, kept up the rehearsals.

The farce was given by the Senior class of 1901 and each member in the play took his or her part very well, and the applause proved the success of the class undertaking. The cast of characters were as follows:

Capt. Thompson, a retired shipmaster, Elihu Oliver
Harry Thompson, his son, William J. Ryan
Capt. Sleeper, a returned Californian, Walter E. Gerry
Teddy Sleeper, his son. Fred C. Tarbox
Phil, Capt. Thompson's man-of-all-work, Walter E. Gerry

City Official to be Entertained.

The city officials with their ladies will be the guests of the Wollaston yacht club on Saturday, June 1. The plan as now arranged by Commodore Baker and the officers of the club is to assemble at the club houses in the vicinity of 1 o'clock. All the yachts in the fleet will be at the disposal of the guests, and it is proposed to sail about the harbor and to touch at Bass Point where a lunch will be served and then to sail home in the evening. As the moon will be right at that time the sail home in the evening will be a delightful feature.

CLOSING BANQUET.

Unity Club of Wollaston Winds Up Enjoyable Season.

An unusually large audience gathered at the Wollaston Unitarian church last evening at the annual meeting and banquet of the Unity club. An attractive and literary program had been prepared by the officers of the club. Preceding the meeting an informal reception was held by the president, Mrs. Chandler W. Smith.

Mrs. M. F. Bishop opened the evening with a most interesting paper on the history of the Unity club. She carried us back to the first days of the club when the members numbered but thirty. She paid touching tributes to the memories of Rev. James E Bagley, its founder and Mr. Sylvester Brown, a former president, as well as others who have done faithful service. She reviewed the subjects and officers of previous years and showed the progress of the club. The guest an orator of the evening was, Supt. H. W. Lull, of Newport, R. I., a former president of the club, '94-'95. "Man," his subject, was cleverly treated. He described him in his primitive form up to the present age of civilization and progress. He also clearly depicted all his virtues. His subject was replete with excellent quotations.

The poetess of the occasion was Mrs. Wilson Marsh, who presented in a bright, and witty manner, the future Unity club in the year 2000.

A paper entitled "The Undergraduates of Wollaston Unity club," delivered by Mr. Walter E. Simmons in his usually humorous manner, called forth from the audience continual ripples of laughter.

This was followed by an entertaining and delightful talk from Mrs. Gurney on the past errors of the club and suggestions for the future. Satirical hits were leveled at members anxious to prepare essays.

The Temple quartette, consisting of Messrs. Bullock, Weber, Bruce and Willard rendered many musical selections, and were received with a warmth of enthusiasm which must have been exceedingly gratifying to them. Mr. Bullock, a Wollaston citizen, is a great favorite in all musical circles.

It will be well to give a list of some of the subjects taken up by the club in past years: France, Germany, Italy, Ireland, Holland and Switzerland.

At the close of program all were cordially invited to repair to the vestry to partake of refreshments furnished by Cook.

A most delightful and social evening was passed. At the close the audience were requested to join in singing the following selections:

"America," "My Old Kentucky Home," "Goodnight," "The Old Oaken Bucket," "Old Black Joe," "Soldier's Farewell" and "Auld Lang Syne." This event ends the season which has been one the most successful in the club's history.

Musicale.

A grand musicale was held at the residence of Mr. Arthur Horton, Billings road, Norfolk Downs, Thursday evening, May 9. About fifty guests being present from Boston, Brookline, Cambridge, New Bedford and Lexington.

Mr. Charles Johnson a musical director of Boston, captivated the audience as usual by displaying his marvelous skill as a pianist. Miss Pierce of New Bedford rendered two very fine selections on the piano which was very much applauded.

Miss Sleeper of Cambridge played a Schubert selection and Miss Ella Horton of Atlantic played a Chopin waltz.

A collation was served and the evening was much enjoyed.

Vespers at Braintree.

The following program has been arranged for the vesper services tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock, in the First Congregational church, Braintree under the auspices of class 27:

THE COMMITTEE

Of City Council on Visit of President.

Those Longest in Service Appointed.

Will Co-operate with Mayor and Committee of Citizens.

President Bryant when he came to appoint the Committee of the City Council to arrange for the visit of President McKinley and other distinguished guests in July, found that most of the members of the Council would be pleased to serve on the committee, and that therefore his task was not an easy one. It was the evident intention of the mover that there should be one from each ward and the President ex-officio.

Mr. Bryant in his appointment has hit upon a happy idea, and should give no offence, he has named the member from each ward, whether elected at large or by ward, who has the longest continuous service in the council, so that the committee includes.

Charles M. Bryant, president.
Henry M. Faxon of Ward One.
Arthur W. Newcomb of Ward Two.
Harry S. Nicol of Ward Three.
William H. Callahan of Ward Four.
Richard R. Freeman of Ward 5.
Charles Alden of Ward Six.

It is for this committee to report to the Council a plan of entertainment of the Presidential party and to secure from the Council the necessary appropriation.

The committee will probably cooperate with Mayor Hall and a committee of Citizens, representing the business social and patriotic societies of the city.

Mayor Hall has invited several gentlemen to a conference to be held in the Council chamber at City Hall on Monday evening, May 13, when it is expected that the plan of entertainment will be outlined and the preliminary steps taken. It is now less than eight weeks to July 5, the eventful day.

A Broken Compact.

A large house greeted the Understudies of the Castle Square theatre at Quincy Music hall last evening, but not as large as would have been the case had the rain held off. A new melodrama in five acts entitled "A Broken Compact," was presented for the first time in public, and with fair success. With better stage accommodations and a large enthusiastic audience it would have been more successful.

In the cast were well known young people of the city. Miss Avonia Eldridge, as Mary Bartley, had the leading lady's part, and acted it well. She appeared as a charming blonde. Miss Adelaine B. Cote was an unwilling conspirator, and faithfully protrayed her part. Miss Clara Hubener as Julia Clifford was a clever actor.

Charles A. St. Clare, the English dude, in his love making with Miss Clifford afforded much amusement. The popular male part was taken by Corliss Giles, and his clever work met with favor. Frank Craig of this city took one of the minor parts with success. Others in the cast were: Horace Pierce, William Laveau, Frank E. Minzey, J. H. Montgomery, T. W. Townsend, Frank MacHardy, Frank Thomas, George Church and Richard Von Camp.

Between the acts there were piano selections, songs, and a clever artist on the violin.

Sciatic Rheumatism Cured After Fourteen Years of Suffering.

"I have been afflicted with sciatic rheumatism for fourteen years," says Josh Edgar, of Germantown, Cal. "I was able to be around but constantly suffered. I tried everything I could hear of and at last was told to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which I did and was immediately relieved and in a short time cured, and I am happy to say it has not since returned." Why not use this liniment and get well? It is for sale by all druggists.

As George Baker, a driver of one of G. G. Grant's grocery teams, was passing the corner of Central avenue and Farrington street, this morning, the wheels of the wagon struck an obstruction causing the transom bolt to jump out, letting the body of the wagon down. Baker was thrown out and received cuts on the face and body bruises. He was taken in the office of Dr. Adams. The horse went home with the forward wheels.

CHAMP CLARK STORIES

Gathered In and About the Halls of Congress.

How Statesmen Amuse Themselves In the Seclusion of the Cloakroom. Choice Bits of Humor and Bright Repartee Lighten the Cares of State. "Buck" Kilgore's Story — Thought He Needed Brains—How Dick Oglesby Escaped Being an Actor.

[Copyright, 1901, by Champ Clark.]

The term "cloakroom" appears very frequently in Washington correspondence. It is a relic of bygone days. At a time when a man wearing a cloak is a rarity under the sun "cloakroom" is clearly a misnomer. What, then, are these "cloakrooms?" They are long, narrow, handsomely furnished, richly carpeted rooms just off the hall of the house of representatives, where the barber shops, bootblacking outfits and ice water tanks are located, where members hang their hats and coats and where they lounge, smoke, converse, consult, lay plans, form cabals, seek relief from oratorical bores, swap yarns and in other ways enjoy themselves.

The cheerful roaring fires in the open grates of the cloakrooms appear to stimulate the story telling proclivities of the members. Many who never figure in The Congressional Record or newspapers as wits or humorists shine with brilliancy in the cloakroom seances. With most representatives these cloakroom talks are mere incidents, temporary recreations; with some they appear to constitute the main features of their congressional lives. A few famous cloakroom raconteurs never open their mouths on the floor except to answer "Aye" or "No" on roll call. Others would have world-wide fame for repartee if they would utter their bright mots in debate in the house instead of squandering them in the comparative seclusion of the cloakroom, where the audience is small and where there are no stenographers.

Lord Byron always contended that there never were but seven original jokes in the world. If that be true, the fact remains nevertheless that the variations upon them are for multitude as the stars in heaven or the sands upon the seashore.

I think sometimes that every anecdote told since Adam first opened his wondering eyes upon the glories of Eden has been repeated in these cloakroom "gabfests." Joe Miller has been reproduced entire, but if old acquaintances frequently appear so do the latest stories, the freshest witticisms, the most recent bits of humor. Indeed the best cloakroom sayings originate there on the instant, where diamond cuts diamond and where each participant endeavors "to raise" the others out of the game.

Here are a few samples of stories related in the sacred precincts of the cloakroom:

Kilgore's Story on Himself.

The late Hon. "Buck" Kilgore, for many years a representative in congress from Texas, subsequently a United States judge in the Indian Territory, now gone to join the great majority, built up a national reputation by incessantly reiterating the two words "I object!" with as much persistency as Poe's raven repeated "Never more." Kilgore was a great character, a splendid figure in congress. Tall as a grenadier, straight as an arrow, supple as an Indian, standing over six feet in his stockings, with hair, mustache and imperial white as snow, not an ounce of superfluous flesh on him, he was always pointed out as one of the congressional lions, especially after he leaped into immortality by kicking the door down when Speaker Reed had had it locked to keep the members in while he could count them. Kilgore's grace of manner and dry wit prevented him from being hated as fiercely as were other great objectors. To kill a member's pet bill by objecting to unanimous consideration is an invidious performance and generally makes at least one mortal enemy. But while Kilgore thus killed hundreds of them he was personally very popular.

Once in the cloakroom several members were holding a sort of "experience meeting" as to campaigning, when Kilgore clipped in with this: "When I returned home to begin the canvass for my third term in congress, which was a decidedly lively one, I asked one of my chief bell wethers what my enemies were charging me with this time. 'Oh,' he replied cheerfully, 'just the same old charge—that of being a plain d—d fool!' which," chuckled "Buck," "was short, but, if not sweet, at least sufficiently comprehensive."

A Pumpkin For a Head.

The late Hon. Marriott Brosius of Pennsylvania was a man of great learning and dignity, but withal blessed with a fine sense of humor. He used to tell a good story on one of his colleagues whose name he did not give. He said, however, that this person received a handsome pumpkin from one of his constituents. Accompanying it was a note which said: "I send you the best pumpkin in my garden. As it's got more brains than you've got, it may be some help to you this winter, and the Lord knows you need it."

"Uncle Joe" Cannon's Interesting Tale.

Most of the cloakroom stories are funny, but some are pathetic, others dramatic. Uncle Joe Cannon of Illinois thrilled his hearers with this recital: "Governor Dick Oglesby was an extraordinary man. Not long before he died I heard him make a wonderful talk at a great dinner party at Chicago. The company was of remarkable variety. It included several theatrical people, among whom was Joseph Jefferson. When Oglesby was asked to say something, he began in a simple manner:

"'I am an old man. You must let me talk in my own way. I was born in Kentucky. Most people who come from Kentucky will tell you that they come from the blue grass country. There is some powerful poor country in Kentucky. I came from that part. I was a poor boy. My father died when I was 8 years old. I remained in Kentucky until I was 9. Then I started to Illinois. I had a married sister in Decatur, Mrs. Peddicord. I was going to her. I remember the journey through the big woods of Indiana. I stopped all night at Terre Haute. The people told me in the morning I must cross the Wabash river and take a road leading across the prairies. They called it the "Springfield trace." They said that if I kept on that I would be all right. It would take me where I wanted to go.

"'I remember that when I started out over that road the next morning the rosin weeds seemed to be about 1,000 feet high. But there was just the one road, and I followed it. There were few houses. Late in the afternoon I came to a place called Pinhook. I asked if I could stay all night. They told me no, that there wasn't anybody who could keep me, but if I would go on about three miles across the prairie I would come to a house where a Mr. Wallace lived. The Wallaces kept people who were passing through the country. I went on, and when it was almost dark I came to Mr. Wallace's. I asked if a poor boy could get to stop all night, and they said yes, they would keep me all night. The house was pretty full, but I could sleep on the floor in front of the fire. They asked me if I had eaten any supper, and I said I hadn't. They gave me something to eat. I remember that I thought they were kind to a poor boy.

"'After supper I was shown where I was to sleep in a corner by the fire. It was in the fall of the year, and the nights were frosty, so the fire felt good. I did not go to sleep right away. Some play actors were in the house. They were on the way from Terre Haute to Springfield. In those days the actors went from place to place and staid two or three weeks or longer. That night the actors gathered about the fire and talked. I had never seen any actors before, and the conversation was interesting to me. I remember that after I had listened for some time one of them, the leader of the party, turned to me and asked me about myself. I told him who I was, that my father was dead and that I was on my way to my sister's house. He put his hand on my head and said: "Sonny, how would you like to go with us and learn to be an actor? This is my boy here, a little younger than you, and you would be company for each other." I said I would like to go first rate, and it was arranged that I should go on to Decatur with the actors and that if my sister would consent I should continue with them. She did not consent, but kept me with her. I have often wondered if that was not a turning point to be regretted by me. And, by the way'—turning to Mr. Jefferson—'I remember that the actor who was so kind to me and who offered to take me with him was named Jefferson.'

"'My God, governor!' exclaimed Jefferson. 'That was my father, and I was that boy with whom you were to travel!'"

The foregoing is Walter B. Stevens' rendering of Uncle Joe's story.

Judge Spencer and the Lawyer.

Some time ago Judge Spencer of St. Joseph, Mo., was in Washington. He is the general counsel of the Burlington Railroad company. While here the papers announced him as a candidate for the United States senate. The next morning one of his congressional admirers told an anecdote in the cloakroom as illustrating his character. He said: "When Spencer was on the circuit bench, Stephen S. Brown, a prominent lawyer practicing in Spencer's court, made some remarks during the trial of a case which the latter regarded as insulting to him. Spencer never fined a lawyer for contempt during his entire career as a judge. He had a method of his own for dealing with such cases. After the trial he called Brown up in front of the bar.

"'Steve,' he said, 'you made a remark awhile ago in which I think you intended to insult me.'

"'Your honor'— said Brown, but Spencer stopped him.

"'You needn't address me as "your honor." This is not a case of that kind. Right now I am just plain Spencer, and if you intended to insult me walk into the next room and I'll fight it out in less than two minutes.'

"Brown said he intended no insult and the matter was dropped."

Speaker Farriss and Colonel Crisp.

Colonel Crisp when in the Missouri legislature was one of the central figures in a scene which promised bloodshed, which ended in a hearty laugh and which was the cause of an astounding remark from Hon. John W. Farriss, the then speaker. Crisp and another belligerent son of Anak got into a debate, which grew into a quarrel. They shook their fists at each other and roared like a pair of Numidian lions. Everybody expected and many hoped to see a regular old fashioned knock-down and drag out fight, which expectations and hopes were frustrated and dashed to the ground by Speaker Farriss remarking:

"'If you gentlemen do not quit fussing and take your seats, I will order the chaplain to take you into custody!'" which so amazed the bellicose legislators that they stood in a state of lingual paralysis, while the spectators laughed till they were red in the face. Humor saved the day.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

TOPIC.—Practice Christianity.—I John iii, 14-18.

John preached a gospel of assurance and not of doubt or of skepticism. "We know" is the keynote of his epistles. He was not only sure of his truths about God and Christ and the life to come, but also about himself. He did not hesitate to declare that he was a Christian. He could have sung with genuine sincerity, "Blessed assurance! Jesus is mine!" Nor was his assurance misplaced. It was logical. He based his assurance upon facts. His proof of possession was practice. "We know that we have passed from death to life, because we love the brethren." John's declaration of positive assurance was no idle or presumptuous boast. It was a sincere claim, based upon the facts. Practice is the only proof of possession. If we profess Christianity, but do not practice it, we may be assured that we do not possess it. Many are uncertain on the point of assurance. But we need not be. If we practice what we profess, we may know. Assurance is possible to all Christians.

The world will judge of our Christianity by the way we practice it. This is the only logical method of judgment. Christ taught His disciples to judge professors by their practice. In the sermon on the mount he says: "Beware of false prophets which come to you in wolves' clothing, but inwardly they are ravening wolves. Ye shall know them by their fruits. Do men gather grapes of thorns or figs of thistles? Even so every good tree bringeth forth good fruit, but a corrupt tree bringeth forth evil fruit." We may try to deceive men, but they will judge us by our lives; we may try to put grapes on thorns and figs upon thistles, but the deception will be apparent. It will be seen at a glance that they are not the fruit of the thorns and thistles. If we want to be considered Christians, we must practice Christianity. The world will judge us by our fruits.

In the day of judgment Christ's standard of judgment will be our practice. "Not every one that sayeth unto Me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven, but he that doeth the will of My Father which is in heaven." If by any means we should deceive men by a pretended practice of Christianity, we cannot deceive Christ in the day of judgment. He will judge our lives not only in the light of our actions, but also in the light of the motives that prompted them. The secrets and intents of the heart are all known to Him. "Be not deceived. God is not mocked. Whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap."

If Christianity is worth professing, it is worth possessing; if it is worth pretense, it is worth practice. Why, therefore, should we be satisfied with profession and pretense? God will give us the reality. Why should we be satisfied with the shadow? God's Holy Spirit can and will change our hearts and lives if we will. Let us be willing. If we profess Christianity, let us practice it. Prove your profession by your practice, and be not satisfied until you can say, "I know, because I do."

BIBLE READINGS.

Math. v, 14-18; vii, 12, 21-29; xxv, 31-46; John xv, 1-14; Acts ii, 41-47; Rom. xii, 9-21; Eph. vi, 1-8; Phil. iv, 1-10; 1 Thess. v, 11-25; Rev. ii, 10.

Do Not Worry.

The word worry comes from an old English word, which means to strangle. It is a disposition which, if indulged in, will strangle our peace and happiness and our spiritual life. Most of the worry of this world is extremely foolish, for it is usually over things that never occur, and most people can look back and ridicule themselves over their needless anxieties. God takes care of His creatures, the birds and lilies; of course He will of us.

As a cure for worry some have laid down this old rule: Do not worry about the things that you cannot help, for it will do no good. Do not worry about the things you can help, for you are wasting time that might be spent in doing them. But these are semi-worldly maxims. A better rule is to give yourself up to God and ask Him to kill the old self life out of your heart and give you a clean heart. Get the blessing of a pure heart, and then your doubts will be gone, and you can trust God to take care of you and believe that all He does is for the best.—Philadelphia Methodist.

Inspiring Hope.

Without the light of truth and the light of God in the soul the future must ever be dark, but the Christian has a blessed hope and expectation of the glorious reappearing of the Saviour who gave Himself for us that He might redeem us from all iniquity and purify unto Himself a people for His own possession, zealous of good works.—Lutheran Observer.

Sympathy With Distress.

We should speak comfortingly to those in sorrow and to the depressed. A word of sympathy timely spoken is balm to a wounded heart. The letter written in the spirit of Him whose words were full of comfort is sometimes the opening of a soul to grace and peace.—United Presbyterian.

Uncertainty.

Those who today ride upon the crested waves of prosperity may tomorrow be struggling for life in the trough of the sea, so uncertain is the tenure of life.—Christian Instructor.

Quatrain.

We rail at Time and Chance and break our hearts
To make the glory of today endure,
Is the sun dead because the day departs?
And are the suns of Life and Love less sure?

BASEBALL MANAGERS.

Ed Hanlon's Success Due to His Treatment of Players.

A BAD YEAR FOR PROPHETS.

George E. Stackhouse Comments on the Value of "Fraternal Feelings" In Teams—Kid Nichols a Combination of Good Playing Qualities.

Counting their baseball chickens before they are hatched is a pleasant occupation with many enthusiasts in the early spring, and as it does nobody any real harm possibly no one has any right to protest.

But a word of warning may not be out of place at this time of the year. The baseball conditions are vastly different from those which existed previously. The changes in the rules and in the personnel of the different teams are bound to be felt this year, and the overenthusiastic prophet who is considered a wise man in his tribe in the spring may be compelled to take to the woods before the present season is half over.

Paper champions in the spring and real champions in the fall are different sorts of persons. Our Pittsburg friends were going to eat up all opponents early in the season, so that they would not have so much ground to make up later in the season, but they dropped two out of the first three games, and the men of Dreyfuss will have just as hard a row to hoe this season as they did last. The team is good, there is no question of that fact, but it will have to play ball from flag fall to finish to keep near the front. Overconfidence is a bad thing in baseball, and nobody knows this any better than the same crafty Dreyfuss.

The man above all others who seems to have the logical right to feel confident is saying nothing, but is sawing a lot of wood. That same modest man is Ed Hanlon, the cleverest manager of them all. Hanlon has not as yet rounded out the Brooklyn team, and it may be some time before he succeeds in doing just what he desires.

Meanwhile the champions will continue to play good ball, and when the players are good and fit look out for them. There is harmony in the team in the city of churches and trolleys, and that is half the battle. I have seen much of the Brooklyn players recently, and if there is a happier family in the baseball kingdom I never heard of it. It is that fraternal feeling which has done so much to enable Hanlon to make the remarkable record he has made since he discarded knickerbockers for civilian costume and began to direct his men from the bench.

Selee has this ability to engender a brotherly attitude among his men, but in more limited quantities. Comiskey has a great deal of the same material in his composition, and the American league officials did better than they knew when they delegated the old St. Louis leader to Chicago to break the ice and get into League territory at the same time. Connie Mack, at Philadelphia, is another good manager, and Rogers and Reach possibly fear Mack more than they do all the rest of the American league officials.

But, while discussing the fraternal feelings which exist between club owner or manager and the players, there never has been a man in the game who was so genuinely loved by his players as was John B. Day, the old owner of the New York club. Day believed in and looked after his men, and they believed in him, and yet this one man's fortune was sacrificed by the brotherhood outbreak. No man except John Ward would have been able to get the ball players away from Day, and I guess he is sorry he ever did it.

I remember a little incident which will illustrate in a measure the regard the players had for Day. Veterans will remember Ed Crane, the pitcher, who was the personification of a daredevil and a don't care. Nobody could command him, and he was stubborn to a fault.

One day they wanted him to pitch at the Polo grounds because some of the other twirlers' wings were out of gear, but Crane was not feeling like himself, and he refused. A wild youngster was put in, and the visitors began to hit out fast. Day was sitting in the stand, his face the picture of misery. It cut him to the quick to see his team beaten, and the boys on the field were working like Trojans to avert it if possible, but that young twirler was up in the clouds, and the game seemed lost. Crane happened to look over and saw that Day's face was as white as marble. "I can't stand it," said the big pitcher as he made a rush for the clubhouse to don his uniform. "Mr. Day shan't suffer like that even if I have to pitch my arm off."

Crane was out on the field in a jiffy, pitching them over the plate so fast that the batting streak of the visitors stopped as if by magic. The New Yorks braced up under the old pitcher and eventually batted out one of the most exciting games ever seen in the metropolis. Day went to the clubhouse at the conclusion of the battle, and, walking over to the big pitcher, he took his hand and shook it warmly. He did not say a word. He did not have to. He couldn't. Crane's grimy paw wiped some suspicious looking moisture from his face as John B. Day left the room. He was the proudest man in all New York that night.

Is there a club owner in any of the leagues today who can arouse any such fine sentiments? If there is, I don't know him.

If I should make a guess, I would pick Hanlon for the boss and Kid Nichols for the player. Nichols has been pitching in Boston for a dozen years, but nobody ever thinks of calling him anything except the Kid. He is a player who is an honor to his profession. Ever willing and anxious to work, he is looking out for the best interests of his team at all times. A man of temperate habits and few vices, he is likely to last for many more years.

Nichols is a striking refutation of the old saying that a professional ball player had mighty few years in which to gather the shekels in his chosen profession, and he is pitching ball as well today as he did in that famous game back in 1890 when he and Rusie were opposed to each other. For a dozen innings the New York and Boston teams had battled without a run. Rusie, as big as an ox, was beginning to feel the strain, and Nichols knew it. Two men were out in the thirteenth inning when Mike Tiernan came to the bat. Nichols had two strikes on Tiernan. Then he tried to fool Mike with a straight speedy ball. Tiernan landed on the trademark, and the ball went over the center field fence. That ball was gilded and is in a glass case in a Harlem resort today. Probably no two men ever pitched finer ball in a game than Rusie and Nichols did that day.

GEORGE E. STACKHOUSE.

CYCLING

One of the most interesting features of the cycling season this year is the attention being given to the development and advancement of the sport by manufacturers. A great revival in cycle racing is now sweeping over the country, affecting particularly the cities wherein are located the tracks of the national circuit. This is principally due to the American Bicycle company, known to the cycling world as the "A. B. C.," which has retained an enormous staff of the well known riders to race on the national circuit tracks.

R. Lindsay Coleman, president of the company, is today one of the stellar figures in the world of American sports. Largely through his endeavors the American Bicycle company has secured the signatures of the following men for the summer: Jimmy Michael, the midget pace follower; Tom Cooper of Detroit, the "king of cyclists;" Johnny Nelson of Chicago, who won more paced races last year than any other rider in the country; Floyd A. McFarland, winner in such a sensational manner of the last six day race in Madison Square Garden, New York; Owen Kimbal, hailing from the Blue Grass State and generally known as "Old Kaintuck;" John T. Fisher of Chicago, and Bobby Walthour of Cambridge, Mass.

R. LINDSAY COLEMAN.

Mr. Coleman is typical of what the "gentleman sportsman" should be. He is a fair man, and it is needless to say that cycle races under his guidance will receive a well merited boom. He is looked on as one of the wealthiest men in the bicycle industry, being a millionaire several times over. Prior to his present connection Mr. Coleman was owner of the Crescent Wheel works.

Legitimate Business Not Affected by the Flurry In Wall Street

New York, May 11.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: A panic in Wall street does not mean that legitimate business has suddenly ceased to prosper, nor is the condition of mercantile trade and manufacture adversely affected by a violent fall in prices of securities. Throughout the entire country fundamental conditions were never as sound as at the present time, reports from nearly every city this week showing an unexceptional volume of transactions, and payments promptly met. Railway stocks did not drop an average of $12 in a few minutes because traffic had decreased, since full returns for April show a gain in earnings of 9.1 percent over last year.

Production is not overtaking demand at the finished steel mills, and all Pittsburg plants are two months behind orders, while 90 days is the limit at many.

Less sensational events transpired in the cereal markets than in the preceding week, although quotations are slow to recede. Corn eased off a few cents, but is still nearly 25 percent above the quotation at the corresponding date in the two previous years.

Shipments of boots and shoes from Boston reach to an unusual point, aggregating 103,328 cases for the week, against 79,371 in the previous week, and 68,151 in the corresponding period last year.

Recovery in the price of cotton was only temporary, and heavy liquidation of options was accompanied by a fall in spot middling uplands to the lowest figure recorded this year. Even at a loss of $9 a bale compared with the quotation prevailing a year ago there is little disposition to secure raw material, either by domestic or foreign spinners.

The situation is similar regarding wool and woolens. Raw material is abundant and a large clip probable, while manufacturers have only a light demand for goods.

HABEAS CORPUS PETITION

May Stay Enforcement of Death Penalty in the Case of Luigi Storti

Boston, May 11.—There is a remote possibility that Luigi Storti will not die in the electric chair during next week, his reprieve expiring tonight. In the United States circuit court yesterday W. M. Stockbridge and G. P. Wardner, counsel for Storti, made application to Judge Lowell that a writ of habeas corpus might be issued for the body of their client, on the grounds that the sentence which had been imposed on him of death by electrocution is unconstitutional.

Judge Lowell issued a writ summoning the attorney general and Warden Bridges of the state prison to appear in court today and show cause why the petition should not be granted. There is a question whether, if Judge Lowell finds in favor of Storti's claim, a stay of enforcement of the death penalty is assured. An adverse decision may be appealed to the supreme court at Washington, and another question arises whether the sentence can be executed until that body has decided on the matter.

Counsel for Storti last night filed a motion for a new trial with the clerk of the superior criminal court, on the ground of newly discovered evidence. The court will give a hearing on it immediately. Several affidavits accompany the motion, the principal one being that of Buelli, who was with Storti at the time he struck Calucci with the axe. He went to Italy, and want of knowledge of his whereabouts is set up as a reason why his evidence was not given at the trial.

Schley on a Pleasure Visit

London, May 11.—Admiral Schley arrived here yesterday. When interviewed by a reporter he said: "I am here for a little rest and pleasure. I have not been in London for 25 years. Admiral Schley will sail for home on May 18.

The area of cloud and rain that has hung over the lake region, the Ohio valley and the middle Atlantic states for the last four days continues, and has advanced into New England. Cloudy and threatening weather with rain is indicated for New England today and Sunday. On the coast brisk to high northeasterly winds will prevail. Storm warnings are displayed from Sandy Hook to Eastport.

"You Are So Slow."

If the woman at work should make answer to the other woman, she might, perhaps, say: "You never had to scrub and clean when your back ached so that it seemed that every movement would break it in two." It's bad enough for a woman to suffer. But when she must suffer and slave at the same time she reaches the limit of her endurance.

Weak women who have been made strong by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, recommend it to others as a godsend. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

"I have been ailing some time now, being troubled with female weakness," writes Mrs. Wm. H. Johnson, of Avondale, Chester Co., Pa. "Every month I would have to lie on my back. I tried many different medicines and nothing gave me relief until I began Dr. Pierce's medicines, using two bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and two of 'Golden Medical Discovery.' These medicines have cured me. When I began your treatment I was not able to do very much, but now I do the work for my family of nine, and feel better to-day than I have for a year."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure biliousness and sick headache. They do not create the pill habit.

A Legitimate Investment

Which Increased Over 700 per cent.

WITHIN SIX MONTHS.

The Arcola Oil Company's stock sold for $135 per 1,000 shares, and in six months $1,000 per 1,000 shares was refused for the stock, for the reason that the first well was a large producer and there is room for forty wells on the Company's land, which makes it about certain that the stock in the near future will be worth ten dollars per share.

We offer you the same opportunity for a large gain by investing in the Dirigo Oil Company's stock, the first block of which is being sold for $150 per 1,000 shares. The Company owns a block of land adjoining the Arcola Company's land which has large producing wells on all four sides. There is eighty acres of the Company's land in the center of the oil belt, which we feel absolutely certain will give a large producing well in each acre.

We now have machinery on the ground, and are ready to sink the first well, and expect to strike oil by May 1st, which will then make the stock worth par value, if the well is as good a producer as the Arcola.

The block of stock we are selling is about three-quarters sold and quick application will have to be made to secure any of it at the present price.

BRAINTREE.

The non-resident membership list at The Cochato club is complete and a few names are on the waiting list. The resident list is full within six or eight names. This proves that the club is in a prosperous condition.

Wednesday afternoon at 4.50 box 48 of the fire alarm system was rung in by a boy eleven years of age, which proved a false alarm. This boy, Willie McGlincey of Central avenue, was told by other boys, playing with him, to pull down the lever in the box. He did so and now is subject to a fine. The fire alarm boxes must not be tampered with.

Wednesday evening a literary and musical entertainment was given by a number of the children of the Jonas Perkins school in the school hall.

Capt. Timothy D. Bagley for many years a resident of Commercial street, this village, died at his home in Weymouth Tuesday morning aged 71 years 10 months. For many years he had been in failing health but attended to his duties as janitor of Tufts library and Arcanum hall until quite recently. By vocation he was a pilot and for many years was a familiar figure in the upper harbor and Quincy bay. He was a member of the Knights of Pythias, Arcanum and Red Men. A wife and son George are bereaved of a kind and loving husband and father. The funeral services were held at his late home Thursday afternoon.

BOSTON AMUSEMENTS.

Castle Square Theatre.

An interesting revival of Boucicault's great drama "Led Astray" is announced as the attraction at the Castle Square Theatre for the coming week. This famous play has not had a performance at the Castle Square Theatre for nearly four years and it will have almost the interest of a novelty by reason of the many changes in the players of the company since its earlier presentation at this house. Two new people will be seen in this production as Miss Eva Taylor and Miss Maye Louise Aigen both make their first appearance with the company in this production.

Following "Led Astray" comes a production of "At the White Horse Tavern." The distribution of boxes of chocolate bon bons to patrons of the Monday matinees will be continued until further notice.

Boston Museum.

"Little Red Riding Hood," for which such elaborate preparations have been in progress, will burst forth in its fun, music and glory as a very much up-to-date musical extravaganza at the Boston Museum, Monday May 13. The talent engaged for the interpretation of the familiar nursery characters are: Sager Midgley as Simple Simon and Gertie Carlisle as Little Miss Muffett, both made pronounced hits in the characters during last season's presentations at the Hollis; Elvira Leveroni, the Boston Italian girl, whose voice includes all the warmth and expression characteristic of her native land, though possessing in spirit, fascinating appearance and chic the temperament of a French chanson singer, as Little Red Riding Hood, and Clara Barteaux as the Fairy Queen. David Abrams will appear as the famous Cat that Johnny Green and Johnny Stout threw in the well. He was also in the Hollis production and made a most unmistakable hit. This feline role has been made more important in this new version of "Red Riding Hood," and all who so enjoyed the antics of the cat before will laugh all the harder now. An engagement that ought to arouse the most pleasant anticipations is that of the famous Four Otts who will be individually assigned to the merry roles of Johnny Green, Johnny Stout, and Jack and Jill. Dan Mason, the funny German comedian who is a popular favorite in these parts, is to play the role of the merry German Baron. John L. Kearney, an eccentric comedian, will play the role of Granny, the village schoolmistress, and it is expected he will intuse much fun in the part.

Keith's Theatre.

Such a program as that announced for Keith's Boston theatre for the week commencing Monday, May 13, has seldom been excelled in this theatre, noted as it is for the excellence of its vaudeville shows; R. J. Jose, the popular contra tenor vocalist, is to sing with the big songsheet chorus, rendering the two melodies he has been featuring this season, "Goodbye Dolly Gray" and "There is No North nor South Today;" Louise Thorndyke Boucault and James Horne will play "A Proper Impropeiety," one of Augus Thomas' best one act play comedies; Idalene Cotton will give her wonderful impersonations of noted actresses, assisted by Nick Long, one of the cleverest character comedians on the stage; St. Onge brothers will display their agility as trick bicyclists, with comedy touches thrown in. The orchestra will have new selections, the biograph make an entire change of pictures.

Just a Hook.

Gentle spring, like the old saw "Beautiful Snow," rather "jars" you, and you feel like saying "Back Up." But then, if you are a fisherman, the springlike weather gives you that "itchy" feeling which every follower of "Walton" has more than once experienced

An up-country editor, who is evidently one of "them fellers," soliloquizes thusly:—"The pleasurable out-of-door life which spring will soon make possible brings different anticipations of enjoyment to all. There is no end to the many means of pleasure which comes with warmer weather, and everyone has a favorite, which he or she looks forward to impatiently. But above all, it brings the fishing season. Tackle will soon be overhauled, the old coat and boots taken from their winters resting place and the first trip laid out. All out-of-door sports have their devotees and merits, but none can approach the day out on the brook or pond, in the opinion of the boys old and young. The right kind of a day, an old suit of clothes, the necessary tackle, a cold lunch such as you couldn't eat in a week if at home, a pipe and tobacco to keep off the insects, and then the brook! The fish may bite well or they may seem slow, but noon comes before you know it, and in some quiet glen the lunch is produced and devoured with an appetite such as hasn't been felt for many a day. Then when the last crumb is gone, the pipe is loaded, a new start is made. It is a busy, happy day, and not until the sun casts long shadows do we think of home The story which must be told is made up on the way, and is all ready for the first jeering enquirer. The net result is a day well spent with dear old Mother Nature, sunburned hands and neck, a tired feeling which brings sound, healthy sleep, and—possibly—a few fish. But it don't much matter about the fish. We have been fishing, anyway, and had "an awful good time."

And for that "awfully good time" Northern New England is the place. There are fishing places every where, and the pamphlet Fishing and Hunting, issued by the General Passenger Department, Boston & Maine Railroad, Boston, tells you how, when and where to go fishing. Send a two-cent stamp for it.

Of Interest to Music Lovers.

Lovers of the semi-popular song, with flowing melodies and graceful words, will be delighted with "May Be," George Rosey and Frank Tannehill Jr's., latest song, authors of "Believe" and "Too Late."

May Irwin's comical Irish song, "The Turkey and The Turk," has just been published. It is the funniest of its kind in years.

"Parthenia" is the title of the latest New York coon song success by Ernest Hogan and Theodore Northrup, and is a sure success. "In the House of Too Much Trouble," the ballad which has just swept the country in a wave of popularity, is now ready for piano solo. It also introduces "The Old Postmaster." A splendid patriotic march song is to be had in Heelan and Helf's "He's Not Coming Home With the Boys," while their latest Dutch comedy song, "Ha-Le, Ha-Lo," is another winner. The above publications are issued this month by Jos. W. Stern & Co., who are also agents for the celebrated S. S. Stewart Banjos and the George Bauer Mandolins and Guitars. They will be pleased to send their illustrated catalogue free, upon application to their main offices, 34 E. 21st street, New York.

SEWER TUNNELLING.

Interesting Piece of Work on Adams Street.

One Shaft Forty-five Feet Deep.

Has Already Excavated Three Hundred Feet.

Few people have any idea of the extent of the work that is being done on Adams street by the Metropolitan sewerage Commission. The street near the Milton line is where the tunnel is being dug. Two shafts have been sunk. One on the Milton side near Granite place and the other near the residence of Joseph W. Robertson. The first shaft is where the great difficulty has been experienced with water.

A large pump has now been installed, and this is being worked night and day, and yet there is difficulty in keeping the water down. Some little tunnelling has been done here, but not over thirty feet in length toward Quincy.

Near this plant a large building has been erected in which are located the engines that operate the pumps and the air compressor that furnishes fresh air to the men who are at work in the tunnels.

The shaft near the residence of Joseph W. Robertson is where the greater amount of work is being done at present. The shaft here is about forty-five feet deep, and nearly twenty feet square. Down the centre of this shaft there is an elevator on which a track has been built. This carries a car which when filled in the tunnel, is pushed onto the elevator, then hoisted above the surface and run along a tramway to a chute into which it is emptied. Carts back under the chute and are readily loaded. The tunnel at this point has been excavated for three hundred feet toward Milton, and work building the sewer has been commenced.

The strata through which the tunnel at this point is being built, seems to be one of rock that resembles what is known as trap rock. Thousands of tons of this rock have already been removed, and is banked up along the street occupying nearly half of the travelled way. The bank of rock also extends into the field near the residence of William N. Eaton.

Aside from the building used as a central engine house, there are several other buildings situated along the line, in which are located blacksmith and machine shops. There are also the buildings used as an engineer's office by the Metropolitan Sewerage Commission.

None but employes are allowed to go down into the the shaft or tunnel, and in fact, a look down into the dark, deep hole, from which a thin haze arises, is enough for most people.

Altogether it is an interesting piece of work and will repay a visit.

TODAY'S COURT.

John E. McCormick was arraigned for larceny of $10 from John Faircloth at Quincy. Case continued until next Saturday.

William Donahue was arraigned for drunkenness at Braintree. Case placed on file.

David P. McGaregbey was fined $5 for drunkenness at Randolph.

James Blythe, Jr., was arraigned for drunkenness at Randolph. Blythe was out on probation but broke over, so that this morning he was confronted by two cases. He was fined $5 on the first case, and $10 on the second case.

James Buckley was arraigned for larceny of four twenty-five ride tickets from the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. at Braintree. Case continued until May 20.

The case of George W. Wentworth for larceny at Braintree was called and again continued until next Friday.

Costantino Di Bona was arraigned for keeping liquor with intent to sell at Quincy.

After a lengthy hearing Di Bona was found not guilty and discharged.

In the case against the liquors siezed from Peter Padussi at Quincy, the court ordered the liquor returned.

A BRIGHT EXAMPLE.

Eulogy in 1800 of George Washington as a Mason.

Next month Rural lodge of Masons of this city will have a two days' celebration of the centennial of its institution.

It is the purpose of the Daily Ledger in the meantime to give almost daily some reference to this popular fraternity:—its history, its origin, its advantages; its progress; its prominent members, etc. And especially incidents of 100 years ago, and also the history of Rural lodge.

At the memorial services of the Grand Lodge of Masons of Massachusetts to Gen. Washington, in Boston, Feb. 11, 1800, Bro. Timothy Bigelow in an eulogy spoke of him as a warrior, a statesman, a citizen, a Christian, a man, and in conclusion as a Mason as follows:

"Having already contemplated such a variety of distinguishing features in this great and amicable character, does it still admit of addition? Is there room in the portrait for another trace of the faithful pencil, that will increase its beauty?

Yes, my brethren, to us another and no less interesting view remains. Animated with a generous philanthrophy, our deceased brother early sought admission into our ancient and honourable fraternity at once to enable him to cherish with advantage this heavenly principle, and enlarge the sphere of its operation. He cultivated our art with sedulous attention, and never lost an opportunity of advancing the interest or promoting the honour of the craft.

"While Commander-in-Chief of the American Revolutionary army, he countenanced the establishment and encouraged the labours of a traveling lodge among the military. He wisely considered it as a school of urbanity, well calculated to disseminate those mild virtues of the heart, so ornamental to the human character, and so peculiarly useful to correct the ferocity of soldiers, and alleviate the miseries of war. The cares of his high office engrossed too much of his time to admit of his engaging in the duties of the chair; yet he found frequent opportunities to visit the lodge, and thought it no derogation from his dignity, there to stand on the level with the brethren.

"True to our principles on all occasions an incident once occurred which enabled him to display their influence to his foes. A body of American troops in some successful rencontre with the enemy, possessed themselves, among other booty, of the jewels and furniture, of a British travelling lodge of Masons. This property was directed by the Commander in Chief to be returned under a flag of truce to its former proprietors, accompanied with a message, purporting that the Americans did not make war upon institutions of benevolence.

"Of his attachment to our order in general, you, my respected brethren of the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of this Commonwealth, have had personal knowledge. His answers to your repeated addresses, breathe throughout the spirit of brotherly love; and his affectionate return of thanks for the Book of Constitutions, which you presented him, and for the honour, as he was pleased to consider it, which you did him in the dedication, must be evidence highly satisfactory of the respectful estimation in which he held you.

"The information received from our brethren, who had the happiness to be members of the lodge over which he presided many years, and of which he died the Master, furnishes abundant proof of his persevering zeal for the prosperity of the insitution. Constant and punctual in his attendance, scrupulous in his observance of the regulations of the lodge, and solicitous at all times to communicated light and instruction, he discharged the duties of the chair with uncommon dignity and intelligence in all the mysteries of our art.

"Nothing can more highly conduce to the prosperity and honour of Masonry, than a successful imitation of this bright example. It cannot fail in its effect upon our brethren in its immediate neighbourhood in the South; they will beautify their column. And shall we be outdone in zeal? Placed geographically in the East, in a quarter of the Union from which the nation has been accustomed to learn wisdom, it should be our peculiar care to diffuse light through the temple of Masonry.

"As it is known that we share largely in the esteem and affection of our deceased brother, it is easy to conceive that our good conduct will itself be an encomium on his memory. We see before us, among the sad emblems of mortality, not only the sword which in this neighborhood he drew for the defence of his country, but also the very attire which he has often worn as a Mason. How devoutly is it to be wished, that these striking memorial may stimulate us to a noble emulation; that like the mantle of Elijah, they may inspire us with an unalterable attachment to virtue and benevolence!

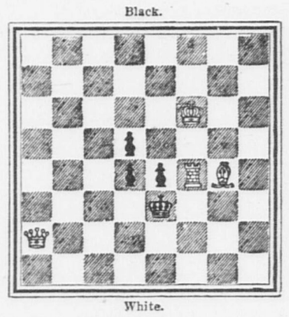

"This day witnesses to the world in what veneration we held the memory of departed greatness. Let not the solemnity be without its appropriate effect upon ourselves. While with funeral pomp and Masonic honours, we celebrate the obsequies of our deceased brother, while we bend with anguish over the urn (already described in the Daily Ledger) which contains a part of what was mortal in him let us like him remember, that we are animated with a heavenly flame, which the chill damps of death cannot extinguish; like him resolve to square our actions by the rules of recititude, persevere in the line of our duty, and restrain our passions within the compass of propriety, knowing that the all-seeing eye of our Supreme Grand Master above, continually observes us: that when we shall have performed the task assigned us here, we may like him be called from our work to the refreshments which alone can satisfy our immortal desires: that when we put off this earthly immortal clothing, we may be arrayed with the garments of glory, put on the jewels of light, and shine forever in the sublime arch above."

Blasting in Cities.

The House refused yesterday to order to a third reading the bill to compel cities to issue permits for blasting under reasonable restrictions.

Mr. Badger of Quincy favord the bill, He said he had examined the ledges in Somerville, and as an expert would say that a man might blow them all to pieces and not a stone would be thrown to the surface.

Several representatives spoke pro and con. An amendment of Mr. Luce of Somerville, providing that City Councils may restrict blasting, instead of that they shall do so, was adopted. Upon yeas and nays the bill was defeated 47 to 55.

Whooping Cough.

A woman who has had experience with this disease tells how to prevent any dangerous consequences from it. She says: Our three children took whooping cough last summer, our baby boy being only three months old, and owing to our giving them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, they lost none of their plumpness and came out in much better health than other children whose parents did not use this remedy. Our oldest little girl would call lustily for cough syrup between whoops.—JESSIE PINKEY HALL, Springville, Ala. This Remedy is for sale by all druggists.

MORE FLOWER SHOWS

President Entertained With Enjoyab e Programs

VISITS SPANISH MISSIONS

Chief of Fire Brigade of Santa Barbara Allowed His House to Burn to the Ground Rather Than Miss Opportunity to See the President

San Luis Obispo, Cal., May 11.—The route of the president's train northward from Los Angeles yesterday lay through the Santa Clara valley, where it ran for hours along the edge of cliffs overhanging the Pacific ocean. At every stopping place there was a flower show, rivalling in beauty the floral parade at Los Angeles.

There is no abatement of the enthusiasm which has attended the president's progress since he entered California. As he approaches his destination at San Francisco the program at the different stops are more enjoyable and less fatiguing. A drive through the city was in each case the principal feature at the places where he stopped yesterday. The president was very much interested in the old Spanish missions which he visited both at Ventura and at Santa Barbara.

San Luis Obispo was the last stop of the day. It was reached at 7 o'clock last evening, in time for a drive through the town. After crossing the mountain range the train dropped down to Del Monte, on the bay of Monterey, where the party will remain today and Sunday. The program today includes a visit to the national encampment during the afternoon. Sunday will be given up to rest.

At Santa Barbara President McKinley made the principal address of the day. An unusual incident occurred during the president's stay there. The residence of the chief of the fire brigade caught fire. The fire chief, who was on the street awaiting the coming of the president, was informed that his house was in flames.

"Let it burn," he replied, "I will wait and see the president. I can build another house, but I may never have another opportunity to see the President of the United States," and he stoically remained while his house burned to the ground.

"I saw the president," he said, when informed that his house was in ruins. "I saved the lot, anyway."

The presidential party stopped one hour at San Luis Obispo. It was almost dark when the train arrived. The president and party were driven to the Ramona hotel where the president spoke briefly from the veranda. After he had concluded the crowd surged up the steps in a vain endeavor to get near him, and there was almost a panic for a moment. With some difficulty the president was extricated through a window into the parlor and thence to a rear exit, where he got his carriage to the train. Several of the party had narrow escapes from severe injury.

Willie McCormick's Body Found

New York, May 11.—The body of 12-year-old Willie McCormick, who disappeared from his home at Highbridge six weeks ago, was yesterday found floating on the surface of Cromwell's creek, not far from the McCormick home, by two boys who were playing on the banks of the creek. The body was in such a state of decomposition that the features were not recognizable. The father and sister of the dead boy completed the identification. A number of rewards had been offered for the recovery of the boy on the theory that he had been kidnapped. The boy's death was probably the result of an accident.

Exciting Row at Detroit

Detroit, May 11.—Fully 10,000 men and boys ran riot in the main streets of this city for more than three hours, and a continual running fight with the police made an exciting night in the heart of the city last night. The net result so far as known is 12 citizens and five policemen injured. The riot was caused by Director of Police Andrews issuing an order to allow no one to stand about the wagon of one Tom Bowden, a local single tax exhorter. The crowd resented this, and a riot followed. Quiet was restored by midnight.

A Scarcity of Clothing

Jacksonville, Fla., May 11.—Everything in the city is quiet, and the work of the various departments is progressing smoothly. The greatest want in the city is clothing. Many people are wearing today the same underwear which they had on the day of the fire and have not the money to buy new clothes with. The few clothes which were sent in from different sources have all been distributed.

Many Victims of Stabber

Moscow, May 11.—Many young girls, usually from 15 to 18 years of age, have been stabbed in the breast by a man at night and in public places during the past month. The police are using extraordinary endeavors to apprehend the criminal, but so far without result.

Collision and Wreck

Port Huron, Mich., May 11.—Schooner Fostoria, in tow of the steamer Annie Laura, collided with a huge cake of ice in the Ct. Clair river last night, and sank almost immediately. Two sailors were drowned. Three members of the crew were saved.

Salisbury Looks Well

London, May 11.—Lord Salisbury, bronzed and looking exceedingly well, returned last evening from the south of France.

BITTER INVECTIVE

Hurled at King Edward and Cardinal Vaughn by a Dublin Paper

Dublin, May 11.—The following are some of the personalities of The Irish People, the organ of the Irish league, which caused the paper's seizure Thursday night:

"Down upon his knees before an old and bald-headed roue—lover of every woman of fair features who has appeared in English society for 40 years, including titled dames and as yet untitled actresses; the English gentleman perjurer of an historic divorce case, the polluted hero of one of the most malodorous scenes in Zola's rotten novel 'Nana' the center of a score of the most disgraceful scandals of the most contemptible type—down in front of this English king, whose latest public performance was to stigmatize on his solemn oath the whole Catholic world as superstitious idolators, knelt the English-born cardinal prince of the church, with a document that might have been presented to a Legree in a southern plantation 50 years ago, but not by an Uncle Tom, poor but contented, of Harriet Beecher Stowe's great story, who would have seen his black skin stripped off inch by inch rather than put his mark to a document like that signed and presented by Cardinal Vaughn and the Duke of Norfolk on his solemn oath.

"We do not believe he attached the slightest solemnity to the performance. But the fact remains that this old and worn-out descendant of a race of scoundrels and practical professors of hideous immorality asseverated that most of the sacred doctrines of the Catholic faith were idolatrous and superstitious. He has not yet recanted. The oath of a perjurer is no less vile than that of the reigning king; but, on bended knees the prince of the church knelt before this unutterably abominable person. Let us consol ourselves with the fact that the presentees were English Catholics who are repudiated."

The police of London are suppressing copies of The Irish People forwarded before the office in Dublin was seized.

Priest Goes Astray

Mexico City, May 11.—The police and citizens of Guadalajara are looking for Rev. Father Amado, a well-known priest of that city and treasurer of various religious fraternities and guilds. It is reported that the clergyman has decamped, takin, it is estimated, nearly $100,000 belonging to religious societies and also carrying off the young daughter of one of the leading families. When Father Amado left the city he placed a letter explaining things within the iron safe, the letter being addressed to Dr. Arias, dean of the cathedral.

Disaster on Lake Superior

Houghton, Mich., May 11.—The passenger steamer Bon Voyage caught fire in Lake Superior last night and was beached near the portage ship canal. Five passengers, all women, were drowned in getting from the boat to the shore. The rest of the passengers, all of them men, and the crew, escaped in safety to the beach. When the burning steamer was first sighted she was several miles out from the shore and was headed for the beach. She struck the bottom nearly a mile from land.

Fraud Is Alleged

Albany, May 11.—Superintendent Francis Hendricks of the state insurance department has sent to District Attorney Philbin of New York county a letter inclosing a copy of the financial statement of the Manhattan Fire Insurance company of New York city, which the department has found to be of a fraudulent character. He requests the district attorney to commence criminal proceedings against the officers of the company who were responsible for the report.

Lives May Have Been Lost

Wheeling, W. Va., May 11.—A cloudburst east of Wheeling last night caused the overflowing of three tributaries of Wheeling creek. Between Greggville and Leatherwood, a wall of water 10 feet high came down, taking bridges, outhouses and logs. It is feared several lives were lost.

Anti-Tammanyites Organize

New York, May 11.—The executive committee of the Greater New York Democracy met last night and perfected a permanent organization. William H. Russell was chosen chairman. A call for a meeting for general organization of the general committee was made for May 20.

Investment Company Closes Shop

Oswego, N. Y., May 11.—The office of the municipal Investment company was closed yesterday, the reason given being that clients had refused to pay the margins, amounting to about $10,000.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Joseph Lepear, 11 years old, was drowned in the Androscoggin river at Rumford Falls, Me. He was playing on logs.

C. E. Starbuck, a Harvard student residing at Andover, Mass., is missing.

Park Street church, Boston, has refused to adopt the individual cup communion service, as proposed. The communion service of the church was given when the parish was founded in 1810. The cups are of massive silver, and are worth $500 each.

Took Him at His Word.

"Men on newspapers often have peculiar experiences," said W. A. Fairchild of Chicago, "and such a one befell a friend of mine some time ago. The friend in question was city editor of a great daily, and in the course of his manifold duties it fell to his lot to take to task one of his reporters. The reporter in question was an Englishman, slow of thought and action and miserly of speech. Through the tirade to which he was subjected he said nothing, and when it finally ended he left the presence of his superior without any comment.

"But, as the result proved, he did some tall thinking. City editors when 'riled,' as is well known, are not particularly choice or economical in the language they bestow on their unfortunate reporters, and among other things the Englishman had been told that he was no better than—in fact, was—a crazy man and that his proper habitat was a lunatic asylum and not the hall bedroom of a Chicago boarding house which he occupied.

"The Englishman took this part of the city editor's remarks as his text and acted upon them. He promptly went to an asylum, had himself thoroughly examined by three or four alienists and secured from them an official certificate to the fact that he was sane. With this he appeared at the office of his paper the next day, and, entering the editor's sanctum, he slapped it down before his astonished and dismayed superior. 'Now, you go and get one,' was his only comment and for once that city editor capitulated."—New York Tribune.

Bunkoed.

"His name was Alexander, and his weakness was the horses," said the reporter. "Surprising as it may appear, he won sometimes and enjoyed a brief nodding acquaintance with fortune. When the bookmakers got it back again, he took to drink and in the end went about trying to pick out a good place in which to kill himself.

"He bought a drink in a cheap hotel, and the quality of the liquor led him to believe he had found the place. He wished to do no man injury, but any one who sold that sort deserved to find a dead man on the premises. He hired a room, small, bleak, well calculated to make a man willing to blow out the gas, even if he had an aversion to it, which Alexander had not.

"He plugged the apertures, closed the transom, hung his coat over the keyhole, turned out the gas and lay down. Then he lighted it again and wrote a few foolish letters of farewell, so hard is it for even a tired mortal to quit with no word. Then he put out the light, saw that the gas was flowing freely and lay down.

"He noticed that it was ten minutes to 1 o'clock in the morning. He fell asleep, certain it was all over. (Oblivion.)

"He woke. The sun was streaming in. It was high noon. Yes; he was alive. He could not understand it. There was no gas in the room, yet it was still turned on. He finally discovered that in hotels of that sort they turn the gas off at 1 a. m. 'Bunkoed!' he said and went cheerily on his way."—New York Sun.

A Joke That Failed.

Professor Rogers and Dr. Dale were once lecturing in England, and at every town which they visited Dr. Dale noticed that his colleague, who always spoke first, made the same speech. In fact, so often did the professor give that speech that the worthy doctor knew it off by heart, and this fact led the latter to think of a way of taking the wind out of his friend's sails.

On their arrival at a town in south Lancashire Dr. Dale asked Dr. Rogers to allow him to speak first, an arrangement to which the latter readily agreed, so Dr. Dale rose and proceeded to deliver the speech of Dr. Rogers, looking every now and then out of the corner of his eye to see how that worthy gentleman was taking this practical joke. Dr. Rogers sat calm and composed, and when at length his turn came to speak he just as calmly rose and delivered, to Dr. Dale's utter astonishment, quite a new speech.

At the conclusion of the meeting Dr. Dale said to his colleague:

"I thought I had taken the wind out of your sails tonight."

Dr. Rogers replied: "Oh, no. I delivered that speech when I was here a month ago."

The Cannon and Science.

The president of the French Academy of Sciences remarked in a recent address that the cannon is one of the most instructive laboratories that science possesses. It was the modern cannon, he said, which suggested the application of explosive gases to the driving of engines. The experience of the immense pressures obtained in cannon also led to the use of pressures in steam machines which a few years ago would have been regarded as impracticable. Thus experiments intended primarily for the purposes of war had resulted in the advance of the triumphs of peace.

Both at Rest.

"I suppose," said the stonecutter, "you'll want 'Requiescat in pace' at the bottom of your wife's monument?"

"No," replied the bereaved Mr. Peck; "make it 'Requiesco in pace.'"

"That means 'I rest in peace,' doesn't it?"

"Yes, and I want you to sign that 'Husband.'"—Catholic Standard and Times.

Adversity's Round Robin.

"This is a cold world. A man can't get a job unless he has a good suit of clothes."

"Well, that's logic."

"Logic? He can't get a good suit of clothes unless he has a job."—Detroit Free Press.

PRESIDENT IS WORRIED

Over the Sudden Illness of Mrs. McKinley

TAKEN TO SAN FRANCISCO

For Complete Rest and Consultation of a Specialist If Necessary—Unless Her Condition Improves, the President Will Have to Change Program

San Francisco, May 13.—The sudden illness of Mrs. McKinley has caused an unexpected change in the itinerary of President McKinley. He arrived in this city quietly yesterday afternoon, several hours ahead of the time scheduled. The state of Mrs. McKinley's health was such yesterday morning that the president decided to leave Del Monte and bring his wife to this city immediately, to the home of Henry T. Scott, where she could have complete rest for a few days, and where a specialist could be consulted if necessary.

A special of two cars and a locomotive was made up from the presidential special, and at 12:30 o'clock the president, Mrs. McKinley, Miss Barber, the president's niece, Secretary and Mrs. Cortelyou, Rixey and Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Scott, left Del Monte for San Francisco, leaving the remainder of the presidential party at Del Monte.

Only a few hundred people greeted the president upon his arrival in this city. His coming was not generally known. The president, in order to avoid the crowd that was expected to assemble at the Southern Pacific depot, left the train with his party at a station in the southern part of the city.

When the train reached here, Mrs. McKinley was carried in a steamer chair from the private car to a closed carriage in waiting. She was heavily veiled, and the president and Dr. Rixey followed close behind. Mrs. McKinley was placed in the carriage and the president and Dr. Rixey took seats in the same vehicle. The president was quite pale and looked serious. The rest of the party followed in carriages. Mr. and Mrs. Scott had arrived at their residence ahead of the president and were waiting to receive their guests. Mrs. McKinley was again lifted out of the carriage and placed in an invalid chair and carried into the house.

Secretary Cortelyou, when questioned concerning Mrs. McKinley's condition, stated that there was nothing alarming in her present indisposition, and that perfect quiet and rest for a few days would restore her to her usual health. It was the impression, however, of those who saw Mrs. McKinley that she was very ill, and that her present state may result in an entire change of the president's program.

Should his wife's health improve, the president will carry out his intention to attend the celebration at San Jose. If, however, her condition today shall be no better than yesterday, the president will not leave his wife's side, but will allow the cabinet officers and others of his party to represent him at San Jose.

tA 9:30 last night Secretary Cortelyou gave the following bulletin to the Associated Press:

"Mrs. McKinley stood the trip from Monterey extremely well, and is resting comfortably at Mr. Scott's residence. Her attack of indigestion, it is believed, will yield promptly to rest and remedies, while the felon on her hand is healing nicely. Dr. Hirschfelder of San Francisco is in consultation with Dr. Rixey."

It will not be determined until today whether President McKinley will go to San Jose or remain in this city. His program for the day will be contingent on the condition of Mrs. McKinley.

Lazy Men Won't Work

Jacksonville, Fla., May 13.—The work of the Relief association is still a stupendous one, particularly in the commissary department and the labor department. There is abundant work for everybody, but much difficulty is experienced in getting the colored men to work. The commissary department and the labor department are working together to change this order of things, and the man who will not work hereafter will find himself cut off from rations.

Millionaire a Patrolman

Buffalo, May 13.—Harry Hamlin, millionaire clubman, one of the principal stockholders of the Pan-American exposition, and a prominent horseman, appeared before the police commission and asked that they engage him as a special patrolman, and his name was placed on the department's list of special patrolmen. It is not known what prompted him to take the step.

Total Contributions of $1,448,900

Nyack, N. Y., May 13.—Rev. A. B. Simpson, president of the Christian and Missionary Alliance, has just made his financial report for the year. The total contributions were $204,639.54, an increase of $110,084.15 over the previous year. Since the alliance started the total contributions were $1,448,900, of which more than half was raised in the last four years.

CASH BOOK FOUND

Lifts a Great Load From Shoulders of Arlington Town Officials

Arlington, Mass., May 13.—The missing cash book of the tax collector's office, which has been greatly desired by the town officials ever since the mysterious fire and robbery, for which Roland Swan is now under arrest, was found yesterday by Chief of Police Harriman. On Thursday last, while Chief Harriman was in Providence, some one telephoned the Arlington police, asking if the town hall had been searched for the missing book, and advising them to look for it there. A search had already been made of the premises, which proved unsuccessful. Harriman decided to make another investigation yesterday, and his search was rewarded by finding the book hidden away in the building, but just where he will not say. The book is intact, and the town officials are greatly pleased.

The finding of the cash book lifts a great load from the shoulders of the town authorities, as it enables them at once, and with few exceptions, to ascertain just what taxpayers had paid their taxes, and to locate those who had not done so.

A Miraculous Escape

New York, May 13.—An open trolley car, on which were packed about 115 persons, got away from the motorman yesterday near Fort Lee, N. J., and dashed down Leonia hill. Every person on the car was bruised, but only three were seriously hurt, and only one of them is likely to die. The heavily loaded car had started down an incline a quarter of a mile in length, when the motorman lost control. It went so fast no one dared jump off. The body of the car finally left the trucks on a curve and the passengers were piled in a heap.

Would Have Far-Reaching Result

Washington, May 13.—A general strike, involving directly 150,000 machinists and indirectly 500,000 men in the metal working trades, is expected to take place on May 20, unless some arrangement is effected in the meantime. This is the statement made by President O'Connell of the International Association of Machinists, who has his headquarters in this city. The demands of the men are ten hours' pay for nine hours' work.

Non-Union Men to Be Retained

Albany, May 13.—The strike on the United Traction company's lines, which affects five cities and two villages in this immediate vicinity, promises to be indefinitely prolonged because of the decision of the company's directorate not to discharge the 10 non-union men, and because of the determination of the strikers not to return to work unless the road is unionized and their demands acceded to.

Again Ready For Business

Weymouth, May 13.—The repairs on the cup challenger have been completed and the Erin towed the two Shamrocks here yesterday, in readiness for the opening water trials on the channel. Sir Thomas Lipton is the recipient of many presents, but he is proudest of a photograph from President McKinley, which arrived yesterday, bearing a cordial greeting and the president's autograph.

De Wet Again Active

London, May 13.—General De Wet, according to a dispatch to The Daily Mail from Pretoria, has resumed operations and is reported to have crossed into the Transvaal with 2000 men.

Weather Conditions and Forecast

Almanac, Tuesday, May 14.
Sun rises—4:24; sets, 6:57.
Moon rises—1:33 a. m.
High water—7:30 a. m.; 8 p. m.

The cloudy rainy weather that has been the feature for the northeastern portion of the country has finally disappeared. Local showers with lower temperatures are indicated for New England. The winds on the coast will be mostly fresh to brisk northerly.

BRONCHITIS

may mean a mere cold or a chronic incurable inflammation of wind-pipes.

The quickest relief, for a cold, is also the most effectual balm for the worst condition of wind-pipes and lungs.

It takes the edge off a cold in a night, and relieves it progressively—one forgets it after a little.

An old bronchitis, however, is obstinate. Nothing restores the tissues, when once destroyed; and an old bronchitis has gradually impared and partly destroyed the lining of those small pipes between throat and lungs.

Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil is the balm; it sooths if it cannot restore.

We'll send you a little to try, if you like.

SHOT WIFE IN NECK

Result of Rifle Practice Within Doors

DEATH ALMOST INSTANT

Target Was on Wall of Kitchen and Shooter Was In Another Room When the Woman Stepped Into the Path of the Bullet

Barre, Vt., May 13.—C. S. George shot his wife, Ruth, yesterday, killing her almost instantly. The shooting was an accident. Mr. George had risen at 7 o'clock to build the fire. Shortly afterwards, his wife arose and proceeded to get breakfast. The husband was around the house doing odd jobs until about 8 o'clock, when he got a small Flobert rifle with the intention of practicing shooting. He placed the target on the wall in the kitchen and went into the dining room to shoot.

In order that he might be able to hit the target more accurately, he rested the rifle against the side of the door between the parlor and the dining room, the dining room, parlor and kitchen being in a direct line. Meantime his wife, who had gone down stairs, had come back into the kitchen, and, being in her stocking feet, George did not hear her.

Instead of coming within his range of vision, she stopped at the kitchen stove to look after something she was cooking, but just as her husband pulled the trigger, she stepped from the stove immediately in range of the shot. The ball struck her in the left side of the neck just above the collar bone. She fell to the floor, and before aid could reach her had expired.

Chief of Police Brown was notified and George was arrested until an inquiry could be made. As near as could be ascertained, the cause of death was more from shock than from the effects of the bullet, as the latter was a small Flobert, and would not ordinarily do much damage, but as the victim was very stout and troubled with her heart, it is considered that the shock caused her heart to fail.

The inquiry lasted three-quarters of an hour, and the facts of the case were so plain that George was released without bail.

The rifle with which the shooting was done belonged to the youngest son of George, and the father was in the habit of practicing with it in the yard and in the house, and it was nothing new for him to place a target in the kitchen and shoot from the other rooms at it.

George had been married about 40 years. There are six children. The parents had always lived happily together.

Pole-Carew's Admission

London, May 13.—At a banquet of the Cornish association, held in London last night, General Pole-Carew said: "At the beginning of the war, had the Boers fully realized their strength and our unpreparedness, we would have been driven into Durban and Cape Town, and we would have presented the spectacle of reconquering South Africa from the seacoast."

Made Certain of Death

Green Castle, Ind., May 13.—Tucker W. Taylor, aged 46, took a heavy dose of chloroform yesterday and then shot himself through the head. Taylor was for years confidential secretary of John C. Ridpath, the historian, and aided that noted writer during his career as an author. He was also a poet of some reputation. He was unmarried.

Esterhazy Author of Bordereau

Brussels, May 13.—The Independence Belg publishes affidavits signed by Count Ferdinand Walsin Esterhazy before the French consul in London admitting the authorship of the Dreyfus bordereau and declaring that the bordereau was written with the connivance of Colonel Sandheer, ex-chief of the secret intelligence bureau.

Sultan Fears Assassination

London, May 13.—"The sultan, I learn," says the Constantinople correspondent of The Daily Chronicle, "concocted the plague scare in order to enforce a quarantine that would exclude a band of anarchists, who, he had been informed by Austria, were coming to assassinate him."

Identity Not Discovered

Halifax, May 13.—The remains of the unknown woman who shot herself in the Halifax hotel 10 days ago, were interred yesterday, every effort to identify her having been in vain. The body was buried in the Presbyterian cemetery without any inscription on coffin plate or headstone.

Public Hearings—(2).

Good Afternoon.

The gentlemen and ladies whom Mayor Hall has invited to meet at City Hall this evening to arrange for the entertainment of President McKinley on July 5, should enter heartily into plans. It has been said that it is difficult to get Quincy to enthuse over anything, but here is an opportunity seldom offered, a visit from the President of the United States. With the exception of the Adamses, we believe no President while in office has visited Quincy, although we are known as the "City of Presidents," having been the birthplace, home and burial place of two. Gen. Grant at one time, after retiring from the office, had his train stop a few minutes at the Quincy station when en route for Boston. Doubtless some of the Presidents have passed through the city by rail, but at express train speed.

But Mr. McKinley promises to drive over from Hingham and make us a visit for several hours. It is hoped that the health of Mrs. McKinley will speedily improve in the delightful State of California, and that there will be nothing to prevent the President and his wife from making the New England trip, and that they may always recall with pleasure their visit to Quincy.

Mayor Hall has invited the following to serve on the committee: All the ex-Mayors of the city, the presidents of the Granite City club, Master Builders and Traders' Association, Quincy Historical Society, Daughters of the Revolution, Junior Society Sons and Daughters of the Revolution, and other business and patriotic societies, and representatives of the local newspapers.

Whether Quincy will remain in Congressman Naphen's district, or become a part of the new Boston district, or Norfolk county will go solidly into a district, is still in the air. Perhaps the latest suggestion is to drop Cohasset from the county and add Newton, Milford and Hopedale. In that case Congressman Powers would become a resident of the district, and would undoubtedly seek the nomination. Whether Norfolk county would care to go outside its limits for a candidate is another question. With Newton out of the district it would be anybody's nomination.

Drift of Opinion.

☞ Because the President observed the unwritten law that no resident shall leave the country during his term of office, and declined to cross the Rio Grande, into Mexico, the Boston Transcript argues that he will not accept a third term. When the President refuses," says the Transcript, to transgress unwritten law on a point of comparative indifference, he is not likely to take a different attitude when it comes to one of vital importance. We do not know that anything of this sort was in his mind when he kept his feet on American soil, but his rigid observance of precedent must be accepted as prophetic of what he would do were a larger principle involved." Wouldn't wonder if the Transcript was right.—Lynn Item.

☞ The horse which has long been consigned by pessimists to the condition of the dodo, still survives and is worth more than ever. All the new schemes of transportation, from the locomotive to the trolley car and automobile, have not appreciably affected his status. Every new business makes more business in all sorts of directions. There is a constant adjustment and readjustment going on that follows natural last. Labor saving machinery, so-called, has greatly increased the number of workers, who toil less arduously. Every valuable contribution to our industrial life works out for the good of the whole in the long run. The horse will ever remain the best servant of man in spite of new inventions.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Everybody Out Sunday.

Sunday was an ideal spring day, and the south wind was very welcome after a week's experience of an easterly wind. Many strangers were in town during he day and in the afternoon there was a constant stream of people passing through City Square on foot, and hundreds by the electric cars, let alone those on bicycles. Half hour cars were run on the Houghs Neck line and on many trips it was found necessary to run two cars. During the middle of day and until night it was necesary to double upon the Brockton line, and two cars were run on every trip. Extra cars were also run on the Hancock street line to Neponset and it was noticed that even then seats were at a premium. The railway officials looked sharply after the dispatching of cars from City Square, and when it was necesssary an extra car was run. The travel Sunday only goes to show what may be expected this summer, and the railway people will have their hands full with their single tracks, in keeping things moving smoothly.

A False Alarm.

The alarm from Box 172 at 12.35 o'clock Saturday night was a false alarm The department made a quick run to the box and on arriving there they found that not only was the alarm false but that the parties not content with a sounding the alarm had smashed the box to pieces, which necessitated the putting in of a new box.

Chief Williams says that while responding to the alarm he heard a disturbance by a drunken crowd on Water street and it was probably one of this crowd that pulled the alarm.

The smashing of a fire alarm box and the sounding of a false alarm is serious business, and should the party fall into the hands of the police and be found guilty, he would probably spend the summer months behind the stone walls of the county building at Dedham.

Conductor Thomas.

The funeral of Jared T. Thomas of Atlantic, who was killed by the cars at Braintree May 9, was held Sunday from his home on Atlantic street. Services were conducted by Rev. J. H. Whittaker, They were largely attended including many of his associates on the New Haven railroad. Among these were Division Superintendent James H. French, Roadmaster Emery H. Bryant, Yardmaster F. C. Tilton, and General Manager John C. Sanborn. The burial was at Lakeview cemetery South Weymouth. The bearers were Mr. J. W. Baker, Mr. Alfred De Young, Mr. B. F. Church and Mr. E. M. Davis. Music was furnished by a quartette composed of Miss Susie Hall, Miss Fannie Hayes, Mr. E. F. Hall and Mr. W. G. Gassett.

Funeral of Mrs. Williams.

The funeral of Mrs. Ruth, wife of Mr. William S. Williams, was held Sunday afternoon from her late residence on Pleasant street, and was very largely attended. Rev. Edwin N. Hardy of the Bethany church conducted the service and was assisted by Rev. Edward Norton. Miss Lottie Thatcher Baker of Brockton sang "Flee as a bird" and "There is a beautiful land on high," two favorite selections of Mrs. Williams. The interment was at Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

Saturday Night Raid.

Chief of Police Hayden accompanied by Inspector McKay and Officers Barry and Bradley waited upon John Moriarty, who resides on Grove street about 10 o'clock Saturday night, and after showing him their warrant for searching his premises for liquors they began their hunt. When they came away they had a half barrel of ale.

ORIGIN OF MASONRY.

It is Now Diffused Over the Whole Terrestrial Globe.

Next month Rural lodge of Masons of this city will have a two days' celebration of the centennial of its institution.

It is the purpose of the Daily Ledger in the meantime to give almost daily some reference to this popular fraternity:—its history, its origin, its advantages; its progress; its prominent members, etc. And especially incidents of 100 years ago, and also the history of Rural lodge.

A Freemasons Monitor published in 1812 says of the origin of Masonry: "From the commencement of the world we may trace the foundation of Mafonry.* Ever fince fymmetry began, and harmony displayed her claims, our order has had a being. During many ages, and in many different countries, it has flourifhed. In the dark periods of antiquity, when literature was in a low ftate, and the rude manners of our forefathers withheld from them that knowledge we now so amply fhare, Masonry diffufed its influence.

"Thif fcience unveiled, arts arofe, civilization took place, and the progrefs of knowledge and philofophy gradually difpelled the gloom of ignorance and barbarifm. Government being fettled, authority was given to laws, and the affemblies of the fraternity acquired the patronage of the great and good, while the tenets of the profeffion were attended with unbounded utility.

Mafonry is a fcience confined to no particular country, but diffufed over the whole terreftrial globe. Wherever arts flourifh, there it flourifhes too. Add to this, that by fecret and inviolable figns, carefully preferved among the fraternity throughout the world, Mafonry becomes a univerfal language.

"Hence many advantages are gained: the diftant Chinefe, the wild Arab, and the American favage, will embrace a brother Briton, "Franc" or German, and will know, that in humanity, there is ftill a ftronger obligation to induce him to kind and friendly offices.

"The fpirit of the fulminating prieft will be tamed; and a moral brother, though of a diff erent perfuafion, engage his efteem. Thus, through the influence of Mafonry, which is reconcilable to the beft policy, all those difputes, which embitter life, and four the tempers of men, are avoided: while the common good, the general defign of the craft, is zealoufly purfued.

From this view of the fyftem, its utility muft be fufficiently obvious. The univerfal principles of the art unite men of the moft oppofite tenets, of the moft diftant countries, and of the moft contradictory opinions, in one diffoluble bond of affection, fo that in every nation a Mason finds a friend, and in every climate a home."

*Mafonry and Geometry are fometimes ufed as fynonimous terms.

An article tomorrow will tell of the commencement of Masonry in America.

Braintree Octogenarian.

William C. Daniels, for fifty years a resident of Braintree, died Saturday evening in his 83d year. He was born in Boston, Feb. 14, 1819, and was three times married. He is survived by a widow, a son by his first wife, the Rev. E. D. Daniels of La Porte, Ind., and a daughter by the second wife, who is the wife of Conductor G. E. Bullard of the New Haven road.

For several years he was employed in shoe factories, putting boot marks on uppers. He was one of the founders of the Braintree Baptist church. He was among the first to discover the charms of Houghs Neck as a summer resort and has had a cottage there for many years. Some years ago he was a weekly correspondent of the Quincy Patriot from Braintree; he has also reported for the Braintree and Boston papers.

Quincy Man at Buffalo.

Mr. F. C. Chamberlain of Wollaston on his trip to the West, stopped over at Buffalo to visit the Pan-American exposition, and he writes an interesting half column letter to the Journal of Sioux City, Iowa, of the sights. He speaks particularly of the general artistic effect, the electrical effect, the South American exhibit, and the midway. My opinion," he says, "is that as a creation of art, and a production of beauty, the Buffalo fair is going to be the best any city has yet offered."

No Loss of Time

I have sold Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea, Remedy for years, and would rather be out of coffee and sugar than it. I sold five bottles of it yesterday to threshers that could go no farther, and they are at work again this morning.—H. R. PHELPS, Plymouth, Oklahoma. As will be seen by the above the threshers were able to keep on with their work without losing a single day's time. You should keep a bottle of this Remedy in your home. For sale by all druggists.

The diamond jubilee of the Congregational Home Missonary society will be celebrated in Tremont Temple, Boston, this week, with meetings on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

There will be no meeting of the City Council tonight, but there will be a meeting of the committee to arrange for the reception of President McKinley. This meeting will be held in the Council chamber.

Capt. Harry H. Sheen, formerly of Quincy, now in the Philippines, has been appointed by the President as first lieutenant in the regular army. Of late he has been acting as adjutant general on the staff of Gen. Summer, and is regarded as a brave young military officer.

May Festival at Atlantic.

The May festival given in Music hall, Atlantic, on Saturday afternoon was delightfully successful. The numerous cake-walks, and youthful ballets pleased the children, it being somewhat out of the usual run for any entertainment of the kind to be given in town. It was given from 2 to 6 and was in charge of Mrs. Roger H. Wilde, Mrs. James E. Curtin and Mrs. Elijah G. Hall. There was a large attendance.

TODAY'S COURT.

Frank P. Currey was arraigned for drunkenness at Weymouth. Case continued until next Saturday.

Warren C. Hersey paid $50 for violation of the liquor law at Weymouth.

Patrick F. Burns paid $5 for drunkenness at Weymouth.

To the Interested Bicycle Public.

My opening day statement and challenge was that I would easily be the leading bicycle dealer of Quincy this year. I expected to gain this end by selling the finest line of bicycles within my power to secure, at fair prices. Not to misrepresent or deceive my customers and friends. It is your friendship and trade I want and in return you can expect honest statements, honest treatment and perfect satisfaction from me. I am pleased with the jealousy my success has developed in my competitors. It simply means that I have bicycles and a policy of selling that is popular.

Give me a call and examine my line of wheels. I am not a mud slinger or sharp skate. I can deliver all bicycles at the prices asked. This is more than my competitors can do.

West Quincy Defeated by Boston Journal Nine.

Adams Academy Lose to Hopkinson.

Grammar School Games and Standing to Date.

The West Quincy's met defeat on the diamond Saturday afternoon at the hands of the Boston Journal nine by a score of 14 to 12. It was a hot game from start to finish and looked for a time as though it would be an overwhelming victory for the visitors. The West Quincy rallied in the ninth inning and brought their score up to 12. The features were the field work of McDermott, and the batting of Burke, Pinckey and Goode.

Thayer vs. Hopkinson.

Hopkinson again suffered defeat at the hands of Thayer academy, Saturday afternoon, on French's Common, South Braintree. The fielding of Hopkinson and batting of Thayer were snappy. Eight clean hits with a two-base hit by Kelley were made off Green. In the absence of Thayer's regular pitcher, Winslow was in the box. His pitching at times was exceedingly effective, at one time with the base full striking out two of Hoppy's best batters.

Winslow, Woodsum and Carr batted strongly during the whole game. The best fielding was done by Emerson and Leatherby, both making sensational plays. Thayer has improved greatly in batting in the past week and will doubtless put up a fine exhibition of base ball next Saturday, when they play Dean academy at Franklin.

The next games will be played Wednesday.

South Quincys Organize.

A largely attended meeting was held in the rooms of the South Quincy Social club recently for the purpose of organizing a base ball team to be known as the "South Quincys." J F. Pirvoano was elected captain, and A. C. Marnock, manager. The team is fortunate in securing the services of ex-New England league and ex-college players, and at the opening game May 30 expect to give a good exhibition of clean base ball. All games as far as possible will be arranged to be played on home grounds at South Quincy, and if supported well a strong team will be engaged for every Saturday afternoon and holidays throughout the season. Dates may be arranged by communicating with A.C. Marnock, 15 Penn street, Quincy, Mass.

A Club for Golf.

The Wollaston Club is this season well sustaining its reputation as one of the livest golfing organizations in the East, says the Herald. Primarily, secondarily and al through the numerical list, it is a club for golf, and there are few hours of daylight, whatever the weather may be, when its admirable course is not in use. The course, by the way, is in a capital condition for this season of the year, and it goes without saying that no effort will be spared to keep it up.

The team is going to Providence on Friday to play a return match with the team on the Agawam Hunt, and the woman's team is to meet on the home links Wednesday, the team of the Concord Club in the Women's Golf Association series. The qualifying round for the President's cup will be played on Saturday, and there is every indication of a big entry list.

A special feature this week will be a handicap stroked competition on Thursday, open to women members of the club and the players making the best four net scores will play off at handicap match play for a prize presented by Miss Molly B. Adams. The tournament committee announces that it wishes the largest possible entry for this event, and there is little doubt that the field will be a notable one, both for numbers and golfing ability.

Won by Mr. Albee.

At Medal play of the Meadow golf club, Saturday afternoon, only five scores were handed in, the winner being H. H. Albee.

Players	Gross	Handicap	Net
H. H. Albee,	96	8	88

Whooping Cough.

A woman who has had experience with this disease tells how to prevent any dangerous consequences from it. She says: Our three children took whooping cough last summer, our baby boy being only three months old, and owing to our giving them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, they lost none of their plumpness and came out in much better health than other children whose parents did not use this remedy. Our oldest little girl would call lustily for cough syrup between whoops.—JESSIE PINKEY HALL, Springville, Ala. This Remedy is for sale by all druggists.

THE COMEDIAN'S WORK

Overrepression and Bombast Well Contrasted.

VIEWS OF WALTER E. PERKINS.

The Famous Originator of the Titular Role of "My Friend From India" Writes Interestingly of the Stage—He Will Play "Jerome, a Poor Man."

Some say that acting is a matter of opinion. It sometimes seems to be, for how frequently we find directly opposing views regarding the merits of an actor's work, even of our greatest! But to reach any eminence I believe there must be a decided stratum of truth permeating his efforts, which must appeal to all the fair minded. In these days, when we strive for the natural, the stagy, bombastic methods in vogue only a few years back seem highly ridiculous and would be "guyed" unmercifully. Naturalness may be carried to excess. It often is in the conversational tones so low that a few rows back it is impossible to follow the story. This seems to be going to extremes, for articulation is the A B C of the art, and when an actor in his struggle to be natural hesitates, stammers and stutters, drowning all the points of the author, all his delicate passages and all his strong ones, in his monotonous, colorless delivery, how can he hope to be understood, and, if he is not understood, why speak? It is only an irritation, and yet some will say, "How natural he is!"

In strong contrast to this is the horseplay indulged in by many comedians. This evidently pleases a considerable class, while it is deplored by the thinking element. The temptation to do something ridiculous is very strong frequently when the slap stick order of work evokes the only sign of life in front, and I have seen an audience sitting in frost only warm up at a bit of byplay introduced on the spur of the moment. Lotta, the greatest favorite in her line, did not always have things her own way. When she found it next to impossible to "wake up," as it were, the audience, she would "break up" the actors, and this seldom failed to have the effect she wished on the house. After they were once started she "had" them.

I remember the opening night in New York of "My Friend From India." We were all extremely nervous, I particularly so, for I had struggled for three years to get the piece produced and much longer for the metropolitan opening many of us strive so hard to get. Point after point swiftly passed without the slightest recognition, except an occasional and isolated laugh which seemed in the frosty silence the effort of a sympathizing friend to encourage.

My mouth grew parched as the first act progressed, and it was with the utmost difficulty I could articulate. As the curtain fell my heart sank in the visions of failure and myself looking for an engagement and the morning papers!

As the second act went on I felt I was in for it, and all nervousness left me. The mirror scene caught them, and in the seven curtain calls a veritable triumph ensued. After that it was easy.

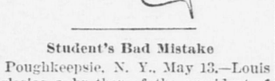

I have been asked if I ever had stage fright. I believe I have suffered more from it than the great majority. I never make a first entrance without being nervous, but the worst case I ever had was in Yonkers. I had played the part then two years. Many friends, among them the author and manager and a number of professionals, had come up from New York. The leading juvenile was trembling with fright before his entrance, and to encourage him I laughed at it. Later on, in our scene together, to show how foolish it all was and how perfectly easy he felt, he introduced a "gag" without giving the cue. Now, after playing a part for a long time the lines become so mechanical that a change of a word, which, like all accidents, generally comes when one is least prepared, is disconcerting. The thought flashed through my mind that the author would think I had given permission for new lines—a sore point with most of his guild—and rebel, but my lines were a perfect blank to me. He jumped in to rescue the scene, but the lines had no meaning to me. Three times I stuck, and, while I suffered tortures, I yet, underneath, enjoyed in a way his discomfiture and looks of apology. It was months before I recovered from that fright and only when I played at very short notice another part, prompting several around me. It is fatal to look ahead or think of the lines after a long run. If one won't think, they will "talk themselves," as I heard a popular actress say recently. Maude Adams told me of her trouble with the lines in "The Little Minister" just before the closing of her first year in the part, and W. H. Crane was obliged to restudy "The Senator" occasionally.

Last summer in the first performance of "The Man From Mexico" in Boston we played one scene twice. Two cues were almost identical. Suddenly it was borne in upon us that we had cut out the whole plot of the piece. I had taken the second cue first!

How to get back without giving it away was the question, but after much irrelevant meandering and what seemed ages we did get back, emphasizing new words and adding, "As I just told you," etc. It was jokingly said afterward that "when Mr. Perkins stuck he made an exit and left the others to fight it out."

In the dramatizations of books I can hardly recall one prominent character whose physical make up in the stage rendition tallied with the author's description or fulfilled the reader's ideal. Many have asked if I expect to "look the part" of Jerome, a poor man, when I do it in the early fall. It is hardly in my power to follow closely Miss Wilkins' "portrait in words," but many form their ideas from the engravings in the book, and this, with a certain quaintness of character which one cannot fail to perceive if he reads between the lines and which has been said to be apparent in my work, I am hoping may enable me to make him interesting and relieve the somberness of his story.

With the atmosphere of her delightful novel, the strong heart interest, her admirable characters and the absorbing story success seems assured. The chief trouble with most dramatizations lies in following the book too closely, thus frequently losing much in dramatic effect. The dramatist has tried to avoid this in "Jerome," while retaining all the salient points. One other of Miss Wilkins' stories has been dramatized recently, but has not yet been produced. Her greatest interest, however, is in "Jerome," which is her pet story and many declare a perfect idyl of New England life.

Student's Bad Mistake

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., May 13.—Louis Igleslas a brother of the president of Costa Rica, and who is a student at Eastman college in this city, put his head through a window at his boarding house, and received severe cuts on the forehead and neck, which required a number of stitches and will probably leave his face disfigured. He had been sick and was convalescent. He thought the window was open and went to look out.

The Largest Steamship Line

New York, May 13.—The Hamburg-American line has acquired the Atlas Steamship line, which for the past 30 years has plied between Jamaica, Hayti and Central America. The Atlas line was formerly owned by an English corporation, but under the Hamburg-American line will fly the German flag. This addition to its service makes the Hamburg-American line the largest in the world.

Acquitted.

Lieut. E. A. Bumpus of the 9th infantry, U. S. A., a Massachusetts man, was recently tried by court martial in China, together with some other officers for leaving camp and visiting the city of Tong Chow without permission. They were all acquitted, the acting commander having given permission.

Sciatic Rheumatism Cured After Fourteen Years of Suffering.

"I have been afflicted with sciatic rheumatism for fourteen years," says Josh Edgar, of Germantown, Cal. "I was able to be around but constantly suffered. I tried everything I could hear of and at last was told to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which I did and was immediately relieved and in a short time cured, and I am happy to say it has not since returned." Why not use this liniment and get well? It is for sale by all druggists.

Eastman Not Guilty of the Murder of Grogan

CHEERS GEEETED VERDICT

And a Scene of Jubilant Disorder Lasted For Some Minutes—Defendant Maintained His Self Control—Had No Statement to Make

Cambridge, Mass., May 13.—When Charles R. Eastman stood up in the court room Saturday night, and heard the verdict of the jury, "Not guilty," which wiped away the stigma of the indictment of having murdered his brother-in-law, Richard H. Grogan, Jr., it seemed as if the walls of the court room would give way before the rounds of cheers that greeted that decision.

The jury, after listening patiently for nearly three weeks to a tremendous mass of testimony, followed by two days of argument, debated for five hours and a half before reaching a verdict. The 12 men filed out of the court room at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, and returned at 9:30 at night, and, when the foreman, looking straight at Eastman, said in a clear voice, "Not guilty" there was a demonstration among the 150 spectators which the court officers were entirely unable to suppress for some minutes.

Gone was the ordinary decorum of the place. Men stood up and waved their hats; women danced up and down and waved their handkerchiefs, and all cheered. Let the sheriff pound for order! That spontaneous feeling which thrills every human breast in behalf of the "under dog" was bound to assert itself, and assert itself it did, regardless of all the paraphernalia of official authority.

The crowd seemed to be much more affected by the situation that the defendant himself, although it was apparent that only by a tremendous effort was he able to maintain his self-control. He simply bowed his thanks, and then, when the clerk had indicated that he was a free man, stepped from his cage, embraced his old father and sat down with him within the bar inclosure.

Throughout the court room there was laughter and tears, and, paradoxical as it may seem, they were both occasioned by the hysteria of extreme happiness. Even the jurors were moved to tears.

The young man's father, who has spared no expense in lawyers and experts to clear his son of the terrible charge, was the first to press his hand and to affectionately greet him as he stepped from the cage a free man. Eastman's attorneys were not far behind, and for some minutes the court room was a scene of jubilant disorder.

Finally quiet reigned and then Judge Gaskill closed the proceedings with a short speech to the jurors, in which he said the county had the highest appreciation of their services and of their intelligent attention during the trial.

Before the jury left their seats Eastman went over and shook hands with each one, and then passed out into a side room, where he was greeted by his relatives and friends. His wife and mother were very much affected by the verdict, as both have been in constant attendance through the entire proceedings and felt the strain severely.

Eastman, before he left, said that he did not care to make a statement at the present time. Before leaving for his home he went over to the house of correction where he has been kept since his indictment, last October, and thanked the officials and Sheriff Fairbairn.

None of the jurors would say anything of what took place during the five hours and a half of debate.

The day was probably one of the severest through which the Harvard instructor has passed since his arrest, for he was obliged to listen to a most scathing arraignment by the attorney general, and, after the judge's charge, to undergo the suspense until the jury's verdict was announced.

Reform Didn't Last Long

Omaha, May 13.—Omaha resumed its wide open conditions yesterday, Mayor Moore's blue law enforcement having been declared off. The saloons and gambling houses did their customary business. The weather was perfect and the beer gardens were crowded. Mayor Moore expressed his satisfaction with the resumption of a liberal policy.

On His Death Bed

New York, May 13.—James A. Herne the playwright, actor and manager, who is ill at his home in this city, has had a serious relapse, and it is believed he can live only a few days more. Mr. Herne was taken ill last February while playing in Illinois and Indiana with his "Sag Harbor" company.

Comet In Sight Again

Lima, Peru, May 13.—The comet which was first seen from South America about a fortnight ago, and which has been invisible from here for the last three nights, has reappeared. It apparently has two tails, one of which is now longer than when it was first seen.

Searching For Starbuck

Andover, Mass., May 13.—C. E. Starbuck, the Harverd student living here, is still missing. One hundred Phillips-Andover students searched the ponds, rivers and woods about here yesterday, with no satisfactory results.

Bomb Throwers at Work

London, May 13.—The Daily Mail publishes the following from Malta: A bomb was exploded at midnight against the residence of the archbishop, but no serious damage was done.

WILL AMALGAMATE

Textile Organization Will Have Three Hundred Thousand Members

Boston, May 13.—As a result of the textile workers' convention, which concluded its sessions here last night, 75,000 men and women employed in the textile industries of North America will be members of one great labor organization, to be known as the United Textile Workers of America. Representatives of the International Union of Textile Workers and the American Federation of Textile Operatives were present.

Both organizations decided to amalgamate and apply for a charter under the title named. After that is secured the Mule Spinners' union and the Loom Fixers' union will affiliate themselves with the organization, which will eventually mean a membership of 300,000 and an amicable understanding between the textile employes in the north and south.

In the past the employes in the south have been members of the International Textile Workers, while the northern operatives have been members of the American Federation of Textile Operatives, and for a long time a union has been sought by the officials of both.

Murder Charge Against Him

Clinton, Mass., May 13.—Frank G. Kelley of Akron, O., accompanied by Deputy Sheriff Arthur of the same city, arrived here yesterday with a requisition from the governor of Ohio for Joe Wade, who is wanted for the alleged murder of Joe Turner at Akron on Nov. 21, 1899. Officer Kelley said he had travelled over 5000 miles, through various states, in search of Wade, who was arrested here last week. The trio started for Akron at noon.

Jefferson-McDonald Nuptials

Buzzard's Bay, Mass., May 13.—At his father's summer residence, William W. Jefferson, son of Joseph Jefferson, the actor, was yesterday married to Miss Christine McDonald, also of theatrical as well as lyric fame. The wedding was a quiet one, only the immediate families and some 50 or more intimate friends being present. Rev. E. A. Horton of Boston performed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Jefferson left for Boston in a special car.

Loss of Life Narrowly Averted

Clinton, Mass., May 13.—A skip, loaded with boulders, tipped over in midair, about 150 feet above the flume, letting the water into the big excavation 100 feet below. A large quantity of machinery in the excavation was submerged, and the accident caused a total cessation of labor there. Had the skip tipped over directly over the flume, it would have been impossible for some of the 35 men at work there to escape.

Paugassett Strike Ended

Derby, Conn., May 13.—The textile workers employed at the Paugassett mills here, who have been on a strike for two weeks, have come to an agreement with the officials of the mill and returned to work today. The strikers were granted an advance in wages some time ago, but the company refused to reinstate them as a body. At a conference, however, it was decided to allow this point.

Sick Man Drowned Himself

Natick, Mass., May 13.—The body of Joseph Swartz, 50 years old, was found in the Charles river near Dover yesterday. The man's feet were tied with a handkerchief, and the evidence showed that death was due to suicide. Swartz left the almshouse, of which he was an inmate, the first of last week, after saying that he had a mind to do away with himself. He had been a sufferer from cancer.

Trouble In Lime Industry

Rockland, Me., May 13.—Last week a party of 23 French Canadians arrived in Rockland. On Saturday the most of them put in an appearance at the lime kilns at Rockport to work, and during the afternoon the old crew protested against the employment of the men from across the border and quit work.

Lewiston Is Dry

Lewiston, Me., May 13.—The rum war is still on in Lewiston, and as a result the city was pretty dry yesterday. The liquor traffic is now confined to the dives and other secret places in the city and pocket peddling has also been resorted to. No raids have been made by the police since Friday night.

Found In the Merrimac

Methuen, Mass., May 13.—The body of an unknown man was found floating in the Merrimack river yesterday. The body was badly decomposed. The man was about 35 years old, wore dark clothes and congress shoes. He had a small moustache and was about 5 feet 8 inches tall.

The Passenger May Die

Somerville, Mass., May 13.—A hack was struck by an electric car here yesterday and completely demolished. Frank Manning, the driver, and David Kelly, a passenger, were thrown to the ground, and it is feared that the latter will die.

Break In Strikers' Ranks

Portland, Me., May 13.—The Plumbers' union, which has been on a strike with the other building trades, voted to declare the strike off yesterday. The ment went to work this morning. The other trades declare that they will hold out.

Springfield Linemen Strike

Springfield, Mass., May 13.—The linemen employed by the New England Telephone and Telegraph company and the United Electric Light company went out on strike today to enforce their demands for shorter hours and more pay.

Crimson Downed by Blue

New Haven, May 13.—Yale defeated Harvard in an exciting series of track events, constituting the annual dual meeting between the universities. The contests were spirited throughout. The score was Yale, 57; Harvard, 47.

INHALED GAS FUMES

Despondent Woman Kills Herself and Two of Her Children

Providence, May 13.—Mrs. Bedinah Carlson, aged 29, and two children, Gustav A., aged 7, and Lillie, aged 2, were found dead from illuminating gas in a bedroom in their home on Stamford avenue yesterday. Mrs. Carlson's husband died last winter. Since then she had worked hard to support the family, but ill-health had recently forced her to idleness, and in a fit of despondency she arose, turned on three gas jets and lay down to die. Another daughter, Alm ,aa egdSotfiadbgtown's2aandryrzfiz Alma, aged 8, survives, having slept in another room. The family had lived in Providence about 10 years.

A Case of True Heroism

Indianapolis, May 13.—William Phelps and James Stansbury were cleaning the inside of an eight-foot upright boiler at the Cerealine mills yesterday when an employe turned on the steam, thinking the cock was tight. It leaked and the scalding steam poured in on the two men. The only exit was up a ladder to a manhole in the top. Both men jumped for the ladder. Phelps reached it first, took one step and stopped. He jumped aside and shouted: "You go first, Jim; you are married." Stansbury sprang up the ladder and escaped with slight burns about the face and legs. Though Phelps followed at his heels, his act of heroism cost him his life. By the time he had followed Stansbury up the ladder the flesh was dropping from his limbs. He was cooked alive, and with supreme efforts dragged his scalded body from the manhole. He lived for two hours in terrible agony, but did not let a groan escape him. "It was Jim's right to go first," said he, quietly.

Stabbed and Clubbed to Death

Bloomington, Ills., May 13.—Merritt Chism killed his wife at his farm, near Carter, yesterday. A quarrel arose as Mrs. Chism was starting for church in a buggy with her two little step-daughters. Chism jumped into the buggy and with a knife cut his wife's face and neck to pieces. He then threw her to the ground, jumped on the prostrate body and stabbed her repeatedly. Her son, Harvey, 12 years old, struck at Chism with a baseball bat, but the man wrested it from him and renewed his attack upon his wife, beating out her brains.' He again tried to stab the woman, when Harvey caught the hand which held the knife. This was drawn through his fingers, almost severing them. Chism stabbed the boy in the arm, and then fled across the fields. He was captured later.

Detroit Suburb Badly Scorched

Detroit, May 13.—Fire yesterday swept the west bank of the Rouge river in Delray, a suburb of Detroit, for three-quarters of a mile, and destroyed over $800,000 worth of property. The fire originated on the roof of a lumber mill.

Hunting For Murderer

Cumberland, Md., May 13.—W. J. Jones of Staunton, Va., was shot and killed by an unknown Italian on a street of Elkins, W. Va. The murderer is at large, but a party is out hunting him, and lynching is threatened.

Smallpox at Leominster

Leominster, Mass., May 13.—The fact that there have been at least four grown persons afflicted with smallpox mingling freely with the people of this town for a week or more has caused great excitement here.

Commercial League Against Us

Vienna May 13.—The Weiner Allgemeine Zeitung reviewing the recent report of combined European action against the United States in the industrial world, asserts that Germany and Austria are negotiating with a view to the formation of a European league to resist American competition.

Gotham's Finest Vaccinated

New York May 13.—In accordance with an order recently issued by Commissioner of Police Murphy that all members of the department within the district infected by smallpox should be vaccinated, health department physicians on Saturday night vaccinated about 1200 policemen.

Uncertainty of Lynch Law

Birmingham, Ala., May 13.—An unknown negro, supposed at the time to be James Brown, who was charged with assaulting a woman at Springville, was shot and killed by a crowd of white men near Leeds. The coroner expressed the opinion that the wrong man was killed.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflamation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars; free.

The Arcola Oil Company's stock sold for $135 per 1,00 shares, and in six months $1,000 per 1,000 shares was refused for the stock, for the reason that the first well was a large producer and there is room for forty wells on the Company's land, which makes it about certain that the stock in the near future will be worth ten dollars per share.

We offer you the same opportunity for a large gain by investing in the Dirigo Oil Company's stock, the first block of which is being sold for $150 per 1,000 shares. The Company owns a block of land adjoining the Arcola Company's land which has large producing wells on all four sides. There is eighty acres of the Company's land in the center of the oil belt, which we feel absolutely certain will give a large producing well in each acre.

We now have machinery on the ground, and are ready to sink the first well, and expect to strike oil by May 1st, which will then make the stock worth par value, if the well is as good a producer as the Arcola.

The block of stock we are selling is about three-quarters sold and quick application will have to be made to secure any of it at the present price.

HUMAN BONES

Reveal Awful Tragedy In a Maine Town

Family of Three Killed by Persons Unknown

Buildings Burned In Effort to Cover Traces of Crime

Shirley, Me., May 14.—The body of J. Wesley Allen, a prominent and prosperous farmer and member of the board of selectmen of this town, and those of his wife and 14-year-old daughter, were found lying among the smouldering embers of their home on the lonely stage road leading from Monson to Moosehead Lake.

The bodies were burned so badly that only the charred and crumbling remains of bones were left to show that human lives had been sacrificed, and there were evidences of murder at hand.

The only clue to the identity of the murderers is furnished by a man named Johnson, who reports that he had been held up early yesterday morning near Bunker Brook, a few miles from here, by four men, all of whom were intoxicated, and one of whom, at least, closely answers the description of one of the desperadoes who held up the Willimantic stage last week. These men are being searched for, and if apprehended will be held until their movements for the past few days are very fully investigated.

The greatest excitement prevails in this entire community; the stocks of arms and ammunition in the village stores have been depleted by farmers who fear a visit from the murderers, and all conversation centers about the Allen home.

The discovery that a tragedy had occurred was made by Charles Tibbetts, who, while driving down the stage road with his children to the village school, came upon the ruins of the Allen farmhouse. On looking about he saw what appeared to be the remains of a human body lying among the ruins of the barn. He then proceeded to where the house had stood, and among the debris saw pieces of charred bone. He hastened away to the nearest neighbor, three-quarters of a mile distant, and told of his discovery, and in a short time the news had spread to all sections of the town.

The remains found in the barn have been identified beyond doubt as those of Mr. Allen. The bodies found in the house were not near the sleeping apartments, and it is thus believed that the entire family were awake and not in their beds just before death came. About 25 feet from the spot where Mr. Allen's body was found, on the ground outside the barn, there were two large pools of blood, about a foot apart, and in one of these was found a quantity of gray hair the color of Mr. Allen's hair and beard.

It appears that the house and barn were burned separately, as a large pile of cut wood, which stands just to the north of the house, and between the house and barn, was not even scorched.

The Allen farmhouse was an ordinary story and a half wooden building, with an ell adjoining. It was of rather ancient style, and stood within a few feet of the road. Just west of the ell was a large carriage house, and the barn, a large and commodious building, was six rods from the house. The farm consists of about 100 acres of fertile, well-cultivated land. On this farm Mr. Allen and his wife had made their home for nearly 40 years. Mr. Allen was known as a prosperous, but very conservative man, and those who knew him best say he never kept any large sum of money in the house.

One of the neighbors expressed the belief that if the fire had not destroyed the bodies of Mrs. Allen and her daughter a motive for the crime might have been found. When found the remains of one of the women was lying in what had been the sitting room, and the other was in the ell. All now lie in the same positions as when first found, and will not be removed until the county officials have visited the scene.

What time the tragedy occurred is not known to a certainty. A neighbor says he saw a reflection as of fire in the direction of the Allen house about 9 o'clock Sunday night. He thought nothing more about the matter at the time, and it did not occur to him again until the news of the death of his neighbors came to him.

STONES AND CURSES

Greeted Non-Union Street Railway Men Upon Their Arrival at Albany

Albany, May 14.—Under the escort of a platoon of mounted police and surrounded by a mob of 2000 Albanians, 200 non-union men were taken at mid night to the main station of the Albany city lines of the United Traction company. All the way stones and curses were hurled at the non-union men. This is the first step taken by the company to operate its lines with non-union men. The officials of the company announce that traffic will be resumed today.

The non-union men arrived on the West Shore railroad, it is said, from Philadelphia, and were met at the station by a platoon of mounted police and two patrol wagons full of policemen. The men were loaded on trucks and, amid a scene seldom witnessed in any city, were taken to the car barns and housed for the night.

The company has made every preparation to resume the operation of the road today. The directors of the company remained in session all afternoon awaiting a reply from the strikers to a proposition made at a conference yesterday morning. The strikers of the three cities unanimously agreed not to accept the proposition.

At 6 o'clock the directors gave orders to the officers of the roads to operate them today. Notices were sent to the sheriffs of Albany and Rensselaer counties and the mayors and chiefs of police of Albany, Troy, Watervliet, Cohoes and Rensselaer of the intention to operate together with requests for police protection. Forty-five inspectors of the company were sworn in as deputy sheriffs.

A crowd of several thousand people are in the vicinity of the car barns where the non-union men are housed but the barns are protected by large forces of police.

In Need of Assistance

Jacksonville, Fla., May 14.—The Jacksonville relief committee yesterday issued an address to the people of the United States. The committee acknowledges its inability to cope fully with the situation and says: "It will take a very large amount of money at the smallest estimate to care for the actual needs of the people, and put the city in proper condition. Our duty compels us to call upon the generous and always ready people of this country for assistance in this, our hour of need."

Mending a Broken Back

Middletown, N. Y., May 14.—William Terwilliger, who is in Thrall hospital here suffering with a broken back, will probably recover. The physicians have reduced the dislocation and the paralysis in the limbs is disappearing. The case is regarded as remarkable.

Smashers Are Fined

Topeka, Kan., May 14.—Mrs. Rose Crist, Mrs. Chadwick, Miss Madeline Southard and C. R. McDowell pleaded guilty yesterday of leading a raid on a billiard hall with Mrs. Nation in March. They were fined $10 each.

Twenty-Sixth Mustered Out

San Francisco, May 14.—The Twenty-sixth infantry, United States volunteers, was mustered out at the presidio yesterday.

PROGRAM IS CURTAILED

President Desires to Remain at Wife's Bedside

A GRAND ROSE CARNIVAL

Favored by a Brief Visit From the Chief Magistrate—Ladies of San Jose Had a Bouquet Ninety Feet In Circumference For Mrs. M'Kinley

San Francisco, May 14.—President McKinley returned late yesterday afternoon from San Jose to the bedside of his wife at the Scott residence. If Mrs. McKinley's condition shall be favorable today the president will carry out the arranged program with some curtailment. He will visit the Leland Stanford, Jr., university, at Palo Alto, and make brief stops at San Mateo and Burlingame. At Palo Alto he will be joined by his entire party, and the president's official entry into this city will take place this afternoon, in accordance with the previously arranged schedule.

Secretary Cortelyou says Mrs. McKinley rested well and comfortably yesterday.

San Jose, May 14.—Thousands of people between Delomont and San Jose, who have been anticipating a sight of the president for months, were disappointed yesterday. The president's presence in San Jose for an hour in the afternoon took the edge off of the disappointment here, where the rose carnival was being held in his honor, and where the floral display surpassed anything ever before seen in this part of the country.

Many expressions of kind sympathy for Mrs. McKinley were heard at each stopping place. At Santa Cruz Secretary Hay was the representative of the president to the address of welcome made by the mayor.

The president's presence here barely saved the day. He ran down from San Francisco in his special car, arriving here just as the cabinet train pulled into the city from the south. But he remained only for the formal exercises. When they were concluded he was driven back to the station and left immediately for San Francisco. At St. James square a handsomely decorated stand had been erected and here the formal exercises took place. The president responded to the mayor's address of welcome.

Immediately in the rear of the stand was a big bouquet 90 feet in circumference and stood in its frame 25 feet high. The stem was a telegraph pole, sunk in the ground. It was composed of cut flowers of every variety that blooms. The idea of presenting this immense floral offering to Mrs. McKinley originated with the ladies of San Jose, and the presentation was made to the president by Mrs. L. O. Smith, who expressed tender words or regret for Mrs. McKiley's illness and hopes for her quick recovery.

A big reception had been planned for the president at the Vendome hotel last night. The members of the cabinet and the ladies of the party all attended this function.

Boy Swindler Held

Portland, Me., May 14.—Frank Willey, the Salem, Mass., boy, who was arrested here Saturday on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses, was about to be released yesterday, as the charges against him had been withdrawn, it being the intention of the ministers he had victimized not to press the charges against him. Before he had been set free, however, it was found that he stole a silver watch belonging to Rev. Mr. Parker of Standish. Young Willey has not been released, and will now be put before the court and the charges against him will not be withdrawn.

A Decided Novelty

Toronto, May 14.—The yacht Canadian, being built at Hamilton for the trial races for the Canada's cup challenger, might be called a scow only she has sharp ends, a deep keel and a concave bottom, instead of a little dead rise. Her sides slope downward for about four feet and then, curving upward, run in toward her fin. Forward and aft of the fin the boat's bottom is nearly flat, being a trifle hollowed. She will be rigged as a jib and mainsail sloop.

Foster Gets Bail at Last

Boston, May 14.—George M. Foster, former cashier of the South Danvers National bank of Peabody, was released on bail yesterday afternoon, sureties to the amount of $25,000 being furnished. Foster was arrested Feb. 8, and has been in jail since that time, being unable until yesterday to provide bail. He shows no traces of his confinement.

Tried to Crack His Skull

Nashua, N. H., May 14.—Eli Jodoin, confined in the local jail on the charge of being a common seller, keeping his place of business open on Sunday and keeping a disorderly house, attempted to commit suicide yesterday by hitting his head against the brick wall of his cell. He was seriously injured, but it is believed he will recover.

Big Job For Russia

Berlin, May 14.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Lokal Anzeiger says: The revolutionary movement among the laboring classes of Russia is spreading. There have been 400 arrests of operatives during the last few days, and a number of editors, as well as women have been arrested.

A WORD OF EXPLANATION

To our many customers who were unable to get waited upon at our GREAT BANKRUPT SALE on Saturday. We will simply state that we are here to stay, and shall continue to give the people of Quincy and vicinity reliable goods at half price, and would be glad to give them more room to buy in, but the Quincy Real Estate Trust refuse to let us the vacant store next door, giving as a reason, that the other dealers found so much fault with our low prices.

We only ask the patience of our many customers, and state that we shall display our large stocks as they arrive.

Plans are on foot to give us in the near future plenty of room to accommodate all.

A Legitimate Investment

Which Increased Over 700 per cent.
WITHIN SIX MONTHS.

The Arcola Oil Company's stock sold for $135 per 1,000 shares, and in six months $1,000 per 1,000 shares was refused for the stock, for the reason that the first well was a large producer and there is room for forty wells on the Company's land, which makes it about certain that the stock in the near future will be worth ten dollars per share.

We offer you the same opportunity for a large gain by investing in the Dirigo Oil Company's stock, the first block of which is being sold for $150 per 1,000 shares. The Company owns a block of land adjoining the Arcola Company's land which has large producing wells on all four sides. There is eighty acres of the Company's land in the center of the oil belt, which we feel absolutely certain will give a large producing well in each acre.

We now have machinery on the ground, and are ready to sink the first well, and expect to strike oil by June 1st, which will then make the stock worth par value, if the well is as good a producer as the Arcola.

The block of stock we are selling is about three-quarters sold and quick application will have to be made to secure any of it at the present price.

RECEPTION.

Mrs. Livermore and Mrs. Howe at Wollaston.

A delightful reception was given at the Quincy Mansion School Monday afternoon by Mrs. Horace Mann Willard. The special guests were Mrs. Mary A. Livermore and Mrs. Julia Ward Howe, Mayor John O. Hall and Mrs. Hall. The reception was attended by many prominent people from surrounding towns including a number of Wellesley college students, among whom were Miss Annie Windsor of Fairhaven and Miss Florence Thurlow of Newburyport, former pupils of the Quincy Mansion school.

The reception was held in the spacious parlors which were handsomely decorated with exquisite roses and cut flowers. Mrs. Livermore and Mrs. Howe sat on a raised platform which was a veritable floral bower.

Miss Helen Spaulding of Haverhill, a member of the senior class, made the address of welcome. Mrs. Livermore spoke on "The higher education of women" and Mrs. Howe on "Women I have known." A lunch was served after the address.

Mayor Hall, who presided stated that the meeting was called to consider a program of entertainment. He said Secretary Long expected to have the Presidential party as guests July 2—6. The present plans were to visit Plymouth, Marshfield and Duxbury July 3; to be in Hingham on the Fourth of July, and to devote part of July 5 for visiting Quincy.

The present plan was to come to Quincy from Hingham by private car, embarking either at Quincy or Quincy Adams. It was the special request that there be no noisy demonstration. The news of the day, of the illness of Mrs. McKinley, might cause changes or a postponement of the visit to New England. However we were assembled to hear suggestions as to entertainment.

It has been proposed that the Presidential party visit the birthplaces of President John Adams and President John Quincy Adams, also their burial place beneath the First church, Charles Francis Adams desired to entertain the party at the old Adams mansion on Adams street, and a visit to the enterprising works of the Fore River ship plant was suggested. It was also proposed to mass the school children.

Henry H. Faxon endorsed the program as outlined and thought it complete.

Mrs. Titus, the regent of Adams chapter, said the Daughters of the Revolution would be pleased to entertain the President at the birthplace of President John Adams. Personally she hoped the Presidential party would visit Squantum, and enjoy a shore dinner.

Chairman Porter of the School Committee favored the appointment of a committee by the Mayor with full powers. Relative to massing the school children, the visit would [illegible]ring vacation, but he thought [illegible]uld be no difficulties. Arrangements should be made to open the Adams vault beneath the Temple, which he believed had not been opened since the visit of Senator Hoar several years ago. We should invite the cooperation of Charles Francis Adams. Perhaps a visit to Merrymount, where Mortin held high revel, might be included, but if time was limited he would not try to show too much. He thought it would be better if the President came over the road from Hingham, rather than by railroad and that he be met at the Quincy Point bridge.

Mayor Hall thought the arrangements should be largely in the hands of the City Council committee, but entertained a motion for the appointment of a committee by the Mayor to cooperate with the Council Committee, which prevailed.

Brooks Adams, Esq., thought the plan as outlined by the Mayor might require five to six hours or from 12 M. to 6 P. M.

Henry H. Faxon wanted to hear from Mr. Thomas A. Watson, President of the Fore River Ship Company, which is building the cruiser Des Moines, and the battleships Rhode Island and New Jersey.

Mr. Watson said the program which included a visit to the ship yard was especially satisfactory to the company. We would feel honored to have the President and Secretary of the Navy visit our works and would try to make it interesting. In reply to a question as to how long a time might be necessary to make a satisfactory visit, he said from one to four hours perhaps one hour would be sufficient. Mr. Watson said he could not imagine any city where the President would find so many interesting things.

President Bryant of the City Council thought plans would depend largely on the time the President would be in the city.

F. F. Green was against receptions and handshaking. He would show him as much of the city as possible and leave the Fore River plant until the last.

Mayor Hall said he would announce a committee at a later date, and the meeting adjourned.

☞ Billiousness is a condition characterized by a disturbance of the digestive organs. The stomach is debilitated, the liver torpid, the bowels constipated. There is a loathing of food, pains in the bowels, dizziness, coated tongue and vomiting, first of the undigested or partly digested food and then of bile. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets allay the disturbances of the stomach and create a healthy appetite. They also tone up the liver to a healthy action and regulate the bowels. Try them and you are certain to be much pleased with the result. For sale by all druggists.

To the Interested Bicycle Public.

My opening day statement and challenge was that I would easily be the leading bicycle ealer of Quincy this year. I expected to gain this end by selling the finest line of bicycles within my power to secure, at fair prices. Not to misrepresent or deceive my customers and friends. It is your friendship and trade I want and in return you can expect honest statements, honest treatment and perfect satisfaction from me. I am pleased with the jealousy my success has developed in my competitors. It simply means that I have bicycles and a policy of selling that is popular.

Give me a call and examine my line of wheels. I am not a mud slinger or sharp skate. I can deliver all bicycles at the prices asked. This is more than my competitors can do.

Cheap Bicycles

Are like cheap furniture. It cost more to keep them in repair than the original cost of the bicycle.

When you ride a high grade bicycle you can feel sure that any part of your wheel will not break, and throw you and probably result in fatal injuries.

We make a specialty of High Grade Wheels and do not handle jobber's wheels which are listed high but are cheap constructed wheels.

We prefer selling high grade wheels cheap rather than cheap wheels.

TODAY'S COURT.

The continued cases of Frank P. Johnson, Michael J. Slamonon and Patrick H. Herney for violation of the Sunday law at Weymouth was called. Johnson and Herney were fined $5 each, and Slamonon case was placed on file.

William St. Piere was fined $5 for disturbing the peace at Quincy. Appealed.

No Loss of Time

I have sold Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea, Remedy for years, and would rather be out of coffee and sugar than it. I sold five bottles of it yesterday to threshers that could go no farther, and they are at work again this morning.—H. R. PHELPS, Plymouth, Oklahoma. As will be seen by the above the threshers were able to keep on with their work without losing a single day's time. You should keep a bottle of this Remedy in your home. For sale by all druggists.

THE OLD RIVALS.

Adams Academy Again Defeats the High School.

The Adams Academy nine defeated the Quincy High school in an extremely interesting game at the Park yesterday afternoon.

The score was much smaller than that of the first game between the two schools. A number of changes had been made in the High school nine which were decidedly improvements. It was evident from the very first that the result of the contest would be quite different from the enormous score which the Academy made in the game of April 27.

There were several slightly unpleasant delays during the game, owing to decisions made by the High school umpire in favor of his own side. One of these decisions at home plate deprived the Academy nine of a fairly earned run, and another, at first base gave the High school runner his base and enabled him to make a run, although the player was fairly put out, as the captain of the High school nine himself admitted. The difficulties were finally, settled peaceably although a score of 10 to 20 would be more nearly correct than the actual score of 9 to 3.

The pitchers of both nines played very good ball. Only one hit was made off Doble's pitching and Lewis struck out six men. Lewis gave six bases on balls, while Doble had none. For the High school, Hayward, Hardwick, and Nichols played the best fielding game while Lewis made the only clean hit for his side.

The game was won by the superior batting and the excellent fielding of the Academy nine. Eleven hits were made, two of them being two-baggers.

For seven innings the fielding was almost perfect, and the only really costly error were Nickersons two wild throw in the eighth innings. Anderson's playing at short stops, Reardon's perfect catching and the admirable playing of Thomas at first base caused much favorable comment among the spectators, and the four flys which went to the out-fielder all captured by Boyd and Tate without an error. The only double play was made by Nickerson and Thomas at a very exciting part of the game.

Considerable improvement has been made in base running and coaching, and the supporters of the Academy nine feel much encouraged for the game tomorrow with the nine from Ballou and Hobigand's school. This nine is a very strong one and it has defeated many of the more important school nines about Boston. On Saturday the Academy nine will play the Milton High school at the Park.

Below is the score of yesterday's game in full:

King's Daughters' Sale.

The Distributing Ten of Unity Circle, King's Daughters, held an entertainment and sale of home made candy and lemonade, Monday evening at the residence of Mrs. G. B. Bates on Dimmock street, and a very successful affair it was. The attendance was very large and the candy was quickly disposed of, and much more could have been sold could it have been had. The program provided was a pleasing one, and consisted of piano solos by Blanche Cowen and Mila Bates; piano duet by Misses Cowen and Bates; songs by Miss Clapp, Miss Drew, and Miss Sherman, the later with violin obligato; readings by Blanche Lowell; cake walk by Dora Hunt and Josie Hawley, and a costume song by Mildred French.

BICYCLE DEALERS.

Get into a Dispute and One is Fined in Court.

William St. Pierre and John H. Gillis, two rival bicycle dealers, were in court this morning the former upon the complaint of the latter for disturbing the peace. An ice man and a bicycle were the main features of the affair. Last Wednesday was the day and Water street was the place.

The trouble as near as could be gathered from the testimony was over a certain wheel that St. Pierre wanted to sell the ice man, said wheel being the same as advertised by Gillis and as claimed by St. Pierre at below cost. St. Pierre wanted Gillis to sell him a wheel for that price which was agreed to, but a difference of opinion arose over the form of receipt. This led to loud and strong words, and according to the testimony one used as strong language as the other. It is said that Gillis then counted $100 out of his roll and placed it in one of the witnesses hand, St. Pierre pulled out his roll, but could not make out but $75.

The idea was as the witness understood it, that the two was going to see who was the best man under Marquis or Queensbury or some other rules. As St. Pierre could not cover, this was declared off. Gillis then swore out a warrant against St. Pierre for disturbing the peace, and the court said $5 would settle the account.

An appeal was taken.

St. Pierre then tried to get a warrant against Gillis for disturbing the peace, but was refused. When the parties got into the street St. Pierre took revenge by kicking Gillis.

GRIEVOUS RETROSPECT

But Salisbury Says the War Has a Bright Side

SHOWS NATION'S STRENGTH

And Will Serve as a Warning to Other Powers—South African Experience Has Shown Danger of Letting Ireland Have a Measure of Independence

London, May 14.—Speaking at the banquet of the Non-Conformist Unionist association last evening, the Marquis of Salisbury said:

"It is a sad retrospect when we think of the number of young lives that have been quenched, the splendid hopes cut short and the amount of blood shed in the war in South Africa. It is a grievous retrospect. Yet, from it, any suggestion of wrong on the part of the empire is absolutely absent. Indeed, there are circumstances which can make every lover of his country look back with exultation and gratitude upon the two years just passed.

"These circumstances have been able to show that the spirit of our countrymen has burned as bright as at any other period in our history.

"When I was at the foreign office, I used to hear not infrequently that our time had passed, that our star had set and that we were living on the valor of those who had gone before. The war in South Africa has shown the strength of England, which was never more conclusively shown. There is no power in the world but now knows that, if it defied the might of England, it would defy one of the most formidable enemies it could encounter."

Subsequently, the premier said: "If home rule had passed in 1893, what would England's position, with a hostile Irish government in Dublin, have been today? What would our position have been if we not only had to meet the Transvaal and the Orange Free State, but also an equally hostile Ireland by our side? We know now from our South African experience the danger of letting Ireland have a measure of independence. We known now that, if we allowed those who are leading Irish politics unlimited power of making preparations against us, we should have to begin by conquering Ireland, if we had to fight any other power."

Looks Like Case of Smuggling

Buffalo, May 14.—The exhibit of Porto Rico, which arrived at the Pan-American exposition grounds yesterday, has been seized by Collector of Customs Brendel. The material was brought from Porto Rico on an army transport and was unloaded in the navy yard at Brooklyn, thus escaping inspection at any customs office. All the exhibit buildings at the Pan-American grounds are practically bonded warehouses. The deputy inspectors discovered that no warehouse entry had been made for the Porto Rican goods, and the material, including two cars which were being loaded for reshipment to eastern points, were seized. The goods will be held pending an investigation.

Struck by Live Wire

Buffalo, May 14.—One man was shocked to death by electricity and two of his companions, who tried to rescue him, were severely burned at the Pan-American exposition grounds yesterday. The men are all Poles and were engaged in wheeling dirt. Martin Kliefig was first struck by a live wire. The shock stunned him, and, in falling forward, he grasped several other wires. Kliefig's comrades rushed to his assistance, and their hands and arms were frightfully burned in their endeavor to release him. Kliefig is dead, and the condition of the other men is serious.

A Possible Identification

Nashua, N. H., May 14.—The body found at Methuen, Mass., is believed to be that of Frank Hawlen. Sometime last week Will C. Hoyt of Merrimac, Mass., found a bottle partly filled with whisky and containing a paper on which was written Hawlen's name and these words: "I am willing to die. I leave seven children to ——." The rest could not be made out.

Said to Have Plotted Wife's Death

Philadelphia, May 14.—Dr. Thomas E. Eldridge, who is accused by the police authorities of having conceived a plot to drug his wife with morphine or blow her up with dynamite, in order to secure two letters which are in her possession, was yesterday held in $1500 bail for court. The doctor and his wife have been separated for some time, and a divorce suit is pending.

Swindled Insurance Company

Jersey City, May 14.—Judge Blair yesterday disposed of the Colonial Life Insurance fraud cases by sentencing Undertaker Necker to pay a $300 fine, and Thomas J. Kelly and Dr. Jahr to pay a fine of $300 each, and serve three months each in the county jail. It was charged that Necker was the beneficiary, Kelly the agent, and Jahr the examining doctor.

Aspires to Be a Crook

New York, May 14.—The Mount Vernon police have captured Frank Weiss, the 16-year-old roving burglar, who admits operating in Pelham and in this city. He travelled on horseback and carried a belt around his waist supporting two 38-calibre revolvers and a bowie knife. Weiss has been a great reader of dime novels.

Practically Prohibitive Duty

Washington, May 14.—Minister Hart at Bogota has notified the state department that the government of Colombia has placed an export duty of $20 per head on cattle, of which Cuba is a large buyer.

HIT WITH CART STAKE

Row Which May Result In Death of a Man at Waterville, Me

Waterville, Me., May 14.—As the result of a drunken row late yesterday afternoon Charles Roderick is lying in a condition that may result fatally Roderick and his brother Edward had been drinking alcoholic stimulants with Frank Ronco in a grove when the mother-in-law of Ronco appeared. A quarrel ensued between the woman and Charles Roderick, the latter tearing some hair from the woman's head. The woman's cries brought Frank Ronco's wife to her assistance, and the relief party was armed with a cart stake With this weapon, it is alleged, Mrs Frank Ronco struck Roderick two hard blows on the head. The wounded man was taken to the police station, and later removed to his home. The other two men were arrested late last evening Roderick's injuries are considered dangerous.

Supposed Victim of Faith Cure

Worcester, Mass., May 14.—The police yesterday discovered a pitiable case of a woman almost starved to death by faith curists in this city. Mrs. Ethel E. Hammill five weeks ago gave birth to a child. She was compelled to go to the city hospital afterward, suffering from consumption of the bowels and diarrhoea. She was persuaded to enter the "Lord's Home," conducted by Misses Bacon and Prouty. She remained at this home for three weeks, without medicine or, as she claims, proper food. She was reduced to a skeleton when she wrote to a friend. An investigation followed. The woman will be removed from the home today, and taken to the city hospital. It is feared that she will die.

Rich Man an Alleged Burglar

Waltham, Mass., May 14.—The mystery of the Waltham burglaries, those midnight visits of the wedding present thief, has been cleared up, the local police believe. Horace A. Cheney, a man of wealth and fashion, bridegroom of six months, scion of a respected and prominent family, is in a cell charged with the series of breaks. Evidence in the shape of silverware, golden bric-a-brac and costly glassware, found in pawnshops and in Cheney's room, fastened the crime upon the young man, the local police say. Watertown, where the young man has been living in splendor, with his bride, was the scene of the arrest.

Machinists Encouraged

Boston, May 14.—Encouraging reports have been received by the local officials of the Machinists' union in this city from every section of the state, relative to the universal move by machinists for a nine-hour work day, without a reduction in wages, which is to be inaugurated on May 20. Over 1500 machinists joined the Boston lodge last week, and it is estimated that at least 1000 more will be initiated this week, as the union will hold a meeting every night.

Believed In Christian Science

Providence, May 14.—The death of Adelaide C. Gale, for 20 years assistant librarian of the public library, was reported to the medical examiner yesterday, the death certificate being unsigned. It developed that the woman had died of cancer of the breast, and for the past seven months had been under the care of Christian Science healers. The medical examiner will look into the circumstances.

Held on Assault Charge

Thomaston, Me., May 14.—George A. Wellman, charged with assault upon Miss Isabella Burkett, denied the allegations in court yesterday, and contended that the prosecution follows an effort by Miss Burkett to induce him to pay her a sum of money to keep silent, which threat proved of no avail. The court ordered Wellman to furnish $300 bail for his presence before the supreme court.

Bay State Legislature

Boston, May 14.—The principal action in the senate yesterday was the killing of the so-called traders' bill, a measure prohibiting large corporations and combinations from restricting small dealers in the sale of goods. The measure aimed particularly at large tobacco companies, which, it is claimed, have compelled dealers to refuse to trade with smaller manufacturers.

Relatives Fear Foul Play

Torrington, Conn., May 14.—The body of John Palmer, aged 50, was found in the Naugatuck river here yesterday. Two bruises on his head aroused suspicion of foul play, but an autopsy resulted in a verdict of accidental death. The relatives of the dead man are not satisfied, and, at their request, an investigation is still going on.

Enforcing Prohibitory Law

Lewiston, Me., May 14.—There were 10 raids made by Sheriff Huskings' deputies yesterday in Lewiston, but only one was successful, and at that place only a small amount of stuff was found. Late last night everything was dry. Several of the runsellers have temporarily discontinued business.

The Springfield Strike

Springfield, Mass., May 14.—At a meeting of the Linemen's union last evening a committee reported that all linemen in the western division were out and would remain so until their demands were complied with.

Seventy-Eight In Quarantine

New Bedford, Mass., May 14.—A case of smallpox has been discovered on the schooner David A. Story, from Brava, Cape Verde islands, and the vessel has been quarantined for 14 days. She has 78 persons on board.

Worcester Linemen Go Out

Worcester, Mass., May 14.—Members of the Worcester branch of the Linemen's union quit work last night. They intend to stay out until the magnates agree to their demands.

SHE NEEDS TINKERING

Yachting Sharps Disappointed at Poor Performance of Shamrock II

Weymouth, May 14.—Those on board the new cup challenger yesterday in her first set race with Shamrock I are greatly disappointed over the result, as Shamrock I beat Shamrock II by five minutes over a 20-mile course.

There is no doubt the result of the trial yesterday was distinctly disappointing to those who had pinned their faith to the new challenger, especially as Shamrock I on the previous spins had not shown even equality with the new racer on any point of sailing, with the exception of running.

Watson considers the result so unsatisfactory that he has decided off hand to take the new boat back to Southampton and to have her docked in order to ascertain whether any of the plates were displaced by the grounding on Dean bank last week. Opportunity will be taken to have her new gaff and mainsail fitted. The work will proceed night and day until it is finished, and the trials will then be resumed at Weymouth.

The Daily Chronicle says: "Unless Sir Thomas Lipton is purposely hiding her real form, there appears to be no chance of winning the cup. If yesterday's form was genuine, we presume the Shamrock I will be chosen to cross the Atlantic, and, as the races have been fixed for a date earlier in the year than last time, she may stand a better chance in the stronger winds."

Amendment Still Hangs Fire

Havana, May 14.—The Cuban constitutional convention met yesterday in secret session, and formally considered the report of the commission that went to Washington to obtain more definite information regarding the intentions of the United States government. After considerable debate a motion by Senor Gomez that the report be referred to the committee on relations, whose last report has still to be acted upon, was carried. Senor Gomez admitted that the commission's visit to Washington had thrown new light upon the amendment, but he thought it only just that the committee should be allowed an opportunity to change the report in order to conform to the new conditions. Several days will probably elapse before the amended report is submitted to the convention.

Murder Over a Trifle

New York, May 14.—John Boush yesterday shot and instantly killed Arthur Schwinz at Roslyn, L. I., and 100 men are searching for Boush, who fled after committing what is termed to be a murder. Schwinz turned his horse out to graze. It strayed on to land occupied by Boush, who came out and remonstrated. Schwinz led the horse away, after telling Boush he should keep his fence repaired. This angered Boush, for he secured a shotgun and following Schwinz down the road, emptied both barrels into him, killing him on the spot.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Captain Hemphill has been detached from duty with the board of inspection and survey at Washington, and ordered to command the coast defense ship Monterey on the Asiatic station.

At a regular May meeting of the New York Presbytery a resolution was passed requesting the managers of the Pan-American exposition to close its doors on the Sabbath.

A man who was walking on the railroad tracks near Deerfield, Mass., was killed by a train. The appearance of the man was that of a wayfarer.

John Donovan, 28 years old, was fatally injured while unloading logs at a Boston mill.

Miss Jane W. Hoyett, a teacher of more than state prominence during her active life, died at her home at Farmington, Me., aged 70.

Bowdoin B. Crowninshield, the designer of the Lawson cup defender Independence, was married at Boston to Miss Emma Brown of that city. The wedding was a very quiet one.

Whooping Cough.

A woman who has had experience with this disease tells how to prevent any dangerous consequences from it. She says: Our three children took whooping cough last summer, our baby boy being only three months old, and owing to our giving them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, they lost none of their plumpness and came out in much better health than other children whose parents did not use this remedy. Our oldest little girl would call lustily for cough syrup between whoops.—JESSIE PINKEY HALL, Springville, Ala. This Remedy is for sale by all druggists.

Suicide on Ferry Boat

New York, May 14.—On the ferryboat Southfield, while on her trip from New York to St. George, S. I., yesterday, an unknown man, about 45, paced up and down the deck, and then suddenly slashed his right wrist with a knife and inflicted deep wounds on either side of his throat. He then jumped overboard. The boat was stopped and the crew rescued the man, but he died before the boat reached St. George.

Wife Did Not Heed Warning

New York, May 14.—Adam Music, who has been parted from his wife for a year, went to the flat where she lived last night and shot her in three places. He had told her he was going to kill her, but she paid no attention to the threat. He is under arrest, and she is probably dying.

AEREMEDY FOR THE GRIPPE.

A remedy recommended for patients afflicted with the Grippe is KEMP'S BALSAM, which is especially adapted for the throat and lungs. Don't wait for the first symptoms of the disease! get a bottle today and keep it for use the moment it is needed. If neglected the grippe has a tendency to bring on pneumonia. KEMP'S BALSAM prevents this by keeping the cough loose, lungs free from inflammation. All druggists sell KEMP'S BALSAM at 25c. and 50c.

The Truth

Is told by most people. If it were not, the whole commercial and social fabric would fall to pieces. There are thousands upon thousands of people who testify to the cures effected by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. They are representative people in their communities. You would believe their word on any question of knowledge. They speak the simple truth when they testify that Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures dyspepsia, "weak" stomach and other diseases of the stomach and its allied organs of digestion and nutrition. It cures when all other remedial means have failed. It cures perfectly and permanently.

There is no alcohol in the "Discovery" it is free from opium, cocaine and all other narcotics.

Accept no substitute for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. There is nothing "just as good."

"I was a total wreck—could not eat or sleep," writes Mr. J. O. Beers, of Berryman, Crawford Co., Mo. "For two years I tried medicine from doctors, but received very little benefit. I lost flesh and strength, was not able to do a good day's work. I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and when I had taken one bottle I could sleep, and my appetite was wonderfully improved. I have taken five bottles and am still improving."

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser, paper-covered, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Services Needed to Preserve Order at Albany

DAY OF GREAT EXCITEMENT

Car Badly Wrecked and Motorman Assaulted and Badly Injured—Non-Union Men Claim They Were Hired Under Misapprehension

Albany, May 15.—A thousand national guardsmen and 100 mounted men will occupy Albany streets today, and attempt to force the riotous crowd to let the cars of the United Traction company run with non-union men. They will be reinforced by 200 special deputies, 300 policemen and over 100 Pinkerton detectives.

It is feared that the bloodshed and riotous scenes of yesterday will be repeated with much greater fatality, for the mobs about the car houses and street corners are in a frenzied condition.

The results of yesterday are: One man dying, 20 or 30 injured, 80 men out of 150 brought here by the company induced to desert, the trolley lines cut, cars demolished, and the police almost powerless to control the thousands of men patrolling the streets.

The company, however, insists it will run its cars with protection, and it is said that 300 new non-union men are on a train near the city waiting for the troops to make entry safe. Eight men have been arrested for rioting, two only of whom are strikers.

The men claim that they were brought here under a misapprehension, and that they supposed they were going to Philadelphia. They were taken at night by ferry to Jersey City and then left in a West Shore train, but believed that they were going to be engaged on the Albany and Schenectady railway.

At 3:15 o'clock in the afternoon, the police practically admitted that they were powerless to take care of the large crowds on the streets, if cars were run, and General Manager McNamara immediately called on General Oliver, in command of the Third brigade, for protection. He said: "We intend to run our cars if it takes the entire national guard of New York state to protect us."

After a conference, General Oliver issued an order assembling at their armory last night the Tenth battalion of Albany, comprising four companies of the national guard of infantry and the Third signal corps. General Oliver said that he would warn the rest of the Third brigade to be in readiness for a call. The troops that General Oliver has at his command include about 2000.

The story of the riot is full of exciting features. At 10 o'clock, the big doors of the car barn swung open and out darted a closed car. Immediately pandemonium broke loose. Several men made an effort to board the car, as it passed out of the barn, but they were kept from doing so by the policemen on each car step. The car made rapid headway, and almost before the crowd realized what had happened was well on its way over Quail street.

It continued on to Madison avenue, to Lark street, to Washington avenue, to State street, to Broadway, to the Union station and returned by the same route, followed most of the way by a crowd of people. None of the men were injured, although they weer in the midst of a rain of stones and other missiles along the route.

The second car did not escape. When the doors were opened, the mob surged towards it, despite the efforts of the police. The crowd was turned into a crazed mob. Men, women and children hustled the policemen, whose clubs were swinging and arms moving in vain. One man was seen to throw a rock and the next instant he was in the arms of a policeman. Then there was a perfect fusillade of stones from all directions. They crashed through the windows, front, rear and sides of the car, rolled through the doors and smashed the wooden panels.

The six luckless men on the car tried to escape, and were successful with the exception of the motorman. A great, jagged-edged rock struck him. He dropped to the floor of the platform with a deep, ugly gash on his forehead, from which the blood flowed in a stream. It spurted over the clothes of the policemen and the extra motorman and spattered the front of the car. The assistant, as soon as the injured man dropped, grasped the brake and controlling handle and faced the mob. A few feet more and the car was upon an insurmountable barricade. With a sudden jerk it came to a stop and all aboard were thrown forward, one of the conductors among a pile of broken glass, from which he received some ugly flesh wounds and cuts.

Several thousand strikers and sympathizers charged at dusk on a wagon load of non-union men, who had been sent out from the Quail street barns by the company to repair the trolley wires cut during the riots. The wagon left the barn under the escort of 50 patrolmen.

When the wagon stopped for the men to commence work a wild dash was made for the men. The police were powerless to stop the storm of stones and bricks showered upon the non-union men. They lay upon their faces on the floor of the wagon, and, surrounded by the mounted men, who used their clubs on the more aggressive of the rioters, were hurried back to the barns. Two of the non-union men were injured. Several of the mob were severely clubbed. Two arrests were made.

The street car tracks on a portion of the United Traction company's line in Troy have been torn up and thrown into the river.

HELD IN $7500 BAIL

Young Man Worth Thousands Held on Charges of Burglary

Waltham, Mass., May 15.—Horace J. Cheney was arraigned in court yesterday before Judge Luce on a charge of breaking and entering and larceny from the houses of E. B. Willard, W. H. Wills and L. A. Bowker. He pleaded not guilty and was held in $7500 bonds for the grand jury, his bail being placed at $2500 on each count. The three citizens whose houses he is alleged to have robbed each gave evidence as to what was taken, and each declared that they had identified articles which were found at Cheney's home as having come from their homes.

What seems strange about the case is that young Cheney is worth considerable property, $3800 having been paid him recently. Dr. H. L. Johnson, the young man's uncle, said that Cheney would receive about $15,000 as his share of his father's estate.

Last fall Cheney married a young woman of Gloucester, and had lived at Watertown since that time. Six years ago he was arrested for breaking into a knitting mill, and was sent to the Concord reformatory for some time.

Trolley Car Left the Rails

Haverhill, Mass., May 15.—The derailment of an electric car last night brought injuries of greater or less nature to the 20 passengers. The car left the rails at Reynolds hills, ran 50 feet on the ground, then swung diagonally across the track and plunged over an embankment. The car did not overturn, but the rough shod journey off the iron shook up and threw about the passengers in violent fashion. Motorman Temple stuck to his post, and did not get a scratch. Conductor Smith stayed aboard and had bruises in common with the passengers. The cause of the derailment is supposed to be due to spreading of the rails.

Reveals Tragedy of Long Ago

Danby, Vt., May 15.—Some boys playing in the ruins of a house built 120 years ago, and for nearly a century a country tavern, yesterday found a skeleton and fragments of jewelry and clothing under the hearthstone of the fireplace. The older residents of the town say that on one occasion three men put up at the tavern and one disappeared after a quarrel. As the men were strangers and as the villagers had no inclination to meddle with the affairs of the tavern, the supposed murder was not inquired into. The story, however, was handed down, and is now recalled.

Retired on Half Pay

Boston, May 15.—In an order issued last night by the police commissioners, Superintendent of Police Benjamin P. Eldredge and Senior Deputy Superintendent Joseph R. Burrill are retired on half pay, and William H. Pierce, a deputy superintendent, is named as Superintendent Eldredge's successor. No deputy was named to succeed Burrill. The pension which Superintendent Eldredge will receive is $2000 a year, while Deputy Burrill will receive $1500.

One Flag For All

Brockton, Mass., May 15.—Two factions of the Appomattox command, U. V. U., have had their property in the keeping of Deputy Sheriff Porter several months, by orders of the superior court. Yesterday one faction asked for the flags to use in a Memorial day parade. Judge Hardy rebuked the veterans for disagreeing, and said neither could have the flags until all agreed to march under one flag, as they did in the Civil war.

HOW TO GAIN FLESH

Persons have been known to gain a pound a day by taking an ounce of Scott's emulsion. It is strange, but it often happens.

Somehow the ounce produces the pound; it seems to start the digestive machinery going properly, so that the patient is able to digest and absorb his ordinary food, which he could not do before, and that is the way the gain is made.

A certain amount of flesh is necessary for health; if you have not got it you can get it by taking Scott's Emulsion.

You will find it just as useful in summer as in winter, and if you are thriving upon it don't stop because the weather is warm.

If you have not tried it, send for free sample its agreeable taste will surprise you.

FORMAL ENTRY INTO CITY

Marked by a Display of Intense Enthusiasm—Soldiers, Sailors and Grand Army Men Participate In a Procession Which Acted As Escort

San Francisco, May 15.—President McKinley made his official entry into this city, the objective point of his tour, late yesterday afternoon. At 2:40 o'clock he left the Scott residence for the Valencia street station. Here he met the train bringing the members of the cabinet and remainder of his party. President McKinley was also met here by Mayor Phelan and formally received. The president, the members of the cabinet, Mayor Phelan and the reception committee were then taken by special train to the Third and Townsend street station, where the military and naval escort was waiting.

When the clanging of the engine bell announced that the train was approaching there was a terrible din. The whistles of the factories and machine shops of the neighborhood were turned loose, bells of the yard engines were rung and thousands of voices joined in the noisy welcome to the city's guests.

A few minutes after the train arrived the procession was formed and the march up Third street was begun. In the rear of the platoon of mounted police and a battalion of patrolmen, came Grand Marshal Warfield and his aides. Behind them were swung into line troop A, the special escort of the president, closely followed by the veteran guard of the Grand Army of the Republic, who acted as a guard of honor for the battle flags of the president's regiment.

As the carriage was drawn out to the street and turned in line with the procession, cheer after cheer rose from the multitude, which was re-echoed along the thoroughfares.

After the president's carriage came those of his cabinet, Governor Nash of Ohio and staff and the Ohio congressional delegation. The long line of carriages was followed by 4000 troops of infantry, artillery and cavalry from the presidio, led by General Shafter, and 1000 marines and sailors from the battleships Iowa, Philadelphia and Wisconsin, under command of Admiral Casey.

From the moment the president emerged from the depot the cheering was intense, but as the long procession got under way its force seemed to be redoubled, and block after block was filled with a surging mass that broke forth into a vociferous proclamation of welcome. The line of march was decorated with flags, bunting and evergreens. At Van Ness avenue President McKinley reviewed the procession, after which he repaired to the Scott residence for dinner.

The president was driven to the ferry depot at 8 o'clock last evening, and in the illuminated nave of the large building received a vast crowd of people. Mayor Phelan made a brief address of welcome, to which President McKinley responded. At the reception the president did not indulge in handshaking, but bowed as the people passed, each one saluting him with a small flag.

Held on Murder Charge

New York, May 15.—The chief of police of Rochester has arrested Bartholomew Powers, who is wanted in this city for the alleged murder of his father-in-law, John Dempsey, on June 14, 1898. Powers was married at Easter of that year. He and his bride lived unhappily and soon parted. On the day the killing occurred, Powers went to see his wife at her father's home. The couple quarreled and Dempsey interfered. Powers, it is alleged, then shot his father-in-law.

Workmen Killed In Tunnel

Roanoke, Va., May 15.—An accident occurred near Shawsville, on the Norfolk and Western railroad, last evening. As a result of it four men are dead, one cannot live and two are said to be buried under a mass of stone and dirt. The accident occurred in a tunnel. Just how it occurred is not known, it simply being stated that a cavein took place with the above result.

Situation at Jacksonville

Jacksonville, Fla., May 15.—The work of the Relief association goes on smoothly. Three car loads of mattresses, one car load of cots and one car load of miscellaneous articles were received yesterday from the New York chamber of commerce and Merchants' association. The total cash fund so far received by the Relief association is $106,722.76.

Three Brigands Captured

Manila, May 15.—Detectives and the police have broken up a band of American brigands who have been operating in the province of Pampanga, not far from Manila. Three men have been captured, and five others are still being pursued. This band committed outrages and murder.

Norwegian Bark Wrecked

St. John's, May 15.—The Norwegian bark Comet, from Hamburg for Quebec to load lumber, went ashore yesterday in a dense fog at the entrance to the gulf of St. Lawrence. The crew were saved, but the ship is likely to be a total loss.

Good Afternoon

That was a happy remark of President Watson of the Fore River Ship Company at the meeting of the committee on visit of President McKinley, when he said, "I can not imagine any city where the President would find so many interesting things. Often it is not the lifelong resident of a city that appreciates a city to its fullest. As in this case, it is for a new comer, in fact a nearby non-resident, to recognize our attractions. The people of Quincy have a pretty city; a seashore city diversified with prominent hills. An historic city, with many of the old land marks of 100 to 250 years ago. A rock-ribbed city with its famous Quincy granite quarries and works. A progressive city, with its water works, sewer system, electric lighting, street railways, efficient fire department, good streets, public library, etc. A no-license city with freedom from liquor, crime and poverty. An educational city with public schools of national renown, and also secondary schools. A city soon to become noted for building battleships for Uncle Sam's modern navy. Truly what Quincy has to show the President both historically and in "up-to-dateness" cannot be easily excelled.

Drift of Opinion.

☞In every women's club there are three mortal enemies—the woman who is president, the woman who was president last and the woman who is bound to be president next—The Bachelor.

☞John D. Rockefeller's advice to the young men about giving away money would have been appreciated a great deal more if he had given them a tip on what stocks to buy to get the money.—St. Louis Republican.

☞The legislature of Wisconsin has certainly introduced a novel idea in revenue legislation—that of relieving the farmer and home owner of the burdens of unequal taxation by taxing his dog.—Chicago Times Herald.

☞London may have a newspaper run entirely by women. No male journalist could ever scoop that newspaper on social affairs of the town. And if the women printed all they knew—but don't let us think of it!—Brockton Enterprise.

☞The child is being considered very seriously in many Minneapolis homes. He is being studied about, and thought about, and philosophized about in a surprising manner. His size is no criterion of his importance. Meanwhile, the child is going to school playing marbles, having "scraps," and just being a boy (or a girl, as the case may be) very much in the usual way, without the slightest idea of all the interest he is creating.—Minneapolis Tribune.

☞Recently compiled statistics show that both shippers and travellers in the United States enjoy a lower average rate from railroads than do those of any other part of the world. The average rate per ton per mile received by the railroads of this country during 1898 was only .785 c, and the average rate per passenger per mile was but 1.994c. In Europe rates of both kinds are very much higher. In this country some classes of freight are now carried at a rate that would not have covered the cost of transportation a few years ago.—Messenger.

A MUSICAL TREAT.

Concert at Wollaston by Edward Hewitson Associates.

The people of Wollaston showed their appreciation Tuesday evening, when they came out in such large numbers to attend the concert given by the Edward Hewitson Associates. Mrs. Tenney has been most untiring in her efforts to present an enjoyable program.

The entertainment opened with a piano solo, "The Hunter's Horn," (Kornatzjer) by Master Carleton White.

This was followed with a welcome address by Mr. John Manning, president of the association. He gave a brief sketch of the purposes of the club and made an earnest appeal to the people to give their support to so worthy an oganization.

The Glee club connected with this society gave the selection, "The Heavens are Declaring," (Beethoven,)

The next number was a violin and piano duet, "Slumber Song," (Ersfield) by Messrs. Bates, Emerson, Weston, Anderson and Mitchell.

Next came an address by Mr. Walter E. Simmons. He briefly impressed on the audience the necessity of encouraging and sustaining the good work that the club is doing. He was followed by Kindes Suiponin, composed of twelve children under the direction of Miss Willard of Boston. The selections were Allegro Maestoro, Minuetto, Adagio Lamentabile, Rondo Presto. This was so well rendered that it received a hearty applause.

The Glee club again did themselves justice in rendering the "Slumber Song" (Mohring,) and "Tinker's Song," (De Koven.)

A mandolin solo, entitled, "Rendzrous Valse," (Rosey,) by Mr. C. C. Dow, assisted on the piano by Mr. G. Gannett, was so finely executed as to call forth a hearty encore. In response to the encore he came out with an imitation of a banjo scottische.

The next on program was the appearrance of Mr. Russell Abbott of Boston, who delighted the audience with his superior rendering of "At Parting," (Tyddle,) and "Can I Forget," (Kemp). Next in order were addresses by Mr. N. G. Nickerson and Mr. A. D. Albee. The former spoke of moral aim of the club and advised the people to help it financially. Mr. Albee, speaking on music, impressed upon boy the importance of always having before them a high standard of musical selections.

A violin duet, "Prayer and Rondo," (A. E. Harris) followed and in response to encore came "Dream of Sheperdess" (Tahtzky.)

Mr. H. Barber in behalf of club presented Mr. H. Y. Follett with a handsome music cabinet and Mr. H. Sprague a piano chair in appreciation of their valuable assistance in making the club a musical success. Great credit is due Mrs. Tenney for her earnest effort in establishing and guiding the club of young men, and the hearty thanks of all go out to her in this great undertaking.

The closing number "To Thee O Country" (Eichberg,) was sung with great enthusiasm and feeling by the Glee club.

Judge Flint at Head.

Hon. James H. Flint of Weymouth, the Norfolk County Judge of Probate will be at the head of the New England Order of Protection the coming year, having been elected Supreme Warden at the annual session in Boston on Tuesday. Twenty-one new lodges have been instituted during the year, including four in Maine, three in New Hampshire, one in Vermont, eight in Massachusetts, one in Rhode Island and four in Connecticut. One lodge has been consolidated. There are now 330 lodges in good standing, with a total membership of 31,124, a net gain for the year of 2,199. There are 20,318 male and 10,806 female members.

TODAY'S COURT.

John Wren was fined $5 for drunkenness at Quincy.

Michael F. Donahue was fined $5 for disturbing the peace at Weymouth.

Whooping Cough.

A woman who has had experience with this disease tells how to prevent any dangerous consequences from it. She says: Our three children took whooping cough last summer, our baby boy being only three months old, and owing to our giving them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, they lost none of their plumpness and came out in much better health than other children whose parents did not use this remedy. Our oldest little girl would call lustily for cough syrup between whoops.—JESSIE PINKEY HALL, Springville, Ala. This Remedy is for sale by all druggists.

PHOTOGRAPHS.

DIED IN THE WEST.

Sad News of Mr. E. E. Abercrombie to Braintree Friends.

A telegram from Salt Lake City was received at Braintree today, from Mr. Elmer E. Abercrombie, announcing the sudden death of his wife. These were all the particulars given, except that the body would be forwarded promptly to Braintree.

Mr. Abercrombie is one of Braintree's prominent citizens, and has a wide circle of acquaintances in Quincy who will sympathize with him in his loss.

Mr. and Mrs. Abercrombie left Braintree with an excursion party about two weeks ago. Mrs. Abercrombie was Miss Fannie E. Coleman of Newton and the couple were very much attached to each other.

Mr. Abercrombie has two children, a daughter of nine years, and a son of four years, both of whom are now at Braintree.

PROBABLE FATAL.

Freight Conductor Juby Loses a Leg at Quincy.

William Juby, conductor on what is known as the "Double iron freight," met with a serious accident at 3 o'clock this morning while shifting cars at the Quincy depot. Juby was in the act of drawing a coupling pin at the time.

This is done by throwing a lever on the outside of the car. The car was moving slowly at the time, and Juby who was walking along with the train, tripped over a sleeper and fell, his legs going beneath the train in such a manner that the wheels passed over them. One leg was cut off and the other badly jammed. He was put aboard the train and taken into the Massachusetts General Hospital. Word was received from the hospital this morning that it was thought one leg could be saved.

Work of Temperance Bureau.

At the meeting of the Universalist Ministers' Association at Ballou hall, on Monday the speaker was Miss Eva M. Brown, manager of Mr. Henry H. Faxon's temperance bureau, whose topic was "Current Legislation on Liquor Matters and Kindred Subjects."

Miss Brown, says the Herald, gave a brief account of the many bills in the liquor interests and the keeping of the Lord's day that have been and are now before the legislature, with a brief notice of what has been done on each, making a most interesting paper. In all, 38 such bills were noted and explained by Miss Brown. She thought the religious bodies should appoint committees to attend the hearings to aid those who are striving to influence legislation along temperance lines.

In the discussion which followed the Rev. J. J. Lewis, who as a lecturer travels all over the country, said the outward signs of prosperity, are most evident in Vermont, Iowa and Kansas, three prohibition states.

Miss Mathews of Westfield spoke of the ignorance of men on the bills and amendments that come before the Legislature. She thought it quite as important to discuss such matters in the pulpit as the higher criticism and other subjects of that kind.

Just Pulled the Hook.

Woman's curiosity may be said to have been the cause of fire alarm that was sounded from Box 242 at 11.53 this noon, for there was no fire. The box is a new one, located at the City Hospital, and was put into the fire alarm circuit Tuesday. This noon one of the nurses was showing the box to others and explaining how it worked. You see that hook, well by just pulling it down so, and then let go, then the fire department comes. An instant later the numerous bells and whistles were sounding the alarm, and the apparatus was hurrying to the box. True to the demonstrator's word the fire department did come and a practical illustration was had, but not exactly as expected by the nurse who pulled the hook. She, however, found out how it worked. Chief Williams made a remarkably quick run to the box. He was at the stand pipe on Penns hill when the alarm sounded, but he overtook the apparatus and passed it on President's bridge.

Not Notified.

Supt. Parlin of the Public Schools when interviewed relative to accepting the appointment as superintendent of the Woodward Institute said that he had not been notified officially that he had been elected to that position. He further said that he was not particular about accepting the position, and that his acceptance would depend entirely upon what action School Committee would take in the matter.

A Card.

We, the undersigned, do hereby agree to refund the money on a 50 cent bottle of Greene's Warranted Syrup of Tar if it fails to cure your cough or cold. We also guarantee a 25-cent bottle to prove satisfactory or money refunded.

No Loss of Time

I have sold Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea, Remedy for years, and would rather be out of coffee and sugar than it. I sold five bottles of it yesterday to threshers that could go no farther, and they are at work again this morning.—H. R. PHELPS, Plymouth, Oklahoma. As will be seen by the above the threshers were able to keep on with their work without losing a single day's time. You should keep a bottle of this Remedy in your home. For sale by all druggists.

Liquor Sellers Heavily Punished

Paul's Valley, I. T., May 14.—Liquor sellers in the Chickasaw Nation are meeting the severest penalty ever imposed here for similar offenses. Judge Thomas imposed two sentences yesterday of four years' imprisonment and $2000 fines each in the case of John Stevenson and O. Schrivenor.

SENATORIAL LODGE.

Masons Prominent in the Legislature of the State.

The prominence of Masons is shown in the fact that 25 of the members of the Massachusetts Senate are members of the fraternity. There was a notable occasion at Waltham Monday evening, when by invitation of Worshipful Master Frederick P. Rutter the Masonic members of the Massachusetts Legislature visited Monitor Lodge, A. F. and A. M., and the senatorial degree staff conferred the third degree.

The lodge meeting opened at 4 o'clock, but the visitors did not arrive until the 8 o'clock train. They marched from the station to the lodge room. There were nearly 100 members from the Legislature present.

At the conclusion of the conferring of the degree a collation was served.

So large was the attendance that the capacity of the lodge rooms was taxed to the utmost.

All but fifteen member of this year's Senate are Free Masons. The make-up of the "senatorial lodge" is as follows:

Henry C. Attwill, Edward F. Blodgett, William A. Butler of Georgetown, who was in charge of last night's party; Lloyd E. Chamberlain, Franklin L. Codman, Charles A. Corser, Guy W. Currier, Frank A. Fales, Herbert E. Fetcher, Francis A. Harrington, Edward C. Holt, Willard Howland, George R. Jones, Amos A. Lawrence, Walter O. Luscombe, John F. Marsh, William Nutt, John E. Parry, Thomas Post, Edward Seaver, Rufus A. Soule (president), Eugene H. Sprague, William Tolman, Chester B. Williams, Alva S. Wood.

The Senatorial lodge should be invited to the centennial in June of Rural lodge of Quincy.

Municipal Light.

The bill to permit cities and towns to establish lighting plants for municipal purposes without first purchasing existing plants was passed to be engrossed in the House, Tuesday, by a vote of 94 to 55. The amendment requiring that existing plants must be purchased was lost 33 to 60.

Maine Invaded.

Anticipation in the consideration of something beforehand, and for the spring sportsman it is a foretaste of the expectations and delights of the spring vacation. There is nothing more enjoyable to the sportsman than the preparation of the lines, hooks, flies, tackle and other paraphernalia for his spring trip, for they bring to mind the many happy hours and pleasant associations of past good times. The conclusion of this overhauling is followed by a perusal of every book, pamphlet and folder obtainable for information about fishing resorts and regions, the final decision being that the old one is good enough. Next comes the tedious wait for the announcement that the "ice is out," upon which declaration away he goes.

Comfortably situated in the night Pullman the eager and expectant fisherman knows that by noon of the morrow his haven will be reached, and a too short period of unequalled sport is at hand. New England, with its hundreds, yes, thousands, of well stocked lakes, ponds, brooks and streams, offers allurements of greater importance then any other section. Take Mooschead, for instance, its situation is deep in the wilds of Maine, yet half a day's ride places its overabundance of rare sport within your reach. Its every cove, inlet, bay and harbor is a fishing rendezvous. Landlocked salmon and lake trout weighing five pounds each are often taken. The several accessible points on Moosehead are Greenville, Capens, Kimeo, Lily Bay, Spencer Bay and North East Carry, at each of which places the fisherman will find accommodations of surprising excellence.

If you are thinking of making a fishing trip, or if you are an old timer, the Brochure "Fishing and Hunting," published by the General Passenger Dept., of the Boston and Maine R. R., Boston, will be of use to you. It will cost you but two cents in stamps to get it.

The Magazine.

The National magazine for May has the usual crisp way of comprehending current topics touching all phases of human interest. Editor Joe Mitchell Chapple sticks his rough and ready "Washington Affairs" stub pen in a potato, and, with a dainty fine-lined Spencerian pays a delicate and eloquent tribute to American women and the power they exercise in national affairs, from "pinafores to lace caps."

The June Delineator covers many varied interests of the home. It shows the latest styles for Ladies, Misses, Girls and Little Folks, several pages being illustrated in colors so as to give a correct idea of color combinations. The ever practical dressmaking article describes the construction of the new Di Vernon waist. Summer time comes in for its share of attention by special articles being devoted to material for cycling skirts, to summer dress fabrics and to a number of new and pretty surf habits or bathing suits.

—It is said that 1000 pounds of poultry will cost less to raise than 1000 pounds of beef. And will sell for almost twice as much.

CANDIDATE WANTED.

Norfolk County as a District would have No Congressman.

The latest plan for dividing the State into Congressonal districts put Quincy and Milton entirely outside of Boston districts. It is proposed to make up a Norfolk county district, to include all the cities and towns of the county, and add to these the town of Hopkinson, Ashland, North Attleboro and Mansfield to make up the necessary 200,000 population. This would make a district without a present Representative in Congress and would give an opportunity for a scramble for the nomination among Senator Sprague and John Shaw of Quincy, Dr. Pierce of Milton Wilbur H. Powers of Hyde Park and other prominent Republicans.

The division of the new Thirteenth and Fourteenth Districts is unique. It gives to the old Thirteenth, Attleboro, Sekonk, Rehoboth, Swansea, Somerset, Freetown, Acushnet, New Bedford, Fairhaven, Fall River, Dartmouth and Westport, while Plymouth gets all the rest south of Norfolk and Northern Bristol thence to the tip of the Cape, with the islands. These have always gone with Bristol, and plethoric Fall River is consequently incensed at the divorce because of her size. The end is not yet, says the Journal, and prophecies for the close of the session are away in the air.

Not Adams Academy Nine.

Editor of the Ledger:

Will you kindly give me space to correct an error in the baseball column of your edition of Monday. Your report says that the Adams Academy nine were defeated by the Howlers of Dorchester. As we have always been very particular to play only members of the school on our nine, and as the nine defeated by the Howlers was only a picked-up nine, having two of our graduates among the players, I wish to correct the impression that it was the regular Academy nine. We have always held it to be unfair to play graduates of a school on the school nine, and we desire to maintain our reputation in this respect.

Yours sincerely,
John O. Hall, Jr.
Manager Adams Academy Nine.

Money Safer In Savings Bank

Brockton, Mass., May 15.—Mrs. Wallace Tyler, by the death of a relative in New York, was left a legacy of about $1300. The money came in certified checks, which were sewn into a bed mattress for safe keeping. Mr. and Mrs. Tyler were away yesterday and on their return home found the checks missing, also $30 from a toy bank, the house having been broken into during their absence.

From Free Traders' Standpoint

Boston, May 15.—Secretary Stevens, at the annual meeting of the New England Free Trade league last night, declared that protection has entered upon its last and worst stage—that of direct bounties and subsidies. The sugar bounty was the entering wedge, and the ship subsidy bill will again be urged, he said, and if it carries, a swarm of kindred measures will inevitably appear.

Looks Bad For Therlanlt

Skowhegan, Me., May 15.—Sheriff Pennell has returned from a visit in the northern part of Somerset county and southern Canada, investigating the Pare murder case. The sheriff is satisfied that he has additional evidence that will ensure the conviction of Thorlault, the man now being held for the crime. The officer does not believe any other person was engaged in the murder.

Doctors Could Have Saved Her

Providence, May 15.—The investigation into the death of Miss Adelaide Gale, who died of cancer after having received treatment by Christian Science method, was continued yesterday by Medical Examiner Perkins, whose statement was to the effect that the woman's life could have been saved if medical attention had been given her.

Patriots, Indeed

Catskill, N. Y., May 15.—In locating the graves of soldiers of the American Revolution buried in the town of Saugerties, the discovery was made that of these soldiers 18 were sons and grandsons of Christian Meyer, a Palatine, who settled at West Camp in 1710. Besides these were several sons of Myer's daughters.

Why Schley Hurries Home

New York, May 14.—Rear Admiral Schley's decision to return to New York immediately is due to the serious illness of Dr. Schley, son of the admiral Dr. Schley is undergoing treatment for blood poisoning, the result of an accident which took place in his office on Thursday last. At one time his life was despaired of, but under skilful treatment, he has gradually improved, and it is said that he will probably recover, although he is still very ill.

Evidence Carefully Planned

New York, May 14—The grand jury yesterday took up for the first time the evidence presented by the committee of 15 against the men arrested for keeping gambling houses, and bound over through Justice Jerome's personally conducted raiding operations. In every one of the 12 cases considered an indictment was quickly rendered, showing the care with which the committee had gathered its evidence.

Sentence In Manila Frauds

Manila, May 14.—One sentence was announced yesterday in the famous fraud cases in the commissary department. Several others are expected at any moment. The man sentenced was Sylvester C. Fletcher. He got five years. He was a civilian and the specific charge was selling government bacon and coffee. He will be imprisoned in Manila.

Cellar Stocked With Liquor

Portland, Me., May 14.—Liquor deputies yesterday made a descent on a boarding house here and in the cellar they found 200 half pint bottles and several jugs filled with whisky. Several barrels containing bottles of different shapes and sizes also were found. The woman in charge of the boarding house was taken into custody.

Mrs. Nation Convicted

Chicago, May 15.—Delirious from the ravages of erysepilas, and practically blind, Billy Rice, the old-time minstrel, was last night taken from the National hotel to the county hospital. His friends say his condition is such that there is little hope for his recovery.

Will Entertain No More

Topeka, May 15.—The jury in the case of Mrs. Carrie Nation, charged with "joint" smashing, last night returned a verdict of guilty. It is the general impression that she will be released on the payment of a fine and costs.

ARREST IN ALLEN CASE

Fails to Throw Light on the Shirley Mystery

AIR IS FULL OF RUMORS

Belief That Motive of Crime Was Not Robbery Is Somewhat Strengthened —Nothing of Importance Developed at Inquest Held by Coroner's Jury

Monson, Me., May 15.—A man who gave his name as Daniel Creighton was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Knowles yesterday while at work in the slate quarries at Blanchard, on the charge of being implicated in the murder of the Allen family at Shirley. It is said that he has been identified as a member of the gang of four men who have been seen by several persons in this vicinity of late, and who are thought to have been connected with the Willimantic stage hold-up last Saturday.

When it was learned that Daniel Creighton had been arrested at Blanchard on suspicion of being a member of the party of four men who had been mentioned in connection with the affair, it was though the mysterious part of the tragic affair was to be quickly cleared up, but from later developments it seems the officers do not attach any special importance to the capture. Creighton is held at the jail at Dover, and the officials are scouring the entire county in search of the other members of the party, but the air is full of rumors which lead to the belief that the next arrest made may be in an unexpected quarter. It is known that several persons living in the vicinity of the scene of the tragedy have been closely questioned by the officers, and the actions and movements of others are being closely followed.

The belief that the motive of the murderer or murderers was not robbery was materially strengthened yesterday when, in searching the ruins of the house, a gold watch and a quantity of silver coin was found. The belief that the four men who held up the Willimantic stage might have been responsible for the murder is by no means so general as it was Monday.

The coroner's jury came to Monson yesterday and the inquest was formally opened. Only four witnesses were heard and then the inquest was adjourned for a week. Those who appeared before the coroner were Charles Tibbetts, who found the bodies in the ruins of the house and barn; Ambrose Arnold and Calvin Arnold, brothers of Mrs. Allen, and John Randall, a neighbor. Their testimony developed nothing of importance beyond what has been told in the press dispatches.

Date Set For Strike

Washington, May 15.—The representatives of the machinery and allied metal trades, who have been in session here for two days considering the enforcement of a demand that union machinists hereafter shall be required to work only nine hours a day, with an increase of wages that would make the daily pay the same as under the present 10-hour scale, have decided that there should be a strike on May 20 in shops refusing to grant the desired concessions.

Another Steel Trust

Chicago, May 15.—The Chronicle says: A combination of the outside steel concerns, with a capital of $200,000,000, is said to be in process of promotion by John W. Gates, John Lambert and Isaac L. Ellwood, the promoters and organizers of the American Steel and Wire company. The aggregate capital of these concerns, occupying diverse and non-competitive fields, is $135,000,000.

To Examine Shamrock II

Southampton, May 15.—Designer Watson admits that the Shamrock II, which arrived here yesterday, came for the purpose of being dry docked. He does not say whether he expects to find her damaged by grounding on Dean bank last week. He said that his future program was indefinite, but that future trials had been arranged for. Shamrock was docked last night.

Bought Up Councilmen

Scranton, Pa., May 15.—True bills charging bribery were returned by the grand jury yesterday against General Manager Stillman of the Scranton Railway company and the five Old Forge councilmen whom he is accused of bribing. It is alleged that they accepted money and other valuable considerations for voting for a franchise for the company in 1899.

A Cotton Duck Combination

New York, May 15.—Official announcement is made of the formation of a company which will acquire the larger cotton duck manufacturing concerns of the country. The new company will be known as the United States Cotton Duck corporation, and will be organized under the New Jersey laws. It will have an authorized capital of $50,000,000.

CHINA'S RESPONSE

Will Pay $10,000,000 a Year In Settlement of Indemnity Claims

Washington, May 15.—A cablegram from Mr. Rockhill, our special commissioner at Pekin, received at the state department yesterday, mentions the receipt by the ministers of the response of the Chinese envoys to the ministers' demands for indemnity. The dispatch indicates briefly that the Chinese represent that an annual payment of $10,000,000 is the full extent of their power to pay on the indemnity account. It will take 30 years to discharge the debt at that rate, without interest.

Mr. Rockhill makes no mention of the subject of interest, nor does he touch upon the means by which the money is to be raised by China, or say who is to guarantee a loan necessary to be made.

It appears that the Chinese feel themselves obliged to submit to the powers in this question of indemnity, as in all other things, and, though realizing their own inability to assume this indebtedness of 450,000,000 taels, they feel obliged to make the effort.

Mr. Rockhill has been instructed to continue his efforts to secure an abatement of the total indemnity, but in the present disposition of the powers little hope of success is entertained.

Germany Is Pleased

Berlin, May 15.—The news that China agrees to the payment of the indemnities demanded is received here with general approval, both in official circles and privately, insomuch that all Germany desires to wind up the China campaign. It is understood that the proposal to extend the payments over a period of 30 years meets with a qualified assent.

Not Acceptable, Says Morrison

London, May 15.—Dr. Morrison, wiring to The Times, from Pekin, says: The Chinese reply to the ministers of the powers is not acceptable. For the first time in the history of diplomatic relations with the Chinese, a French translation accompanied the dispatch.

Ready to Leave China

Washington, May 15.—Secretary Root received a cable message yesterday from General Chaffee saying that he, with the troops in China, expected to sail from Taku about May 25.

Testimonial to Quay

Philadelphia, May 15.—Republicans of the dominant faction from every section of the Keystone state paid homage last night to United States Senator Quay in honor of his re-election to the upper chamber of congress. The occasion took the form of a banquet, followed by a reception. There was not a vacant seat in the big auditorium when the diners, headed by Senator Quay, marched into the hall. The senator, in a speech, declared that his political race is run, and that he will never again be a candidate for, nor accept any official position. He had many friends to remember, he said, and no enemies to punish.

Damages Allowed For Lynching

Columbus, O., May 15.—What is known as the anti-lynching act was sustained by the supreme court in a decision handed down yesterday. "Click" Mitchell, a negro, was lynched at Urbana, June 4, 1897. His administrator, Benjamin Church, brought suit against the commissioners of Champaign county to recover the sum of $5000, under the special statute making the county liable in such cases. He was given a verdict for $5000, the amount allowed by law, and the decision has stood the test of all the courts of the state.

Mrs. Thomas' Sad End

New York, May 15.—Mrs. Edith Thomas, novelist and well known worker among the poor of this city, shot herself through the heart last night in her office in the King street branch of the University Settlement, of which she was the manager. Mrs. Thomas, who was 37 years of age, had been a sufferer from nervous prostration for years, and her physician had warned her that the consequences of her tireless activity must be disastrous.

No Trace of Starbuck

Andover, Mass., May 15.—Absolutely no trace has been found of Charles E. Starbuck, the missing Harvard student. As far as can be ascertained he was last seen on the university grounds in Cambridge Thursday morning, as he was leaving after attending a lecture. Since then he has disappeared completely out of sight.

Baby Found In River

Providence, May 15.—The murder of a male child, about four months old, was revealed yesterday in the finding of a bundle containing a decomposed body in the bed of the Seekonk river by oyster fishermen. The body was probably that of a colored child. The police are investigating.

Took Fifty Morphine Pills

Woonsocket, R. I., May 15.—Mrs. Mary E. Hare, a widow, aged over 70, died last night as a result of taking 50 quarter-grain morphine pills with suicidal intent. Mrs. Hare had been addicted to the use of morphine, and for a long time had been doing housework for families in Woonsocket.

Immigrants Have Smallpox

New York, May 15.—The steamer Neustria arrived yesterday from Mediterranean ports with 1015 steerage passengers, among whom were three cases of smallpox. The steamer will be disinfected and a number of the passengers will be detained for observation.

Weather Conditions and Forecast

Almanac, Thursday, May 16.
Sun rises—4:22; sets, 6:59.
Moon rises—3:05 a. m.
High water—9:15 a. m.; 9:45 p. m.

The weather has been generally clear and pleasant east of the Rocky mountains. Fair weather will continue in New England. On the coast the winds will be fresh southwesterly.

SPREAD OF SMALLPOX

Due to Unusual Number of Immigrants Afflicted With the Disease

New York, May 15.—Dr. Alvah H. Doty, the health officer of the port of New York, gave to the Associated Press last night at quarantine the following statement:

"The constantly recurring reports of cases of smallpox on board incoming steamers and the detention of immigrants at quarantine shows a serious condition existing abroad. As all of the cases come on steamers arriving from Naples, that port is known to be seriously infected. A large number of steamers with full steerages having arrived here with smallpox on board, it became apparent that great precautions must be taken at quarantine.

"The intending passengers before embarkation should be closely inspected by agents of our federal government, and all those who have been in contace with cases of smallpox or those who have stopped at infected or suspected lodging houses should be debarred until after there is no further danger of their contracting the disease.

"I have telegraphed Surgeon General Wyman, reporting the great number of cases we have found and have asked him to instruct his inspectors abroad concerning the existence of the disease at Naples. He has been asked to have the lodging houses inspected and to look after vaccinations."

At Boston—National.

Dineen's unsteadiness nearly lost the game to Boston, but in the last two innings he played the game well. Crolius had his finger split by a pitched ball in the second inning.

Time to Settle With England

Boston, May 15.—The United Irish league of Boston, which claims to adhere to the principles originally propounded by Parnell, has issued an address to the "friends of Ireland in New England," in which it says: "No time could be more propitious than the present for a combined and determined effort on the part of the Irish race against their ancient enemy, England. Beaten in South Africa, brow-beaten in China, beggared at home, badgered in Ireland, bullied and despised by every nation of the earth—it only needs a united effort on the part of Irishmen everywhere to pay England back for the wrongs of centuries, and force from her an independent Irish parliament."

Revives Murder Rumor

Oswego, N. Y., May 15.—The skeleton of a full grown man, apparently a negro, was found at Granby yesterday by a farmer while ploughing. The skeleton was buried one foot below the surface. Rumors of an alleged crime committed by a jealous husband 15 years ago have been revived by the discovery. The coroner is investigating.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflamation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars; free.

Further Respite For Storti

Boston, May 15.—Attorney General Knowlton has advised the governor that the state should act in the Storit matter; that a further respite should be granted on account of the allowance of the appeal to the United States supreme court. Hence a further respite will be granted to allow time for the action of the supreme court. It will probably mean a respite of 30 days.

Cotton Storehouse Burned

Hookset, N. H., May 15.—The largest of the cotton storehouses owned by the Hookset, Manufacturing company was burned to the ground last night with all its contents. A large amount of cotton was stored in the building, and the total loss is variously estimated from $90,000 to $150,000. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Wish May Be Gratified

Bangor, Me., May 15.—Charles Phillips, aged 47, attempted to commit suicide yesterday by throwing himself in front of a moving electric car. He sustained severe injuries, and it is believed that he cannot recover.

A REMEDY FOR THE GRIPPE.

A remedy recommended for patients afflicted with the Grippe is KEMP'S BALSAM, which is especially adapted for the throat and lungs. Don't wait for the first symptoms of the disease! get a bottle today and keep it for use the moment it is needed. If neglected the grippe has a tendency to bring on pneumonia. KEMP'S BALSAM prevents this by keeping the cough loose, lungs free from inflammation. All druggists sell KEMP'S BALSAM at 25c. and 50c.

A Legitimate Investment

Which Increased Over 700 per cent.

WITHIN SIX MONTHS.

The Arcola Oil Company's stock sold for $135 per 1,000 shares, and in six months $1,000 per 1,000 shares was refused for the stock, for the reason that the first well was a large producer and there is room for forty wells on the Company's land, which makes it about certain that the stock in the near future will be worth ten dollars per share.

We offer you the same opportunity for a large gain by investing in the Dirigo Oil Company's stock, the first block of which is being sold for $150 per 1,000 shares. The Company owns a block of land adjoining the Arcola Company's land which has large producing wells on all four sides. There is eighty acres of the Company's land in the center of the oil belt, which we feel absolutely certain will give a large producing well in each acre.

We now have machinery on the ground, and are ready to sink the first well, and expect to strike oil by June 1st, which will then make the stock worth par value, if the well is as good a producer as the Arcola.

The block of stock we are selling is about three-quarters sold and quick application will have to be made to secure any of it at the present price.

MRS M'KINLEY'S ILLNESS

Compels President to Abandon Northwestern Tour

HER CONDITION IS GRAVE

New Complications Have Failed to Respond to Treatment—Extreme Weakness an Alarming Feature—President Undergoing a Severe Strain

San Francisco, May 16.—Owing to the very serious character of Mrs. McKinley's illness, the president yesterday definitely decided to abandon his contemplated northwestern tour, and to return to Washington direct, so soon as Mrs. McKinley shall be able to stand the journey.

The gravity of Mrs. McKinley's condition has been known to the members of the president's immediate party for several days, but has been concealed, in the belief that she would rally, as she had so frequently done in the past when suffering from one of her periods of depression, and with a few days of absolute rest be restored to normal condition. But her present illness has been attended with entirely new complications, which have not yielded to treatment, and the president has concluded that it was time the public should be apprised of the true situation. He is also anxious that the residents of the cities and towns along the planned route of his return trip, who have made such extensive preparations for his visit, should receive prompt notification of the circumstances which compel his decision.

The bulletin which Secretary Cortelyou issued in the morning announcing the abandonment of the trip, coupled with another announcement that Mrs. McKinley's condition was better in some respects, but worse in others, prepared the way for the bulletin issued two hours later that Dr. Gibbons, a celebrated physician of San Francisco, had been called in consultation with Dr. Hirschfelder and Dr. Rixey.

Ever since Mrs. McKinley arrived at the Scott residence she has been desperately ill. Her extreme weakness has been the most alarming feature of her condition. Her vitality has been at low ebb and she has spoken seldom to those about her. The president has been continually at her bedside since their arrival here Sunday night, save for the few hours Monday afternoon, when he left her to go to San Jose, and the three hours he spent Tuesday in the parade. Fortunately, Mrs. McKinley slept through his absence on both occasions.

The strain which the president himself has undergone during the past few days has been very great. It has been a personal sacrifice for him to carry out his engagements here, in order not to disappoint the people, but he has made it unselfishly and nobly. It is still his desire to carry out the pre-arranged program in San Francisco to whatever extent he can. Yesterday morning he thought he would be able to be present at the unveiling of the Donahue statue, and so informed the committee, but at the last moment, when his escort had already drawn up before the Scott residence, Mrs. McKinley's condition was such that he decided not to leave.

After dinner last night the members of the cabinet called at the Scott residence. They reported Mrs. McKinley's condition as unchanged. When she is conscious she recognizes the president and asks for him. She is not regarded as in immediate danger of dissolution. There is no abatement of the hope that she will rally, but in her weakened condition there could not fail to be apprehension lest the spark of life might go out.

The members of the cabinet are very apprehensive that Mrs. McKinley will not rally. Her physicians have not yet been able to check the intestinal trouble, and her enfeebled condition militates against her. But at the Scott residence it was stated that there was no immediate danger, although a change for the worse would not be unexpected.

At 11 p. m. Dr. Hirschfelder left the Scott residence. At that time Mrs. McKinley was reported to be slightly better. A few moments later Dr. Rixey, who had been in constant attendance for over 24 hours, retired, to get a little rest.

Big Crop of Tobacco Sold

Madison, Wis., May 16.—One of the largest tobacco deals ever made in the west has just been carried through here by the sale to a Philadelphia firm of 13,000 cases of last year's crop of Wisconsin tobacco. About $350,000 cash changed hands. The shipment will amount to about 200 carloads.

Bankrupts Freed From Debt

New York, May 16.—Judge Brown, in the United States supreme court yesterday, granted discharges in bankruptcy to 17 bankrupts, among whom were Kenyon B. Conger, promoter, of this city, and nephew of the United States minister to China, whose liabilities were $553,095.

FRENCH POLITICS RUFFLED

By Return of a Banished Marquis and Threatened Ministerial Scandal

Paris, May 16.—The political calm was rudely broken yesterday by two incidents, the return of the Marquis De Lur-Saluces being one, while the alleged exposition of a scandal affecting M. Menis, the French minister of justice, is the second. It is rumored in some quarters that M. Menis will resign in consequence of this exposition.

It appears that a German firm, exhibiting at the recent exposition, was excluded from an award by the jury of awards on account of the appearance of their bottled brandy and the label employed, which was regarded as an unfair imitation of French cognac. Nevertheless, this German firm was included in the list of those awarded gold medals. M. Monis was the honorary president of the concern exhibiting this class of alcoholic produce, and it is insinuated that he is responsible for the forgery from which he personally profited. A commission may be appointed to inquire into the matter.

Another convocation of the French senate, as the high court of France, is promised by the unexpected return to this country of the Marquis De Lur-Saluces, the well-known royalist and former member of the chamber of deputies, who, in January, 1900, at the time of the conspiracy trials, was condemned, in default of appearance, to 10 years' banishment for treason. The president of the senate received a letter yesterday in which the marquis says:

"At the present moment, when the government of the republic is striving desperately to ruin industry and commerce, paralyze national work, disorganize the army and destroy religious faith—in a word, to utterly destroy the fatherland itself—I intend to provoke another public discussion before the high court, on the question of who are the real authors of the conspiracy threatening the existence of France. I hold myself at your disposition."

No Change In Jury System

London, May 16.—The house of commons yesterday, by a vote of 226 to 102 votes, rejected the second reading of the bill amending legal procedure in Ireland. Nationalists vigorously denounced the system now obtaining of packing juries, by which Catholics were placed outside the pale of the law. The attorney general for Ireland, Mr. Atkinson, in replying, strongly condemned the bill. He said that so long as the Nationalists preached defiance of the law and approved of maiming and murdering jurors it was absolutely necessary to use the power of jury selections.

The Recalcitrant Gomez

Havana, May 16.—Senor Gomez was not present at yesterday's meeting of the committee on relations. The majority claimed that he was trying to delay the bringing of the Platt amendment before the constitutional convention for final action. The majority voted that, owing to the explanations made by Secretary Root to the commission, "We advise the constitutional convention to accept the Platt amendment as a basis for future treaties with the United States."

Germans Blown Up

Pekin, May 16.—An explosion at the arsenal in Kal-Gan yesterday seriously wounded one German officer and four privates. Three German privates are missing. It is supposed that they were blown to pieces. The Germans generally believe that the Chinese intentionally committed the outrage, although evidence to substantiate this view is lacking. A thorough investigation will be made.

Turkish Taffy

Constantinople, May 16.—The foreign embassies have received a note from the porte, in connection with the recent controversy regarding the foreign post-offices in Constantinople, regretting that the "susceptibilities" of the embassies were wounded by the previous notes and hoping that the embassies will cooperate in bringing about a settlement of the question in accordance with the desires of the porte.

No Camp Pictures of William

Berlin, May 16.—Interesting military maneuvers took place around Metz yesterday, under the personal direction of Emperor William, who commanded the operations in storming one of the forts. Eighteen battalions were engaged. The emperor has forbidden snap shot photographs of himself, because many pictures thus obtained have been turned to improper uses.

Triple Tragedy at Gotham

New York, May 16.—Gigiona Brusoto, an Italian barber, last night shot his wife, his 11-months old daughter, and then turned the revolver on himself, shooting himself through the head, dying at once. The child is dead and the mother is in a serious condition. So far no motive can be learned for the crime.

Charged With Heavy Forgery

Springfield, O., May 16.—George W. Thatcher was arraigned yesterday and entered a plea of not guilty to a charge of forging the name of P. P. Mast to notes amounting to $296,000. Bond is placed at $5000.

SCOURING THE COUNTY

Hundreds Searching For Slayers of the Allen Family

SEVEN ARRESTS ARE MADE

But Little Importance Attached to Them, However—Persons Living In Vicinity of the Tragedy Are Said to Be Under Suspicion

Monson, Me., May 16.—Almost every mile of territory in Piscataquis county has been scoured by hundreds of people in an attempt to run down the murderers of J. W. Allen and his wife and daughter, who were slain and their bodies afterwards cremated in their home in Shirley Sunday night, but up to now only one arrest—and that thought to be an unimportant one — has been made here in connection with the crime.

The man arrested is known as Daniel Creighton, a tramp, and he is now held at the Dover jail pending a further investigation. During yesterday a report came from Brunswick that four men had been detained there on suspicion and another from Fort Fairfield that two tramps were held there awaiting the orders of Sheriff Ireland. No prompt steps were taken to ascertain what possible connection the men may have had with the tragedy.

Although nothing at all could be learned from the officers it is believed that within another 24 hours one or more important arrests will be made. It is believed, too, that the arrests will be made either in this town or in Shirley, and that the person or persons who will be taken into custody are residents in this vicinity and well known.

While Sheriff Ireland for the past two days has had a large force of men scouring all parts of the county for the mysterious quartet who are credited with holding up the Willimantic stage last Saturday, and who are said to have been seen near the scene of the tragedy early Monday morning by a man named Johnson, it is known that he has been prosecuting a careful investigation of the movements of one or more persons who live in this vicinity.

It is said as a result of these investigations, it is thought, that the next arrests will be made.

When word was received here from Brunswick that four men had been held there on suspicion, Deputy Sheriff Martin and C. F. Scales at once started for that town to bring the men to Dover. Some time after the departure of the officers, however, word was received here that one of the quartet who at first was thought to be an Indian or a half-breed, had proved to the Brunswick officials that he was a law-abiding citizen of the negro colony at South Warren and that he had never had any connection with the other three members of the party. It is understood, however, that he will be held until Mr. Martin arrives there and has a chance to question him, but that unless Mr. Martin cares to hold him on his own responsibility the negro then will be released. Very little is known of the pair held at Fort Fairfield beyond the fact that one of the officers of that town is authority for the statement that they answer the description of the suspicious persons who have been seen near here within the past week.

Death of General Hoffman

Albany, May 16.—Adjutant General Hoffman of Elmira stood in the Hotel Ten Eyck yesterday afternoon talking with General Roe on the strike. He felt a slight faintness and went to his room, where he died in a few minutes. Physicians pronounced heart disease the cause of death. General Hoffman was about 50 years of age, and has been adjutant general of the state since Jan. 1, 1900, serving previously as inspector general.

Union Had Its Way

Ogdensburg, N. Y., May 16.—The longshoremen employed on the docks and warehouses of the Rutland Transit line here protested against Stevedore Ramsey of Boston giving employment to non-residents. Several were put on, and, Ramsay refusing to discharge them, the Longshoremen's union called out 150 men. The protested men were then discharged, returning to Boston, and the union men resumed work.

Sails Are "Villainous"

Southampton, May 16.—Sir Thomas Lipton said last night: "Captain Jameson lays no special stress on the defeat of the challenger by Shamrock I. But he has decided that the sails are villainous, and he expects satisfactory results from the new outfit."

Ran Off With a Girl

Watertown, N. Y., May 16.—Aaron Johnson, a farmer of Sterlingville, is in jail here charged with abducting Hattie M. Merritt, residing in Pine Plains, near here. Johnson lured the girl away to Canada and married her.

Assessors' Notice.

TO the inhabitants of City of QUINCY and all other persons liable to pay taxes therein: You are hereby notified to bring in to the Assessors of said City

On or before JUNE 15, 1901,

True and Perfect Lists of all the Polls, and Schedules and Estimates of all the Personal Estates and Real Estate for which you are liable to pay Taxes.

Persons holding estates in trust, whether for minors or otherwise, are particularly requested to furnish the Assessors with Statements in relation to such estates.

When the estates of persons deceased have been divided, or have changed hands from other causes during the past year, the Executors, Administrators, or other persons interested, are required to give notice of such changes, and in default of such notice will be held to pay the taxes assessed.

Blank forms for "Return of Property for Taxation" can be procured of the Assessors.

The following may serve as a guide to assist in making up Schedules and Statements:

Number of Polls 20 years and upwards; Money at interest; Amount of Money on hand, including deposits in Banks, etc., other than Savings Banks; Railroad, Town, City, State and other Bonds (except those of the United States); Shares and Stocks of Insurance, Manufacturing and other incorporated companies chartered or organized under the laws of any State other than Massachusetts; Goods, Wares, Merchandise, and other stock in trade, within or without the State, Household Furniture, exceeding $1,000 in value; Horses, Mules, Carriages, Oxen, Cows, other neat Cattle not less than one year old, and Swine and Sheep not less than six months old; Income from Profession, Trade or Employment exceeding $2,000; Personal Property held in trust or by wife or minor children.

Attention is hereby called to Section 29 of Chapter 11 of the Public Statutes.

"Whoever, with intent to defeat or evade the provisions of law in relation to assessment or payment of taxes, delivers or discloses to an assessor or assistant assessor a false or fraudulent list, return or schedule of property as and for a true list of his estates, not exempted from taxation, shall be punished by fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or by imprisonment in jail not exceeding one year."

MORTGAGED PROPERTY.—Any mortgagor or mortgagee of real estate may bring in to the assessors of the town or city where such real estate lies within such time as shall be specified for bringing in the lists as provided in Sect. 38, of Chap. 11 of the Public Statutes, a statement under oath of the amount due on each separate lot or parcel of such real estate, and the name and residence of every holder of an interest therein as a mortgagee or mortgagor. When such property is situated in two or more places, or when a recorded mortgage includes for one sum two or more estates or parts of an estate, an estimate of the amount of the mortgagee's interest in each estate or part of an estate shall be given in such statement. The assessors shall, from such statements or otherwise, ascertain the proportionate parts of such estates that are the interests of mortgagees and mortgagors respectively, and shall assess the same. Whenever, in any case of mortgaged real estate, a statement is not brought in as herein provided, no tax of the then current year on such real estate shall be invalidated for the reason that a mortgagee's interest therein has not been assessed to him.—Chap. 175, Acts of 1882.

When a statement in conformity to the law above quoted is brought in, the Real Estate shall be returned will be assessed under Sects. But in cases w chap. 11 of the Public Statutes. estate has agreed in mortgagor of the real assessed thereon, no statement all taxes required from either the mortgagee or mortgagor unless requested by the Assessors in writing.

The Assessors will be in session at their office every Thursday morning from 9 to 11 o'clock. Blanks will be furnished to all applicants.

The rural free delivery system is daily becoming more popular wherever introduced.

The Cuban Constitutional convention is still deliberating—our Southern neighbors are naturally a little slow—but there is no doubt of the ultimate acceptance of the Platt amendment.

If the Senate will ratify some of the reciprocity treaties, negotiated by order of President McKinley, there will be less talk in Europe about a commercial combine against the United States.

The Committee on Streets should make no mistake relative to Cottage avenue. It would be a grave mistake to delay widening. It would be a greater mistake to have but one sidewalk on the street, and it would be a mistake to accept it at its present width.

Signs are cropping out in unexpected places indicating that many opponents of the administration policy are slowly but surely changing their minds about the wisdom of the acquisition of the Philippines. Within ten years it will be difficult to find a man willing to acknowledge that he ever opposed that policy.

General sympathy goes out to President McKinley because of the serious illness of his wife, and the prayer is that she may speedily be restored to health. Many in the West will be disappointed because they cannot entertain the President, particularly because he is now on the western coast, but all recognize that a wife has ever the first claim on a President, and that he is taking the proper course in cancelling engagements. It is to be hoped that as serious ... kness of Mrs. McKinley is not ... newspapers report.

Drift of Opinion.

☞ The Eastman murder trial is the Lizzie Borden case of the 20th century. If nothing else has been proved the fact has become apparent that pistols are queer tools and that no one knows exactly what is being done with the instrument even when he himself is pressing the trigger.—Brookline Suburban.

☞ The lot of a prosecuting attorney is not an agreeable one by any means, and the official often suffers from a popular misconception of his duties and of his purpose in fulfilling them. Recently Attorney-General Knowlton was the recipient of a threatening letter based upon his conduct of the prosecution of the Eastman case, undoubtedly only a sinlge instance which might be duplicated many times from his long experience and his connection with 18 capital cases which have attracted public attention, while it is certain that the letter represented, perhaps in an exaggerated form, a considerable public sentiment. In a large measure this is due to the unaccountable feeling of sympathy for the accused which is manifest in nearly every trial of prominence, although sometimes it has to overcome prejudice caused by the revolting or cruel nature of the crime. Our desire that the accused should have the extreme limit of justice often over-reaches itself, and we forget that the state is also seeking justice and that its representative in the case is in duty bound to leave nothing undone to secure full and complete justice.—Haverhill Gazette.

HEARINGS ON STREET WIDENING.

Committee on Streets Hear Many in Favor of the Proposed Improvements.

COTTAGE AVENUE.

Seldom are committee hearings of the City Council as well attended by business men as that of Wednesday evening for the widening and acceptance of Cottage avenue between Hancock street and Chestnut street. The street is 500 feet long and is now 24 feet wide, and the plan is to widen it to 40 feet.

Ex-Councilman Peter T. Fallon was the first to speak in favor. He has property on the easterly side, with a frontage of 118 feet and a depth of 70 feet. He paid about 25 cents for the land, but the Assessors value it higher. He argued that the street was in a disgraceful condition, and not wide enough to accommodate the travel. That widening would improve the value of all the property on the street, and therefore he would waive all damages.

Henry L. Kincaide spoke at length in favor. Cottage avenue was an important tributary to the business street of the city, yet in an almost impassable condition, and a disgrace. The City Council has been short-sighted in the past, notably when it refused to raise the grade of Hancock street in this vicinity, and this was a case where there should be no delay. The widening would open up and improve property, and in five years would not cost the city one cent. It would encourage the improvement of all property in the neighborhood. Now street was unsafe for teaming, it being a private way.

Stephen H. Pierce favored as a general benefit to business on Hancock street, and because it was a short cut from South Quincy to the public Library, and from Washington street and vicinity to Music hall.

Charles W. Hall appeared for his father, an abutter. He said the street was in a wretched condition because the city turned most of the water from City Square down the street and did not provide for it or repair the street, as it is a private way. The land for the present street was given wholly by the property holders on the south or easterly side. The street was much used.

John H. Bent, whose mother is an abutter favored. It was 70 years ago that land was given by the property holders on the south side. All the property was depreciated by poor condition of the street.

C. F. Pettengill who passed over the street six times per day favored the acceptance of the street. He believes it should be widened and rebuilt.

Frank F. Prescott also favored widening.

Ex-Councilman Elisha Packard was the only remonstrant. He appeared as a representative of Col. A. B. Packard, the owner on the north side, who was opposed to the widening. He did not object to the acceptance of the street, but thought it might be rebuilt at its present width without a sidewalk on the north side. If a sidewalk was demanded he would be willing to be assessed one-half. Packard & Co. now had none too much room for their business, and it would be expensive to move back the buildings and rebuild furnaces in the foundry. The company did not use Cottage avenue in its business, doing all the loading and unloading on their own grounds.

In reply to cross questions Mr. Packard said he could not answer for Frank C. Packard relative to abolishing his Cottage avenue sidewalk. He admitted coal was delivered to the company from Cottage avenue, the team standing on the sidewalk. Some of the teams stopped at the Cottage avenue entrance. Would not care if Cottage avenue was closed to travel. Did not feel guilty in using street because abutters on south side gave the land.

The hearing closed at 9 P. M., after a session of an hour and a half.

Recommended for Captaincy.

Another Quincy young man is to be rewarded for valor. The Boston Journal says: At the battle of Tien-Tsin, China, which was fought in July of last year, the Ninth United States Infantry was engaged, and had a heavier loss than any American regiment has experienced since the Civil War, losing 25 per cent. of its men engaged and 37 per cent. of its officers.

First Lieutenant Edward A. Bumpus of Quincy was one of the 14 officers engaged. A recommendation has been forwarded to the War Department by the officers in command that he be made Brevet Captain on account of his action in this engagement, namely, "For conspicuous gallantry, coolness and heroism, being with the extreme advance and inspiring his men with his example throughout the day.

CHUBBUCK STREET.

The Committee on Streets gave a hearing Wednesday evening on the widening of Chubbuck street from 35 to 50 feet.

Ex-Councilman T. H. Newcomb favored. He said street had been opened about 25 years, having previously been a lane for part of the distance. It had received very little improvement. The amount of travel of late made the widening necessary. The street was building up, and buildings were located near the street. As Chubbuck street will be the main thoroughfare to the shipyard it should be widened now. Probably there would be no grade damages, and there would be no buildings to move.

W. G. A. Pattee said he was not a petitioner, but he had recently become an abutter. He favored the widening as it was to become the main artery and sooner or later must be widened.

Now was the opportune time before buildings were erected. In reply to questions, he said he was not willing to give the necessary land, and would not set a value on it.

Richard E. Raycroft favored the widening but thought it should be on the easterly side, where it would be less expensive. The time for the widening was last year when the Chubbuck street extension was built. Then no building abutted the easterly line of street. He had property on both sides of the street. No improvements had been made on the street since J. Q. A. Field was Selectman.

George Phillip, an abutter, favored, because teaming seemed to demand it. He was not willing to give land.

Henry Totman favored. Personally it would be no benefit to his estate but there was three times the travel over the street there was a year ago. If Cleverly court was extended there would not be so much need of widening. He was not willing to give land for widening.

Frank F. Crane favored. It was not a question, he said of a few land damages. I gave the land for the Chubbuck street extension, expecting, the present street would be widened and rebuilt. It was the whole city which would benefit. It was the intention of C. E. Ford to build in the near future on this street 23 houses. About the only criticism of President Watson of the Fore River Ship Company, was that Quincy did not build enough houses.

Better streets will attract better buildings. He knew it to be a fact that 50,000 tons of freight had been ordered by the Ship Company to be delivered within eight months. It was absurd to compare Cleverly court extension with Chubbuck street. The latter was more direct and would cost less.

Mr. Spiers, representing the Biggar estate favored widening on the east side but objected to taking land on his side of street. Not willing to give any land.

No remonstrants appeared.

Gillis vs. Pierre.

William Pierre, who was in court Tuesday, upon complaint of John H. Gillis, for disturbing the peace and fined, was in court again today upon another complaint sworn out by Gillis, charging him with assault. The evidence was that after the trial Gillis and St. Pierre left the court room about the same time, and as they reached the sidewalk, St. Pierre kicked Gillis in the ankle. Chief of Police Hayden and others saw the alleged assault. St. Pierre testifying in his own behalf said that he did not kick Gillis but hit him in the ankle accidentally. The court took a different view of the case, however, and imposed a fine of $7, which St. Pierre paid.

Accused of Setting Fires.

Jabez Bigelow, William E. Pinel and David Lee, three South Quincy boys were in the juvenile court this morning charged with arson. It is alleged that the three boys were the ones who set fire to the old Baxter building on Franklin street, May 9, and two of the three, it is also alleged, are those who set fire to the same building on March 14. Inspector Warren W. Adams of the Fire Marshal's office had the three boys before the Fire Marshal last week, and it is alleged one of the three confessed to having set the fire, The Pinel and Lee boys were arraigned upon complaint for setting the fires of March 14 and May 9, and the Bigelow boy for setting the fire May 9. The Bigelow boy was placed on probation, and the cases against the other two boys were continued until next Thursday.

RICH AND CLASSIC RACE

Historic Brooklyn Handicap at Gravesend, N. Y., May 25.

ENTRIES, WEIGHTS AND JOCKEYS.

Kinley Mack and Ethelbert Carry Highest Impost—Why a Three-year-old Will Have Difficulty In Winning the Big Purse.

The famous Brooklyn Handicap will be run May 25 at Gravesend, N. Y. This race is one of the most important events of the running turf in the east. Although the stakes in other races may be higher and the entries more numerous, the Brooklyn Handicap has held the patronage of the public since the day in 1887 when the first of the series was won by Dry Monopole in the fast time of 2:07.

ETHELBERT. BANASTAR.

The entries for the handicap this year are of a very high order. Ethelbert, the spirited Eothen horse, and Kinley Mack, winner last season of both the Brooklyn and the Suburban Handicaps, are plainly the class of the race. McMeekin, Banastar, who recently won in the Metropolitan Handicap at Morris Park, N. Y.; Ildrim, and Charentus, however, will make a bold fight for the money.

The usual gossip to the effect that one of the 3-year-olds will win the Brooklyn has been going the rounds. The indulgence in such talk, however, is manifestly a waste of time, judging from the lessons of precedents. A 3-year-old has never yet landed first money in the Brooklyn and probably never will. Endurance and experience are prime factors in deciding this race. Older horses consequently have much in their favor.

As was to be expected, the handicapper has awarded Kinley Mack top weight, 128 pounds, and Ethelbert the second highest, 126 pounds. Banastar's victory in the Metropolitan has made him the choice of many for first place in the Brooklyn. He will run well unless his noteworthy ugly temper gets the control over him.

WINNIE O'CONNOR.

Charentas, with 107 pounds, and Brigadier, carrying 104, should do well. Reports from their respective stables state that they are in prime condition.

There have been fears expressed in many quarters that the presence of a number of the leading American jockeys in England would injure the big races in this country this year, but there are no grounds for such ideas. There are good riders a-plenty on this side of the pond, and the Brooklyn Handicap entrants will receive the best of piloting. Tommy Burns, Bullman, Odom, Spencer, who was recently reinstated by the Brooklyn Jockey club; Mounce, Winnie O'Connor, McCue, Henry, Slack, Mitchell and Shaw are some of the well known riders now in the east. Most of these men will have mounts in the Brooklyn.

Here is the list of entries for the Brooklyn Handicap and their weights:

	Weight.		Weight.
Kinley Mack	128	Beau Gallant	104
Ethelbert	126	King Bramble	104
Banastar	122	Kilogram	103
McMeekin	116	Vassal	102
Ildrim	116	Mischievous	100
Bannockburn	115	Withers	100
Standing	113	Bonnibert	100
Maximo Gomez	113	Toddy	100
Alcedo	112	Watercure	100
Raffaello	111	Herbert	99
Sidney Lucas	110	Bellario	98
Star Bright	110	Blues	98
Prince McClurg	108	Conroy	98
Gulden	108	All Gold	97
George Arnold	107	St. Simonian	97
Charentus	107	St. Finnan	95
Brigadier	104	Alsike	87

The "Parson" Predicts.

"Parson" Davies, the well known sporting man, says that if nothing goes amiss boxing is to be resumed at New Orleans before September. The "Parson" expects that the old Olympic Athletic club, where Jim Corbett defeated John L. Sullivan for the heavyweight title, will be reopened.

Marksmen Going Abroad.

The marksmen who have been selected for the American team which is to visit England to shoot a match with a team of English experts for the international championship and a $5,000 purse sail for Liverpool May 25.

Cockerill's Champion.

John F. Cockerill, the well known New York horseman, believes he has a speedway champion in Swift, 2:16¼, and he invites anybody and everybody who owns a trotter to meet him for a brush.

IN AMERICA.

Masonry Dates Back to the Year 1733 in Boston.

Next month Rural lodge of Mason of this city will have a two days' celebration of the centennial of its institution.

It is the purpose of the Daily Ledger in the meantime to give almost daily some reference to this popular fraternity:—its history, its origin, its advantages; its progress; its prominent members, etc. And especially incidents of 100 years ago, and also the history of Rural lodge.

Masonry in America dates back to 1733. Past Master Thomas Smith Webb in his history says: Upon application of a number of brethren residing in Boston, a warrant was granted by the right honorable and most worshipful Anthony, Lord Viscount Montague, Grand Master of Masons in England, dated the 30th day of April, 1733, appointing the Right Worshipful Henry Price, grand master in North America, with full power and authority to appoint his deputy, and other Masonic officers necessary for forming a grand lodge; and also to constitute lodges of free and accepted Masons, as often as occasion should require.

The consequence of this commission, the Grand Master opened a grand lodge in Boston, sometimes called (the Grand Lodge of Modern Masons), on the 30th of July, 1733, in due form, and appointed the Right Worshipful Andrew Belcher deputy grand master, the Worshipful Thomas Kennelly and John Buann, grand wardens.

The Grand Lodge being thus organized, under the designation of St. John's Grand Lodge, proceeded to grant warrants for instituting regular lodges in various parts of America and from this Grand Lodge, originated the first lodges in Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Barbadoes, Antigua, Newfoundland, Louisburg, Nova Scotia, Quebec, Surinam, and St. Christopher."

A Sweet Time.

A serious accident happened Tuesday in front of Timberlake & Small's grocery store. Two clerks were lifting a great hogshead of molasses from an express team, and just as the hogshead was equally balanced it slipped, and very nearly killed the two men who were lifting it. As it was, the clerks escaped without injury, but the molasses valued at $55, fell crashing to the ground and not one drop of the contents was saved, as both heads came off the hogshead. The odor of molasses was so strong along the street the hose was used freely to alleviate the result of the disaster.

Home Science.

The annual meeting of the Quincy Home science association was held Wednesday at the First church chapel. After a preliminary business meeting at which encouraging reports were made, Mrs. Wilson Marsh read an interesting paper on Manual training, and Supt. Parlin of the public schools gave a talk on the relations of the Home Science work to the public schools. It was announced that the prize of $10 for the best essay on Home Science work had been awarded Mrs. James H. Slade. A more complete report of the meeting will appear in the Patriot and Saturday Ledger.

Fire Drill.

The Quincy Point fire company responded to the test of Box 73 (D) yesterday afternoon and witnessed the work of the Fore River fire company. The promptness and efficiency of the new company were reported as excellent, a stream of water being thrown on one building in one minute, and on an other at the further part of the works in three minntes.

Grammar League.

The Gridley Bryants continue their winning streak, defeating the Lincoln Wednesday. Willard drubbed Adams, and Hancock defeated Coddington at the park. The scores:

John Hancock, 22; Coddington, 12.
Gridley Bryant, 24; Lincoln, 1.
Willard, 15; Adams, 2.

The standing to date is as follows:

	Played.	Won.	Lost.	Per cent.
Gridley Bryant,	5	5	0	100
Coddington,	5	3	2	60
John Hancock,	5	3	2	60
Willard,	5	3	2	60
Lincoln,	5	1	4	20
Adams,	5	0	5	00

The next games will be played Saturday.

No Loss of Time

I have sold Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea, Remedy for years, and would rather be out of coffee and sugar than it. I sold five bottles of it yesterday to threshers that could go no farther, and they are at work again this morning.—H. R. PHELPS, Plymouth, Oklahoma. As will be seen by the above the threshers were able to keep on with their work without losing a single day's time. You should keep a bottle of this Remedy in your home. For sale by all druggists.

May Festival.

The closing night of the May festival of the Washington street church was even more successful than the opening night. An excellent salad supper was served and enjoyed by a large number. For an entertainment the force in one act, entitled "The obstinate family" was cleverly presented by the following cast:

Mr. Harwood—Harford's father-in law, Peter P. Gomez.
Mrs. Harwood—Harford's mother-in-law, Miss Addie Holton.
Henry Harford Mr. Herbert Holmes.
Jessie Harford—His wife, Miss Alice Newcomb.
James—Harford's servant Mr. John Green.
Lucy—A servant Mrs. Herbert Holmes,

The children who took part in the musical recreation of Tuesday evening were: Viola Hayden, Emma Hayden, Josie French, Esther Sidelinger, Helen Lincoln, Helen Sherburne, Evelyn Newcomb, Eleanor Crane, Estelle Tirrell, Marion Tirrell, Ethel Hersey, Lauretta Lowe, Beatrice Lowe, Ruth Dole, Winfred Hayden, Irving Hayden, Isley Dole, Alfred Brown, Russell Newcomb, Ellsworth Lines and Charlie French.

New Quincy Point Bridge.

Quincy Point residents are inquiring when work is to be commenced on the new bridge between Quincy Point and North Weymouth. The act passed in 1900, authorizing this bridge, provides that the County Commissioners shall construct the bridge within two years from the first day of January 1901. Nearly five months of the time has elapsed and nothing apparently has been done. The bridge will probably be constructed by the Berlin Bridge Co., this firm being the lowest bidder. Mayor Hall when seen in relation to the bridge, said that the delay was caused by the failure of the abutters to sign releases of land taken. He thought, however, that the matter would be adjusted very soon now and that work would not be long delayed.

Bouds Placed at $7,000.

Charles A. Belcher of Braintree was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Farrell and Officer Morrissey at his home in Braintree this morning. Three of the warrants which were served upon him were sworn out by Nancy T. Morrison of Newburyport, which alleged the larceny of $1000 Jan. 2, 1897; $1200, Aug. 1, 1899, and $1,200, Feb. 21, 1899; The fourth warrant was sworn out by Mary A. Spaulding of Braintree and alleges the larceny of $2000 Sept. 22, 1898.

His counsel was summoned by telephone, and arrived on the noon train. Belcher was then arraigned upon the four complaints and was held in $7,000 until next Wednesday.

A Murder Indictment

Bridgeport, Conn., May 16.—The grand jury in the superior court yesterday returned an indictment of murder in the first degree against Josephine Zavatsky. The woman is accused of having strangled her child, aged 5 months.

Popular Actor Breaks Down

Boston, May 16.—Louis Aldrich, the actor, who has been the president and chief worker in the actors' fund, has broken down under nervous prostration. He came here from Atlantic City two weeks ago to secure treatment.

Another Strike at Havana

Havana, May 16.—The stevedores and lightermen yesterday went out on a general strike against Zalmo & Co., who control the lighter privileges in Havana harbor. The strikers have several grievances.

To Open Isolation Hospital

Leominster, Mass., May 16.—Up to last evening no new cases of smallpox had been reported. The board of health has decided to open an isolation hospital.

Want Raise of a Dollar

New York, May 16.—More than 400 custom shoemakers employed in this city went on strike yesterday. The men are receiving $5 for each piece of work they complete, but they demand $6. This figure the employers refuse, and the strike is the result.

Young Swindler Sentenced

Portland, Me., May 16.—Frank Willey, the Salem, Mass., boy, who was arrested here several days ago, charged with obtaining money under false pretences from clergymen, was yesterday sentenced to 60 days in jail.

Shortly after 8 o'clock Wednesday evening a pigeon flew into Hearn's drug store and alighted on the settee. It was taken up and upon examination found to be a carrier pigeon. On one of its legs was a silver band upon which was engraved N. H. 1628. The pigeon will be cared for until its owner is heard from.

Ex-Commissioner John T. Cavanagh is exhibiting a relic of Spanish rule in Havana, which he obtained on a recent trip there. It is a wooden shield representing the coat of arms of Spain, and occupied a position over the chair of the president of the board of aldermen in the room that was later used by General Weyler as an office.

In Boston District.

There seems to be a new plan every day for the new Congressional districts, but that today is the one reported by the sub-committee of the committee of the Legislature, and accepted by the general committee. As the committee voted not to put Chelsea in the Ninth district, Quincy and Milton will continue in the Tenth district which it is proposed to make up as follows:

City of Quincy.
Town of Milton.
Boston, Ward 13.
Ward 14.
Ward 15.
Ward 16.
Ward 17.
Ward 20.
Ward 24.

It will be seen that Ward 13 of Boston is added, while Wards 12, 18 and 19 of the present Tenth district are dropped.

The Congressional vote of the new Tenth district at the last election was: Republican, 13,235; Democratic, 18,874; a Democratic plurality of 5,639.

A REMEDY FOR THE GRIPPE.

A remedy recommended for patients afflicted with the Grippe is KEMP'S BALSAM, which is especially adapted for the throat and lungs. Don't wait for the first symptoms of the disease! get a bottle today and keep it for use the moment it is needed. If neglected the grippe has a tendency to bring on pneumonia. KEMP'S BALSAM prevents this by keeping the cough loose, lungs free from inflammation. All druggists sell KEMP'S BALSAM at 25c. and 50c.

ANOTHER EXCITING DAY

But Troops Apparently Control Situation at Albany

A DRAMATIC SPECTACLE

Furnished by Wild Ride of Non-Union Men Through the City Under Powerful Guard—Bricks and Sabres Brought Into Active Use

Albany, May 16.—Both the strikers and the railway people claim that there has been no further attempt at negotiations for a settlement. The company says that it will proceed to move cars today under guard of the soldiers, and General Roe, in command of the troops, says he will assist to the best of his ability.

Two thousand armed soldiers are now within the city limits, more are coming and 2500 are in readiness to move to Troy when Governor Odell so orders. The streets are thronged with excited men, women and children. As long as the Traction company does not attempt to move cars or bring in non-union men, the crowds on the street remain good-natured, except for taunting the soldiers and police, but the instant an attempt is made to work on the lines or bring non-union men in, the crowd becomes frenzied and bloodshed results.

Citizens sabre-slashed, non-union men with broken limbs and bloody faces, women and children trampled under foot, soldiers maimed with flying missiles and leaders in the crowds beaten with muskets were some of the results of yesterday.

Mob and militia clashed late in the afternoon, but, fortunately, there were no serious casualties. Seventy-five non-union men reached the Union depot shortly before 6 o'clock, and their delivery at the Quail street barn, a mile and a half away, was a dash under cavalry escort, with mob resistance on almost every block. Frenzied people swarmed through the police lines, surged around the fast moving cavalrymen and fought to get at the cowed non-union men inside the circle of galloping horses.

Several men were cut down by the cavalrymen, but the record does not yet show a single fatality. In the mad ride through the streets few of the non-unionists escaped the flying bricks and stones, but less than a dozen were badly hurt. The courage of nearly a dozen of the non-union men failed them in the opening spurt through the turbulent crowds, and they sprang from the wagons and were lost in the crowd.

The ride of the non-union men through the city was the dramatic spectacle of the day. Their coming was no secret and the plan was evidently for an open, daylight movement with arms enough to awe the crowd.

Fifty policemen cleared the streets, but the walls of humanity on the sidewalks could not be moved. Men and boys climbed awnings and poles and every window in the surrounding building framed half a dozen faces. Into an alley way that runs along the south side of the Union depot were driven four open trucks. Suddenly a side door of the depot was thrown open, and up the alleyway toward the waiting teams marched the non-union men. For a moment there was no demonstration, but the failing courage of the newcomers showed in their blanched faces and in the way they crouched when they climbed into the awkward wagons that waited to carry them on the wildest ride they will ever know.

When all were aboard, the drivers brought the teams out into the street, and the cavalry closed around them. Then, at a signal, every whip descended, every spur was driven home and the race was on.

High up in a window on the top floor of a Broadway building a wildly excited man barked out an imprecation on the heads of the luckless fellows below him, and 10,000 voices echoed the cry and the maddened mob took up the terrible chase. The police blocked the streets in solid phalanx, but were swept aside. The fighting, swirling crowd caught one cavalryman and swung him out of line He beat himself free with the back of his blade and went galloping on. Then came a volley of bricks. Three of the non-union men sprang from the rear wagon and mingled with the crowd.

The flying column held its way and dashed into State street for the run up the hill, past the capitol. Here the crowd plunged in around the galloping horses. Another rider was cut off, and brought his sabre down on the face of one of his antagonists. A line of blood marked where he struck.

Sixteen of the strike breakers were injured during the ride and many of them, stunned, weak and scared, had to be helped from the wagons. Of the 16 injured men, only one was sent to the hospital. The strikers say that 18 strike breakers deserted during the desperate ride, and that less than 50 were safely landed in the barn.

In a hollow square of infantry, protected by lines of pickets that reached into every bisecting street, and an outer skirmish line in circular form that encompassed all, the traction tower wagon was moved out of the Quail street barn at 4 o'clock, and two hours were spent in repairing trolley wires. The heavy force of guardsmen and the stringency of the protective measures seemed to awe the crowds, and there was no disorder, though the soldiers were jeered and derided.

The wrecked cars on Quail street were fired last night after the picket line was drawn in. An alarm was sent in and a chemical engine quickly put the fire out.

WIELDED A RAZOR

Would-Be Murderer at Springfield Succeeds In killing Himself

Springfield, Mass., May 16.—Charles J. Bloss committed suicide by cutting his throat with a razor after an unsuccessful attempt to kill his wife with the same weapon, in their home on Bridge street yesterday afternoon. The tragedy was the outcome of a long debauch, which culminated in a family quarrel just before the affair took place.

Bloss lost his position as driver for the water department last week and ever since that time there has been more or less family trouble which resulted in Mrs. Bloss threatening to leave him. When Bloss came home yesterday noon he found his wife packing her trunk, and upon being told that she was going to secure work to support herself and three children, he became enraged.

He dragged her into a bedroom and, throwing her on the bed, slashed at her with a razor. She managed to fight him off, but in the struggle was severely cut on the chin and fingers. After her wounds had been cared for she was able to be about again.

Bloss, evidently thinking that he had killed his wife, rushed to a woodshed where he cut his own throat, and then hid in the cellar, where he was found by a patrolman. He had inflicted a ghastly wound in his neck, and severed the arteries. A physician was summoned, but the man died about 20 minutes later.

Woman Shot by Boarder

Holyoke, Mass., May 16.—Mrs. Helena Fearing, 28, who keeps a boarding house, was shot and seriously, if not fatally, wounded last night by Frank B. Paltz, a young Frenchman, who boarded with her. Paltz was captured directly after the shooting. No reason for the act of Platz could be learned definitely. Mrs. Fearing is a widow and has two small children, aged 9 and 6, who were taken in charge by neighbors directly after the shooting. Paltz, who can talk but little English, claims that the shooting was accidental.

Alleged Theft From Navy Yard

Boston, May 16.—Frank E. Eldridge, an employe of the yards and docks department at the Charlestown navy yard and the son of the foreman of the mechanical and laboring force of that department, was arrested yesterday on a warrant charging him with larceny of property from the yard, and held in $1500 for his appearance later. He was bailed by his father. It is claimed that stealing has been going on systematically at the yard, and secret service men have been sent there.

Clearing Out Liquor Places

Dover, N. H., May 16.—County Solicitor Scott continued his liquor crusade here last evening. Officers visited the Hotel Lookout, where they seized a quantity of whisky, and Andrew Lynch, the proprietor, was arrested. At the Dover Point House, five miles from the city, a quantity of beer was found. Solicitor Scott declares it his purpose to continue his war upon such places until they are driven out of the liquor business.

Probable Launching on Saturday

Boston, May 16.—All is in readiness for the launching of the Independence. The ways are completed and the cradle built. It is guesswork to predict when the yacht will speed down the ways, but the probabilities are that it will be on Saturday night. The tide will be high at 11:27 o'clock, and the possibility of a big crowd assembling is small.

Wandered Away and Died

Taunton, Mass., May 16.—A searching party yesterday found the body of Frank Hackett, aged 50, in a swamp hole about a quarter of a mile from his home. Hackett wandered away from his home on the night of May 13, clad only in his underclothing. He had been ill, which culminated in temporary insanity.

A Series of Knockdowns

Providence, May 16.—Charlie O'Rourke of Cambridge disposed of John E. B. Butler, the colored fighter of Lynn, in the second round of a contest scheduled to go 15 rounds at Thornton last night. Butler was outclassed in every way, and was knocked down seven times in the second round.

Mill Had to Close

Fall River, Mass., May 16.—The Granite mill No. 2 is shut down as a result of an accident to the big engine which runs the machinery in the mill. The crosshead of the engine broke clear off, doing considerable damage to other parts of the engine and engine house. No one was injured.

Barney Exceeds Requirements

Bath, Me., May 16.—The torpedo boat Barney went out on her official sea trial yesterday, and in a two hours' run made an average of 29.1 knots, against the required speed of 28 knots. The members of the trial board said that the run was satisfactory, and that the craft behaved finely.

Coopers Returning to Work

Rockland, Me., May 16.—The two score of coopers who struck in this city the first of the week will probably all be at work again today, under the old conditions. A portion of them abandoned the strike yesterday, and the rest are expected to do so today.

Whooping Cough.

A woman who has had experience with this disease tells how to prevent any dangerous consequences from it. She says: Our three children took whooping cough last summer, our baby boy being only three months old, and owing to our giving them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, they lost none of their plumpness and came out in much better health than other children whose parents did not use this remedy. Our oldest little girl would call lustily for cough syrup between whoops.—JESSIE PINKEY HALL, Springville, Ala. This Remedy is for sale by all druggists.

A FOOLHARDY MINER

Causes the Death of Six Men and Fatal Injuries to Five Others

Fairmont, W. Va., May 16.—Six miners lost their lives, five were fatally injured and three seriously burned in an explosion at the shaft of the George's Creek Coal and Iron company at Farmington yesterday.

The George's Creek company mine was only recently put into operation, and about 125 men were employed, only 40 of this number being underground. Fifteen men yesterday were assigned to a portion of the mine that has been worked for some time. One of these men, it is alleged, had smuggled a torch into the mine, as it gave much better light than the safety lamps prescribed by the company. He did not heed the frequent warnings of a fellow workman, who warned him of the risk. When the miner fired a shot, the smoke caught fire and the explosion resulted. The explosion vented itself through the air shaft, and almost demolished the building on the surface in which the air fan was located. The air was soon turned on, and in a short time the headings were cleared of foul gases, and the work of rescue commenced. It was 5 o'clock before the work was concluded.

A Denver Sensation

Denver, May 16.—Mrs. Martha Ewart, who shot ineffectively at Joseph K. Choate, president of the Denver Cotton Mills company, Tuesday night, was released on bond of $500 yesterday. Information was filed in the criminal court charging Mrs. Ewart with attempted murder. Choate's attorney says that in June, 1900, Mrs. Ewart filed a suit for breach of promise against Choate. To avoid publicity, although denying liability, Choate settled with her, paying her $4000. Tuesday evening she went to the Choate residence, demanding additional money on her claim. Choate accompanied her to his attorney's office, where the shooting occurred later. Choate was married to Miss Alice Muller at Brooklyn last February.

Was Four Days Adrift

Canso, N. S., May 16.—Charles Winters of Gloucester arrived here yesterday, having landed in a dory at Whitehead. He reports he got astray from the American schooner Lizzie M. Stanwood, while single handling on the western banks. He was without food for four days.

An Alleged Poisoner

Mount Holly, N. J., May 16.—Mrs. May Haines, against whom the grand jury found an indictment charging her with the murder of her stepdaughter by means of poison, yesterday pleaded not guilty to the indictment and was remanded to jail for trial.

Sciatic Rheumatism Cured After Fourteen Years of Suffering.

"I have been afflicted with sciatic rheumatism for fourteen years," says Josh Edgar, of Germantown, Cal. "I was able to be around but constantly suffered. I tried everything I could hear of and at last was told to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which I did and was immediately relieved and in a short time cured, and I am happy to say it has not since returned." Why not use this liniment and get well? It is for sale by all druggists.

Acquitted of Murder Charge

Williamson, W. Va., May 16.—The jury in the case of S. D. Stokes, who was placed on trial here yesterday, charged with the murder of Rev. J. Well, a Presbyterian minister, last November, last night brought in a verdict of not guilty. The evidence showed that Stokes shot in self-defense.

Marital Unhappiness

New York, May 16.—This city's divorce record was broken yesterday when 110 undefended cases were on the calendar before Justice Gildersleeve. The highest number on any previous day's calendar was 86.

LOOKING BACK

To the time when she was plucked from the very grasp of death, the natural impulse of the womanly heart is thankfulness for the means which saved her, and a desire to help other women in like case. Those are the motives which prompted Mrs. Eva Burnett to write the accompanying testimonial to the curative power of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This is only one cure out of thousands. No one would dare say that the average woman was not as truthful as she is good. And it is the truthful testimony of the average woman that "Favorite Prescription" cures womanly diseases when all other means and medicines absolutely fail. It establishes regularity, dries the drains which weaken women, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It tranquilizes the nerves, restores the appetite and induces refreshing sleep.

"I have intended for some time to write to you," says Mrs. Eva Burnett, of Russellville, Logan Co., Ky., "and give a testimonial in regard to what your medicine has done for me. My baby came in July, 1899, and I had congestive chills, and lay at death's door for ten long weeks. I was in a dreadful condition and had six of the best doctors of the city. After everything had been done and I had been given up to die I asked my husband to get me a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. He had no faith in it, but he got it, and when I had taken it two weeks I was able to walk to the dining room to my meals, and by the time I had taken three bottles I was able to cook for my family of four. I can never praise Dr. Pierce and his medicine enough."

A Legitimate Investment

Which Increased Over 700 per cent.

WITHIN SIX MONTHS.

The Arcola Oil Company's stock sold for $135 per 1,000 shares, and in six months $1,000 per 1,000 shares was refused for the stock, for the reason that the first well was a large producer and there is room for forty wells on the Company's land, which makes it about certain that the stock in the near future will be worth ten dollars per share.

We offer you the same opportunity for a large gain by investing in the Dirigo Oil Company's stock, the first block of which is being sold for $150 per 1,000 shares. The Company owns a block of land adjoining the Arcola Company's land which has large producing wells on all four sides. There is eighty acres of the Company's land in the center of the oil belt, which we feel absolutely certain will give a large producing well in each acre.

We now have machinery on the ground, and are ready to sink the first well, and expect to strike oil by June 1st, which will then make the stock worth par value, if the well is as good a producer as the Arcola.

The block of stock we are selling is about three-quarters sold and quick application will have to be made to secure any of it at the present price.

MRS. M'KINLEY'S CONDITION CRITICAL

Has Had a Bad Sinking Spell and Another Would Prove Fatal---Salt Injections Used.

San Francisco, May 17.—Mrs. McKinley is in the shadow of the valley of death, and may pass away at any moment.

Yesterday morning, shortly before dawn, she sank rapidly, and it was feared she would die before restoratives could be administered, but she responded to the powerful heart stimulants that were given to her, and during the day improved to such an extent that hope for her recovery, slight though it was, revived. But her life hangs by a thread.

The new treatment for low vitality, salt injections into the veins, was administered to Mrs. McKinley, and she responded to the treatment. She has taken no solid food since she reached here on Sunday, and the physicians do not believe she could survive another sinking spell such as she experienced yesterday morning. She suffers little and bears up bravely. During her periods of consciousness her mind has been clear.

Every banquet and public function planned in the president's honor here has been abandoned, and the city, with heavy heart, is watching Mrs. McKinley's battle for life. If the end should come, the president and his party will be ready to start back with the remains within 24 hours.

All the members of the cabinet, with the possible exception of Secretary Long, will remain here to the end. His daughter is very ill at Colorado Springs, and he is very apprehensive that he may be called there at any time.

At 10 p. m. Dr. Hirschfelder went home for the night. He said that he felt that Mrs. McKinley was decidedly improved. Secretary Cortelyou announced that no further bulletins would be given out unless unexpected developments should take place.

A special Western Union wire was stretched into the Scott house yesterday. Inside the house two telegraph operators are kept busy answering the president's correspondence. Outside in the park a telephone booth is being erected, to facilitate communication between the different newspapers and their representatives stationed outside the house.

Mrs. McKinley's present illness began shortly after she left El Paso. She had stood the trip remarkably well up to that time, with the exception of a slight period of depression during the stay at New Orleans. That, however, soon passed away, and she felt unusually well throughout the trip across the state of Texas until El Paso was reached. At that place a bone felon made its first appearance and proved very trying upon her nerves, as well as giving her much pain. The heat and dust of the long, desert stretch through New Mexico and Arizona, was a severe strain upon her strength.

Before Los Angeles was reached the felon had been lanced once by Dr. Rixey. At the latter place her illness was still further complicated by a severe attack of bowel trouble. But she bore up bravely, and insisted upon trying to fulfil the social obligations which fell upon her. The tax upon her strength was too great and after leaving Los Angeles it became apparent that Mrs. McKinley was a very sick woman. By the time Del Monte was reached she was in almost a complete state of collapse. The dysentery did not yield to treatment, and Dr. Rixey and the president became genuinely alarmed. Since her arrival here Mrs. McKinley has taken no solid food whatever, and the doctors have not been able to completely check the dysentery.

Except by reputation, the president knew nothing of Dr. Hirschfelder, whom Mr. Scott advised should be called in as consulting physician, and this worried him considerably. After Mrs. McKinley had been here only 24 hours, without noticeable improvement, the president asked Mr. Scott what his opinion of Dr. Hirschfelder was.

"He is brutally frank," replied Mr. Scott.

"I shall have a talk with him," said the president. He took Dr. Hirschfelder into an adjoining room and they were together for some time. Afterwards the president remarked to Mr. Scott that the opinion he had expressed of Dr. Hirschfelder's frankness agreed with his own. From that conversation with Dr. Hirschfelder dated the president's first genuine alarm over the termination of his wife's illness.

Sympathy of Englishmen

London, May 17.—All the morning papers refer editorially in terms of the deepest sympathy to the illness of Mrs. McKinley, recalling the sympathy displayed by both the president and his wife when Queen Victoria died.

Sarah Boyle's Body Found

Lawrence, Mass., May 17.—The body of Sarah Boyle of this city was found floating in the north canal yesterday. A slight discoloration over the right eye caused a rumor to circulate that a crime had been committed. Acting Medical Examiner Dow feels confident, however, that it is a case of suicide. The woman has been missing since May 6.

Fatal Burning Accidents

Pawtucket, R. I., May 17.—James Meehan, 6 years old, was playing with a torch made of paper, when his clothing became ignited, and he was fatally burned.

Brattleboro, Vt., May 17.—Fannie Thomas, 2 years old, set fire to her clothing while left alone yesterday, and was fatally burned.

Launching Will Be Private

Boston, May 17.—The yacht Independence will not be launched publicly on Saturday night at the Atlantic works as anticipated. Mr. Lawson states that the facilities and surroundings of the yard make it positively dangerous if many people attend, and the necessary depth of water is only at night.

Forgot Current Was On

Worcester, Mass., May 17.—Joseph E. Laclair, 41 years old, was electrocuted and instantly killed last night while at work on a light pole. Fifty-five hundred volts passed through him. He forgot the current was on and formed a circuit with the lamp on which he was working.

Cutlery Forgers Quit Work

Northampton, Mass., May 17.—The 50 forgers employed by the three cutleries in Bay State village went out yesterday on strike, demanding 10 hours' pay for nine hours' work—$3 per day. The forgers working by the piece have also quit work in sympathy with the strikers.

Succumbed to His Injuries

Somerville, Mass., May 17.—Martin B Kilduff, who was severely injured in the railroad accident in this city May 9 died yesterday from the result of his injuries. Kilduff had his skull fractured. He was 34 years old, married and lived in Waltham.

Took Her Life With Gas

North Attleboro, Mass., May 17.—Mrs. Alice Freeman committed suicide by inhaling illuminating gas yesterday. She attached a tube to a gas jet and when discovered she was dead. Temporary insanity is believed to have caused the act.

Missing Since May 9

Andover, Mass., May 17.—C. E. Starbuck, the Harvard sophomore, who disappeared last Thursday, is still missing. The last seen of Starbuck was on the Harvard grounds at 11 a. m., on May 9

Corbett's Saloon Closed by Police

New York, May 17.—James J. Corbett's saloon on Broadway was closed by the police this morning. After 1 o'clock, the hour for closing, the officers entered the place and cleared it. Corbett protested, making a speech to the crowd outside and charging personal spite in the closing of his place, while others were allowed to remain open after hours.

Explosion Was Unavoidable

Fairmont, W. Va., May 17.—The coroner's jury which has been investigating the Farmington mine disaster, by which seven men were killed and several probably fatally injured, returned a verdict that the explosion was due to dust and was unavoidable.

Sciatic Rheumatism Cured After Fourteen Years of Suffering.

"I have been afflicted with sciatic rheumatism for fourteen years," says Josh Edgar, of Germantown, Cal. "I was able to be around but constantly suffered. I tried everything I could hear of and at last was told to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which I did and was immediately relieved and in a short time cured, and I am happy to say it has not since returned." Why not use this liniment and get well? It is for sale by all druggists.

HEAD CRUSHED IN

Subject For Hypnotic Influence Meets With a Terrible Fate

Woonsocket, R. I., May 17.—During an exhibition of hypnotism, given by Frank E. Farnsworth and wife of Fitchburg at the local Opera House last night, one of the subjects, Thomas Bolton, also of Fitchburg, was killed. Bolton was a member of the Farnsworth company and was resting between two chairs with a 600 pound stone placed on his body, when a local blacksmith, Clifford Trask, attempted to break the stone with a sledgehammer.

After Trask had given the stone two heavy blows and succeeded in cracking it, the chair on which Bolton's head rested gave way under the weight of the stone, and the subject fell to the floor, the stone crushing Bolton's head almost to a jelly. He died shortly after.

Farnsworth and Trask were arrested. Both of them will be held pending an investigation.

Bolton was 24 years old. He had been travelling with Farnsworth as one of his subjects, and intended to go home Saturday of this week, as the company was then to conclude its season.

Trask is about 22 years of age and an unusually powerful man. Farnsworth, during his exhibition, called upon volunteers to assist him, and Trask responded. He is a popular young man, and feels very badly over the incident. Farnsworth has been accompanied by three subjects for hypnotic influence, and Bolton has generally given his exhibition each night. On account of the small attendance in the Opera House last night he wished to have it cut out of the program, but it was decided to carry out the different features of the program, and the accident resulted.

To Prevent Conflicting Reports

Jacksonville, Fla., May 17.—At a meeting of the Relief association yesterday it was deemed necessary to create an authoritative channel through which must be sent all information relating to our suffering people. A press representative was appointed in the person of Bishop Edwin G. Weed, and the Associated Press as the channel of transmission of the appeals and statements of the needs of the people. So the public is informed that all statements as to our needs, all requests and all proclamations, unless sent by Bishop Weed's direct authority, are not to be given credence by the people and in no way voice the organization that is charged with the relief work at Jacksonville.

Balfour's Sensational Statement

London, May 17.—In the course of a speech in the house of commons last night, Mr. Balfour made the statement that at one moment toward the end of 1899 there were in Great Britain only 3300 rounds of small arm ammunition, with no reserve of artillery ammunition except what was actually with the guns retained at home. The Liberal papers refer to Mr. Balfour's sensational statement as "an alarming indiscretion."

O'Brien Whacks at Wyndham

Dublin, May 17.—The Irish People, William O'Brien's paper, contains a nine-column attack upon Mr. Wyndham, the Irish secretary, for the recent seizure of the paper because of its insulting reference to King Edward. The general policy of Wyndham is also assailed. Bitter words are used with reference to Mr. Wyndham, who, in conclusion is called "a liar, sneak and backbiter." Nothing is said against the king.

Can't Fight In Wisconsin

Oskosh, Wis., May 17.—In deference to the mandate of Governor Lafollette, the boxing contest scheduled to take place last night between Jack Root and Kid Carter was declared off. The governor's orders to the county officers declared that each of them would be held accountable for a strict enforcement of the law, and that no excuse would be accepted for any failure on their part.

Murder In Second Degree

New York, May 17.—The jury in the trial of John Quinn, the street car motorman, who has been on trial for the murder of Thomas Forsythe, a conductor on the same car with Quinn, last night returned a verdict of guilty of murder in the second degree. Quinn will be sentenced on Monday.

Brodrick's Scheme Adopted

London, May 17.—In winding up the debate on the army bill in the house of commons yesterday, Mr. Balfour denied that there was any large body of opinion hostile to the scheme of Secretary of War Brodrick. Brodrick's scheme was adopted, by a vote of 305 to 163.

Employing Machinists Yielding

Washington, May 17.—Late advices received by President O'Connell of the International Association of Machinists indicate that above 25 percent of the employing machinists throughout the country have agreed to the demands for shorter hours and increased pay.

The Kalgan Explosion

Berlin, May 17.—The war office has received a dispatch from Pekin concerning the explosion at the arsenal in Kalgan. The dispatch says that seven cavalrymen are missing or dead, and that three men, beside Lieutenant Kummer, were seriously wounded.

A Legitimate Investment
Which Increased Over 700 per cent.
WITHIN SIX MONTHS.

The Arcola Oil Company's stock sold for $135 per 1,000 shares, and in six months $1,000 per 1,000 shares was refused for the stock, for the reason that the first well was a large producer and there is room for forty wells on the Company's land, which makes it about certain that the stock in the near future will be worth ten dollars per share.

We offer you the same opportunity for a large gain by investing in the Dirigo Oil Company's stock, the first block of which is being sold for $150 per 1,000 shares. The Company owns a block of land adjoining the Arcola Company's land which has large producing wells on all four sides. There is eighty acres of the Company's land in the center of the oil belt, which we feel absolutely certain will give a large producing well in each acre.

We now have machinery on the ground, and are ready to sink the first well, and expect to strike oil by June 1st, which will then make the stock worth par value, if the well is as good a producer as the Arcola.

The block of stock we are selling is about three-quarters sold and quick application will have to be made to secure any of it at the present price.

Good Afternoon.

The City of Quincy was incorporated thirteen years ago today—May 17, 1888. A flourishing infant just entering her teens.

The Assessors are on their annual tour and will continue the walk until all the real estate has been inspected and its value estimated. In another column they advertise a notice which every tax payer should carefully read. Neglect to do so may result in annoyance, for the Assessors have a plain duty under the law, and they are sworn to perform it. Those who do not furnish lists of their taxable property cannot complain of the subsequent assessment by the board.

Quincy seems to take very little interest in the apportionment of the Congressional districts, although it is a Republican city, and the indications are that it will be placed in a hopelessly Democratic district. There are stronger reasons why Chelsea or Brookline should go with Boston than either Quincy or Milton. Chelsea is a part of Suffolk county as is Boston. Brookline is almost surrounded by Boston. Quincy and Milton during the past ten years have had too much Boston politics infused. Other communities kick and accomplish something, why should not the Republicans of Quincy and Milton get together and say what they want. The will find support in Dorchester.

Whether the "Quincy word list" is an improvement or not over the other spellers it is evident that it will lead to a more systematic study of words and their spelling which seems to be very much needed in our public schools. As editors of newspapers we see the writing of a large number of persons and pupils in our school. The poor spelling is not all confined to the pupils and many of the errors are amusing. Here are a few noted in a week: to for two, there for their, steem for steam, donuts for doughnuts, leaver for lever, jambed for jammed, illegale for illegal, partision for petition, etc. We firmly believe more attention should be given to spelling and compositions in our public schools and bespeak for Supt. Parlin's new work a great success.

The question of branch libraries and the transportation of books will be settled in Quincy when the trustees authorize an agent to make a house-to-house delivery. Here is part of a circular recently issued at Somerville outlining the plan: "The Somerville Public Library if sufficient encouragement is received proposes to organize a system of house-to-house delivery of books. For the sum of two cents—the usual price paid for a morning paper—any resident of Somerville, if this system is established can have a library book delivered to his door. A carrier will call at stated times to collect the library cards of the people and return the same day with the library books. The money received from these fees will go to the carrier to renumerate him for his service. But the carrier will be a responsible man and selected by the Library Trustees. It is hoped that this method of delivering books directly to the homes of the people may be adopted throughout the entire city.

—In the German Empire the percentage of persons living in cities of over 100,000 inhabitants has increased from 7.4 per cent in 1882 to 16.14 per cent in 1900.

TAKEN TO DEDHAM.

Real Fstate Agent Belcher Unable to Procure Bail.

Charles A. Belcher of Braintree who was arraigned in court Thursday for the larceny of $5400 from various persons was unable to procure the $7000 bail and was taken to Dedham.

Although the warrant served on Belcher Thursday only named $5400, the counsel for plaintiffs claim that this is but a small part of the amount involved, and that it will reach fully $40,000.

It is claimed that Belcher's custom has been to take parties, who had small amounts to invest in mortgages, to look at a house in Braintree worth from $4000 to $6000 and ask a mortgage of $1000 or $1200. As Belcher was quite well known as a real estate dealer, many of the investors would fail to have the titles looked up. The mortgages would be made out and the money delivered, and in a few months parties who had loaned money would discover that in many cases they had no title to the property. In other cases instead of being the first mortgage it would be the third. It is a noticable fact, however, that no person of financial standing had been coped in, as they were always careful to look up titles.

Attorneys engaged by victims have been a long time in securing Belcher's arrest. The first warrants were issued last January but were not served. That same month a petition was filed in the probate by his wife and brother for the appointment of a guardian for Belcher, it being claimed he was insane.

After some delay Judge Flint decided against the petitioners, believing Belcher to be sane. A few days before this, a Braintree officer made an attempt to arrest Belcher but he made such a violent demonstration that the policeman withdrew.

The next step was to appeal to the Supreme court for a writ of prohibition, restraining the justice of the District court from issuing any warrants against Belcher or serving those already sworn out. This application was denied by the Supreme court at a hearing held May 10.

Thursday the warrants for arrest were given to Deputy Sheriff Farrell, who accompanied by Officer Morrissey visited Belcher's home in Braintree. The Sheriff remained in the background while Officer Morrissey approached the house. Morrissey got his foot into the house when the door was opened and entered. He then called Sheriff Farrell and the warrants were served. Belcher at first seemed afflicted with hysteria but after a while calmed down and was brought to Quincy.

He acted strangely in court and at times appeared unconscious of his surroundings. Belcher is much changed from what he was a year ago, and even his intimate friends hardly knew him.

Later—Bail was secured for C. A. Belcher at Dedham today, and he was released from jail.

Looking for Trouble.

An enploye of the New England telephone and Telegraph Co., who is not a member of the union, was assaulted in City Square Thursday night. The man had just put up his team and started for 6 o'clock train for Boston when he was accosted by one of the union pickets. An argument ensued and there was a mix up in which the non union man is said to have got the worst of it.

Drift of Opinion.

☞ Syracuse has had an instructive lesson in good citizenship. The city wanted to raise a million dollars to pay off that amount of bonds and proposed to issue four per cent. bonds to the value of one million dollars; but a Mr. Chase reckoned that because of the premiums that amount of bonds would net more than the city needed for the specific purpose and he sets about to save the city from burdening itself with greater debt than was necessary. He secured an injuntion restraining the city from issuing any extra bonds, with the result that nine hundred and fifteen thousand dollars worth were found to be sufficient and the city was saved eighty-five thousand dollars. Thus was a good work accomplished; and the citizen with the interest and public spirit to accomplish it is one for other citizens to pattern after.—New Bedford Standard.

No Loss of Time

I have sold Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea, Remedy for years, and would rather be out of coffee and sugar than it. I sold five bottles of it yesterday to threshers that could go no farther, and they are at work again this morning.—H. R. PHELPS, Plymouth, Oklahoma. As will be seen by the above the threshers were able to keep on with their work without losing a single day's time. You should keep a bottle of this Remedy in your home. For sale by all druggists.

A single swallow will devour 6,000 flies in a day.

REPORTED BETTER.

Mrs. McKinley Passed a Good Night.

San Francisco, Cal., May 17, 10 A. M.—Mrs. McKinley, the wife of the President, passed a very good night, and appears much improved today, and the conditions are more encouraging. Mr. Scott, at whose residence President and Mrs. McKinley are stopping, is hopeful of her recovery.

THE W. R. C. FAIR.

Attractive Sale at Colonial Hall—Music by Wollaston Band.

Paul Revere Woman's Relief Corps successfully opened a three days fair Thursday night at Colonial hall. The hall is rather small for this purpose but the tables were arranged so as to give all the room possible. Being compact they made a good show and the hall looked very attractive. The tables were aranged around the sides of the room and were very prettily decorated with colored bunting while on the platform were several articles to be disposed of by books.

Early in the evening the Wollaston band gave a concert in front of the hall and later a concert. The fair was officially opened by Mayor Hall who spoke of the good work the Woman's Relief Corps were doing and said that the fair merited the patronage of the general public and he bespoke for it a grand success.

The entertainment tognight will be furnished by talent from Atlantic.

Those in charge of the several tables were:

Refreshments,—Mrs. Belle Holmes, Mrs. Mildred Willett, Mrs. Ella Holmes, Nettie Osborne, Gertie Obborne, Elvira Ewell, May Bailey.

Fancy table,—Mrs. Isabel Souther, Mrs. Nancy Emery, Mrs. John Farrell and Mrs. I. M. Holt.

Apron table,—Mrs. Susan Hewson, Mrs. Alberta Hewson, Mrs. Ann Knight and Mrs. Elizabeth Pratt.

Flower table,—Mrs. Adelaid McGrath, Mrs. Mabel Newcomb, Mrs. Ruby Andrews and Miss Jennie Ewell.

Handkerchief table,—Mrs. Kate A. Hayden and Mrs. Mahoney.

Ladies Aid table,—Miss Abbie Feltis, Miss Clara Cobb and Mrs. Francis L. Souther.

Candy table,—Miss Cora Dyer, Miss Sadie Smith and Mrs. Emma Marnock.

Wheel of fortune,—George Phillips, Charles H. S. Stoddard, William W. Bird and Warren Dunbar.

Nigger heads,—Leonard Hewson.

Grab bag,—Miss Ada Bartlett and Mrs. Harriet Gouthie.

Commander Warren of Paul Revere Post sold tickets, Calvin Dyer took them up, and I. M. Holt is the cash distributor.

Saved by a Dog.

Another example of the sagacity and attachment of dogs for children is shown in a dispatch from Hyde Park to the Globe: George the 5-year-old son of William F. Broderick of 16 Tina avenue who, accompanied by his St. Bernard dog, has been missing from home since 7 A. M. Tuesday, was found at 10 o'clock Thursday morning in the Blue Hill reservation, Milton, by officer Cameron of the park police.

The dog approached him in a distressful manner, and then started off into the woods. The officer followed, and was led by the dog to the boy, who was lying sound asleep in a swamp in the heart of the woods.

The boy was taken to the park superintendent's office, where he was later taken in charge by the Hyde Park police and brought to his home. He was in a weakened condition, having been away from his home over forty-eight hours and in the woods nearly all that time.

The dog stuck close to the boy and had to be taken into the wagon with him when brought home.

TODAY'S COURT.

Michael F. Donahue paid $5 for drunkenness at Weymouth.

The continued case of Edward A Loftus of Randolph, for non-support of his children, was called. He was fined $20 and ordered to pay $3 a week.

John J. Moriarty, alias John Moriarty, was arraigned for keeping a common liquor nuisance at Quincy. Case continued until next Monday.

Daniel Ring and John McMamee were fined $10 each for larceny of tools from Carmine P. Gardner.

—By the year 1510 the cultivation of the mulberry and the raising of silk worms had spread over the most of Italy and extended into the south of France and Spain.

MARRIED.

BUGBEE—COHALON—In Concord, N. H., by the Rev. Mr. Baxter of Concord, Mr. Willie Bugbee to Miss Annie Cohalon, both of Quincy.

WOODWARD "GYM."

Pupils Give Exhibition Drills and Play Basket Ball.

Another of those pleasing and highly creditable exercises of the Woodward Institute for girls was given in the school hall Thursday evening with the following program:

1. Swedish Gymnastics, Class V
2. Club-swinging, (beginners) Classe II and III
3. Wand Drill, Class IV
4. Club-Swinging, (advanced) Classes I and II
5. Preparatory Fencing, Class III
6. Fancy March, Sixteen Girls
7. Games—Jump up, Class V
8. Basket Ball, Woodward School Team vs. Woodward Alumnae Team.

SCHOOL TEAM.		ALUMNAE TEAM.
Abigail Waldron,	Goal	Helen Baxter
Gertrude King,	Guard	Mary Elcock
Bertha Josselyn,	Centre	Janet Carr
Marian Bates,	Guard	Maggie Milne
Annie Graham,	Defender	Elinor Randall

Referee, Miss Herrick; lines, Miss Blackwell and Miss Macfarlane; time keeper, Miss Dinegan; scorer, Miss Bessie Drew.

The club swinging by both the beginners and the advanced class was perhaps the best feature, but the most amusing was the game of "Jump-up" while the most excitment was over the basket ball match. The gymnastics, wand drill, and fencing were done in good time and the fancy march showed good training.

The basket ball match was played in two ten-minute halves and naturally under difficulties as the space was limited. In the first half the players did not get warmed up to their work, work, as only two goals were made, both by the school team. In the second half the Alumnae got a goal on a foul, but Bertha Josselyn proved a phenomenal centre and Abigal Waldron a quick and accurate goal tosser and goals were won in rapid succession by the School team. They rolled up 10 goals in this half against but two for the Alumni, and the score of the evenlng was 12 to 2 in favor of the School team. Good plays on both sides were applauded and some young men present gave college yells.

The successful director of the gymnasium is Miss Helen L. Blackwell, and Miss Elizabeth O'Neil was the pianist of the evening.

WAS A $2,000 FIRE.

Engine House of Granite Railway Company Damaged.

The alarm from Box 45 at 9.48 o'clock last night called the department to a lively blaze at the Granite Railway Co., plant in the building used as an engine house, boiler room and blacksmith shop. The fire, which probably started from the boiler, was discovered by the engineer on the train due at West Quincy from Boston at 9.46. He notified Officer Daveron who was at the depot and the Officer sent in the alarm. Just about the same time a son of Officer Barry was at Box 47 to give an alarm for the same fire, but hearing the first alarm he wisely refrained from pulling Box 47. The department made a good run and got at work in good time and made a good stop, checking the fire before it reached the engine.

Chief Williams estimates the loss on the machinery at $1500 and $500 on the building.

A Great Convention.

The Young Men's Christian Associations of Massachusetts are in full sympathy and hearty co-operation with the Boston Association in making preparations for the Jubilee Convention to be held June 10-16 in the Mechanics Building, Boston. They are aiding in contributions towards expenses, and for the immense Educational Exhibit which will be made, showing the evolution of the whole Association movement during the fifty years. The Exhibit is to be of a very varied and picturesque character, including all original documents of the history or copies of the same, and everything that has been an agency in the very great success that has been attained. The Exhibit is intended to be suggestive for the future, as well as a review of the past. The program for this Convention provides for the presence of distinguished men and successful workers from all parts of the world. Delegates will attend from twenty or more foreign countries, and the official body will consist of about three thousand delegates with legislative power. There will be numerous receptions to the Convention as a whole, as well as to the delegates, by the governor, the mayor, etc. The meeting of the Veteran Association workers will be of special interest, and will include all who were members of associations from 1851 to 1864. There are about ten surviving charter members of the Boston Association, which was the first organized in the United States, December 29, 1851.

The Convention will bring to Boston the largest body of Christian business men ever assembled in America, and probably in the world, and be a great impetus to the splendid work being done by our local and city Young Men's Christian Associations for the young men of our country.

Shed Fire at Atlantic.

The alarm from Box 63 at 2 A. M. was for a fire in a shed back of the block on Hunt street near the Catholic church owned by Eliab Ramsdell. The shed was one mass of flames when the alarm was given. It was entirely destroyed. It is thought it was set by boys.

HERE AND THERE.

Local Brevities of the City of Presidents.

A new back-stop has been placed on the Atlantic play ground.

Mr. Davis of Billings street is building a new fence around his house, which will be quite an addition to the place.

Rev. Emanuel Charlton of Gloucester will speak at Bethaney church Sunday evening at 7.30 on "Work among American Fishermen." He is chaplain of the Seamen's institute.

Lorenzo S. Frost of this city, employed by Sanborn & Damon, was among the graduates at the North End Plumbing school, Boston, recently, he being the only one of the class graduating in one term.

Elijah G. Hall of Atlantic real estate agency, reports the following sales: The Kingston house on Webster street, to Mrs. Elizabeth Letteney of Boston, and the Alger house on Billings street, to Mrs. Mary G. Harvie of Boston. Both parties will occupy the houses purchased.

JOHN CAFFREY.

broke the previous record for the 25 mile event established by himself last year, when he bested a large field of contestants.

Caffrey's time in the last race was remarkable when it is considered that, despite the handicaps of road racing, he breasted the tape in 2h. 29m. 20 3-5s.

Caffrey, as his records show, is one of the best long distance men in America. He has done good work in sprints and dashes, but he finds that it will pay him to stick to his specialty—like the shoemaker to his last—if he wishes to maintain his superiority in that line.

Tom O'Rourke's Scheme.

If Gus Ruhlin and Jim Jeffries fail to agree to fight at San Francisco next July, an attempt will be made to have the pair fight in private. Tom O'Rourke has made the announcement that he is in a position to give a purse of $10,000 if the men will consent to battle "on the quiet."

Miners Had Narrow Escape

Iron Belt, Wis., May 17.—Fire started in shaft No. 2 of the Atlantic mine and 150 men who were in the mine had a narrow escape from death. Many were partially overcome by smoke. The mine has been shut down and the loss will be considerable.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflamation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars; free.

QUINCY WORD LIST.

Supt. Parlin Thus Dedicates His New Speller Just Out.

"The Quincy Word List" by Frank E. Parlin is just issued in an attractive cover designed by Miss Helen Canterbury Barnes a pupil of the Quincy High school. It has over 6,000 of the commonest English words carefully graded for elementary schools. The author claims that it is not merely a speller but an elementary word study. The words are presented to the eye of the learner just as they ordinarily appear—without division into syllables or diacritical marks.

In suggestions to the teachers the author says: "Remember that spelling should be carefully and systematically taught and that only a few words should be assigned for a lesson. Aim not only to secure correct spelling but the incorporation of words into the pupils' working vocabulary."

He would teach: 1—form; 2—pronunciation; 3—meaning; 4 — arrangement of letters (if peculiar); 5—practice in writing the word with its meaning in mind. Methods are given.

The words are grouped in four columns of five words each, there being 440 words for grade one, 680 for grade two, 880 for all other grades up to grade eight which with a supplementary list has over 1600. Here is a sample for each grade:

FIRST GRADE.

Beginning with the fifth grade instructions are given for plural of nouns and in each of the upper grades other rules for terminations, prefixes, suffixes, etc.

Evidently "the Quincy word list" is a work for the systematic teaching of spelling and should be extensively used in the United States.

☞ Biliousness is a condition characterized by a disturbance of the digestive organs. The stomach is debilitated, the liver torpid, the bowels constipated. There is a loathing of food, pains in the bowels, dizziness, coated tongue and vomiting, first of the undigested or partly digested food and then of bile. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets allay the disturbances of the stomach and create a healthy appetite. They also tone up the liver to a healthy action and regulate the bowels. Try them and you are certain to be much pleased with the result. For sale by all druggists.

Cook—Ferguson.

A pretty home wedding was solemnized Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mr. Frank Cook of North Easton, when his brother, Mr. John A. Cook, was united in marriage to Miss Lizzie J. Ferguson of North Easton. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Vinton of North Easton in the presence of a number of the relatives of the contracting parties. The bride was given away by the groom's nephew, Mr. William Hobart. Miss Lottie Hobart and Misses Abbie and Annie Cook were bridesmaid, and Master Chester Hobart attended the groom. The bride was becomingly gowned in white Swiss muslin trimmed with ribbon and lace, and carried bride roses. A reception and wedding supper followed the ceremony, after which Mr. and Mrs. Cook left at 6 o'clock for their home at No. 19 Payne street, Quincy.

TWO GRAND LODGES.

A Rival of St. Johns Lodge Gets Authority from Scotland.

Next month Rural lodge of Mason of this city will have a two days' celebration of the centennial of its institution.

It is the purpose of the Daily Ledger in the meantime to give almost daily some reference to this popular fraternity:—its history, its origin, its advantages; its progress; its prominent members, etc. And especially incidents of 100 years ago, and also the history of Rural lodge.

At the time of the breaking out of the Revolutionary war in 1775 there were two Grand lodges in America. Reference was made to one in the Daily Ledger of yesterday: History says: "In 1755, a number of brethren residing in Boston, who were ancient Masons in consequence of a petition to the Grand Lodge of Scotland, received a deputation, dated Nov. 30, 1752, from Sholto Charles Douglas, Lord Aberdour, then Grand Master, constituting them a regular lodge, under the title of St. Andrew's lodge, No. 82, to be holden at Boston.

The establishment was discouraged and opposed by the St. John's Grand Lodge, who thought their privileges infringed by the Grand Lodge of Scotland; they therefore refused to have any intercourse with St. Andrew's Lodge for several years.

"The prosperous state of St. Andrew's Lodge soon led its members to make great exertions for the establishment of an ancient Grand Lodge in America, which was soon effected in Boston, by the admittance of travelling lodges, belonging to the British army who were stationed there.

"Dec. 27, 1769, the festival of the Evangelist was celebrated in due form. When the brethren were assembled, a commission from the Right Honorable and Most Worshipful George, Earl of Dalhoufe, Grand Master of Masons in Scotland, dated the 30th of May, 1769, appointing Joseph Warren to be Grand Master of Masons in Boston, and within 100 miles of the town, was read, and he was, according to ancient usage, duly installed into that office. The Grand Master then appointed and installed the other grand officers, and the Grand Lodge was at this time completely organized.

"Between this period and the year 1791, this Grand Lodge granted warrants of constitution for lodges to be holden in Massachusetts New Hampshire, Connecticut, Vermont and New York.

Social at Wollaston.

A most enjoyable time was shared by many who gathered in the Wollaston Congregational church Thursday evening on the invitation of the Christian Endeavor society. The first selection of the evening was a piano solo by Mrs. Leavitt, which gave much pleasure. A male quartet, consisting of Messrs. Lewis, Wright, Nichols and Barber, presented with much feeling, the selection, "Santa Lucia." Mrs. Saxe who always attracts her audience followed with a vocal solo. A double duet of four young ladies delightfully rendered, "The waves are splashing lightly." Mr C. C. Dow called forth response on his mandolin. Again the male quartet sang, "The slumber song." Miss Olive Shuman read a selection entitled, "Watermelon time." The last on the program was a mandolin duet by Messrs. Kenneth B. Lewis and C. C. Dow. Refreshments were served and a social followed.

A Post of Sorrow.

Arrangements are being made for an innovation at the memorial service of Paul Revere Post, G. A. R., to be held at the Universalist church, Sunday evening, May 26. The idea is to have a service similar to that held by the Weymouth Post, with some additional features. There will probably be a short address by Rev. Merrill C. Ward, special music, readings and a "post of sorrow," including sounding of the bugle calls and reading the names of those comrades who have died during the past year.

A gang of men is at work on Copeland street, scraping the sand from the paving that was laid last fall.

Several letters have been received at the Daily Ledger office for "Stenographer," who inserted an advertisement yesterday for one time only.

The St. Mary's church property at West Quincy has been greatly improved since the advent of Rev. A. F. Roche. The lawns have been nicely laid out, graded and fenced in.

Principal Pollard of the Washington school took the A grammar class to Boston and Cambridge Wednesday, and upon the return they had supper at the May festival at the Quincy Point church.

Austin Winslow who for many years has been associated with the express business of Quincy, has accepted a responsible position with the Joslin express of Brockton and is about to remove to that city.

The "Elson prints" presented to the Library Art club by A. W. Elson & Co. of Boston, are now on exhibition at the Thomas Crane Public Library, and will remain until June 1. They include Greek and Roman architecture, Greek sculpture, Gen. Washington portraits and groups, and "makers of our nation," 72 prints in all.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Swingle of 1262 Hancock street gave a party to the little friends of their daughter Pauline V., on her seventh birthday, Thursday afternoon, and also presented her with an upright piano. There were several other gifts. The young people had their pictures taken in a group and enjoyed a royal good time. Refreshments were served.

MILTON.

The contracts for the collection of garbage and ashes has been awarded to Charles Tate. Three collections are made each week.

The Unquity club held a ladies' night Wednesday evening music and whist was the program. The best whist scores were made by Mrs. Peter McIntyre and Mrs. E. J. Eaton.

J. E. Quimby, who has been confined to his home by illness, is about again.

The contractors who are building the Metropolitan sewer on the west side the railroad at East Milton have struck a solid ledge of slate, which it is necessary to blast out. Two steam drills are kept constantly at work.

Mischievous Dogs.

The residents on East Howard street are considerably alarmed as well as annoyed at the extent to which mischievous dogs are allowed to roam around. Some persons have lately been bitten, grown persons as well as children, and although the owners has been notified, no attention has been given to the complaints. There are also unlicensed dogs who do not bear a good character from their former owners. Steps should be taken to abate the danger before serious harm is done.

Three Kings Before Victoria.

Victoria ascended the throne at an inauspicious moment. Kingship had fallen into a miserable disrepute. The last three monarchs who had sat upon our throne had done little to make their office easy or glorious. George III had obscured whatever virtues were his by an obstinacy of opinion which lost us a vast colony and which might well have enslaved us to a foreign power.

George IV had died unwept and unpitied. As he had made his distinguished office a scandal, as he had made his throne ridiculous by a deplorable levity of taste and conduct, so he had forfeited the affection of his people and alienated their sympathy long before death overtook him. "There never was an individual," proclaimed The Times but a few weeks after his death, "less regretted by his fellow creatures than this deceased king. What eye has wept for him? What heart has heaved one throb of unnecessary sorrow?" And The Times expressed in those bitter words nothing less than the popular judgment.

Nor can it be said that William IV graced the throne of Britain. Loved for his homely virtues, he raised a smile of kindly contempt by his lack of dignity and his frank misunderstanding of kingly ceremonial. On the day of his accession he escaped from his council and was found throwing shillings to a noisy crowd in a back street, and never did he acquire the rudiments of tact which should be the first wisdom of kings.—Blackwood's.

A Scottish Echo.

The late Sims Reeves was fond of telling a story that related to an early engagement in Glasgow which was arranged through a metropolitan agency. One of the items on the programme was "Hail, Smiling Morn!" and of course Mr. Reeves was put down for the solo portion. The chorus consists of an echo, and the London agent assured the soloist that a satisfactory choir had been engaged.

The whole matter was settled hurriedly. Mr. Reeves was at first disinclined to accept, as other engagements prevented him from reaching Glasgow in time for a rehearsal with the choir.

"Don't worry about that, my dear sir," said the agent. "You will find the choir perfect."

The concert was a success, and in due course "Hail, Smiling Morn!" was called for. When the soloist came to the lines requiring an echo, he delivered them in his best manner—"At whose bright presence darkness flies away." Imagine his horror when the echo repeated his words in the broadest Scotch:

"Flees awa', flees awa'!"

Yet Sims Reeves averred that not a person in the audience smiled or appeared to see anything incongruous. When he talked over the matter with a baille after the concert, the good man assured him:

"That's nothing at all. You were a little wrong in your pronunciation, and the echo was correct. You see, it was a Scottish echo."—Youth's Companion.

She Gave Herself Away.

Judge Davis was one day in his private office when he was president of the senate and acting vice president. A woman came into the room to see him. He turned and said, "Well, madam, what can I do for you?" She was neatly dressed in black, with an air of extreme poverty. She told a wretched tale of sorrow and suffering, winding up with the climax that she and her little family were actually starving and had not tasted food for two days. The judge seemed deeply moved. He excused himself for not attending to the case for the moment, as the senate was nearly ready to open.

He looked at his watch with an air of vexation, as if it were not going, and said, "Can any one tell me what time it is?" His visitor pulled out a gold watch and told him the time. The judge said, "Can it be true that your children have been without food for two days when you have a gold watch in the house?" The woman saw the point of the judge's question and called out, "You are a hateful old thing!" and flounced out of the room. She was a professional dead beat.

A Pair of Lovers.

Two American men in Venice spent their first evening loafing round the lagoons in a gondola, it being moonlight, of course, and all the rest of the sentimental, charming things it is always in Venice.

"Here comes a gondola," stage whispered one American to the other, "that probably contains a pair of lovers. See how absorbed those two dim figures evidently are in each other. Gondolier, other gondolas, the witchery of the moonlight and the place—to all of it they are oblivious. Oh, what a spot for sentiment! The air is full of it!"

And as the two gondolas glided past each other the Americans heard the unmistakable accents of a fellow countryman, "I'll see your three and raise you five."—Philadelphia Record.

Her Resource.

"I recognize the fact, of course," the young man said, "that woman is handicapped in divers ways by her sex. Under stress of emotion a man can relieve the pressure by going out and getting drunk, but there is no such safety valve for woman. She must suffer and do nothing."

"Not necessarily," replied Miss Flyppe. "She can go and eat a pickle."—Chicago Tribune.

Militiamen at Albany Obeyed Instructions

Two Prominent Citizens Fall, Mortally Wounded

Comparatively Quiet Day Has a Terrible Ending

Albany, May 17.—Five hours of conference last night, with all the warring elements represented, failed to settle the Albany strike of street railway employes. The strikers waived all demands for the removal of the nine nonunion men. The executive committee of the United Traction company will consider the proposition today, and may accept it and settle the strike.

In the meantime Major General Roe intends to take every precaution, and at midnight last night he ordered out the Ninth regiment of New York, commanded by Colonel Morris. It will arrive here this afternoon, 800 strong, and if the strike is not settled, will assist in opening up the other lines of the Traction company in this city.

Three men fatally wounded, hundreds of others with broken heads and wrecked faces, cars running merely as arsenals, with no patrons, the city under martial rule, with its citizens in a frenzy of excitement and the city authorities and leaders of the strikers trying to get the street railway company to come to an amicable settlement, was the situation when darkness fell last night.

The bloodshed in Albany came after a day of absolute peace. From early morning the crowd had melted away before bayonet and gun; cars had been operated under heavy guards and there was an impression that the spirit of turbulence was waning. Noon had seen the sentries and patrols practically without occupation. Some minor demonstrations occurred, but not a shot had been fired, and as the day passed the running of cars attracted but little attention.

But a volley, fired on Broadway by a squad of Twenty-third infantry, in which Leroy Smith and William Walsh, well known citizens, fell mortally wounded, brought an instant change over the situation, filled with the promise of peace. It stirred anew the feeling of hatred as the exciting tidings swept like a wave through the city. The guardsmen were bitterly denounced, for neither of the men fatally wounded by their bullets had been guilty of any offense. They were caught in a crowd, some member of which had stoned the guardsmen.

The disturbance was not a serious one, and "murder" is the title applied by inflamed public sentiment to the shooting. The guardsmen, however, seem to have merely acted under a strict interpretation of orders, which were to shoot if assaulted.

The bright prospect of a settlement of the strike has not served to allay the growth of vindictive feeling, and, if the present situation continues, vengeance and violent deeds may be expected.

The day began with an imposing show of military strength. The massing of troops began at 8 o'clock. When the defensive lines were completed the movement of cars began from Quail street barn. In quick succession 10 cars were brought out and all were manned with heavy guards. Nettings had been hung down over the sides of most of the cars, but Lieutenant Colonel Brady ordered them removed.

The Traction company's tower wagon and repair wagon fell in behind the procession of cars, and mounted signal men, acting as cavalrymen, surrounded the wagon. The men had orders to fire if assaulted.

Lieutenant Colonel Brady, clinging to the front rail of the car, gave the word to start, and the electric cars went up the street with the cavalry clattering along behind.

Trouble seemed inevitable and the spirit of the enterprise thrilled every man who participated in it. Men and women cursed and jeered the strike breakers and soldiers as they dashed past, and there were some small individual clashes between pickets and excited strike sympathizers, but the main movement was executed without serious trouble.

The military measures of the morning represented the limit of stringency. Householders were given warnings to see that their premises were kept orderly and every head that showed on a roof top had a rifle pointed at it.

It was on the final run of the cars that the great tragedy of the day occurred. The cars were on Broadway, moving northward, and a constantly swelling crowd was gathered about the Union station. Near Columbia street, a truck blocked the way of car 31, and, urged on by the crowd, the driver refused to move on as quickly as desired. Some one in the crowd threw a stone, but it went wide of its mark. The car finally moved forward into the next block, and another stone was hurled at it. There was a sharp command, and as the car slowed down four shots were fired by the soldiers. Leroy Smith lounged on the step of his store; William Walsh, his business neighbor, from across the street, was his immediate companion. A small crowd hung about near them, and it was into this gathering that the guardsmen fired, at a range of less that 20 feet. Smith and Walsh were both shot in the abdomen. A third man, William Rooney, was slightly hurt by a glancing bullet.

The startled crowd fell back at the first shot, and a moment later the guards sprang aboard the car and were rapidly carried from the scene. Smith and Walsh were hurried away to hospitals, and an angry mob swarmed into the street, cursing and denouncing the guardsmen.

Leroy Smith is a member of the shoe manufacturing firm of Smith & Herrick, a citizen of wealth, respectability and prominence. Walsh is the head of a plumbing house, and well known in business circles. Neither man had any part other than as spectators in the demonstration that provoked the shooting.

The rest of the cars made the run to North Albany and back without trouble, and when they reached the Quail street barn were housed for the night.

It was Lieutenant Wilson of company E who gave the fatal order to fire, and his action has received the approval of his superiors, for an investigation by high military officials, held last night, exonerated him from blame. According to Wilson's statement he fired at and hit a man who struck him with a stone.

Enlightening the Filipinos

Washington, May 17.—Tangible evidence that General MacArthur is prosecuting an active campaign of education in the Philippines comes to the war department in the shape of a number of copies of a condensed "History of the United States of America," which has been published under the military governor's direction, and is being scattered broadcast for the enlightenment of the Filipino race. The history is printed in both English and Spanish in alternate pages.

London, May 17.—It is understood that the committee which the government appointed early in the year to consider war office reform has reported in favor of a scheme of reorganization that is almost revolutionary.

BABY'S BUSINESS

A healthy baby is comfortable; and that is enough for a baby. His business in life is to grow.

Aside from acute diseases, his food is the cause of most of his troubles. But Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil delivers him from it.

He isn't sick; only a little hitch, somewhere, in his machine for turning food into growth.

It is a great thing to do, for a baby, to help him over a hitch with mere food—the emulsion is food that has the tact to get there.

The tact to get there is medicine.

We'll send you a little to try, if you like.

LAMBERT IS ARRESTED

Was Nearest Neighbor of the Allen Family

PRINTS OF RUBBER SHOES

Near the Allen House and Cabin of the Suspected Man Looked Upon With Suspicion—Theory That He Committed Murder While Drunk

Monson, Me., May 17.—Owing to his intimate acquaintance with the Allen family, and a number of circumstances, which, in the minds of officers, need an explanation, Henry Lambert, a young French-Canadian guide, was arrested at Shirley yesterday afternoon, by Deputy Sheriff Knowles, on suspicion of being connected with the murder of the Allens. The prisoner was taken to the Dover jail.

Lambert has freely mingled with the people who have been scouring the woods for the murderers and with the spectators from time to time at the Allen farm. Lambert has been living in a log cabin near the Allen homestead. The officers claim to have found prints from new rubber overshoes near the Allen house and also near Lambert's log cabin, and, in addition, a trail from one building to the other, marked by spots of blood. Just what actual evidence there is against Lambert is not known. Lambert is not disturbed by his arrest, and said last night that he had been very friendly with the Allens, visiting them evenings with considerable frequency. His life in the log cabin has extended through four years. He says he went in a log drive five weeks ago yesterday and had not seen any member of the Allen family since he left.

In speaking of his relations with the Allens, he said that he was not forcing his attentions on Carrie Allen, and that there was no reason for the story that the girl was afraid of him. Lambert says that he had been drinking some on Sunday, but was perfectly sober when he reached his boarding place Sunday night. He has been asked by the officers to explain the disposal of a pair of rubbers he is said to have purchased recently, certain tracks about the house having been made by new rubbers. On this point he has not given a reply satisfactory to the officers.

The officers are working on the theory that Lambert, while intoxicated Sunday night, went to the Allen house and had a dispute with Mr. Allen, who tried to induce him to return to the cabin, and was leading him that way until the barn was reached, when Lambert struck down the farmer. After this, the officers reach the supposition that Lambert assaulted Mrs. Allen and the daughter.

Lambert is 26 years old, illiterate, and has been in Shirley nine years.

William Warrener, an aged resident of this town, took his life yesterday by hanging. The members of the family were away from home and the body was found in the barn. The excitement may have had something to do with the old man's act, although a few years ago he attempted to drown himself.

Services in memory of the Allen family, to take the place of burial services, were held at Shirley yesterday afternoon, and the neighbors generally attended.

Mysteriously Assaulted

Paterson, N. J., May 17.—John M. Powers, one of the most wealthy and influential officials of this city, drew a large sum from the City bank two weeks ago to pay off brickmakers. On the way home he stopped at several places and displayed his roll of money. Between a hotel and Powers' home he was found lying on the highway. The family say he was assaulted and robbed. Only 30 cents was found in his pockets. Powers has been unconscious ever since the occurrence.

Used Revolver on a Child

Little Valley, N. Y., May 17.—Detective Wheeler of the Erie railroad shot and killed George Sharpe, 5 years old, at Salamanca yesterday. Young Sharp, with two companions, were riding on a freight train into Salamanca when Wheeler saw them. The boys ran, and Wheeler ordered them to stop. They did not heed him and he fired his revolver, the ball striking Sharp in the back of the head. Wheeler claims that the killing was accidental.

Didn't Touch on Pekin Troubles

New York, May 18.—Edwin H. Conger was the guest of honor last night at the third annual banquet of the American Asiatic association. There were 125 present at the dinner. Rev. Dr. Ament of Pekin was one of the guests. Mr. Conger spoke briefly of the desirability of development of American trade in China. He declined to touch on the subject of his experience during the trouble at Pekin.

Bagley a Great Boat

Washington, May 17.—The torpedo boat Bagley, at her trial trip off the Maine coast, established a record for the 28-knot boats by attaining a speed slightly in excess of 30 knots, and maintaining an average for two hours of 29.2 knots. She was built at the Bath Iron Works and a dispatch was received at the navy department giving the successful results of her trial.

Two Ships and Crews Lost

Victoria, B. C., May 17.—News has been received by the steamer Moana of the loss of the steamer Federal off the Australian coast during a heavy gale at the end of March. Thirty-two persons perished with her. The ship Louise Lamont was lost during the same storm with 16 men.

A REMEDY FOR THE GRIPPE.

A remedy recommended for patients afflicted with the Grippe is KEMP'S BALSAM, which is especially adapted for the throat and lungs. Don't wait for the first symptoms of the disease! get a bottle today and keep it for use the moment it is needed. If neglected the grippe has a tendency to bring on pneumonia. KEMP'S BALSAM prevents this by keeping the cough loose, lungs free from inflammation. All druggists sell KEMP'S BALSAM at 25c. and 50c.

Parents and friends of the Woodward school have ample opportunity to know what progress is made as they are frequently invited to exhibitions in the various branches taught at the school. In scholarship Woodward has always stood high; in music the school is above the average and now they are to the front in gymnasium work, all showing fine discipline and thorough work of Miss Carrie E. Small the principal and the able corps of teachers selected by her. The gymnasium exhibit on Tuesday evening was largely attended and was a most enjoyable evening. The simple suits of black with white shirt waists; the ease and grace of the girls in the dumb bell and wand drills, must have been pleasing to the friends of the school. Every one appeared to enjoy the basket ball games, in fact many were heard to say they wished they were participants.

Brainard in Asylum.

George H. Brainard of Boston, who figured in the telephone exchange building in Portland, Maine, April 24, and whom Judge Bonney of the superior court has temporarily committed to the state insane hospital for observation, was taken to Augusta yesterday, says the Herald. Deputy Sheriff Dunn, his custodian, handcuffed the prisoner in the county jail office and took him to the Union station. They were accompanied to the station by Sheriff Pearson.

Brainard seemed displeased when the handcuffs were adjusted, but made no remonstrance. The officer and prisoner occupied a forward seat in the smoking car on the trip to Augusta. Mrs. Brainard was a passenger in the next car. Brainard smoked a pipe during most of the journey.

At Augusta a carriage from the insane hospital was at the station waiting to convey the prisoner to that institution. Mrs. Brainard accompanied them. When the carriage came within sight of the hospital buildings Brainard for the first time showed emotion. His wife explained afterward that he mistook the hospital for a prison. Deputy Dunn delivered over the prisoner to the hospital authorities, and immediately returned to the station and took the afternoon train for Portland. Mrs. Brainard will remain in Augusta for a time.

Nothing further in relation to the Brainard case will be done at this term of the Superior court. In September he will be either tried for murder or permanently committed to the insane hospital, according to the determination of the state hospital authorities as to his mental condition.

Whist and Music.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Moore and Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Moore, jointly entertained friends from Quincy and out of town at whist, Thursday evening, at their pretty home on Upland road. At the commencement of the evening's play each lady was given a card which besides designating the table at which she was to play, contained a pencil sketch of the gentleman who was to be her partner. Although the artist was a stranger to many of the gentlemen, the points were well executed, and the ladies experienced no difficulty in selecting the right gentleman. At the conclusion of two hours' play refreshments were served. Following this came a very enjoyable musical entertainment of both vocal and instrumental music. One of the pleasing features of this were the musical selections by Mrs. Frank J. Moore, one of the hostesses, which were beautifully rendered. The prizes for the best scores at whist were sofa pillows and those fortunate to secure these were: Mr. Leon Ward and Mrs. George T. Magee.

Anniversary Week.

The Liberal Religious meetings in Boston, May 20 to 24, 1901, will attract many people. At the Universalist Social Union May festival of May 21, at the Quincy house, Senator Hoar, Congressman McCall and Drs. Pullman, Hodge and Horton will speak. At the Unitarian festival, in Tremont Temple, May 23, Rev. Messrs. Cummings and Hawley, Hon. George W. Stevens of Montreal and Rear Admiral Rob Evans will be guests. The Boston association will meet May 23, afternoon, at the Columbus avenue church. The Y. P. C. U. will meet in the Every Day church, May 25. These meetings are a week earlier this year.

Special Music.

At the Wollaston Baptist church, Sunday morning, special music will be sung. The music at the vesper service at four o'clock will include:

All Glorious.	Barnby
Sweet Spirit Come.	Morrison
Abide with Me.	Barnby
Thou O Lord of Love.	Jungst
Solo,—My Redeemer and My Lord. Miss Bean.	Buck
Trio,—Father, Lead Me by Thy Hand.	Butterfield

The regular quartet will be assisted by Miss Lulu Phelan and Mr. Edward Bullock of Wollaston.

Dance of Camp Boyd.

John A. Boyd Camp, Legion of Spanish War Veterans of Quincy, held their second dance of the season at Armory hall, Braintree, Thursday evening at which about 100 couples were present from Quincy, Weymouth Hingham, Rockland, Atlantic, Wollaston, Randolph and Holbrook.

The floor was in charge of Frank Pierce, and he was assisted by the following corps of aids: Messrs L. W. Delano, G. W. Tavern, Timothy J. Bowler, William Collighan, Harry L. Matthews and Thomas Davidson.

Excellent music was furnished by Deslauries' popular orchestra of Weymouth.

Capt. Boyd Dead.

Capt. William Boyd of West Quincy passed away at 4 o'clock this morning. For two months he had been on the sick list of Paul Revere Post 88, G. A. R., but last week was able to attend the meeting of the Post, and was feeling good. Pneumonia developed and death came rather suddenly.

Mr. Boyd volunteered for his country August 20, 1862, and was commissioned a second lieutenant May 16, 1863, in Co. G, 48th Massachusetts Volunteer Infantry. He was engaged in the battles of White Stone Plain, the Port Hudson seige, Donalsonville, Baton Rogue, and several others. He was mustered out at the close of the war, but with a fondness for military affairs he was prominent in the organization of the McClellan guards. He was elected captain, and the title has continued with him since. History says: "Under competent officers, the company soon took high rank for their efficiency in military exercises." For their excellence in military drill they had the honor to receive two prizes, as the most thoroughly disciplined company in the fourth regiment. He later took considerable interest in Paul Revere Post, G. A. R.

In 1887, Capt. Boyd was appointed postmaster at Houghs Neck, and also conducted a newstand and variety store. He increased the facilities and gave good satisfaction, so that an attempt to displace him in 1891 because he was a Democrat was not successful.

Like father, like son, Capt. Boyd's son enlisted in the recent Spanish war, and was one of two from Quincy to lose his life. The camp of the L. S. W. V. is named in his memory.

The funeral of Capt. Boyd will be held Monday morning.

Bought a "Gold Brick."

It has often been said, that if anyone had a gold brick to sell, Quincy was the place to sell it. A man with an oily tongue seems to have but little difficulty in pulling the wool over the eyes of woman. Such a fellow arrived in Wollaston yesterday, and although he remained but a short time he succeeded in getting $7 from at least one Wollaston woman.

The man appeared at her door and exhibited envelopes. These he sold for $1 each. He said besides containing paper and envelopes they contained money. To prove this he took a roll of money from his pocket, placed a $10 bill in one, $5 in another, $2 in another, and so on. The woman watched him sharply and kept her eye on the envelopes in which she had seen the money placed.

She produced $7 of her own money, and bought seven of the envelopes, sure in her own mind that she had secured at least $17 for her money.

She was not to open the envelope for an hour. He then departed. Woman's curiosity, however, would not permit so long a wait, and she opened the envelopes, but alas, the money had mysteriously disappeared. The police were called by telephone, but by that time the man had flown.

Butler Pond Park.

The City Council Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds gave a hearing last evening on the communication from the Mayor inclosing a petition for the taking of Butler's pond and adjacent land as a public park. The hearing was quite largely attended by the abutters of the pond, and all were unanimous that the taking as proposed should be made.

Mr. Macfarlane, however, objected to any of his land being included. His land abuts the pond and he had built a granite retaining wall along his line.

Fred B. Rice of the Park Commission was opposed to the scheme, as he thought the city now had all the land for park purposes it could take care of.

It was understood before the hearing adjourned that the committee should inspect the premises before reporting.

Hours Reduced.

Mellen Bray & Co., gave notice to their employes, yesterday, that hereafter the hours of labor at their factory would be reduced to nine with the same pay as for ten, and that they would be given a Saturday half holiday between May and November. This large and prosperous corporation, which is constantly enlarging its works does a bigger business than is generally supposed. It employes a large number of hands at good wages, and this latest and voluntary concession to labor is worthy of note.

A Legitimate Investment

Which Increased Over 700 per cent.

WITHIN SIX MONTHS.

The Arcola Oil Company's stock sold for $135 per 1,000 shares, and in six months $1,000 per 1,000 shares was refused for the stock, for the reason that the first well was a large producer and there is room for forty wells on the Company's land, which makes it about certain that the stock in the near future will be worth ten dollars per share.

We offer you the same opportunity for a large gain by investing in the Dirigo Oil Company's stock, the first block of which is being sold for $150 per 1,000 shares. The Company owns a block of land adjoining the Arcola Company's land which has large producing wells on all four sides. There is eighty acres of the Company's land in the center of the oil belt, which we feel absolutely certain will give a large producing well in each acre.

We now have machinery on the ground, and are ready to sink the first well, and expect to strike oil by June 1st, which will then make the stock worth par value, if the well is as good a producer as the Arcola.

The block of stock we are selling is about three-quarters sold and quick application will have to be made to secure any of it at the present price.

A SINGLE STITCH.

One stitch dropped as the weaver drove
His nimble shuttle to and fro,
In and out, beneath, above,
Till the pattern seemed to bud and grow
As if the fairies had helping been—
One small stitch which could scarce be seen,
But the one stitch dropped pulled the next stitch out,
And a weak place grew in the fabric stout,
And the perfect pattern was marred for aye
By the one small stitch that had dropped that day.

One small life in God's great plan,
How futile it seems as the ages roll,
Do what it may or strive how it can
To alter the sweep of the infinite whole!
A single stitch in an endless web,
A drop in the ocean's flow and ebb,
But the pattern is rent where the stitch is lost
Or marred where the tangled threads have crossed,
And each life that fails of its true intent
Mars the perfect plan that its Master meant.

GENTLEMEN CONVICTS

By M. QUAD.

COPYRIGHT, 1900, BY C. B. LEWIS.

It was a queer chapter of accidents that overtook the bark Nonesuch on the South American coast in the year 1870. We were bound from Philadelphia to Pernambuco, being a well found craft and a willing crew, and we lost a man overboard before we had been out 24 hours. Off the Bahamas the second mate and two men pulled away in the dingey to inspect some wreckage which seemed to prove the loss of a steamer, and as they were returning a small whale rose under the boat and smashed her to match wood, and then two sailors were drowned. This left us three men short, and we put in at the Windward islands to replace them. After much trouble we got two men, but as we were leaving port the captain was bitten on the cheek and the first mate on the hand by a flying insect somewhat resembling the so called "darning needles" to be found in the United States. Within an hour they were suffering as much as if they had been stung by an asp.

The captain's wife was aboard, and of course she did all in her power, but it was three or four days before the men could move about again, and then only the mate could return to duty. The captain had what seemed to be a carbuncle appear under his right eye, and for ten days he suffered so acutely that at times he was out of his senses. We should have run into Demerara had he not begun to improve, but it would have been better had we done so anyhow. The two fellows we picked up at the Windward islands proved to be worthless sailors and bad men, and they worked the bark an evil turn. One night as we lay becalmed, with the captain and mate still suffering from the poisonous bites, they overpowered and bound the second mate, provisioned and lowered a boat and induced four of the original crew to embark with them. We afterward came to know that they had been talking a great deal about a treasure buried on the Dutch Guiana coast, from which we were distant about 75 miles. We were thus left with only three able hands aboard, and the captain's wife had to take her trick at the wheel while we headed for Cayenne to get relief. We had crawled along to within 30 miles off the French penal port when the wind headed us, and we could do no better than drift off to the eastward and wait for a change.

After about 30 hours of drifting the wind changed in our favor, and one morning at sunrise we were making shift to get on our course again when we espied a raft with 12 men on it close at hand. With the naked eye one could make out that they were clothed in convict garb, and of course the deduction was that they had escaped from the coast. There were two rude sails on the raft, and the clumsy structure had had a fair breeze behind her for a day and a half. As the raft was not easily managed, we could have evaded it by putting up our helm. We were for doing this at once, all but the captain's wife. She knew they were convicts and desperate men and that once aboard of us we should be at their mercy, but she nevertheless insisted that we should pick them up. They were 50 miles off the coast, with the signs of a storm coming on, and she declared that it would be a cruel act to leave them to perish. I was of a mind to lock her up in her stateroom and dodge the raft, but the other two men were against me, and ten minutes later the float was alongside and the convicts were climbing aboard. I expected nothing less than an immediate attack from them, for 12 tougher looking men I never set eyes on; but, to my surprise, they halted at the rail while their leader advanced, doffed his cap, with a scrape of his foot, and in passable English inquired for the captain. He was told of the captain's illness and of our being short handed, and he bowed and scraped again and said to the woman:

"Madam, have no fears. You probably know that we are escaped convicts from Cayenne, but no man will offer harm to any one aboard. We may be robbers and murderers, but we are also gentlemen in a way. There is bad weather coming on. We have arrived at an opportune moment. Most of us are sailors, and all of us are at your orders."

When I looked into their vicious faces, I could not help but suspect that they had a game to play and were only delaying it, but it was policy to take them at their word. As soon as the captain and mate heard of the arrival of the gang they became almost panic stricken and advised this and that, and the wife was the only one who had the least confidence in the promises made. It was well that she had and that her advice to trust them was followed by all of us. We could not have kept them from coming aboard with our feeble crew, and to have shown our distrust afterward would have angered them. They took hold with us at once after being given food, and before night we had cause to rejoice that they were with us. We got dirty weather, which lasted three days, and but for their aid the Nonesuch would have become a helpless wreck or gone to the bottom. We had to run off to the east during this spell, and it was only when the weather cleared that the leader of the convicts had a conference with the captain and his wife and asked that his gang be set ashore in Brazilian territory. This was promised him, and I must say that I never worked with a more cheerful and willing crew aboard of any craft. Seven of the 12 had been convicted of murder, and all were desperate men, but they were as obedient as children and as good natured as you please. They were careful of their language, respectful in their demeanor, and not once did I hear one of them grumble or complain. We ran into the Amazon and up that river for 40 miles to set them ashore. In his gratitude to them the captain gave them sailcloth for two tents, a musket, a lot of clothes from the slop chest and all the provisions we could spare. With cooking utensils, fishhooks and a few carpenters' tools they were fairly well rigged out for a life on the banks of the stream for half a year to come, and at parting there were as much handshakings and as many farewells as if a band of old friends was breaking up. Their escape from the colony was a desperate one and the authorities made an exhaustive search; but, so far as I have been able to learn, not one of the dozen has ever been retaken.

Not Above His Business.

Young Brodhead, scion of a wealthy family, cherished journalistic ambitions and, like a sensible youth, had resolved to begin at the beginning.

He had applied for and obtained a position as a reporter on a daily paper at a moderate salary, where he was treated precisely like any other reporter, shirking no assignment that came in his way and putting on no airs on account of his wealth or social standing.

He had not thought it worth while, however, to acquaint the family servants with the nature of his daily occupations, and when a fellow reporter came to the house one day with a message from the city editor the flunky in attendance at the front door took him around the house and brought him up to the young man's room by a back stairway.

"Why didn't you show Mr. Craig up by way of the front hall?" demanded young Brodhead.

"He's only a reporter," whispered the butler.

Imagine the dignified flunky's horror when his master responded in an audible voice:

"I'm only a reporter myself, you donkey!"—Youth's Companion.

Webster and the Trout.

With each increase of Webster's fame as a lawyer and an orator, writes Professor McMaster in The Century, friends and admirers grew more and more urgent that he should once more return to public life. He did indeed consent to serve as a presidential elector and for ten days sat in the Massachusetts legislature. Many years afterward in the course of a speech Webster referred to this service and told his hearers a story quite characteristic of the man. "It so happens," said he, "that all the public services which I have rendered in this world in my day and generation have been connected with the general government. I think I ought to make one exception. I was ten days a member of the Massachusetts legislature, and I turned my thoughts to the search for some good object in which I could be useful in that position, and after much reflection I introduced a bill which, with the general consent of both houses of the Massachusetts legislature, passed into a law and is now a law of the state which enacts that no man in the state shall catch trout in any other manner than in the old way, with an ordinary hook and line."

Pickled Railroad Ties.

Pickled railroad ties are now being used to a great extent all over the country. A number of railroads, including the Burlington, the Santa Fe and the Southern Pacific, have plants of their own in which the ties are pickled. How to preserve the ties and add to their life and durability has been a serious problem for railroad operatives ever since the early days of transportation by rail. The constant wear and tear of ties has necessitated their replacement as soon as they were perceptibly worn. A solution of chloride of zinc is applied by a specially arranged process. The ties are put in large airtight cylinders, the air is pumped out and the ties are heated by steam. The chemicals are then pumped in and the ties kept in the solution under high pressure until they are saturated.—Philadelphia Record.

A Cure For Ner

You are on the verge o hat some physicians call "nervous stration," though really there is no disease. It is simply a lack of w power, a sinking into imagination ich plays havoc with religion and u lness. If God is your God indeed, w you need not be troubled either in l or spirit. Go on and live. Go on a ork. Ex- ercise your will power a hake your- self move. Perhaps that ms heart- less, but it is only by det ined, fear- less struggle that this di ty can be overcome. If one subm or if one yields to emotion to su the weak- ness to increase, the ne s gain the victory.

Nerves are strange t s even to physicians. As a minis I am free to say they can be cont d in many cases by a pure, healthy ust in God and by an active, hapi determined life. Stuck to His Faith

Malden, Mass., May 18.—Charles S. Hill, aged 60, of Lisbon Falls, Me., died yesterday at the home of his sister, Mrs. J. R. Pineo, after an illness of a few days, of pneumonia, after refusing all medicines, Hill being a firm believer in divine healing.

Lad May Lose His Sight

Methuen, Mass., May 18.—An explosion of chemicals in the laboratory at the high school yesterday seriously injured three pupils, Ernest Gaunt, Miss Eva Kelley and Miss Rosalind Howker. It is feared young Gaunt may lose his sight.

Big Chimney Collapsed

St. John, May 18.—The 107 foot chimney of Jewett's saw mill at Millidgeville collapsed yesterday, crushing to death with its thousands of brick three men, and injuring three others. The men were at work repairing the chimney.

NEWS IN BRIEF

James W. Pollock, 14 years old, has been missing from New London, Conn., since April 7, and it is feared that he has been kidnapped. The lad is tall for his age, and of slight build.

The family of C. E. Starbuck, the Harvard student, who has been missing from Andover, Mass., have offered a reward of $50 for information concerning his whereabouts.

Difficulty between manufacturing contractors and mill men at Dayton, O., has received further impetus by the strike of about 600 additional men in various trades.

Edwin C. Clapp, a member of the state board of agriculture, died at his home at Northampton, Mass., aged 70.

Mrs. Louise Woodruff, 68 years old, matron of the Haven House at Smith college, died at Northampton, Mass.

Nathan P. Kidder, for 20 years city clerk of Manchester, N. H., is dead, after an illness of 18 months. He served three years in the Civil war.

Whooping Cough.

A woman who has had experience with this disease tells how to prevent any dangerous consequences from it. She says: Our three children took whooping cough last summer, our baby boy being only three months old, and owing to our giving them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, they lost none of their plumpness and came out in much better health than other children whose parents did not use this remedy. Our oldest little girl would call lustily for cough syrup between whoops.—JESSIE PINKEY HALL, Springville, Ala. This Remedy is for sale by all druggists.

IS GREATLY IMPROVED

But Mrs. McKinley Is Not Yet Out of Danger

FEELING OF CHEERFULNESS

Takes the Place of Deep Anxiety and Gloom Which Prevailed on Thursday—Much of Program For Launching of the Ohio Abandoned

San Francisco, May 18.—President McKinley described the marked improvement in Mrs. McKinley's condition yesterday as a transformation. Certain it is that Mrs. McKinley's condition Thursday night improved to an extent that fairly nonplussed the doctors, brightened the anxious husband and filled the city with joy and thanksgiving.

The sinking spell that was feared in the early hours before the dawn did not come. There was a slight tendency in that direction, but that was all.

The physicians were so favorably impressed with their patient's condition at the early morning consultation that they announced that Mrs. McKinley had passed a good night, and informed the public that there would not be another consultation until evening.

The joy in the president's heart was reflected in his face. He looked haggard and careworn Thursday; yesterday his face fairly beamed. The feeling of cheerfulness continued throughout the day. Telegrams continued to pour in from all parts of the country. All the foreign ambassadors and ministers at Washington have sent messages of sympathy.

It is not to be assumed that Mrs. McKinley has passed the crisis and is out of danger. She is still dangerously ill. Her vitality is so low and she is so weak that a change for the worse would not be unexpected at any moment, and it is feared she would not have reserve strength enough to survive another sinking spell, such as she experienced Thursday morning. Her mind was clear during her waking moments yesterday. There was no necessity for the administration of strong heart stimulants during the day, although brandy continues to be given from time to time. That and beef tea are practically all the nourishment she takes.

Much of the program for the launching of the battleship Ohio today will be abandoned. Miss Barber, a niece of Mrs. McKinley, in the absence of the mistress of the White House, will press the electric button, and, as the ship begins to glide down the ways, Miss Helen Deshler, a relative of Governor Nash, will christen the ship with a bottle of champagne. The president will not attend the launching.

Governor Nash of Ohio, who has traveled across the continent to attend the launching, will be unable to be present. His eyes are so swollen from poisoned oak, which he encountered during his visit to the big trees at Santa Cruz, that his physicians do not believe it will be wise for him to go into the light and open air.

Secretary Long will not remain her longer than Monday, owing to the condition of his daughter, who is ill at Colorado Springs. It is his intention to go there Monday and join the presidential party at some point in Colorado.

Early this morning Mrs. McKinley did not take nourishment freely, as she had previously done. Powerful stimulants, including oxygen, have been administered. The bone fellon on her hand has spread, and has discharged pus from another place. The new wound has been lanced.

Unhappy End of Celebration

Bemidjie, Minn., May 18.—Yesterday's Norwegian festivities ended with a terrible catastrophe. A lot of fireworks in the steamer Shadow exploded during a pyrotechnical display, and out of 30 people on board, five small boys and several men received perhaps fatal burns, while among those jumping into the lake to escape the fire, four small boys were not rescued.

Trojans Without Cars

Troy, May 18.—Despite the turmoil in Albany, six miles distant, this city was never more peaceful. All interests center in the outcome of the negotiations now progressing at the capital. Superintendent Smith of the Troy division states that he will not attempt to run any cars in this city until some decision is reached at the Albany conference.

To Build Up Ocean Trade

Paris, May 18.—It is practically certain that France will grant a subsidy to the proposed direct steamship line between France and Canada. This subsidy will be similar to the one voted by the Canadian parliament. This idea is warmly welcomed here.

Providence Boy Killed

Providence, May 18.—John Healey, 9 years old, was returning from a fishing trip with his older sister and younger brother, when he was struck and killed by a train.

DEATH OF MRS. GAGE

Failed to Recover From Grip Contracted Several Weeks Ago

Washington, May 18.—Mrs. Lyman J. Gage, wife of the secretary of the treasury, died at her residence here last at 9:30 o'clock last night, after an illness of nine weeks' duration. For a time before her death, Mrs. Gage suffered considerable pain, but she maintained her bright and cheerful demeanor and was conscious to the last. Heart trouble, the result of grip complications, was the immediate cause of death.

MRS. LYMAN J. GAGE.

Mrs. Gage was a native of Albany, and was 58 years of age. She was married to Mr. Gage in 1887. There were no children from their union, Mrs. Pierce being a child by a former husband.

BY THE FORCE OF ARMS

Traction Company Operates Another Division

ABSENCE OF DISTURBANCE

More Troops and Non-Union Men Arrive at Albany, but There Is Little Display of Indignation—City Police Arraigned For Failure In Duty

Albany, May 18.—A drenching rain succeeding a warm, humid day, made it unpleasant for the military guarding the city last night, but had the effect of clearing the street corners of the crowds that have invested them for the past 11 days.

No repetitions of the stirring scenes of disorder and turbulence that have marked the traction strike as the most desperate labor struggle of the year occurred yesterday. In mid-afternoon 600 additional troops of the Ninth regiment of New York city were added to the already large force now on duty here.

More non-union men were brought into the city, but, contrary to expectations and precedents in this strike, their coming did not arouse indignation appreciably. The United Traction company added part of another division to the section operated by force of arms. The street patrols kept people moving, and it is doubtful if a crowd numbering 500 assembled anywhere in the city during the day. The moving cars attracted little attention.

Quail street barn was again the center of action. A battalion was sent to the New York Central tracks and picked up 25 non-union men, who had been quietly dropped at a crossing some distance from the West Albany station. They were quickly taken to the Quail street barn. The movement was as peaceful as a procession. Once the non-union men were safe in the barn the movement of cars began.

The distribution of troops along the line into the city and out to North Albany was the same as on the previous day. At certain points sharpshooters were stationed on roofs and every possible precaution was taken to guard against successful attack.

The first car attracted only slight notice. The new men are learning the road and they kept their cars humming along at a brisk pace. The cars carried strong guards who sat with their guns in constant readiness.

The arrival of the Ninth regiment created a stir that subsided after it had marched away to its camp on the heights in South Albany. Their baggage wagons were stoned on the way out through South Albany, but the escort disregarded the attack.

The afternoon was featureless. The strikers rejoiced over the desertion of all of the inspectors on the traction lines save four. The inspectors objected to riding about on the guarded cars, and preferred to join the strikers.

Toward night a heavy rain began descending and the soldiers were left to patrol streets that were practically deserted.

The members of the committee of 13, a civic organization of influence, have issued an address scathingly arraigning the city police for failing in duty at critical times during the strike. After disclaiming any opinion as to the merits of the labor dispute the address declares that private property and citizens are guaranteed the protection of the law.

The address announces the employment of legal counsel to conduct an investigation and asks the citizens to aid. The address closes with an appeal for a general movement to terminate the present reign of riot and lawlessness.

Commissioner of Public Safety Ham evidently agrees with this view, for he has suspended the two policemen who were on the car with Moforman Marshall on Tuesday last when the latter was assaulted and fatally injured. They are charged with failing to make any effort to check the mob. Other patrolmen are also threatened with suspension.

The funerals of E. L. Smith and W. H. Walsh, the merchants killed Thursday morning, will take place tomorrow afternoon.

After hours of conference, the officials of the United Traction company and the committee from the organizations of the strikers adjourned without changing the situation. The company will proceed to run its cars today on every line within the city limits with the aid of a military force that now numbers 3000 men.

The reason there was no settlement last night was because the company refused to discharge the men brought from other points to take strikers' places. The strikers agreed to waive the question of unionism so far as employes of the company at the time the strike was declared are concerned.

General Superintendent McNamara left the conference at 11:15 p. m. He was asked: "Do you think there is any prospect of an immediate settlement?" He replied: "I am sorry to say that I do not think there is." The office was guarded during the conference by a full company of guardsmen, but there was no unfriendly demonstration.

Good Afternoon.

Memorial day comes on apace, and the Grand Army has fresh reminders of the departure of comrades, the latest being the death today of Capt. Boyd. Paul Revere Post should have many volunteer assistants for their work of May 30. They invite the gift of flowers for decoration, and food at headquarters for veterans who now find it quite an effort to perform the duties of decoration. It is time that carriages were provided for all the veterans of the Civil war who will take part in the services of Memorial day, and that the marching be done by the younger Spanish war veterans, the Sons of Veterans and the militia. Give the Grand Army veterans the post of honor and not the city officials. Gifts of money to help defray the expenses of Memorial day could be used economically.

Activity along the shore point of Ward Two is noted at length today, but this is only a small part of the sea shore of Quincy, as Wards One, Five and Six also abut on salt water, and are to have improvements: In Ward One a new power station for the Quincy Electric Light and Power Company, and at Houghs Neck a steamboat landing and perhaps a large hotel. In Wards Five and Six the new Metropolitan boulevard at an early date. Squantum may also be taken by the government and the magazine at Chelsea moved thither. The value of our shore point is now being recognized.

Again Quincy is reminded of the opportunities which are offered to girls who are Quincy born, in the facilities of the Woodward Institute and the instructions given. It is exercise which the girls need, and if not carried to excess should be very beneficial. More should avail themselves of these opportunities.

It is some time, until this week, since any of our granite firms have suffered heavy loss from fires, which a few years ago were very frequent. Many of the engine houses are now of granite and iron, and not such easy prey to the devouring element.

Drift of Opinion.

☞The friends of any measure before the Legislature are not warranted in getting very hilarious just because it has passed the House.—Lynn Item.

☞To those familiar with railway operation and the multitudinous chances of something going wrong, it is a constant source of wonder that so few accidents happen. The prevalent idea that railroad men are indifferent or careless is wholly erroneous. The utmost vigilance and painstaking care is devoted to train operation, simply because the liability of accident is so well understood. All that can be done to minimize the danger is being done by those charged with railroad operation."—Chicago Daily.

I sold five bottles of it yesterday to threshers that could go no farther, and they are at work again this morning.—H. R. PHELPS, Plymouth, Oklahoma. As will be seen by the above the threshers were able to keep on with their work without losing a single day's time. You should keep a bottle of this Remedy in your home. For sale by all druggists.

Surprising Business--Activity Along Many Lines.

Nowhere in the city is there more business activity than at Quincy Point. One can hardly realize what a busy place it is until they start in to investigate, and then they are surprised. The business activity is not confined to one line but to several, and it is no boast to say that there is today more business carried on at Quincy Point than there ever was in the palmiest days of granite at West Quincy.

A trip along the shore front where the yachts are hauled up finds men scattered all along the shore from Johnson wharf to the street railway power station. At Gavin's, or Dewey's Landing as it is now called, but little has been done toward putting the yachts into the water.

C. F. Flodell, who now has Gavin's shop, is however building a large boat for a Mr. Webber of Roxbury. She is all planked in and partly decked over. Her dimensions are 46 feet over all, 36 feet on the water line and 10 feet beam. She is a very roomy boat and will have a large cabin which will be fitted with a bath room and all the modern conveniences that make yachting a comfort. There will be four double and four single berths in her saloon cabin, and four berths in the after cabin. There will also be accommodations for two berths in the pilot house.

Her motive power will be a twelve-horse power gasolene engine and she will also carry spars and sails which can be used in case of emergency. She was designed by Mr. Flodell, who expects to get her finished by the first of July.

The launch Alice, which was hauled up here for the winter, is in the water and her owner is making some repairs.

At Lelois' yard two or three of the small yachts are in the water but the larger craft are still high and dry. Nearly all have been uncovered, however, and masts are being scraped and they are being touched up and painted, and minor repairs are being made.

Following along the beach the new city bath house is reached. This was completed late last year and has not yet been christened. Men are at work about the premises grading and cleaning up. In the rear of this is the Ward Two playground. A new back stop has just been erected on the ball field.

Next along the line is the extensive plant of the Hanley Construction Company. Work here is rushing. Several boats, including a steam launch, are already in the water and moored in Hanley's basin.

Outside a gang of riggers and others are at work putting on the finishing touches. Inside the buildings, several yachts are under constructions, including a yacht that is being built to compete in the trial races to select a defender for the Canadian Cup. A more complete description of this boat will be published later.

Next in order is the point of land where is located the power station of the Old Colony street railway company and the boat yards of Embree and Maybury. A number of boats are hauled up here and both parties have a yacht under construction and well along toward completion. None of the boats are yet in the water, but will be put in before the first of the month.

At the street railway power stations extensive and expensive improvements are being made. A large addition has been built to the boiler, engine and generator rooms. Several new boilers are being installed while in the generator room, new generators are being set up and connected with the switch boards. When the additions are completed the street railway will have one of the largest and best equipped power plants in the State.

At the coal wharfs of J. F. Sheppard & Sons and Cyrus Patch & Son there are also signs of business activity. It is not just the season when there is a large demand for coal, but still there is a demand and many tons are being delivered daily. Vessels are constantly arriving and the two firms are filling their bunkers, with next winter's supply.

It will also be noticed while passing through this ward that many new houses have been erected and others are in the process of erection. These have already been mentioned in previous articles.

It was also noticed that the hydrants of the City Water department are being newly painted. The body of the hydrant black and the tops blue.

Other things noticed were that people are fixing up their lawns and painting their houses, and that men are at work grading about the Washington Street Congregational church so as to present a good appearance to the new minister.

As the plant of the Fore River Ship and Engine compan is approached, the rapid vibrations of the power riveting machine are heard, as they rivet on the steel plates of the cruiser Des Moines. The outer plates are nearly all in position but this is little more than a beginning.

Moored at the company's wharf are the two topredo boat destroyers. They are a wicked-looking little craft and will give a good account of themselves should this country be unfortunate enough to have another war.

In all the shops skilled mechanics are hard at work, and right here it might be said that but few other than skilled laborers are employed. Labor is better paid than in other ship yards but the company consider that they have better help.

In the forge shop huge pieces of iron and steel, heated to a white heat are readily handled and placed beneath the massive hammers whose blows can be heard a long distance.

A net work of wires run about the plant. Some of these are telephone wires, for every department has one or more telephones, and others are wires which convey the electric current for power and light to all parts of the plants. All the machinery here is operated by electric motors which are a part of the machine itself, thus doing away with the tons of shafting, and saving an enormous amount of energy that is usually lost by friction.

The new buildings being erected on the plant, of which mention has been made, are about completed. High board fences inclose the property which keeps out the crowd that would swarm over the place were they permitted to enter.

Entrance for visitors must be made through the office and a visitor must have an exceptionally good excuse to get through, so that those who get through are few and far between.

The Singular Life.

Almost everyone has read Elizabeth Stuart Phelps' charming story. "The Singular Life: It may be of interest to the Quincy reading public to know that Emanuel Bayard, the hero of the story, is a faithful portrait of Rev. Emanuel Charlton who speaks at Bethany church tomorrow evening. That the whole story, save some parts which deal with student days and the lone incidentsare taken from life. The esblishment of the Seaman's chapel. The assault, the rescue of the Scotch girl. The Saloon keepers; The buildings on the street are facts, and one may meet the real characters and visit the actual scenes of the book in Glouster today. And, those who best know Emanael Charlton believe that the story of consecrated sevice in the Singular life is most over drawn.

Fatal Carriage Accident.

James M. Tower of South Hingham was instantly killed last night on Hersey street in that town by being thrown from a carriage in a runaway. His wife and daughter were in the carriage when it capsized, the former receiving a broken arm, and the latter severe bruises. Collision with a bicycle frightened the horse, but the bicyclist escaped unhurt.

CITY BREVITIES.

A Local Budget With the News in a Nut Shell.

Threatening weather today.

The Milton academy nine is scheduled to play Adams academy at Quincy this afternoon.

Today the qualifying round for the Presidents cup is being played by members of the Wollaston Golf club.

James T. Burchsted is painting the block occupied by Messrs. Sanborn & Damon, and George W. Prescott & Son.

The wills of John H. Severance of East Milton and Ann Wood of Milton were allowed at probate court this week.

The statute laws require the finder of any property valued at five or more dollars to advertise the same three times in the local paper.

The regular monthly meeting of the Hospital Aid association will be held on Thursday, May 23, in the chapel of the First church, City Square, Quincy.

Mr. Jesse F. Curtis of Miller Stile road is at his sister's in Dorchester for a few days for a change. Since the warm weather came his health has improved.

Rev. Emanuel Charlton of Gloucester will speak at Bethany church Sunday evening at 7.30 on "Work among American Fishermen." He is chaplain of the Seamen's institute.

The choir of St. Chrysostom's church, will unite with the choir of St. Paul's church, Brockton, and Christ church, in a choir festival in Christ church, Quincy, Sunday evening, at 7 o'clock.

The only Quincy business at the Norfolk county probate court in Dedham this week was the reception of the inventory of the estate of Mary A. Leake at $835.05. Three accounts of the trustees of the estate of the late Joseph W. Robertson for $92,845, $1,365 and $90,000 were allowed.

Easy Marks.

A clothing club, which has always been recognized as a kind of a skin game, was aired in the district court this morning, when John E. McCormick was arraigned upon four complaints for larceny of money.

The scheme as worked was that the club members were to pay $1 a week for twenty weeks. Those who went into it understood that they might get their clothing before the full amount was paid in. The card which the agent McCormack gave, however, read that the suit would be furnished at the expiration of twenty weeks.

About forty in Quincy were included in the club, most of whom were employes of the street railway. Some paid in $6 and others as high as $10, when the collector failed to appear. Application to the company's headquarters in Boston failed to give any satisfaction. None of the forty men of the club has as yet got their suit of clothing.

If lucky, the fellow told each man, that he could get his suit right away but if not lucky you will have to pay the whole $20. Then he came along and said, if you give me $2 today I can almost guarantee to draw yours out this week. The suits never came and it is the general impression that the forty were easy marks.

Second Night of Fair.

There was a good crowd in attendance last night at the fair in Colonial hall under the auspices of the Woman's Relief Corps, and a large sale of articles was made. The entertainment was a pleasing one and consisted of fancy dancing by a little daughter of ex-Councilman Barker, humorons readings by Samuel Brown of Wollaston, and a farce entitled, "The Love of a Bonnet," which was presented by five misses from Atlantic. Between the numbers there was music by the orchestra.

This afternoon a baby show is being held, and while the storm prevented some mothers from bringing out their pets, there was a goodly number present.

Visitation.

A large delegation of Grand Lodge officers made an official visit to Quincy lodge, New England Order of Protection, last evening. Three candidates were initiated and remarks were made by the grand officers. Ices, cream and cake were served. Among grand officers present were the following: Grand Warden, G. S. Newhall; Vice Grand Warden, F. T. Peabody: Grand Secretary, E. S. Hinckley; Grand Chaplain, Mary J. Bagley; Grand Guide, H. H. Chevigny; Grand Deputy, Cornetta J. Stetson; Past Warden, C. B. Merchant.

—Stale candy can generally be worked over by reboiling it. In the case of acid candies, such as lemon drops, the candy is boiled, the acid is withdrawn by the use of lime or chalk, and the syrup may then be used in the manufacture of that or any other species of candy.

HOME SCIENCE.

Work Reviewed at the Annual Meeting.

At the fourth annual meeting of the Quincy Home Science Association held Wednesday of this week at the Unitarian chapel, an audience which made up an intelligent appreciation what it lacked in number listened to a program of unusual scope and interest, including reports of the secretary, treasurer and Home Science Intelligence Committee, a paper by Mrs. Wilson Marsh on "Manual Training," and an informal address by Mr. F. E. Parlin, Superintendent of the Quincy schools, a welcome and sympathetic visitor.

The secretary, Mrs. W. E. Burke, reviewed the work of the year. Last summer's kindergarten work having been especially satisfactory in its educational results and in its more systematic management by special committees, one for each kindergarten—a policy somewhat similar will probably be followed in connection with the work this summer. The autumn meeting of the Association when Mrs. J. H. Litchfield's (of Wollaston) prize paper on "Home Making" was read by the writer and interesting Branch meetings at Wollaston and Quincy Point were mentioned—also the February Home Science ball as an occasion satisfactory socially and financially—and finally the recent school children's festival which was a fitting ending to a prosperous year, being the most successful entertainment in this association's history. It was said that something like 1,200 children were present.

The report of the treasurer, Mrs. Warren W. Adams, made an encouraging showing of expenses for the past year, $421.95 and after payment of all bills up to date a balance now in hand of a little over $500.

In commenting upon these reports the president Miss Elizabeth Johnson spoke with appreciation of officers, members and friends who had thought and worked for the kindergartens, the balls, the children's festival and other Home Science activities with untiring zeal and efficiency. The best proof of the success of the ball had been various requests for two balls instead of one another winter—and the suggestions had been made that the good old New England name of "assembly" should be used instead of "ball." With regard to the festival, she felt the half holiday granted by the School Committee to have been indispensable to the measure of success achieved, and hoped as the festival was an enterprise planned purely to benefit the Quincy schools—to raise money for the extension of their work in directions not provided for by the school appropriations—that public opinion would urge the same action on the part of the School Committee another year.

An important feature of the meeting was the election of the following officers:

President—Miss Elizabeth Johnson.

1st Vice President,—Mrs. John O. Hall, Jr.

2d Vice President,—Miss Emily Wilde.

Secretary,—Mrs. Walter E. Burke.

Assistant Secretary,—Mrs. Henry M. Faxon.

Treasurer,—Mrs. Wilson Tisdale.

Assistant Treasurer,—Mrs. Edwin E. Davis.

Directors,—Mrs. H. M. Willard, Mrs. Charles M. Bryant, Miss Eliza Sheahan, Mrs. Walter E. Simmons, Mrs. John R. Graham, Mrs E. W. Sheppard, Miss Martha Kincaide, Mrs. W. W. Dornan, Mrs. Shaw, Miss Etta Prescott, Miss Margaret Thomas and Mrs. J. M. Nowland.

Each year their two years' term of office, for which all except in special emergencies are supposed to serve, having expired—a certain number of Home Science officers retire to make room for new officers necessary in this as in all organizations of growth and permanence. To the officers retiring this spring a unanimous vote of thanks was passed for their valuable services—among these officers being some who have faithfully served the association since its beginning four years ago, and who have only been kept from retiring in their regular terms by the special and urgent request from the executive to remain in office.

Miss Johnson spoke of the encouragement which the home science work is receiving from Quincy teachers, as particularly helpful.

Principals and teachers in all the schools have shown themselves ready to assist, and a contribution of $10 received from the teachers of the Adams school toward manual training class expenses was a very tangible and most agreeable proof of their good feeling.

Mrs. T. B. Pollard presented the report of the Home Science Intelligence committee. From her paper the audience learned of the widespread interest now manifest among the most intelligent people in domestic questions. Colleges are introducing courses for the study of such matters, and in all the large cities, and many of the small ones, institutions are established for the study of household problems and for the education of both mistress and maid. An account was given of the Sunshine Laundry of Brookline, which is run on a hygienic basis by two college graduates.

Mrs. Pollard ended her talk by telling of the Brookline Education Society which has committees for child study, mothers' meetings, art and music. This society gives organ and song recitals and lectures at the High school, has physical training classes and school libraries and keeps one room at the public library for the children. She also mentioned the Bethany Mothers' meetings, Mrs. Addison's circle of Busy Bees, and the Edward Hewitson Association,—three excellent societies which show Quincy's interest in these lines.

The Home Science Intelligence Committee for this year is Mrs. W. T. Babcock and Mrs. D. E. Wadsworth.

Mrs. Wilson Marsh opened her paper on "Manual Training," with the quotation which is over the door of the North Bennett Street school. This states that manual training is essential to the right and full development of the human mind, and is of as great importance to the one who is not to be an artisan as to the one who is to be an artisan. Sloyd work which is attracting so much attention now is a form of manual training and is tool work designed to stimulate thought and care. The thing made by the pupil is the least result. The training in correct judgment and accuracy, industry, neatness, independence, love of and respect respect for work, is the real end in view.

The kindergarten ideal of learning through doing, could be carried through all the higher grades by means of manual training.

A class in Sloyd work is to be established this summer, and the committee who have the matter in charge include Mrs. C. T. Hardwick, Mrs. F. H. Smith, and Mrs. W. W. Adams.

Supt. Parlin was then introduced. He commended what he knew of the work of the association, and emphasized the importance of such an organization to maintain popular sentiment and interest in educational matters. There is much need of study of the nature and development of children, and need that the knowledge of child nature should be wide spread. Educational matters change rapidly, and there is danger that the parents may not understand these changes and so become out of sympathy with the schools. They would be shown that the changes are the result of careful scientific study. Societies are needed to frown upon any harmful influences in the school and to help make sure that every arrangement is made for the good of the children. Mr. Parlin referred to a man who said a certain person "must be provided for" and so proposed to give her a teacher's position—which would scarcely have been "for the good of the children.' Teachers need the help and encouragment of intelligent observers, to co-operate with them and supplement the school system.

Vacation schools are needed to relieve over-burdened mothers and to give an opportunity to the children to use their energies in a profitable way and to learn things of value. The kindergarten should have its true meaning, — it should be a "child garden." The ideal way would be to have an intellient person take the children into the woods and fields, and by the sea, and teach them through observation. (At this point the ladies who are especially interested in the summer kindergarten thought with satisfaction of the many walks taken by one of the schools.) Much is gained too by the use of games. The value of play lies in the thought training as well as the muscular development,—it is a natural way of teaching, as it holds the children's interest. Mr. Parlin gave a word of warning as to the use of the smaller muscles of the child as these are the last to develope. The importance of this is realized now among kindergartens and has resulted in the use of larger material in the work in many places.

The name of Mrs. J. H. Slade of Quincy Point was announced as winner of the Home Science prize essay contest for this year—her subject being "Paid workers in the home — their relation to their employers — their rights and privileges—the rights and privileges of their employers. Their social standing as it is and as it should be in comparison with workers in other occupations."

After this the meeting was adjourned.

CLEVELAND'S

Superior Baking Powder

is always uniform in strength and quality. The last spoonful in the can is as good as the first. The cheaply made powders work unevenly. If when fresh they raise the biscuit or cake, before the can is empty they make sour, soapy-tasted, heavy food, and the flour, eggs and butter used are wasted. This is because they are made from inferior ingredients.

Cleveland's is a pure cream of tartar baking powder and makes the food more healthful.

The cheap baking powders are made from alum. They put into the food a poisonous compound which can only be eaten at the expense of health.

Another Religious Society.

A largely attended meeting of the Finnish residents, who are interested in the formation of a Finnish Evangelical Lutheran church was held last evening at the Finnish Temperance hall. It was decided to organize the society, and Anselm Kantola was elected as clerk, and Neilo Nelson as moderator. A treasurer and board of trustees were also elected and by-laws adopted. The first service will be held Sunday, May 26, when the people will be addressed by a pastor from Boston, in their own language, in the Finnish Temperance hall. The new society is the outgrowth of the Finnish Temperance society, and it is probable that the society will make over its property to the new society.

A REMEDY FOR THE GRIPPE.

A remedy recommended for patients afflicted with the Grippe is KEMP'S BALSAM, which is especially adapted for the throat and lungs. Don't wait for the first symptoms of the disease! get a bottle today and keep it for use the moment it is needed. If neglected the grippe has a tendency to bring on pneumonia. KEMP'S BALSAM prevents this by keeping the cough loose, lungs free from inflammation. All druggists sell KEMP'S BALSAM at 25c. and 50c.

Reception to Mr. Griffin.

In Cochato hall, Braintree, last evening about 200 people were assembled at the reception to Rev. Frederick R. Griffin, pastor of All Souls' church.

Mr. Griffin was assisted in receiving by the president of the society, Mr. F. O. Ellis, from eight until nine o'clock. Ice cream, cake and coffee were served during the evening. Potted plants and cut flowers were prettily aranged upon the stage and refreshment table.

The most notable feature of the evening was the sociability of the entire gathering. Ministers of four denominations were present. Among the friends of Mr. Griffin present were: Rev. and Mrs A. A. Ellsworth, Rev. C. F. Hill Crathern, Rev. G. E. Whitehouse, Rev. Melvin S. Nash, Dr. William Gallagher, Dr. and Mrs. F. P. Virigin, Col. and Mrs. A. C. Drinkwater and besides the Braintree people there were representatives from Weymouth, Boston and several nearby towns.

The following committees were appointed to serve:

Refreshment—Mr. W. E. Dow, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Williams, Mrs. W. E. Morrison and Mrs. Eben Prescott.

Aids to reception—Miss Louise Pray, Miss E. Pray, Miss Alice Morrison, Miss Alice Dow, Miss Albina M. Cain, Miss Carrie Hilliard, Miss Annie Ellis, Miss Lora Emerson, Miss Ethel Williams, Miss Helen Drinkwater, Miss Helen Hathaway, Miss Lillie Creed, Misses Elsie and Amy Tonner.

The Sort of Table He Wanted.

The following conversation was overheard between a joiner and his customer a short time ago:

Joiner—Please, sir, I've brought the table you ordered me to make.

Customer—Well, put it down here, my man, and let's see what sort of a job you've made of it.

The man set it down in the middle of the room, and the customer examined it with the air of a critic.

Customer—Why, my man, there is here a crack filled up with putty.

Joiner—Yes, sir. Well, sir, I know about that, but it won't be noticed when it sets hard.

Customer (coming across some more putty)—But here's some more, my man. What is the meaning of this?

Joiner—Well, sir, you see, a little bit of wood chipped off the corner, and I just put a little putty there to fill up. It won't do no harm, sir, when it's set hard.

Customer (finding some more putty patches)—Look here, my man, this won't do. Why, here's a big lump right in the middle of this leg. What can you say about that?

Joiner (scratching his head and trying hard to find some excuse by which to retrieve his honor)—Well, sir, that's no harm whatever, and the putty when it sets hard will be firmer and harder than the wood. So, you see, it will be all the better if you wait a bit, sir.

Customer (sarcastically)—Here, my good man, just take this table home and bring me one made of putty altogether. I want a good strong one, and you can fill up the cracks with wood.—London Tit-Bits.

How the Spanish Gypsy Dances.

I held my breath as I watched the gypsy in the Seville dancing hall. I felt myself swaying unconsciously to the rhythm of her body, of her beckoning hands, of the glittering smile that came and went in her eyes. I seemed to be drawn into a shining whirlpool, in which I turned, turned, hearing the buzz of the water settling over my head. The guitar buzzed, buzzed in a prancing rhythm, the gypsy coiled about the floor in her trailing dress, never so much as showing her ankles, with a rapidity concentrated upon itself. Her hands beckoned, reached out, clutched, clutched delicately, lived to their finger tips. Her body straightened, bent, the knees bent and straightened, the heels beat on the floor, carrying her backward and round. The toes pointed, paused, pointed, and the body drooped or rose into immobility, a smiling, significant pause of the whole body. Then the motion began again, more vivid, more restrained, as if teased by some unseen limits, as if turning upon itself in the vain desire to escape, as if caught in its own toils.—Arthur Symons in London Saturday Review.

Companions In Misery.

"I am not especially sensitive," said the man with the billiard ball pate in talking to friends with scanty hair who had been telling experiences, "but I confess it rankled when an absolute stranger hailed me as 'Old Baldy!' I was sprinkling the lawn one hot evening last summer and had laid aside hat and coat. I was somewhat astonished on looking up to see a stranger hanging over the picket fence intently watching me. I continued to play the hose, but when I looked up again the man was still there studying and with evident amusement. I glared at him.

"'Hello, old Baldy!' he shouted, making a profound bow.

"'Are you speaking to me, sir?' I demanded.

"'Hello, old Baldy!' he repeated.

"'Why, you verdant chump,' I replied, rushing toward him, with the nozzle, 'I'll turn the hose on you!'

"'No, you don't,' he answered, removing his hat with a flourish and making another low bow. 'I'm the limit,' he said. I then saw there was not a hair on his head. We went off together and had a drink."—New York Sun.

An Itinerant Infant.

Going down the road in North Carolina, I accosted a bright looking little colored girl and inquired her name.

"Virginia Alabama Mississippi Benson," she said so hurriedly that I had to ask her to repeat it several times, and I failed to discover how so insignificant an atom in this great universe had received such a tremendous title. Learning that she lived in a little cabin near by, I inquired of her mother.

"So's to 'member th' places we've lived at," was the reply, and further questioning drew out the interesting fact that the child had been made a family record and christened so that her parents might not forget the names of the states in which they had resided.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Reassured.

"They claim that women are trying to dominate the entire species," remarked Mr. Meekton.

"Well, femininity is becoming very aggressive."

"It seems so. But when I am at home and Henrietta is out lecturing I get my book of choice selections and read, 'The hand that rocks the cradle is the hand that rules the world.' And then I feel perfectly content."—Washington Star.

Where the Fault Is.

These complaints of bad cooks—have you observed that they all come from elderly people? Children are given the scraps around home, say nothing and get fat. The world is all right; the cooks are all right; it's your stomach that is out of order.—Atchison Globe.

A NEW YORK MYSTERY

Finding of the Dead Body of Father Phillips

A THEORY OF MURDER

Organs of Body May Be Subjected to a Chemical Anaylsis—Had Been Lying Dead For Some Days in Room of Massage Operator

New York, May 18.—Coroner's Physician O'Hanlon yesterday afternoon began an autopsy in the presence of Coroner Bausch, on the body of Rev. Father Edward S. Phillips of St. Gabriel's church, Hazleton, Pa., who was found dead late Thursday night in a house on Ninth street.

Mr. Bausch said he considered the finding of a pool of blood under the head very suspicious. He said he is convinced the man was dead from the morning of the 9th.

Assistant District Attorney Garvan said positively: "It was a murder without doubt."

FATHER PHILLIPS.

At the conclusion of the autopsy Coroner Brausch said: "The autopsy shows no marks of violence, no fracture of any kind and no hemorrhage of the brain. Owing to the suspicious circumstances attached to the case, it was deemed proper that a chemical analysis should be made of the organs, which will be sent to Professor Whitthaus. The matter now rests with the district attorney and a justice of the supreme court to determine whether that analysis shall be made."

Kirk Stanley, a massage operator in whose rooms the body was found, is under arrest as a suspicious person, and Coroner Bausch has committed him to the Tombs in default of $10,00 bail.

To Coroner Bausch Stanley said that he and the priest had become deathly ill while in Stanley's rooms with two girls, and that the priest had given him a powder and had taken one himself. This helped them both. He did not remember the circumstances under which the girls left the room. Stanley said he went out for a walk, leaving the priest in a rocking chair smoking a pipe, and evidently having recovered fully from his illness. When he returned the priest was not there.

The police are searching for a woman who was known as Stanley's wife. They say this woman left the house in Ninth avenue on May 9 and has not returned. Father Phillips disappeared on May 8.

It was made public for the first time after the identification of the body that two confidential alarms had been sent out by Captain of Detectives Titus for Dr. Phillips, who, according to this information, had been missing from his home in Hazleton since April 28.

Belgian Statesmen In a Turmoil

Brussels, May 18.—There were stormy scenes in the chamber of deputies yesterday during the debate on foreign affairs. M. Dohet protested against the suppression of the temporal power of the pope. M. Furnement, a Socialist, retorted with shouting, "Down with the priests." The Socialists started a song, and the Rightists responded with shouts of "Long live the king." The president of the house left the chamber. Lively altercations between members of the different parties ensued. The appropriation for the maintenance of the Belgian legation at the Vatican was subsequently passed by a vote of 65 to 55.

Strike Scheduled For Monday

St. Albans, Vt., May 18.—General Manager Logan of the Central Vermont railroad shops in this city yesterday posted a notice refusing the demands of the mechanics employed in the locomotive department, and as a result 150 men in this department will go out on strike on Monday. The men demand a nine-hour day.

Ruined In Stock Market

New York, May 18.—C. F. Betts, a former stock broker and a member of the Loyal Legion and a prominent Mason, is reported missing. It is thought that Betts has committed suicide. Betts had from $25,000 to $40,000 invested in stocks, all of which was lost.

Proposed Garrison Posts

Washington, May 18.—Major Jones, quartermaster, has been ordered to visit the Kennebec (Me.) arsenal and the Alleghany arsenal (Pittsburg) and report upon their adaptability for use as garrison posts.

Russia Awaits Shah's Death

London, May 18.—The Shah of Persia is dying of kidney trouble, says a dispatch from Tiflis to The Daily Express. It is expected that his death will be the signal for a Russian coup in Persia.

Boers Giving Up

Pietersburg, May 18.—Ninety Boers, including many former officials, have surrendered. The district is rapidly settling down to the usual conditions.

FOR CURTAILMENT

Fall River Manufacturers Prefer This Plan to Wage Reduction

Fall River, Mass., May 18.—A meeting of the Manufacturers' association was held yesterday afternoon. The association is distinct from the selling committee. It was decided to abandon the wage reduction for the present, and to instruct the executive committee to endeavor to secure signers to an agreement for a further curtailment of production for four weeks. It is not expected that this curtailment will take in any of the fine goods mills.

The meeting was called at the request of individual members of the Manufacturers' association, which in former years controlled local manufactures. It was called after the failure to induce the selling committee to call the signers of the original agreement together. Much doubt is now expressed as to whether or not a further curtailment agreement can be secured that will include the mills which are now completing the four weeks' curtailment. This is due to the fact that several treasurers have concluded that Fall River has done enough curtailing, and has frequently done it recently for the benefit of the outside mills.

The fact that the association took no action on the wage question has caused much good feeling in the city, as it was known that a strong effort was being made quietly to bring about a lower wage scale. The manufacturers could not see where the wage scale would affect the general market conditions at this moment. The failure of the selling committee to make a recommendation as to proper action at this time has caused added uneasiness among the members, who believe that the usefulness of the selling committee as an institution has passed. The committee appointed by the association to procure signatures to the proposed curtailment agreement consists of five members.

Fireman Probably Fatally Hurt

Lynn, Mass., May 18.—Five firemen were injured, one probably fatally, at a fire here yesterday by the breaking of a ladder. W. F. Marvin struck on his head, sustaining a fractured skull. His condition is such that it is believed he cannot recover. With him on the 40-foot ladder were the four other men. The ladder, which was an old one, broke about in the middle, and all the men were thrown to the ground. Marvin, being at the top, was most severely hurt.

Landlord Lost an Ear

Fall iRver, Mass., May 18.—Thomas Foley is looked up on the charge of assault with a dangerous weapon upon Charles Hunt. The latter owned property occupied by Foley, and in an argument over the rent it is alleged that Foley attacked Hunt with a knife. Hunt had one ear cut off and received other bad cuts. Foley's wife and a caller, James Traverse, in attempting to take the knife away from Foley, were also considerably slashed.

State Senator "Called Down"

Gloucester, Mass., May 18.—The city council held an indignation meeting last night, the outcome of which is that State Senator Gardner has been requested to make a public apology. It is alleged that Senator Gardner stated, in a debate at the state house, that the city government of Gloucester was trying to loot the treasury and that the members of it were thieves. A resolution demanding an apology was adopted, with only one dissenting vote.

Wouldn't Be Interviewed

Boston, May 18.—Mrs. Jane Dowie, the wife of Rev. John A. Dowie, general overseer of the Church of Zion, with headquarters in Chicago, arrived in Boston yesterday from Paris, where she spent the winter, and was accompanied by her daughter. She was met by her son, A. J. G. Dowie, a Harvard law school student. She declined to be interviewed on reports of Zionist troubles in Chicago.

Methodist Church Burned

Newport, Me., May 18.—Over 20 buildings were ablaze at one time yesterday in this town, as the result of a fire that broke out on the roof of the Maine Central freight depot, and the total loss is estimated at $20,000. The Methodist Episcopal church building was entirely burned, together with its furnishings. No insurance was carried on the building. The other buildings were saved.

Burned In His Home

Stamford, Conn., May 18.—F. W Keith, a retired chemist, was burned to death last night in a fire which destroyed his house at Waterside. The cause of the fire is unknown. When the firemen entered Keith's room, they found the victim on the floor near the window. Keith's wife and two children are at present at Buffalo.

Inquiry as to Brainerd's Mind

Portland, Me., May 18.—Judge Bonney has ordered George H. Brainerd, charged with shooting four men, two of them fatally, at the telephone exchange here, committed to the custody of the superintendent of the Maine insane asylum at Augusta for examination as to his mental condition. He was taken to Augusta.

Seven Cases of Smallpox

Leominster, Mass., May 18.—Two more cases of smallpox developed yesterday, Miss Honorah Wyman and Mrs. H. E. Hines, sisters of Miss Annie Wyman, who has nearly recovered from the disease, being the victims. This makes seven cases in all.

Shot Himself In Head

Belfast, Me., May 18.—Orrin Whitmore of Northport, aged 45 years, committed suicide yesterday by shooting in the head. He had been in poor mental health for the past two years. He is survived by a widow and eight children.

Boy Victim of Cigarets

Lewiston, Me., May 18.—Charles Morse, 15 years old, has become insane, it is alleged, through smoking cigarets. He will be taken to Augusta today.

TESTING THE SEEDS.

EXPERIMENTS TO BE MADE AT THE PAN-AMERICAN.

Exhibit of the Division of Botany of the United States Department of Agriculture Will Deeply Interest the Agriculturists.

The progressive agriculturist will be interested in the exhibit of the Division of Botany of the United States Department of Agriculture at the Pan-American Exposition, as it relates to one of the first essentials of his calling. The exhibit will be restricted to only one of the numerous lines of work conducted by the Division of Botany—namely, pure seed investigations. It will represent the work of the Seed Laboratory at the Department of Agriculture, where samples of all seeds distributed by the Government are now carefully tested for purity, germinability, and freedom from seeds of noxious weeds.

Thousands of samples from farmers and seedsmen in all parts of the country are also tested at this laboratory. The work is of special interest to farmers, gardeners, seedsmen and experiment station workers, to whom the subject of pure seeds is of vital importance.

The Seed Laboratory of the Department of Agriculture is well recognized as the most important seed testing station in America. Its methods, standards and most important pieces of apparatus have been adopted for seed testing at many of the State Experiment stations. The methods now in use and many of the instruments and larger pieces of apparatus have been devised and perfected by the men in charge to meet the necessities of the work.

On entering the space devoted to this exhibit at the left of the main aisle one sees first in a glass case a purity separating table with magnifying glass, forceps and other tools used by experts in separating a sample of commercial seed into its component parts of pure seed, chaff, sand and other foreign matter and weed seeds. Next is a pair of fine balances on which samples are weighed, all percentages in seed purity tests being based upon weight. Beyond the scales is a new combined mixer and sampler. In this a quantity of seeds is quickly mixed and a sample of the desired amount delivered which will fairly represent the entire lot. One of the most attractive pieces of apparatus used in purity testing is the blast impurity separator, which is also a new device. The air blast is furnished by a modern blower driven by an electric motor. The device itself, however, in which the separation of chaff and lighter impurities from seed is performed through the action of an air current, consists of a simple bent glass tube connected with a receiver.

Actual germination tests will be carried on at the Exposition as in the Seed Laboratory at Washington. Commercial seeds will be counted, arranged in folded blue blotters, moistened and placed in the standard germinating chamber, where they will be kept at fixed temperatures favorable to germination. Check germination tests, such as are employed in conducting tests with many kinds of seeds, will be made in sterilized sand and soil in greenhouse "flats." The number germinating each day for a definite period in each of the tests will be noted, and the percentage of germination thus computed.

Many weeds the seeds of which are most frequently found as impurities in commercial seeds are represented by living plants labeled with the names by which they should be designated by English speaking people wherever found. A unique feature is an exhibit of seeds of many of these weeds and also several kinds of commercial seeds arranged under 40 magnifying glasses accompanied by seeds of the same kinds in open dishes, so that one may readily compare the magnified impression with the actual seed and note differences and distinctive characters that would not appear to the unaided eye.

The results and importance of seed testing are graphically represented by several groups of glass tubes containing different kinds of commercial seeds. These show the ordinary commercial seed, the amount of pure seed true to name in the sample and the amount of inert matter, such as chaff, sticks and sand, the proportion of weed seeds, and finally the amount of germinable seeds true to name, as determined by test of similar sample and the proportion of waste. A comparison of these last two indicates how much is often paid for waste in buying untested and poorly cleaned seeds.

Commercial seed growing is shown by photographic illustrations of some of the largest seed farms in California, where the production of garden seeds has reached its highest development in this country.

WEEKLY TRADE REVIEW

With Exception of Labor Disturbances Business Is Generally Good

New York, May 18.—R. G. Dun's review of the state of trade says: Crop reports continue in the main favorable and ease in the money market returned to encourage business enterprise which looked aghast at the collapse of stock speculation. As against the favorable developments there is but one adverse factor, and the labor disturbances in several quarters are not considered likely to be a long-continued drawback.

Less urgency for early delivery of iron and steel products was reported at manufacturing centers.

Forwardings of boots and shoes from Boston for the last two weeks reached the exceptional total of 207,302 cases. Uneven distribution of contracts is still conspicuous. It is no longer possible to secure concessions in prices and quotations are firmly maintained. A gratifying feature is the demand for better grades, cheaper shoes being in less request.

Both wheat and corn continue to sell at more than 10 cents a bushel above the price at this date last year, and the fluctuations in speculative options are much wider.

Cotton failed to maintain the small advance made at the close of last week. liberal port receipts promptly restoring the lowest quotations of the season. Yet there is more encouragement than at any time recently in the size of exports and purchases by domestic mills. In the cotton goods market conservatism is still displayed by buyers and lower prices are looked for in some directions.

Independence and Constitution

Boston, May 18.—Thomas W. Lawson has declined to give out a statement in answer to the report that the Independence would be barred from the trial races with the Constitution, and this has gone a long way among prominent yachtsmen here to discredit the report. The chief ground for doubt is that the date is early for such radical action of the cup committee in barring out one boat before either boat has had a single spin.

No Nonsense This Year

Atlanta, May 18.—Governor Candler yesterday ordered two companies of state militia, with ball and cartridge, to report at Andersonville for duty on May 30. This is done to preserve order at the famous Confederate prison and burial place of Federal dead, the negroes, it is declared, for years having made the Federal decoration day an occasion of drunkenness and disorder.

Preparing For Marquis' Trial

Paris, May 18.—The initiatory steps for the trial of the Marquis De Lur-Saluces, who recently returned to France after having been banished, were taken yesterday, when a police officer visited the marquis and drew up a verbal process. The president of the senate is expected to shortly convene that body as a high court for the trial of the marquis.

Swan Held In $10,000

Cambridge, Mass., May 18.—Roland A. Swan, whose case has been twice continued by Judge Almy appeared before him yesterday, charged with the larceny of $5000 from the town of Arlington. Swan waived examination and was held for the grand jury in $10,000. He was unable to furnish bail and was remanded to jail.

Death of Edwin Uhl

Grand Rapids, Mich., May 18.—Edwin F. Uhl, former assistant secretary of state and ambassador to Germany under the Cleveland administration, died yesterday, aged 58. He had been ill nearly a year, suffering from a complication of diseases. He was a native of New York, his family removing to Ypsilanti in 1848.

Ready For Another Spin

Southampton, May 18.—Mr. Watson says that the only thing found wrong with Shamrock II in dock was the failure of a few rivets of no particular importance. The boat will have a spin today, but it has not yet been decided whether this will be a race, or simply a trial of her new set of canvas.

Tax Payers to Protest

San Juan, P. R., May 18.—The increase in the valuation of San Juan property made by the assessors is $6,000,000. The former valuation was $5,000,000, and the present one is $15,000,000. Proprietors held a meeting last night and resolved solemnly to protest against this alleged unjust increase of valuation.

Used Deadly Poison

New York, May 18.—John L. Haigh, an expert accountant, killed himself and his 5-year-old son last night at his home in Mount Vernon, N. Y., by administering cyanide of potash. Mrs. Haigh says that she knows of no reason for her husband's act.

Honeymoon Was Brief

Watertown, N. Y., May 18.—Fred Pike, aged 22, and his bride of one month, stood conversing on the lawn at Messena, when he suddenly drew a revolver and blew his brains out. Jealousy is said to be the motive.

Will Accept Mikado's Invitation

Berlin, May 18.—A special dispatch to the Lokal Anzeiger from Pekin says that Field Marshal Von Waldersee expects to return to Germany in June. Following the mikado's invitation he will stop in Japan.

Weather Conditions and Forecast

Almanac, Sunday, May 19.

Sun rises—4:19; sets, 7:02.

Moon sets—8:50 p. m.

High water—12 m.; midnight.

The barometer is below the normal in all parts of the country, except eastern Maine. Cloudy weather, with occasional rains, will prevail in New England. On the coast fresh to brisk southeasterly winds will prevail.

A WOMAN'S THROAT

Is her fortune if she chances to be a Patti or Albani, and that fortune is guarded day and night with the greatest care. Nothing frightens a singer so much as a cough.

Every woman ought to be afraid of a cough. It is nature's danger signal. Who does not know of some sweet woman's voice silenced forever by disease which began with a slight cough.

The use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will ensure a permanent cure of the most obstinate and lingering coughs. Even when the lungs are involved and there are hemorrhages and emaciation, "Golden Medical Discovery" is generally effective in restoring the diseased organs to sound health and strength. There is no alcohol in the "Discovery" and it is entirely free from opium, cocaine and all other narcotics.

"I am feeling quite well," writes Miss Dorcas A. Lewis, of No. 1129 24th Street, Washington, D. C., "and I owe it all to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I had been quite a sufferer for a long time, and after reading Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser thought I would try his 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I had not been sleeping well for a long time. Took one teaspoonful of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and slept nearly all night without coughing, so I continued taking it. I had been a great sufferer for more than ten years. I tried lots of different medicines and different doctors, but did not feel much better. I coughed until I commenced spitting blood, but now I feel much stronger and am entirely well."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

CHAMP CLARK STORIES

Gathered In and About the Halls of Congress.

Tom Corwin's Speech to a Quaker Audience—Almost Made Them Laugh. Campaigning In the Tennessee Mountains — A Mighty Voice — Joe Blackburn's Talking Powers—General Clark's Advice to His Son—Senator Vest and Governor Hall.

[Copyright, 1901, by Champ Clark.]

When debate is dull in the house, the cloakrooms are in their glory. The wits light their cigars and go for each other in liveliest style. They cut and thrust and parry so that frequently the merriment which they engender causes such boisterous laughter as to disturb the gentleman who is speaking to the shorthand reporters and through them into The Congressional Record and to the country.

Tom Corwin's Quaker Audience.

In the cloakroom the other day members were having a sort of "experience meeting" as to campaigning. Dr. Norton of Ohio said: "When Tom Corwin was in his palmy days and his fame as orator and humorist was at the zenith, he made a speech in that part of Pennsylvania where Quakers did most abound. He began by telling one of his most fetching anecdotes. Not a ripple of applause or a smile. He tried another, with the same unsatisfactory result, whereupon 'Black Tom' became nettled and for two mortal hours poured wit, humor, sarcasm, irony and eloquence upon his audience, who sat grave as a tombstone. At last he quit in disgust. As he was going out an old fellow approached him and said:

"'Friend Thomas, at times thee almost made me laugh!'

"'And why in the deuce didn't you laugh?' roared the irate Ohioan as he strode away, realizing that he had been speaking to a crowd of Quakers."

Judge Griggs' Story.

Then Judge Griggs of Georgia chimed in with this: "Bob Taylor says that once when he was running for congress he and his opponent met in joint debate up in the Tennessee mountains. His opponent opened and for an hour hammered away without seeming to awaken any interest whatever in his auditors. This pleased Bob amazingly, and he thought, 'I have him on the hip.'

"So, when his opponent sat down discomfited, Bob arose in high feather and proceeded to unload his speech, which, to his utter amazement and disgust, appeared to also fall on leaden ears. He talked louder and louder, grew hotter and hotter and exhausted both his strength and his repertory of anecdotes. The only sign he saw of even the faintest recognition of his eloquence was that when he made an unusually good point one old fellow with billygoat whiskers would swap his quid of tobacco from one cheek to the other and chew a little faster. At last the redoubtable Bob sat down dumfounded and bathed in perspiration.

"The meeting broke up. The only soul that ventured up to shake hands with Bob was the tobacco chewer. To him Bob said sorrowfully:

"'I did not do very well today because I was not feeling very well.'

"The wise old chap took another bite of long green and replied:

"'I thought there was something wrong with both of you today.'"

Colonel Cochran's Voice.

Colonel Charles Fremont Cochran of the St. Joe (Mo.) district, which is coterminous with "the Platte purchase," one of the finest bodies of land that a crow ever flew over, is king of the cloakroom. He tells anecdotes about everybody else and occasionally one on himself. He used to practice law at Atchison, Kan. Not long since when some son of Stentor was nearly cracking the glass roof of the house of representatives with his powerful eloquence Cochran said:

"That man's voice reminds me of a story Frank Everest told on me. When practicing at Atchison, I had among my clients a rich Irish farmer in Mount Pleasant township named John Cleary, who was very energetic and prosperous, but who would occasionally come to town and get drunk. Every time he got drunk he would have a fight or two, which would be followed by all sorts of lawsuits. Frank Everest said he met Cleary once just as he was getting over a spree and asked him how he was.

"Oh," replied Cleary, "I'm in trouble. Been down to Atchison, got full, had several fights, walloped two or three fellows, and they have all sued me for damages. It will nearly break me up, but the divil take them! I will law them till the last day in the morning. I have employed Mont Cochran for my lawyer, and he can talk louder than any man in Kansas or than any bull can bellow!"

Cushman's Appetite.

Congressman Cushman of the state of Washington tells this rich story on himself:

"When I was a callow youth and began practicing law in Nebraska," quoth Cushman, "I was one of the guests at the State Bar association banquet. I was hungry as a panther. The servants were slow in their service. At last a colored brother set a great bowl of custard in front of me. Thinking it was an individual bowl, I began to eat the stuff by the ladleful. The Senegambian's eyes protruded till you could have knocked them off with a stick, and he said:

"'Boss, dat's de desert!'

"'I don't care if it is,' I replied. 'I'd eat it if it were a wilderness!'"

At the Baltimore merchants and manufacturers' banquet not long since Cushman spoke to the toast, "Baltimore's Two Principal Industries." He began in this refreshing vein: "Out on the Pacific coast I once met a former resident of this city. He had been a real estate man here and got busted. I asked him what were the two principal industries of Baltimore, and he savagely replied, 'As near as I could ascertain, they are grand and petit larceny.'"

That was a palpable hit, and while it made the Baltimoreans wince it also made them laugh.

Vest on Blackburn.

The prince of all story tellers is Senator George Graham Vest of Missouri. He has now reached the psalmist's allotment of threescore years and ten, but age cannot wither him nor stale his infinite variety. He is easily the most brilliant orator the senate has known in a generation. He and Joe Blackburn are bosom cronies.

Hon. J. B. Montgomery of Portland, Or., once a year gives a salmon dinner to his friends of house and senate, and it is a most enjoyable function. Having married a Missouri wife, daughter of that splendid statesman, Governor John S. Phelps, Colonel Montgomery is partial to the Missourians. So at his last salmon spread Senator Vest and I were both of the company.

Somebody asked Vest to tell a certain tale about Blackburn's endurance as a speaker.

"No," said Vest; "that's old. I have a new one. Some years ago a New England tourist was down in Woodford, and in rambling through that beautiful country—the loveliest under heaven—ran across an aged darky.

"'What's your name, uncle?' asked the stranger.

"'Blackburn, sah—Ebenezer Blackburn,' answered the old fellow, with a great deal of pride and pomposity, for there is nothing your old southern negro is prouder of than having belonged to a great family before the war. 'I belonged to Marse Doctah Blackburn, sah.'

"'Did you ever know Senator Joe Blackburn?' inquired the stranger to draw out his sable acquaintance.

"'Know Marse Joe? Of co'se I did. I raised him. He was ole marster's favorite son.'

"'Did he talk any when he was a boy?' queried the traveler.

"'Land sakes, yes, boss, yes!' answered the colored man, with a chuckle. 'When ole missus got sick at the time Marse Joe was about to be bawn, ole Marse Blackburn told me to git on de fastest race hoss on de place an go for de doctah and get him back in thutty minits if I had to kill dat hoss, an when I got back, boss, Marse Joe was already bawn, dressed an was settin up talkin to de ole wimmin, an, bless God, he's been talkin like er streak uv lightnin ever since!' All of which," added Vest, with a grim smile, "illustrates the truth of the saying, 'Bring up a child in the way he should go, and he will not depart therefrom.'"

Advice For a Young Lawyer.

Vest likes to tell reminiscences of old General John B. Clark of Missouri, with whom he served in the army and in the Confederate senate. General Clark was a great character. He did more than any other one man, perhaps, to prevent the election of John Sherman to the speakership in the stormy days just before the war. Clark's casus belli against Sherman was the latter's indorsement of "Helper's Book." General Clark was a marvelous stump speaker and a jury lawyer of rare power. Vest says that once upon a time the old general was instructing his son Bob as to how to try a case and proceeded as follows:

"Bob, when the facts are against you bear down hard on the law; when the law is against you bear down hard on the facts."

"But, father," interposed young Robert, "suppose both the law and the facts are against me—what must I do then?"

"What must you do then?" growled the veteran lawyer as he thought of his many tussles at the bar. "Why, Bob, then give the lawyers on the other side the devil—yes, sah, give them the very devil"—a sage precept which many lawyers besides Bob Clark have acted upon and will continue to act upon till courts shall be no more.

Vest's Story of Governor Hall.

I call him "old General John B. Clark" because Missourians call him that to distinguish him from his son, "young General John B. Clark," who served in congress many years and who now holds a responsible position in the treasury department.

When I was preparing my Frank Blair speech, presenting his statue and Benton's to congress, I was elaborating the proposition that Missouri was held in the Union chiefly by Blair and other men of southern blood and birth. I was making the list of such men as large as possible.

So I went over to the senate and asked Senator Vest if Governor Willard P. Hall was of southern birth.

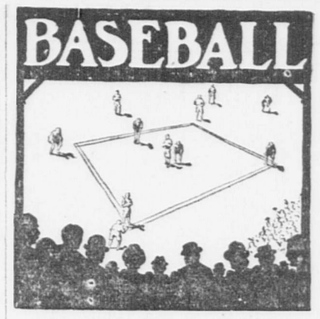

One of old General Clark's idiosyncrasies was to pronounce many words incorrectly, after the fashion of a good many voters of that day.

As soon as I asked Vest about Hall, his eye lighted up with a merry twinkle, and I knew something good was coming. He said:

"Yes, Hall claimed he was a southerner by nativity—boasted of it on the stump. As a matter of fact, he was born in old Virginia, in the portion now constituting West Virginia. Old General John B. Clark used to answer his boast of being a Virginian as follows:

"'Yes, feller citizens, Willard P. Hall was born in Virginny, an I'll tell you how that calamity happened: His father was a New England mechanic an settled at Harpers Ferry to work in the armory. He sent for his wife to come from Boston to Harpers Ferry, an she got thar just in time to drap Willard in ole Virginny.'"

CHAMP CLARK.

Many of the critics are talking this year of the lack of team work so plainly noticeable in many of the games played by both the National and American league clubs. It is a fact and is largely due to the backward spring and consequent lack of preliminary practice as well as the fact that the frequent changing about of players has been a drawback to scientific ball playing.

The team work will, however, improve as the season advances. At the same time this feature in baseball plays a more important part in the success of a team than many people seem to think.

There never has been a team in any of the great leagues which succeeded in winning a championship unless team work played an important part in the battle, with the exception of the old Detroit club of a score of years ago. When the Wolverenes captured the championship, they simply batted it out. Hanlon was a member of the team at that time, and he was one of the few men in the aggregation who really paid any attention to team work and scientific ball. The others simply went up to the plate, sized up the opposition pitcher and tried to knock the cover off the ball. The records show that they did it too. Since then the hit and run system has been introduced, coaching methods have been improved on, and base running has been brought to a science.

I believe that it would be impossible at this time to get together a team composed only of sluggers and win a championship. The Philadelphia League team has worked upon that line for years, and pennants have been as scarce in the Quaker City as sprinters of the first order.

And that same Philadelphia promises to cut more or less of a figure in the present controversy between the warring leagues. That National league agreement has only the present year to run, and as Reach and Rogers do not stand any too well with the powers that be in the older organization there is no telling which way the cat will jump when the agreement expires. Rogers is the lawyer of the League, but he has not the following that he had a few years ago. Reach is more popular, but he is not in the business for his health, and some of his friends would not be surprised to see him cast his lot with the American league next year.

The new organization undoubtedly has the best of it at present in that city. During the rest of the season it will be simply a case of which Quaker team does the better work. The Americans made a ten strike when they induced Napoleon Lajoie to desert the National and take his place with the opposition. Here is the man who can be rated as a natural ball player. He is great in every department of the game, and it is doubtful if a better all around ball player ever lived. Above all, he is in addition a quick thinker, a quality as necessary in the up to date ball tosser as the ability to hit the ball. Captain Lajoie covers the key of the field at second base, and his aptness in seeing a point serves his team just as well as does his ability to tear the cover off the ball or do his throwing and sprinting.

Little Keeler of the Brooklyn team is a sort of pocket edition of Lajoie. And there is considerable uneasiness in that same Brooklyn team at present. The champions are weak in the infield and need Jennings badly. Hugh continues at Cornell and says that he will remain there until June is well advanced. He would help out the Brooklyns immensely, and some of his friends believe that he will yet join his old club. They predict that the red topped first base man is only flirting with the American league team at Philadelphia. It is a favorite pastime with Jennings in the springtime. He has been threatening to quit baseball for so many years that his friends are not frightened by his spring coquetting.

Another feature which has made friends for Johnson's league this year is the fact that the games have been conducted in a sportsmanlike manner and there has been little rowdyism among the players either on or off the field. Johnson, even when he was a scribe in Cincinnati, was a stickler for clean ball, and now that he is the czar of an organization he finds that it pays to stick to his early convictions. He certainly saw enough of the tough side of baseball when he was recording base hits from the reporters' stand.

Baltimore is well satisfied with the conditions as they are, and American league ball is sure to be popular there. McGraw and Robinson are popular idols, and it is doubtful if an opposition team there would have much of a chance. There is one thing, however, that the Orioles will not stand for, and that is a losing team, not even for "Mugsy" and "Robby."

Hanlon has taught the Baltimore fans what first class baseball is, and they don't want anything else. So long as McGraw can keep his men somewhere near the front he will have clear sailing. If he falls behind, his woes will multiply amazingly.

It looks now as if the Orioles are weak in pitchers. Two first class twirlers are held by few teams, but two men are not enough. If McGraw does not strengthen his pitching department before the interchange of games with the western teams, he is likely to have trouble on his hands. He has in McGinnity one of the greatest pitchers that ever lived and a man of iron constitution. McGinnity made the mistake of doing too much work last year, but I don't think he will do it again this year, much as he likes the extra envelope on pay day.

New York has a pitcher who promises to do excellent work this year, if he, too, is not called to pitch his arm off early in the race. Matthewson seems to be a natural twirler. His command is good and his speed terrific. It is that terrific speed which has caught my eye. Some of his friends maintain that he can send the ball over the plate with even more speed than Amos Rusie ever did. I question that, but he certainly has speed to burn.

Veterans are glad to see Jack Menefee back in pitching harness. When Menefee goes to Pittsburg, the natives of his home town shut up shop and talk nothing but ball. When not in one of the big leagues, Menefee plays with the Menefee team at Monessen, near Pittsburg, where seven of the Menefee brothers play.

Detroit is making some famous ninth inning rallies, which reminds one of the sensational finishes of the New York team in 1894. New York that year batted out more victories in the last two innings than any other professional team ever did in this country. Ward's men were always dangerous until the last man had been put out.

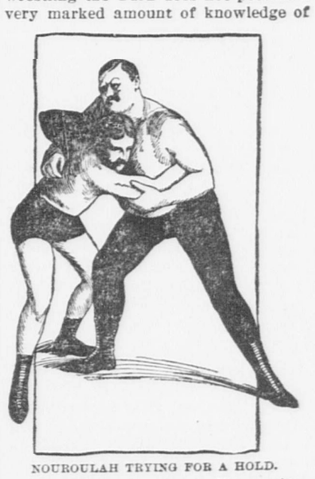

GEORGE E. STACKHOUSE.

Nouroulah, the huge Turk who recently defeated Tom Jenkins, the Cleveland mill worker, in Madison Square Garden, New York, for the world's wrestling championship, is a unique figure among athletes. The sultan's formidable subject is probably the largest man who ever entered a wrestling competition in this country. He weighs 346 pounds, is a giant in stature, and his strength is enormous.

Nouroulah fulfilled the general expectation when he won the match by the sheer force of his weight. He literally smothered Jenkins, who thereby lost the champion's title, which he had wrested from Ernest Roeber but a few weeks before.

From the viewpoint of experts on wrestling the Turk does not possess a very marked amount of knowledge of the fine points of the art. He counterbalances this failing, however, with his brute force. While this latter quality does not, as a rule, prove to be so valuable to a wrestler as a thorough understanding of the scientific side, yet the overwhelming advantage held by Nouroulah in this respect has made him the peer of all other performers on the mat.

Martin Julian, the former manager of Bob Fitzsimmons, takes care of Nouroulah's business arrangements and will probably take his cumbersome charge on an exhibition throughout the larger cities of the country.

Kid Gleason's Revival.

Kid Gleason is playing fast ball. He has been working wonders for the Detroit American league team both at the bat and in his position at second base.

GEN. JOS. WARREN.

Once at Head of Masonry on This Continent.

Next month Rural lodge of Mason of this city will have a two days' celebration of the centennial of its institution.

It is the purpose of the Daily Ledger in the meantime to give almost daily some reference to this popular fraternity:—its history, its origin, its advantages; its progress; its prominent members, etc. And especially incidents of 100 years ago, and also the history of Rural lodge.

The Daily Ledger has already told of the appointment of Joseph Warren as Grand Master of Masons of Boston. "In the year 1773 a commission was received from the Right Honorable and Most Worshipful Patrick, Earl of Dumfries, grand master of Masons in Scotland, dated March 3, 1772, appointing the Right Worshipful Joseph Warren, Esq., grand master of Masons for the continent of America.

"In 1775 the meetings of the Grand Lodge were suspended by the town of Boston becoming a garrison.

"At the battle of Bunker Hill on the 17th of June, this year, Masonry and the Grand Lodge met with a heavy loss, in the death of Grand Master Warren, who was slain contending for the liberties of his country.

"Soon after the evacuation of Boston by the British army, and previous to any regular communication, the brethren, influenced by a pious regard for the memory of the late grand master, were induced to search for his body which had been rudely and indiscriminately buried in the field of slaughter.

"They accordingly repaired to the place, and, by direction of a person who was on the ground at the time of his burial, a spot was found where the earth had been recently turned up. Upon removing the turf, and opening the grave, which was on the brow of a hill, and adjacent to a small cluster of springs, the remains were discovered, in a mangled condition, but were easily ascertained (by an artificial tooth) and, being directly raised, were so conveyed to the State House in Boston.

"From the State House, by a large and respectable number of brethren, with the late grand officers attending in procession, the remains were carried to the Stone Chapel, where an animated eulogium was delivered by Brother Percy Morton.

"The body was then deposited in the silent vault, 'without a sculptured stone to mark the spot; but, as the whole earth is the sepulchre of illustrious men, his fame, his glorious actions are engraven on the tablet of universal remembrance; and will survive marble monuments or local inscriptions.'"

The historical incidents above were published in 1872, since which time a monument of Quincy granite has been built on Bunker Hill to the memory of the Americans, who fought and bled for the independence of this country, and there are also memorials to Gen. Warren, Col. Prescott and other heroes near by.

BRAINTREE.

The stakes are driven for the cellar for the new house to be built for Walter C. Edson on Liberty street.

Thomas Smith the genial assistant superintendent of the municipal lighting plant has moved into the Faxon house, corner of Commercial and Union streets.

Edward D. Dugan and family have moved to New York city, where Mr. Dugan has accepted an excellent position. Miss Mabel was in town Monday bidding goodby to some of her intimate friends.

Surveyors have been at work this week surveying the old church lot and the adjacent property. It is said a scheme is on foot to build a railway to the new plant of the Fore River Engine Company.

The South Braintree Paper Co. have discontinued running their mill nights.

Thomas F. Finnegan will keep the dust laid in South Braintree this summer.

Chester L. Hollis and Frank Walker are to play on the North Weymouth ball nine this summer.

The drill squad, Sons of Veterans, held a drill practice in the lower Town hall last evening.

Mr. and Mrs. John Shay on Central street welcomed a little daughter to their home Friday, May 10.

Administration was granted at the probate court, Wednesday, to Benjamin F. Dyer, on estate of Mary S. Dyer.

Mr. Alfred Fisher has been transferred from the Terminal station to the Braintree station, as baggage master.

Rev. E. D. Daniels of Laporte, Ind., came to Braintree on Sunday to attend the funeral of his father William C. Daniels.

Hon. James T. Stevens has just completed improvements on his stable. H. W. Borden, the local carpenter, was the contractor.

The fire laddies of Hook and Ladder Company enjoyed a feast at their rooms on Franklin street after practice on Wednesday evening.

The Butcher Boy engine was taken out for practice Thursday evening and Decoration day will try for a prize at New Downers Landing.

The next meeting of Puritan Lodge, I. O. O. F., will work the second degree on two members of the Rising Star Lodge of Randolph.

Mrs. Celia H. Sprague was this week appointed administratrix of the estate of the late Charles H. Sprague of Braintree; bonds $15,000.

Mr. Linnehan of Dorchester has leased Mr. B. F. Dyer's house on Washington street, known as the Mansfield homestead, and will occupy immediately.

The members of the South church Sunday school held a very successful ribbon social in the chapel of that church, Wednesday evening. There was a large attendance.

Stevens & Willis are contemplating increasing their business. They intend to take up the manufacturing of shanks, and will build a new factory near their present site.

The employes of the William Kneeland & Co., and D. B. Closson & Co., shoe factorys are making arrangements for a game of base ball to be played on the Common Decoration day.

A delegation of twenty members of Puritan Lodge, I. O. O. F., visited Rising Star Lodge of Randolph, where the first degree was worked on Brother Harrison F. Tobey of South Braintree, Monday evening.

The street watering carts were brought out this morning. South Braintree square was wet down before breakfast.

The graduating class of 1901 of the Braintree High school will hold their reception in the Town hall Wednesday evening, June 19.

A sale was held at the Lower Town hall on Tuesday and Wednesday under the auspices of the Ladies' Social circle which proved itself very successful financially. The supper was an excellent one, all agreeing that Mr. Woodworth could be excelled by no one in making chowder. Cream was served by Mrs. Tilden and Mrs. Winters which found ready customers. An entertainment was given on the second evening, a part of which was a "Peddler's Parade," in which those who took part were attired in costumes to represent their trade. Miss Annie Nelson from Emerson's School of Oratory favored the audience with readings.

An informal reception was tendered the Rev. A. G. Boynton and Mrs. Boynton at the Methodist Episcopal church, Friday evening. Josephus Sampson presided during the exercises and short addresses of welcome were given by the visiting pastors and by Mr. H. A. Smith, president of the Epworth league. Miss May Black also favored the audience with solos.

Herbert Borden, short stop of the Thayer academy base ball team, is laid up at his home on Franklin street with a dislocated knee cap. He was injured at the Thayer-Hopkinson game Saturday last. It will be several days before he will be about again, and it is doubtful if he plays ball again this season.

There has been a small attendance of pupils at the Penniman school this week. Out of 150 scholars about 40 attended.

The new fire alarm box on Washington street at the corner of Common street was tested Tuesday. Every body asked "Where is the fire?"

The entertainment given by the Journal Outlook club, Saturday, for the benefit of the Boston floating hospital, netted the sum of $15.

Antietam Camp held a meeting in G. A. R. hall, Tuesday evening and made arrangement for Memorial day. They have been thoroughly equipped with guns, swords, and a new flag.

Sciatic Rheumatism Cured After Fourteen Years of Suffering.

"I have been afflicted with sciatic rheumatism for fourteen years," says Josh Edgar, of Germantown, Cal. "I was able to be around but constantly suffered. I tried everything I could hear of and at last was told to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which I did and was immediately relieved and in a short time cured, and I am happy to say it has not since returned." Why not use this liniment and get well? It is for sale by all druggists.

Castle Square Theatre.

For the coming week at the Castle Square theatre the attraction will be Sydney Rosenfields English adaptation of the German comedy "Im Weissen Roess'l" known as "At the White Horse Tavern." This play has proved one of the great successes of the last three seasons and only been seen in this city at the Boston museum where it had an extended run during latter part of 1899. Its intensely humorous characteristics will be readily recalled by all who saw it, and there is every reason to anticipate a repetition of the success it has gained through out the country in its coming Castle Square Theatre production. The cast announced for the leading characters is as follows: William Giesecke, J. L. Seeley; Charlotte, Leonora Bradley; Ottilie, Caroline Cooke; Frederick Siedler, Charles Mackay; Arthur Sutro, James A. Keane; Walter Hinzelmann, John T. Craven; Clara, Mary Sanders; Josepha, Maye Louise Aigen; Leopold Brand, Edmund Breese; Loidl, Lindsay Morison; Dr. Bernbeck, Stanley Kent; A Mojntain Tourist, Edward Wade; Piccolo, William J. Hasson. The Monday matinee distribution of souvenir boxes of chocolate bonbons will be continued until further notice.

Keith's Theatre.

The programme at Keith's for the week of May 20 will include the clever and popular comedienne, Lillian Burkhart, in her latest and most successful one-act play, "Jessie's Jack and Jerry"; Ralph Johnstone, the wonderful trick bicycle rider; Bessie Lamb, a noted singer of coon melodies; Ward and Curran, eccentric comedians and vocalists; Vernon, the famous Australian ventriloquil comedian; Ramsdell and Arnold, in a neat dancing act; Oddetta and the four Rentons, in "A Christmas Eve at Home," and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Kelcey, in a farcical comedy sketch R. J. Jose, the sweet-voiced contra tenor will continue with the songsheet, and this will be positively the last week for both. Mr. Jose will sing "There's No North Nor South" and "Goodby, Dolly Gray," the charming ballads that he has been featuring all the past season with a minstrel company. Louis Baer's excellent organization of musicians will play popular selections during the overtures, and new motion pictures will be exhibited in the biograph.

FRUIT AND FLOWERS

CONCERNING PLUMS.

The Japanese Head the List—Clean Culture and Mixed Planting.

The conclusion drawn by the Kansas experiment station from its observations on the Japanese plums is that they rank with the peach in hardiness. They head the list for table and market qualities. Their habit of early blooming makes the crop uncertain. Burbank is perhaps hardier than Abundance, and it is nearly equal in quality. Ogon is hardier than either, but not nearly so good in quality of fruit.

Of European plums Communia, Early Red and one called 19 Orel are at the head of the class, but all European varieties have been uncertain bearers. The fruit is of good quality for use fresh and for canning.

The most promising varieties for general planting are those which have been developed from our wild fruits.

All varieties of the species americana have proved hardy. While they retain in varying degree the astringency of the wild plum, most of the varieties produce desirable fruit for canning, marmalade and jelly. Quaker, Wolf, Weaver and Wyant have the best record for regular bearing and general good qualities.

The varieties of the species angustifolia, commonly called Chickasaw plums, have been somewhat injured by extreme cold. Robinson has proved most nearly hardy and a regular and heavy bearer, producing fruit of good quality.

Most of the class known as hortulana have proved fairly hardy. Golden Beauty and Moreman have been the heaviest and most regular bearers. Moreman is a rather small, red plum, red flesh, small pit, and especially fine for jelly. Golden Beauty is a medium sized yellow plum of fine flavor when fully ripe and a favorite for marmalade. Wayland, Wild Goose and Clinton are larger plums, of good quality and fairly regular in bearing.

Eighteen or 20 feet is recommended as a good distance for planting. Clean culture is an important factor in fighting curculio and fungi. Mixed planting increases the chances for pollination.—A. Dickens.

Newer Things In Sweet Peas.

The new Tom Thumb or Cupid dwarf sweet peas are very free flowering, only six to seven inches high and of an emerald green foliage peculiar to their kind. A plant may cover a circumference of 18 inches, but it hugs the ground and neither climbs nor trails. The regular and compact dwarf form makes a beautiful setting for the profusion of delicate blossoms of which the rose pinks furnish some of the most charming. Others of unusual brilliancy are Countess of Raduor (lavender), Borealton (rich maroon) and Firefly (dazzling scarlet). They are all great favorites for low beds, edgings and pot culture.

The new bush sweet pea grows in perfect bush form. It requires no trellis, like the tall sweet peas; neither does it hug the ground, verbenalike, as does the Cupid race. An average bush grows 16 to 18 inches high by from 12 to 14 inches wide. All the flowers are borne on top of the plant, and the proper way to treat this new type will be to plant the seed in a row to make a neat, even hedge, when no supports whatever will be required.

No Ground Too Good For Carnations.

The time for planting out carnations is from April 20 to May 10 in this latitude (Monmouth county, N. J.). The plants ought to be watered before planting, so that they will start without wilting. Plant them carefully and just a little deeper than they had been in the flats or pots. If the soil should be too dry, water should be given to each plant. The best piece of ground on the place is not any too good to plant carnations, says an American Gardening writer.

The summer culture consists of keeping the weeds down and the soil loose, and topping should be done properly every week.

An Attractive Flower.

No plant can excel Drummond phlox in giving life and brilliancy to the garden. The many colors it can be produced in allows of its use largely for bedding, and it is a universal favorite.

Floral Notes.

The Star petunia is a new variety worth looking after.

The pompon and cactus varieties of dahlia are fine.

Hardy phlox makes one of the best of garden flowers.

Few plants have as pronounced an effect when in flower as the Crimson Rambler rose, with its thick set cluster of crimson bloom.

Weigelia rosea is the best known of the weigelias. Its flowers of rose color have character enough to please all.

Ligustrum japonicum macrophyllum is a foliage privet of Japan type—foliage rich colored, with gold and leaves large, an exceedingly handsome plant.

STRIKE OF MACHINISTS

Went Into Effect at Seven O'Clock This Morning

WANT A NINE-HOUR DAY

Fmployers In Eastern Cities Are Expected to Yield, but a Long Struggle Is Feared on the Pacific Coast—About Fifty Thousand Men Out

Washington, May 20.—The strike order issued by the executive board of the International Association of Machinists went into effect at 7 o'clock this morning. President O'Connell says that about 50,000 men will be affected. The order instructs the men to refuse to go to work in all shops where notices granting the nine-hour work day were not posted at 7 o'clock.

The officers of the association expect that in many cases a settlement will be reached during the day, and that the men will return to work Tuesday morning. Word came yesterday that all the firms in St. Louis, and also all those in New Orleans had acceded to the demands of the men. Scattered reports from other cities favorable to the men also were received. The estimate is now that 35 percent of the employing firms have signed. At least 25,000 union machinists were working nine hours or less when the question was taken up by the association.

The 50,000 men who will suspend work are scattered all over the country. The national officers are hopeful that speedy settlements will be reached in most of the eastern cities, but they fear a prolonged struggle on the Pacific coast. The Union Iron Works at San Francisco, where the battleship Ohio is building, and other large concerns, are preparing to resist the demand.

In a number of cities there are questions pending between the employers and men which may operate to prevent decisive action today, but which may be settled for or against a strike in a day or two. These include cities where counter-propositions have been made by the manufacturers and where conferences with headquarters at Washington may be necessary before action is taken. In these instances compromises may be reached.

President O'Connell received on Saturday a check for $1000 from the machinists in the Washington navy yard to aid the men who strike. These machinists are not concerned in the differences with employers which underlie the strike, but in a letter to Mr. O'Connell they stated their interest in the triumph of their fellow workmen and promised him that substantial financial contributions could be expected from them every week towards the support of those who will be out of work.

Leading labor men at New York and representatives of the leading employers say that they think pending questions will be settled without any general strike. It is intimated that J. P. Morgan may be appealed to, and requested to use his influence with the great industrial combinations in the interest of peace, thus preventing any trouble, in much the same manner as great coal strikes have been prevented during the past year.

Shamrocks to Race Daily

Southampton, May 20.—Sir Thomas Lipton said to a representative of the Associated Press last night: "Everything connected with the Shamrock II is now in proper condition for a thorough racing trial. I am determined that the challenger and the former challenger shall fight it out in a manner to test their respective abilities beyond all question. The trials will be continued daily, and the Shamrock II will be driven as hard as possible, with the double purpose of proving her speed and discovering any weakness."

Double Murder and Suicide

Evansville, Ind., May 20.—Everet Conway, aged 27, married, shot and killed C. W. Garrison and his wife in this city yesterday, and fatally wounded Patrolman Wallis. After being driven to desperation by the police, Conway killed himself. Conway was a neighbor of the Garrisons. The two families had not been on friendly terms for several months, the wives of the men having quarrelled.

Alexander Won't Abdicate

Belgrade, May 20.—All rumors regarding the abdication of King Alexander, the resignation of the cabinet and the banishing of Queen Draga, growing out of recent sensational experiences of the Servian royal family, are declared to be without foundation. Physicians announce that Queen Draga presents all the symptoms of false, or nervous, pregnancy, but that her condition is not serious.

Complete Submission

Constantinople, May 20.—The Ottoman minister of foreign affairs has called upon the ambassador and notified them of Turkey's desire to re-establish the status quo ante in the postal question, and her intention to send a high functionary to apologize for the violations of the foreign mail bags.

CRISIS IS PASSED

Opinion That Mrs. McKinley Will Continue to Gain Strength

San Francisco, May 20.—Mrs. McKinley's condition was so far improved last evening, that she was able to sit up a short time. This welcome news was given out shortly after 5 o'clock.

The anxiety caused by Saturday's bulletin stating that Mrs. McKinley's temperature was higher was dispelled at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, when it was announced that she had passed a comfortable night and that the slight fever had subsided. The president did not attend church, but remained at home nearly all day, going out for a short walk just before noon. There was a general feeling that the criss had been passed and that Mrs. McKinley would continue to gain strength.

No definite date has yet been decided upon when the president will start for the national capital, but it is hoped that Mrs. McKinley will be able to travel within a few days.

Secretary Long left yesterday for Colorado Springs, to visit his daughter, who is seriously ill.

Fortunately, Mrs. McKinley's condition on Saturday permitted President McKinley to attend the launching of the battleship Ohio from the yards of the Union Iron Works. Dramatic and picturesque as was the sight of 14,000 tons of steel sliding into the full breasted tide of San Francisco bay, it was not so splendid and magnificent as the great naval pageant which accompanied, nor as profoundly impressive as the greeting extended to the president by the 4000 employes of the ship yard.

President McKinley is in receipt of cablegrams from the King of England, President Loubet of France and many other European potentates, inquiring as to Mrs. McKinley's condition. Among the callers yesterday on President McKinley was Calvin A. Titus, the first American soldier to mount the walls of Pekin, who returned Friday on the transport Sheridan.

The Usual Results

Madrid, May 20.—The elections to the new chamber of deputies were held yesterday. At Bilbao there was a quarrel between a Ministeralist and a Socialist, and the latter was killed. Another person was killed at Cuence, a suburb of Bilboa. Serious conflicts occurred in Barcelona, where Senor Cubelles, an electoral commissioner, was killed with a dagger. Several other persons were severely injured, some of them, it is believed, fatally. Disorders occurred in several other towns, and people were injured in Salamanca, Seville, Valencia, Badajos and Almondralejo.

Awaiting Coroner's Verdict

Camden, N. J., May 20.—Henry Starr, aged 45 years, was placed under arrest by the Gloucester police to await the action of the coroner on the death of a man whose identity is not yet known. Starr and the stranger got into an altercation, which resulted in Starr striking him. The unknown man fell to the sidewalk, and died in a short time. Starr claims that the man was attempting to pick his pockets.

Quarantine Season Opens

New York, May 20.—Twenty-five passengers of the steamer Segarance, which arrived yesterday from Havana, were sent to Hoffman island. This inaugurates the quarantine season, and all non-immunes will be required to complete their five days before landing.

Americans Leave China

Pekin, May 20.—General Chaffee at midnight Saturday night issued his farewell order, ending the American relief expedition in China. The American troops will board the transports next Wednesday at Taku, and on Thursday will leave direct for Manila.

INDEPENDENCE AFLOAT

Launched In Record Time In a Rain Storm

LOOKS EVERY INCH A RACER

In the Opinion of Yachting Sharps—Still Hopeful That She Will Be Allowed to Race Against Constitution—Will Have but One Owner

Boston, May 20.—With the christening words pronounced by Miss Gladys Lawson, and the crack of a champagne bottle, the yacht Independence, Thomas W. Lawson, owner, slipped over the ways at the Atlantic works at 11:05 Saturday night, and in 30 seconds was afloat in her element.

It was the neatest launch ever held from a ship yard in this vicinity, for scarcely a full minute elapsed from the time the first blow was struck on the wedges along the ways until the boat came out of the sheds and the crowd of 500 spectators on the wharf, 20 feet away, set up a mighty yell.

Some of the members of the advisory board were on deck, also Captain Haff and his mates, who quickly hoisted the colors as the yacht's counter cleared the after end of the shed. Mr. Lawson's steam yacht Dreamer, beautifully decked with colored lamps, played her searchlight on the stern of the yacht as she swiftly glided down the ways. There was a fireworks display, but the lightning and heavy rain lent an unpleasant accompaniment to the ceremony.

Never was seen a more democratic and unpretentious launch. Mr. Lawson took off his hat and waved it the moment the yacht was afloat. He said not a word. It was not an opportune moment to speak about the New York Yacht club, and Mr. Lawson preserved a discreet and diplomatic silence. The yacht took the water with ease and grace. She floats well above her indicated water line.

Never before was there a speedier or more successful launch, it taking only a few seconds to float her. When the time came to check the Independence, she was checked beautifully. In 20 minutes' time after the champagne bottle was smashed, she was lying alongside the dock, moored stem and stern. While she was in the act of moving down the ways men were working at her steel mast, putting on the finishing touches. It will be stepped today, after which there should be nothing to hinder the speedy progress of the yacht in the direction of her first sail trial.

The torrential rain and the general dreariness of Sunday did not prevent hundreds of curious sight seers from visiting the Atlantic Works yesterday to see the Independence as she lay moored in the slip there.

Yachtsmen and others were anxious to see her afloat. She was subjected to critical scrutiny, and the general opinion was favorable. She sits on the water gracefully. Her sheer is pleasing to the eye. When she comes down to her load water line, she will look prettier still. She has a business like appearance in every line, and when her mast is stepped and sails bent she will be every inch a racer.

Her crew more than ever believe that she will be allowed to race against the Constitution, so confident are they that the business like looks of the Independence will be a great argument in her favor.

The orders are to hurry her completion and to lose no time. One would think from this that Mr. Lawson has by no means given up hope. Eastern yachtsmen are with him in the controversy, and they believe that the New York Yacht club will admit the boat in the end. The championship of his cause by General Paine, who is highly esteemed by the club, has been of great moral support to Mr. Lawson.

Mr. Lawson has given out a statement in which he says that under no circumstances will he transfer his ownership of the Independence to anyone else. "Apparently," he says, "the reason for the Independence no longer exists. Apparently she cannot enter the trial races for the selection of a vessel to defend the America's cup, nor can she, if she is the best American vessel, have the honor of defending the cup.

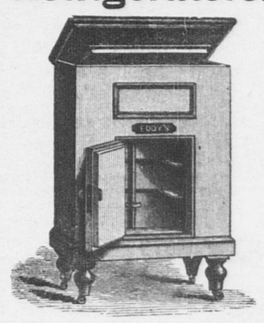

"From start to finish the New York Yacht club has expressed a desire to be fair and just, but has been unchangeably firm in its position that by either the deed of gift, the constitution and by-laws or the rules, regulations and customs of the club, the Independence could take no part in the trial for cup races unless I gave up my ownership of her to a member of the club.

"I agreed to bind myself to do all those things they requested that were possible for an owner to do, but, of course, I was as unchangeably firm in my position that I would under no circumstances give to any individual that which in any way belongs solely to me.

"If it cannot be definitely decided within a few days that the Independence has something to live for, I will allow her merits to remain untested and do all in my power to obliterate any evil effects that may have come to the grand sport of yachting through anything connected with this unfortunate episode."

Assessors' Notice.

TO the inhabitants of City of QUINCY and all other persons liable to pay taxes therein: You are hereby notified to bring in to the Assessors of said City

On or before JUNE 15, 1901,

True and Perfect Lists of all the Polls, and Schedules and Estimates of all the Personal Estates and Real Estate for which you are liable to pay Taxes.

Persons holding estates in trust, whether for minors or otherwise, are particularly requested to furnish the Assessors with Statements in relation to such estates.

When the estates of persons deceased have been divided, or have changed hands from other causes during the past year, the Executors, Administrators, or other persons interested, are required to give notice of such changes, and in default of such notice will be held to pay the taxes assessed.

Blank forms for "Return of Property for Taxation" can be procured of the Assessors.

The following may serve as a guide to assist in making up Schedules and Statements:

Number of Polls 20 years and upwards; Money at interest; Amount of Money on hand, including deposits in Banks, etc., other than Savings Banks; Railroad, Town, City, State and other Bonds (except those of the United States); Shares and Stocks of Insurance, Manufacturing and other incorporated companies chartered or organized under the laws of any State other than Massachusetts; Goods, Wares, Merchandise, and other stock in trade, within or without the State, Household Furniture, exceeding $1,000 in value; Horses, Mules, Carriages, Oxen, Cows, other neat Cattle not less than one year old; and Swine and Sheep not less than six months old; Income from Profession, Trade or Employment exceeding $2,000; Personal Property held in trust or by wife or minor children.

Attention is hereby called to Section 29 of Chapter 11 of the Public Statutes.

"Whoever, with intent to defeat or evade the provisions of law in relation to assessment or payment of taxes, delivers or discloses to an assessor or assistant assessor a false or fraudulent list, return or schedule of property as and for a true list of his estates, not exempted from taxation, shall be punished by fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or by imprisonment in jail not exceeding one year.

MORTGAGED PROPERTY.—Any mortgagor or mortgagee of real estate may bring in to the assessors of the town or city where such real estate lies within such time as shall be specified for bringing in the lists as provided in Sect. 38, of Chap. 11 of the Public Statutes, a statement under oath of the amount due on each separate lot or parcel of such real estate, and the name and residence of every holder of an interest therein as a mortgagee or mortgagor. When such property is situated in two or more places, or when a recorded mortgage includes for one sum two or more estates or parts of an estate, an estimate of the amount of the mortgagee's interest in each estate or part of an estate shall be given in such statement. The assessors shall, from such statements or otherwise, ascertain the proportionate parts of such estates that are the interests of mortgagees and mortgagors respectively, and shall assess the same. Whenever, in any case of mortgaged real estate, a statement is not brought in as herein provided, no tax of the then current year on such real estate shall be invalidated for the reason that a mortgagee's interest therein has not been assessed to him.—Chap. 175, Acts of 1882.

When a statement in conformity to the law above quoted is brought in, the Real Estate therein returned will be assessed under Sects. 14, 15 and 16 of Chap. 11 of the Public Statutes. But in cases where the mortgagor of the real estate has agreed in writing to pay all taxes assessed thereon, no statement or return is required from either the mortgagee or mortgagor unless requested by the Assessors in writing.

The Assessors will be in session at their office every Thursday morning from 9 to 11 o'clock. Blanks will be furnished to all applicants.

Good Afternoon.

A sure recipe for turning the most rabid Socialist into an ultra conservative citizen—put him in the way to get rich.

Experts delare that with proper management Porto Rico, Hawaii, and the Philippines can supply all the coffee for which the United States is now paying something like sixty million dollars a year.

President McKinley's assertion that the American policy in the far east is commercial, not political, cannot be too strongly emphasized. Let that fact be generally recognized and there will bs no opposition.

Senator Frye announces that he will remodel and simplify his ship subsidy bill and introduce it as soon as Congress meets. He thinks the principal reason for the failure of the bill in the last Congress was that it was not understood.

It is fortunate for Quincy that the city is to escape the evils of a strike among machinists. With our ship yard and Tubular Rivet works, employment is given now to a large number of machinists at good wages, and constitutes an important part of the industries of the city. The Fore River Company reduced the hours of labor to nine about two months ago, and the Tubular Rivet Company followed suit last week.

Undoubtedly the Old Colony Street Railway Co., will have to put up a pretty good case at the hearing this evening in order to secure the double tracking of Hancock street. The taxpayers of the city feel that they have been put to considerable expense in the widening of Copeland street, Coddington street and Sea street, because of the fact that there are street railways on the street. Then it costs more to keep in repair streets traversed by electric cars, and it has been found necessary to pave some. The company values its franchises high, and should not expect to get them Scott free.

Drift of Opinion.

☞ The press serves its purpose when it shows the pitfalls and snares into which a neighbor has fallen precisely as much as when it reports, with flattering encomium, some one's latest donation to some good cause.—Waverley (Ia.) Independent.

☞ My pleasure is great at times to find some column or two column article written with accuracy and insight on some burning questions of the day, and then to follow from one idea to another when each is arranged in precise sequence with its fellows. I believe that such articles are not popular, however. It appears to be one of the failings of the present age that men do not care to maintain a continued line of thought for any length of time. The people want storiettes, instead of stories, novelettes instead of novels, opperettas instead of operas, and vaudeville sketches instead of five-act plays. Some one has characterized this as a vaudeville age, and the characterization is not far from right. We see this in our schools. Children are taught a great many things, but only a little of each. The child has a little German, a little Latin, a little algebra and so on.—Bishop Potter.

COUNCIL CALENDAR.

Over 100 Different Matters Pending Involving Over $200,000.

The calendar showing matters pending before the City Council, the first number of which has been issued, shows that there are many matters before that body.

Under the head of Communications there are several from the Mayor relating to sewer extensions, drain on Independence avenue, needs of police department, purchase of Butlers pond, abolishing grade crossings, sidewalk assessment, formation of new fire company at Wollaston, claim for damages by street widening, bills for plumbing school buildings, and bills of 1899 in excess of appropriations.

Under petitions there are twenty: relating to acceptance of new street, the widening, rebuilding and extension of streets, damages for street widening, and telephone and street railway petitions for locations. There are a number of applications for State Aid and minor licenses.

There are forty-three orders pending which if all pass would involve an expenditure of over $70,000 besides several in which no amount is mentioned.

There are also special matters among which is the movement to bring the endowed schools more closely together, investigation of the Board of Health, visitation of President McKinley, and street railway location.

On the table are the vetoes of the Mayor on amending the ordinance relative to purchase of materials and employment of an expert accountant to examine methods of bookkeeping; also the order relating to reserve police force.

Prize Baby Show.

The stormy weather Saturday afternoon prevented as large an attendance at the baby show in Colonial hall, under the auspices of the Woman's Relief Corps as expected. There were several, however, and their mothers had a good time showing them off. The babies present were as follows: Beatrice M. Dealey, Raymond McCabe, Donald Gurney, Ula V. Holmes, Dorothy G. Lord, Esther G. Phillips, Joseph H. Gordon and Rena G. Stoddard.

The judges were Miss Josie Colbert of Braintree, Mrs. Ida Adams of Neponset and Miss Florence Priest of Atlantic. The prizes were awarded as follows:

Heaviest,—Raymond McCabe.
Lightest,—Esther G. Phillips.
Lightest eyes,—Ula V. Holmes.
Darkest eyes,—Rena G. Stoddard.
Lightest hair,—Donald Gurney.

There was a good attendance at the fair in the evening, and a larger part of the articles on sale were sold.

In Her Ninety-first Year.

Another good old lady, who for generations has lived on Hancock street a few houses north of the First church, passed away Saturday afternoon, Mrs. Loyd G. Horton, or Auntie Horton as she was called, who was 91 years of age. She lived alone to an old age but has recently had help and for the past week a nurse. Her death was due mainly to old age, although she had a shock last week. She was born in the town of Braintree, but soon moved to Quincy. For many years she has been a widow. Mrs. Horton was a regular attendant of the First church, where funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon.

Reception at Wollaston.

Thursday evening, May 16, the society of the Methodist church tendered a reception to its new pastor and wife, Rev. and Mrs. Wagner. Those who assisted in receiving were Mr. and Mrs. Saunders and Mr. and Mrs. Walters. The receiving party stood within an inclosure beautifully decorated with flowers and bearing above the inscription, "Welcome." Two children, Henry Walters and Marguerite Hirtle preceded the guests as flower bearers. The address of welcome was given by Rev. Mr. Miller, after which they repaired below to partake of refreshments.

☞ Biliousness is a condition characterized by a disturbance of the digestive organs. The stomach is debilitated, the liver torpid, the bowels constipated. There is a loathing of food, pains in the bowels, dizziness, coated tongue and vomiting, first of the undigested or partly digested food and then of bile. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets allay the disturbances of the stomach and create a healthy appetite. They also tone up the liver to a healthy action and regulate the bowels. Try them and you are certain to be much pleased with the result. For sale by all druggists.

CUMMINGS, — In Quincy, May 19, Mrs. Hannah, wife of Mr. Samuel Cummings of Glencoe place, aged 50 years.

BURNS—In Milton Lower Mills, May 17, Mr. Christopher Burns, aged 58 years.

Very High Tide.

There was an unusual high tide at Houghs Neck at midnight but fortunately little damage was done. Several of the small boats were blown ashore but were not damaged. At the causway near the willows the tide came up over the road which was washed out some. A quantity of logs and old lumber is also scattered along the beach.

A dispatch from Hull to the Globe says: Hull experienced considerable damage last night and early this morning from the highest tide since the famous November storm of 1898. All Sunday night the northeast storm kept driving and backing up the water inshore and at 12.17 this morning, the hour of high water, the tide had washed through the beach at Point Allerton and practically made Hull an island, while all the way along from Kenberma through Waveland to Point Allerton the tide had broken through the beach and inundated places so that all the houses were entirely surrounded by water. The same condition exists at Stony beach.

The life-saving patrolmen who came in at midnight reported that they had to find their way along the back lands, the beach being inundated. They did not see any cottages or houses at any of the above named points which appeared to be seriously undermined nor any washed away, but all were surrounded with water.

Norfolk Downs Links.

The Merry Mount golf club, recently organized, has secured the old links of the Wollaston golf club at Norfolk Downs and expects to open the season by the end of next week. It is proposed to move the old clubhouse from its present site to the top of a neighboring hill and the large white house at the westerly end of the grounds will be made into a club restaurant.

The officers of the club are: David W. Noyes, president; Frank E. Wingate, vice president; Gordon A. Noyes, secretary; Miss M. E. Young, treasurer; David W. Noyes, Frank E. Wingate, Gordon A. Noyes, Arthur L. Johnson, Charles W. Reed, green committee; Gen. Charles H. Taylor, Gordon A. Noyes, Charles W. Reed, Frank E. Wingate, David W. Noyes, Amos L. Hathaway, Arthur W. Pope membership committee.

The present membership is 50 and the limit has been set at 150. Mr. Willie Chisholm has been engaged as professional player and instructor.

Leg Crushed.

John Ahearn of South Braintree, aged 23 years was seriously injured Sunday night at Braintree He was riding on the front platform of a car and was about to alight when he slipped and fell under the wheels. His right leg was badly crushed at the knee. He was put aboard the car and brough to Quincy, and then taken to the City Hospital.

At the hospital this noon it was reported that Ahearn was as comfortable as could be expected. Both bones in the right leg were broken but the physicians are in hopes that amputation may not be necessary.

Won by Mrs. Child.

The play which began at the links at Montclair last week Thursday for the cup offered by Miss Mollie Adams for women members was concluded Saturday before the rain began, and won by Mrs. John H. Childs. In the preliminary handicap those to qualify were: Mrs. Child, Miss Marion Barker, Miss Louisa B. Barker and Miss Olive Morrison. In the semi-finals Mrs. Childs beat Miss Morrison, and Miss Louisa Barker beat Miss Marion Barker. In the finals Mrs. Childs won over Miss Barker by a score of 2 up with 1 to play.

Favors a Change.

E. E. Jameson, the chairman of the Republican City Committee, has not been altogether idle relative to the reapportionment of the Congressional districts, but is prepared to show his hand at the proper time. He believes that Quincy, a Republican city, has been in a Democratic Boston district long enough, and that there should be a change.

A Legitimate Investment

Which Increased Over 700 per cent.

WITHIN SIX MONTHS.

The Arcola Oil Company's stock sold for $135 per 1,000 shares, and in six months $1,000 per 1,000 shares was refused for the stock, for the reason that the first well was a large producer and there is room for forty wells on the Company's land, which makes it about certain that the stock in the near future will be worth ten dollars per share.

We offer you the same opportunity for a large gain by investing in the Dirigo Oil Company's stock, the first block of which is being sold for $150 per 1,000 shares. The Company owns a block of land adjoining the Arcola Company's land which has large producing wells on all four sides. There is eighty acres of the Company's land in the center of the oil belt, which we feel absolutely certain will give a large producing well in each acre.

We now have machinery on the ground, and are ready to sink the first well, and expect to strike oil by June 1st, which will then make the stock worth par value, if the well is as good a producer as the Arcola.

The block of stock we are selling is about three-quarters sold and quick application will have to be made to secure any of it at the present price.

RUSHED FOR SOLDIER

Crowd Almost Caused a Riot at Albany

ONLY EXCITING INCIDENT

Which Marred Hysterical Enthusiasm Over Breaking of the Strike—Each Side Claims to Have Won a Victory In the Twelve Days' Battle

Albany, May 20.—The incidents of Sunday, the first day of active operation of all the railway lines affected by the great strike, were few, because of the heavy fall of rain. The two men shot by national guardsmen in defense of life and property were buried yesterday afternoon, but the pouring rain kept away the thousands of sightseers that otherwise would have marked the occasion with their presence. The departure of the Twenty-third regiment was the second feature of the day, and stirring sermons in many city pulpits aided in closing the incident.

The funeral of Leroy Smith, the prominent business man, which took place during the afternoon, was devoid of incident, except that it was attended by city officials and directors of the street railway people. At the funeral of William Walsh, the second victim of the strike, there was nearly a riot. While the services were proceeding in the church, the crowd that had been unable to gain admission saw a uniformed soldier coming down the street. Instantly the people were in a state of ferment, for Walsh had been killed by national guardsmen. A rush was made for the unlucky and unwise soldier, but a few wise heads held the surging crowd back for a minute while several others advised the man to run. Arguing that discretion was the better part of valor, he did run, and trouble was avoided.

The starting out of the first car of the inter-city line, shortly after noon yesterday, was the cause of a demonstration. Pistols were fired, flags waved, torpedoes were placed on the tracks and exploded, the motorman and conductor wore flags on their coats and fully 200 men and women fought for the privilege of the first ride. Within an hour so many cars were running that the monotony deterred people from riding for novelty's sake.

The great railroad strike, lasting for 12 days, requiring the presence of 2000 members of the national guard in the city, costing the lives of two prominent merchants and entailing an expense to the company and to Albany of over $39,000, is amicably settled, and, if the agreements are kept, there will be no trouble for three years at least.

The ominous calm which succeeded the killing of the two inoffensive citizens a few days ago by national guardsmen, defending property, was succeeded by hysterical enthusiasm when public bell towers and city newspapers proclaimed that the strike on the street railways of five cities had been settled.

The repair wagon left the Traction company's barn with its old union crew aboard, and, going along Pearl street, received an ovation. It was decorated with flags and escorted by a joyful crowd. All the lines are now running on schedule time, with union men.

Both sides claim the credit. From the face of the agreement it is evident that the striking men won these concessions:

Increasing night men and extra men's wages to 20 cents an hour; granting the men the right to appeal from a decision of an inspector or superintendent to the Traction company's executive board; providing that inspectors boarding a car need not be rung unless they present an equivalent to a fare; the road to pay any employe for lost time when suspended and found not guilty; employes to be permitted to ride on their own division free by showing their badge; no discrimination against strikers who have not committed violence.

The traction people obtained these concessions:

That men who were on strike and committed violence shall not be reinstated, unless proven guiltless.

That the road may hire or discharge any man without reference to his affiliation or otherwise with a union. That no proposition to strike shall be acted upon until 48 hours has elapsed from the time of notification, and that if a strike is ordered it shall not take effect until six days.

Monks and Nuns Must Go

Mexico City, May 20.—The breaking up of the convent of the Carmelite nuns in this city is believed to be the beginning of a movement all over the country to drive out monks and nuns living in communities in disobedience to the reform laws. Evidently the government has taken this action to show that it will not tolerate any violation of the reform laws enacted during the anti-clerical regime of President Juarez.

Dead Comrades Remembered

Spottsylvania, Va., May 20.—The massive monument to the memory of the dead comrades of the First Massachusetts regiment of heavy artillery, on Harris' farm, was dedicated yesterday with appropriate ceremonies. The surviving members of the First regiment conducted the ceremonies. The monument is of New England granite, and weighs 15 tons. The design is a sarcophagus.

Death Probably Accidental

New York, May 20.—Robert Gibbs, 52 years old, superintendent of an iron moulding works in Pittsburg, and a man of considerable wealth, was found dead in his room heer last night, having been asphyxiated by gas. The case was reported to the coroner's office as one of suicide, but indications now make it appear that the death was accidental.

A CUP DEFENDER.

Hanley Has One for Canada Cup Well Under Way.

The centreboard sloop yacht Cadillac, which the C. C. Hanley Construction Co. of this city are building for a syndicate of Detroit gentlemen, who will put her into the trial races to select a defender for the Canada cup, and the championship of the Freat lakes is nearly all planked in and unless some radical changes are made she will be launched in about ten days, or from the 25th to the 30th of this month.

The Cadillac is built from Hanley designs and has the general Hanley appearance, very smooth and finished in a first class manner. She resembles the Genesee, also a Hanley boat, which wrestled the cup from the Canadians in 1899 and successfully defended the cup again last year.

The Cadillac is 40 feet over all, 28 feet on the water line and 11 feet beam. It might be said that she is a counterpart of the Genessee, except that she is narrower on the beam.

She is double planked with a mahogony upper streak. Her deck is laid in narrow strips and her house is more rounding than usual. Her centre board is longer than usual, being between 13 and 14 feet in length. She will also have a brass plate on her keel from the centerboard forward. She will have a hollow spruce mast and gaft and solid boom, wire halliards and metal blocks.

Her sail plan is similar to that of the Genessee as changed last year. She will carry besides her working sails, a mainsail and small jib, a storm jib, balloon jib, and spinnaker; her sail area being 1400 feet.

There will be no demonstration at the launching as she will simply be slid into the water and then hauled into the basin to be rigged.

Poor Return For Hospitality

Woodstock, N. B., May 20.—There is much speculation here as to the whereabouts of George Cole of New York, who, with his wife, arrived here Tuesday night. Both are under 21 years apparently. They visited an uncle, Mr. Murphy, and were invited to spend a few days. Friday evening Cole went out and did not return. Yesterday it was found that $225 and a diamond ring were missing.

Hard Times In Alaska

Seattle, May 20.—Special Treasury Agent Clarke has issued an appeal on behalf of destitute natives in the Aleutian islands and Alaska generally. The failure of their regular hunting supplies and the recent epidemic have been the causes of the present distress. Contributions will be distributed by the revenue cutter service.

Deliberately Walked to Death

Niagara Falls, N. Y., May 20.—A man, supposed to be William Gardhouse of Brampton, Ont., walked out into the Niagara river near the brink of the falls in Prospect park yesterday, and was swept over the brink and dashed to death on the rocks below. A large number of people saw the man deliberately walk to his death.

Weather Conditions and Forecast

Almanac, Tuesday, May 21.
Sun rises—4:18; sets, 7:04.
Moon sets—10:28 p. m.
High water—1:15 a. m.; 1:45 p. m.

Fresh to brisk northeasterly winds and rain have prevailed on the New England and middle Atlantic coasts, and thunderstorms in the Carolinas and portions of the gulf states. There will be showers and thunderstorms in New England. Brisk northeasterly winds will continue on the coast.

Polar Arrangements Concluded

New York, May 20.—Evelyn Baldwin was a passenger on the Umbria, which arrived yesterday from Liverpool. Mr. Baldwin said he had perfected all arrangements for his Polar expedition.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Herbert F. Butterfield, 16 years old, committed suicide at Ashby, Mass., by shooting. His body was found in the woods on the outskirts of the town.

To commemorate the centennial anniversary of the founding of their denomination, the quadrennial conference of the United Brethren Church in Christ dedicated their memorial church at Frederick, Md., with imposing services.

King Edward has become patron and the Archbishop of Canterbury and Earl Roberts have become vice patrons of the fund being raised to erect the eastern portion of the new cathedral in Cape Town, in memory of those who have fallen in the war in South Africa.

The strike of agricultural laborers in Andalusia, Spain, is assuming alarming proportions.

John L. and Alexander C. McKay, builders, doing business in Boston as McKay Bros., have filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy. The firm's liabilities are $67,668. There are no assets.

William C. Thomas, aged 45, was run over and killed at Oakland, Me., by a shifting engine. The coroner's inquest absolves the company from blame.

MODERN AMERICAN PLAN.

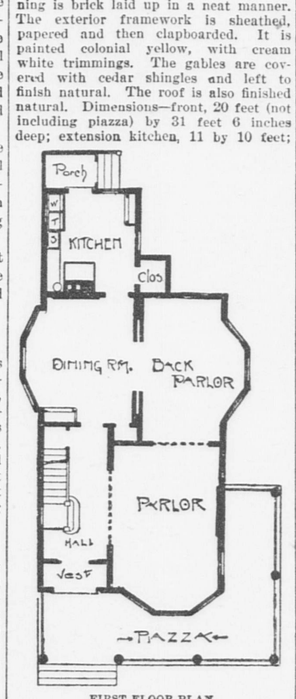

Many Excellent Features, Including Broad Piazza—Cost, $3,000.

[Copyright, 1901, by George Hitchings, architect, 1090 Flatbush avenue, Brooklyn.]

We present herewith the design of a residence recently built in Brooklyn. It is a clean cut design of modern American style, with colonial treatment on detail. The lines are sufficiently broken to give an attractive appearance, and it has many excellent features, including the broad, spacious and well shaded piazza running across the front of the house and returning at the corner. The underpinning is brick laid up in a neat manner. The exterior framework is sheathed, papered and then clapboarded. It is painted colonial yellow, with cream white trimmings. The gables are covered with cedar shingles and left to finish natural. The roof is also finished natural. Dimensions—front, 20 feet (not including piazza) by 31 feet 6 inches deep; extension kitchen, 11 by 10 feet; cellar, 7 feet; first story, 10 feet; second story, 9 feet 6 inches; attic, 8 feet 6 inches.

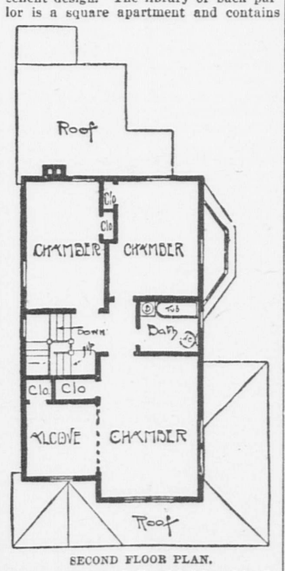

FRONT ELEVATION.

FIRST FLOOR PLAN.

The house is trimmed throughout with cypress. The hall contains an ornamental staircase turned out of similar wood, and it has a leaded glass window on the landing. The front and vestibule doors are glazed with bevel plate glass.

The parlor has an oak mantel of excellent design. The library or back parlor is a square apartment and contains an open fireplace built of brick, with tile hearthstone and facings and a mantel with a plate glass mirror.

SECOND FLOOR PLAN.

The dining room is connected with the kitchen by a pantry which is well fitted up with shelves, drawers and cupboards. The kitchen is wainscoted with hard plaster and is fitted up with the usual fixtures complete.

The second floor contains four large bedrooms and bath, with open plumbing and nickel plated traps in bathroom.

Cost, $3,000.

The Piece de Resistance.

One of the most hopeful signs of the greater care architects are giving to the interiors of the homes they design is the increasing tendency to make the stairway the piece de resistance, the keynote to the beauty of the interior, says American Homes.

Located as this usually is in the entrance hall, it affords a basis for the ornamental designing of the entire apartment and, though the most effective ornament, is often, and rightly so, the simplest of designs, the proportions and form or location being depended upon to bring out the accessories.

These are augmented by properly located landings, ornamental windows, Elizabethan seats or cozy nooks, grilles, etc.

MADE INDEPENDENT.

War of Revolution Severed Allegiance of Masons to England.

Next month Rural lodge of Masons of this city will have a two days' celebration of the centennial of its institution.

It is the purpose of the Daily Ledger in the meantime to give almost daily some reference to this popular fraternity:—its history, its origin, its advantages; its progress; its prominent members, etc. And especially incidents of 100 years ago, and also the history of Rural lodge.

On March 8, 1777, following the independence of America, Masons who had dispersed in consequence of the war, assembled, and elected Joseph Webb grand master, vice Joseph Warren deceased.

June 19, 1792, the same year that Quincy became a town, the two grand lodges were consolidated and installed Most Worshipful John Cutler as grand master and resolved: "that this Grand Lodge organized as aforesaid, shall forever hereafter be known by the name of the Grand Lodge of the Most Ancient and Honourable Society of Free and Accepted Masons for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts."

In addition to the powers vested by charters in the two grand lodges before mentioned, for instituting subordinate lodges, the grand lodge of England appointed provincial grand masters in several states, and invested them also with authority to grant warrant for holding lodge.

The Revolution which separated the American States from the government of the mother country, also exonerated the American lodges from allegiance to foreign grand lodges; because the principles of Masonry inculcate obedience to the governments under which we live.

The lodges in the several States, therefore, after the termination of the war, resorted to the proper and necessary means of forming and establishing independent grand lodges, for the government of the fraternity in their respective jurisdictions.

In 1810 Hon. Timothy Bigelow was grand master in Massachusetts and there were just 100 subordinate lodges under the jurisdiction, including Rural lodge of Quincy organized June 1801, or as Masns osay in 5801.

Hearings Tonight.

At tonight's meeting of the City Council, public hearings will be held on the petition of the Old Colony street railway for a location on Hancock street, on the acceptance of Rogers street, and establishing grade of Howard avenue.

The Committee on Streets will report on the petition of Emilene Brown relative to her driveway, rebuilding of Botolph and Clive streets, paved gutters on Winthrop avenue, laying out of Verchild street, widening Chubbuck street, sidewalk on Granite street, location of poles for the Electric Light Co., drain on Miller street, and rebuilding of New road and changing its name.

The joint Committee on Fire Department and Ordinances will report on the new fire company for Wollaston, and the Committee on Sewer extensions. In the calendar is the order for location for telephone poles.

Whooping Cough.

A woman who has had experience with this disease tells how to prevent any dangerous consequences from it. She says: Our three children took whooping cough last summer, our baby boy being only three months old, and owing to our giving them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, they lost none of their plumpness and came out in much better health than other children whose parents did not use this remedy. Our oldest little girl would call lustily for cough syrup between whoops.—JESSIE PINKEY HALL, Springville, Ala. This Remedy is for sale by all druggists.

TODAY'S COURT.

Martin Malone was fined $5 for drunkenness at Milton.

Margaret Alexander was arraigned for keeping intoxicating liquor with intent to sell at Quincy. Case continued thirty days.

The continued case of John Wren, for drunkenness at Quincy, was called and he was defaulted.

The continued case of James Buckley for larceny at Braintree was called and the case was dismissed.

John J. Moriarty was arraigned for keeping liquor with intent to sell at Quincy. He was found not guilty and was discharged.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflamation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars; free.

Funeral of Veteran.

The funeral of Capt. William Boyd was held this morning from St. Mary's church. The services were largely attended, Paul Revere Post, G. A. R., being present in a body, also a delegation from John A. Boyd camp, Legion of Spanish War Veterans.

The services were conducted by Rev. A. F. Roche, who delivered an eulogy. Miss Mary White sang a solo. After the services the remains were escorted to St. Mary's cemetery by the Grand Army and then burial service was performed. Rev. John Powers officiated at the grave. There were many beautiful floral pieces.

The representatives from John A. Boyd camp were: Commander, Wm. E. Morrissey; Past Commander, John A. McGowan; Adjutant, Wm. Collagan Paymaster, Wm. W. Dunn; Officer of the Day, Henry Matthews, Comrades, Frank P. Pierce, Terance Rafferty and Leon Delano.

Another Raid.

Chief of Police Hayden, Inspector McKay, Officers Barry, Bradley and Daveron raided the West Quincy House on Copeland street, kept by Margaret Alexanderon, Sunday afternoon, seized a small quantity of beer in a half barrel, a small quantity of whisky and a small quantity of wine.

Stealing a Court Secret.

Once when Justice W. of the United States supreme court reached Pittsburg on circuit a Mr. Wright entertained him. There was a case pending then in the supreme court which involved the values of two stocks. The decision was certain to make one of the stocks valueless and the other valuable. It was considered an even chance which way the decision would go. The lawyers in the case had settled it in their minds that if Justice B. were to write the decision it would be in their favor. The justice was noted for writing long decisions. The majority of the men on the bench at that time wrote briefly. Justice W. [illegible] entertained at dinner at Mr. Wright's like house. After the dinner Justice W. became companionable and good natured.

In the midst of conversation about the court and its work Mr. Wright said to Justice W., mentioning the case in which he was interested, "I suppose that the decision in that case will be a long one, there being so many points involved." "As long as the moral law, my boy," said the old justice as he smiled benevolently upon his host. That was all that he said upon the subject. Mr. Wright, however, knew from this remark that it was the particular justice who wrote long decisions who was preparing the one in this case. This gave him the cue for the decision, and he bought stock based upon this judgment. It proved correct, and he gained exactly $200,000 from this careless remark of the too amiable justice.

Not Fordable.

During one of his expeditions in the Philippines General Lawton came across the trail of a party of Filipinos, which he followed for several days with a small body of troops. One day he and his staff reached the top of a small eminence and saw a river stretching below them but a short distance ahead. Turning to one of his aids, the general said, "Lieutenant, ride ahead and see if that river is fordable."

The lieutenant put spurs to his horse and soon entered the river. A few feet from the shore the bottom shelved off suddenly, and the horse was soon floundering in deep water. The lieutenant disengaged himself and swam to the shore, which the horse also reached in a short time. After a brief chase, to the amusement of the general and the staff, the horse was recaptured, and, mounting him, the lieutenant rode back. His khaki uniform was soaked and bedraggled, and the water spurted from the tops of his military boots at every jump of his horse. Riding up to the general, he gravely saluted and said, "I have the honor to report, sir, that the river is not fordable."

Lawton looked at him a moment trying to maintain the dignity of his position, but the situation was too ludicrous for him. He burst into a hearty laugh, in which the staff joined at the expense of the young lieutenant, who, however, tells the story on himself.

PAN-AMERICAN EXPOSITION OPENS.

Dedication Day of the Great Six Months' Festival.

Wonderful Beauty of the Completed Work.

Color, Sculpture, Electricity, Fountains, Flowers and Festive Architecture—The Most Beautiful Exposition Ever Created—A Triumph of Artistic Endeavor—A Mammoth Show In Which the Practical Side Is as Well Cared For as the Artistic Features.

BUFFALO, May 20.—The dedication of the Pan-American Exposition today was performed in a manner befitting the great occasion, a large attendance testifying to the widespread interest in the mammoth enterprise. Fully 300,000 people were on hand to take part in the grand event. The day was made a civic holiday, and there was a general outpouring of people from cities and towns within 200 miles of Buffalo, both in the United States and Canada, by way of the 20 or more great lines of railway which center in this city.

The city was astir at an early hour to witness or participate in the programme. Mr. Louis L. Babcock was chief marshal, and the programme consisted of parades, ceremonies in the Temple of Music and special outdoor features. There were two separate and distinct parades—an Exposition parade and a concessionnaires' parade, leaving the City Hall at 10 a. m.

The Exposition parade consisted of the United States troops in this city, the Mexican National Band, a detachment of all arms of the Mexican army and other foreign troops in the city, the Fourth Brigade, N. G. S. N. Y., all under the command of General S. M. Welch, escorting carriages containing the Exposition officials and their specially invited guests.

The parade of the concessionnaires was participated in by all the concessionnaires. It was accompanied by 15 bands and was two miles in length, showing the wonderful features and interesting people of the Midway.

The ceremonies at the grounds consisted, first, of a grand flight of carrier pigeons freed on the Esplanade and conveying the news of the dedication of the Exposition to the world. The invited guests then proceeded to the Temple of Music, where the following programme was carried out under the direction of the Hon. John G. Milburn, president of the Pan-American Exposition:

Music by the Seventy-first Regiment Band, under the direction of Professor Fanciulli.
Opening prayer by the Right Rev. C. H. Fowler, bishop of the M. E. church.
Address by his honor Conrad Diehl, mayor of the city of Buffalo.
Poem written for the occasion by Robert Cameron Rogers.
"Salve Libertas," Sturm, by Buffalo Orpheus and Orchestra, John Lund conductor.
Address by the Hon. Theodore Roosevelt, vice president of the United States.
Music.
Address by Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts.
Poem written for the occasion by Frederic Almy.
Address by the Hon. Timothy L. Woodruff, lieutenant governor of the State of New York.
"America," by band, Orpheus and audience.
Benediction by the Right Rev. William D. Walker, bishop of western New York.

At noon there was an exhibition of scientific kiteflying by Mr. E. I. Horsman, scientific kite expert of New York, and his staff of kitefliers. This consisted of tandem kites and Eddy war kites, suspending the American flag and discharging American flags in the form of parachutes, others supporting a great banner bearing the word "Welcome," with others bearing different flags and streamers at various heights. There were also flown tandems of naval block kites and keel kites with flags and a tandem of yacht or ship kites.

At the close of the ceremonies in the Temple of Music there was a great display of day fireworks, including a grand salute of 125 aerial guns fired from steel mortars, the ascent of 27 large 12 foot gas balloons, each lettered with the name of one of the Pan-American countries and carrying the flag of the country; salute to the states, 46 mammoth cannon report rockets, one for each state of the Union, fired simultaneously; magnificent display of Japanese daylight fireworks, released in midair from Japanese bombs; oriental kite display, exhibiting 150 kites, from which will be displayed Pan-American flags and the New York State flag; daylight bomb cloud shells, setting free American and Pan-American flags, with souvenirs of the dedication day; simultaneous discharge of 1,000 small gas balloons, sent up in triplets, each bearing a souvenir of the dedication day; grand American salute, consisting of 500 large gun cotton rockets.

The completed Exposition is a distinct triumph in countless ways. Never before has there been such an effort put forth to produce rich decorative effects. These are to be seen in the symmetrical arrangement of the buildings around spacious courts, the glow of color upon all the buildings, the play of fountains and cascades, the profusion of blossoming flowers, the generous use of intricate molded ornaments upon the buildings, the great number of sculptured groups by famous American sculptors and at night the softly diffused yet brilliant lighting effects produced by means of more than 300,000 incandescent electric lamps upon buildings and throughout the grounds.

The grounds of the Exposition comprise some 350 acres, very accessible by steam and electric lines from all parts of Buffalo. When it is recalled that it was only the 4th day of last June that the first piece of timber was raised aloft as the beginning of what is now a magnificent Exposition city, one can but marvel at the executive force which has brought this work to its present state of completeness.

The cost of the Exposition as it now appears is approximately $10,000,000, exclusive of exhibits. Of this sum the Midway represents an expenditure of about $3,000,000. Nothing seems to have been forgotten in perfecting the plan, and there is every convenience for the visitor and an abundance for him to examine and enjoy. The admission price is the same as usual at expositions, half a dollar, but it entitles one to a full day at the most beautiful festival of the kind that has ever been brought into existence. No pen will be so presumptuous as to attempt to describe the architectural and color beauty of the Pan-American Exposition. It is a magnificent, an extravagant, dream brought to a harmonious and beautiful realization. The triumph of the architect, the colorist, the landscape architect, the sculptor and the electrician is complete.

There are about 150 buildings in the Exposition plot, of all sizes and descriptions, and an abundance for every one to see, no matter how long he may choose to remain. The most novel exhibits perhaps are to be found in the Electricity building, for in that particular science wonderful strides have been made within the last few years. Notably among these is the transformer plant, where 5,000 horsepower is received from Niagara Falls by cable at a pressure of 11,000 volts and stepped down to 1,800 volts. This power is used for lighting the vast Exposition area. A daylight brilliancy will pervade the Exposition until 11 o'clock each night. The exhibit of Street Railway appliances is also of a very complete and interesting character. The exhibit made by Thomas A. Edison, showing the development of many of his important inventions, constitutes another attractive feature. Demonstrations are to be made of Wireless Telegraphy and the X Rays. In the center of the Machinery and Transportation building is a working exhibit of a large number of Pumping Engines. These supply the water for the various fountain features of the Exposition. Among these water displays is a cascade in the southern face of the Electric Tower, from which there is a flow of 35,000 gallons of water per minute, making a beautiful veillike cataract 70 feet high. Upon this cataract electric lights of many colors will be thrown from an invisible source, producing an enchanting picture.

One of the most imposing buildings of the Exposition is the great Stadium. This is more than 60 feet high and is so large as to inclose a quarter mile track. The seats are arranged in the form of a vast amphitheater, and the capacity is sufficient for 12,000 spectators. This is to be the scene of very interesting events daily throughout the Exposition.

The Midway is said to be the greatest that has ever been organized for any exposition. The Midway proper is 3,000 feet long, thus giving more than a mile of frontage upon this singular thoroughfare. There are about 40 shows, every one of them possessing special merit and selected from a large number offered. There has been great rivalry among show people to secure space upon the Midway, and it has been allotted with great care and with the positive assurance that every feature would be of a character to command popular interest.

It may be said of the whole Exposition that in every department it is a compact yet complete presentation of Twentieth Century civilization of the Western World.

MINISTERS HANDICAPPED

By Conflicting Instructions as to Treating With Chinese Affairs

Pekin, May 20.—M. Pichon, the French minister, left here for home yesterday A meeting of the foreign ministers will be held today, but it is not likely that much will be accomplished, as some of the ministers have not yet received instructions from their home governments. The ministers, commenting upon the blame attached to them by the people for their slowness, say that as a matter of fact they are powerless to act without orders from home. One of the foreign ministers told the correspondent of the Associated Press that he had been instructed to co-operate heartily with the other ministers. He found, upon consultation with his colleagues, that their instructions were absolutely different from his. Consequently, cooperation was practically impossible.

Burned by Molten Metal

Youngstown, O., May 20.—Two men are dead and three are expected to die as a result of an accident in the Bessemer department of the National Steel company's plant yesterday. The accident was caused by the cover of a mammoth converter letting go, and allowing 13 tons of molten metal to flow over the mill. The body of one of the men who was killed was literally burned to a cinder, while that of the other was nearly as bad. It is thought the accident was caused by the bolts in the plant being crystallized.

Ocean Liners In Danger

New York, May 20.—Two large ocean liners, which came into port yesterday, reported that in crossing the ocean they passed dangerous derelicts. These wrecks are drifting with the wind and wave in the ocean lanes, which are now daily traversed by the liners, many of which are carrying on an average of 1000 immigrants in their steerage. The government will be asked to send out one of the small gunboats to hunt for and destroy the derelicts before they cause disaster to vessels bound for the United States.

Perhaps Fatal Error

Minneapolis, May 20.—Katherine Germaine, playing the leading role in "The Highwayman" at the Metropolitan theatre in this city, swallowed nearly a dozen strychnine pills yesterday and may die. She was suffering with toothache during the afternoon and resorted to a dentist's office. He gave her the pills with instructions to take one every three hours. The instructions were misunderstood, and, not knowing their deadly contents, Miss Germaine took the overdose.

Father Phillips' Death

New York, May 20.—The body of Father Phillips has been taken to Pittston, Pa., where it will be buried beside his parents. Dr. Dougherty, the priest's nephew, accompanied the body. Before going the doctor said: "I will adhere inflexibly to the opinion that Father Phillips met his death by the most natural causes and that I will be surprised if the investigations of the police develop anything else. I have not seen Kirke Stanley, and know nothing of him whatever."

Church Services In Tents

Jacksonville, Fla., May 20.—Jacksonville yesterday resumed somewhat of its usual Sunday appearance, and the workmen who have been busily at work on the debris were given a rest. Church services were held by all the denominations, tents having been erected near the various burnt edifices. The different bureaus were open all day, as usual, and the amount of work in the commissary department was about as usual.

Revolutionists Celebrate

Paris, May 20.—The Revolutionary groups celebrated, as usual, yesterday, the anniversary of the commune, marching in batches to the cemetery of Pere Lachaise, and depositing wreaths at the foot of the wall where the communists were shot. Stringent measures were taken by the police to preserve order, and a number of demonstrators were arrested.

ARE YOU PLUMP

or thin? red cheeks or sallow life in your step or feel your weight? are you comfortable or hoping to be so next spring or summer or fall?

One is health; the other is not-quite health.

This condition of not-quite health can be turned into health with Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil.

It is a pity to get in the habit of thinking of health as a thing to be hoped for; why not go for it now!

There is only one way to make strength: by food. You want appetite first, then food. The emulsion will give you food-rest, to master your food with.

We'll send you a little to try, if you like.

GLAD TO GET HOME

Boys the of Twenty-Sixth Have Had Enough of Service In the Philppines

Boston, May 20.—The first veterans of the Twenty-sixth volunteer regiment—24 in number—reached Boston yesterday, having come direct from the Pacific coast. The trip home was a hard one, and the boys were glad it was over. Private Joseph Twombley of Lawrence was spokesman for the party, and he said that he was glad to be in Boston once more. He said:

"We had a hard time of it in the islands, and I guess that few of the Twenty-sixth regiment will care to go back. We had all kinds of fighting, and we lost some of our men. In my company but 60 of those who went away came home with us. Some were killed, some died of disease, some were invalided home before. Only a few have remained there.

"Colonel Rice may have been a good colonel, and may have had good officers, but he never once appeared in a battle. It was always some lieutenant or captain in charge. Often it was a sergeant. Major Hennessey was the highest officer I ever saw or heard of in a scrap. Colonel Rice was at Iloilo all of the time."

The boys had little time to tell of their individual experiences, saying that they had written home about all there was to tell.

All Were Armed

Boston, May 20.—There was a lively fight in a bake shop in the North End last night, in which a group of Italians were concerned. Not one of them can tell just how it started, but in a minute four or more men had either knife of bullet wounds or both. Four wounded men are accounted for by the police, but it is probable that there are others. The men had gathered in answer to a letter from a contractor, saying he wanted 20 laborers. It was during a discussion over the wages to be paid and the settlement of railroad fares to Haverhill that the dispute began. The room was full of Italians, and each one apparently thought that if there was going to be any carving he didn't intend to die without getting at least one swing. So, according to the story the witnesses told, nearly every one pulled out either a knife or a gun.

Mrs. Dowie In the Pulpit

Boston, May 20.—Mrs. Jane Dowie, "overseer of women of the Christian Catholic Church of Zion," with headquarters in Chicago, and wife of Rev. John A. Diwie, "general overseer" of the same, spoke before the Boston Zion church yesterday. Mrs. Dowie seemed much disturbed by press reports of happenings at the Zion establishment in Chicago. She took up the case of Mrs. Judd, the Chicago Zionist, whose death aroused much talk in that city. She ridiculed the uproar which followed this death, saying that the general public and the newspapers had "so much faith in our faith that they are astounded that any of us should die." In one way, she regarded the clamor as a compliment.

Search Unrewarded

Brockton, Mass., May 20.—Three boat crews have been engaged in grappling for the body of Hon. W. L. Reed, who, it is feared, committed suicide Saturday by drowning in the reservoir of the Brockton water works, but without success. Mr. Reed was a native of Abington, where he was born in 1825. He was a prominent shoe manufacturer until his retirement, a few years ago. He served in the legislature of 1858 and 1859, and was senator from the First Plymouth district in 1865, 1866 and 1867. In 1870 and 1871 he was a member of Governor Claflin's council.

Acquitted of Murder Charge

Providence, May 20.—The jury in the Barrington murder trial returned a verdict of not guilty Saturday night. The defendants, Chester Candenta and Philomena Cardenta, are now free, but the woman has been taken to a hospital to recover from the shock under which she broke down during the trial. A row occurred between Polish and Italian occupants of a Barrington boarding house Sept. 2, last. Karroll Kobleviec was killed and Chester Cardenta, Raffael Cardenta and Philomena Cardenta were held on the charge of murder.

Bone From Saint's Arm

Fall River, Mass., May 20.—St. Anne's church was the scene of an immense gathering yesterday, to celebrate the arrival of Fr. Knapp from St. Hyacinthe, Can., with a relic of St. Anne, consisting of a bone from the forearm of St. Anne, which was brought from France by Fr. Knapp. Priests were in attendance from all over the diocese. The ceremony will be continued two days.

Carelessness Caused Death

Boston, May 20.—John D. Coyle, aged 41, is dead, and Jeremiah Reardon, aged 40, is dying, as the result of a careless turning of a gas jet in their room at the house of Bartholomew J. Fitzgerald. Both were teamsters, employed by Fitzgerald.

Trial Run Cut Short

Seattle, May 20.—The torpedo boat destroyer Goldsborough broke her starboard engine eccentric rod during a trial run, necessitating the vessel's return to her dock. It was stated that the rod was made of defective steel. The boat had been but 10 minutes on her course.

Russians "Cut Out" by Japs

Yokohama, May 20.—According to advices from Seoul, the Korean government has leased to Japan 450 acres of land to form a settlement at Ma-San-Pho. The land in question was formerly anxiously sought by Russia.

Peace Negotiations

Kingston, Jam., May 20.—The British steamer Para, from Colon, reports the suspension of hostilities on the part of the Colombian rebels, and that the Colombian government is believed to be negotiating to end the revolution.

A REMEDY FOR THE GRIPPE.

A remedy recommended for patients afflicted with the Grippe is KEMP'S BALSAM, which is especially adapted for the throat and lungs. Don't wait for the first symptoms of the disease! get a bottle today and keep it for use the moment it is needed. If neglected the grippe has a tendency to bring on pneumonia. KEMP'S BALSAM prevents this by keeping the cough loose, lungs free from inflammation. All druggists sell KEMP'S BALSAM at 25c. and 50c.

Machinists Generally Obeyed Order to Strike

RAILROAD MEN QUIT WORK

Although They Are Not Involved In the Strike as a Rule—President of the Union Furnishes a Summary of the General Situation

Washington, May 21.—The general strike of the employes in the machinery and allied trades throughout this country to enforce a nine-hour day with an increase of wages to meet the reduction in the hours of labor, is in force.

Approximately 50,000 machinists throughout the country struck yesterday for a nine-hour day, a scale of wages equal to the present 10-hour per day scale and other demands. This is the rough estimate of President O'Connell of the International Association of Machinists, based on the telegraphic advices that have reached him from the machinists' headquarters in the various cities.

The strike thus far has not extended to the allied trades, save one or two instances, as at Scranton, Pa., where men in a part of the allied trades are out. No machinists engaged in government work are affected. This is due to the fact that on such work an eight-hour a day scale already prevails. Railroad machinists, as a rule, are not involved in the strike, though the men on several roads are out.

The Central Vermont shop machinists at St. Albans, Vt., numbering probably 200, have struck. The Lehigh Valley railroad machinists at Buffalo, Sayre, Wilkesbarre and Elmira, are out, aggregating about 500 all told. The Delaware, Lackawanna and Western men at Buffalo, Scranton, Wilkesbarre and intermediate points, are out. The Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe men are also out.

The strike order, however, does not apply to the railroads generally. It is explained at headquarters that there is no competition between the railroads and the private work and that work among the private establishments is to be adjusted first.

The situation was summarized by President O'Connell in the following statement: "We are demanding a nine-hour day universally throughout the trade, with an increase of wages sufficient to overcome the loss of the hour in time; regulation of the apprenticeship system, and the number that shall be employed in accordance with the number of journeymen machinists employed; agreements as to arbitration of all disputes that may arise in the future; the right of the machinists to be represented by a committee, and agreements that there shall be absolutely no discrimination against machinists because of their membership in the union.

"From the present indications and the statements issuing from the headquarters at various points, the orders are being generally obeyed and in larger numbers than was anticipated. In certain cases, where only a few hundred men were expected to be involved, the indications are that the number will be increased 50 percent. The number of firms signing indicates that in localities where the agreements are being made the strike will not last over a few days. In other localities, where a larger number of men are being involved, I look forward to an adjustment being reached within the present week."

Following is a statement of the number of men out at important points: Hartford, 1000; Ansonia and Derby, Conn., 500; Hamilton, O., 1000; Buffalo, 1200; Scranton, 2500; Cincinnati, completely tied up, and 3000 men out; Connorsville, Ind., 200; Palestine, Tex., 200; York, Pa., 300; East Orange, N. J., 300; Oswego, N. Y., 300; Norfolk, all shops out, 500.

Situation In New England

Boston, May 21.—The machinists of New England, excepting those in unions in Boston, Providence, Springfield and two or three other cities, did not pay much attention to the general order to strike for a nine-hour day, judging from returns from various places, for the entire number of men refusing to work was but a small fraction of the total number of the craft. The nine-hour demand really has been won in a majority of places without the use of the strike threat. In Maine, there was no strike news, and the same was true in New Hampshire. In Vermont there was some friction at St. Albans, but at Springfield, Vt., the Jones & Lamson Machine company, employing 200 men, manufacturers of the flat turret lathe, surprised their employees by posting notices that they would pay 60 hours' wages for a 54-hour week. There is no labor organization in this town, and the men had not asked for any change, and the company's act was entirely voluntary. In Massachusetts, the strike order had effect in Boston quite generally, although concessions during the day left only 1184 actual strikers, with 1500 additional men promised an answer to their demand by Wednesday. For a review of the first day, it is evident that what little trouble showed itself will be smoothed over in a day or two.

LOVESICK SWAIN

Shoots a Woman and Her Daughter and Practices Upon Himself

Bridgewater, Mass., May 21.—Herbert E. Blood, 36 years of age, a farm hand of uncouth appearance, who worked for Daniel Sands of Holbrook, went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Nickerson yesterday afternoon, and shot Miss Fawn Davis, 20 years of age, daughter of Mrs. Nickerson by her former marriage, and shot Mrs. Nickerson, and then tried to kill himself. Mrs. Nickerson's wound is a flesh one in the back, and will bring no serious results. The bullet fired at Miss Davis struck her in the left breast and ranged downward, and is in such a locality that the doctors feared to probe, owing to her critical condition. Blood shot himself through the mouth, but the wound, while painful, will not prove serious, yet he lost a good deal of blood before a surgeon attended him.

Blood has been trying to force his attentions on Miss Linnie Davis, an older daughter, but both the young lady and the family objected. Yesterday afternoon he went to the house and rushed upstairs to a room where the two girls were painting an old bureau. As he saw them he said: "Hullo, girls," flourishing a revolver, and then shot with the intention of hitting Linnie, but Fawn was just in front of her and received the bullet. By this time Mrs. Nickerson had reached the top of the stairs, and she screamed, and then turned to run. Blood discharged a bullet, which struck her in the back. The man then put the revolver to his mouth and fired. The bullet went out of the back of his neck, and surgically did little damage. After Blood had been taken from the house to the lockup a doctor attended him. He will be taken to Brockton and arraigned in court there.

Lowell Welcomes Fighters

Lowell, Mass., May 21.—Captain Alexander Greig, Jr., and 17 other Lowell members of the Twenty-sixth regiment, were tendered a rousing reception in this city last night. All the local military companies joined in a parade to Huntington hall, where prominent citizens made speeches. Jerome F. Manning had petitioned for an injunction on the money appropriated for the reception, on the ground that the city council had no right to spend money for that purpose. The money was paid the committee by the city treasurer yesterday. All of the speakers took occasion to score Mr. Manning for his action in trying to secure an injunction.

Offer of Boston Elevated

Boston, May 21.—The Boston Elevated railway yesterday proposed to the legislature a Washington street subway plan, by which the railway company would build the subway, pay all costs and keep the subway in repair to the satisfaction of the transit commission; the title to be vested, on completion, in the city, but the company to have sole use of it for 50 years without additional compensation. The route would be fixed by the transit commission, and the work done under their supervision. The commission would decree all issues of company's bonds or stock made for this purpose.

Body Found In River

Cambridge, Mass., May 21.—Charles E. Starbuck, Harvard, '03, of Andover, who disappeared from college a week ago Thursday, and whose body was found yesterday in the Shawsheen river at Andover, was born in 1891, and was graduated from Phillips Andover academy in 1899. While at Harvard he came down from Andover every day to his recitations. He was a great student, devoting most of his time to the classics. His father is a professor in the Andover theological seminary.

Bay State Legislature

Boston, May 21.—The startling incident of yesterday's session of the legislature was the opposition of Representative McKinley of Lowell to the consolidation of two Boston electric companies, saying that trusts are ruling legislation and the country as well. "Talk about your boasted prosperity," he said, "the only prosperity that exists is that of the trusts. If a body of men ask for a raise of 10 percent in wages the militia is called out to shoot them down."

Traced by Pawn Ticket

Clinton, Mass., May 21.—Frank Halloway was arrested in this city last night charged with having committed highway robbery in Boston, April 26. Halloway came here about three weeks ago and gave his name as Flannagan. He said he was a barber, and was in hard luck. He sold a pawn ticket here for a watch in a pawn shop in Boston, and it was through the sending in of this ticket that Halloway was traced here by the police.

Student Badly Hurt

Cambridge, Mass., May 21.—H. A. Rich of Dighton, a Harvard student, fell from the top story of Wells Hall last evening, and sustained severe injuries. He was taken at once to a hospital, where fractures of the left thigh and arm were set. It was impossible to learn whether or not the injuries would result fatally. He was reading a newspaper at the window, and in some way lost his balance.

IN A BLAZE OF GLORY

The Pan-American Fair Is Formally Opened

ALL NATIONS REPRESENTED

In a Grand Procession Which Preceded Addresses by Prominent Men—Carrier Pigeons Soar Away With the News of the Dedication

Buffalo, May 21.—In the presence of a vast concourse of people, with ceremonial both conventional and novel, the Pan-American exposition was formally dedicated.

The day began with a parade, in which were men from nearly every country in the world, and it ended with an aerial bombardment. The formal exercises of the dedication took up most of the interesting time.

The city itself was bright with flags and bunting. The brilliant color of the exposition group and the moving crowds in holiday garb gave the whole a highly pleasing effect, especially when the sun had won its battle with the clouds.

The parade that formed at the city hall and marched to the exposition grounds was an interesting spectacle to thousands of people who lined the route. While this was forming a reception of distinguished visitors, foreign representatives, state commissioners, officers and officials, was held at the city hall.

When Vice President Roosevelt reached the hall the parade started with a volley of aerial bombs. Two thousand troops, headed by four bands, led the way, followed by carriages with the officials and guests. Behind them came the concessionaires from the Midway. Western Indians, mingled with the children of the tropics, the Orient and the Mediterranean, in native costume and borne in artistic floats, gave the procession its truest touch of color. Fifteen bands furnished the music for this section of the parade.

The entry of the procession to the exposition grounds was a magnificent spectacle. The crowd in the grounds at that time numbered fully 40,000, and the greater part of it was massed in the esplanade. The troops were halted in the fore court, and then formed in double column across the bridge of triumph. The officials and guests then left their carriages and marched through the lines of the troops to the esplanade beyond.

President Milburne of the exposition and Vice President Roosevelt led the way. A hundred yards from the Temple of Music they halted, and at the other end of the esplanade several thousand carrier pigeons were suddenly released. The birds circled low and then soared upward. When they got their bearings they parted company and took flight to every quarter of the compass. The vice president and party then filed on into the Temple of Music and the parade marched on through the grounds.

The formal dedicatory ceremonies were impressive. There were strong words for closer union among the American republics, on which point the remarks of Vice President Roosevelt, together with the congratulatory telegrams from the presidents of the American republics, excited the greatest enthusiasm. All of the American republics were represented at the dedication.

The exercises began at 12:45 o'clock with the rendition of Handel's Alleluia by the Seventy-first Regiment band. Bishop Charles H. Fowler led in prayer before an audience stilled and bowed. President Milburn read a series of congratulatory telegrams and their reading provoked cheer upon cheer. Mayor Diehl was then introduced, and Robert C. Rogers next recited a poem. The Orpheus society gave a magnificent rendering of Sturm's Salve Liberatus, and Vice President Roosevelt was presented. He was vigorously cheered. Emilio De Gogorza sang the prologue from I Pagliacci, and Senator Lodge was presented. He, too, was very cordially welcomed. After Lieutenant Governor Woodruff had concluded his address, the chorus and audience and band united in singing "America." The benediction was by Bishop W. D. Walker. The closing musical number was an inspiring march rendered by the Seventy-first Regiment band.

At the conclusion of the exercises in the Temple of Music, there was a grand display of fireworks on the esplanade and about the court of fountains. The Midway was the place when the set program ended, and the beauties of the esplanade, tower, court and mall were no match for its charms in popular affection.

The feature last night was the electrical show. The electrical tower was a dazzling light, and the play of the lights on fountains below produced some beautiful sights.

Yesterday's total admissions were 101,087. This does not include several thousand persons who came in through the Lincoln parkway entrance with the parade.

Good Afternoon.

The Emperor of Germany isn't likely to do so foolish a thing as to butt his head against the Monroe Doctrine, notwithstanding the fooltalk of some editors, both German and American.

The British are again winning the international yacht cup in advance of the race. So long as we can do the shouting after the race we have no objection to the British doing it before.

Scotland and Ireland are having a pretty race in population: the former has 4,471,957 souls under the new census and the latter 4,456,546. The population of the city of London is between the two with 4,536,034. England and Wales have a population of 32,525,716 nearly one-half that of the United States.

Wollaston continues to have a pull. The vote to build the Warren avenue bridge was passed Monday evening, and orders reported for a new fire company to be located in the new fire station, a $1,600 paved gutter on Winthrop avenue, etc.

How would it do to locate the two old cannon offered to the city by Congressman Naphen, at the north and south of First Church, and point them at City Hall. They would then be on the old "training field." Another, and perhaps better location, would be on the Thomas Crane Public Library grounds.

Chubbuck street seems to have the call, in preference to Cottage avenue, the Committee on Streets having already judicated that the former shall be widened. Next it will be an electric car line through this street, Des Moines street and Howard street to connect with the Quincy avenue line.

Drift of Opinion.

☞ We seem to be having a rainy season in this part of the world. In California and in the far East rainy seasons are common but they are an innovation here that we might well be spared. The long spell of wet weather in April is being supplemented by more dampness and we hope the ponds will all be filled for there ought to be some compensation for all this inconvenience.—Lynn Item.

☞ A boy who is not yet twenty-one recently paid a record price for a stock exchange seat and is credited with having made a fortune in stocks in short order. The alumni publication of the college at which he graduated last June says that he has "had unusual success" as a broker for the past six months, and adds: "And he was voted the most useless man in his class." This is given as an illustration of the inability of a man's associates to judge him accurately. Perhaps it is; but when the young man is fifty-one it may be discovered that his associates were nearer correct than they seem to be at this moment. With most men more time than six months is necessary to determine whether they are useless or not. And the history of the young Napoleons of finance afford a good many examples of the inaccuracy of judgments which were founded on careers that lasted less than a year. Beside, it is quite possible that the vote of the college boys was only a good natured grind.—New Bedford Standard.

THE CITY COUNCIL

Hearing Given on Double Tracking Hancock Street.

Order Passed for Warren Avenue Bridge.

Order Reported for New Fire Company at Wollaston.

Councilmen Bass and Callahan were the absent members at Monday night's meeting of the City Council.

COMMUNICATIONS.

The Mayor forwarded a letter received from Congressman Naphen stating that the city could have two old cannon if desired. They were twelve feet long and weighed about 4,000 pounds each. With these were two pyramids of ten shells each. The city would have to pay the expense of transportation. Referred to Committee on Public Grounds.

The Mayor sent a communication relative to the claims of the Allison heirs for damages by widening Arthur street. Laid on the table until later when Councilman Smith offered an order for $225 to settle the claim. Referred to Committee on Finance.

PETITIONS.

Several petitions were received for minor licenses.

For an arc light on Robertson street. Referred to Executive department.

For a location of poles on Revere road and Canal street by the Electric Light Co. Referred to Committee on Streets.

REPORT OF COMMITTEES.

By Sewers and Drains, an order for $70,000 for extension of main and lateral sewers. Referred to Committee on Finance.

By Finance ought to pass on order authorizing the Commisssioner to expend the street railway excise tax of $6,336.36 as per law. Rules suspended and order passed.

By joint committee of Finance and Public Buildings, ought to pass on order for $500 for the purchase of safes for Assessors and City Clerk. Rules suspended and order passed.

By Streets, an order for $1,600 for paving gutter on Winthrop avenue. To Committee on Finance.

By Streets an amendment to order for $1,000 for rebuilding Botolph and Clive streets making the amount $500. To Committee on Finance.

By Streets, orders for public hearings, June 3, on the widening of Chubbuck street, and laying out Verchild street.

By Streets, ought not to pass on order for $3,000 for a tar concrete sidewalk on Granite street. Laid on the table.

By Streets, an order granting the Electric Light Co. a location for poles on Newbury avenue and Squantum streets.

By Streets, ought to pass on order for $1,000 for a pipe drain on Miller street. To Committee on Finance.

By Streets, leave to withdraw on petition to rebuild New road and change name. Accepted.

By Finance, no legislation necessary on claim of Quincy Mutual Fire Insurance Co., for damages by widening Coddington street.

By Streets, reference to Committee on Claims, on petition of Emeline Brown for driveway to her property on Quincy avenue.

By joint committee of Fire Department and Ordinance, an order establishing a fire company of twelve men, two of whom shall be permanent, for the new hook and ladder truck at Wollaston.

DOUBLE TRACKING.

Three public hearings were held. The first was on the petiton of the Old Colony street railawy for a location for an additional track on Hancock street between Johnson avenue and a point near Merrymount park.

John R. Graham, representing the railway, said that the company had found that its present car barn was not large enough and it was not possible to enlarge owing to the difficulty in obtaining land. Plans had been made for a building that would last for years. To locate this building where proposed, near Merrymount park, requires a double track in order to handle the cars properly. The company intended to discontinue the use of the present car barn and give up all locations leading into it. It would be a benefit to the city to have the car barn removed from City Square. All cars and men would be kept at the new barn.

Councilman Nichols asked if it was on account of conditions added to a recent location granted that the company changed locations of its car barn.

Mr. Graham replied that it was not. We have not got room enough.

President Bryant asked if the company would accept location with so called technical restrictions put on.

Mr. Graham replied, that was a matter for the directors to decide.

Ex-Councilman Peter T. Fallon was pleased with what Mr. Graham had said. We are looking for quick transportation and he would like to see a double track to Neponset and to Water street. Our people demand better accomm odations which we can not get without double tracks.

Ex-Councilman Fred B. Rice favored granting the location but would add two conditions. First that the tracks be placed as near together as those of the Boston Elevated, and second that the track on Adams street between Hancock and Alleyne street should be removed and in its place a track built through Alleyne street. He then spoke at length reciting disadvantages by having the track in Adams street, and advantages by having it removed to Alleyne street.

The hearing then closed and the order was recommitted.

ROGERS STREET.

Thomas F. Mannex was the first speaker at the public hearing on the acceptance of Rogers street. He said the property owners paid enough in taxes to have the street accepted. The only thing they had received was one light. When the matter was before the Council before, the objection was the ledge near his property. This he had removed at his own expense. In reply to a question, Mr. Mannex said he would relinquish all claim for damages by change of grade.

Peter T. Fallon believed property holders on this street were existing under hard circumstances. They had been led in there and there was no redemption except for the City Council. They have no sidewalk, street or lights to guide them. It was time to be a little liberal with these people.

The hearing was then closed and the order recommitted.

HOWARD AVENUE.

A public hearing was held on the petition to establish the grade of Howard avenue.

No one appeared for or against the petition, and the hearing was closed and the order recommitted.

ASSESSORS' PLANS.

The engrossed order for $1,000 for Assessors' plans took its second reading and was passed.

BRIDGE ORDER PASSED.

The substitute order for $2,650 for Warren avenue bridge was taken up and passed to be ordained by the following vote:

Yeas — Adams, Alden, Craig, DeNormandie, Elcock, Faxon, Freeman, Gassett, Hadlock, Langelier, McLennan, Newcomb, Nichol, Sherman, Spargo, Thompson—16.

Nays — Hughes, Hultman, Nicol, Smith—4.

Absent—Bass and Callahan.

PARKWAY TAKINGS.

At this point President Bryant read two orders which the Metropolitan Park Commission desired passed, approving the taking of land for the Furnace brook parkway. Referred to Committee on Streets.

CALENDAR.

The order granting the New England Telephone Co., a location for poles on Beach and West Howard street was passed under suspension of the rules.

Adjourned 8.45.

Captain William Boyd.

Editors of the Daily Ledger:

He needs no tribute of eulogy. Rather should charity give a kind word to some less favored brother whose struggles through life may have been more severe and less successful from our dim point of view. He had many trials and disappointments, but his inherent good heart and courage must have been a tower of strength to him in emergencies, and he had a continuous reward in the consciousness of right purpose and duty well done.

In kindly alluding to his character and good life work we reflect credit on ourselves inasmuch as we appreciate and try to emulate it.

His patriotism was of the purest type. His ambition as a soldier was unalloyed by selfishness, and as a good citizen fighting only as a defender. He remained uncontaminated by the hell of war. He espoused with zeal the cause of his fatherland, Ireland, hoping like many of his brave comrades that his military training and experience would better enable him to do his rightful part. Without this he would be incomplete as a patriot. For to be of his race and not to feel the thrill of sympathy in that time and cause, apology would be useless.

But the essential part of his character and life work was shown in the zeal with which he followed the commandments and teachings of the church with which his broad, true christian charity, was in perfect harmony.

We are highly honored by the life among us of this typical good citizen. May he rest in peace. Comrade.

Eyesore at Atlantic.

In spite of the said "eye of an officer" the genteel public still continue to use Holbrook's field, back of Walker street, for a public dump. The road, which was cut through some years ago, was never accepted, and is now heaped from one end to the other with a wonderful and mysterous assortment of tin cans, old shoes, and many dainties which are better left unsaid. Complaint has been made to the owner, and the result was an officer to stand guard, but whether the officer was a creature of imagination or apt to be in a comatose state most of the time remains to be found out. The fact remains: the field is a public dump a menace to health, an eyesore, and a bugbear to the town in general. Prompt action is needed.

Municipal Lighting.

Representative Badger and Sheppard were divided Monday on the municipal lighting bill, the former voting in favor and the later against the substitute of Mr. MacCartney for the adverse report of the committee on manufacturers, that cities and towns which establish gas or electric light plants shall pay no more for existing plants than they can be duplicated for. The vote was close 96 in favor to 89 opposed, with only two paired.

☞ Biliousness is a condition characterized by a disturbance of the digestive organs. The stomach is debilitated, the liver torpid, the bowels constipated. A Legitimate Investment

Which Increased Over 700 per cent.

WITHIN SIX MONTHS.

The Arcola Oil Company's stock sold for $135 per 1,000 shares, and in six months $1,000 per 1,000 shares was refused for the stock, for the reason that the first well was a large producer and there is room for forty wells on the Company's land, which makes it about certain that the stock in the near future will be worth ten dollars per share.

We offer you the same opportunity for a large gain by investing in the Dirigo Oil Company's stock, the first block of which is being sold for $150 per 1,000 shares. The Company owns a block of land adjoining the Arcola Company's land which has large producing wells on all four sides. There is eighty acres of the Company's land in the center of the oil belt, which we feel absolutely certain will give a large producing well in each acre.

We now have machinery on the ground, and are ready to sink the first well, and expect to strike oil by June 1st, which will then make the stock worth par value, if the well is as good a producer as the Arcola.

The block of stock we are selling is about three-quarters sold and quick application will have to be made to secure any of it at the present price.

WORMS

Hundreds of Children and adults have worms but are treated for other diseases. The symptoms are:—indigestion, with a variable appetite; foul tongue; offensive breath; hard and full belly with occasional gripings and pains about the navel; eyes heavy and dull; itching of the nose; short, dry cough; grinding of the teeth; starting during sleep; slow fever; and often in children, convulsions.

TRUE'S PIN WORM ELIXIR

is the best worm remedy made. It has been in use since 1851, is purely vegetable, harmless and effectual. Where no worms are present it acts as a Tonic, and corrects the condition of the mucous membrane of the stomach and bowels. A positive cure for Constipation and Biliousness, and a valuable remedy in all the common complaints of children. Price 25 cents. Ask your druggist for it.

THE OLD DISTRICT

Quincy to Remain in the Tenth Congressional.

Two Democratic Wards Dropped--One Added.

Senator Codman of Dorchester Will Dissent.

The special committee of the Legislature on the new Congressional district are reported to favor the following make up for the new Tenth district: Part of Ward 12, all of Wards 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 20 and 24, the city of Quincy and town of Milton, although Senator Codman gives notice that he will dissent.

The changes from the present district would be: the loss of part of Ward 12 and all of Wards 18 and 19, and the addition of the South Boston ward, No. 13.

The make up of he proposed district will be better understood from the summary below which gives localities, and also the vote for Governor in 1899 an off year:

	Crane, R.	Paine, D.
*Ward 12, Chester Park,	1,347	884
Ward 13, South Boston,	232	1,823
Ward 14, " "	449	1,768
Ward 15, " "	680	1,413
Ward 16, Uphams Corner,	1,188	1,206
Ward 17, Mt. Pleasant,	775	1,725
Ward 20, Mt. Bowdoin,	2,021	1,128
Ward 24, Dorchester,	1,724	1,051
City of Quincy,	1,628	948
Town of Milton,	612	232
	11,156	12,178

* The total vote of this ward is given, but only a part is included in the district.

Wards 18 and 19 which it is proposed to drop are both Roxbury wards, and in 1899 gave 2,102 plurality against Gov. Crane. Ward 13 which is added gave 1,591 against Crane. Figures are not at hand for the loss of Ward 12 precincts, but evidently the district will not be greatly changed politically.

With Wards 13 on the extreme north, or Ward 17 on the extreme west, dropped, and Hyde Park added, there might be slight hopes for the Republicans.

Banquet at Wollaston.

The sixth anniversary of the Carrie E. Ruggles, Rebekah lodge, celebrated Monday evening, in Odd Fellows' hall, Wollaston, was a great success. The music for the evening consisted of solos by Miss Eva Smith of Norfolk Downs, Miss Nellie McCarthy of Quincy and Mr. Brown of Milton.

Many selections were also rendered by Noyes' orchestra of Wollaston. The receiving committee were: P. G. M. Ruggles and wife and V. G. Mrs. Mary Linton of Quincy. Mrs. Wardwell, Mrs. Damon and Miss Currier had prepared a very pleasing musical program. Toward the close of the evening, supper was served, prepared by the following committee: Mr. McClodd, Mr. Corbett, Mr. Mitchell, Mrs. Stebbin, Mrs. Merrill, Miss Saunders, Mr. Dunn and Mr. Birse. During the repast a few short speeches were made, one of which was by P. G. M. Ruggles.

Belcher in Jail.

The report that Charles A. Belcher of Braintree, who was arrested for larceny of $5400 and committee to Dedham to await trial, had secured bail was erroneous. He is still at Dedham jail, having been unable to secure the $7000 bail. His case will come up for hearing in the Quincy court tomorrow.

New Electric Light Plant.

At the hearing before the Gas and Electric Light Commission on the petition of the Quincy Electric Light and Power Co. to issue bonds, and before the Harbor and Land Commissioners on a petition of the same company to build a wharf on Town river, no one appeared in opposition and the matters were taken under advisement.

No Loss of Time

I have sold Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea, Remedy for years, and would rather be out of coffee and sugar than it. I sold five bottles of it yesterday to threshers that could go no farther, and they are at work again this morning.—H. R. PHELPS, Plymouth, Oklahoma. As will be seen by the above the threshers were able to keep on with their work without losing a single day's time. You should keep a bottle of this Remedy in your home. For sale by all druggists.

☞It is hardly possible that the New York Yacht club would be so exceedingly unwise or narrow-minded as to bar the Independence from the trial race for the selection of a defender yacht. Such a course would bring upon them only odium and contempt and even New York gall would hardly care to encounter the feeling that would be stirred up. — Waltham Free Press.

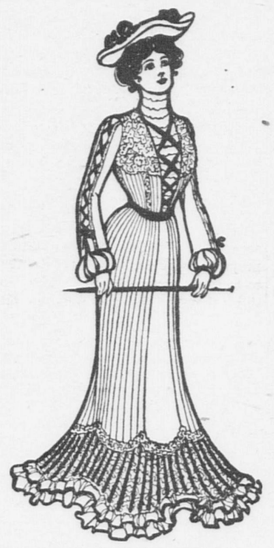

THE THIN THINGS.

Popular Styles In Muslins and Other Summer Materials.

Black and white gowns will be especially good style among the thin dresses. In the batistes, bareges, silk muslins and grenadines white spotted with black is most desirable if trimmed with black lace insertion, which makes it more striking and yet perfectly genteel. These are not in any sense mourning gowns, and the belt is usually in some pretty, light color of soft liberty satin ribbon, either plain or flowered.

Ribbons are an attractive addition to the thin gowns, and never were they prettier or more varied than they are this season.

Some of the most graceful muslin gowns are made in princess form over a princess underdress of taffeta silk. The necessary seams are made to disappear altogether by undulating bands of lace insertion, either black or white, which extend from the bust to the hem. It is a simple gown in appearance, but one of the most difficult to make, as the fit and cut must be perfect.

Thin gowns in general are made with the separate skirt, the foundation skirt being either in silk or lawn and cut in the circular form, with a plaited ruffle around the hem.

Elbow sleeves will be a feature of many of the summer gowns, and the pompadour ruffle is a pretty finish for the transparent close fitting sleeves. Another style shows a sort of puff for a finish.

The leading materials for summer gowns are the pale tinted cloths, canvas veilings, foulard, batiste, silk muslin, pique and linens of various grades of fineness and gloss. Added to these are the grenadines, gauzes, dimities and mercerized cotton materials, very silky in appearance.

To wear with the dainty light blouses, so much a part of summer dress, nothing can be nicer than a skirt of pale tinted cloth in gray or biscuit color.

There are no prophecies or hints of things to come which suggest even a possibility of any decrease in the popularity of the blouse waist.

A point which should be particularly observed by all women who are not slender and tall is to have the blouse and the skirt of the same color, but not necessarily of the same material.

Strapping lace with velvet ribbon in various ways seems to be one of the new features of trimming.

From the New York Sun, which is authority for these items of fashion, is reproduced the model for a foulard gown showing straps of velvet on a lace flounce, velvet on the edges of flounces below and velvet lacing on sleeves and bodice over a lace vest.

Charlotte Russe.

To make charlotte russe begin by putting one ounce of gelatin to soak in half a cup of cold water for an hour. Then add one-half cup of boiling water and one cup of sugar. Beat the whites of seven eggs until they are dry and mix with one quart of cream whipped. When the gelatin begins to cool, beat into the cream and eggs gradually. Flavor with one teaspoonful of vanilla. Line a mold with lady fingers or with slices of sponge cake and turn the mixture over them.

Fashion's Echoes.

Tiny bishop sleeves puffing just a little at the wrist over the band prevail in dainty shirt waists.

Long and narrow lace scarfs of real lace if possible are worn twisted twice or thrice round the neck and tied in a neat bow in front.

Crush belts of soft silk are one of the new features.

Pigskin ties of light cream colored tint represent smart footwear to be worn with the light spring gowns.

Men's silk hats are to be a trifle lower in the crown. The derby is a little higher than last season and tapers all around toward the flat top.

Gold is still to be worn, but will be more artistically managed and less aggressive than heretofore.

Paris exacts a touch of red on every costume that will admit it.

Black velvet stocks and belts represent correct and useful form with colored silk shirt waists.

New blouse waists fasten up the back with a fly and small buttons.

Latest shoes are in extremes, with French heels of the highest and extension soles when these are used of the widest.

Little coatees in silk, satin or light cloths tucked or embroidered are very swagger for spring wear.

YACHTING

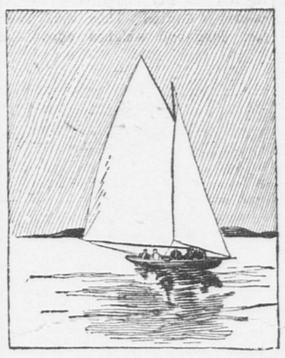

The sanguine predictions made by American yachtsmen earlier in the season were well based. Developments to date in yachting circles are of a nature that cannot but presage a record breaking summer in this one of the most attractive sports.

The eastern schedules have all been announced, and an imposing array of regattas has been prepared. The most important of the eastern races are naturally the contests for the America's cup. The New York Yacht club has given out the official dates for the international races as Aug. 20, 22, 24, 27, 29. Additional dates for postponed races in the America's cup series will be announced later.

The western sailors are determined not to be outdone this year. The Pacific coast is more interested in aquatics now than it has been for many years past.

San Francisco yachtsmen have built several new and speedy craft that compare favorably with any in the east.

All along the great lakes yacht clubs are in their glory. In and about Chicago the enthusiasts are paying a deal of attention to the Illinois, the splendid new defender of the Canadian cup, now held by the Chicago Yacht club. The cup races will be sailed July 4.

THE ILLINOIS CHAMPION TWENTY-TWO FOOTER.

There are two yachts named Illinois on Lake Michigan. The one other than the cup defender is said to be one of the fastest boats in its class in the country. The second Illinois is in the 22 foot division, while the Canadian cup defender ranks with the 35 footers.

CYCLING

Eddie McDuffie and Jimmy Michael will have their first meeting of the year at Waltham, Mass., May 25. These two cyclists have not met since June 17, 1898, when Michael was defeated through his handle bar becoming loosened. Michael took to the work of a horse jockey and failed. McDuffie became a chaffeur, with doubtful success.

Michael is training at Woodside park, Philadelphia. McDuffie's motor pace will be a tandem of 4¼ horsepower. It is of German make, and Peter Berlo will have charge of it.

Three of the big cycle riders who were expected to join the professional ranks have decided to remain amateurs and will stay in their own territory. Orlando Weber of Milwaukee has proved to the board of control that he is still an amateur. Willie Bangor, brother of "Wooden Shoes," has decided to keep Weber company. Frank Denny of Buffalo will remain at home.

All of these men are over six feet in height and over 200 pounds in weight. George Leander of Chicago, whose rating in height and weight is about the same as the other three, will be seen in the professional ranks.

Filipino Prisoners Turned Loose

Manila, May 21.—General MacArthur has celebrated the surrenders of the insurgent generals Mascardo and Lacuna by releasing 1000 Filipino prisoners. General Moxica, the insurgent chief on the island of Leyte, has surrendered with 20 men, the remnant of his command. The president of the island of Lubang has been arrested and brought to Cavite, charged with being an accomplice of the insurgents.

Charged With Stealing $30,000

New York, May 21.—Fou Loy Tai, senior member of the Chinese firm of Fou Loy Tai & Co. of New Orleans, was arraigned in police court here yesterday on a charge of having embezzled $30,000. The charge was made by the chief of police of New Orleans. The Chinaman admitted his identity, but denied that he was guilty as charged. He was remanded to await advices from New Orleans.

War Against "Despoilers"

New York, May 21.—The organization committee of the Greater New York Democracy met last night at Cooper Union. The speeches were directed against Tammany Hall. A platform was adopted inviting Democrats to enroll their names in the organization "to drive the despoilers out of power." It was decided to appoint a committee to confer with the Citizens' union.

Weather Conditions and Forecast

Almanac, Wednesday, May 22.

Sun rises—4:17; sets, 7:05.

Moon sets—11:06 p. m.

High water—2 a. m.; 2:45 p. m.

The weather east of the Mississippi has been cloudy and threatening in the lake region, New England and the middle Atlantic states. The weather in New England will continue cloudy and unsettled, with occasional rains. Brisk northeasterly winds will continue on the coast.

Teacher Surprised.

The children of grade five of the Lincoln school surprised their teacher, Miss D. J. Adams, at her home on Gay street, Friday, May 19, and enjoyed a social time from 6.30 to 9 o'clock. In behalf of the pupils, Annie Cotter presented Miss Adams a silk umbrella, and Rosanna Picard gave a bunch of flowers. Games were enjoyed and there was also a dance by Margaret McKenzie and coon songs by Annie Cotter.

Among those present were:

Sarah Summers, Rosanna Picard, Annie Cotter, Jennie Cummings, Walter Murray, Ernest Warmington, James Michaels, Nellie Scott, May Vael, Ruth Kemp, Will Weeden, Alvina Reed, Thomas Cotter, John Souter, Mary Summers, Florence Heges, Harry Caddy, Nellie Smith, Katie Smith, Sulum Anderson, Ettra Tantawdid, Maggie McKenzie, James McKenzie, Annie Morrie, Maggie Miller, Bessie Miller, Annie Powers, Alice Findliy, Lulu Hadden.

Water Supply Threatened.

The heavy rain Sunday caused a serious cave in of the sewer trench on Adams street just west of the railroad crossing at East Milton. The main of Milton Water company was broken and at one time it was thought the twenty-four inch main of the Metropolitan Water Co. was sure to go. The water was shut off and a gang of workmen set at work bracing it up. In this way the main was saved.

Sciatic Rheumatism Cured After Fourteen Years of Suffering.

"I have been afflicted with sciatic rheumatism for fourteen years," says Josh Edgar, of Germantown, Cal. "I was able to be around but constantly suffered. I tried everything I could hear of and at last was told to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which I did and was immediately relieved and in a short time cured, and I am happy to say it has not since returned." Why not use this liniment and get well? It is for sale by all druggists.

Towns Left Without Water

Colorado Springs, Col., May 21.—By the bursting of a dam at the Victor reservoir at Pike's peak yesterday, 65,000,000 gallons of water were released and a raging current poured down the mountain, carrying wreck and devastation down the West Beaver valley to the Arkansas river. No loss of life is reported, but the water supply of four towns is practically cut off.

Struck Water Unexpectedly

Hazleton, Pa., May 21.—A body of water heretofore unknown was tapped in the Silverbrook mine yesterday, and three men are believed to have been drowned or smothered. The water was released by a shot fired by one of the 50 men engaged in the breast. It came down so suddenly that all had to run for their lives.

Second Victim of Gas

Boston, May 21.—Jeremiah Reardon, who was found unconscious Sunday by the side of his dead roommate, John Coyle, died yesterday. Both men were asphyxiated by gas. They had failed to turn the gas jet off fully. Coyle was 42 years old, and Reardon was 43. Both men were single.

Twelve Cases of Smallpox

Boston, May 21.—Two more cases of smallpox have been discovered in the Roxbury district, making a total of 12. Two of the patients were discharged yesterday, and it is expected that the others will be discharged in a few days.

STORY OF MRS. BONINE

Of Tragedy Which Has Puzzled Washington Police

AYRES SHOT THREE TIMES

In Struggle For Possession of a Revolver Which He Had Threatened to Use After He Had Enticed the Woman to His Room

Washington, May 21.—The mystery attending the killing of James Seymour Ayres, a census office clerk, in the Kenmore hotel early last Wednesday morning, and which, because of the peculiar circumstances surrounding, has aroused Washington more than any tragedy in several years, was solved yesterday by a voluntary confession from Mrs. Lulu I. Bonine, a married woman and a guest at the house, that three shots which ended Ayres life had been fired in a struggle between Ayres and herself. Mrs. Bonine is the wife of a drummer for a wholesale drug house of Chicago.

Mrs. Bonine's confession was entirely voluntary. She said that she had been enticed to Ayres' room and was alone with him when the killing took place, and that the shooting was the result of his own misconduct. She stated that Ayres had drawn the pistol upon her for the purpose of making her respond to an improper proposal, which he had made to her. She immediately grasped the revolver, and in the struggle which ensued it was discharged three times, striking the man at each discharge, the last shot proving fatal.

Mrs. Bonine says that after the shooting she passed through the window of Ayres' room onto and down the fire escape ladder and, entering the parlor window of the second floor, passed through the parlor and back up the stairway of the hotel to her own room on the fourth floor. She then washed her hands, undressed and retired.

Mrs. Bonine was entirely self-possessed when she made her confession, and did not exhibit any evidence of either present of past unusual excitement. She is apparently about 32 years of age and says she was born in Mason, Mo. She says that it was at her husband's solicitation that she learned to practice with a revolver, and that he had made the suggestion that she should learn the art of self-defense against possible assault. She said she had twice in her life fired revolvers to frighten burglars, and that she had brought a bull-dog revolver with her to Washington, but had given it away to a negro man.

After she had concluded her statement the woman was placed under arrest and sent to the house of detention.

The tragedy which resulted in Ayres' death was discovered first about 8:30 o'clock last Wednesday morning when his dead body was discovered in his room at the Kenmore, a small family hotel, situated not far from the Capitol.

The dead man's full name was James Seymour Ayres. He was between 20 and 21 years of age, and lived in Port Austin, Mich., before coming to Washington as a clerk in the census office. His father is a man of some standing in Republican state politics in Michigan.

An examination of Ayres' body showed that he had been shot three times, one ball entering the left leg, another the left arm and the third penetrating the heart and causing death. Suicide was the first theory advanced, but statements from two witnesses that on the night of the murder they had seen a woman descending the fire escape leading from in front of Ayres' room at the hotel, and disappear into the parlor of the house, ended this theory, and the killing quickly developed into a mysterious and sensational affair that baffled the police until yesterday.

The police were hampered in their efforts to find the party who did the killing from the fact that it was eight hours after the crime was committed before it was reported to them. The whole detective force was put to work on the case, and gradually facts were developed which pointed to Mrs. Bonine as a guest of the hotel with whom Ayres had been on very friendly terms, and with whom he had a falling out.

Whooping Cough.

A woman who has had experience with this disease tells how to prevent any dangerous consequences from it. She says: Our three children took whooping cough last summer, our baby boy being only three months old, and owing to our giving them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, they lost none of their plumpness and came out in much better health than other children whose parents did not use this remedy. Our oldest little girl would call lustily for cough syrup between whoops.—JESSIE PINKEY HALL, Springville, Ala. This Remedy is for sale by all druggists.

Kitchener Reports Progress

London, May 21.—Lord Kitchener reports that last week 19 Boers were killed, 14 were wounded, 238 were made prisoners and 71 surrendered, and that 212 rifles and 105,000 rounds of ammunition were captured.

A REMEDY FOR THE GRIPPE.

A remedy recommended for patients afflicted with the Grippe is KEMP'S BALSAM, which is especially adapted for the throat and lungs. Don't wait for the first symptoms of the disease! get a bottle today and keep it for use the moment it is needed. If neglected the grippe has a tendency to bring on pneumonia. KEMP'S BALSAM prevents this by keeping the cough loose, lungs free from inflammation. All druggists sell KEMP'S BALSAM at 25c. and 50c.

LACKS SIGNATURES

Curtailment Agreement Looked Upon With Disfavor at Fall River

Fall River, May 21—Eleven corporations of the 29 members of the Manufacturers' association openly oppose the curtailment and propose to continue to operate their mills independently of the new agreement. All mills outside of the association, including corporations manufacturing the finer makes of cloth, will not comply with its terms. More than half the spindles represented in the first agreement are indifferent as to its success. The mills controlled by 11 corporations prefer to run their mills in full for an indefinite period because of contracts for goods which will keep their machinery engaged.

No mill treasurer has yet signed his name to the agreement. The list will be held open until the end of the week. It now appears as if mill treasurers believing in curtailment would be forced into an individual curtailment.

Gomez' Leadership Threatened

Havana, May 21.—The Conservatives now claim only a majority of four in the Cuban constitutional convention. When the convention met yesterday it was found that four of the Conservatives were absent, and the disposition to push things changed to a movement to block the Radicals from coming to a final vote. The Radicals were also weakened by one absentee and a split within their ranks which threatens the leadership of Juan Gomez, who has posed as an uncompromising Radical, opposing any intervention by the United States and publicly declaring that he would die of grief if the Platt amendment were accepted. Now, however, men who once followed him repudiate him, asserting that he has accepted a part of the Platt amendment in his minority report, and declaring that they will draw up a report of their own, which will have the proper Radical ring.

"Mrs. Stanley" In Custody

New York, May 21.—Interest in the tragic death of Father Phillips was made more acute yesterday by the bringing to a police station of a woman who answered the description of the woman whom the police have been looking for and who has been referred to as "Dr. Stanley's wife." She was closeted with Captain Donahue for over four hours. The police took extraordinary means to keep the identity of the woman a secret. Assistant District Attorney Garvin was finally sent for, and talked with the mysterious woman for an hour and a half. When he had finished he said that the woman was the one Stanley had introduced as his wife, and that she might be presented as a witness in the case, but that he would not say so positively.

Noted Politician Dead

New York, May 21.—Patrick J. Gleason, former mayor of Long Island City, died at his home in that place last night, aged about 70. Gleason came to this country when a boy. He became a saloon keeper. After being defeated for the assembly, he went west to San Francisco, and accumulated about $50,000, settling on his return at Long Island City, where he secured a contract to build the first railroad. Gleason continued to extend his railroad until finally he owned several lines in the city. After being an alderman, Gleason became mayor of Long Island City, holding this latter office from 1887 to 1893. Gleason became mayor again in 1896, but went out of office when Greater New York was incorporated.

Capitalist Arrested

Kansas City, May 21.—Frank Siegel, late president of the Siegel-Sanders Livestock company, was arrested yesterday, charged with embezzling $5000. He was released on $2000 bond. Frank Rockefeller, who owns a controlling interest in the stock of the company, last week filed a suit in the circuit court here which resulted in the appointment of a receiver. In his petition Mr. Rockefeller alleged that the company had suffered a loss of $100,000 as the result of Seigle's mismanagement of the company's affairs.

Strong Again.

The woman who knows the full value of health is the woman who has lost it and regained it; the woman who from being weak and sickly is once again made a strong woman. Half a million weak and sickly women have been made strong and well by the aid of Dr. Pierce and his "Favorite Prescription." It cures the ills which weaken women. It regulates the periods, dries enfeebling drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It nourishes the nerves and so cures nervousness. It promotes a healthy appetite and induces refreshing sleep.

"I had female trouble for eight years," writes Mrs. L. J. Dennis, of 828 East College Street, Jacksonville, Ills. "Words cannot express what I suffered. I sought relief among the medical profession and found none. Friends urged me to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. When I commenced taking this medicine I weighed ninety-five pounds. Now I weigh one hundred and fifty-six pounds—more than I ever weighed before. I was so bad I would lie from day to day and long for death to come and relieve my suffering. I had internal inflammation, a disagreeable drain, bearing-down pain, and such distress every month, but now I never have a pain—do all my own work and am a strong and healthy woman."

Use Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets with "Favorite Prescription" if the bowels are inactive or irregular.

"NEW CENTURY CUP"

Proposed If America's Cup Is Not Open to All Challengers

Boston, May 21.—The Advertiser today prints an editorial advocating a "new century cup." It says: "If it proves that the America's cup is merely a trophy owned and controlled by a few individuals, and is no longer an international challenge cup, why would it not be advisable to begin this new century of yachting with a new series of international cup races. It look now as if the America's cup had ceased to have any honorable value as a trophy."

The proposal is for a "world's challenge cup," which, The Advertiser says, might be raced for in a regatta "not simply a duel between two yachts, but rather like the race at which the America's cup was originally won. The regatta might include not merely two, but probably 20 or 30 of the fastest yachts in the civilized world." The article adds, "and the best course for it would be off the north shore, the best yachting course in the world."

May Be Finished In Two Weeks

Boston, May 21.—The yacht Independence is taking her finishing touches. The interior requires some work yet. The color of the hull will probably remain a dull gray. It is expected that the yacht will be ready to sail in about two weeks.

Trial Trip Postponed

Bristol, R. I., May 21.—Because of the inclement weather, the trial of the Constitution was again postponed yesterday and the boat lay at her moorings all day. The work of finishing a few odd jobs on the boat continued all day.

Old Boat Beaten by a Minute

Ryde, May 21.—The two Shamrocks started yesterday for a race over an open sea course. The wind was steady from the east, and was blowing a club-topsail breeze. Shamrock II won by about one minute.

Almost Hurled Into Abyss

Paterson, N. J., May 21.—About 30 passengers on a trolley car had a narrow escape from death yesterday here Coming down a steep incline, overlooking the river, from a precipice over 40 feet high, the car left the track and made straight for the precipice. Fortunately, the jolt of the car on leaving the tracks threw the passengers into a heap in the front of the car, which weighted down the front truck so that the car came to a standstill on the brink of the cliff, part of the car projecting over the abyss.

Suicide by Asphyxiation

Providence, May 21.—John Rod, a Swedish grocer, committed suicide last night by inhaling illuminating gas. He was discovered in a small closet in his grocery store. He had placed a paper bag over his head and through a hole in this bag had inserted a gas pipe and turned on the gas after closing the closet door. Despondency is supposed to have been the cause of the deed.

Mrs. McKinley Steadily Improves

San Francisco, May 21.—Mrs. McKinley passed a very good day yesterday, and the president is very cheerful over her improved condition. Mrs. McKinley did not leave her bed, but she passed considerable time propped up, and she rested well. While no definite date has been set for the president's departure, the present arrangements are to go direct to Washington.

Callahan to Be Released

Omaha, May 21.—Attorneys for James Callahan, the alleged kidnapper of Edward Cudahy, appeared in the district court yesterday and moved for the discharge of the defendant, on the ground that he had already been put in jeopardy for the same offense. The court sustained the motion.

O'Brien Whipped Englishman

London, May 21.—Jack O'Brien of Philadelphia defeated George Crisp of Newcastle last night in 11 rounds. The Englishman was outclassed. The contest was for the heavyweight championship and a purse of $4100.

Sixty-Five Hundred Out

San Francisco, May 21.—The employes of the Union Iron Works yesterday afternoon joined the ranks of the strikers and it is now estimated that 6500 men have left their work benches.

NEWS IN BRIEF

The United States supreme court has decided that bottles and corks used in the manufacture of beer for export are subject to the imposition of a tariff.

The comptroller of the currency has declared a second dividend of 20 percent in favor of the creditors of the Globe National bank of Boston.

The German government has instructed the police that persons who have emigrated to the United States to avoid military service, and who have been naturalized there, will be permitted to visit Germany only temporarily, permanent stay being forbidden.

The Young Men's Democratic club of Massachusetts has voted to change the name of the organization to the Democratic club of Massachusetts, its object being the removal of the objection of the former name entertained by certain older members.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy, in said County of Norfolk, on the twelfth day of June, A. D. 1901, at nine o'clock in the forenoon to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.
And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once each week for three successive weeks in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing postpaid or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.
Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this sixth day of May, in the year one thousand nine hundred and one.

A CAMBRIDGE MYSTERY

Dynamite Played Havoc In a National Bank

CASH BOX ON A SHELF

Near Where the Explosion Occurred Thought to Have Been the Object Sought by Would-Be Robbers, but Their Plans Went Awry

Cambridge, Mass., May 22.—There was an explosion yesterday, followed by a shower of falling glass on the sidewalk in front of the four-story brick building at 593 and 595 Massachusetts avenue, occupied on the first floor by the Cambridgeport National bank, and above by different firms as small offices. At the same time there was a ripping and tearing of boards, the sound of falling plastering and immediately thereafter the bank room was filled with smoke and dust.

William J. Roof, the cashier, was talking with a customer at the time, directly in front of the spot where the explosion took place, and he was struck behind the ear with a piece of flying brick and injured, although not seriously. His assistant, Walter G. Davis, was a few feet to his left, but escaped uninjured.

As soon as the atmosphere cleared up somewhat, there began an investigation which led to the conclusion that an attempt had been made to rob the bank, and that a stick of dynamite or a time bomb had been used.

The banking room is separated from the other parts of the building, the latter being reached by a flight of stairs leading from 593 Massachusetts avenue. it was between the fifth and sixth steps of the stairway where the dynamite, if such it was, probably was placed. It blew out the partition, loosened the plastering for considerable distance on each side of the wall and from the ceiling over the stairway landing, from its fastening on the opposite side, and filled the lower hall with wreckage.

In the banking room, about a foot and a half below the spot where the dynamite was thought to have been placed, has been a shelf where a cash box, holding the money used in the day's business by the cashier, ordinarily is placed, and where it rested when the explosion occurred. This box is a small one, but it sometimes contains several thousand dollars, as it did yesterday morning. Therefore, it was thought by some of the bank officials that someone placed the dynamite under the stairway in the hopes that when the explosion occurred the money would be scattered into the hallway, and in the general disorder which followed it might be picked up and carried away in safety. As it happened, the money did not fly outside the banking room at all, which would have frustrated any attempts in that line.

Although the police feel confident that the bank was blown up by would-be robbers, they cannot feel that any sane person would explode the dynamite with the expectation of removing at the same time or immediately afterward the cash box, which rested just inside the burst partition, and which contained $15,000 in bank notes and coin.

The theory that the explosion was due to gas, which had formed underneath the stairway, is heard on the streets, but it is not held seriously by the police, who firmly believe the matter was a bold attempt at bank-breaking. Whatever clue as to the identity of the burglars the officers may be working for, they are keeping it a profound secret.

Brushes With Insurgents

Manila, May 22.—The insurgents yesterday made an unsuccessful attack upon the village of Nicarlan, in Laguna province. A private of the Eighth regiment was killed in the engagement. The official report of the recent engagement near Pasaco, in South Camarines province, says that three American soldiers were killed and one native scout was captured.

Improvement at Jacksonville

Jackson, Fla., May 22.—The situation in the city is quiet and men are beginning to assume their usual walks of life. One more military company left for home yesterday, and only the three Jacksonville companies and the crews of the two revenue cutters, the Forward and the Hamilton, remain here. Contributions are coming in slowly.

Mrs. Roosevelt an Attraction

Buffalo, May 22.—The formal opening of the Woman's building at the fair occurred yesterday. All day long the handsome structure was visited by a throng of visitors. The opening was signalized by a public reception to Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt. There were no special invitations, but the public was welcomed generally.

Admiral Visits Sick Son

New York, May 22.—Admiral Schley arrived here yesterday and visited the hospital where his son is being treated and remained with him two hours. When he came away he said he thought his visit had done Dr. Schley much good.

PORTO RICAN LETHARGY

Might Be Dispelled by Fresh Blood and Anglo-Saxon Energy

Washington, May 22.—Governor Allen of Porto Rico has presented to the president, through the state department, his first annual report. The governor expresses the opinion that a scheme of colonial administration, such as is followed in the Danish, French and English West Indies, might be safely initiated, with variations dependent upon the future policy of the home government.

The governor refers to the many suggestions offered that the form of territorial government adopted in the United States be applied to Porto Rico, but points out that a standard form of such government, while useful in the United States, would not apply successfully to this island possession.

The governor speaks plainly in presenting the reason why this island has been at a practical standstill for nearly four centuries, and says that in a climate where a man can lie in a hammock, pick a banana with one hand and dig a sweet potato with one foot, the incentive to idleness is easy to yield to, and brings its inevitable consequences.

In conclusion, Governor Allen urges the introduction of fresh blood and Anglo-Saxon push and energy as the means of lifting the little island out of its lethargy, and by thrift and industry develop its riches to their fullest measure.

Shows Wonderful Improvement

San Francisco, May 22.—The convalescence of Mrs. McKinley is very rapid and she is fast regaining her normal strength. She was able to sit up yesterday, and read the papers. So marked is her improvement that it is very probable the presidential party will start for Washington next Saturday. If no untoward developments should occur it is thought Mrs. McKinley will be able to endure the journey by that time. President McKinley yesterday reviewed nearly 50,000 school children of this city. Each little girl wore white, and most of them had red sashes. The president and party later visited the presidio.

A Well-Merited Sentence

New York, May 22.—Giovanno Buttacavolla was placed on trial at White Plains yesterday for having murdered a baby, of which he is the reputed father, at Hastings, several weeks ago. The mother of the child placed all the blame on her uncle, the prisoner, who, she said, was the father of the child found the prisoner guilty, and the judge sentenced him to nine years and ten months in the state prison.

Precipitated Into Basement

Chicago, May 22.—One man was killed, one fatally injured and six others injured by the falling of a part of the sidewalk in front of Central Music Hall, which is being demolished to make way for an addition to a department store. The sidewalk was over a basement, and was supported by props. A large number of men were standing on the walk when the supports of a portion of the walk gave way. About 25 were precipitated into the basement.

Forgery Case at Manila

Manila, May 22.—E. G. Lawrence, formerly a private, and afterwards employed as a civilian clerk in the adjutant general's office at Manila, is accused of forging the signature of Captain Slavens, the insular disbursing officer, to certain checks. Two of these checks, for $200 each, have been cashed at San Francisco. Another, negotiated at St. Louis, has been returned to Manila and pronounced spurious by Captain Slavens.

In and Out Again

Washington, May 22.—Colonel T. F. Barr, lately stationed at Chicago, was yesterday appointed judge advocate general of the army, with the rank of brigadier general, vice General G. N. Lieber, retired. Colonel Barr will be retired on his own application within the ensuing 24 hours, to make way for Colonel J. W. Clous, who likewise will retire at once to be succeeded for the ensuing four years by Colonel G. B. Davis.

Gleason's Wake

New York, May 22.—The body of former Mayor Gleason of Long Island City has been embalmed and in its casket is laid on the ground floor of the building which was fitted up by him as a room for the Battle-Ax association. Many old-time friends of the deceased gathered in the room and cried like children. A wake over the remains was held last evening, and will continue tonight.

Their Habits Too Filthy

New York, May 22.—The 50 Servian gypsies who were detained on Ellis island as likely to become public charges sailed yesterday for Bremen on the steamship Lahn. In spite of the fact that the gypsies had about $5000, and were bound for Canada, the immigration officials decided that they could not land. One of the objections to admitting them was their filthiness.

No Loss of Time

I have sold Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea, Remedy for years, and would rather be out of coffee and sugar than it. I sold five bottles of it yesterday to threshers that could go no farther, and they are at work again this morning.—H. R. PHELPS, Plymouth, Oklahoma. As will be seen by the above the threshers were able to keep on with their work without losing a single day's time. You should keep a bottle of this Remedy in your home. For sale by all druggists.

EXPERTS ARE PLEASED

At Constitution's Showing on Her Trial Trip

UP TO THE TOP NOTCH

In Experiments at Every Point of Sailing—Steers Easy and Is Well Balanced and Well Rigged, but Her Sails Need Improvement

Bristol, R. I., May 22.—The Belmont syndicate cup defender Constitution was put through her first paces and acquitted herself, as Mr. Duncan, her manager, said, most satisfactorily, in spins up and down Narragansett bay yesterday.

Starting out in the forenoon in a dying-out westerly breeze, she showed herself an excellent drifter, while in the afternoon a fine southwester sent her scudding about the bay in a lively fashion, with little fuss and scarcely any feathery foam from under her smooth bow or in her clean wake. Every point of sailing was tried. She was twice hauled flat on the wind, thrown about half a dozen times, given a good broad reach, and finally sent home before the wind with her boom off to port, and at no time did she act listless or show any lack of speed.

It was a builder's trial, to give her designer a chance to see that she was all that he meant her to be, and she equalled his expectations.

The yacht has not yet been turned over to her owners, as there is still some light work to be done on some of the rigging and inside, but it is probable that she will formally be placed in commission at Newport some time during the latter part of the week.

The thoroughly practical test to which the Constitution was subjected yesterday proved that the hand of Nat Herreshoff has by no means lost its cunning, so far as the requisite balancing of a racing machine is concerned. Never was there a craft that steered easier than this new creation of the Bristol naval architect. The steering quality of balance means everything to a racer. The Constitution possesses it in an ample degree. She is smaller than that of the Columbia, and the quartering wave was scarcely appreciable in the smooth water that prevailed. Those who remember the big fuss that the first Shamrock kicked up both at stem and stern whenever she got a move on, will be surprised when they see the remarkable contrast afforded by the Constitution.

Billman, the rigger, and Hathaway, the sailmaker, were represented aboard, and so far as the conditions of the trial warrant, they have done their duty well. Looking head-on, or stern-on, the Constitution looks like a square-rigger; her lower spreaders look like the topgallant yard. The telescopic topmast scrapes the sky at an altitude of 150 feet or thereabouts.

To sum up, the boat is well balanced and well rigged, but her sails need improvement. As to her speed, it is too early to draw any conclusion. That in looks she is the handsomest craft ever launched at Bristol, and a gem so far as workmanship goes, is the verdict of all yachting experts.

Old Boat Defeats Challenger

Ryde, May 22.—The trial of the Shamrock II and the Shamrock I yesterday was in many respects the most puzzling that has yet taken place. Instead of throwing additional light upon the abilities of the challenger, yesterday's race makes it more difficult than ever to estimate her speed. Officially, racing has not commenced, but the skippers were apparently having a trial between themselves, and snatching every advantage. When they finished at Nab lightship, the times were: Shamrock I, 2 h. 6m. 12s.; Shamrock II, 2h. 11m 19s.

Root Approves Dismissals

Washington, May 22.—Colonel Mills, superintendent of the military academy, left Washington yesterday, after a conference with the secretary of war, in order to be present at West Point today, when an order will be read dismissing five cadets from the academy and suspending six more on charges of mutiny and breach of discipline. There are a large number of other cadets upon whom will be inflicted minor punishments, such as extra duty, confinement to quarters, deprivation of holidays and reduction of class rank.

Fitz-Hugh Porter Dead

Morristown, N. J., May 22.—General Fitz John Porter, who has been ill for several weeks at his home here, died yesterday. He had been suffering from chronic diabetes, and his death had been expected for several days. He was nearly 80 years old.

Good Afternoon.

The War Department has decided to reduce the army in the Philippines to 40,000 men. All the volunteers will be on their way home before the end of June.

Quincy, Weymouth and Hingham promise no boundary towns in the Congressional deal — Quincy in the Tenth, Weymouth in the Twelfth and Hingham in the Fourteenth.

Perhaps the Legislature will reach prorogation before new Congressional districts are created, but then there is another year to do the work, and if the State is never reapportioned we will have a chance to elect one at large.

The fact that Mrs. McKinley is improving rapidly and that the Presidential party may start on Saturday of this week to return east directly, makes the prospects bright for a visit from the President in July. Considerable will depend on how Mrs. McKinley stands her journey home. It is unlikely that she will visit New England, but if her health is good the President will probably attend the Harvard commencement and may carry out his New England program.

Drift of Opinion.

☞ Much of the discussion concerning stock speculations indicates a belief that only the losers are the gamblers.—New Bedford Standard.

☞ Vacation schools are a perfect bugbear for the editor of the Brockton Enterprise who has just taken an excerpt from the New York World in relation to the movement in New York as the basis for a cry that "there can be too much education, particularly in summer." The Brockton principle that there can be too much educatin is likely to be rather seriously disputed on general principles, but aside from that the Enterprise apparently clings to the idea that there is no education save that between the two covers of books and that the vacation school is simply a continuation of the irksome routine of the ordinary school year. The desingation is certainly misleading and a better conception is to be had from the term summer playground, and while it may not be necessary in the towns, we doubt if there is a city in the state that has not a class of children within its limits who will be far better in health of body, mind anp soul by reason of their attendance at this playground if the opportunity is offered them. If the Enterprise man could visit the Haverhill grounds, his opinion might undergo a change. — Haverhill Gazette.

BELCHER HELD.

Judge Finds Probable Cause to Believe Him Guilty.

Mortgaged Property He Did Not Own.

In Default of $7,000 Bonds He Went to Jail.

There was a large attendance at the District court this morning. The case of interest was that of Charles A. Belcher, arraigned upon three complaints for the larceny of $5,400 from Mary A. Spaulding and Nancy T. Morrison.

Although but three complaints have been issued against Belcher, it is alleged that there are others that may be heard from later.

The first case heard this morning was that which charged him with the larceny of $2,000 from Mary A. Spaulding.

Lewis Bass, Jr., and Wallace Wilson represented the government and F. F. Haskill the defence.

The first witness was J. Franklin Bates who testified to acknowledging Belcher's signature to the deeds mentioned in the complaints.

Lawrence W. Spaulding testified that Belcher came to him and asked if he had any money to invest in a good mortgage. He replied that he had, and obtained $2,000 from his mother which he gave Belcher. He also loaned him $300 on a note and of this amount he had been paid back $400. No credit, however, had been made on the note.

On the second complaint, which was for the larceny of $1,200 from Nancy T. Morrison, Dr. T. H. Dearing testified that he owned the property at the time Belcher mortgaged it as his own, and that he still owned it.

The last case was that charging Belcher with the larceny of $1,000 from Mary G. Lambert.

William May testified that he owned the property at the time Belcher mortgaged it in his own name.

During the hearing, Perry Lawton, a civil engineer of Quincy, testified to plans made by him of the property in question, and Mr. Leonard an expert on titles testified to examining titles of property in question at Dedham and that they were none of them deeded to Belcher as claimed by him in the mortgages given.

The defense offered no testimony at this hearing which was mainly to see if there was evidence enough to hold Belcher for the grand jury.

The court found probable cause and held Belcher in $2,500 on the first complaint and $1,500 each on the others, a total of $7,000, for the grand jury, which comes on the first Monday in September. Belcher was unable to procure bail, and went to jail.

Married vs. Single.

On Memorial day two picked nines from the members of the North Quincy club will put up an exhibition of ball that will please the "fans" of Quincy.

Mr. Potter of Holmes street has been selected to pick out a nine of married men only, while Clarence Seamans will choose those members endowed with single blessedness to make up his team. The game will take place on some vacant lot on the Downs at 2 o'clock. It is said that circus lemonade and ambulances will hold forth during the game. The score? Well probably in the fifties. The odds are on the married men's team, out of sympathy.

Tax Sales.

Tax Collector Baker sold forty-three pieces of property at auction Tuesday, for their taxes. There were several well known tax title buyers present and quite a sharp competition to secure the property. To show how close was the bidding it is only necessary to add that one bid was 1-2000 of one per cent. The purchasers were Harlow H. Rogers, C. S. Drake, Willard Walsh, John H. Dinegan, Margaret and Maria Garrity, Virgil Fuller and Edward Billings.

Hot Day.

Not since Sept. 12 has Quincy had such a hot day as today, the noon temperature today being 85. We had it warmer before this in other years, however the temperature of May 15, 1900 having been 90; May 1, 1899 it was 88; May 20, 1898 it was 87; the highest to June 1 in 1897 was 83, and on May 10, 1896, it reached 93 at noon, and again on May 17 recorded 91.

A REPORT MADE

By the Committee on New Congressional Districts.

The special committee of the Legislature reported today the apportionment of the state into Congressional districts. The population of Massachusetts by the census of 1900 was 2,805,346, which makes the average per district for fourteen Congressmen 200,382. Seven of the proposed districts are over the average and seven less, ranging from 196,201 to 205,807 as follows:

District No. 1,	Western,	201,378
District No. 2,	Springfield,	199,888
District No. 3,	Worcester,	199,064
District No. 4,	Middlesex,	200,777
District No. 5,	Lowell,	200,576
District No. 6,	Essex,	200,266
District No. 7,	Lynn,	205,665
District No. 8,	Cambridge,	205,807
District No. 9,	Boston,	199,718
District No. 10,	Quincy,	199,222
District No. 11,	New Boston,	198,507
District No. 12,	Norfolk Co.,	202,114
District No. 13,	Fall River,	200,712
District No. 14,	Cape,	196,291

The Quincy district is the same as published in Tuesday's Ledger, except that all of Ward 12, Boston, is dropped.

The make up of the proposed district will be better understood from the summary below which gives localities, and also the vote for Governor in 1899 an off year:

	Crane, R.	Paine, D.
Ward 13, South Boston,	232	1,823
Ward 14, " "	449	1,768
Ward 15, " "	680	1,413
Ward 16, Uphams Corner,	1,188	1,206
Ward 17, Mt. Pleasant,	775	1,725
Ward 20, Mt. Bowdoin,	2,021	1,128
Ward 24, Dorchester,	1,724	1,051
City of Quincy,	1,628	948
Town of Milton,	612	232
	9,809	11,274

Democratic plurality in off year (1899.) 1,465.

The new 9th and 10th districts, on the basis of the congressional vote at the last election, gave Democratic pluralities, in round numbers, of 7300 and 5600, respectively. All of the other districts gave Republican pluralities, in round numbers, as follows: First, 5600; 2d, 6400; 3d, 76; 4th, 9000; 5th, 1100; 6th, 11,700; 7th, 9700; 8th, 8600; 11th, 2700; 12th, 8800; 13th, 7300; 14th, 11,400.

Secretary Surprised.

On Monday evening Mrs. Agnes Donald of Liberty street was agreeably surprised by the members of the amusement committee of the Loyal Ladies of Clan McGregor.

Mrs. Donald is secretary of the committee who looks after all affairs appertaining to the entertainments of the order. The work which devolves on the secretary is sometimes trying and burdensome, but Mrs. Donald has never flinched nor failed to accomplish to the full extent every detail and has thereby won for herself the confidence and esteem of her associates in the work.

As an expression of their appreciation for her ever ready and faithful service, the committee on Monday evening paid her an uninvited visit, for the double purpose of entertaining her in her own home for an evening, and also to present her with a lemonade set of beautifully floral designed glass. In accepting the gift Mrs. Donald very feelingly thanked her visitors, and lost no time in making such arrangements as the time an facilities would permit, to make her friends feel happy and at home.

There were also by pre-arrangement, a few neighbors invited to the enjoyments of the evening which was spent as only well met people can.

Much of the evening's amusement was due to the lyrical abilities of Mrs. Lizzie Pirre, Mrs. Maggie Hall, Mrs. E. Warmington and Mrs. Donald. The gentlemen who kindly assisted with song were Messrs. John C. Murray, Edward Warmington, James McLeod and George Donald.

Those of the committee present included Mrs. Lizzie Pirre, Mrs. Maggie Stronach, Mrs. Lizzie McIntosh, Mrs. Maggie Hall, Mrs. M. A. Smith and Mrs. Ross.

The neighbors who were called to enjoy with Mrs. Donald, were Mr. and Mrs. Howie, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Murray, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Warmington, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Kirkland, and Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Cowe.

Ice cream and other refreshments were served.

TODAY'S COURT.

Edward Lamon was fined $10 for assault on Hannah M. Cronin at Quincy.

William J. Howard was arraigned for the embezzlement of $50 from L. M. Pratt & Co., at Quincy. Case continued until June 6.

Whooping Cough.

A woman who has had experience with this disease tells how to prevent any dangerous consequences from it. She says: Our three children took whooping cough last summer, our baby boy being only three months old, and owing to our giving them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, they lost none of their plumpness and came out in much better health than other children whose parents did not use this remedy. Our oldest little girl would call lustily for cough syrup between whoops.—JESSIE PINKEY HALL, Springville, Ala. This Remedy is for sale by all druggists.

BOGEY NOT IN IT.

Fire Wins at Merrymount Golf Clubhouse.

The alarm from Box 63 at 8.30 this morning was for a fire in the stable owned by Horatio N. Holbrook of Squantum street, and temporarily used as a club house by the Merrymount Golf club. In the building were several sets of golf clubs belonging to members and a set of clubs owned by Willie Chisholm, the professional, who valued them at $1,000. There was also a chest of carpenters' tools, lawn mowers and bicycles, all of which were destroyed. The loss on the building is estimated at $500, and $3,000 on contents.

The cause of the fire is unknown as the entire lower floor was a blaze when discovered.

While turning the corner from Hancock street into Squantum street the Central station combination driven by Thomas F. Hogan was capsized, but fortunately was but little damaged.

Arrested as Deserter.

Joseph E. Quick was arrested by Officer Goodhue Tuesday night, on the charge of being a deserter from the United States Steamer Dixie. He admitted overstaying his shore leave at League Island Navy Yard, but claims to have followed the ship to New York and Tompkinsville. He has been 24 years in the service and claimed he is not intentionally a deserter. He was a member of the relief expedition sent to the Arctic to search for Capt. De Long and with other members of the crew, lived five months with the Esquimaux until rescued by the U. S. R. C. Corwin. He served during the war with Spain on the Newark.

Open Tournament.

The grand open handicap tournament of the Wollaston Golf club will be held June 6 and 7. The competition will begin on the morning of the 6th with an 18-hole round at medal play, in which prizes will be awarded to the makers of the best gross and net scores, and the first eight will qualify for match play for the club cup a consolation prize being offered for competition among the second eight. The first match play round for both prizes is set for the same afternoon and on the following day the semi-finals and finals for both trophies will occur, the finals being at 27 holes.

Not a Novelty Now.

This weather must be welcome to the man who has gone in swimming every day this winter from Neponset bridge. Many a time this winter the fanatic has broken the ice to have his plunge, and came out with his suit frozen about him. The man has established a reputation for himself through Atlantic and Neponset for his curious fancy but his individuality will no longer be of account as the popular swimming time for everybody has arrived.

Grammar League.

The Adams School has dropped out of the league. On Saturday Willard lasted one inning before Gridley Bryant. The Hancock Lincoln game was posponed from Saturday until Tuesday. The scores:

John Hancock 9; Lincoln 5.
Gridley Bryant 16; Willard 1.
Coddington 9; Adams 0.

The standing to date is as follows:

	Played.	Won.	Lost.	Per cent.
Gridley Bryant,	6	6	0	100
Coddington,	6	4	2	66
John Hancock,	6	4	2	66
Willard,	6	3	3	50
Lincoln,	6	1	5	16
Adams,	6	0	6	00

The next games will be played today.

A REMEDY FOR THE GRIPPE.

A remedy recommended for patients afflicted with the Grippe is KEMP'S BALSAM, which is especially adapted for the throat and lungs. Don't wait for the first symptoms of the disease! get a bottle today and keep it for use the moment it is needed. If neglected the grippe has a tendency to bring on pneumonia. KEMP'S BALSAM prevents this by keeping the cough loose, lungs free from inflammation. All druggists sell KEMP'S BALSAM at 25c. and 50c.

AN EASY VICTORY.

Adams Academy Scores 13 to 2 for Milton Academy.

The Adams academy nine went to Milton Tuesday and defeated the Milton Academy nine in a very interesting game.

Adams started the scoring on bases on balls given by the Milton pitcher, and in the first four innings made nine runs. Although the home nine made nearly twice as many hits as the visitors, the hits were not bunched, and the Adams nine fielded so well that only two runs were scored.

Hoxie pitched a good game throughout and was splendidly supported by Reardon. The fielding of the whole team was good. An examination of the full score will show this without any comment being made on the work of individual players.

For Milton, Ware, Pierce and Kayser the pitcher, by costly errors and wild pitching, helped defeat their nine.

Hodges played the best game for his side, although Russell and Pope covered first and second bases well. Very little attempt was made by the Milton boys to steal bases after Reardon had thrown down to second once or twice, but the Adams boys stole second and even third repeatedly. Active base-running is doing much to help the nine to victory.

Below is the score in full:

POSSIBILITIES

Of Atlantic Considered by Monday Evening Club.

The Atlantic Monday Evening club held its meeting Monday evening at the Memorial church. Mr. W. H. Snow read a paper on the "Future Possibilities of Atlantic." Among other things he gave his reasons for thinking it would remain a residential district and commented upon the various improvements sure to come to render it among the most desirable. He explained the part that politics often took in deferring the use of appropriations designed for improvements and counselled the citizens of Atlantic to assert their right to all just apportionment. He outlined the future school buildings of Atlantic of a size to meet the demand and with all the modern improvements in construction as well as the school itself in methods of instruction. It was a most interesting paper and commended itself most heartily to the audience.

Dr. Willard of the Quincy Mansion school entertained the club delightfully with a partial description of his trip abroad last summer. He spoke of his ocean passage by way of the Azores with their charming tropical vegetation, of the glimpse of the African coast and the stop at Gibraltar. While there he had an opportunity to form a judgment of the characteristics of the Spanish in his attendance on a fair in which was included a bull fight. He remained in the amphitheatre but a short time, yet long enough to see a man and two horses gored to death amid the plaudits of the assembled crowd of spectators. The sight was too sickening and he withdrew with no high idea of the Spanish ideals. He expatiated on the historic claims of Rome to the attention of the traveller and recommended it as a city to visit over and over again. His description of the Colosseum by sunlight and moonlight was very vivid, and the romantic episodes in connection with his nocturnal visits exceedingly fascinating.

The audience were all too sorry when his address closed and hope he will come at another time and favor them with a continuation of the captivating details of his summer of 1900.

Mr. and Mrs. Briggs of Cambridge were present and sang for the club in their usual pleasing manner in solo and duet, touching sympathetic chords in the hearts of their hearers. The club always rejoices when their names are announced on the program.

Mrs. Briggs sang "The swallows" by Cowen, and one other solo; Mr. Briggs, "The Creole lover's song" by Dudley Buck, and one other solo; together Mr. and Mrs. Briggs sang "May song" and one other duet.

Miss Emma Curtin accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Briggs.

Miss Alice Coe favored the club and was enthusiastically applauded. She sang "Husheen," by Alicia Needham; "May day" by R. H. Walthew, and "Spring's awakening" by Dudley Buck. For encore she responded with "A true love song" by Adolf Frey.

Mrs. Charles L. Coe accompanied her.

Mrs. C. H. Farrington and Mr. Herbert S. Wood were the Literary committee, Mrs. Harry W. Read and Mr. James E. Curtin the Music committee, Mr. Edward Crocker, Miss Florence Gray and Mr. Charles L. Coe the Introduction committee. There were one hundred and seventy-five present notwithstanding the unfavorable weather.

Funeral of Mrs. Horton.

The funeral of Mrs. Fannie H., widow of Lloyd G. Horton, was held Tuesday afternoon from the First church. The services were quite largely attended and there was a profusion of beautiful flowers. The services were conducted by Rev. Ellery C. Butler the pastor. At the close of the services the casket containing the remains was placed on a bier and borne across the street to the old Hancock cemetery, the interment being in the family lot. At the grave the committal service of the Unitarian church was read by Rev. Mr. Butler.

☞ Biliousness is a condition characterized by a disturbance of the digestive organs. The stomach is debilitated, the liver torpid, the bowels constipated. There is a loathing of food, pains in the bowels, dizziness, coated tongue and vomiting, first of the undigested or partly digested food and then of bile. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets allay the disturbances of the stomach and create a healthy appetite. They also tone up the liver to a healthy action and regulate the bowels. Try them and you are certain to be much pleased with the result. For sale by all druggists.

The delegates from the Unitarian society to the anniversary meetings of the American Unitarian Association are: Rev. E. C. Butler, Mrs. E. C. Butler and Mr. George Dewson.

At the Grand Army Memorial service at the Universalist church Sunday evening, in addition to the features previously announced Comrade Bicknell, the blind musician of Weymouth, will sing two solos: "Soldiers' Dream" and "The Flag Song," both of which will be illustrated by tableaux.

S. S. Halifax in Commission.

The great industrial boom at Sydney, Cape Breton, opened the way for a direct steamship service from Boston and last season the Plant Line inaugurated it with the Steamship Florida, but the capacity of that ship proved inadequate and as a result the Yarmouth, a well known favorite with the traveller, both native Provincial and tourist, has been secured. The Yarmouth is a nominal freight carrier, but has wonderful capacity for storing away comfortably a large number of passengers, and this is what is needed on this route in the summer time. She has three times the stateroom capacity of the Florida and her free berth accommodations are models of neatness with plenty of light and fresh air. Another important improvement is the schedule. The sailing day this year will be Saturday at noon, arriving at Sydney, Tuesday, making direct connection both going and coming with the Steamship Bruce of the Newfoundland Railway Line. This is done for the better accommodation of the rapidly increasing sporting and tourist travel to Newfoundland as well as the natives of Newfoundland of which there are a large number in New England. The Steamship Halifax has just resumed her place on the line after being laid up several weeks for a thorough overhauling, and is now in the pink of condition for her summer's work. The New Olivette will be the third ship of the fleet. She will make her first trip from Boston, Thursday, May 30. She is now in the hands of the Newport News Ship Building Company being made ready for the summer service. This ship was always a great favorite with the tourist travel and in rebuilding her, many improvements have been made, manifested by experience.

All her staterooms are above the water line. The space below heretofore occupied by rooms is now given up to freight and equalizes her load, making her steadier. Her dining saloon is an attractive feature, fitted and furnished in elegant style and with windows giving an unobstructed sea view. With these three ships is promised better service than ever offered by the Plant Line, making trips every other day each way between Boston and Halifax or the Cape Breton territory including the Bras D'Or Lakes and two trips per week to Handesbury and Charlottetown.

A Big Shipment.

At this the dawn of the 20th Century, when the business enterprises are assuming such colossal proportions, it is not surprising to find that the shipments from these great industrial establishments increase proportionately. Perhaps the greatest single shipment on record was made over the Boston & Maine Railroad, on May 14, when a train of 58 cars, loaded with machinery from the Walter A. Wood, Mowing and Reaping, Machine Company, was shipped from Hoosick Falls to Chicago. The details of that shipment are as follows:

The route over the Boston and Maine Railroad from Hoosick Falls to Rotterdam, thence to Buffalo over the New York Central, and from Buffalo to Chicago over the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern. 58 cars of the last named road were used to contain the shipment, and were run solid to Chicago, being distributed from there as follows:—7 cars to Illinois; 4 to Missouri; 9 to Nebraska; 7 to Iowa; 8 to Minnesota; 9 to South Dakota; 1 to Wisconsin; 12 to Kansas; 1 to North Dakota. The run was wholly by daylight, and the train was decorated with flags and bunting as well as placards bearing the advertisement of the shipper. The train was given an enthusiastic send-off at Hoosick Falls. Stores were closed, factories ceased operations, and whistles, bells and cannon announced the departure of this great freight shipment. One of the Boston and Maine's most modern freight locomotives, No. 1155, was used in hauling the train, which left Hoosick Falls at 9.27 A. M., and arrived at Rotterdam at 1.20 P. M. The shipment consisted of 3,000 harvesting machines, which, if placed end to end, would extend over a distance of five miles. The total weight of the shipment was 1,675,400 pounds, and the freight charges amounted to $9,692.82, while the value of the machines is estimated at about $125,000. This train occupied about two days in crossing New York State, and at every place from starting point to destination there was great interest manifested.

WHAT STATES ARE DOING.

Splendid Exhibits and Buildings at the Pan-American.

The States of the Union generally show a deep interest in the Pan-American Exposition. Liberal appropriations have been made for exhibits. Several of the States have erected handsome buildings in the Court of State and Foreign Buildings.

New York's appropriation is $300,000. A magnificent permanent building has been erected, and an exhibit highly creditable to the Empire State is installed.

Illinois appropriated $75,000 for a building and exhibit.

Michigan's appropriation for a building and exhibit is $40,000.

Ohio's appropriation is $30,000. The State has erected a handsome building.

Missouri appropriated $50,000 for a building and exhibit.

Washington has appropriated $25,000 and has a building constructed of native timbers used as State Headquarters.

Wisconsin appropriated $25,000 for a building and exhibit.

The New England States joined together for the erection of a building and display of their resources and industries. Massachusetts appropriated $15,000, Rhode Island $30,000, and Connecticut, Maine, Vermont and New Hampshire have expended sums sufficient for suitable exhibits.

Georgia appropriated a sum sufficient to pay the expenses of a fine exhibit.

Idaho appropriated $15,000 for an exhibit.

Pennsylvania's appropriation for representation is $35,000.

Minnesota appropriated $20,000 for an exhibit.

New Jersey's appropriation for representation is $25,000.

North Dakota expends its appropriation of $10,000 for an exhibit.

Oregon expends $25,000 for an exhibit.

Maryland appropriated $25,000 and appointed a commission to prepare an exhibit.

Delaware made an appropriation for an exhibit.

Washington, Montana, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas and other States are suitably represented.

In addition to the exhibits made under the auspices of the different State governments, there are numerous displays of the industrial and natural resources of the States by individual exhibitors.

MUSIC AT THE EXPOSITION.

Many of the Best Bands of the United States to Be Heard at Buffalo.

The musical features at the Pan-American Exposition will embrace the several classes of music. The most prominent will be the band music, furnished by some of the best known bands of the Western World. Wouldn't Swear to Confession

Washington, May 22.—A typewritten copy of her confession was taken to Mrs. Bonine yesterday for the purpose of having her swear to it, as she was not under oath when she made the statement Monday. Mrs. Bonine, after making the confession, had consulted a lawyer, and he had advised her to avoid anything in the nature of assisting the prosecution. When the confession was presented to her she positively refused to make the desired affidavit. The coroner's jury yesterday returned a verdict to the effect that Ayres was killed during a conflict between himself and Mrs. Bonine. Mrs. Bonine was held for the grand jury.

SIGNING THE SCHEDULE

Employers Acceding to Demands of Machinists

LATTER ARE ENCOURAGED

Greatest Battle Appears to Be on the Pacific Slope—Navy and War Departments Apprehensive as to Effects of Strike on Government Work

Washington, May 22.—The storm centers of the general strike of machinists throughout the country are in the vicinity of Cincinnati and on the Pacific coast. The number of firms that have signed agreements was augmented yesterday by about 20, which brings the aggregate to 1000 in round numbers during the past three or four days.

The striking machinists at Boston feel greatly encouraged by yesterday's developments. Three firms, including Fowler & Morrison of Cambridge, employing 150 men, conceded the strikers' demands during the day. If the demands contained in the resolution presented to the Boston Building Trades association are adhered to to the letter, it would be possible that 26,000 men employed in the allied trades could be called out in a sympathetic strike.

The machinists at the American Watch Tool company at Waltham, Mass., numbering about 200, went out on strike yesterday as the result of the refusal of the company to grant them a nine-hour day, without reduction in wages.

The strike situation at Cincinnati remains favorable to the strikers, six more firms having signed agreements with the union, and consequently about 100 more men will be back at work today. The drill hands and laborers and others in these shops, who struck with the machinists, will also return.

The only developments at San Francisco was the walking out of 150 moulders from the Fulton & Risdon works. This brings the total up to nearly 7000 men.

Because 700 machinists employed at the Brooks Locomotive works at Dunkirk, N. Y., struck for a nine-hour day and 12½ percent increase in pay, President Stevens directed Superintendent McNaughton to issue an order closing the works until further notice. This throws 2600 men out of work.

The number of men on strike in Philadelphia is about 1800. There is little change in the situation in Camden, N. J. President Morse of the New York Shipbuilding company, after a conference with a committee of strikers, declined to accede to their demands. It is estimated that 2000 men are on strike in Camden.

A telegram was received from Wilmington, Del., announcing that 364 men are out there, and that three firms yesterday signed the agreement.

Seven factories at Toledo which had previously held out against the union's demands, yesterday conceded all that was asked.

Both the navy and war departments are apprehensive as to the effects of the machinists' strike on government work now in progress. The navy department received word that the strike had spread to large private yards on the Pacific coast, where a number of war vessels are under construction, and it is expected that eastern yards having naval ships to build also will be affected.

The war department was informed that the strike was likely to stop work on the two transports Egbert and Rosecrans, now repairing on the Pacific coast. Secretary Root asked the navy department to assist in forwarding the work, pending the tie-up, and Acting Secretary Hackett of the navy ordered that the two army transports be taken to the navy yard at Brenmerton, on Puget sound, for the completion of their repairs.

None of the government yards can be affected by the strike, as an eight-hour day prevails in all government work. Word has reached the department that government employes are contributing funds in support of the strike movement, but no attention will be paid to this matter.

The strike in Connecticut remains in statu quo. There have been scattered additions to the ranks of the strikers in different places, and individual concerns about the state have made concessions but as yet no general movement even of local importance is apparent. The total number of men out remains about 4500, including those locked out.

The Machinery Manufacturers' association was organized at Louisville to fight the striking machinists, who say the strikers can come back to work without an advance in wages, but that no conference will be held with them as members of the union. The employer are securing machinists from other cities.

Wouldn't Endorse Transvaal

Brussels, May 22.—The senate yesterday, by 37 to 22 votes, rejected a resolution declaring in favor of the Transvaal and regretting that Belgium was powerless to do anything in the matter. The foreign minister, during the debate, said that Great Britain had carried civilization to all the quarters of the globe, and to all the countries of the world, and had everywhere defended liberty of the person and of conscience.

Had Remarkable Notions

New York, May 22.—Mrs. Hester Thorpe, widow of Frederick Thorpe, died yesterday at her home in Flushing, aged 72 years. Mrs. Thorpe had not been outside of her house for 50 years. She never saw the steam or trolley cars in Flushing. She was very suspicious of everybody, and would not face people, but conversed with relatives with her back turned.

ROBBED THE MAILS

The Charge Against Postmistress Leach of Carthage, Me

Carthage, Me., May 22.—Mrs. Irene Leach, the postmistress here, was arrested yesterday, charged with abstracting money from letters received at her office. The office will be abolished, and the mail will go to Berry Mills.

Portland, Me., May 22.—The arrest of Mrs. Leach was brought about by Postoffice Inspector Entemann of Boston. The postoffice officials had received complaints from residents in the vicinity of Carthage that letters containing money, which had been sent to them, several times had not reached their destination. Inspector Entemann was detailed on the case, and several days ago he was satisfied that everything was not all right at the Carthage office.

He then sent a decoy letter containing a marked $1 bill, and a marked silver half dollar. Several hours after the letter had arrived at the Carthage office the inspector called upon the postmistress, presented his credentials as a representative of the postoffice department and asked permission to examine the contents of the office. Permission was granted, and in the office drawer he found the marked half dollar. A further search revealed the marked dollar bill in Mrs. Leach's private wallet.

The inspector then told the woman what his mission was, placed her under restraint and ordered the Carthage office closed, and the mails taken to Berry Hills. He then returned to this city, swore out a warrant for Mrs. Leach's arrest, and Deputy Hasty was sent to Carthage for the prisoner.

Vassar's Field Day

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., May 22.—A portion of the program of the field day at Vassar college was given yesterday. No men were admitted to witness the games, except the faculty. The girls wore blue blouses and bloomers and black stockings. In the standing broad jump Miss D. E. Merrill broke the college record by scoring 7 feet 4 inches, and Julia B. Lockwood did the same thing with the baseball record, throwing the ball 173 feet 6 inches. Miss Lockwood already holds the 120-yard hurdle and lawn tennis championship of the college.

Death From "Want of Faith"

New York, May 22.—J. L. Pierson was convicted at White Plains yesterday of having failed to secure medical attendance for his 16-months-old child, which died from catarrhal pneumonia. Pierson was indicted for wilfully, maliciously and unlawfully omitting to perform the duty imposed upon him by law of furnishing medical attendance to the child. Pierson said that he belonged to the Christian Catholic church of Chicago and that the sect of which he was a member did not believe in the efficiency of medicine. He attributed the death of the child to a want of faith on his own part.

NOT HEREDITARY

In the main, consumption is not hereditary; it is infectious. People are too afraid of heredity; better not think of the subject at all. Infection occurs continually.

Low vital force is hereditary; which gives consumption its chance. And infection plants it.

Between the two, the crop is a big one: about one-sixth of the human race, so far as is known.

We suppose it needn't be 5 per cent, if people would take fair care and Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil.

The care saves life in all ways; the emulsion is specially aimed at the lungs, beside its general food-effect.

We'll send you a little to try, if you like.

DEATH OF BOUTELLE

Popular Maine Politician Passes Away In an Asylum

Boston, May 22.—Former Congressman Charles A. Boutelle of Maine, who for a long time has been an inmate of the McLean hospital at Waverley, died yesterday afternoon. He had been failing rapidly in the last seven weeks.

Mr. Boutelle was born at Damariscotta, Me., Feb. 9, 1839. His father was a ship master and a man of considerable means. Charles followed the business of his father. On his return from a voyage in 1862 he volunteered to serve in the United States navy, and was appointed acting master in the service. He served with great distinction, and he was honorably discharged from the navy at his own request in January, 1866. He became managing editor of the Bangor Whig and Courier in 1870 and proprietor in 1874, and first entered congress in 1880, serving continually until incapacitated. Mr. Boutelle was a power in politics in eastern Maine. He was best known to the country as chairman of the committee on naval affairs.

Mr. Boutelle was taken ill during the session of congress last year, and was obliged to leave Washington, and was later taken to the asylum where he died.

Notwithstanding the fact that he was unable to occupy his seat, he was again re-elected to congress when his term expired. But he was never able to resume his work in the national legislature, and later he resigned, and last fall was placed upon the retired list of the navy with the rank of captain.

The Allen Inquest

Monson, Me., May 22.—After being in session for nearly six hours yesterday the jury impanelled by Coroner Martin to inquire into the mystery surrounding the tragic death of Selectman Allen and his wife and daughter, who were slaughtered and their bodies burned in their home in Shirley last week, adjourned until today, without having completed the examination of witnesses. Although 12 witnesses were heard nothing of a sensational character developed and there was very little brought out beyond what already has been published in connection with the affair.

Blood Held For Trial

Brockton, Mass., May 22.—Herbert E. Blood, who indulged in such wholesale shooting in Bridgewater, was arraigned in the police court here yesterday on a charge of assault on Miss Fawn Davis. He pleaded not guilty, and the case was continued until Friday. Bail was fixed at $5000. Late in the afternoon he had become so weak through loss of blood consequent upon his self-inflicted wound that he was taken to the Brockton hospital, where he will be guarded. Miss Davis is reported as being very comfortable.

Still Demand Apology

Gloucester, Mass., May 22.—In the common council meeting last night Councilman Somers moved a reconsideration of the vote by which the council at its previous meeting adopted a resolution demanding that Senator Gardner apologize for certain remarks alleged to have been uttered by him, calling the city government "looters." Reconsideration was refused, and the aldermen adopted the same resolution last night.

Unconscious Since Sunday

Newton, Mass., May 22.—The Newton hospital staff are interested in a patient there who appears to have been drugged. He gave the name of Daniel Cronin, 26 years old. He was picked up at a station of the Boston and Albany railroad Sunday night, and he could not tell how he came there. He was sent to the hospital and has not recovered his senses.

Pythians Gather at Worcester

Worcester, Mass., May 22.—All day the streets of this city were gay with the uniforms of the Knights of Pythias, the occasion of the annual field day of the Massachusetts division. The weather was ideal, and about 1000 men marched in line. There was bunting and flags on every side, for the decorating had been done liberally.

Fall Killed Him

Cambridge, Mass., May 22.—Harold A. Rich, the Harvard sophomore, who fell five stories from his room in Weld Hall late Monday afternoon, died at the Cambridge hospital yesterday. His father, who is a Unitarian minister in Dighton, was summoned immediately, and was at his son's bedside when he died.

Mausoleum to Cost $25,000

Barre, Vt., May 22.—The mausoleum in which is to be placed the body of the late Vice President Hobart, at Paterson, N. J., is to be made here. Its size will be 40 by 22 in floor space, and 18 feet in height. The contract price is understood to be about $25,000.

Easy For Stinson

Cambridge, Mass., May 22.—Stinson won easily in a 25-mile motor-paced race with McEachern and Pierce at the Charles River park last night. His time was 41:22 3-5. McEachern finished in 43:01 1-5, and Pierce in 43:47 1-5.

Walked About With Cracked Skull

New York, May 22.—Adolph Johnson died in a hospital yesterday and Michael Thorpe, a liquor dealer, was arrested, charged with giving Johnson the blow that caused his death. Johnson, on March 18 last, entered Thorpe's saloon and a discussion arose. In the scuffle Thorpe, it is said, knocked Johnson down with a bung starter. Johnson for two weeks afterwards went about his usual duties without feeling any ill-effects from the blow. Then he began to have severe pains in the back part of his head, and upon being examined at a hospital it was found that he was suffering from a fractured skull.

Crowley Gets Four Years

San Juan, P. R., May 22.—Harold Crowley of Lockport, N. Y., son of ex-Congressman Crowley, convicted on a charge of misappropriating postal funds, was sentenced yesterday to four years at hard labor.

SHMROCK I' A WRECK

Everything Above Deck Collapsed In a Breeze

LIPTON STRUCK BY A ROPE

King Edward and Other Guests Had a Narrow Escape—Sir Thomas Anxious to Race If Sufficient Time Is Allowed For Repairs

Southampton May 23.—The most dramatic incident in the history of the America's cup occurred yesterday, when a sudden squall on the Solent completely wrecked the new challenger, Shamrock II, endangering the life of King Edward and several distinguished persons, including Sir Thomas Lipton. The result of this disaster, which could scarcely recur without great loss of life, can best be judged by the written statement given last last night by Sir Thomas Lipton to a representative of the Associated Press:

"My deepest regret is that today's accident prevents me from toeing the mark at the appointed hour, and compels me to ask the New York Yacht club to grant me an extension of time. If they will be good enough to do that, I shall race, even if I have to build a boat between now and the date agreed upon. I still believe the Shamrock II a boat worthy to be the challenger, and that, when this unfortunate chapter of accidents comes to an end, she will stand a good chance of lifting the cup. I have not a single complaint to make against my boat.

"For the many telegrams of sympathy received from America today, I am deeply grateful. No one is more thankful than I am that the catastrophe ended without fatality, and I may perhaps say that throughout the trying moments his majesty was as brave as a lion. His first thought was to inquire if any one was injured."

Circumstances have reduced the Shamrock II to a pitiful, sparless wreck. The story of the catastrophe is best told by Sir Thomas Lipton himself. After seeing his royal guests off to London, Sir Thomas gave the following interview:

"We had just begun to make for the starting line when a fierce breeze sprang up. King Edward, Lady Londonderry, Mrs. Jameson, Mr. Watson, Mr. Jameson and myself were on deck, hanging on as best we might, for the challenger was almost at an angle of 45 degrees. The king started to go below; just as he did so everything collapsed. A heavy block fell between the two ladies, and a wire rope struck me on the head. The blow momentarily stunned me. A sudden squall, an unexpected strain and everything had given way. King Edward was half in and half out of the companion hatchway. What happened, how all the falling spars and sweeping sails did not kill or sweep someone overboard, is more than I know. When I came to, I saw the king clambering over the wreckage, trying to discover the extent of the damage, and asking: 'Is anyone hurt?'"

It is further learned that Sir Thomas' first utterance, on coming to, was this ardent adjuration to Mr. Watson: "Telegraph for more spars. We have got to sail on Aug. 20, and his boat has got to do it."

When the participators in the mishap had been safely transferred to the Erin, the king's first remark was: "When shall we sail again, Lipton?" Before the king started for London, his last words to Sir Thomas were: "When you next sail, I am going with you."

Mr. Watson and Mr. Jameson, especially the former, are very downcast, and absolutely refuse to say anything. Mr. Watson, indeed, is so chagrined that he could scarcely talk to even his most intimate friends, and until after dinner on board the Erin, Sir Thomas believed it would be impossible to contest for the cup this year. But it was finally decided to go ahead.

The question whether the New York Yacht club should be asked to permit the substitution of the Shamrock I for the Shamrock II was quickly relegated, because, in spite of everything that has happened, it was maintained that the new boat was well worth the trouble she had caused. It may be stated that the challenger's true merits have not been displayed with too much vigor, and that there is more in her, according to the views of those most interested, than meets the eye.

Sir Thomas calculates that a delay of three weeks or a month in the date of the contest in American waters will enable him to come to the scratch. He says that he is greatly handicapped by the fact that he has no duplicate masts for the Shamrock II, but he believes the defects can be remedied in time to provide for an international race this year.

A Chance For Independence

New York, May 23.—There were a large number of the members of the New York Yacht club at the clubhouse last night, and the concensus of opinion was that Sir Thomas Lipton should be

A WAGE REDUCTION

In Conjunction With Curtailment Proposed at Fall River

Fall River, Mass., May 23.—The indications are that the last of four propositions, looking towards the relief of local industrial conditions, will be generally signed, unless a change in the sentiment of manufacturers takes place during the present week. The proposition which is meeting with greatest favor, besides calling for a wage reduction of 11 1-9 percent, and a curtailment of production in mills manufacturing what is known to the trade as "regular" goods, contains a provision which limits the curtailment, not to any certain number of weeks or months, but until the amount of print cloth in the hands of the selling committee is reduced to 500,000 pieces. The agreement places the burden of shut-down upon mills making narrow goods, and under its terms these corporations will be permitted to carry out the movement as opportunity presents itself. The agreement also provides that mills which at present are under contract for goods not controlled by the selling committee, or that wish such contracts and are able to secure them, may continue running; also that mills partially equipped for producing fine goods may operate such portions of their plants if they so desire.

Anti-Administration Chairman

Boston, May 23.—Isaac P. Hutchinson was nominated by the committee of 25 of the Republican city committee for president of the city committee, yesterday. It was a rather unexpected solution of the contest which has been going on in the ranks of the Republican city committee for some time. Hutchinson's nomination is taken to mean a victory for the anti-administration members of the committee.

Good Time For Missionary Work

Andover, Mass., May 23.—Dr. W. S. Ament addressed the General Association of Congregational churches of Massachusetts last night on affairs in China. He said that the outlook is not as encouraging as one would like, but he declared that the opportunity for successful missionary work in the east was never before so good.

Nothing For Creditors

Boston, May 23.—James York, Jr., of Medford, operator in real estate, has filed a petition in bankruptcy. His schedules show total liabilities of $257,965, with absolutely no assets, the petitioner taking oath that he is without money with which to pay the court fees. Most of the debts were contracted on lumber accounts.

A Gift of Great Value

Providence, May 23.—The trustees of the John Carter Brown library, acting under the provisions of the will of the late John Nicholas Brown, have decided to present the library, with its $650,000 endowment, to Brown university. The university will then possess the finest collection of Americana in existence.

Insurance Company Must Settle

Providence, May 23.—A verdict amounting to $3896.66 on two policies was given to Mrs. Elizabeth Leonard against the State Mutual Life Insurance company yesterday. The defense of the company was that Mr. Leonard held back the material information that there was consumption in his family.

A Young Woman's Suicide

Lewiston, Me., May 23.—Mary Chevrzviewek, 18 years old, was seen sitting on the bank of the canal for some time last night. Finally she arose and removed her hat, cloak and shoes, and then jumped into the water. A rope was thrown to her, but she refused to take it, and she wa drowned.

Boys Found Dead Baby

Brunswick, Me., May 23.—A party of small boys, who were playing ball in an open lot near McKenn's woods yesterday, came upon a partly buried box, which they found to contain the body of an infant. The coroner deemed an inquest unnecessary, and ordered the body buried at the town farm.

Jumped In Front of Car

Pawtucket, R. I., May 23.—Alfred St. John, 14 years old, was playing on a bridge crossing the Blackstone river when he jumped backwards in front of an electric car, and his back and collar-bone were broken. He died 15 minutes later. No blame attaches to the motorman.

Exodus of Chinamen

Pawtucket, R. I., May 23.—As the result of a raid made on 16 Chinamen in Providence for not having certificates of residence dated prior to 1892, the Chinese residents of the Blackstone valley have taken fright, and about 25 left yesterday for other parts of the country.

No Progress In Allen Case

Monson, Me., May 23.—After hearing the testimony of two witnesses yesterday, the coroner's jury which is investigating the murder of W. K. Allen and his wife and daughter at Shirley, adjourned until next Monday without having decided upon a verdict.

☞ Biliousness is a condition characterized by a disturbance of the digestive organs. The stomach is debilitated, the liver torpid, the bowels constipated. There is a loathing of food, pains in the bowels, dizziness, coated tongue and vomiting, first of the undigested or partly digested food and then of bile. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets allay the disturbances of the stomach and create a healthy appetite. They also tone up the liver to a healthy action and regulate the bowels. HE FOILED THE POLICE

A Suspected Bank Dynamiter Takes His Own Life

FRED FOSTER USED A PISTOL

As He Was About to Be Formally Arrested—An Intention to Destroy a Worthless Check or Secure Bank's Money Are the Theories Advanced

Cambridge, Mass., May 23.—As a sequel to the explosion of dynamite in the Cambridgeport National bank on Tuesday, Fred C. Foster, who had been detained under suspicion of being the author of the explosion, shot himself at His home, 44 Cottage street, yesterday, with a pistol, and died within 20 minutes. His deed was occasioned by the fact that he had sent to the bank a check for $1100, which check he had no funds to cover. He leaves a widow and three children.

Suspicion was directed against Foster first when Theodore Raymond told the police that he had seen Foster on the stairway of the bank building shortly before the explosion occurred. In consequence of the statement of Raymond, and other suspicious circumstances, the police visited the home of Foster and asked him to accompany them to the police headquarters. The man went willingly enough, and for a time he was in consultation with Inspector Murray, Chief of Police Cloyes and Officer Cox.

The detained man was asked directly if he had anything to do with the blowing up of the Cambridgeport National bank, and he answered firmly that he was responsible in no way for the explosion. Further questioning on the part of the police revealed, among other things, that Foster, who was a carpenter, had been out of employment since January. He also admitted that he had been purchasing stock lately. He said that several weeks ago he purchased 100 shares of stock of the National Tire Inflater company, paying $1000. Recently he purchased 1100 additional shares, and as payment for this he drew a check for $1100 on the Cambridge National bank in favor of the inflator company. This check, it was learned at the bank, passed through the usual channels, and Tuesday morning it arrived in Cambridge, where it was declared worthless.

This check, however, was not the first signed by Foster, which the same bank had to regard as worthless. He admitted that several weeks ago he drew up a check for $450 on the Cambridgeport bank, which was also protested.

The fact of the protesting of the checks was told to Foster, and he agreed that the statements made by the bank officials in connection with them were probably true, but he again stoutly maintained that he had not blown up the bank. The police expressed a desire to have Foster's wife visit the police station, but Foster said he preferred to go home and see her. Accompanied by Inspector Murray and Officer Cox, he went to the Cottage street house. Cox remained outside on guard, and Murray and Foster stepped into the hallway, where they were met by Mrs. Foster.

The first thing that Foster did was to kiss his wife and ask her to take good care of the children. He also told her that the police could never prove that he was the man that had caused the bank to be blown up. Foster moved to the hall-tree and slipped on another coat. He then expressed a desire for a drink of water. He passed from the dining room, which leads from the hallway, with Murray about two yards behind him. The distance, however, was too great to allow Murray reaching Foster in time to prevent him from shooting himself with the revolver which he had suddenly taken from his coat pocket.

The bullet entered the middle of the breast and passed through one side of the heart. The man died a few minutes after he reached the Cambridge hospital. He made no statement after he had shot himself.

Although Foster had not been formally arrested, he probably would have been before the close of the day. Assuming that the man had placed the dynamite on the stairway of the bank building, the police are unable to say whether it was done with the intention of destroying the protested check for $1100 or with the expectation of being able to obtain money with which to meet the payment of the check. They are inclined to accept the former theory as the more plausible.

Mrs. Foster is under the care of physicians. Her husband's act has given her a severe nervous shock.

Foster, in addition to being treasurer of Harvard lodge, A. O. U. W., was also treasurer of Harvard Colony, Pilgrim Fathers. The officials of the latter organization are engaged upon an examination of their books, and it is reported that they have found a shortage of $300 in the treasurer's accounts.

Good Afternoon.

The business centre of the city has asked but little of the city government and received but little since Quincy became a city. Now that the business men ask for the widening of Cottage avenue as a benefit to the business of Hancock street the petition should receive prompt and serious attention of the City Council. There have been rumors that a business block was to be erected on the corner of Hancock street and Cottage avenue. If this should be done, the widening would never take place and the eyesore of two generations would be perpetuated for ages. The cost of widening should not exceed $5,000.

In a few years it will not be necessary to go to Rangely for a good catch of fish, if success attends the stocking of the Quincy reservoir. Some years ago there was a complaint that the water of this pond was fishy, but now that the city is supplied by the Metropolitan system, it is well to put the old reservoir to some use, and it was a happy idea of Councilman Elcock.

The Sultan has apologized to the European powers for interfering with their mails, but that will not prevent a repetition of the offence when it pleases the Sultan to do so.

President McKinley is doubtless perfectly willing to accept Mrs. McKinley's recovery as a miracle in answer to prayer, but he will not fail to give due credit to the physicians.

The sooner the machinists strike is settled, the better it will be for all concerned.

Drift of Opinion.

☞Mr. Schwab gave sound advice to the boys of a manual training school in recommending a good manual training, but he made a mistake in decrying the advantages of college education as compared with a manual one. It is true that all college students do not seize the opportunities of their training, but neither do all graduates of manual schools. The question of the permanent value of any kind of an education lies more with the student in the end than the system. It is the practice, natural, perhaps, of self-made men to depreciate collegiate advantages; but there is no gainsaying the old truism that knowledge is power, and that in these ages knowledge is the lever that moves the world. —Baltimore American.

☞The trolley has cut the cable, and hereafter cars in New York city will cease to be pulled by a steel rope. The cable system, begun in San Francisco, was an efficient and popular mode of traction until the trolley appeared, and from that day the underground cable was doomed. The balance sheet settled the business. It cost less to build and equip a trolley road; it required less power and could make higher speed. As soon as this was demonstrated, the cables were no good, and next Saturday night the last cable car will be hauled up Broadway in New York city. No more cable roads will be built, and those in use will gradually give way to the electric traction. Will some other power, a score of years hence, do for the trolley what the trolley has done for the cable? Stranger things have happened, but we are of opinion that the rapid transit o the future will be accomplished with the aid of some form of electrical energy. —Lynn Item.

250,000 PERCH.

Reservoir of the Old Water Supply Stocked Wednesday.

Officials from the Fish and Game Commission stocked the reservoir formerly used by the city of Quincy as a water supply, on Wednesday with 250,000 pike perch. Fishing in the reservoir will be prohibited for two years. At the end of a year it is said that they will weigh from a pound to a pound and a half and at the end of two years some of them will weigh as high as two pounds. At the end of two years some rare sport is assured as the pike perch is a very gamy fish.

The stocking of the reservoir is due to an order offered by Councilman Elcock, April 2, and adopted the same evening appointing a committee of three to confer with the Fish and Game Commission relative to stocking the reservoir. The order also provided that it should be closed for two years and after that open for two days a week. The order was further supported by petition largely signed.

New Director Elected.

At a meeting held at the National Granite bank this morning, City Solicitor Russell A. Sears was elected a director of the bank to fill a vacancy.

Mr. Sears was Mayor of Quincy in 1898, and is a rising young lawyer. He has been attorney for several of the Quincy granite firms and also the New England Telephone company, and is a popular member of the Granite City club.

Startling Story.

There was considerable excitement Wednesday over the mysterious disappearance of Lawrence Leavitt, the well known clam merchant. It was a little after 8 o'clock when Mrs. Leavitt rushed into the police station and told a story that made the police on duty open their ears. Briefly, her story was that Cyrus A. and Herbert Webber and Lawrence Leavitt had started out to secure a load of clams. The two Webbers came home covered with blood but did not know where Leavitt was. Their story was that they went to Neponset and got two cans of beer, probably to use as bait; that they started for home, and that they remained together until they reached a point near Beach and Hancock streets; that was the last seen of Leavitt. Inspector McKay went out to look for him. The whole of Norfolk Downs was searched, but no trace of the missing man was found. The police gave up their search at midnight intending to renew it this morning.

Along about 1 o'clock the missing man and his push cart loaded with clams passed the square on his way home. He could give but little account of himself, but it is probable that the combination of hot sun, beer, clams and salt water breezes overcome him, and he slept until he was revived by the midnight showers.

Concert at Colonial Hall

A pleasing concert was given at Colonial hall, Wednesday evening under the direction of Mrs. W. T. Bacbock, for the benefit of the rectory fund of Christ church, which was very largly attended.

Part one included a duet by C. Brooks Hersey and Miss Margaret E. Webster, solos by Miss Carrie F. Spear, Mrs. Sybil P. Tappenden, Master John Findlay, Miss Webster and Mr. Hersey, and a golf song by pupils of E. Landis Synder.

The concert concluded with a pleasing comedy entitled "Much coin, much care." In the cast were George W. Rice, Mrs. W. T. Babcock, Mrs. Herbert S. Hayford and Mrs. R. L. Tappenden.

As will be seen by the above the threshers were able to keep on with their work without losing a single day's time. You should keep a bottle of this Remedy in your home. For sale by all druggists.

HOUGHS NECK.

The season at Houghs Neck is well under way and a greater part of the cottages are already occupied. New families are arriving almost every day and by the time schools close there will not be a cottage to be had. Taking all in all, the season this year bids fair to be one of the best that the beach has ever had. The street cars are giving good service and by the first of next month there will be half hour service all day and a late car at night.

The people of Houghs Neck have got some of the things they want but not all. They would like to see a brass buttoned policeman on parade every night, and the owners of booths promise to keep him filled up with peanuts, ice cream and tonics. It would only be necessary for him to have a cast iron stomach to live like a lord.

Another thing they want is more street lights. As it is now when the shutters on the stores are put up at night, it is as dark as Egypt, and a stranger would need a native guide to pilot him home or to the road leading to Quincy.

Then they would like a broad tar concrete sidewalk along the "midway" but would be satisfied with a good gravel walk.

It must be admitted that all these things are necessary and they will come in time, and the residents only hope that time is not far off.

It looks now as though the bottom had dropped out of the scheme to run a line of steamers between Houghs Neck and Boston, for as far as seeing there have been no new developments during the past few weeks.

C. F. Greenquish, who has had considerable trouble by boys and others, knocking over walls and tearing down fences in the Baxter pasture, gives notice that he will prosecute all persons found trespassing on said pasture. Boys playing ball and others will please govern themselves accordingly.

—A little church in Reading, Penn., was entirely built by the pastor, who is 60 years old. He made the excavations, put in the foundations, erected the walls did the plastering, painting, tin work, etc., and paid out of his own pocket all the money for materials — about $1,000.

—It is said that the Bank of France has an invisible studio in a gallery behind the cashiers, so that at a given signal from one of them any suspected customer has his photograph taken without his knowledge.

Whooping Cough.

A woman who has had experience with this disease tells how to prevent any dangerous consequences from it. She says: Our three children took whooping cough last summer, our baby boy being only three months old, and owing to our giving them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, they lost none of their plumpness and came out in much better health than other children whose parents did not use this remedy. Our oldest little girl would call lustily for cough syrup between whoops.—JESSIE PINKEY HALL, Springville, Ala. This Remedy is for sale by all druggists.

A Legitimate Investment

Which Increased Over 700 per cent.

WITHIN SIX MONTHS.

The Arcola Oil Company's stock sold for $135 per 1,000 shares, and in six months $1,000 per 1,000 shares was refused for the stock, for the reason that the first well was a large producer and there is room for forty wells on the Company's land, which makes it about certain that the stock in the near future will be worth ten dollars per share.

We offer you the same opportunity for a large gain by investing in the Dirigo Oil Company's stock, the first block of which is being sold for $150 per 1,000 shares. The Company owns a block of land adjoining the Arcola Company's land which has large producing wells on all four sides. There is eighty acres of the Company's land in the center of the oil belt, which we feel absolutely certain will give a large producing well in each acre.

We now have machinery on the ground, and are ready to sink the first well, and expect to strike oil by June 1st, which will then make the stock worth par value, if the well is as good a producer as the Arcola.

The block of stock we are selling is about three-quarters sold and quick application will have to be made to secure any of it at the present price.

THE REBEKAHS.

Celebrate Their Sixth Anniversary at Wollaston.

The sixth anniversary of Carrie E. Ruggles Rebekah lodge of Wollaston was celebrated Monday night at I. O. O. F. hall, in the form of a reception and banquet in honor of Past Grand Master Henry Ruggles of Franklin, and was a decided success.

The hall was handsomely decorated with palms and plants from the hothouse of Brother Patterson, the upper end of the hall being transformed into a reception room where P. G. M. Ruggles and Mrs. Ruggles and the Noble Grand of the lodge, Mrs. Roselia L. Wardwell, and Vice Grand Miss Mary Linton, received the guests. Back of them was a solid mass of palms and plants, inter-mingled with colored lights, forming a handsome background to the scene. Hidden behind a bank of palms, Noyes orchestra of Wollaston discoursed their most pleasing music.

The doors between the banquet hall and main hall were open and the sight of the tables set with glittering silver and cut-glass and loaded with good things made a very pretty and tempting sight.

The entertainment consisted of selections by the orchestra; bass solo by Mr. Brown of East Milton, accompanied by Miss Allen; readings by Miss Nellie McCarthy of Quincy; and soprano solo by Miss Eva Smith of Wollaston Park.

It was Mr. Brown's first appearance in Wollaston and he made a most favorable impression, being heartily encored. Miss Smith also pleased her listeners with her rendering of "Never to meet again," and Miss McCarthy's readings were delivered with her usual style that served to strengthen the opinion of the audience that in Miss Carthy the committee had secured one who never fails to please those who hear her.

Past Grand Master Ruggles made a very interesing speech, as did Past President of the Rebekah State Assembly, Mrs. Clark, and S. D. G.M., Mrs. Cooper.

The guests were then escorted to the banquet room where a supper consisting of lobster, salmon, potato and cabbage salads, rolls, gelatine in orange baskets, orange float, cake, ice cream and coffee were served. During the supper the orchestra rendered several selections. After all were satisfied an informal and social good time was enjoyed.

Some of the dresses worn by the ladies were rich and attractive. A few are noted:

Noble Grand Mrs. Wardwell, Nile green cashmere with black velvet and lace trimmings.

Vice Grand Miss Linton, blue and white foulard silk with white lace.

Mrs. Lillian Bearce, silk challie with black trimmings.

Mrs. Frank Badger, light muslin.

Miss W. S. Sanford, black crepon.

Mrs. J. McLeod, light blue French organdie, white lace and black velvet trimming.

Mrs. John Thomas, black satin.

Mrs. Elizabeth Merrill, black and white muslin.

Mrs. H. Corbett, muslin over green with black trimmings.

Mrs. Edward Mitchell, black satin.

Mrs. Stebbins black cashmere and white.

Miss Carrie Saunders, light muslin.

The commitees in charge were:

Reception committee,— Mrs. Bearse, Mrs. Badger and Mrs. Sanford.

Supper,—Mrs. McLeod, Mrs. Elizabeth Merrill, Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. Stebbins, Mrs. Mitchell, Mrs. Corbett and Miss Saunders, Mr. Dunn and Mr. Bearce.

Entertainment committee,— Mrs. G. A. Wardwell, Miss Damon, Miss Currier.

During the evening a handsome bouquet of flowers was presented to Brother Ruggles.

Half Holiday.

A movement is on foot among the storekeepers to adopt the same closing idea as adopted by the stores of Wollaston, Atlantic and Neponset. The rule with these stores is to close on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday evenings at 8 o'clock, and to close from Wednesday noon until Thursday morning. This gives the proprietors and clerks a half holiday and evening every week.

A Card.

We, the undersigned, do hereby agree to refund the money on a 50 cent bottle of Greene's Warranted Syrup of Tar if it fails to cure your cough or cold. We also guarantee a 25-cent bottle to prove satisfactory or money refunded.

A REMEDY FOR THE GRIPPE.

A remedy recommended for patients afflicted with the Grippe is KEMP'S BALSAM, which is especially adapted for the throat and lungs. Don't wait for the first symptoms of the disease! get a bottle today and keep it for use the moment it is needed. If neglected the grippe has a tendency to bring on pneumonia. KEMP'S BALSAM prevents this by keeping the cough loose, lungs free from inflammation. All druggists sell KEMP'S BALSAM at 25c. and 50c.

NEW GOLF LINKS.

Numerous Hazards on the Meadow Golf Course.

The new Meadow Golf club of Wollaston has a course charmingly situated between Wollaston and Quincy in what has been known for years as "the meadow." Quincy's granite quarries can be seen in the distance, and along the banks of the brook old willow trees make a charming contrast.

The club is a small one and has a limit of seventy-five members, there being a few vacancies. The grounds are but a minute's walk from the electric cars and fifteen minutes' from the station at Wollaston.

The course has only six holes, and some of the members call it a "pocket course," yet the variety is great and the hazards numerous.

The first hole of 250 calls for a good drive, and a sliced ball is in danger of falling in the pond. The green is just over the brow of a hill and is guarded by a large gravel pit. The "colonel" goes down in 5.

No. 2 is a pretty hole of 100 yards, seventy-five of which is over the pit, while the green slopes away. Bogey is 3.

"Westward Ho" brings out some good golf, and the circular green built into the side of the hill can be reached in three good shots. The dwarf apple trees form the only hazard except the bank on the lower side of the green. Bogey 5.

The fourth tee is under a large elm, one of the landmarks of the "meadow." A picket fence causes a deal of trouble to the timid, but all is plain sailing afterwards, and the player ties bogey in 4.

The fifth tee is a new one built on the top of a hill. The player must be careful here, for a slice is stopped by the trees, and a hooked ball finds rest in a pond. A good drive must be followed by a lofted second over a hill to the green fifty yards beyond. The "colonel" finds it difficult always to make his accustomed 4.

The "Home" hole of 281 yards is frequently the cause of a poor score. A drive from the ridge over a row of trees may be found, if pulled in the pond. The green is still 100 yards away and is protected by a banking, but good playing ties bogey in 5.

The course has a fine turf, and the lies in the fair green are good. The putting greens have been improved and enlarged this season and will be ready for play in a few weeks. The following is a list of the holes.

	Yards.	Bogey.
No. 1—Pit,	250	5
No. 2—Meadow,	100	3

Adams Wins Again.

At the Dorchester Town Field Wednesday afternoon, the Adams Academy nine defeated the Dorchester High school in a very close and exciting game.

The score was tied in the fourth innings and remained four to four until the sixth, when the Academy boys secured a lead of two runs. In the seventh the Dorchester nine made three and the Quincy team made one, and the score was again tied, seven all. Dorchester made one run in the eighth and shut out the Academy. The ninth innings showed the superiority of the Academy nine, for they made two runs, and by careful and accurate fielding, under very trying conditions, prevented Dorchester boys from scoring. The final score was 9 to 8.

Doble pitched a very good game and he was well supported, though the slippery condition of the field made perfect fielding by either side impossible. As Boyd was unable to be present, Bennett played in his place at left field.

Below is the score by innings:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Adams Acad.,	3	0	1	0	0	2	1	0	2	9
Dorchester,	4	0	0	0	0	3	1	0	8

Drama and Dance.

"Triss," a four-act drama was given in Music Hall, Atlantic, last evening by Division 17, A. O. H., and was the most successful concert ever given. Every seat in the hall was sold and standing room was at a premium.

In the cast of characters were: Frank Maloney, Bartlett A. McLane, Ernest D. Burch, John F. McKenna, James P. Landers, Miss Mary R. Sullivan, Miss Clara Nelson, Miss Mary C. Ago. Miss Elizabeth F. V. Curley was accompanist.

The play was over at 10.30, when the floor was cleared, for dancing which and continued until 2 A. M. Robinson's orchestra furnished music.

Yesterdays Fire.

In the account of the fire at Mountclair published Wednespay it was stated that the central station combination had been capsized while turning the corner of Hancock and Squantum street. This was an error. The machine was not capsized but simply a cross bar broke as the corner was turned. The actual loss on contents was also placed too high as $300 should over it.

given anything he asked for in the way of time. One of the topics discussed was the action of the cup committee, which met yesterday afternoon. No official statement was to be had concerning this meeting, but from a member of the club it was learned that the Lawson controversy had been adjusted, and that the Independence will participate in the trial races on June 15 to 17 at Newport, and arrangements made for Mr Lawson's boat to participate in the other races. The cup committee, it was said realized that the contest was an international affair, and not confined to the New York Yacht club.

Bay State Legislature

Boston, May 23.—In the senate yesterday the senate judiciary committee unanimously reported "ought not to pass" on the Borofsky bill, passed by the house, to permit Sunday labor by persons observing Saturday as the Sabbath.

Cummings Pleads Not Guilty

Worcester, Mass., May 23.—John P. Cummings, charged with the murder of John F. Reynolds in Worcester, May 1, pleaded not guilty in the superior criminal court yesterday. The date of his trial was not fixed.

In Favor of Publishers

New York, May 22.—In the suit of Rudyard Kipling against George Putnam's Sons, for infringement of copyright on the Outward Bound edition of Kipling's works, Judge Lacombe, in the United States circuit court, took the case from the jury, directing a non-suit. This decides the suit in favor of the Putnams.

Socialists Ousted

Wilkesbarre, Pa., May 23.—The Lithuanian National Alliance of America, in session in this city yesterday, ousted the 12 Socialistic members from the convention. The debate was a prolonged and bitter one. The president of the convention, Rev. A. Millmos, was severely criticized by the Socialists.

His Services Come High

New York, May 22.—The Commercial Advertiser says that there is good authority for the statement that S. H. Callaway will receive a salary of $100,000 a year as president of the American Locomotive company, and that $500,000 of the company's stock was given to him as a bonus.

Crosby Champion Marksman

Springfield, Ills., May 23.—W. R. Crosby of O'Fallon won the championship shooting trophy and a purse of $1000 on the grounds of the Illinois Gun club yesterday, and established a new record. Crosby killed 100 live birds straight.

Will Nurse Plague Victims

New York, May 23.—Miss Katharine Carpenter and Miss Celia Harkness of Buffalo are among the passengers who sailed yesterday for Liverpool on the Oceanic. They are on their way to Cape Town to become plague nurses.

NEWS IN BRIEF

A passenger train collided with a freight train at Zoar, Mass., throwing the rear car of the freight from the track. No one was injured.

In the presence of several thousand persons, the corner stone of the new buildings of the Mount Sinai hospital at New York was laid by Isaac Wallach, president of the hospital.

The corner stone of the new Russian Orthodox church was laid at New York. The ceremonies were attended by many clergymen and by several officers of the Russian navy.

Game of Quincy about 1622.

The May issue of the National Sportsman has an illustrated paper of historical interest from the pen of James L. Edwards, Esq., of this city, entitled "Sport of the Massachusetts colonies." It quotes liberally from Thomas Morton, the master of Merry Mount of the fowl and fish of his time—the geese, ducks, teales, widdgers, snipe, sanderlings, cranes, turkeys, phesants, partridges, quails, wild cats, lobsters, clams and oysters, squirrels, whales, moose, wolves, foxes, beavers. There are also interesting extracts from laws of 1620 to 1650.

You Are Next.

A rare, beautiful and sparkling gem, surrounded by extensive and primeval forests, that's Rangeley; and as a fishing or health resort few places equal it. The group is made up of a chain of six lakes, and each abounds in the choicest species of salmon and trout. Fishing is a recreative sport which numbers its devotees by the tens of thousands, and why shouldn't it, for it takes one away from the turmoil and excitement of the city, and there is nothing to do but to enjoy the bright sunshine, and health giving air and the calm and quiet atmosphere that pervades the region. Everywhere about the Rangeleys are first class camps, cabins and hotels in which one may comfortably enjoy his spring visitation. And so accessible has the region become through the introduction of the "Iron Horse" that the sportsman leaving Boston on the night Pullman is landed at his rendezvous by noon of the following day. An interesting guide on fishing, entitled "Fishing and Hunting," is published by the Passenger Department of the Boston & Maine Railroad, Boston, and for a two-cent stamp you can get it, and if you are a fisherman, you need it.

Cheap Bicycles

Are like cheap furniture. It cost more to keep them in repair than the original cost of the bicycle.

When you ride a high grade bicycle you can feel sure that any part of your wheel will not break, and throw you and probably result in fatal injuries.

We make a specialty of High Grade Wheels and do not handle jobber's wheels which are listed high but are cheap constructed wheels.

We prefer selling high grade wheels cheap rather than cheap wheels.

MORE EMPLOYERS YIELD

Small Shops Granting Demands of Machinists

THE SITUATION AT 'FRISCO

May Lead to the Subletting of Warship Contracts—First Report of Only Actual Strike In Allied Trades Comes From New Haven

Washington, May 23.—The navy department has received notification from three contractors now building warships of the pendency of a strike, viz: Moran Bros. of Seattle, the Union Iron Works of San Francisco, and the Maryland Steel company of Sparrows' point, near Baltimore. The department will take no action until the strike is over, when a decision will be made as to how many days shall be allowed the contractors on account of the delay caused by the strike.

The striking machinists continue to make gains. The smaller concerns in Cincinnati and San Francisco have begun to yield, though the large concerns hold out in both cities. President Scott of the Union Iron Works, in the latter city, hints that he is considering subletting his warship contracts to firms on the Atlantic coast.

In New York city only 10 shops of consequence still refuse their employes' demands. Only about 1200 machinists remain out in New York and Brooklyn. The strike in other sections is in about the same situation as Tuesday. Connecticut, especially the Naugatuck valley, reports more men out, and no concessions by the employers. Providence employers also refuse to come to the men's terms. Important concessions have been made at Rochester, but the 700 strikers at the Dunkirk, N. Y., locomotive works are threatened with a lockout that will affect 1900 other employes.

Considered as a national strike, it is estimated that 40,000 men are out, and that 1000 firms have thus far signed the new scale. The strike centers now are Connecticut, Cincinnati, San Francisco, the district between New York city and Philadelphia, and at various points up New York state. San Francisco is the only point where the men expect a long strike.

Four more Boston shops, employing 166 men, have conceded the demands of the machinists, and the strikers are very confident that other employing concerns will rapidly fall into line.

The men thus far have been quiet and orderly. In no instance has any violence been attempted, and all negotiations are carried on amicably.

The only actual strike in the allied trades, which was threatened when the trouble with the machinists first began, is in a New Haven shop, where the drop forgers have followed the machinists out. A threat of action by the allied trades alarms Philadelphia, and especially the Cramps' shipbuilding yards. It is not expected, however, that any general strike of the allied trades will occur unless the present strike should be indefinitely protracted, which is not expected.

Firemen's Strike Threatened

Scranton, Pa., May 23.—Four firemen on the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad, who refused to draw fires from their engines yesterday, because it was the work of fire pullers and ash pit men, who are on strike, were discharged at once. Several other firemen quit work when the discharge of these men became known. It is reported that all the firemen along the line will go out if the order that they must draw the fires is to be enforced.

A Short Strike

Clinton, Mass., May 23.—The strike of the 300 employes of the Lancaster mills, which took place yesterday morning, was amicably settled in the afternoon, at a conference with Agent Richardson of the company, the demands of the strikers being granted. The strike resulted from a recent change made in the class of goods manufactured from the Cameron mill, by which the employes claimed they could not make as much money as before.

A Five-Year Agreement

Syracuse, N. Y., May 23.—The trouble between the Benedict Manufacturing company and workmen who were locked out three weeks ago was settled yesterday, the men to return to work Monday under a five-year agreement. The men agree to withdraw affiliation from all trades unions.

Paterson Strike Ended

Paterson, N. J., May 23.—The strike in the ribbon mill of A. & M. Levy was settled yesterday by a compromise. One thousand workmen, who have been out on strike, will return to work immediately. The strike lasted 14 weeks.

Cutter's Hull Ripped Open

Victoria, B. C., May 23.—The United States revenue cutter Grant, Captain Tenzier, ran ashore on an unchartered rock in Saanich inlet, yesterday. She struck well forward, and tore a bad hole in her hull. The crew gathered together what effects they could, and went ashore in the cutter's boats, arriving at Colebay. The Grant is in a bad position, but may be saved.

To Punch Up Turks

Valetta, Malta, May 23.—The British battleships Caesar and Empress of India, and the second-class cruiser Gladiator, have been ordered to Salonica. It is rumored here that the departure of the warships is in connection with the postal difficulties between the ambassadors of the powers and the government of Turkey.

SOUTHERN FLOODS

Loss of Life and Heavy Damage to Property In Many Sections

Knoxville, May 23.—Millions of dollars' damage has been done, and at least eight lives lost in upper East Tennessee by the floods, caused by the recent heavy rains. The rivers are out of bounds and growing crops have been swept away.

Richmond, May 23.—News reached here last night of disastrous floods all over the state. At Farmville there has been great loss to farmers. East and north-bound trains were delayed at Charlottesville, and the woollen mills are flooded to the second story. At Ranford the electric light plant is wrecked, and the rolling mills are under water. Heavy damage is reported at other points.

Asheville, N. C., May 23.—No trains have come in or left Asheville since Tuesday. The main line of the Southern railway is blocked, as a result of the recent rains. News from the mountain districts indicates heavy losses to farmers.

Dismissals and Discharges

West Point, N. Y., May 23.—Five cadets who were yesterday dismissed from the military academy, and six who were suspended, have all departed for their respective homes. There was no demonstration on the part of the other cadets. When a cadet is dismissed it is final, and he can be reinstated only by a special act of congress. He also forfeits his traveling pay. In the case of a discharge a cadet may re-enter the academy by reappointment and the approval of the academy board.

Presented With a Flag

San Francisco, May 23.—President McKinley was a guest of the Knights Templar at the Mechanics' pavilion yesterday afternoon. General Barnes introduced President McKinley. Following this introductory address a choir of 150 voices sang the "Templar's Prayer," with the accompaniment of a band of 60 pieces. Then President McKinley responded to the address of welcome. Following the presentation of a silk flag to the president, there was a patriotic demonstration.

Not Mixed In Duke's Affairs

New York, May 23.—Eugene Zimmerman of Cincinnati, who was reported to have gone to Europe to settle the affairs of his son-in-law, the Duke of Manchester, returned to this country yesterday on the Teutonic. Mr. Zimmerman was asked about the stories printed that he had taken the trip to pay the duke's debts, and denied everything said or reported in that line. He said he had nothing to do with the duke's affairs.

An Ice-Bound Coast

St. John's, May 23.—Reports from the strait of Belle Isle show that a vast body of ice is packed against the Labrador coast, preventing all prospect of shipping traversing that region. Icebergs are also sweeping south along the eastern seaboard of Newfoundland.

Sciatic Rheumatism Cured After Fourteen Years of Suffering.

"I have been afflicted with sciatic rheumatism for fourteen years," says Josh Edgar, of Germantown, Cal. "I was able to be around but constantly suffered. I tried everything I could hear of and at last was told to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which I did and was immediately relieved and in a short time cured, and I am happy to say it has not since returned." Why not use this liniment and get well? It is for sale by all druggists.

And Still No Vote

Havana, May 23.—No vote was taken at yesterday's meeting of the Cuban constitutional convention on the Platt amendment. Juan G. Gomez spoke for nearly three hours against the amendment. He argued that it would be useless to accept it, as the Cuban people would always be divided on this issue, and he thought the majority of them would always be opposed to it.

HUNGRY SINCE CHRISTMAS

John Spera's Family Has Suffered the Awful Pangs of Starvation

New York, May 23.—Mrs. Mary Spera and her 1-year-old baby are dying of starvation at Bellevue hospital. A 4-year-old daughter the physicians expect to restore to health. A third child, a tiny baby, is dead.

This is the family of John Spera, a shoveler, whose illness has prevented him from doing any work for a long time. The Speras lived in four rooms of a rear tenement on the Bowery. They have had no food since Christmas except what the neighbors, themselves very poor, had given, or what the sick father has been able to get by begging on the streets. Their plight was called to the attention of the police by the owner of the tenement, who has allowed them to remain in the rooms. The father would not go to the hospital, saying he could support himself.

Exposure, cold and lack of food have brought consumption to complicate the hunger. The mother's lungs are nearly gone, and the children are both affected. They were all so emaciated that none of them could stand alone when the agent of the charities department came for them yesterday.

Funston Fed Off an Octopus

Lawrence, Kan., May 23.—General Funston and his followers, on their trip to capture Aguinaldo, were reduced to a diet of snail and octopus, according to a letter received from the Kansan by Captain A. G. Clark of Lawrence, yesterday. Funston says: "It is a galling thing for a man who has been brought up in Kansas to come down to a diet of rice and snails, and be yanked along over the rocks at the rate of 15 miles a day. I did one thing, however, which I want put to my credit in case I should come back to Kansas and try to break into politics: I helped to eat an octopus. It was the real thing, a devil fish with a number of arms, each about 18 inches long, which we were fortunate enough to get where it had been left in shallow water at low tide."

Child's Grave Desecrated

New York, May 23.—Three little children, hurrying home in the twilight of Tuesday night, discovered the headless body of an infant lying beside a grave in the Old Washington cemetery, Brooklyn. So great was the children's horror at this gruesome sight that they dared not mention it to their parents until last night. When they had told what they had seen to the father of one of them, he hurried to the cemetery and informed the superintendent. They investigated and found the body, headless, lying beside the grave. It was the body of Rosie Foss, 8 months old, of this city, buried last December. So far no trace of the grave desecrators have been discovered.

Misdeeds of Soldiers

Manila, May 23.—It is alleged that, as the outcome of a drunken quarrel in the officers' quarters at Camp Stotsenberg on Tuesday, Lieutenant Howell of the Sixth artillery shot Second Lieutenant Lloyd of the same regiment, the bullet grazing Lloyds' head and inflicting a slight wound. After retreat that evening Lieutenant Howell took field battery 12 on a wild "hike" through the jungle and rice fields of Mariquina valley. Later Howell, Lloyd and Dr. Overton, who dressed Lloyd's wound, were placed under arrest. The affair is being investigated.

Conservator Necessary

Chicago, May 23.—Clara Rigo, formerly Princess De Chimay (Miss Ward of Detroit), was declared a spendthrift and incapable of managing her property in the probate court here yesterday. Thomas R. Lyon, her uncle, was appointed conservator of her estate. He alleged that since she came into possession of her property in 1894 his niece has spent $400,000 in addition to an annual income of from $35,000 to $50,000.

L Road Ready For Business

Boston, May 23.—The Elevated Railway system of Boston is likely to be opened any day. The first car on each train will be for smokers. The introduction of the L trains in the subway will exclude 1570 surface cars from the tunnel, and will affect 15 different lines. This means that 50,000 people a day will have to change cars who now ride through the subway without change.

War Hasn't Hurt Business

London, May 23.—Sir Robert Giffen, in an address before the institute of bankers in London yesterday, denied that Great Britain was living on her capital in her dealings with foreign countries. He declared that the South African war expenditures came out of income and not out of capital, adding that the war had scarcely disturbed business at home.

Prince Must Leave Germany

Berlin, May 23.—Under dynastic law, the young Grand Duke of Saxe-Weimar, Charles Auguste, has compelled Prince Bernard of Saxe-Weimar and his wife to leave for the United States. Prince Bernard was married in 1900 to the widowed Countess Lucchesini. The grand duke has granted Prince Bernard a reasonable allowance.

Examination Postponed

New York, May 23.—W. H. Thompson, a member of the Flower-Thompson Medical company, who was held in $5000 bail for examination on the charge of forgery, was arraigned yesterday. His counsel asked for a continuation of the examination, and it was postponed until May 27.

Weather Conditions and Forecast

Almanac, Friday, May 24.
Sun rises—4:15; sets, 7:07.
Moon sets—11:53 p. m.
High water—4 a. m.; 4:30 p. m.

The barometer is everywhere under 30 inches, except on the California coast. In New England cloudy, rainy weather will prevail. On the coast brisk south to southwest winds will continue.

"Out of Sorts."

Nothing tastes good. Nothing gives pleasure. The mind is dull and sluggish. The will is weak. Little things cause great irritation. What's the matter? The probabilities are that the stomach is deranged and the liver involved.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes a man who is run down and dispirited feel like a new being. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, stirs the sluggish liver into action, and increases the activity of the blood-making glands, so that there is an abundant supply of pure, rich blood.

Mr. Edward Jacobs, of Marengo, Crawford Co., Indiana, writes: "After three years of suffering with liver trouble and malaria I gave up all hopes of ever getting stout again, the last chance was to try your medicine. I had tried all the home doctors and received but little relief. After taking three bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and one vial of his 'Pleasant Pellets' I am stout and hearty. It is due entirely to your wonderful medicines."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, containing 1008 large pages, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Former United States Officers Are Imprisoned

IMPLICATED IN FRAUDS

Recently Brought to Light In Commissary Department at Manila—Collector Colton Mixed Up In a Scheme to Secure Mining Property

Manila, May 24.—Three former United States officers last night entered Bilibid prison and began to serve sentences in expiation of crimes in connection with the commissary scandals.

Captain Fredeick J. Barrows, late depot quartermaster of the department of southern Luzon, is sentenced to five years' imprisonment; Captain James C. Reed, late depot commissary at Manila, to three years' imprisonment, and Lieutenant Frederick Boyer, late depot commissary at Calamda, to one year's imprisonment.

A representative of the Associated Press interviewed the prisoners. Captain Reed and Captain Barrows seemed comparatively unmoved. Lieutenant Boyer protested his innocence, and seemed vindictive toward Captain Barrows, who, he alleges, was alone guilty of misappropriating the bacon.

Major Hale, commandant of the prison, cleared a storeroom to be occupied by the trio, apart from the Filipino prisoners, but as Lieutenant Boyer avoids speaking to Captain Barrows, other arrangements are probable.

An examination of the effects of Knud Engelskjon, the Norwegian through whom the Mahommedan chiefs of Mindanao made ovetures of peace to General Otis, and who was recently arrested for embezzlement, discloses the fact that he had been acting as an agent of the insurgents since 1896.

He carried as his credentials a letter from the Filipino junta in Hong Kong to Aguinaldo, and on a pretense of examining mining property in Mindanao, he visited the insurgents. Accompanying him was G. E. St. Clair, an American. The latter pretended to be an Englishman, but yesterday he acknowledged that he was acting as the agent of Colonel Colton, assistant collector of customs in Manila, and S. M. Steel, a Manila lawyer, in an endeavor to secure possession of mining property in Mindanao before the American troops arrived. The insurgents suspected St. Clair's nationality and twice sentenced him to be shot, but he managed to escape. St. Clair was taken into custody yesterday and paroled pending the investigation.

Misapplied Church Funds

Harrisburg, Pa., May 24.—Rev. Dr. H. C. C. Astwood, pastor of the Bridge Street, A. M. E. church, of Brooklyn, was found guilty of misapplying church funds, insubordination and conduct unbecoming a minister, at yesterday's session of the Philadelphia conference of the A. M. E. church in this city, and will be sentenced later. Following the verdict of the conference, Dr. Astwood was arrested on a charge of defrauding a boarding house keeper in this city in August, 1899. Dr. Astwood was for seven years United States consul at San Domingo, and is one of the most prominent colored men in the country.

Game Protector's Big Find

New York, May 24.—State Game Warden Overton claims to have found yesterday at the storage house of the Arctic Freezing company 2000 game birds, partridges, quail, grouse and other kinds, the shooting or possession of which out of season is punishable by a fine of $60 for the first bird killed or held in possession, and $25 for each other bird so killed or held. The president of the comany, in police court, said he did not know what was in storage.

Pierson Loses Another Child

New York, May 24.—Earl G. Pierson, the 2-months-old son of J. L. Pierson, the Mount Vernon faith curist, died yesterday of pneumonia at the Pierson home, Kensico. A daughter of Pierson's died recently of pneumonia, and the father is now in White Plains jail serving out a fine of $500, imposed for his neglect to employ a physician in the case. For 10 days the second child had been without medical attendance, it is said.

Hanna a Grand Army Man

Cleveland, May 24.—Senator Hanna was last night mustered into Memorial post, G. A. R. of this city. He was received with great enthusiasm, and made a brief speech in reply to the congratulations.

Weather Conditions and Forecast

Almanac, Saturday, May 25.
Sun rises—4:14; sets, 7:08.
Moon sets—12:08 a. m.
High water—4:45 a. m.; 5:30 p. m.

The cloudy, rainy period in the south and middle Atlantic states has ended and clear weather now prevails. The temperature has risen in New England and is now somewhat above the seasonal average. There will be showers in New England. On the coast fresh southwesterly winds will continue.

BRESCI A SUICIDE

The Assassin of King Humbert Strangles Himself In Prison

Rome, May 24.—Bresci, the assassin of the late King Humbert, has committed suicide at the penitentiary of Santo Stefano. On the wall of Bresci's cell the word "vengeance" was scratched with his thumb-nail.

G. BRESCI.

The minister of the interior has instituted a searching inquiry into the circumstances of the suicide. The warden's account is that he saw Bresci tie a towel to the bars of the grating of the cell and hang himself, Bresci being dead when the warden reached him.

Gaetano Bresci, an Italian silk weaver, lately of Paterson, N. J., shot and killed King Humbert of Italy at Monza, Italy, on July 29, 1900. He was immediately arrested, tried, found guilty and given the extreme penalty of the Italian law, imprisonment for life, with 10 years' solitary imprisonment. Sentence was passed Aug. 29, 1900.

Humbert was a victim of pure anarchy. It is a curious fact in the record of anarchistic assassinations in recent years that the criminals have nearly all been Italian anarchists. Carnot was slain by Santo, June 24, 1894; Canovas was killed by Golli, Aug. 8, 1897, and Luccheni murdered the Empress of Austria in September, 1898. Italian anarchists unsuccessfully attempted the lives of Crispi in 1894 and of Diaz in 1897.

New York, May 24.—Seen at her home in Hoboken, N. J., Mrs. Bresci maintained that he did not commit suicide. "He was murdered," said she, repeating the words again and again. "I had a letter from him one week ago," she said. "He was allowed to write one letter every four months. He told me of his treatment. He was kept in a cell out in the rocks, down under the water level, and they did everything they could to make him insane so he would kill himself, but they never succeeded in making him do that."

Tried to Solve Perpetual Motion

New York, May 24.—Basile Sahebe, an Assyrian, shot himself through the heart yesterday at his home in this city. The suicide is attributed to his strenuous efforts to perfect a "perpetual motion" machine. At the time of his death he was a student in one of the technical schools attached to Columbia university. He spoke English poorly and he fell behind his class in his studies. This fact, with the failure of his machine, caused him to become utterly disheartened.

Would Not Accept $50,000

New York, May 24.—E. S. Hatch of the counsel for Mrs. Helen Hall, who is contesting the probate of the will of Millionaire Gilman, denies emphatically the story to the effect that Mrs. Hall has made an offer to compromise for $50,000 her claim against the Gilman estate. Mr. Hatch says that Mrs. Hall would no more think of accepting an offer of $50,000 than she would one of 5 cents.

Death of Ex-Governor Tanner

Springfield, Ills., May 24.—Former Governor John R. Tanner died here suddenly in the Leland hotel yesterday afternoon from rheumatism of the heart. Mr. Tanner had held various positions beside that of governor. He as 57 years old. He served as a private in the Fifty-eighth and Sixty-first Illinois regiments. He leaves a son and a daughter.

Testimony Eating Up Money

Havana, May 24.—General Wood yesterday issued orders to the judges and postoffice inspectors that all cases must immediately be brought to trial, beginning not later than the middle of next June. Over $60,000 has already been spent in securing testimony, and stenographers and translators have work ahead for months to come.

Probable Victim of Robbers

Schenectady, N. Y., May 24.—Dave Reynolds, an aged miser, was murdered on his farm at Scotia, a suburb of this city, yesterday. Reynolds recently paid $12,000 for his farm, and is supposed to have had several thousand dollars secreted about the premises. He lived alone.

No Loss of Time.

I have sold Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea, Remedy for years, and would rather be out of coffee and sugar than it. I sold five bottles of it yesterday to threshers that could go no farther, and they are at work again this morning.—H. R. PHELPS, Plymouth, Oklahoma. As will be seen by the above the threshers were able to keep on with their work without losing a single day's time. You should keep a bottle of this Remedy in your home. For sale by all druggists.

BELIEVES IN SHAMROCK

Lipton Will Have Her Ready to Race In October

HAS NOTHING BUT HULL

But Thinks His Confidence Will Be Justified Upon Her Reappearance—Lawson Offered to Take Independence Over to British Waters to Race

Southampton, May 24.—At a conference of his constructors and advisers, held last night on board the Erin, Sir Thomas Lipton told the gentlemen that he was determined to go ahead with the Shamrock II, and left it to them to decide how this could best be done.

After a long discussion, it was agreed to cable the New York Yacht club, asking that the date of the contest be postponed until the first week in October in order to allow time for the necessary repairs. This extension will give the Dennys, the builders, and Mr. Ratsey, the sailmaker, time to do their parts of the work. It was decided to lose no time, but to go ahead under full pressure while awaiting a reply from the New York Yacht club as to whether the postponement would be granted.

Sir Thomas expressed himself as extremely sorry at being forced to make any requests upsetting the arrangements already made, but he was left with only the hull of his yacht. Without this extension of time he would be totally unable to bring over his boat in anything like good form, and he said he sincerely hoped his request would be granted.

Speaking of the improvements in the Shamrock I, Sir Thomas said he had no doubt but that this yacht had much improved since she sailed in American waters, and that he felt perfectly certain she was far from being as good a boat as the challenger. The latter, he said, had been improving daily. Although he now had only a bare hull, without a stick over her, he was satisfied that on her reappearance the challenger would justify his confidence in her.

Sir Thomas has received dozens of cables of sympathy from the United States and hundreds of similar telegrams from all parts of Great Britain. Thomas W. Lawson cabled to Sir Thomas his deepest regret at the accident, and his heartfelt congratulations that all on board had escaped. He hoped that America would not be deprived of seeing the Shamrocks this season, but if it were impossible to bring them over, he expressed his willingness to take the Independence over to England and race either or both of the Shamrocks in British waters. Sir Thomas replied to this message, expressing his gratitude at Mr. Lawson's kind telegram and generous offer, but he said he was going over with the new Shamrock, and if opportunity offorded he would be delighted to race the Independence in American waters.

Lawson Not Yet Notified

Boston, May 24.—Mr. Lawson has not received word that the Independence will be admitted to the trial races. Captain Haff, however, is happy over the prospects.

When the employes of the Atlantic Works went to get their pay yesterday they each got a $5 gold piece extra from Mr. Lawson. This is a repetition of what he did Saturday night at Lawley's, when the workmen there were remembered.

—The latest estimate of the cost of the Nicaragua Canal is $250,000,000 a sum that several of the new trusts would consider a mere bagatelle.—Milford Journal.

Good Afternoon.

The National Granite bank probably owes much of its success to the fact that it has many young and progressive men on its board of directors. Mr. Sears, the new director, has scarcely turned thirty.

Wollaston appears to be golf crazy, with its professional club, the Wollaston with links at Montclair; the Merry mount club with links at Norfolk Downs; and the Meadow Golf club, with links on the south of Third hill. It is good sport, however, as it exercises all the muscles and keeps a person out-doors. It is a game that should not be played on Sunday, any more than base ball, tennis or croquet. Chelsea Grand Army men object to a golf tournament as a rival attraction on Memorial day, but they are extremists. However, the soldiers should not be forgotten on Memorial day.

A mid-week half holiday is hardly business for a city. It may do for country towns and villages but seems out of place in a city of 20,000 or more population. It would offer a better opportunity to go to Boston and trade. It would bother outiders who come to Quincy on business; the drummers and others. Where clerks are called upon to work evenings they should have at least one afternoon each week and that could be arranged without discommoding everybody, but where it is proposed to close the stores every night except Saturday, there is no more reason for a mid-week half holiday among merchants and clerks than among manufactures, granite cutters, machinists or carpenters.

Houghs Neck is not the only part of the city that desires improvements, and it is by no means neglected. What other seaside resort ten miles from Boston has free postal delivery? The city has incurred a large debt which will not be paid until 1925 for widening of Coddington and Sea streets, mainly at the request and for the benefit of Houghs Neck. The fire alarm and water service has been extended to the beach, and other improvements might be mentioned. Others will be made as speedily as finances will admit, and Houghs Neck should become more and more attractive each year. A good word for the resort and the city will prove more beneficial than fault finding.

Drift of Opinion.

☞ A motor cycle has wonderful potentialities of harm to the man who bestrides it. It is a noisy, hideous thing and the only good thing about it is that it costs so much that few can afford to own one.—Hartford Times.

☞ The saddest feature of attempted murder and suicide cases is the fact that the people who want to do both do not try suicide first. It is also too bad that when they want to kill themselves they sometimes shoot so badly.—Brockton Enterprise.

☞ After the public's experience with the reports of what professors in the Chicago university have said, there will be caution about accepting as true the report that Professor Clark told his class that "the society girl is a parasite. She lives on her father, and in return she gives him nothing. She is of no benefit to the world, and there is no need of our keeping such a weight with us." The chances are that Professor Clark said nothing of the sort, or that what he did say has been distorted all out of its precise meaning. Still, there are girls and women in society, and out of society, as there are men, who are parasites, though there is no need for a professor of literature to make them the objects of instruction to his class.—New Bedford Standard.

☞ In the house of representatives this week, a vote of 96 to 89 was given in favor of a bill to promote municipal lighting by permitting a city or town to buy an existing plant at the cost of duplicating it. This margin is so narrow that it is probable, considering the history of this matter, that the bill will be debated before it can pass through the house. But should it pass the house, it is even less probable that it will pass the senate. The whole point of contention in the case is whether the owners of the lighting plant or the public should bear the loss which is due to improved processes and inventions. Thus far the bill has been defeated on the ground that the owners of a lighting plant are entitled to a fair return upon the property they have invested.—Milford Journal.

Big Warship Planned.

If the report heard at the navy department proves correct, and Congress approves the recommendations of Rear Admiral Bowles and the construction board, says a dispatch to the Boston Advertiser, the United States may have a battleship of 16,000 tons displacement, with corresponding armament, thus providing a warship of formidable proportions. Great Britain has several battleships of 15,000 tons building and Italy's Lepanto is of 15,900 tons.

The British and Japanese battleships of 15,000 tons will draw 27 feet of water or more. That would prevent their entry into many of our harbors.

The fact that many American harbors cannot afford water for vessels of such draught has led to the construction of battleships drawing the least possible water consistent with stability.

The mean draught of the Maine class (15,000 tons) will be less than 24 feet. The idea is to produce a vessel that will not draw much more with the displacement of 16,000 tons.

Some members of the construction board hope to secure designs promising a speed of 21 knots, which, if obtained, would make the new battleship equal in speed and superior in power to most of the armored cruisers now afloat, and make her a formidable antagonist of the most powerful battleship yet built.

Suspicious.

Officer Cameron of the Metropolitan police arrested three men at the Blue Hills reservation, Thursday, as suspicious characters. When Officer Cameron discovered them they were washing their face and hands in a brook. The men gave their names as Harry Friedman, Benjamin Goldberg and Philip Zenner, and said they came from New York and were on their way to Boston.

Upon being searched a lot of pawn tickets were found in Zenner's hat. The pawn checks were from New York pawnbrokers and bore dates ranging from May 6 to May 21. The tickets called for diamond rings, diamond scarf pins and gold watches. The value of the goods pawned is estimated at $200 on which $46.50 had been raised. They claimed they were cigar makers, Zenner claimed that he was doing a brokerage business, that he would purchase the goods and then would pawn them. The three men were arraigned in court this morning and were held to give the police an opportunity to communicate with New York officers.

Concert at Faxon Hall.

A pleasing concert was given at Faxon hall Thursday evening under the auspices of Court John Erickson, F. of A. Misses Clara and Sofie Wallenthin were heard in duets and solos and are accomplished artists. Maude L. Smith gave two entertaining readings, Mr. Frank Kennedy two violin solo, and Lydia Marie Sellback a piano solo. About 300 were in attendance.

Real Estate Man Killed.

SUDDEN DEATH.

Former Wollaston and West Quincy Pastor Passes Away.

Word was received from South Walpole this morning announcing the death of Rev. Charles W. Wilder. The news came as a surprise, as it was not known that he was ill. Rev. Mr. Wilder has been the pastor of the West Quincy Methodist church for three years but was assigned at the recent conference to South Walpole.

Mr. Wilder was admitted to the New England Conference in 1865, his first pastorate being at West Medway. In 1866 and 1867 he was a professor in the Newbury Seminary at Newbury, Vt., and the following two years was a professor in the Vermont Conference Seminary at Montpelier, Vt. Since that time he has been settled over churches at Essex and Sheldon, Vt., Cliftonale, Stoneham, Oxford, West Medford, Leominster, Dedham, Wollaston, Holliston and West Quincy. He was settled over the Wollaston church in 1893, '94 and '95 and came to West Quincy in 1898.

He was a veteran of the Civil war and while located in Quincy was chaplain of Paul Revere Post 88, G. A. R.

He was born in Grandville, Vt., Feb. 22, 1837, and was about 65 years of age and leaves a widow, a son and daughter.

While in Wollaston and West Quincy, Rev. Mr. Wilder took a great interest in the Woodward Institute, of which he was a director. His daughter, Miss Edith H. Wilder was also a teacher of Greek and Latin at the Institute, and is now an instructor at the Boston Latin school. His son has recently been elected an instructor in the Pennington, N. J., seminary.

Beautiful Quincy.

A few of our citizens may not be able to begin to think of "where shall we go" this summer, as going-away weather, or stay-at home weather, is here; take it either way.

Some one gave Prof. Agassiz once, when he was overworked and greatly in need of a vacation, a generous sum of money to pay the expenses of a trip.

"Where will you go?" said the messenger. "In my back yard," was the reply.

So it is, we have not exhausted our back yards yet we can explore them with pleasure and with profit, if we use our eyes well.

A preacher in Wollaston, a new comer, said, "Quincy is a jewel, but it needs the aid of the lapidist in its setting." A piece of our city lying between or about Whitwell, Cranch and Goffe streets bending towards Hancock street and leaning towards Wollaston, is a bit of English rural scenery transplanted. The absence of fence helps the landscape, and here are some new and old houses of modest pretence, the historic Adams house; but finer far, some dales, knolls, hills and stretches of beautiful meadow scenery.

Standing on Dimmock street just above the bridge a single elm is a landmark for the prospect below. Below, upon the newly open space between the railroad and Goffe street, is a pretty piece of intervale, low, moist and green and giving one views quite extensive.

A group of homes lie above, one a substantial full place, combining stable, paved yard and generous proportions, newly erected upon a corner of Goffe and Dimmock streets. Nearly opposite is the spacious, large home just finished by an enterprising young townsman. Its wide walls, broad windows and chimneys bespeaking large ideas of home life.

Next is the old colonial, one of the Adams property houses formerly, the chimneys here telling it was a house of the past, and all about it speaks of finished taste and ideas. Some alterations have been improvements.

Next is an attractive, long, low house not completed giving us a new style of architecture and one that promises very much in the variety and beauty of this neighborhood.

Just here the eye is held by the exquisite stretch of green, trees, curved road, and fields with a background of quarry that looks like a masted ship. Across here, a stately new Colonial mansion with large barn shows to best advantage the angle of view giving the best for its advantage, and the wide verandas, many windows and harmonious whole are very fine, while just one side the snowy Grecian pillows of an elegant old time Quincy home are seen.

To come back, for we have only strayed in vision, not stepped aside, upon Goffe street we next find another lovely new colonial with large trees planted by the former owner of the place, as were the best trees in this section, and surrounded with a beautiful flower garden, with curving borders, hedges and various flowers.

Lower down is a smaller picturesque new house, dainty and pretty; and in front of us, we pause, for here the old President's mansion stands, and here we are on historic ground and new Quincy has faded away and melted into an honored past.

—The latest census returns show that England spends every year for drink about $720,000,000, and only $30,000,000 for books.

The trophies won by the Merrymount club in the Norfolk county league are on exhibition at the store of S. F. Copeland at Wollaston. Also the cup won in the series of bowling matches with the North Quincy club.

The children will have a grand time Saturday afternoon at the festival at St. Mary's hall in aid of the Free Home for Consumptives. There will be dances and flag drills by the children. There will also be lemonade, peanuts and bananas.

The Good Templars of Fraternal Lodge of Brockton, are planning to spend Memorial day at Houghs Neck, says the Enterprise. A committee composed of Stephen Bailey, Mrs. Maude Cox and Charles Taber has been appointed to make arrangements.

—The horseless era has not yet arrived. Eighty seven carriage horses were sold in New York the other day for an average of over one thousand dollars each.

Whooping Cough.

A woman who has had experience with this disease tells how to prevent any dangerous consequences from it. She says: Our three children took whooping cough last summer, our baby boy being only three months old, and owing to our giving them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, they lost none of their plumpness and came out in much better health than other children whose parents did not use this remedy. Our oldest little girl would call lustily for cough syrup between whoops.—JESSIE PINKEY HALL, Springville, Ala. This Remedy is for sale by all druggists.

A Legitimate Investment

Which Increased Over 700 per cent

WITHIN SIX MONTHS.

The Arcola Oil Company's stock sold at $135 per 1,000 shares, and in six months $1,0 per 1,000 shares was refused for the stock, the reason that the first well was a large p ducer and there is room for forty wells on Company's land, which makes it about cert that the stock in the near future will be wo ten dollars per share.

We offer you the same opportunity for a la gain by investing in the Dirigo Oil Compan stock, the first block of which is being sold $150 per 1,000 shares. The Company owns block of land adjoining the Arcola Compan land which has large producing wells on four sides. There is eighty acres of the Co pany's land in the center of the oil belt, wh we feel absolutely certain will give a large p ducing well in each acre.

We now have machinery on the ground, a are ready to sink the first well, and expect strike oil by June 1st, which will then make t stock worth par value, if the well is as good producer as the Arcola.

The block of stock we are selling is abo three-quarters sold and quick application wi have to be made to secure any of it at th present price.

A Legitimate Investment

Which Increased Over 700 per cent.

WITHIN SIX MONTHS.

The Arcola Oil Company's stock sold for $135 per 1,000 shares, and in six months $1,000 per 1,000 shares was refused for the stock, for the reason that the first well was a large producer and there is room for forty wells on the Company's land, which makes it about certain that the stock in the near future will be worth ten dollars per share.

We offer you the same opportunity for a large gain by investing in the Dirigo Oil Company's stock, the first block of which is being sold for $150 per 1,000 shares. The Company owns a block of land adjoining the Arcola Company's land which has large producing wells on all four sides. There is eighty acres of the Company's land in the center of the oil belt, which we feel absolutely certain will give a large producing well in each acre.

We now have machinery on the ground, and are ready to sink the first well, and expect to strike oil by June 1st, which will then make the stock worth par value, if the well is as good a producer as the Arcola.

The block of stock we are selling is about three-quarters sold and quick application will have to be made to secure any of it at the present price.

AN IMPORTANT ERA.

Prince of Wales in 1792 Made Grand Master of Masons.

The year 1792 was an eventful one besides being the year of the birth of the town of Quincy, for on the 2d of May in that year, at a grand feast of Masons in England his royal highness then Prince of Wales was installed Grand Master, to the inexpressible joy of the fraternity in the presence of his royal brother the Duke of York, the right honorable Lord Rawson, and about 500 prominent Masons. The repeated applause bestowed by the company upon the royal brothers were highly grateful to their feelings, while the affability and heartfelt satisfaction of the Grand Master at the head of his brethren were particularly noticed.

History says his highness performed the duties of his office in a style superior to most of his predecessors. His observations were clear, acute and distinct; his expression was fluent, manly and pertinent; and his eulogium of his deceased uncle, the last Grand Master, pathetic, graceful and elegant. The compliment he conferred on the Earl of Moira as acting Grand Master, was truly Masonic; and to all his officers, on their appointments, he paid the proper tribute to their respective merits. In short, during the whole ceremony, his demeanor was courteous, pleasing and dignified.

An era so important in the annals of Masonry must be recorded with peculiar satisfaction. Under the auspices of so illustrious a patron as the heir apparent to the crown of Great Britain, the society extended its influence, and was greatly encouraged in the zealous endeavors to promote the principles of the institution.

Testimonies of loyalty and attachment to the family on the throne were at the time transmitted to his highness from the brethren in every quarter. The lodges in town and country vied with each other in expressions of duty and affection to the Grand Master, and in various addresses testified submission and obedience to the laws, and an ardent wish to support a well regulated government.

Perhaps the boom extended to America and had something to do with the organization of Rural lodge of Quincy in 1801, which will in June celebrate its centennial.

A Fish With Teeth on His Tongue.

The biggest of fresh water fishes, the "arapaima" of the Amazon, in South America, which grows to six feet in length, has teeth on its tongue, so that the latter resembles the file and is used as such. Some kinds of trout also have the same peculiarity. Fishes that swallow their prey entire have their teeth so supported on flexible bases as to bend backward, but not forward, in order that their victims shall not escape after they have been once seized. In ages gone by there were ferocious sharks, such as would make a mouthful of you without blinking, 70 feet in length.

Plenty of their teeth have been found which are five inches long, whereas the biggest of the teeth belonging to sharks that exist at the present day are 1½ inches long. Speaking of extinct creatures reminds me to say that all of the early birds—those of early geological times, that is—had teeth, with which they captured the early worms of the same period. Being descendant from reptiles, it is natural that they should possess a dental equipment, but when they ceased to be carnivorous they had no teeth any longer.

Remarkable Caves.

M. P. Chaudoir in the Mouvement Geographique describes a visit to the remarkable stalagmite caves within two hours' walk from Tanga, in eastern Africa. Passing through several chambers rising to a height of from 100 to 250 feet, he reached a vast saloon covering an area of 5,000 square yards. Millions of bats covered the roofs and interfered with the exploration of the narrow passages. One of these, killed with a stick, measured 4 feet 10 inches across the wings.

Question and Answer.

A woman carrying a suit case and several umbrellas bustled up to a weary looking servant of the company in the Pennsylvania railroad ferryhouse at Jersey City the other day.

"Does it make any difference which ferry I take for New York?" she asked.

"It don't make any difference to me, ma'am," he replied.—New York Sun.

A Q. H. S. VICTORY.

Interesting Game at Dedham with Dedham High.

In a game of base ball, full of interest and fine playing, the Quincy High school defeated the strong nine of the Dedham High school, on Wednesday at Dedham.

The first inning showed that the game was to be close and doubtful until the end. At the close of the second inning, there had been scored only one run which had been placed to the credit of Dedham.

For Dedham, the best playing was done by the catcher and by Snow, the right fielder.

For Quincy, Lewis the captain and pitcher, and Histen the left fielder, excelled. Lewis struck out fourteen men, among who was Kelly the Dedham captain, who, although considered the strongest batsmen of the nine, was struck out four times. Histen out of six chances accepted every one. The support of catcher Nichols and the work of second baseman Hardwick should also receive commendation. In fact the playing of the whole team, both in fielding and batting was a great improvement over any showing made this year. Below is the record of the game given in full:

SUBURBAN RESIDENCE.

Suitable Where Narrow Building Lots Are the Rule—Cost, $2,400.

[Copyright, 1901, by George Hitchings, architect, 1090 Flatbush avenue, Brooklyn.]

A house suitable for a suburban town where narrow building lots are the rule is here represented. It has a frontage of 20 feet and is arranged to contain on the first floor a large reception hall, parlor, dining room and kitchen, with butler's pantry; also a veranda on the front.

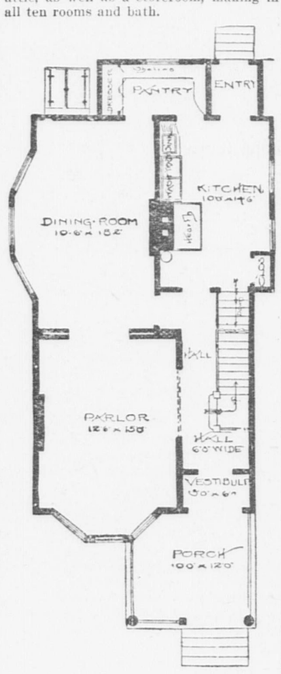

The second floor has four bedrooms and a large bathroom with tile floor and tile wainscoting about five feet high. The woodwork of the bathroom is finished in white and gold. The front chamber has a large bay window and a child's bedroom in connection with it. Each bedroom has a large closet.

There are two large bedrooms in the attic, as well as a storeroom, making in all ten rooms and bath.

FIRST FLOOR PLAN.

The exterior is covered with white pine bevel siding, with the exception of a belt course of shingles below the second story window. The roof is covered with cedar shingles stained brown. The belt course is also stained brown, and the siding is painted a chromo yellow with white trimmings.

The foundation is built of hard burnt brick.

Cost to build complete, $2,400.

Pointers For the Home.

A good polish for furniture is made with half a pint each of vinegar, spirits of wine, linseed oil and turpentine. Mix together in a bottle and shake well. Apply it to the furniture with a piece of old flannel and polish with a soft, dry duster.

To remove paint splashes on window glass moisten the spots with a strong solution of soda; then rub hard.

Dust your paint carefully with a soft brush before attempting to wash it.

Stains of oil and grease may be removed from carpets by the brisk application of buckwheat flour, removing the flour as soon as it has absorbed the oil or until the spots shall have completely disappeared.—Philadelphia Times.

Take Out the White Spots.

White spots on furniture, caused by scalding water or anything hot being placed upon it, can be removed by rubbing with a rag dipped in kerosene and then polishing with soft flannel.

Decorating The Graves

HOW A BEAUTIFUL CUSTOM ORIGINATED.

The custom of decorating the graves of the nation's defenders has been so well established and it is so generally observed that Memorial day has become as much a holiday in the estimation of many people as the Fourth of July or Christmas. The interest in its observance grows no less as the years go by. The marching Grand Army men become more notable as they grow older, and their ranks attract more attention as they grow smaller. The respect for the day has been firmly planted in the hearts of the people.

Among the thousands who assemble in the various parts of the country on Memorial day there are doubtless many who do not know the origin of the custom, and even in the ranks of the Grand Army of the Republic there are enthusiastic members who are uninformed on that important point. The decoration of soldiers' graves was not the prime object of the Grand Army of the Republic, but it was one of its first results. The favor with which the practice was received in all parts of the country gained for the organization the indorsement of many people who would have been indifferent to it if its object had been only social or fraternal. Grand Army historians say that Dr. Benjamin Franklin Stephenson, who served in the army as surgeon of the Fourteenth Illinois volunteer regiment, was the first to conceive the idea of an organization in which the friendships formed amid the perils and privations of duty in the field might be preserved and perpetuated. His scheme embraced also the care and education of the women and children who had been deprived of their husbands and fathers, the building of homes for homeless veterans and aid for destitute and disabled members of their fraternity.

The philanthropic plan took form in April, 1866, when Major Stephenson organized Post No. 1 at Decatur, Ills., with 12 comrades. So well was the movement received that in November of the same year Dr. Stephenson, as provisional commander in chief, presided over a national encampment at Indianapolis, and the Grand Army of the Republic soon became a powerful organization, cementing in friendship those who became its members, caring for those who were helpless and honoring the memory of those who had gone before them. Within two years the membership had grown to 250,000, and the best men from the army, regardless of rank or station, were proud to wear the G. A. R. badge. General John A. Logan was elected commander in chief in 1868, and the subject of decorating the soldiers' graves came up for discussion during his administration. He issued the first order for the observance of the day.

There are conflicting opinions as to who was the first to suggest the decoration of the graves, but it is generally believed that the idea came from a former private, who wrote to Colonel N. P. Chipman, a member of General Logan's staff. The writer was a German, who lived in Cincinnati at that time. He spoke of the custom which prevailed in his home of strewing flowers upon the graves of the dead and thought it would be well to honor the dead comrades in that way. Unfortunately the name of the man who made the suggestion has not been preserved, and the beautiful custom remains credited to the Grand Army of the Republic and to no individual. In the first order directing the decoration of the graves, which was issued on May 5, 1868, General Logan said:

"We should guard the graves with sacred vigilance. All that the consecrated wealth and taste of the nation can add to their adornment and security is but a fitting tribute to the memory of her slain defenders. Let no wanton foot tread on such hallowed ground. Let pleasant paths invite the coming and going of the reverent visitors and fond mourners. Let no vandalism of avarice or neglect, no ravages of time, testify to the present or to the coming generations that we have forgotten as a people the cost of the free and undivided republic. If other eyes grow dull and other hands slack and other hearts cold in the solemn trust, ours shall keep it well as long as the light and warmth of life remain with us.

"Let us, then, at the time appointed gather around their sacred remains and garland the passionless mounds above them with the choicest flowers of springtime; let us raise above them the dear old flag they saved from dishonor; let us renew our pledges to aid and assist those whom they have left among us, a sacred charge upon a nation's gratitude, the soldier's and sailor's widow and orphan."

In this order General Logan appointed May 30, 1868, the day for decorating the graves, and the response was so general throughout the land that there could be no doubt as to the sentiment of the people on the subject; but, to make sure that there should be no departure from the custom, the national encampment, which was held two years later in Washington, adopted the following, which became part of the rules and regulations of the organization:

"The national encampment hereby establishes a Memorial day, to be observed by the members of the G. A. R. on the 30th of May annually, in commemoration of the deeds of our fallen comrades. When such day occurs on Sunday, the succeeding day shall be observed, except when, by legal enactment, the preceding day is made a legal holiday, when such day shall be observed."—New York Tribune.

Finance Bill Pushed Along

London, May 24.—The debate on the budget came virtually to a close last night with speeches by John Morley and Austen Chamberlain. The former denounced the war policy of the government in the severest terms. Mr. Chamberlain defended the government and expressed confidence that the people would support the government in raising the money required by the war. The finance bill was then passed to a second reading, by a vote of 236 to 132.

New Mines to Be Operated

Pekin, May 24.—Further cases of smallpox have been discovered on board the United States transport Indiana, and the Ninth regiment, United States infantry, which left Pekin yesterday on its way to Manila, has gone into camp at Taku.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Bishop Lawrence of the Episcopal diocese of Massachusetts has called the adjourned diocesean convention for June 14, when the committee on division of the diocese will make its report.

Joseph D. Chute of Boston, 63 years old, was instantly killed by falling from the steps of a train and striking on his head.

Martin Finneran, 8 years old, was drowned at Lawrence, Mass., while in swimming. The body was recovered.

Mrs. Margaret Sullivan, aged 40, was tending a bonfire at Lawrence, Mass., and her clothing became ignited. Her condition is critical.

While picking wild flowers on the bank of a canal near Nashua, N. H., Silvia Lagasee, 5 years old, fell into the water and was drowned.

Dr. Jane K. Culver, one of the most successful of women physicians of Boston, is dead. She came of distinguished ancestry. She was born near Enfield, Mass. She leaves one daughter.

Forest fires are doing much damage along the north shore of New Brunswick, along the Inter-Colonial railway and Kent Northern railway lines.

THOUSANDS STILL OUT

But Machinists Are Confident of Ultimate Victory

NEW ENGLAND SITUATION

Shows a Gain of 1500 In the Number of Men Returned to Work—Compromise In Building Trades Strike at Portland—Other Labor Troubles

Washington, May 24.—Several hundred additions to the ranks of the strikers, two score or more firms signing the agreement with the men, leaving approximately 30,000 or 35,000 men still out, and possibly material accessions to the roll of strikers, is, in a nutshell, the machinists' strike situation throughout the country. While several railroads have adjusted their difficulties, trouble with other roads is imminent.

President O'Connell of the International Association of Machinists, who is conducting the strike, in summarizing the situation last night, said:

"The situation now shows that we are largely the gainer in the number of settlements made. The adjustments reported during today show a gain in New England of 1500 in the number of men returned to work, with the demands granted; of 500 or 600 in Ohio, and probably 1000 in Pennsylvania.

"About 1000 men struck today. There are some additions in Philadelphia and some in the Seaboard Air Line shops at Americus, Ga. Our policy is to discourage bringing out any more men than is absolutely necessary to effect the success of the movement."

Mr. O'Connell said the strike of the machinists on the Seaboard Air Line would occur today. He said the strikers would number between 500 and 600.

Advices to headquarters here indicate that at San Francisco many of the smaller concerns are ready to grant the demands, but are not ready to sign the agreement. At Indianapolis the American Bicycle company is reported as agreeing to the demands, but refusing to sign the agreement. The same condition exists at several other points, and the matter is being left to the local organizations to settle.

Mr. O'Connell said that he could not understand such a policy on the part of the employers, but was not disposed to haggle over a minor issue, and if necessary would not insist on the men staying out on account of that technicality. He said the organization of men is sufficient to enforce their demands, and that the question of signature was comparatively trifling.

Aside from the action of the nearly 400 machinists employed by the Goodyear-Shea Machinery company, who left work yesterday, there has been no very decided change in the strike situation at Boston. There is an uneasy feeling among the large number of machinists and helpers employed at the Atlantic Works, but they are not organized, and the union officials do not wish to have them strike until they have perfected their organization.

Meantime, President O'Connell, who is directing the strike, holds that the situation is getting brighter, and stands by his prediction that next Monday morning will witness the resumption of work by the great majority of the men who went out.

Lawrence Linemen Yield

Boston, May 24.—Between 700 and 800 electrical linemen in Boston and along the lines of the New England Telephone and Telegraph company are now out on a strike. They have been out several weeks, without accomplishing anything more than inaugurating new strikes, and placing some of the strikers at work in new fields. They have received no concessions yet from any of the employers, neither have they yielded an iota to any of them, except at Lawrence, where the men returned to work yesterday at the same pay and on the same time as before the strike.

Portland Strike Ended

Portland, Me., May 24.—A compromise between the masons and contractors has brought the strike of the building trades unions in Portland to an end. The agreement, which was adopted and signed by the several parties yesterday, provides for a nine-hour day at 36 cents an hour, and, after arranging matters relating to the employment of non-union men, creates a committee of arbitration, of which the mayor of this city shall be chairman and cast his vote in a tie, making the settlement of a question final.

The Cutlery Workers' Strike

Northampton, Mass., May 24.—Members of the state board of arbitration and conciliation are here investigating the strike of the forgers at the three cutlery factories at Bay State village. Several hundred men in the other departments are now out on a strike for 10 hours' pay for nine hours' work.

Treaty Passed at Last

Okmulgee, I. T., May 24.—The Creek treaty passed the house of kings yesterday by a vote of 23 to 17. For 20 years the federal government has been trying to make a treaty with the Creeks, but has failed until yesterday. Its adoption will enable the carrying out of many public enterprises.

And Still No Vote

Havana, May 24.—Juan G. Gomez continued his speech against the Platt amendment before the Cuban constitutional convention yesterday. Senor Sanguily replied to him. The convention adjourned without voting.

Nelson Won by a Mile

Buffalo, May 24.—Johnny Nelson last night defeated Ray Deur in a 15-mile paced race. Nelson led by a mile at the finish. Time, 24:03.

TALKED TO VOLUNTEERS

President Also Visits Hospital and Performs Other Functions

San Francisco, May 24.—President McKinley spent a fairly busy day yesterday. At his temporary home he received a delegation of federal officials. Mr. McKinley asked these officials to provide a place for an old man named Ritter, who served in his regiment during the Civil war. Mr. Ritter lost a leg in battle. The officials promised to grant the request.

The most important event of the day came next. It was the president's visit to the presidio, where he reviewed the Forty-fifth and Forty-sixth volunteer infantry regiments, just returned from the Philippines to be mustered out of service. When the president mounted the reviewing stand the soldiers cheered him. He addressed them with much feeling. The president next visited the general hospital, going through the sick wards.

In the afternoon the president was the guest of honor at the receptions of the Union League club, the Ohio Society of California, the Mexican War Veterans, Pioneers and Native Sons. The latter three societies presented him with a paper weight containing $350 worth of gold. At each reception the president responded briefly to the presentation speeches.

On his way to dinner, President McKinley stopped at Union square and turned over the first shovelful of sod where the monument to the American navy, in commemoration of Admiral Dewey's victory at Manila bay, is to be erected.

President McKinley attended a reception last night, given in his honor by the G. A. R. posts of the city.

Life Needlessly Sacrificed

Chicago, May 24.—The coroner's jury which has listened to the evidence on the case of Mrs. Emma L. Judd, who was one of the officials of Dowie's Zion, last night returned a verdict holding Dowie, H. W. Judd, husband of the woman; Mrs. S. Presher and Mrs. Brettsch, her attendants, to await the action of the grand jury. The evidence given at the inquest by some of the leading physicians of the city was to the effect that she was allowed to die when the slightest attempt to save her life would have been successful. A crowd of 1000 people paraded the streets of South Chicago last night, carrying an effigy of Dowie, which was finally deposited in a large bonfire. About three weeks ago, Mrs. Christendon, one of Dowie's followers, was burned. She refused the aid of physicians and died. The courts took from her and her husband a little daughter, who had been severely burned. The girl has now practically recovered.

Governor Allen Is Popular

San Juan, P. R., May 24.—The demonstrative welcome tendered to Governor Allen, who arrived here yesterday on the Mayflower, surpassed any similar previous demonstration. The public square fronting the docks was thronged with thousands of people. There was a procession half a mile long. Arriving at the palace Governor Allen was made welcome by speeches by the mayor of San Juan, the speaker of the legislature and others. To a crowd of 5000 persons Governor Allen made a long speech in reply.

Sciatic Rheumatism Cured After Fourteen Years of Suffering.

"I have been afflicted with sciatic rheumatism for fourteen years," says Josh Edgar, of Germantown, Cal. "I was able to be around but constantly suffered. I tried everything I could hear of and at last was told to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which I did and was immediately relieved and in a short time cured, and I am happy to say it has not since returned." Why not use this liniment and get well? It is for sale by all druggists.

Work Completed on Constitution

Bristol, R. I., May 24.—There is every indication that the work on the Constitution will be completed tonight, enabling the Herreshoffs to turn the craft over to Manager Duncan tomorrow.

New Home For Boers

Berlin, May 24.—From the report of the Hanseatic Colonization company it is learned that a number of Boers have engaged to settle in the company's colony in southern Brazil.

MOTHER AND CHILD

Let the mother take Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil for the two; it is almost never superfluous.

One can eat for two; but nourishing two is a different thing; it implies a degree of interior strength not often found in woman of either extreme.

Luxurious people are not very strong by habit, and overworked people are weak from exhaustion in some of their functions. Between the two is the happy mean; but how many women have plenty of life for two?

The emulsion is almost never superfluons.

We'll send you a little to try if you like.

KILLED SIX CHILDREN

Mrs. Naramore Will Spend Remainder of Her Life In Insane Hospital

Worcester, Mass., May 24.—Mrs. Elizabeth A. Narramore, who killed her entire family of six children at their home in Coldbrook Springs, March 14 last, by beating out their brains with an axe and a club, was arraigned in the superior criminal court for Worcester county, yesterday, on an indictment charging her with murdering her little daughter Ethel. She pleaded not guilty, and the case was given to the jury on an agreement of facts by District Attorney Hoar and Mr. Blackmar, counsel for Mrs. Naramore. The counsel agreed that Mrs. Naramore killed the children, and that she was insane at the time.

Drs. Quimby and Scribner, superintendents of the insane hospital and insane asylum in Worcester, testified the woman was insane at the time of the killing, and for some time after that, but Dr. Quimby says she is now sane, although she needs medical attention. By order of the court the jury returned a verdict of not guilty, because of insanity, and Mrs. Naramore was committed to the Worcester insane hospital for the rest of her natural life.

During the proceedings Mrs. Naramore sat stolidly in the dock and seemed to take no interest in what was going on around her.

Heavy Cargoes From Abroad

Boston, May 24.—Many deep-water craft made this port yesterday, after having been at sea for weeks and months. The most important was the ship Amphitita, from Melbourne, Jan. 25, with 8000 bales of wool, valued at $600,000. When the duties are paid, the cargo's value will be $1,000,000. Steamer William Storrs came in from Manila with a load of hemp. The bark Allanwilde and brig Aldine came in from Argentina, each with goatskins, wool and hides. The bark King Oscar II brought 2003 bales of wool and much other cargo from Melbourne.

Case of Malicious Mischief

Salem, Mass., May 24.—Tobin Murnane, 37 years old, who came here from New York, went to the parish residence of the Immaculate Conception church and asked one of the curates for assistance in getting to Ireland. He was refused, and in leaving the yard he picked up a rock, which he threw and broke a memorial window in the church, causing damage of between $300 and $400. He was arrested, charged with malicious mischief.

Storti's Release Asked For

Boston, May 24.—Because Luigi Storti did not consent to the last postponement of his electrocution, which should have taken place before midnight, May 8, the lawyers who by legal maneuvers obtained the postponement claim that his custody after that date is invalid and unlawful. On this contention they have filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus at the United States circuit court, praying that the prisoner be released.

New Mills Going Up

Pawtucket, R. I., May 24.—The Cumberland town council yesterday granted exemption from taxes for 10 years to the Naushen company, which corporation will at once erect mills. The company will weave silk linen and cotton, buying the yarn. The plant will be in operation this fall, and it is expected to double its capacity within a year from the beginning of operations. The mill will start with 250 hands.

Dover, Me., May 24.—Henry Lambert was arraigned in the local court yesterday, charged with the murder of J. Wesley Allen and his wife and daughter, at Shirley, May 12. On request of the state, the case was continued until next Monday, to await the verdict of the coroner's jury which has been investigating the case.

Badly Hurt by Jumping

Nashua, N. H., May 24.—Frank Beddell, who says he is a spinner, belonging in Blackstone, Mass., stole a ride here on a freight train. In jumping from the train he struck a bridge, receiving bad injuries. He was barely able to crawl into a freight car, where he was found nearly eight hours after the accident.

Despondent Woman Drinks Acid

Boston, May 24.—Catherine Coleman, 39 years old, of Worcester, was found in a doorway on Dover street last evening suffering from a dose of carbolic acid. She said that she had become despondent and wanted to end her life, and that she had lately spent about $600. The woman will probably die.

State's Offer Was Too Small

Clinton, Mass., May 24.—In the case of Margaret Conroy, in her suit against the metropolitan water board for damages resulting from the seizure of land for the Wachusett reservoir, the jury in the superior court awarded her $4760. The largest offer that had been made by the state was $3000.

No Change In Liquor Law

Hartford, May 24.—The effort to change the liquor law of this state was defeated in the general assembly yesterday when the house rejected both the majority and minority committee reports, each of which was for an increased cost of licenses.

Kaiser to Censor His Speeches

Berlin, May 24.—Emperor William has issued stringent orders to henceforth exclude newspaper reporters from all public and semi-public functions where the emperor intends to speak. The emperor's entourage and the police have been given instructions to render impossible the stenographic reporting of his speeches or the taking of notes thereon.

Caught on a Reef

Halifax, May 24.—Schooner Hazel B. Mosher of Lunenburg, with 350 quintals of fish from Western Banks, was wrecked yesterday on Sugar Island reef. She was bound to Canso for second baiting.

A REMEDY FOR THE GRIPPE.

A remedy recommended for patients afflicted with the Grippe is KEMP'S BALSAM, which is especially adapted for the throat and lungs. Peace within all our fair borders!
Shoulder to shoulder, today,
Grounded their arms—sheathed their sabres—
Stand they—the Blue and the Grey;
Queenly magnolias—the pride of
The golden, the glorious South South,
And daisies—brave flowers of the Nortdland—
Their bloom at the tombs gloomy mouth,
Is mingled by hands, that, forgetting
Past triumphs, past wrongs, past defeat—
Strew laurel alike on each hillock,
And the fair work of Peace, thus complete.

Unfair Representation.

If the Quincy Republicans are dissatisfied with the proposed Congressional districts there is a chance for them to unite with the North Dorchester Republican club which has adopted these resolutions:

Whereas, The report of the redistricting committee of the general court has been made public, and in our opinion is prejudicial to the interest of the Republican party and consequently in opposition to the spirit of fair representation to both parties in so far as it makes possible the election of three Democratic representatives to Congress from the great city of Boston, and

Whereas, We believe that the city of Boston should be so divided as to assure the certain election of at least one reprentative of each of the great parties.

It was unanimously resolved by the North Dorchester Republican club in regular meeting assembled, that the proposed plan of the redistricting committee be rejected in so far as Boston is concerned and one adopted that will give a sure representation to each of the leading political parties in the congress of the U. S. from that city, and it was.

Further resolved that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the Republican state committee, the senators and representatives representing Boston and be made public through the columns of the press.

—A new United States coin, with a hole in the middle, is what people will be using before many months, for the government has decied to coin such a piece of metal. Its value will be exactly three cents and it will be composed of nickel. The theory of this idea is that the hurried handler will be enable to at once detect the value of the coin by his sense of feeling. Some such safeguard is necessary for the reason that it is very nearly the size and weight of the present five-cent nickel.

AT MT. WOLLASTON.

The Cemetery Attractive for Memorial Day---New Monumenis.

While the unusual amount of rain this spring may have been bad for some things, it was just what was needed to give the grass a good start. No where is this shown to better advantage than at Mt. Wollaston cemetery. The grass here presents a beautiful shade of green, and never has the cemetery looked better at this season of the year.

A large number of lots are now on what is known as the lawn plan and the large level plots add greatly to the beauty of this sacred spot.

Supt. Nicol has a large gang of men at work putting the lots in condition, but with the stormy weather it has been a case of hustle to get everything in shape before Memorial day. Everything however is carried on in a systematic manner, and when Memorial day arrives the people or the lo owners will have no reason for complaint.

Quite a number of memorials have been set up this year but the larger part of them are small headstones. The largest stone is that set upon the Furnald lot. This consists of a base and massive die, sarcophagus in shape. It is of dark Quincy granite and highly polished.

Another pretty memorial is that placed to the memory of Miss Ruth Randall. This is cut of white marble, and is very handsome.

A very pretty cottage monument has also been erected on the Cobb lot.

Near here is an odd-shaped memorial, on the Granai lot. This consists of a small base of Quincy granite, upon which rests a polished pink Westerly column. Surmounting the column is a portrait bust of a woman which is cut in white Westerly.

But little has been done with the land between the cemetery and Sea street as yet, but it is probable that some action will be taken in the nea future.

Lower Fares.

When the various street railways in this vicinity were consolidated, it was announced that the general public would benefit thereby. This has proved true to Quincy at least. One of the greatest benefits was the reduction of fares by the putting into operation of the free transfer system. Then the timetables were changed so that close connections are made in City Square with cars for all points. Now it is announced by th Old Colony street railway that the fares on the through line of cars to Nantasket beach are to be reduced. For the past few years, the single fare from Neponset to Nantasket has been twenty cents or a round-trip ticket could be purchased for 35 cents. The fare this summer will be still lower. No round trip tickets will be sold from Neponset but three five cent fares will be collected between Neponset and Nantasket making the round trip 30 cents.

From Quincy Centre the fare to Nantasket will be but ten cents, or twenty cents for the round trip. This can not make the line other than a popular one and as it is one of the prettiest street car rides in the state the street railway will have no reason to complain for want of patronage.

There is a general complaint however, that the timetables are not advertised, so that patrons may know when cars may be expected.

Committee on Reception.

Mayor Hall has issued the invitations to the following gentlemen to serve as a committee to confer and act with the committee from the Council in the preparation for the reception of the President, if he comes to Quincy in July: Hon. Russell A. Sears, John Shaw, Charles L. Hammond, Edward E. Jameson, A. C. Smith, President Stonecutters' Union; Alexander Marnock, President Granite Manufacturers' Association; William A. Bradford, President Master Builders and Traders' Association.

Ship Builder Hurt.

Robert Barton, aged 18 years, residing on South Central avenue, was slightly injured at the Fore River works yesterday. He was working on the deck of the Des Moines when he slipped and fell into the hole of the vessel. He was taken to the City Hospital. His injuries were mainly bruises.

Ward Two Polls.

Assistant Assessor Keating has completed his work assessing polls in Ward Two and the result shows an increase of twenty per cent in the number of polls over last year. The increase in round numbers is 194 and the total number of assessed polls is 954.

A Legitimate Investment

Which Increased Over 700 per cent.

WITHIN SIX MONTHS.

The Arcola Oil Company's stock sold for $135 per 1,000 shares, and in six months $1,000 per 1,000 shares was refused for the stock, for the reason that the first well was a large producer and there is room for forty wells on the Company's land, which makes it about certain that the stock in the near future will be worth ten dollars per share.

We offer you the same opportunity for a large gain by investing in the Dirigo Oil Company's stock, the first block of which is being sold for $150 per 1,000 shares. The Company owns a block of land adjoining the Arcola Company's land which has large producing wells on all four sides. There is eighty acres of the Company's land in the center of the oil belt, which we feel absolutely certain will give a large producing well in each acre.

We now have machinery on the ground, and are ready to sink the first well, and expect to strike oil by June 1st, which will then make the stock worth par value, if the well is as good a producer as the Arcola.

The block of stock we are selling is about three-quarters sold and quick application will have to be made to secure any of it at the present price.

COVER THEM OVER.

Cover them over with beautiful flowers;
Deck them with garlands, those brothers of ours,
Lying so silently by night and by day,
Sleeping the years of their manhood away.
Give them the meed they have won in the past;
Give them the honors their future forecast;
Give them the chaplets they won in the strife;
Give them the laurels they lost with their life.

Cover the hearts that have beaten so high—
Beaten with hopes that were doomed but to die—
Hearts that have burned in the heat of the fray—
Hearts that have yearned for the home far away.
Once they were glowing with friendship and love;
Now their great souls have gone soaring above.
Bravely their blood to the nation they gave;
Then in her bosom they found them a grave.

Cover the thousands who sleep far away,
Sleep where their friends cannot find them today;
They, who in mountain and hillside and dell,
Rest where they wearied and lie where they fell.
Softly the grass blades creep round their repose;
Sweetly above them the wild flow'ret blows;
Zephyrs of freedom fly gently o'erhead,
Whispering prayers for the patriot dead.

When the long years have rolled slowly away,
E'en to the dawn of earth's funeral day;
When at the angel's loud trumpet and tread
Rise up the faces and forms of the dead;
When the great world its last judgment awaits,
When the blue sky shall fling open its gates,
And our long columns march silently through,
Past the Great Captain for final review.

The Tents of The Silent

The village of Brokenstraw had two cemeteries. One lay to the east of the settlement, on the road to Birchville. It was surrounded by a neat, white picket fence and boasted a large, square gateway of quite imposing dimensions. It was laid out in severe squares and stiff paths and rigid triangles and, like many another country graveyard, was devoid of shade.

Every lot was well trimmed and carefully weeded. Many possessed rustic chairs and benches. Thrift and care were apparent on every hand. Brokenstraw was proud of the East cemetery and always pointed it out to strangers with commendable vanity.

"Thar hain't nothin," said Deacon Paget, the oracle of Brokenstraw—"thar hain't nothin thet so sets off a town as a well kept graveyard. Thar hain't nothin thet shows the enterprise uv the place so well. Jest look at the East cemetery an see what the town's made uv thet, an then compare it with thet miserable, shiftless buryin ground on the hill. Why, 'tain't nothin more nor less than a parsture. It's a disgrace to the hull community."

The burying ground on the hill was west of the village. A wooded height rose abruptly from the town, and on its summit was the neglected graveyard. It was a lovely spot. Grand old pines and maples swayed above the few lonely graves. The mountain laurel and sweet brier perfumed the woods in summer, and the scarlet teaberries peeped through the moss in autumn. A winding path, thickly overhung with outstretching boughs, led up the hill and around its brow, from which an extensive view of the valley below was obtainable. It was a spot for the poet and dreamer, not for the typical village materialist.

"The buryin ground on the hill" was an eyesore to the hamlet of Brokenstraw. The inhabitants had long desired to obtain possession of it that they might hew down the mighty trees, clean out the dense forest underbrush, put up a smart picket fence and fix things up generally, according to the standard of rural graveyard gardening.

But the place belonged to a private estate and there was an heir who steadfastly refused to sell because, he said, he did not propose to have one of God's first temples turned into a gingerbread pagoda.

Not in the least understanding what he meant, the citizens of Brokenstraw were perforce obliged to content themselves with their show cemetery and to revile the burying ground on the hill as a worthless old brier patch.

The boys who had marched away from Brokenstraw to defend their country and had been brought back wrapped in her flag were all laid in East cemetery—that is, nearly all.

Up in the hill burying ground, away back under a clump of evergreens and a dense carpet of myrtle, was an unmarked grave. It was that of William Bond, private, One Hundred and Twelfth regiment, New York volunteers, who fell at Spottsylvania.

Some one brought William Bond home, and with singularly bad judgment, according to the lights of Brokenstraw, laid him to rest on the hilltop instead of the valley. Private William Bond's grave had been neglected and well nigh forgotten for many a year.

So, when Brokenstraw began to plan a grand Memorial day service, as a matter of course all the preparations centered about the East cemetery. No mention whatever was made of the burying ground on the hill.

"Thar's goin to be great doin's Memorial day, I hear," said the widow, Jane Bump, who was calling on Miss Hetty Pringle one early May afternoon.

Miss Hetty, a faded, withered old maid, stopped paring apples long enough to murmur a gentle assent. The widow, who was an acknowledged authority on all the gossip of the district, rattled volubly on: "They're a-goin to hev the band over from May Town, an Elder Scott's a-comin from Durkeyville, an they tell me that Lawyer Frank Griswold is to speech make. I heerd him last year to Sherman, an, land, 'ow he did holler! He's got a voice you kin hear more'n a mile, an when he called on them soldiers by name, in Sherman buryin ground, I shouldn't hev ben one mite surprised to see 'em git right out of their graves. Gabr'el's trump wan't nothin to it." And the widow who was facetiously inclined shook her rotund shoulders with laughter.

Miss Hetty smiled sympathetically and went on paring apples.

"Then, after the exercise, singin by the Presbyterian an Baptist choirs an prayin by the ministers an yellin by Lawyer Griswold, then the band'll play real solemn music, an everybody'll go round an lay flowers on the soldiers' graves. Oh, it'll be grand! It's high time Brokenstraw was up an a-doin somethin like this. I tell the folks we're way behind the times."

"I suppose," said Miss Hetty nervously, "that they'll decorate in both cemeteries."

"Both cemeteries!" cried the Widow Bump in amazement. "Why, there hain't no soldiers buried on the hill!"

"There's William Bond," said Miss Hetty timidly, and even as she spoke a faint flush crept to her faded cheek, as the dying rays of the sunset illumine for one instant a frosty, icebound landscape.

"William Bond!" with a sort of disdain. "He! Why, Miss Hetty, you know he never amounted to a row of pins. He was a wuthless, shiftless critter. I dunno why anybody should want to decorate him."

"And yet he died for his country just as much as the others," interposed Miss Hetty, with a trembling voice.

"Well, good land, Hetty Pringle, who is a-goin to climb that hill an scramble through them berry bushes to put flowers on the grave of sech a good for nothin" —

"Don't!" said Miss Hetty, rising fiercely. "I can't bear to hear you speak so of him—of any man who gave up his life for his country."

"Waal, waal," retorted the widow testily, "I dunno as it hurts him. He's been dead long enough, so he shouldn't have no feelin, an as for you I do remember now you was kinder sweet on him. Waal, waal! No offense." And the widow took herself away to tell the story at her next visit.

Miss Hetty sat as one in a dream. The panorama of her simple life unfolded before her. She saw herself young and fair again; she recalled a handsome, happy go lucky face she had loved many years ago—the face of the ne'er do well of the village; she heard again his voice as he said goodby to her: "When I come back, I'll try to be different. I'll make a man of myself, and then—Hetty!"

She remembered how she had answered that question. Again the lonely little old maid felt strong arms infold her and the pressure of young lips on her cheek. But he never came back to claim her, and he lay now alone, forgotten by his former neighbors and friends—by all save by one faithful, sad old heart.

Twilight deepened into night. Miss Hetty rose and, lighting her lamp, sat down to read, as was her evening custom. Tonight she picked up a volume of old verse. It was one William Bond, private, had given her when they went to school together. The first poem that caught her attention was:

How sleep the brave who sink to rest
By all their country's wishes blest?
By fairy hands their knell is rung;
By forms unseen their dirge is sung.
There Honor comes, a pilgrim gray,
To bless the turf that wraps their clay.

Miss Hetty sighed, turned over a few pages and read:

On Fame's eternal camping ground
Their silent tents are spread,
And Glory guards with solemn round
The bivouac of the dead.

"Their silent tents!" The words rang in Miss Hetty's ears. She pictured the tents of the living—a vast forest of snowy canvas, the white tents of an army. From the corners of her fancy came suddenly the crash of splendid brasses. She saw flags fluttering, heard sharp commands, the tramping and neighing of horses, the jingle of accouterments, and then a bugle call cut the silence of the lonely little room.

The scene suddenly changed to the tents of the silent—those low, green tents whose curtain, as the poet has said, never outward swings. And one low, green tent on the summit of a lofty hill and away in the depths of a solemn forest especially appealed to her. Miss Hetty dropped her book and, leaning back in her chair, closed her eyes and fell to musing in her simple fashion on what she had read.

No matter, she thought, if all the world forgot William Bond, private. Honor, a pilgrim gray, at time repaired to his green tent to bless the turf that wrapped his clay, and Glory guarded with ceaseless round the bivouac of the dead soldier. And she? She would not neglect her duty. Like Honor, a pilgrim gray, or like Glory, the loyal sentinel, she would not forget, she would not forget.

And so it came about that when all Brokenstraw and the dwellers in the country round from the flats to Tater hill, headed by the Waytown brass band and the orators and the citizens in carriages, took their blatant and resplendent way to the East cemetery the fragile, bent, old figure trudged wearily in the opposite direction. Before sunrise Hetty Pringle had broken her cherished sprays of white and purple lilacs and gathered the early violets and primroses at her kitchen door. From her house plants, too, she had picked some gorgeous fuchsias, geraniums and gloxinias. The willow basket she carried on her thin arm was quite overflowing with color and perfume.

"Hello, Hetty! You're goin the wrong way," many said who met her walking slowly westward. She only smiled gently and shook her head. No; she knew she was going the right way.

As she climbed the long, steep hill the strains of the band in the valley,

HER GRAY HAIR MINGLED WITH THE LILACS AND MYRTLE.

mingled with roars of applause as Brokenstraw greeted the orator of the day, floated up to her. She stopped, listened and smiled. It was all right. She was glad Brokenstraw was enjoying itself. All her little world was down there.

But Miss Hetty did not feel alone on her sacred quest. She was sure that Honor kept step with her and that Glory marched at her side.

On and on she trudged. It was a tramp even for a strong man. When she reached the summit, she was well nigh exhausted, but she sat down on a stone and rested awhile and then went on.

She scrambled through briers and stumbled over stones. It had been many a long day since the little, frail old lady had undertaken such an arduous task. She was faint and weary when at last she reached the tent of the silent.

She looked steadfastly at the low mound, quite covered with the dark green, waxen leaves of the myrtle. Then, sinking down upon her knees, she tenderly laid her lilacs upon it.

Up from the valley came the ring of martial music—"Rally Round the Flag, Boys!"

The little old lady's hand shook as she scattered the purple lilacs with the white. She saw William Bond, private, marching away to that tune. How straight and proud and handsome he had looked that day!

As she caught up a handful of splendid scarlet geraniums and laid them over the dust of her girlish love the band in the valley was softly playing:

Brave boys are they,
Gone at their country's call,
And yet, and yet we cannot forget
That many brave boys must fall.

The speeches must be over, she thought. They must now be decorating the graves in the valley. And she was decorating the grave on the heights.

She felt no weariness. She seemed to be singularly rested and happy. What was that the band was playing now? Up through the dim aisles of the forest, among the solemn pines and hemlocks that seemed to bend their heads to listen, there was borne on the soft, balmy spring breeze the dirgelike refrain of an old, old song, one the lonely watcher had long loved—"Departed Days."

She caught her breath and listened eagerly. Departed days, sweet, departed days! But, strangely enough, she felt no sorrow, no repining. Departed days? Ah, no, not departed, but returning.

Her head suddenly fell forward on the grave. Her slender arms seemed to embrace it. Her gray hair mingled with the lilacs and myrtle. The loyal old soul had swung aside the curtain to the tents of the silent.—New York Herald.

An Eccentric Bullet.

At the battle on the peninsula an infantryman fell to the ground as if shot dead and was left lying in a heap as the regiment changed position. The ball which hit him first struck the barrel of his gun, glanced and struck a button of his coat, tore the watch out of his vest pocket and then struck the man just over the heart and was stopped there by a songbook in his shirt pocket. He was unconscious for three-quarters of an hour, and it was a full month before the black and blue spot disappeared.

A Day of Remembrance.

Here, by a costly monument;
There, by a humble stone,
This bearing eulogistic phrase,
That simply marked "Unknown,"
O'er each grass hidden mound of earth
Today a flag is set,
A token that our soldier dead
We ne'er forget.

It matters not the station, rank,
Of him who lies below.
"He fought for freedom and the flag,"
Is all we care to know,
And high or low, o'er all alike,
Our fragrant wreaths we lay
And bring our offerings to our dead
On Mem'ry's day.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning May 26—Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

TOPIC.—Missions: Promises and prophecies.—Ps. ii.

The second psalm, like the first, is without inscription. In some manuscripts it is joined with the first, but their utter lack of unity is apparent to all, and for this reason they were separated. This psalm "rings with the tramp of gathering armies and notes of lofty challenge addressed by the poet to the invaders of his country. It must have been written when Jerusalem was threatened by a confederacy of hostile powers." The allies must have been tributary monarchs, but who they were and what occasion is here described are unknown. God has decreed the success of His chosen people, and the poet calls upon the assembled nations to exercise wisdom and to serve the Lord rather than oppose Him. "Kiss the Son lest He be angry with you and ye perish in the way, for soon His wrath is kindled; blessed are they that find refuge in Him."

This psalm is a prophecy of the rebellion of the nations of the earth against the kingdom of Christ. In the first instance, it commemorated a national event, but it is by no means to be limited to this application. The poet speaks in the beginning of an earthly king and his wars, but his words are not exhausted in their reference to these. "The local and the temporal are swallowed up in the universal and eternal. The King who sits on David's throne has become glorified and transfigured in the light of the promise. The true King, who to the prophet's mind is to fulfill all his hopes, has taken the place of the visible and earthly king. The nations are not merely those who are now mustering for the battle, but whatsoever opposeth and exalteth itself against Jehovah and His anointed." This prophecy has been signally fulfilled. The heathen have raged. The kings of the earth have set themselves against the Lord and against His anointed. If they still do so and oppose the progress of His kingdom, we should not be surprised or discouraged, but should strive the more earnestly to advance His cause.

This psalm is a promise of the final success of Christ's kingdom. It contains a sweeping and definite promise to this effect. "Ask of Me, and I shall give thee the heathen for thine inheritance and the uttermost parts of the earth for thy possession. Thou shalt break them with a rod of iron; thou shalt dash them in pieces like a potter's vessel." Christ has asked for the uttermost parts of the earth, and God is fulfilling His promise. The heathen are raging and imagining a vain thing. They have not, and they cannot successfully oppose the spread of Christ's kingdom. Their only hope is in accepting the Christ and in serving the Lord, and we, like the psalmist of old, should be anxious to show unto them the path of wisdom. We should do our part in sending those to them who know the folly of their position and will instruct them to be wise, to serve the Lord and to reverence the Son lest He be angry and destroy them.

THE PRAYER MEETING.

Make a special study of missionary prophecies and promises.

BIBLE READINGS.

Gen. iii. 15; Ps. lxxii, 1-19; Isa. xxxv, 1-10; xlii, 1-7; Dan. ii, 31-45; Math. xiii, 31-33; xxviii, 19, 20; Acts xiii, 46, 47; Rom. x, 14, 15; Phil. ii, 1-11.

The Joy of Heart Service.

Show me an effective Christian, and I will show you one whose whole heart is in love with Jesus and with doing good. The will to serve his Master is at no loss to find the way. He is always abounding in the work of the Lord. On the Sabbath he consults his heart rather than the barometer and is stormproof at the hour of his mission school. When the evening of the prayer meeting comes, it often finds him weary after a long day's work, but he says, "I cannot afford to miss my Master tonight." Nor can his pastor afford to miss him. So he fires up the engine once more, and with a wide awake heart in a weary frame he sallies off to the gathering of Christ's household. Martha is there after all her domestic toils, and Mary is sure to be there also, hungering for a word from her Lord. Does a lover ever find a night too cold, too dark or too stormy for him to venture off to see her in whom his soul delighteth?—Theodore L. Cuyler in American Friend.

The Heart of the Christian.

The heart of the Christian is a crucible into which God pours or permits to be poured all kinds of joys and sorrows, successes and failures, losses and crosses, good and ill, prosperity and adversity, much of which is anything but good in itself, yet which under the master hand of the Divine Chemist works together for good and issues in eternal blessing to those who love God. Let us love our Lord, and then, come what may, the issue will be good.—Rev. J. Knox Montgomery.

The Greatest Thing.

The greatest thing in the world is love. So says Drummond. But there can be no real love without faith, just as there can be no fruit without a plant or a tree on which it is to grow. The tree comes first, then the fruit; so faith comes first, then love. Love is greater than faith simply because it is the finished product. Faith is the root, love the fruit.—Lutheran.

Life's Journey.

Does life's strange and wayward journey
Aimless seem,
A wayward, courseless dream,
Where deep woes betide,
Where hopes are crucified?
Beyond our vision's ken God works our weal,
Forever near;
Amid life's pain and misery why feel
One fear?

Minority Report Defeated

Havana, May 25.—The minority report of the committee on relations was yesterday defeated in the Cuban constitutional convention, by a vote of 19 to 9. The majority report will be read and discussed today. The Conservatives believe the final vote on the bill will be taken Monday.

A Quaker City Tragedy

Philadelphia, May 25.—A sensational attempt at murder and suicide took place at a hotel here last night, when John A. Jenkins of Brooklyn attempted to kill a young woman named Mae Barber of this city, and then blew his brains out while in the grasp of a policeman.

New York, May 25.—The New York Central railroad yesterday contracted for the erection of the largest operating grain elevator in the world. It is to be built in Weehawken, at the terminal of the West Shore road, and will have a capacity of 2,000,000 bushels.

General Railroad Strike Now In Contemplation

SUGGESTION OF O'CONNELL

To Tie Up Mechanical Service of the Roads In Case of Refusal to Grant Nine-Hour Day Without Reduction of Wages—New Strike Headquarters

Washington, May 25.—President O'Connell of the International Association of Machinists announces that he will recommend to the next annual convention of machinists at Toronto, beginning June 3, that a date be set for a 9-hour day, without reduction in wages, on all the railroads of the country. On railroads which fail to comply with this demand a strike will be ordered. The recommendation will be made in Mr. O'Connell's annual report.

Mr. O'Connell says that a railroad strike would involve probably 100,000 men, including 40,000 machinists. The policy will be to enforce the demand by tieing up practically the entire mechanical service of the roads. It was simply a matter of policy, he said, that the railroads were not involved in the present strike. Although a number of them are now involved, none of the roads was originally contemplated in the order declaring the present strike. Mr. O'Connell says the convention doubtless will fix a date when the 9-hour day must be in operation on all roads, and he believes this date should be some day in the autumn.

Mr. O'Connell says the outlook of the present strike is very gratifying. The headquarters of the strike has been shifted from Washington to Toronto, for which city President O'Connell left last night. He will stop en route at Pittsburg and Buffalo, and possibly some other city to confer with local strike leaders, and will take charge of the Toronto headquarters Sunday night.

The signature of the George Lawley & Sons' corporation, boat builders, to the 9-hour agreement was the most encouraging feature of yesterday in the machinists' strike at Boston. There are now 1171 machinists on strike in that city, according to the union figures.

As a result of the machinists' strike at San Francisco all of the United States army transports needing repairs are to be sent to the Mare Island navy yard, where the work will be done. The Sherman was the first vessel to go to the navy yard under this new order of the government authorities. The strike situation at San Francisco is unchanged neither side showing a disposition to yield.

Committees representing machinists and their employers of the Chicago district met yesterday to try and reach a settlement of the wage question. Considerable interest is felt in the conference, as any agreement which the committee reaches may be taken as a basis for a settlement of the machinists' strike throughout.

Carpenters' Strike Threatened

Newton, Mass., May 25.—At a mass meeting here last night of union and non-union carpenters of Newton, Watertown and Waltham, it was voted to demand an eight-hour day, without reduction in wages, on and after June 1. A failure to comply with the carpenters' demands will probably precipitate a strike that will affect 1000 workmen.

Agreement Will Stand

Portland, Me., May 25.—It was expected that the bricklayers would hold a meeting last night to discuss the refusal of the contractors to have the compromise agreement amended. They did not meet, however, and this fact is said to indicate a purpose to let the agreement stand as it is.

Lost In Wall Street

New York, May 25.—Paul Stockman, a wall paper manufacturer, 60 years old, was taken from the Gilsey House to the Bellevue hospital last night, suffering from morphine poisoning. He left a letter directed to an undertaking establishment, telling of the disposition to be made of his body. It is said that Stockman lost considerable money in the recent Wall street flurry.

From Prince to Count

Berlin, May 25.—Prince Bernhard of Saxe-Weimar, who, under the dynastic law, has been compelled, with his wife, to leave Germany for the United States, has voluntarily relinquished the princely title and the right of succession. In consequence of this act, the Grand Duke of Saxe-Weimar has awarded to him and his wife the titles of Count and Countess of Crayenberg.

Travis Meets Defeat

Rye, N. Y., May 25.—Walter J. Travis, who holds the title of amateur champion of the United States, forfeited the title of metropolitan champion yesterday by being beaten in the semi-final round in the metropolitan golf championship contest by Charles H. Seeley of the Wee Burn Golf club, near Stamford, Conn.

WEEKLY TRADE REVIEW

Boot and Shoe Business Prospering to a Remarkable Extent

New York, May 25.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: The labor situation is the cloud hovering over the business world, but difficulties are not sufficiently widespread at present to seriously interfere with the progress of manufacture and distribution. Meanwhile prices hold firm, the capacity of producing plants in the leading industries is well employed, and crop advices are satisfactory.

A feeling of confidence in the permanence of values appears to have settled in all divisions of the iron and steel manufacture. All lines of finished steel are crowded to the limit of productive capacity, and machinery houses at Chicago are granting machinists' demands rather than risk delay. At some other points, however, employers appear more stubborn, and there is prospect of serious interruptions to business.

Although slightly smaller than in the two preceding phenomenal weeks, shipments of boots and shoes from the east were more than 100,000 cases. The great forwardings were caused by the urgency of buyers who had allowed their goods to accumulate at the shops until they were needed. Seasonable weather at last brought trade up to expectations, and the heavy movement resulted.

Textile fabrics still exhibit the least animation, and conditions at Fall River cotton mills are far from encouraging, further reductions in time and possibly in wages being under discussion. Woolen mills exhibit a little more activity and buy raw material.

Correspondents report the winter wheat outlook steadily improving, and there is every reason to anticipate an abundant harvest.

Roeber Got the Decision

New York, May 25.—Ernest Roeber was given the decision over Nouroulah, the Turkish wrestler, after a severe struggle lasting 20 minutes at the Academy of Music last night. The conditions were that Nouroulah should throw Roeber three times within an hour, Graeco-Roman style. All other holds above the waist were allowed. When Roeber broke from a hammerlock, after 26 minutes of wrestling, the Turk slipped his arms below Roeber's hips and raised him by the thighs high in the air. Roeber's seconds jumped into the ring yelling "foul." Police Captain Gannon refused to allow the match to be continued, and Roeber was declared the winner.

Laid Four Years In Woods

Newcastle, N. B., May 25.—A stream driver named Hubbard brought word yesterday of finding the remains of a man in the thick woods near the Little Southwest Miramichi. They were the remains of W. C. Onslow, editor and owner of the Newcastle Advocate, who disappeared four years ago. He had gone out partridge shooting with his son. They became separated and the elder was never seen, though the woods were scoured. Articles found with the remains leave no doubt as to identity.

Clergy Blamed For Agitation

Berlin, May 25.—The anti-German agitation in the province of Posen has assumed alarming proportions, and the Prussian government has forbidden all Polish indoor or outdoor meetings for the pentecostal holidays. Dr. Studt, minister of education, said that the Polish Catholic clergy had instigated the whole movement, and he expressed a hope that Archbishop Stablevski would advise the clergy to desist from such agitation. The archbishop thereupon left Posen on a month's leave of absence.

The North Carolina Floods

Charlotte, N. C., May 25.—Reports from remote counties in the mountain districts show great destruction by the storm. In Bakersville, 16 residences and the Baptist church were washed away. Two men were drowned. Every house in Magnetic City was destroyed. At Roan Mountain station 20 residences were swept away. Six large stores on Big Rock creek were carried away, and one man drowned.

An Active Young Fraud

Portland, Me., May 25.—Gus Edwards of New York, aged 19, has confessed to having, a month ago, broken into a clothing store here, where he had been at work. He returned to the city yesterday, and during the brief interval between his arrival and arrest had procured several small orders of goods fraudulently, and disposed of them at pawn shops.

Porto Rican Infantry

Washington, May 25.—An order issued at the war department directs that the present Porto Rico regiment of infantry be retained and reorganized as a provisional regiment of two battalions of four companies each. The enlisted men of the regiment will be composed of natives as far as possible.

Fishermen Rescued

Canso, N. S., May 25.—Schooner Pilgrim called here yesterday to land two strayed fishermen, Gulton Francois and Foyle Marines, of the French fishing schooner Marguerite. The men got astray from their vessel on May 17, and were picked up three days later in a wretched condition.

Child Cannot Be Found

Bath, N. B., May 25.—A party of about 100 men have been searching in vain for 4-year-old Lucy Dugan. Wednesday afternoon, as she and her elder sister were returning from school, a dog attacked them. They ran and the elder girl reached home, but the little one has not been seen since.

New York, May 25.—The New York Yacht club sent another letter to Thomas W. Lawson, owner of the Independence, and gave out to the press the letter, together with the correspondence between Commodore Ledyard and Mr. Lawson over the sailing of the Independence in the trial races, with a view to its possible selection as the defender of the America's cup.

The letter makes it clear that it is still entirely possible for the Independence to enter the trial races under the conditions named in the New York Yacht club's first letter to Mr. Lawson upon his qualifying his boat to sail under the flag of the New York Yacht club.

The correspondence began on April 29, with a letter from Commodore Ledyard, chairman of the regatta committee, in which Mr. Lawson's attention is called to a communication sent to Designer Crowninshield several months previous, as to the conditions which would govern entries for trial races. The committee states that it is "compelled to hold that a vessel in order to enter the trial races must be qualified to fly the flag of the club, and must be under the responsible management of one or more of its members, and that, if selected to defend the cup, these conditions must continue to exist until after the conclusion of the match."

"The committee believes," the letter goes on, "that they are expressing the unanimous sentiment of the N. Y. Y. C. in saying that the appearance of the Independence as a competitor for the honor of defending the cup would be very heartily welcomed. They are not forgetful of the distinguished part which Boston yachtsmen have taken in these events in the past, and they are anxious to extend to the Independence every possible courtesy, consistent with the duty of the club as trustees of the America's cup."

Coming to recent correspondence on the subject, Mr. Lawson, on May 23, expressed regrets that the committee misconstrued a previous letter and says: "My case is a simple one. At an early stage of building the Independence I was obliged to answer false public statements and in answering I took the position that it was impossible for me to give my boat to any individual. Later, when your committee opened correspondence with me, it was, as I tried to show you, impossible under the existing conditions (not ideal conditions which might have been), for me to give my boat to an individual. The cases of Edwin D. Morgan and W. Butler Duncan, I insist are in no way similar. These gentlemen were selected by their fellow club members for the highest honor within their gift, and acceptance by these gentlemen of the ownership or management of the Columbia and Constitution has not placed them in anything but an enviable and honorable light.

"I regret, as does your committee, if it should happen that our correspondence ends in anything but the pleasantest manner, and I beg to repeat to you, I hold myself in readiness to do anything which it is possible for me to do to enable the Independence to race, that in the wise judgment of your committee, is deemed best, and I pledge myself that if your committee notifies me it is impossible, I do not care for what reasons, for my boat to take part in the cup defense, I will cease all efforts in that direction and do all in my power to dispel any had impression that may exist by arranging to, in some other way to settle, to the satisfaction of all yachts men and others, the question of which is the best American boat."

The last letter from the committee to Mr. Lawson was written yesterday and is as follows:

"You appear to entertain an erroneous impression concerning the position of Mr. Duncan and Mr. Morgan. These gentlemen were not selected as managers of the Constitution and Columbia by the members of the club. In each case the selection was by the individual owners of the yacht and the arrangement was one wholly between such owners as individuals on the one side and the gentleman selected as manager on the other.

"This committee certainly does not propose to notify you that it is impossible for your boat to take part in the trial races for the cup defense. On the contrary, it has very distinctly notified you that it is entirely possible for her to take such part and has fully explained to you the conditions which it is open to you to avail yourself of for the purpose of qualifying her for the match."

Won't Race Until Fall

Boston, May 25.—The Hull-Massachusetts races for the Lawson $1000 cup will be postponed until early in the fall, as the result of the Shamrock II's accident. It now seems sure that the Shamrock II will come to Boston, as Sir Thomas Lipton's cablegram to Mr. Lawson practically announced his acceptance of the invitation sent to him several weeks ago by the Hull-Massachusetts club.

Perhaps Ward One will show a larger gain in polls than Ward Two this year.

Mount Wollaston cemetery is one of the prides of the citizens of Quincy, and grows more and more beautiful each year. The grounds are well cared for by the city and the lot owners, and the abundant rain this year has brought the grass forward rapidly. As granite is a home product many large and beautiful memorials are to be found there, and the number grows each year.

The new Twelfth Congressional District takes in about all the towns in Norfolk County, resulting in good old family reunions at future district conventions. Those Boston delegates were a terrible menance to the good intention of their country brethren.
—Hyde Park Gazette.

And yet Quincy, the only city in the county, will be forbidden to attend these old family reunions by the Great and General Court, if it adopts the report of the committee on Congressional districts. Naturally our relations are closer with Norfolk county than South Boston.

Drift of Opinion.

☞What strikes John Bull with some force these days is that he is paying war taxes and getting no war worthy of the name.—Detroit Journal.

☞If there is a considerable number of children unable to attend school because of nervous disorders, caused by overstudy, as is claimed, it is time to overhaul the course of study and do some plentiful pruning. Possibly it might be well were more attention given to bringing up healthy children for this life than educating them for the angel choir.—Brockton Enterprise.

☞The general redistricting committee amended the map of the subcommittee by taking Upton from the third district and placing it in the 12th, and the only reason that has appeared up to date for the action is that it is a Republican town and Congressman Thayer wanted it out of his way. If the dealings between the committee and a Republican congressman should be conducted so openly and frankly what a cry there would be.—Haverhill Gazette.

—In his every way delightful speech to the Universalist in national convention assembled in Boston during this anniversary week, Senator Hoar recalled the celebrated distinction between Universalists and Unitarians; that the former believe God is to good to damn them, while the later believe they are too good to be damned. Were it not that the Senator is a loyal Unitarian, he might have gone even a step further in paying compliments to his happy hosts. He might have said that the Universalists have the advantage, since they are likely to find less difficulty than the Unitarians in convincing everybody of the correctness of their belief.—Boston Daily Advertiser.

UNDER ONE FLAG.

The Blue and the Gray Are Firmly United.

The Memorial day procession has come to be regarded as an annual event equal in importance to Independence day. It is the only day of the year in the civil calendar in which United States troops regularly join with the citizen soldiers, the Grand Army and others in a celebration that is purely that of the civilian, for the militiaman is looked upon in the same light as the civilian, according to the ethics of the regular army. Each year these processions show more clearly than all else the fact that the ties which bind the north and the south together as one country are steadily growing stronger and stronger. Ten years ago to see a man wearing the Confederate gray marching in the Memorial day procession would have been considered almost sacrilege. Today it is not only not unusual, but a welcome event to the Grand Army posts composed of the very men who fought so long against an enemy thus clothed.

Memorial day, 1901, witnesses the almost complete obliteration of the sectional line that the fratricidal conflict caused. The man who today in politics "waves the bloody shirt" is scorned by his fellows and laughed at generally for his lamentable ignorance of the fact that the time when that sort of buncombe proved popular has gone forever. This is the day when the people of the north and the south, recognizing the truth which the years have separated from the bitterness of defeat and the egotism of victory, join hands in decorating the graves of the men who fought for the causes they believed to be right. The "bloody chasm" is closed forever. The blue and the gray stand arm in arm. On the shield which hangs before them is the motto which both are ready to uphold, "Victory and Union, Now and Forever, One and Inseparable."—Pittsburg Dispatch.

MORGAN, THE RAIDER.

A Funny Incident on One of His Raids.

"Morgan was regarded by the Union soldiers as a holy terror," said one of the famous cavalry leader's men, "and stories have been spread among them reciting how he shot down his captives and gave mercy to none. On the contrary, he was kind hearted, as those who knew him can attest. He was fond of a joke, though. On one of our raids we captured about 25 Union men near Murfreesboro, Tenn. They expected nothing else than to be shot down after the general had first eaten a good meal. They began to talk about it so excitedly that some one reported the matter to General Morgan. Walking from his tent, he ordered the prisoners to be drawn up in line. Then, mounting his horse, he rode to the center of the small column and said to them that they must be acquainted with his methods of getting rid of prisoners and he personally regretted that such a fine looking body of men had fallen into the hands of a man who, it was known to them all, sacrificed human life as though he were shooting down a fatted calf.

"One little Dutchman at the head of the line grew weaker and weaker as the general's speech wore on, until he finally burst into tears, exclaiming:

"'Oh, for Gott's sake, vot vill mine family do?'

"The general's heart was touched. Riding up to the little Dutchman, he placed his hand on his head and said:

"'Why, God bless you, my man, I would not harm a hair of your head for my life. You were all so scared on account of the bad repute in which you held me that I thought I would play a practical joke on you.'"—Louisville Courier-Journal.

The Origin of "Yankee Doodle."

By many nations has the air of "Yankee Doodle" been claimed. It is said that it was first sung as a vintage song in the south of France, and in Holland the reapers were used to lighten their labors with its lively strains.

The tune was first sung in England in the time of Charles I, and after the uprising headed by Cromwell the cavaliers used it to ridicule the Puritan, who was said to have ridden into Oxford on a small horse, with his single plume fastened into a knot which was derisively called macaroni. "Yankee Doodle" was introduced into America in June, 1755. When Braddock assembled the colonists near Albany for an attack on Forts Niagara and Frontenac, a British army surgeon, Dr. Richard Shuckburg, seeing the "old Continentals in their ragged regimentals," recalled the picture of Cromwell on the Kentish pony and, writing down the notes of "Yankee Doodle," gave them to the uncouth Continental band as the latest martial air from England. The joke became apparent 25 years later, when to the music of "Yankee Doodle" Lord Cornwallis surrendered to these same Continentals.—Saturday Evening Post.

Death List of the Civil War.

The official statistical exhibit of deaths in the United States army during the civil war shows a total of 359,528 who died between 1861 and 1865. Of these there were 9,854 officers and 349,944 men. The number killed in action was of officers 4,142; of men, 62,916; of those who died from wounds in action, officers 2,223, men 40,789; of disease, officers 2,795, men 221,791; of accidental deaths, except drowning, officers 142, men 3,972; drowned, officers 106, men 4,838; murdered, officers 37, men 488; killed after capture, officers 14, men 903; committed suicide, officers 26, men 366; executed by United States military authorities, men 267; executed by enemy, officers 4, men 60; died from sunstroke, officers 5, men 308; other known causes, officers 62, men 1,972, and causes not stated, officers 28, men 12,093.—St. Louis Republic.

Whooping Cough.

A woman who has had experience with this disease tells how to prevent any dangerous consequences from it. She says: Our three children took whooping cough last summer, our baby boy being only three months old, and owing to our giving them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, they lost none of their plumpness and came out in much better health than other children whose parents did not use this remedy. Our oldest little girl would call lustily for cough syrup between whoops.—JESSIE PINKEY HALL, Springville, Ala. This Remedy is for sale by all druggists.

New Horticultural Hall.

The proper housing and exhibition of plants, which has now been an object of careful study for nearly 300 years, presents problems that make many of the arrangements of a horticultural building radically different from those of a building designed for any other purpose. In the new Horticultural Hall in Boston the earth floor of the large exhibition hall has already attracted considerable notice. This floor, about 112 feet long by 52 wide, is of gravel to a depth of two feet, and the idea which it represents is taken from the great Casino at Ghent, Belgium, where horticulture has been practiced as an art longer than in any other part of the world. Its purpose is to allow the pots containing, for example, the wonderful rhododendrons and azaleas that are to fill this section of the great flower show that opens the new building from May 29 to June 5, to be sunk in the floor itself, the surface then covered with fresh turf, and the hall thus transformed into a veritable indoor garden of flowers.

ANOTHER VICTORY.

Milton High defeated by Quincy High in an Exciting Game.

The game of Friday with the Milton High marks the end of a week of victories for the Quincy High School Ball Nine.

In spite of a wind swept field and a crowd too shivering to be enthusiastic, the playing of both teams was snappy and at times brilliant.

The same steady playing, and the ability to bunch hits when needed, features which characterized the Dedham game, won this second game for Q. H. S.

For six innings the game was close enough to be doubtful; then the Quincy players rallied and by a succession of well-placed hits, aided by a fielding error added five runs and scored a lead which Milton in spite of a rally in the eighth inning, was unable to overcome.

For Milton, the quick and sure fielding of Mahoney, Bannon, Healey, McKay and Donovan deserve special mention. The steadiness which the Milton pitcher, Martin showed in critical parts of the game, and a difficult running catch of Donovan also deserve commendation. Martin struck out nine men.

For Quincy, Captain Lewis pitched his usual cool and steady game, striking out nine Milton players he was well supported by Nichols. The fielding of Tupper, Fallon, Hardwick and Hayward deserve merited praise. Tupper's clean handling of a swift line drive, Fallon's one hand stop of a stinging liner resulting in a neat double play and Lewis' stop of a hard line hit were features of the game.

The batting was strong. Tupper, Fallon, Hardwick, Histon, Nichols, Hayward and Wright made timely hits which counted.

The consistent improvement which the Q. H. S. team has made in every department of the game should be highly gratifying to those interested in High school base ball.

Expected a Snap.

Concerning the ball game this week, the Dedham Transcript says: "Dedham High played Quincy High at Stone Park Wednesday afternoon and for six innings played good ball and had 'a dead sure cinch' on the game. At the opening of the seventh inning the home players went into the air, became rattled as it were and allowed the game to slip away from them. They strove hard to regain the ground lost in that one fatal inning but to no purpose. There was really no excuse for losing the game, but—well let us draw the curtain and forget the boasts of certain ones that it was a real easy snap they were to find in the Granite City baseballists. Capt. Kelley had his Hyde Park strike out suit on. Next time don't let the snap get so far ahead before waking from a Rip Van Winkle sleep.

"No," said the girl to the wrong young man, "my new dress won't be finished in time, and mamma doesn't want to go, anyhow.

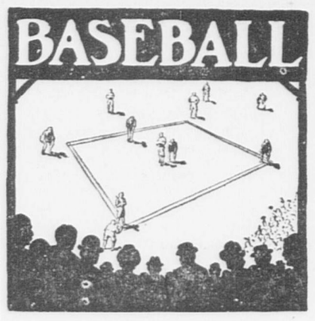

"I'm so sorry. Besides, I am going with Mr. Jones."—New York Record.

DAMON—In North Scituate, May 24, Frank A., son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Damon.

North Weymouth A. A.

The North Weymouth A. A. will be represented by a fast team on the diamond this year. The management of the association has decided to play most of the games away from home, owing to the lack of support the team received last year and will open the season Decoration Day, playing West Quincy in the morning at West Quincy and the Norfolks at Weymouth in the afternoon.

The players who will start the season for North Weymouth are Mack, who has done nearly all of the backstop work in the past; Mulane, late of Quincy, and Riley, who was with Everett last year, will do the pitching; Coughlin of Quincy will cover first base; Kearns will play second as usual: Connors, the little wonder from Roxbury, shortstop; Taylor, late of Wells Memorial, third base. The outfield will have such stars as Monahan, late of Woburn; Riley, a local man, and H. Mullane of Quincy.

No Loss of Time

I have sold Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea, Remedy for years, and would rather be out of coffee and sugar than it. I sold five bottles of it yesterday to threshers that could go no farther, and they are at work again this morning.—H. R. PHELPS, Plymouth, Oklahoma. As will be seen by the above the threshers were able to keep on with their work without losing a single day's time. You should keep a bottle of this Remedy in your home. For sale by all druggists.

FRUIT AND FLOWERS

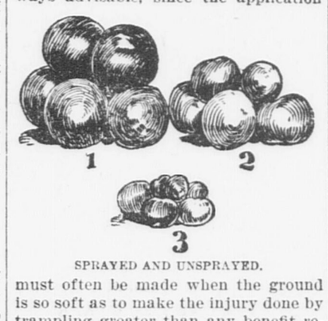

SPRAYING APPLES.

For Two Serious Pests, the Scab and Codling Moth.

Two serious enemies of the apple growing industry are the apple scab and the codling moth. These in turn find their deadly foes in bordeaux mixture and paris green. It was a few years ago estimated that 60 per cent of all losses from disease and insects to the apple growers of Illinois was due to apple scab fungus. In other sections it is a common source of large losses. It attacks first the leaves and afterward the young fruit, causing it to drop. It develops when moisture is abundant, during the early months of the season, and low temperatures are usually prevalent at such times.

The following summary of points to be remembered in spraying apple trees for scab and codling moth has been given by the Illinois station as the result of much experience and observation:

The early spraying with copper sulphate on the dormant wood is not always advisable, since the application

must often be made when the ground is so soft as to make the injury done by trampling greater than any benefit received from the spray.

The first application of the combined solutions of bordeaux mixture and paris green, made just before the flower buds open, is, with respect to the apple scab fungus, the most important spray of the season.

The second application of bordeaux mixture and paris green, made immediately after the blossoms fall, is, with respect to the codling moth, the most important, yet is of great value, too, for the apple scab fungus.

A third application of bordeaux mixture and paris green should be made in eight or ten days after the blossoms have fallen and in many instances another after a period of two weeks.

The figures show specimens of the best apples from trees treated as follows: No. 1, sprayed with copper sulphate and three applications of bordeaux mixture; No. 2, two applications of bordeaux mixture, before and after blossoms appeared; No. 3, unsprayed.

Budded or Grafted?

So far as I have ever tried or seen others try both budded and grafted apple trees, I know of no material difference in favor of either. There are too many millions of root grafted trees in successful bearing to warrant the statement that they are not good. The argument has been advanced that in the central and western states there are very many of the young trees which have been propagated by grafting that are now failing while yet quite young. This is true, and it is from climatic causes. They bear earlier and much more heavily than in the east. Budded trees are doing the same and show equal signs of early death or failure. I am at this time in western Washington and have just been in Idaho and Oregon, where these conditions prevail, and know from observation on the ground, and I have often seen the same elsewhere, affirms Dr. Van Deman in Rural New Yorker.

Gloire de Lorraine Begonia.

Begonia Gloire de Lorraine and its varieties have come rapidly to the front during the past three or four years and may now be found in excellent condition in many parts of the country. The system of leaf propagation is equally as successful as cuttings. These are generally struck in cocoa net fiber refuse, where this medium is used for plunging purposes. Thus each leaf will quickly root with scarcely any attention. As a basket plant Gloire de Lorraine is excellent. Whether the white variety will prove as popular as the pink is a question to stand over for the present.

Covering Tree Wounds.

Among popular conclusions arrived at from the general experience in using various preparations, such as shellac varnish, liquid grafting wax, tar and white lead paint, for healing wounds made in pruning trees is that, taking all things together, nothing seems to be better than covering the wounds with common lead paint, somewhat thick, and that grafting wax is a close second. Wax is the superior to paint in the matter of healing, but it does not last so well, nor is it so convenient to apply.

A Bold and Handsome Flower.

The handsome African poppy sends up 10, 15 or 20 strong stalks five or six feet high, bearing upon the top of each one a large blossom of dark red color with a coal black spot at the base of each petal. It is attractive for color, size and setting. If you have a home so located that it is conspicuous a mile up and down the road, that would be an attractive spot to put in one of those plants.

Japan Maples.

The Japan maples, delicately dwarf in habit, color most beautifully in spring and fall, but with the hot summer sun lose much of their beauty.

UNDER HEAVY BONDS

Dowie and Three Disciples Are Held For Causing Woman's Death

Chicago, May 25.—John A. Dowie, "overseer of the Christian Catholic church," was arrested here yesterday pursuant to the action of the coroner's jury, which has declared him "criminally responsible" for the death of Mrs. Emma L. Judd. H. W. Judd, a disciple of Dowie and husband of the alleged victim, was also arrested. Both men were taken before Judge Tuley, who admitted them to bail. Two "maternity" nurses, who are said to have attended Mrs. Judd, were also arrested and later released under bonds.

Mrs. Judd died a week ago at Dowie's Zion, after 16 hours' suffering. Her infant also died, and on expert medical testimony before the coronor that the ordinary treatment given by medical practitioners would have saved her life easily, Judd, the two nurses and Dowie are now held to await the action of the grand jury.

For Dowie and Judd bonds were fixed at $10,000 each, while the women were released on sureties of $5000 each.

Creedon Knocked Out

Louisville, May 25.—In a desperate and bloody contest, Hart, the plumber pugilist, knocked out Dan Creedon here last night in the sixth round of a contest scheduled for 20 rounds. Hart weighed 170, and Creedon one pound less. As Creedon lay under the ropes Dave Sullivan, one of his seconds, began sprinkling water on him before 10 seconds of the count had been reached. Like a flash some one struck Sullivan on the head and a rough and tumble fight was started, with half a dozen rubbers, bottle-holders and backers in the mixup. The police with clubs finally restored order, and the fight was awarded to Hart.

DeRodays Bounced

Paris, May 25.—A change in the editorship of The Figaro yesterday was a veritable coup. A meeting of the shareholders was held yesterday afternoon, and at 10 o'clock last night M. Perivier appeared at the office as editor, and insisted upon M. De Rodays leaving. The latter drew a revolver. The commissary of police was summoned, but he refused to interfere. Finally M. De Rodays was induced to depart. A majority of the staff refused to obey M. Perivier, who summarily discharged them, and appointed new editors. The paper appeared at the usual hour this morning.

McKinleys Journey Homeward

San Francisco, May 25.—President McKinley has completed his program in this city, having met every organization included in the original schedule. Mrs. McKinley's health has so far improved that the president and his party begun the return journey to the national capital at 10 a. m. today. The president's public functions yesterday included a reception to the members of the foreign consular representatives of this city, a reception by the Sons and Daughters of the American Revolution and the Loyal Legion in honor of the president, and a review of the schoolchildren of Oakland.

Seeks Information From Jones

New York, May 25.—Charles F. Jones, the valet-secretary of the late William M. Rice, has received a letter from J. H. Patten, a lawyer of Grinnells, Ia., who represents persons who claim to be relatives of the late millionaire. According to statements made by these persons, Rice's father was Peter Rice, a French-Canadian, and his mother a German woman, whose maiden name was Annie Baker. Patten thinks Jones may be able to help the Iowa Rices to prove themselves heirs of the dead millionaire.

Enough to Stock a Store

New York, May 25.—Armed with the search warrant, John E. Overton, inspector of the New York State Game Protective association, continued his ransacking of the premises occupied by the Artic Storage company, in his search for game illegally kept. When the work was stopped last evening over 2000 rabbits, quail, snipe and pheasants were found. Several cases of venison were also discovered.

Holding to Original Figures

Berlin, May 25.—It is semi-officially asserted that the resolution by the ministers of the powers in Pekin not to reduce the Chinese indemnity below 450,000,000 taels is final, and also that China accepts this, thus rendering approximate reimbursement of the expeditionary expenses of the powers certain.

What a Would-Be Poisoner Gets

Wilmington, Del., May 25.—Ernest Dutton, colored, who yesterday pleaded guilty to administering poison to William Ellegood, colored, his father-in-law, with murderous intent, was sentenced to receive 60 lashes, the limit; stand one hour in the pillory, be imprisoned four years, and pay a fine of $5000.

Held For Boston Officers

New York, May 25.—Detectives arrested Mary E. Coleman, colored, at her boarding house here yesterday on information from Boston, where she is charged with the larceny of $680 from Alexander Anderson. She was committed to the tombs to await requisition papers from Massachusetts.

BIG COLLEGE CONTEST

Records May Fall at Track and Field Championships.

NEW MEN IN THE COMPETITIONS.

Uncertainty as to This Year's Winner—Albert Plaw of California an Able Shot Putter—Duffy of Georgetown to Run—A Comparison.

The annual intercollegiate athletic championship meet to be held May 24 and 25 on Berkeley oval, New York, will be one of the greatest of the series. An unusually large number of entries have been received by Secretary James E. Sullivan of the Amateur Athletic union, under the rules of which organization the contests will be run off, and everything points toward record breaking competitions.

ALBERT PLAW.

The championship events will be particularly interesting this year because of the number of new men who have come to the fore in the collegiate arena. Dewitt of Princeton will probably win in the hammer throw, and Albert Plaw of the University of California, another newcomer, is in line to capture the shot put. Each of these men has done remarkably good work in the early spring try outs, and their ability is unquestioned.

The University of Pennsylvania will not have the easy time of former years in carrying away first honors. Kraenzlein, the famous hurdler and sprinter; McCracken, the hammer thrower and shot putter, and Alexander Grant, the long distance runner, have been declared ineligible for the games by the Quaker faculty.

This lends an air of uncertainty to the events in which these stars formerly figured so prominently.

From the present outlook Yale and Harvard seem to show up the stronger, although Princeton, Cornell and Pennsylvania are dangerous rivals. The latter will be especially strong if the redoubtable Tewksbury is in form and enters the competitions.

Arthur Duffy of Georgetown, the holder of the world's record for 100 yards, will be the choice of the knowing ones as winner of this event, especially after his showing in the recent relay carnival at Philadelphia, where he covered the distance in ten seconds flat without any apparent effort. He seems to have wholly recovered from his breakdown which put him out of the race in Paris last summer.

In the intercollegiate half mile Perry of Princeton will in all likelihood win the prize. Perry has few equals in this particular event. Gallagher, the captain of the cross country team of Cornell, is a man who will figure in the long runs. Gallagher has wonderful endurance and is almost sure to duplicate some of the exploits for which he has become famous.

Famous Cricketer Re-enters Game.

The lovers of the game of cricket in this country will hail with delight the announcement that George Stuart Patterson, the wonderful player, will again take up the game. Mr. Patterson has begun practice on the grounds of the Germantown Cricket club of Pennsylvania. Mr. Patterson, until his retirement, was generally recognized as the greatest cricket player in America, being both an excellent bowler and an unequaled batsman.

No Cheap Ball For Andy.

Andy Freedman says that New York will not play 25 cent ball in Philadelphia this year or any other year. This means that when New York goes to Philadelphia the Quakers will have to double the price of admission the same as they did last year. Brooklyn and New York both compelled the Philadelphians to raise prices.

McGovern and Erne Compromise.

It has been learned that a compromise regarding the question of weights had been effected and that Terry McGovern and Frank Erne will meet at San Francisco on June 2. Erne is ready to meet McGovern at 133 pounds, weigh in at the ring side instead of at 7 o'clock, as at first proposed by the Buffalo pugilist.

BUT TWO SURVIVORS

Disaster Overtakes the Woolen Steamer Baltimore on Lake Huron

East Tawas, Mich., May 25.—The wooden steamer Baltimore foundered in Lake Huron, near Au Sable, yesterday, and 12 of her crew of 14 were drowned. Two men were tossed about the lake for several hours, lashed to a piece of wreckage, and were finally picked up by the tug Columbia and brought here. John McGinnis, a deck hand, one of the rescued, became insane from his experience. The other survivor, Thomas Murphy, second engineer, was able to tell the story of the disaster.

"We were bound from Lorain to Sault Ste Marie," he said, "and had in tow a large steam drill and scows. When off Thunder bay, last night, Captain Place saw that the steamer was making bad weather, and decided to turn about and run for Tawas for shelter. Everything went all right until we were off Au Sable, when the steamer struck heavily on the bottom.

" 'It is every man for himself now,' shouted Captain Place," continued the engineer. "The look of despair on Mrs Place's face was something I shall never forget. It was awful. McGinnis and I lashed ourselves to a ring bolt in a piece of the after cabin, and we were washed overboard shortly afterward.

"The strain was too much for McGinnis, and he went crazy before we had been in the water long. He tried to throw me off the wreckage, but I talked to him and encouraged him to hold on. Twice he got loose and tried to drown us both, but each time I succeeded in quieting him. The passenger steamer Holland passed us this morning, but we were too far away for her crew to see us, I believe.

"The Columbia finally came along and picked us up just as I was about to give up hope. I am afraid all of the rest of the crew were drowned, including Mrs. Place."

ON THE DIAMOND

At Boston—

Pittsburg won by bunching four singles in the eighth inning. The fielding errors were all excusable, the day being cold and raw, and at times so dark the ball was hardly perceptible.

Revision of Faith Favored

Philadelphia, May 25.—The Presbyterian general assembly, by a vote which showed conclusively that a revision of the confession of faith is desired by the church, yesterday defeated the amendment dismissing the whole subject. The assembly decided by an overwhelming majority to continue the consideration of the great question.

Quite a Tidy Sum

Washington, May 25.—A statement, prepared at the internal revenue bureau shows that the total receipts from the war revenue act up to April 30, 1901 were $300,137,884, of which $105,702,142 came from documentary stamps $94,361,128 from beer, and $45,264,714 from tobacco.

Santiago Medals of Honor

Washington, May 25.—The naval board of awards is understood to have reached a tentative decision upon the design for a medal of honor for those who participated in the naval battle off Santiago bay. The medal will bear the head of Admiral Sampson.

Smallpox at Dedham

Dedham, Mass., May 25.—Miss Mary Pedrick, residing with her parents on Mt. Vernon street, is ill with smallpox Miss Pedrick worked in Boston.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Several New England cotton mills, with head offices in Boston, considering the question of dividends, have voted to reduce the amount or drop them.

Switzerland has awarded to Herr Krupp a contract for equipping the entire Swiss field artillery with Krupp guns, and the Krupp works are again under full time.

Timothy Sullivan, 3 years old, died at Fall River, Mass., from shock, following burns after coming in contact with fire.

Henrik Ibsen, the Norwegian dramatist, has suffered a second stroke of apoplexy, and his condition is now almost hopeless.

Everett McFarland, aged 33, was run over and instantly killed by a street car at Brewer, Me. He had fallen across the track at a dark spot where the motorman could not see him until it was too late to stop the car.

The supreme court of Rhode Island has decided that a jury is not necessarily illegally selected if its members are not drawn from the several towns in the order in which their names appear on the list.

The final decision in the suit involving the possession of the Columbia theatre, Boston, was handed down by Chief Justice Mason, confirming J. J. Grace's action in taking the property from Manager Chamberlain by reason of breach of lease.

A REDUCTION OF WAGES

Favorably Viewed by Fall River Manufacturers

ARE NOW IN HARMONY

Regarding the New Curtailment Plan—Fine Goods Mills Likely to Follow Agreement to Reduce Wages—New Bedford May Follow Suit

Fall River, Mass., May 25.—Eleven names have been signed to the agreement to reduce wages and curtail production. Included among them are the managers of mills making no committee goods. The mills that make half committee goods and half wide goods are still hanging back.

Of the needed names to complete the list at least five have signified an intention of signing when it is clear to them that any large proportion of the mills desire to enter the plan. The members of the selling committee are now working for the adoption of the agreement.

All the fine goods mills will be allowed to do as they please about the matter of wages and curtailment, but it is well understood that if the mapority of the mills agree to reduce wages it will be but a short time before the fine goods mills will follow suit.

A man in touch with the management of the New Bedford mills says if the reduction and curtailment agreement is adopted in Fall River, the mills in New Bedford will cut wages at least to the Fall River basis. This will compel the Fall River fine goods mills to do as the fine mills in New Bedford do. It is also stated that all the fine goods mills in Fall River are not opposed to the wage-reduction movement, as had been supposed. Some mills making fine goods are indifferent about the matter, and others would sign an agreement to reduce if they were asked. They will not curtail production by agreement.

The chief significance of the situation lies in the fact that the signatures already appended to the agreement include men who, until a week ago, were not agreed as to the better policy to pursue in relieving the pressure on the mills. The men who promoted the meeting of the Manufacturers' association and the men who were disposed to allow the selling committee to recommend corrective measures or pursue a course independent of the suggestions of large stockholders, have apparently come together, and are now working in harmony for the adoption of the agreement. The men who are asking for a modification of the curtailment portion of the proposition may be able to prevent a unanimous movement, but the impression of those best informed is that an agreement will be reached within a few days.

Thought to Be Sneak Thief

New Haven, May 25.—In the person of Robert S. Simpson, alias Dr. R. E. Delaney, "sanitary inspector for the board of health," the police believe they have a man wanted in several places. It is claimed that Simpson's "sanitary inspector" dodge was a blind for sneak thieving in the houses of wealthy people. He had several watches on his person and clippings indicating operations in many cities.

Widow Will Pay Shortage

Cambridge, Mass., May 25.—Mrs. Elsie Foster, widow of Fred C. Foster, who committed suicide in Cambridge Wednesday, has offered to make good whatever shortage is found in her husband's accounts as treasurer of Harvard lodge, A. O. U. W. After this action she will probably receive the insurance due her on her husband's death. The shortage will probably amount to less than $200.

Storti's Appeal Not Allowed

Boston, May 25.—Judges Putnam and Lowell, sitting in the United States court, yesterday, dismissed the writ of habeas corpus brought in the interests of Luigi Storti, the condemned murderer, for want of jurisdiction, declined to allow an appeal because they felt it was frivolous and informed counsel that no further proceedings could be filed without leave of the court.

Weltz Won't Give Up

Lynn, Mass., May 25.—The board of health last night reconsidered its former vote to give William E. Weltz, the deposed inspector of milk, a hearing on May 27. They decided that they were not obliged to do so, inasmuch as Weltz's term of office expired on May 1, at which time they appointed Alexander Wright as his successor. Weltz will take the matter into court.

Indictments Against Lewis

Windsor, Vt., May 25.—The grand jury yesterday reported three indictments against ex-Cashier D. H. Lewis of the wrecked Farmers' National bank of Vergennes, alleging embezzlement and two false entries. It is believed that the grand jury also took further action in the bank cases, but whether to find further indictments against others is not known.

Dead Body Found

Haverhill, Mass., May 25.—The body of the man found in the river here yesterday was identified last evening as that of Thomas Cole, who disappeared from his home in Lowell on Monday last. It was known that he was slightly unbalanced in his mind, and was in the habit of wandering about aimlessly.

Offer of Half a Million Accepted

Lowell, Mass., May 25.—By a unanimous vote, the stockholders of the Boston and Montana Mining and Smelting company yesterday voted to dissolve the company, and to sell the properties. This action is the result of an offer of $500,000 for its mining properties.

Retrospect.

It is an evil day for the wife and mother when she scans her worn face in the mirror, and asks the question, "Does it pay? Does it pay to sacrifice health and happiness to wedded love?" But there is another question which rightly takes precedence of Does it pay? It is this: "Is it necessary to sacrifice health and happiness to wedded love?" Half a million women answer, No! They have been weak and have been made strong by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. They were sick and "Favorite Prescription" made them well. It will do the same for almost every woman who gives it a fair and faithful trial. It stops weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It tranquilizes the nerves and encourages the appetite.

"I expected to become a mother, and a threatened mischance greatly weakened me," writes Mrs. E. A. Nations, of Witts Springs, Searcy Co., Ark., "and my old disease returned. My husband got another doctor for me but I seemed to just drag along and get no better. At last I told the doctor that if his medicine did not help me I would go back to Dr. Pierce's medicines. I did so, and by the time I had taken them one month I could do my own housework, except washing, and tended my garden too. I was stouter than I had ever been while waiting baby's coming since my first baby came (this one was the sixth child). She is now eleven months old and is a healthy child. As for me, I feel as young now as I did at eighteen years of age; am thirty now. I can cheerfully recommend Dr. Pierce's medicine to all suffering womankind."

THE FOOD WE EAT.

EXCELLENT DYES EXTRACTED FROM FOOD PRODUCTS.

Uncle Sam Will Show Specimens of White Silk Dyed With These Extracts at the Pan-American—Chemicals and Good Roads.

A few years ago the adulteration of food became so general as to cause wide alarm, and a crusade was instituted against the practice which imperiled the health of the nation. Legislatures were apprised of the dangers, and stringent laws for the suppression of food adulteration were passed. Great good was accomplished, but the evil has not yet been entirely wiped out, and the agitation must continue.

There must be a wider spread of knowledge regarding the food we eat before the beginning of the end of the practice of adulteration comes in sight.

The importance of the exhibit to be made in the Division of Chemistry of the Department of Agriculture of the United States Government at the Pan-

American Exposition can hardly be estimated. In this exhibit will be shown pure foods and food adulterants.

There will be displayed in an attractive form the principal typical manufactured foods in a state of purity. Each of the exhibits will be accompanied by analytical data showing the composition and nutritive value of the sample. In connection with these will be illustrated the principal adulterated forms of these foods, accompanied with a statement showing the nature of the adulterant and the amount thereof contained in a given quantity of food.

The principal adulterants employed will also be illustrated in bulk with statements showing their properties and the dangers of their indiscriminate use.

The principal adulterants illustrated will be preservatives and coloring matters, and in connection with coloring matters skeins of white silk will be shown colored with the dyes extracted from food products. This exhibit will not only be typical of manufactured and adulterated foods, but will also be educational in showing the character of these foods and their value as nutrients.

An illustration of the beet sugar industry of the United States will be given. A large map will show by shaded areas the parts of the country best suited to the growth of sugar beets with a high content of sugar. This map will also show the locations of existing sugar factories as well as the locations of those which are in process of building or projected.

The exhibit will consist of samples of products from the various factories of the United States, showing all products from the perfect beet to refined sugar.

An illustration will also be given of the byproducts used for cattle food and the various forms in which the refuse of the beet factories is employed for that purpose.

In conjunction with this exhibit will be a complete representation of all the apparatus employed for the analysis of beets for determining their richness in sugar and for the control of the factory operations.

This exhibit will be to a certain extent retrospective, showing the different forms of apparatus which have been employed from time to time. It will also contain, however, all the latest improvements in forms of laboratory apparatus and appliances for the study of the sugar beet.

Statistics in a convenient tabular form will also be shown representing the possibilities of the industry and its present magnitude. Photographs of all the leading beet sugar factories will be exhibited illustrating the methods of construction, field operations and factory progress.

There are at the present time 40 beet sugar factories in the United States, representing $15,000,000 of capital, and the output of sugar annually is about 100,000 tons, worth $10,000,000.

Each of the exhibits will be accompanied by analytical data showing the composition and nutritive value of the sample. In connection with these will be illustrated the principal adulterated forms of these foods, accompanied with a statement showing the nature of the adulterant and the amount thereof contained in a given quantity of food.

The principal adulterants employed will also be illustrated in bulk with statements showing their properties and the dangers of their indiscriminate use.

The principal adulterants illustrated will be preservatives and coloring matters, and in connection with coloring matters skeins of white silk will be shown colored with the dyes extracted from food products. This exhibit will not only be typical of manufactured and adulterated foods, but will also be educational in showing the character of these foods and their value as nutrients.

An illustration of the beet sugar industry of the United States will be given. A large map will show by shaded areas the parts of the country best suited to the growth of sugar beets with a high content of sugar. This map will also show the locations of existing sugar factories as well as the locations of those which are in process of building or projected.

The exhibit will consist of samples of products from the various factories of the United States, showing all products from the perfect beet to refined sugar.

An illustration will also be given of the byproducts used for cattle food and the various forms in which the refuse of the beet factories is employed for that purpose.

In conjunction with this exhibit will be a complete representation of all the apparatus employed for the analysis of beets for determining their richness in sugar and for the control of the factory operations.

This exhibit will be to a certain extent retrospective, showing the different forms of apparatus which have been employed from time to time. It will also contain, however, all the latest improvements in forms of laboratory apparatus and appliances for the study of the sugar beet.

Statistics in a convenient tabular form will also be shown representing the possibilities of the industry and its present magnitude. Photographs of all the leading beet sugar factories will be exhibited illustrating the methods of construction, field operations and factory progress.

There are at the present time 40 beet sugar factories in the United States, representing $15,000,000 of capital, and the output of sugar annually is about 100,000 tons, worth $10,000,000.

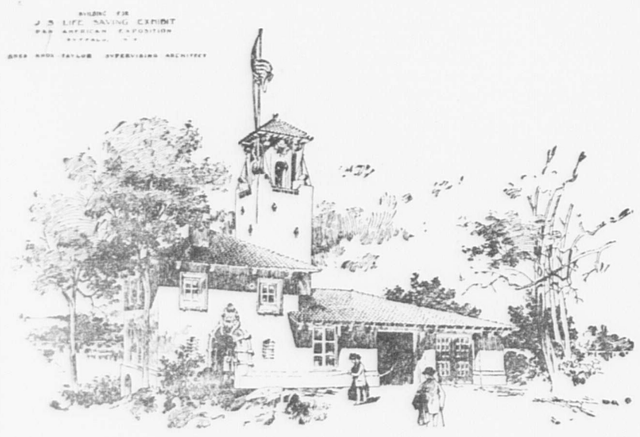

The third section of the exhibit of the Chemistry Division will be illustrative of the physical and chemical constitution of the materials used in the construction of roads. The importance of good roads to the progress of agriculture is universally admitted, and the Secretary of Agriculture has lately established in the Division of Chemistry a Road Material Laboratory.

The object of this work is to determine by careful chemical and physical tests the composition of the materials best suited to the manufacture of good roads. The exhibit will consist of the road materials en bloc, together with the results of artificial attrition. The fine dust obtained by this process is molded into cubes under great pressure and then subjected to the blows of a small hammer until disintegrated. The cubes of these materials will be exhibited, together with the fragments obtained by their disaggregation under blows of a given magnitude. The chemical composition of these materials is also carefully studied and will be shown in appropriate tables.

From all these experiments the coefficient of wear is calculated, thus showing the utility of the material in question for the construction of a durable road.

It is believed that this exhibit will be unique in character and not only of great interest to those who believe in good roads, but also attractive and instructive to the public at large.

AMPLE ACCOMMODATIONS.

Buffalo Will Be Able to Take Care of Exposition Visitors.

Buffalo will be able to accommodate all the visitors to the Pan-American Exposition next summer. The city has a large number of permanent hotels with accommodations for a great number of guests, besides hundreds of boarding and lodging houses. In addition, a number of large apartment houses have been converted into hotels, and several caravansaries with accommodations for from 1,000 to 5,000 persons have been erected near the Exposition grounds. Many of these are of a new fireproof construction. Outside of all these provisions for the housing of visitors, there will be thrown open more than 3,000 private dwelling houses with an average accommodation for 16 persons each.

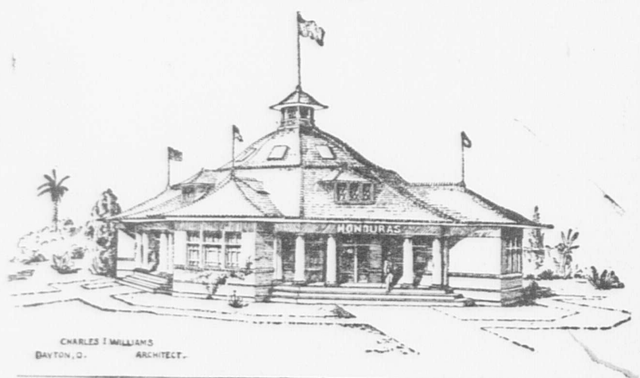

The city of Buffalo will be able to care for at least 150,000 persons, while the suburbs will provide for 50,000 more. The rates will be reasonable.

Government Life Saving Station.

The United States Government has as one of its exhibits at the Pan-American Exposition a Life Saving Station, with lifeboats and their appurtenances and a captain and crew of ten men, the object being to show the methods employed in the saving of life along the coasts.

The Life Saving Station is situated on the north shore of the Park Lake, near the southern entrance to the Exposition grounds. It is in the form of an L, the main part being 69 feet 6 inches by 29 feet, and the wing, which faces the water, being 34 by 14 feet.

The structure is two stories high and is surmounted by a tower 12 feet square and rising to a height of 60 feet above the water. The style of architecture is the Spanish renaissance, the walls being covered with staff and highly colored.

Honduras Building.

The Honduras building at the Pan-American Exposition is located in the western part of the Court of State and Foreign Buildings. It faces the approach and overlooks a portion of Delaware Park and the Lake. The building is designed with an octagonal rotunda surrounded with wide porches on three sides and with pavilions on four sides, the remaining side being occupied by the kitchen and toilet rooms. The central rotunda and two of the pavilions are intended for exhibits of the country's products. There are a cafe and offices for the commissioners in the other two pavilions.

Gathered In and About the Halls of Congress.

Congressman Hitt's Reminiscence of Senator Green — A Statesman at Church—Amos Cummings as a Raconteur—General Grosvenor's Story of Tom Corwin—Power of Facial Expression—Whigs and Democrats of Long Ago.

[Copyright, 1901, by Champ Clark.]

One of the most lovable men I ever knew is Hon. R. R. Hitt of Illinois, chairman of the great committee on foreign affairs. He has spent nearly his whole life in the practice of statesmanship. When a mere boy, he reported stenographically the great Lincoln-Douglas debates, which in itself was a liberal political education. Then he spent several years in office in Washington. For eight years he was secretary of legation at Paris under Elihu B. Washburn and for much of that time was charge d'affairs. He was assistant secretary of state under Blaine. He has been in congress many years. He would make an ideal embassador or secretary of state. He excels in the delicate art of story telling.

Too Little Debate.

Not long since in the cloakroom I was talking with him about Thomas Hart Benton, whereupon he told me an anecdote of Benton's most masterful antagonist, Senator James Stephen Green.

"Senator Green," said Mr. Hitt, "was not only a man of splendid genius, but also of charming manner. He Boarded at the National hotel, where he was popular with both gentlemen and ladies. The latter found out that the senator was not much of a churchgoer and insisted that he should mend his ways in that regard. One Sunday he was late for dinner. The ladies asked him why it was thus.

"'I have been attending divine worship,' replied the senator gravely.

"'To what church did you go, senator?' inquired the ladies.

"'I do not know,' answered the courtly Missourian.

"'Who preached?' they asked.

"'I don't know,' he said. 'I walked up the avenue, turned up Fourth street and entered a church on the left hand side.' This was an Episcopal church.

"'How did you like the services?' queried the ladies.

"'It appeared to me,' answered the senator, 'that there was too much reading of the journal and too little debate.'"

One of Amos Cummings' Stories.

Amos J. Cummings of New York carries around in his head a rich store of personal reminiscence and anecdote. He is a fine conversationalist, and when he talks in the cloakroom or elsewhere he is sure of an enthusiastic audience. Recently a member was in a feeble voice reading a speech to which nobody was listening. Conversation in the cloakroom turned on the subject of how little attention was paid, as a rule, to congressional speeches. Amos said:

"One night in the first congress in which I served an old gentleman from Pennsylvania was reading a speech for campaign purposes. He stuck close to his manuscript and read in a voice almost inaudible. Some of the boys thought they would have some fun. One arose and gravely suggested to the chair that the gentleman could not be heard. Then the gentleman from Pennsylvania would lift his voice for a minute or two, but soon it would become inaudible again. This process was kept up for some time when the Pennsylvanian lost his temper, threw down his speech, turned on his tormentors, shook his fist at them and shouted:

"'Blank you, I don't care whether you hear or not! I am not talking to you, anyway. I am speaking to the people down in the Susquehanna valley, and they will hear me!'"

A Reminiscence of Tom Corwin.

General Charles Henry Grosvenor of Ohio is not only one of the most prominent members of the house and one of its crack debaters, but is a most genial companion in private and a fascinating conversationalist.

I had read and heard much of Tom Corwin's famous speech in the house flaying General Crary of Michigan for an assault the latter had made upon General William Henry Harrison. The accepted tradition is that Corwin so thoroughly used up Crary that a few days afterward ex-President John Quincy Adams, then a member of the house, referred to him in a speech as "the late General Crary of Michigan."

Being anxious to enjoy the speech in full, I went over to the Congressional library, got a life of Corwin and read the speech as old man Harper of Kentucky used to run his horses, "from eend to eend." The more I read the more I was surprised, for, while not a dull speech, it falls far short of the high rank assigned to it by common fame—that of being the finest sample of wit, humor, irony and sarcasm in our vernacular.

I went to General Grosvenor and said, "General, did you ever read such and such a life of Tom Corwin?"

"Yes."

"Did you read his speech on General Crary?"

"Yes."

"Do you suppose that is a full and correct report?"

"Yes."

"One of two things is true," I replied; "either that report is not correct or Corwin is vastly overrated as a humorist."

"Neither proposition is true," replied the general. "Tom Corwin was not overrated, but no report of his humorous speeches, however accurate, will sustain his reputation. His wonderful effect upon an audience depended more upon his marvelous facial expression than upon anything he said. To illustrate this I will give you this instance: Once Corwin and a talented, high spirited preacher in his town got into a very hot discussion on the street and became very angry. Everybody, including Corwin, took it for granted that the preacher would skin Corwin on the next Sunday from his pulpit. So the next Sunday everybody, including Corwin, attended that particular church to enjoy the skinning. Corwin took a seat in the amen corner, facing the audience.

Did Not Know Corwin Was There.

"The preacher did not know Corwin was in the audience, but he proceeded to excoriate him nevertheless. As the preacher spoke Corwin, facing the audience, punctuated and illustrated the speech with all sorts of facial contortions and grimaces. Interrogation points, exclamation points and all sorts of points and comments appeared upon Tom's dark and mobile countenance. The audience began to smile, the smiles grew to titters, and at some severe thrust made by the preacher and some extraordinary facial grimace by Corwin the audience burst into a roar of laughter. The preacher looked around, saw Corwin and grew so angry that he quit speaking suddenly and left the victory to Corwin.

"Corwin's humor was uncontrollable," continued the general. "It bubbled out of him at all times. He was always very poor. In those days a man could be arrested for debt. A great many persons wrote to Corwin at the period of his greatest fame asking him to run for president. On one occasion a friend found Corwin in a secluded spot busy reading a pack of letters.

"'What are you doing here, Tom?' asked his friend.

"'I guess,' replied Corwin, 'that I am the only statesman in the history of the human race who was compelled to hide from the constable long enough to read letters requesting him to run for president.'"

When Grosvenor Was a Democrat.

I asked the good gray general if it was true that Corwin's famous speech against the Mexican war created as great a sensation as the books and newspapers try to make out.

"Yes," he replied; "his speech created a profound sensation. The Democrats made a great deal of capital out of it. I was a Democratic boy then," continued General Grosvenor—a confession which took my breath away—"and I remember well that we Democratic boys would roll up our sleeves, paint our arms with poke berry juice, jump out from behind trees and shout at the Whig boys Corwin's famous words about welcoming the American army with bloody hands to hospitable graves. That was great sport," said the grim general as he thought tenderly of the long vanished days of his youth.

Vandiver's Story.

"It takes all sorts of people to make a world," is an old saying. It certainly requires all sorts of men to constitute a congress.

Along with the rest, college professors sometimes come. There are several in the house now. Among them is Hon. W. D. Vandiver of Missouri, who for years was a professor in and president of the Cape Girardeau Normal school. He looks the scholar which he is, and the gentleman too. He is also a first rate hand in a rough and tumble debate or an oratorical scrapping match, as I denominate the give and take verbal encounters in the house, where no quarter is either asked or given. Not long since, after an exceedingly hot exchange of that character, in which Vandiver had been very severe and sarcastic, in the cloakroom, some of his friends were telling Vandiver that he had been too hard on his antagonist.

"No," he replied; "he began the roughhouse business and then squealed because he got the worst of it. It reminds me of two farmers out in my district. One was throwing up hay with a steel pronged pitchfork; the other was driving along the road, accompanied by a savage bulldog. The dog rushed upon the haymaker, who ran the pitchfork through the body of the canine, killing him instantly. The owner of the dog said:

"'You killed my dog. Why didn't you hit him with the other end of the pitchfork?'

"'Why didn't your dog come at me the other end foremost?' inquired the victorious haymaker. So, reasoning in the same way," continued Vandiver, "if a man comes at me gently I treat him gently, and vice versa."

Salmon's Negro Story.

Major Salmon, a Missourian, has, of course, had ample facilities for observing our colored fellow citizens and noting their peculiarities. He tells many anecdotes concerning them. Among others he says:

"Down in Georgia, when I was in the Confederate army, I formed the acquaintance of a prominent citizen who owned many slaves. Like all the rest of the southerners, he has since the war spent a good deal of his substance helping his former slaves. One of them was an old preacher, who once or twice a year would go back to his old master and mistress for clothing and a supply of commissary stores. Not long since he turned up as usual, swarthed in flannels and hobbling along by the aid of two canes. The former master said:

"'Well, Pompey, how are you getting along preaching these latter days?'

"The old colored man said: 'Ole marster, I'ze about gone. I'ze got de flocenza, de rumatis an lots of udder 'flictions, but it is written in de good ole book, whom de Lord loves he chases.'"

BRAINTREE.

The next and last of this season's vesper services which have been held at the First Congregational church will be given Sunday, June 2. Class 27 are very happy to announce that in addition to the services of Mr. Raymond as organist they have secured Mr. J. C. Bartlett, tenor at the Arlington street church, and Mr. D. M. Babcock, bass at the New Old South church, Boston.

The community mourns the departure of Mrs. Elmer E. Abercrombie into the larger world. During her residence in Braintree she became, in her quiet way, the friend of all who were acquainted with her. Her death came without warning, and far from home, at Salt Lake City, Utah, on Wednesday, May 15. The funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon, May 21 at 3 o'clock, from her home Elm street, Braintree.

The fourth recital in the series given by Miss Spear of Quincy was held Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'cloek at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. George O. Wales.

The Junior King's Daughters of the South Congregational church held a supper and entertainment, in Red Men's hall Friday evening, May 24th. It was largely attended by members and friends in spite of the rain.

Miss Mary Vining, teacher of Grade VI of the Jonas PerkinsSchool, has resigned.

Herbert Goodspeed, formerly of South Weymouth, is to move into the Loring house, corner of Allen street and Quincy avenue.

Captain Andrew F. Burrell put his yacht into the water this week. Things begin to look lively along the water front; everybody is busy getting their yachts in trim for the summer campaign.

The committee, Thomas A. Kelley, W. E. Maybury and J. Parker Brown appointed by the Union Vets to arrange for the entertainment of the Roxbury Veterans Firemen next Thursday evening will give the visitors a cordial welcome. An entertainment, banquet and speaker is the program.

Catherine, the eight year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Griffin of Elliot street, gave a party to a number of her friends on the occasion of her birthday last Saturday. There were games and music and a delightful lunch was served. Mr. and Mrs. Griffin presented their daughter with a very handsome little pony and rubber tired riding cart.

The funeral services of Henry L. Kenerson were held at the home of his daughter, Mrs. George Walsh of Elm Knoll, Monday afternoon. The interment was at North Weymouth. Mr. Kenerson was for many years a resident of that place, but recently has made his home in this village. He was 68 years of age and is survived by a son and daughter.

At the Universalist church, Weymouth, Sunday evening, May 26, the pastor Rev. Melvin S. Nash, will give an illustrated lecture on the "Civil War," with over seventy-five stereopticon views. The members of Reynolds Post 58, G. A. R., the Woman's Relief Corps, Sons of Veteran and Ladies' Aid society will attend. The public are invited. The lecture commences at 7.30 o'clock.

The Braintree Fife and Drum Corps held an outdoor practice near the standpipe, Wednesday evening.

The G. A. R. and the S. of V.'s will meet at G. A. R. hall, tomorrow afternoon at 1.30 and march to the Town hall.

The Braintree Firemen's Relief Association are making preparations to observe Firemen's Memorial Sunday on June 9.

Mrs. Nickerson and the Misses Davis, who were shot by H. E. Blood at Bridgewater, Monday, formerly lived at South Braintree.

The interlocking gang of the N. Y., N. H. & H. railroad have been at work near the Pearl street crossing putting in new switches, this week.

Mr. A. S. Pennock of Washington street was called to Cornish, Me., the first of the week in the interests of the Ossipee Electric Street Railway.

The members and friends of the Methodist church gave a parlor social at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon S. Heath, Franklin street, Thursday evening.

A case of diphtheria is reported at the home of Harrison Tobey on Tremont street.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Hannaford went on a trip to Providence, R. I., with their automobile, Wednesday.

Div. 12, A. O. H., will have its annual election of officers, Thursday evening, June 6, at Red Men's hall.

Miss Avis A. Thayer principal of the Union school has received a check from George O. Wales, and shrubery from Aubrey H illiard with which to beautify the grounds around the school house.

Mr. F. W. Crooker of Fitzwilliam, N. H., in town this week calling on friends.

Edward Rudderham has been offered a position on one of the N. E. league ball teams, but it is doubtful if he will accept the place.

Monatiquot lodge, K. of P., was represented by Messrs. Delano and Vinton at the annual meeting in Worcester, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Another dog was killed on the dangerous third rail near the Middle street bridge, Monday morning. Upon his collar was the name of A. E. Pearson.

Parents' day was observed by the pupils of the Monatiquot school, Thursday afternoon and a fine program was rendered, by pupils from the different grades.

Mrs. John Rogers and Mr. L. W. Spaulding were the winners of prizes at a meeting of the Norfolk Whist Club with Mr. Percy Cook at Weymouth recently.

Thomas B. Stoddard of South Braintree while engaged in painting Morrill Williams' house on Union street, yesterday fell from a ladder sustaining injuries to his head and shoulders. Mr. Stoddard is 76 years old.

The rumor that George Atkinson is to lose a foot on account of his recent accident, is denied. He is rapidly recovering.

The members of Antietam camp, S. of V., will turn out with the Francis Souther camp of Quincy, at Quincy, Memorial afternoon.

The Norfolks play the Hartford A. A. at Garfield Park this afternoon.

Castle Square Theatre.

Another dramatic novelty is announced at the Castle Square theatre for the coming week, this being the first production in Boston of "A Duel in Hearts." The play had its origin in a French drama which Mrs. Davenport-Lander translated and arranged for production with the "Edged Tools" and the version to be presented at the Castle Square has been adapted and rewritten from that of Mrs. Davenport-Lander by Frederick Paulding and Maida Craigen. It is essentially romantic in its character, the principal motive being found in the flirtation of its hero and heroine, while its plot is devoted to showing the dangers attending this class of social indulgence. The heroine, a brilliant society favorite, is a character calling for exceptional dramatic ability and affords opportunities for depicting a widely varied range of emotions. The cast announced for "A Duel of Hearts" is as follows: Eugene de Ligny, John Craig; Louis, Viscount de Ligny, Charles Mackay; Sir John Brooke, M. D., J. L. Seeley; Sir. Larry O'Donnell, James A. Keane; Mr. Bertram Talcott, Stanley Kent: Pierre Raton, Lindsay Morison; Robert, William J. Hasson; Lady Anita Stanhope, Eva Taylor; Countess de de Ligny, Leonora Bradley; Hon. Alicia Beauchamp, Maye Louise Aigen; Therese, Caroline Francis Cook. Following "A Duel of Hearts" on Monday, June 3d, comes a production of "Because She Loved Him So." The distribution of boxes of choice chocolate bonbons will be continued at the Monday matinees until further notice.

Keith's Theatre.

The program at Keith's Boston theatre for the week of May 27 will include, among others, the widely-known and popular Josie Sadler, who is familiar to the majority of theatregoers as "the only original Dutch girl," and in that line of comicality has no equal. Miss Sadler will be seen in a sketch called "Rosie," in which she will be assisted by Flora Finch, and singing and dancing specialties will be introduced. Sidney Grant, vaudeville's matinee idol, a clever mimetic monologuist; Smith and Fuller, musical specialists; Elsecta, a toe-dancing marvel; W. H. Clemart, an English ventriloquist; Mary Dupont, in a comedy sketch; and the Ventinis, grotesque comedians and jugglers, are among the entertainers of prominence. Director Baer's orchestra will play popular selections during the overtures, and the entire list of motion pictures in the biograph will be changed. The bill should prove one of the best of the season.

A REMEDY FOR THE GRIPPE.

A remedy recommended for patients afflicted with the Grippe is KEMP'S BALSAM, which is especially adapted for the throat and lungs. Don't wait for the first symptoms of the disease! get a bottle today and keep it for use the moment it is needed. If neglected the grippe has a tendency to bring on pneumonia. KEMP'S BALSAM prevents this by keeping the cough loose, lungs free from inflammation. All druggists sell KEMP'S BALSAM at 25c. and 50c.

COLLIDED ON A CURVE

Electric Cars Come Together With Terrible Effect

FIVE LIVES SACRIFICED

Forty Persons Injured, Some of Whom May Die—Accident Near Albany Caused By Motormen Racing For a Switch—Cars Reduced to Splinters

Albany, May 27.—Electric cars racing for a switch, while running in opposite directions at the rate of 40 miles an hour, cost five lives yesterday afternoon by terrific collision, while over 40 people, some fatally and others seriously injured, are in hospitals with the possibility of other deaths.

The scene of the accident was a point about two miles from Greenbush, on the line of the Albany and Hudson railway. The point wheer the cars met on the single track was at a sharp curve and so fast were both cars running, and so sudden was the collision, that the motormen had no time to put on the brakes before the south-bound car had gone almost clean through the north-bound, with human flesh for a buffer, and hung on the edge of a high bluff, with its load of shrieking, maimed humanity. One motorman was pinioned up against the front of the south-bound car, with both legs severed, and was killed instantly, while the other one lived but a few minutes.

Fully 120 men, women and children formed a huge, struggling, shrieking pyramid, mixed with blood, detached portions of human bodies and the wreckage of the cars. Some of the slightly injured of the men, extricating themselves from the quivering mass, began to pull people out of the rear ends of the two cars, and almost every one extricated in this way was badly injured. The few women and children who had escaped injury and death were hysterical, and added their cries to the shrieks of the dying and mutilated. Men with broken arms and bones, dislocated joints and bloody heads and faces, tried to assist others who were more helpless, and there were many cases of philosophical bravery.

Help had been summoned from East Greenbush and vicinity, and in a little time the bruised mass of humanity, with the mutilated dead for gruesome and silent company, were loaded on extra cars and taken to Albany. There the postoffice was turned into a morgue and hospital. As fast as the physicians could temporarily fix up the wounded they were taken to their homes or to the hospitals.

With both motormen killed, it was hard to get at the real cause of the accident, but it is pretty well determined that it was caused by an attempt of the south-bound car to reach a second switch, instead of waiting for the north-bound at the first siding.

The cars weigh 15 tons each, and are the largest electric cars built, but so frightful was the crash that both cars were torn almost to splinters. Both cars were filled with Sunday pleasure seekers returning from the newly-opened recreation grounds that the new railway had just opened. The south-bound car left Albany at 4:30 o'clock, and the accident occurred at 5 o'clock.

The cars on the line were running at switch headway, that is, as a car reached a siding switch it was supposed to wait until another going in the opposite direction passed. The motorman of the south-bound car reached one of the switches, but seeing no north-bound car, decided to take chances and go on to the next. It was on a curve between that the two cars met.

Seventy-Eight Miners Killed

London, May 27.—All hope of saving the 78 entombed miners at the Universal colliery has been abandoned. An explosion occurred Friday morning at the Universal colliery at Senghenydd. About 100 men were in the pit at the time of the disaster.

Relief Departments Closed

Jacksonville, Fla., May 27.—All the departments of the Relief association were closed yesterday, the commissary department having served out two days' rations on Saturday. A new system of identification cards reduces all chances of imposition.

Thirty Millions In Gold

Vancouver, B. C., May 27.—Passengers who arrived on the steamer Tees yesterday estimated the season's cleanup at Dawson at $30,000,000.

Whooping Cough.

A woman who has had experience with this disease tells how to prevent any dangerous consequences from it. She says: Our three children took whooping cough last summer, our baby boy being only three months old, and owing to our giving them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, they lost none of their plumpness and came out in much better health than other children whose parents did not use this remedy. Our oldest little girl would call lustily for cough syrup between whoops.—JESSIE PINKEY HALL, Springville, Ala. This Remedy is for sale by all druggists.

"FRESH" GERMANS

Continue to Cause Trouble For American Soldiers at Pekin

Pekin, May 27.—The United States legation guard has had its first trouble. Legation street is being repaired near the legation, and an American sentry was placed at the point with an order to direct people around by a side street. Everybody obeyed with the exception of the Germans, both officers and soldiers, who have caused the Americans sentries much trouble.

One of the German officers drew his sword and charged an American soldier, who brought his bayonet to "charge," whereupon the officer desisted. Subsequently, a German soldier charged past the sentry, who fired, hitting another German soldier near the German legation, a quarter of a mile off. This, fortunately, was only a slight flesh wound. The sentry has been placed under arrest, and Major Robertson has instituted an investigation.

The attitude of Dr. Schwartenstein, German minister, representing the civilians, and Count Von Waldersee, representing the military, as well as that of other high officials, has been particularly friendly toward the Americans, which makes all the more pronounced the unfriendly feeling evinced by a majority of the German officers and men.

This unfriendliness is attributed to the American attitude in retaining control with the legation guard of one entrance to the forbidden city, which the Germans consider a reflection upon the national honesty.

Washington, May 27.—Officials here attach no importance to the disturbance between Germans and an American sentinel at Pekin. Such affairs, while regretable, it is said, are to be expected; and especially where the difference in the language spoken might easily lead to a misunderstanding of orders.

Syrians In a Mixup

Chicago, May 27.—Boys playing with a punching bag started a riot in the Assyrian colony in Sherman street last night. Clubs, knives and razors were used and a number of persons were injured, three of them severely. A riot call was sent in, and a wagon of policemen dashed into the midst of the fighting and struggling crowd of 300 men and women. With drawn clubs the police charged on the crowd and dispersed it. The settlement was in a state of siege, and for a time it was feared trouble would arise again. A squad of policemen was on guard in the district all night, and allowed no one to leave the houses.

A Hero's Death

Washington, May 27.—The navy department has received the report of the executive officer of the U. S. S. Petrel concerning the fire aboard that ship on March 31, in Manila harbor, when Lieutenant Commander Roper was suffocated, while trying to save a member of his crew from a like fate. The report says: "Though Lieutenant Commander Roper did not meet his death in action against the enemy, his end was even more glorious, as he gave up his life, fully realizing the danger he went into, in order that a member of his crew might live."

New Venture Successful

Halifax, May 27.—Schooner Edwin Roy arrived yesterday from Cape Horn, after a successful sealing trip of eight months. She reports seals very numerous in the south seas, and no other vessel engaged in the fishery. Since leaving Halifax the Roy was not reported, and never once touched land. The schooner's cargo is estimated to be worth $25,000. The venture having proved successful, a fleet of vessels will be dispatched next year.

Hanna Will Be Principal Owner

Cleveland, May 27.—J. J. Phillips of Cleveland, a big coal operator, is said to hold options on 90 percent of the Massillon coal fields. A company will be formed of Cleveland capitalists, with Senator Hanna as the principal owner. A company is to be formed to operate the Massillon field of 2000 acres, which is supposed to contain a coal deposit of 9,000,000 or 10,000,000 tons.

To Fight on the Stump

Columbia, S. C., May 27.—As the outcome of a spirited debate between United States Senators Tillman and McLaurin at Gaffney on Saturday, both of them have put their resignations in the hands of Governor McSweeney, to take effect Nov. 15. They have resigned with the understanding that they are to go before the people of the state in a joint canvass.

Forgetful Youth's Sad Error

Toronto, May 27.—Thomas Ryan, aged 16, yesterday shot and killed his 10-year-old sister Olive. Ryan says he tried to frighten his sister by pointing the revolver at her, and pulling the trigger. He forgot that the first chamber was loaded. The bullet hit her square in the forehead, and she died shortly afterward. Ryan is charged with murder.

Was In Financial Trouble

St. Petersburg, May 27.—President Altschensky of the Khardoff chamber of commerce committed suicide by allowing a railroad train to run over him near St. Petersburg. He was a financier of great influence. His death was due to financial difficulties, and will embarrass many institutions. He owned about 10,000,000 roubles.

Punished For Giving Advice

St. Petersburg, May 27.—The publication of The Novoe Vremya has been prohibited for a week, because it urged the government to help workmen and the unemployed as the best means to combat revolutionary tendencies.

A HEAVY FALL OF RAIN

Tempered Discomfort of Journey Through a Desert

MRS. M'KINLEY DOING WELL

President and Cabinet Giving Earnest Consideration to Chinese Question—Demands of Other Powers Thought to Point Toward Dismemberment

Ogden, Utah., May 27.—The presidential train traversed the state of Nevada yesterday and reached Ogden at 6:30 o'clock last night. The route lay along the Humbolt river, through the Ruby and Washata mountains. At this season of the year the ride across Nevada is exceedingly disagreeable. The heat is oppressive and the dust from the desert is frequently blinding. Fortunately for Mrs. McKinley, one of those heavy rainstorms, which so rarely visit this region, swept completely over the state Saturday night, laying the dust and tempering the atmosphere. Dr. Rixey reports that Mrs. McKinley is standing the trip well.

Sunday aboard the train passed without incident. The president and members of the cabinet kept to their rooms the larger portion of the day. Once or twice, when the train stopped for water, they alighted and stretched their limbs. At Carlin early yesterday morning, the president shook hands with some of the people who had gathered there, among them a number of Digger Indians, who live in the neighboring mountains.

On the way back to Washington the president and members of the cabinet are devoting a good deal of time to the consideration of the Chinese situation. The declination of the other powers to join the suggestion of the United States with regard to scaling down the indemnity demand of China was a great disappointment, though it could hardly be said that it was entirely unexpected. The necessities of European powers of the maintenance of their large armies and navies are perhaps a factor in their presentation.

The president and members of the cabinet feel that this government was right in protesting against exactions which might force China to the wall, and from the position taken by the United States there will be no retreat. The demands of the other powers are considered exorbitant and likely, if insisted upon, to result ultimately in the crippling or dismemberment of the empire. The United States will continue to urge this view at every opportunity. If the powers proceed alone and force China to accede to their demands, this government, of course, will accept the share of the indemnity assigned to it on the present basis. It can distribute such amounts as is necessary to liquidate the claims of its citizens, and subsequently determine, if such a course should be deemed wise, whether all the remainder should be retained by this government as its proper share.

The United States is not in favor of the proposed scheme to raise and guarantee an international loan for China, out of the proceeds of which she can liquidate her indebtedness to the powers. The United States is willing to accept the bonds of China without endorsement by any power at 3 percent interest, and thus make manifest to the world the sincerity of the American profession procalmed at the outset, that the United States desires to help China to her feet and preserve her political integrity.

Funerals Instead of Wedding

Key West, Fla., May 27.—A tragedy occurred here at the cottage occupied by the D'Ormond Fuller Opera company, and as a result Miss Inez Leonard and Edgar Beaucligh, two members of the company, are dead. It is believed that Beaucligh shot Miss Leonard and then killed himself with a rifle which was found in the room. Miss Leonard and Beaucligh were engaged to be married, and, as far as known, no quarrel had occurred.

Victims of Wood Alchol

New York, May 27.—Two tramps, who, with a third, have been camping in the woods not far from Hackensack, N. J., died yesterday as a result of drinking wood alcohol, and the third is seriously ill from the same cause. During the rain of Saturday night their camp became soaked and they resorted to a small flask of whisky which they had to warm themselves. The supply giving out they began on a bottle of wood alcohol.

Convoy Successfuly Defended

London, May 27.—The war department has received the following dispatch from Lord Kitchener, dated Pretoria, May 26: "A superior force of Boers made a determined attack on a convoy between Ventersdorp and Potchefstroom, May 23, but was driven off. Our loss was four killed and 30 wounded. The convoy arrived in safety."

No Loss of Time

I have sold Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea, Remedy for years, and would rather be out of coffee and sugar than it. I sold five bottles of it yesterday to threshers that could go no farther, and they are at work again this morning.—H. R. PHELPS, Plymouth, Oklahoma. As will be seen by the above the threshers were able to keep on with their work without losing a single day's time. You should keep a bottle of this Remedy in your home. For sale by all druggists.

Drift of Opinion.

☞ Lieutenant Hobson is to be the Fourth of July orator at Jamaica Plain. If he gets as much newspaper attention as he did when he was an usher recently at a Washington wedding he will look like "a bigger man than Fourth of July." On that occasion the newspapers featured him to the exclusion of about everything else, including the bride and the groom. The lieutenant is said to be engaged to be married.—New Bedford Standard.

☞ Musicians cannot suppress "ragtime," Airs set to that measure will be published so long as there is an active popular demand for them—aye, and they will be played, too, for the very musicians who are now protesting against such "unmusical trash" will render "ragtime" on their instruments or go without audiences, or, what is worse, without salaries. The people, after all, determine what sort of music shall or shall not be played.—Kansas City Times.

☞ Marriage and a home stand first among the things which make for civilization. Prof. Herron is one of the many of those who spoil the good work they set out to do by letting their personal sympathies and affections drift away from their wives and children to others who take an active interest in the cause they have at heart. When the dearest friend of a reformer is a woman who is not his wife, pitfalls and ruin are not far away. All reforms and all reformers may be divided into two classes. In the one marriage is idealized and the home is defended. In the other men and women play fast and loose with "affinities," "spiritual kinship," "Platonic affections," and various other neatly embroidered covers for the devices of the evil one. While we believe that Prof. Herron is weak rather than intentionally bad his example is more pernicious than open profligacy. He has become the victim of a sentimentalism which is too prevalent. His punishment is great, but he has brought it upon himself by carelessness in regard to the most sacred interests of that society which he set out to reform.—Christian Register.

In Collision.

It seems that misfortune accompanies the sloop Endora, formerly the Cape cat "Ensign," Capt. McQueen. The first mishap was when the jolly captain came near losing his life by drowning, but for a timely rescue by John Hayden, the popular draw tender at Quincy Point. Sunday the Endora made her second party trip out, and after passing through the draw, discovered the sloop Mutineer tied up to the peer. The captain may have thought he had a right of way between the pier and the sloop and indeavoring to make the passage he succeeded in breaking the boom of the boat tied to the pier, as well as knocking a man overboard. It is hoped by the yachting fraternity of Fore River that the captain will take a few lessons in sailing before going down the river again.

DIED.

UNIACK—In Randolph, May 25, Mr. Richard Uniack aged 83 years.

VETERANS' SUNDAY

Paul Revere Post, G. A. R., Attend Two Services.

At Wollaston Unitarian and Quincy Universalist

Spanish War Veterans at Christ Church in Evening.

Paul Revere Post 88, G. A. R., the Woman's Relief Corps, Sons of Veterans, Ladies' Aid society and members of the Legion of Spanish War Veterans attended Memorial services Sunday morning at the Unitarian church, Wollaston, and listened to a patriotic address by Rev. F. W. Pratt. During the services special music was furnished by a quartette and an orchestra. There was a large attendance other than the organizations mentioned above.

The attendance at the Memorial Sunday exercises at the Universalist church Sunday evening was surprisingly large, both of veterans and auxiliary societies and people generally. Although several extra settees were brought in it was impossible to seat all. The Grand Army, Sons of Veterans, Woman's Relief Corps and Ladies' Aid Society were represented by about 150 who occupied reserved seats in the body of the church. The decorations were of flags and flowers.

The address of Rev. Merrill C. Ward, the pastor, was on "Deathless honor," he spoke as a veteran although without personal knowledge of the exciting times of 1861-65. He said a few more vacant chairs were noted, but on Memorial day the old veterans forget their age and perform their sacred duties. Only a few more Memorial days and none will be left, but the echoes of their deeds of valor and their privations will roll on for ages, not fainter but fonder. Heroism was a priceless treasure and he begged of the veterans not to be over modest in telling of experiences at the front. We of the younger generations long to hear of them. The Civil war was the fiercest contest of the world, and the losses in some of the engagements were largely in excess of the notable battles of Europe. The whole British force in South Africa does not number one-half the number who were lost in some of the campaigns of the Civil war. The greatest praise is due to the private soldiers, unless it be to the women at home who were in suspense all the time. Incidents of the war and the heroism of soldiers were related.

The illustrated songs of Comrade Anson F. Bicknell of Weymouth, the blind vocalist were a feature of the services. When he sang "The Old Guard" a squad of G. A. R. Veterans with muskets marched to the platform and gave manoeuvers. At the singing of "Flag of the Free," the color bearer of the Post took a position in the centre of the platform and was flanked on both sides by young ladies with waving flags.

The anthems by the choir and solos by Mr. Joy, Mr. Greene and Miss Phelan were appropriate to the services and greatly enjoyed. A quartette composed of Mrs. Hewson, Miss Phelan, Mr. Sargent and Mr. Greene also sang "The Vacant chair."

A part of the services were in charge of the Grand Army, and conducted by Com. Warner. Five vacant chairs draped in the National colors represented those members of the Post who have passed away in a year, brief sketches by Adjt. Holt being as follows:

1—BENJAMIN WATSON, born at Durham, N. H., 1816; occupation, a stone cutter; enlisted as a musician, 2d Mass. Vol. Inf'y, May 10, 1861; discharged Sept. 8, 1862; joined Paul Revere Post, 88, G. A. R., December 10, 1869; died July 29, 1900; buried at Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

2—FRANK A. JOHNSON, born at Bangor, Maine, 1840; occupation, a moulder; enlisted as a private in Co. G, 2d Maine Vol. Inf'y, July 15, 1861; discharged June 30, 1865; joined Paul Revere Post, 88, G. A. R., July 31, 1890; died September 5, 1900; buried at Englewood, Florida.

3—SAMUEL D. RAMSDELL, born at Hanson, Mass., 1819; occupation, a carpenter; enlisted as a private in Co. K, 7th Mass., Vol. Inf'y, January, 1862; discharged January 27, 1865; joined Paul Revere Post, 88, G. A. R., April 28, 1880; died April 8, 1901; buried at Pembroke, Mass.

4—CAPT. WILLIAM BOYD, born at Belfast, 1837; occupation, a bootmaker; enlisted as a private in Co. G, 48th Mass. Vol. Inf'y, August 20, 1862, and was commissioned as second lieutenant in same company, May 16, 1863; discharged September, 1865; commissioned as captain of McClellan Guards, Mass. State Militia, after the war; joined Paul Revere Post, 88, G. A. R., May 15, 1890; died at Quincy, May 18, 1901; buried at St. Mary's cemetery, West Quincy.

5—REV. CHARLES W. WILDER, born at Greenville, Vermont, 1837; clergyman; enlisted as a private in Company G, 6th Mass. Vol. Inf'y, August 18, 1862; discharged June 3, 1863; joined Paul Revere Post, 88, G. A. R., September 14, 1893; died at South Walpole, Mass, Friday, May 24, 1901; to be buried at Mount Wollaston cemetery, Monday, May, 27, 1901.

Following named comrades buried in the cemeteries at Quincy, since, May 30, 1900, not members of Post 88:

PETER H. BERRIGAN, U. S. Navy.
THOMAS L. PEARCE, Mass. Inf'y.
THOMAS B. JONES, 11th Mass. Battery.
EDWARD B. NIGHTINGALE, Co. B, 60th Mass. Inf'y.
DAVID JORDAN, 3d Mass. H. A.
STEPHEN J. KEEGAN, Co. E, 7th Mass. Inf'y.

The Officer of the Day told how the memory of deceased members are kept green, and a squad of veterans deposited wreaths, while several young ladies followed and strew flowers. Taps by drum and bugle closed this part of the services.

Spanish War Veterans.

John A. Boyd camp No. 2, L. S. W. V., attended services Sunday evening at Christ church and listened to an inspring address by the rector, Rev. George A. Strong, on "Patriotism." National flags formed the only decorations. By special request "Te Deum" was sung during the offertory.

The orders for the day issued by Commander Morrissey say in part:

Camp will assemble at hall at 8 A.M. Details will start for Mt. Wollaston, East Milton and Weymouth cemeteries at 8.15 A. M. Members of this Camp and invited comrades to wear blue uniforms without leggings, campaign hats, white gloves and black shoes. Comrades lacking uniforms will communicate with headquarters as speedily as possible. All sailors, soldiers and marines who served honorably during the war with Spain, or in the Phillipines are earnestly requested to participate in this days observance.

The camp will form in front of hall for inspection, will then proceed from Hancock to Temple street; from Temple to Washington, to City Square. From City Square by Hancock street to Granite street, Granite street to Copeland street; Copeland street to Crescent street to St. Mary's Catholic Cemetery, West Quincy.

Return via. Crescent, Copeland, Granite and Hancock street to hall and be dismissed.

Henry J. Matthews will be officer of the day.

The camp has made arrangements for the decoration of the grave of Comrade Charles Rinn of Quincy, in Cypress Hill cemetery, Brooklyn, N. Y.

At Milton.

Union Memorial services were held at the Milton Unitarian church, Sunday, and were attended by Huntington F. Wolcott Post, 102, G. A. R. Addresses were made by Rev. Horatio Stebbins D. D., and Rev. R. Stebbins and Rev. H. S. Huntington. On Memorial day the post, under command of George A. Fletcher, will form at 11.30 A. M., and escorted by the First Regiment Fife, Drum and Bugle corps, march to the Milton cemetery and decorate one hundred graves.

UNKNOWN BODY.

Found Afloat in Quincy Bay on Sunday by Yachtsmen.

W. H. Chase of Wollaston Park was sailing in the bay between Wollaston beach and Squantum Sunday afternoon when he discovered the body of a man floating about. He ran in shore and notified the police by telephone.

Chief Hayden and Inspector McKay drove down, and Inspector McKay put ont in a boat to look for the body. The tide was coming in and the body had been carried up toward Atlantic. It was finally discovered and brought ashore at Atlantic beach.

Medical Examiner Jones and Undertaker Fay were notified and the body removed to the latter's rooms.

The body was that of a man apparently about 50 years of age had on a tweed jacket and overhauls, such as are worn at State institutions, and a pair of heavy brogan shoes. There was not a thing by which he could be identified as all the pockets of his clothing contained was a potato. The hands and face were badly eaten by fish, and the body had evidently been in the water some time, perhaps two months.

TODAY'S COURT.

The continued case of Frederic Trentor, for violation of the liquor law at Quincy, was called and he paid a fine of $50.

Bernard Rodden of Randolph was brought into court on a default warrant, and his case was again continued until June 29.

George Martin of Milton, Daniel O'Brien and George Fayden of Quincy were arraigned for drunkenness. The first two were fined $5 each and the latter's case continued.

The continued case of Barney Harrison of Holbrook for drunkenness was placed on file.

The continued case of Edward F. Ford of Weymouth was called, and again continued until June 29.

☞ Biliousness is a condition characterized by a disturbance of the digestive organs. The stomach is debilitated, the liver torpid, the bowels constipated. There is a loathing of food, pains in the bowels, dizziness, coated tongue and vomiting, first of the undigested or partly digested food and then of bile. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets allay the disturbances of the stomach and create a healthy appetite. They also tone up the liver to a healthy action and regulate the bowels. Try them and you are certain to be much pleased with the result. For sale by all druggists

A GRAND FESTIVAL.

Children of West Quincy Interested in Worthy Charity.

There was a large attendance at St. Mary's hall, Saturday afternoon, from 2 to 5 o'clock at the children's festival held in aid of the Free Home for Consumptives. The cause, as its name implies, is a most worthy one, as it takes care of the consumptives who are too poor to pay for the care and attention one so afflicted needs.

The program was an interesting one, and was remarkably well rendered. Perhaps the most noticeable feature, and one which called forth the most applause was the minuet which was danced by sixteen young misses, who were dressed in empire gowns of pale blue and yellow and with their wide skirts outspread, they looked like huge butterflies, as they went through the various graceful figures. The children were trained in their respective parts by Mrs. J. H. Greene and Miss Lucy Hagerty, and to them much of the success of the festival was due.

During the entertainment, candy, lemonade and fruit were on sale, and as these were contributed the profits were increased.

The program was as follows:

Opening address,	Georgie Gibbs, Louise Curry
Song, "Rhoda," from San Toy,	children
Dance,	Jeanne McKenna
Recitation,	Angelo Bizzozero
Kangaroo song,	Children
Recitation,	Eddie McNeil, Albert Eamer, Richard Ash, Agnes Reardon,
Piano solo,	Rena Bizzozero
Recitation,	Lillian Barnes
Dance,	Ethel Ball and James McDonald
Song, "Ma Blushing Rosie,"	children
Recitation,	Nora Fitzgerald and Mary Bennett
Song,	Bridget Flaherty
Cake walk,	Misses Hall
Dance, Sailor's Hornpipe,	Ethel Ball
Minuet dance,	Winifred Hart, Margaret Burke, Irene Reinhalter, Annie White, Mollie Conway, Margaret Hall, Frances Daley, Marion Teasdale, Mollie Callahan, Margaret Daley, Lillian Barnes, Helen Mc Neil, Rebecca Conway, Lillian Lyon, Winifred McDonough and Teresa Keating.

Home From Philippines.

Harry E. Styles of the 26th Mass. Volunteers arrived at his home, Lincoln avenue, Wollaston, on Saturday. He has spent the past two years in the Philippines. He is in excellent health and spirits, and is a fine specimen of vigorous young manhood. Pri. Stiles is a typical yankee and during his service organized a full Military Band of forty pieces, which had no equal in the islands, and was subsequently elected band master.

Robbers Murdered a Boy

San Francisco, May 27.—Robert Hislop, 13 years old, was murdered by burglars at his father's residence. He was alone in the house and in bed, and the burglars, fearing, presumably, that he would raise an outcry, struck him over the head with a blunt instrument, crushing his skull. Then they made their escape, securing little of value.

Needs Absolute Rest

Columbus, O., May 27.—Governor Nash has been advised by his physicians that three weeks' absolute rest will be necessary to restore him to health. He is still in a weakened condition as a result of his trip to the Pacific coast. His indisposition is such that the attending physician deemed a consultation advisable.

Damage Amounts to Millions

Raleigh, May 27.—Governor Aycock says all the lowland crops on the state penitentiary farm, known as "Caledonia," are destroyed by the raging Roanoke river, including 200 acres of wheat. He says the flood damage in the state amounts to millions of dollars. All streams in this section are rising.

Alleged Embezzler Surrenders

Kansas City, May 27.—Frank X. Siegel, late president of the Siegel-Sanders Commission company, yesterday surrendered himself to the county marshal in response to a warrant, charging him with embezzlement, which was sworn out Saturday by Receiver Wedge. Seigel is now in the county jail.

A Modern Sweetheart.

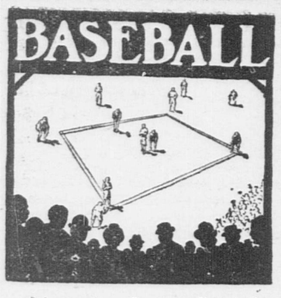

"I swear to you by Venus above, so long as the planet shines I will be true to you!"

"Don't be a fool, Arthur! That's not Venus. Venus doesn't rise till 11:20. Her declination is 17 degrees 25 minutes south, right ascension 10 degrees 2 minutes!"

BASEBALL

Adams, 4; Powder Point, 2.

Last week was indeed a week of victories for Quincy base ball players. The High school won both of its games, and Adams Academy, after defeating Milton Academy and Dorchester High, closed the week's series by defeating the Powder Point school at Duxbury on Saturday. The nine was greatly weakened by the absence of Doble, Pinkham and Tate, but Hoxie pitched most acceptably, striking out ten men. Weston played in the field and O'Brien, who went down to umpire, borrowed a suit and made the ninth man. The victory was well earned, for not a single error was made by the Academy boys. The Duxbury team was strengthened by two teachers, Mr. Moulton, who caught, and Mr. Brown, who played first base.

The great play of the game was made by Weston. Duxbury had two men on bases with two men out when a ball was knocked to the extreme out field. Weston caught the ball with one hand and shut the side out. Had the fly been muffed, two more runs would have been scored by Powder Point, and a tie would have resulted. O'Brien also distinguished himself by making one of the four runs.

Western and Anderson shared the honors in a double play.

Below is the score in full:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Adams Academy,	0	6	1	0	2	0	0	1	0	0—4
Powder Point,	0	0	0	1	1	0	0	0	0	0—2

Double plays Weston and Anderson.

Victory for West Quincy.

Heavy hitting characterized the game at West Quincy, Saturday, between the Boston College club and the home nine, won by the latter 17 to 12. Every player on both sides made one or more safe hits, and Faircloth four including a two bagger. The hits of the visitors were all for one base while the West Quincy made two for two bases, and three for three bases. The first inning was a phenomenal opening, the home club scoring 10 before they were retired. After that, however, the visitors fought a grand up-hill game. Mullane of the West Quincy's struck out 11.

The score by innings;

Innings	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
West Quincy	10	0	0	2	2	2	0	1	0	—17
Boston College	0	0	2	3	0	5	2	0	0	—12

Two-base hits—Faircloth, Dunn. Three-base hits—Forbes, Mullane, Kiley. Base on balls—by Mullane, by Ward. Struck out—by Mullane 11, by Ward 2. Hit by pitched ball—Mullane, Dunn, Kiley. Umpire—Cahill. Time—2h 30m.

The South Quincys will play the Cambridge Reds on Memorial day at 10 A. M., at South Quincy.

Sciatic Rheumatism Cured After Fourteen Years of Suffering.

"I have been afflicted with sciatic rheumatism for fourteen years," says Josh Edgar, of Germantown, Cal. "I was able to be around but constantly suffered. I tried everything I could hear of and at last was told to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which I did and was immediately relieved and in a short time cured, and I am happy to say it has not since returned." Why not use this liniment and get well? It is for sale by all druggists.

THE THEATER

I have recently conversed with a number of managers concerning the theatrical season just closed, and if their statements are to be relied upon the late crash in Wall street was brought about by the stringency in the money market due to the fact that these particular managers had about all the coin in this realm snugly stowed away in safe deposit vaults. The trouble is, however, that these men are distinctly not to be relied upon. In fact, they are never to be taken seriously when discussing the receipts of their own attractions.

There are a few managers, though, who, incredible as it may appear, have an unaccountable tendency toward truth telling. One of these told me recently that since 1890 he had never had but two seasons which were poorer from his standpoint than the one of 1900-1. He says that while the season opened nicely business began to fall off terribly just before the election. While that was expected, it was also anticipated that after that event receipts would increase. But they didn't, and that is why so many little companies came to grief early in January. They struggled along from town to town, looking for the resumption of theatrical prosperity, which never came, and finally were obliged to give up the fight.

In New York things have not been as good as they might have been; but, as I have previously taken occasion to observe, the shows which were deserving of patronage, as a rule, got it, while some which were unworthy from almost every standpoint were treated much more generously than they deserved.

The experience of Millie James demonstrates that, no matter how talented an actress may be, unless she has the good fortune to be assigned to a role for which she is peculiarly fitte upward climb on the ladder of fame is bound to involve a lot of hard work and many discouragements.

Miss James when William A. Brady determined to produce Clyde Fitch's drama, "Lovers' Lane," was cast for the role of Simplicity Johnson. No one suspected that the part could be made to stand out, and it is probable that when she received the manuscript and indeed up to the time of the first performance Miss James regarded the role with only faint interest. But the first night came, and Miss James' efforts were vociferously applauded. The next day the little woman found that, thanks to the critics, she was famous. She had signed with Mr. Brady for the season, and naturally the fact that she had made a big hit did not temporarily affect her salary, but it is safe to assume that when she "fixes" for next season her hebdomadal stipend will be at least twice as great as it now is. Indeed it has been rumored that several managers have been canvassing the advisability of having a piece written to order for Miss James and sending her out as a star. There is certainly an exceptionally good opportunity just now for a talented ingenue of her type.

As has been said, Miss James has made her hit at last and is now all right professionally, but prior to that she had very good parts with Roland Reed in "The Club Friend," with "Charley's Aunt," with "A Naval Cadet," with Annie Russell in "Catherine" and with "Woman and Wine," but it was not until she found the part that exactly fitted her in Simplicity Johnson in "Lovers' Lane" that any one suspected that she was possessed of more than ordinary ability.

MILLIE JAMES.

We shall soon have the opportunity to determine how good or how bad are Nat Goodwin and Maxine Elliott as Shylock and Portia respectively in "The Merchant of Venice." Reports which have reached New York from the cities already visited by the company are to the effect that both principals have surprised even those critics who in advance were inclined to carp. At any rate, they have been doing enormous business, and, inasmuch as the management is probably not averse to making a little money on the tour despite its widely blazoned announcement that the production was made solely in the interest of art, it is not unlikely that Mr. Goodwin may be heard from later in "Richard III," which, according to report, is the next of Shakespeare's plays upon which he has designs.

Sunday was a delightful day.

A full moon next Sunday night.

Winthrop Safford of Botolph street is ill.

Braintree now has five cases of small pox, all in one family.

Fred C. Chamberlin of Wollaston will deliver the Memorial address before the G. A. R. post at Norwell on Memorial day.

Wednesday will be Memorial day in the schools. The Coddington will have out-door exercises, and have engaged a band.

The South Boston yacht club will have an open race on Memorial day off City Point for eight classes—15 to 25 foot yachts.

A large number of floral orders for decoration, are being placed with M. Lizzie Furnald—who is agent for Galvin Bros. of Boston.

Manet encampment I. O. O. F., of this city will visit East Weymouth this evening and work the Royal Purple degree for Wompatucket encampment.

Hundreds and possibly thousands of people visited Mt. Wollaston cemetery Sunday; and were pleased to see improvements which have been made. The grass is forward and the grounds are looking beautiful.

Rev. Charles W. Wilder retained his membership in Paul Revere Post, G. A. R., at the time of his death, and for a number of years was chaplain on Memorial day. A delegation of the Post want to South Walpole today to attend his funeral, and expect to reach Quincy with the body about 6 o'clock The burial will be at Mt. Wollaston.

The great dog on Madison street whose bark resounds like thunder, whenever a passer-by happens to tread heavily, is quite as fierce looking as he sounds. He is a Dane, and by the glare of his regard, not over gentle. Luckily a fence restrains whatever hungry impulses he may have when mankind appears on the scene. It is to be hoped the fence is durable.

Assessors' Notice.

TO the inhabitants of City of QUINCY and all other persons liable to pay taxes therein: You are hereby notified to bring in to the Assessors of said City

On or before JUNE 15, 1901,

True and Perfect Lists of all the Polls, and Schedules and Estimates of all the Personal Estates and Real Estate for which you are liable to pay Taxes.

Persons holding estates in trust, whether for minors or otherwise, are particularly requested to furnish the Assessors with Statements in relation to such estates.

When the estates of persons deceased have been divided, or have changed hands from other causes during the past year, the Executors, Administrators, or other persons interested, are required to give notice of such changes, and in default of such notice will be held to pay the taxes assessed.

Blank forms for "Return of Property for Taxation" can be procured of the Assessors.

The following may serve as a guide to assist in making up Schedules and Statements:

Number of Polls 20 years and upwards; Money at interest; Amount of Money on hand, including deposits in Banks, etc., other than Savings Banks; Railroad, Town, City, State and other Bonds (except those of the United States); Shares and Stocks of Insurance, Manufacturing and other incorporated companies chartered or organized under the laws of any State other than Massachusetts; Goods, Wares, Merchandise, and other stock in trade, within or without the State, Household Furniture, exceeding $1,000 in value; Horses, Mules, Carriages, Oxen, Cows, other neat Cattle not less than one year old, and Swine and Sheep not less than six months old; Income from Profession, Trade or Employment exceeding $2,000; Personal Property held in trust or by wife or minor children.

Attention is hereby called to Section 29 of Chapter 11 of the Public Statutes.

"Whoever, with intent to defeat or evade the provisions of law in relation to assessment or payment of taxes, delivers or discloses to an assessor or assistant assessor a false or fraudulent list, return or schedule of property as and for a true list of his estates, not exempted from taxation, shall be punished by fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or by imprisonment in jail not exceeding one year.

MORTGAGED PROPERTY.—Any mortgagor or mortgagee of real estate may bring in to the assessors of the town or city where such real estate lies within such time as shall be specified for bringing in the lists as provided in Sect. 38, of Chap. 11 of the Public Statutes, a statement under oath of the amount due on each separate lot or parcel of such real estate, and the name and residence of every holder of an interest therein as a mortgagee or mortgagor. When such property is situated in two or more places, or when a recorded mortgage includes for one sum two or more estates or parts of an estate, an estimate of the amount of the mortgagee's interest in each estate or part of an estate shall be given in such statement. The assessors shall, from such statements or otherwise, ascertain the proportionate parts of such estates that are the interests of mortgagees and mortgagors respectively, and shall assess the same. Whenever, in any case of mortgaged real estate, a statement is not brought in as herein provided, no tax of the then current year on such real estate shall be invalidated for the reason that a mortgagee's interest therein has not been assessed to him.—Chap. 175, Acts of 1882.

When a statement in conformity to the law above quoted is brought in, the Real Estate therein returned will be assessed under Sects. 14, 15 and 16 of Chap. 11 of the Public Statutes. But in cases where the mortgagor of the real estate has agreed in writing to pay all taxes assessed thereon, no statement or return is required from either the mortgagee or mortgagor unless requested by the Assessors in writing.

The Assessors will be in session at their office every Thursday morning from 9 to 11 o'clock. Blanks will be furnished to all applicants.

Mrs. Lucinda Sampson died suddenly at Cambridge, Mass., aged 104 years. One son, seven grandchildren and four great grandchildren survive.

William Spring of Boston, 65 years old, was found dead in bed, the gas being turned on. Relatives believe it to be a case of accident.

John W. Foster, ex-secretary of state, who was elected to succeed the late Enoch L. Fancher as president of the American Bible society, has declined the office, owing to the state of his health.

Bishop Mallalieu conducted services at the First M. E. church at Everett, Mass., and succeeded in raising $8000 for the church debt.

The elections to the Spanish senate have resulted approximately in the return of 120 Ministerialists and 30 members of the opposition.

Crimson Gets the Cup

New York, May 27.—In the annual track and field championship of the Intercollegiate association of the Amateur Athletic union of America, the battle for the championship cup was fought out to the bitter end, and when the final reckoning came Harvard was the victor by the score of 44 points. Yale was credited with 30 5-6 points, which gave her second place, and Princeton came third, with a total of 16 1-6 points. Cornell took fourth place, with 15 well-earned points.

AN UNOFFICIAL SYNOPSIS

Of Insular Cases Before the Supreme Court

THEY RELATE TO CUSTOMS

But Raise the Primary Question as to Whether Porto Rico and Philippines Are Integral Parts of This Country—Decision Expected Today

Washington, May 27.—In anticipation that the United States supreme court will render its opinion in the insular cases today, an unofficial synopsis of the several cases before the court, involving the relation of the government to its possessions, has been prepared by the solicitor general. The statement explains the various questions involved, and is as follows:

The particular duties drawn in question.

All the cases are virtually customs cases. They raise the validity under the constitution of the following exactions:

1—Duties on goods imported into the United States from the Philippines after the ratification of the treaty. The 14 diamond ring cases, Pepke, claimant.

2—Duties on goods imported into Porto Rico from the United States during the military occupation of the island, after the signing of the protocol and before the ratification of the treaty of Paris. Such were some of the duties collected in the Armstrong case.

3.—Duties collected on goods imported into Porto Rico from the United States during the military occupation, but after the cession of Porto Rico by the ratification of the treaty of Paris and before the passage of the Porto Rican act. Such duties were collected in the Armstrong case and in the first Dooley case.

4.—Duties collected on goods imported into the United States from Porto Rico after the ratification of the treaty and before the taking effect of the Porto Rican act. Such were duties exacted in the Goetz case and in the De Lima case.

5.—Duties collected on goods coming into the United States from Porto Rico after the Porto Rican act took effect. The validity of these exactions is brought in question in the Downes case.

6—Duties collected on goods coming into Porto Rico from the United States after the taking effect of the Porto Rican act. Such were the duties exacted in the second Dooley case.

7—Duties collected on goods imported into the United States from Hawaii after the annexation and before the Hawaiian act went into effect. Such were the duties in the Crossman case.

The propriety of the course of procedure is in question in all these cases except the 14 diamond rings case. This results from the different methods adopted by counsel in testing the constitutionality of the customs exactions.

In the Goetz and Crossman cases the duties were paid under protest, and the procedure laid down in the customs administrative act was followed. This the government believes to be the proper method. But if counsel in the cases to be mentioned are correct then this course was probably wrong.

In the De Lima and Downes case the duties were paid under protest, and suit brought against the collector to recover back. This the government thinks was wrong.

In the Dooley cases and the Armstrong case the duties were paid under protest and suit brought against the United States to recover back, the Armstrong case being brought in the court of claims and the Dooley cases in the United States circuit court. This the government thinks was wrong.

If the jurisdictional points made by the government were sustained there would still remain the 14 diamond rings cases, the Goetz case and the Crossman case, which raise the fundamental question under the teraty, but do not involve the validity of the Porto Rican act.

The prime question is whether the temporary revenue provision in the Porto Rican act levying duties on goods coming from Porto Rico into the United States and on goods coming from the United States into Porto Rico, to be used for the benefit of Porto Rico until the insular government could provide revenue of its own, violates the constitutional provision that "no tax or duty shall be laid on articles exported from any state."

Like the primary question is the question raised in the Hawaiia cases, namely, whether the resolution of annexation made Hawaii an integral part of the United States within the meaning of the limitation of the taxing clause, so that instantly our customs laws applied there, notwithstanding the express provision of the resolution that the existing customs laws of the Hawaiian republic should continue in force until congress should pass an act extending our customs laws to the islands.

Conroy Wins Brooklyn Handicap

New York, May 27.—James R. Keene's Conroy, the first 3-year-old to win the Brooklyn handicap, cantered home a winner at the Gravesend race track, with the odds of 4 to 1 against him, while Herbert finished second, with Standing in the third position. The favorite, Banastar, was away in the ruck, unable to get up his speed in the heavy going.

Missing Child Found

Bath, N. B., May 27.—Lucy G. Dugan, the child for whom the countryside had been searched since Wednesday, was found Saturday evening lying in the woods. She may live, though greatly weakened by exposure and want of food.

O'CONNELL IS HOPEFUL

That This Week Will See a Settlement of the Machinists' Strike

Toronto, May 27.—James O'Connell, president of the International Association of Machinists, arrived here last night with members of the general staff. Mr. O'Connell stated that, although in moving from Washington to Toronto he had been placed a little out of touch with the general situation during the past two days, the indications point to a speedy termination of the machinists' strike. Bosses and men in large centers are conferring together, and he feels certain that the strike will be practically over by the middle of this week. Mr. O'Connell confirms the statement that at the convention which opens here on June 3 a day will be set when all railroad companies, both in Canada and the United States, will be asked to sign an agreement giving machinists in their employ a nine-hour day and full 10 hours' pay.

May Form a New Branch

Boston, May 27.—Although numerous meetings of the various labor bodies in this city and vicinity were held yesterday, it was an exceedingly quiet day as far as outward appearances of the strike situation were concerned. The only event of interest in the machinists' strike was a mass meeting at Winchester, where it is said several more of the McKay shoe machinery operatives made application for membership in the International Association of Machinists. It is suggested that a union be formed at Winchester. The several speakers opposed a strike at the McKay factory until the men had been organized.

Backed by Central Union

New York, May 27.—The Central Federated union of New York, representing all of the labor organizations of the city, yesterday endorsed the rapid transit tunnel strike. According to labor leaders this will result in a complete tie-up of the work on the subway, unless the contractors accede to the demands of the striking men.

Situation at Cincinnati

Cincinnati, May 27.—During the past week 17 small manufacturers out of the 70 shops in this city have signed the new wage scale demanded by the machinists, and 300 men have returned to work. There are still about 3000 machinists out and about the same number of laborers, apprentices, etc.

Rumors Were Untrue

Berlin, May 27.—The statements published in the United States to the effect that the private fortunes of the Emperor and Empress of Germany and other members of the royal family had been almost entirely swept away by operations of a swindler, have been investigated here with the result that the statements referred to are found to be without foundation.

BLOOD

We live by our blood, and on it. We thrive or starve, as our blood is rich or poor.

There is nothing else to live on or by.

When strength is full and spirits high, we are being refreshed, bone muscle and brain in body and mind, with continual flow of rich blood.

This is health.

When weak, in low spirits, no cheer, no spring, when rest is not rest and sleep is not sleep, we are starved; our blood is poor; there is little nutriment in it.

Back of the blood, is food, to keep the blood rich. When it fails, take Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil. It sets the whole body going again—man woman and child.

We'll send you a little to try, if you like.

OBSTACLES REMOVED

Lawson's Boat Will Participate In the Trial Races For Defense of Cup

Boston, May 27.—The yacht Independence will participate in the trial races against the Constitution under the flag of the New York Yacht club, the last obstacle against participation having been swept away. Mr. Lawson pledges his best efforts to make the contest for the selection of a cup defender a good one. He will charter an interest in his yacht to a club member. Mr. Lawson's statement to Commodore Ledyard is as follows:

"Your letter of yesterday, with the assurance that my boat can take part in the trial races, and, if selected, may defend the cup, was received this morning. I will at once charter an interest in her to such person or persons as may be agreeable to your committee and will give such persons full control and management of her during the match. I thank your committee for having suggested a way to fairly determine in a sportsmanlike manner which boat shall be selected to defend the cup, and I will do all in my power to make the contest a success."

Two Canoe Accidents

Willimantic, Conn., May 27.—Charles A. Smith, 22 years old, lost his life while attempting, with a companion, to paddle a canoe on the Willimantic river yesterday. The two were capsized, and Smith, who could not swim, sank immediately. Morris Webber, his companion, swam ashore. Judge of Probate Daniels and William P. Jordan were overturned while venturing through the rapids in a canoe yesterday. Both reached the shore, but not without considerable difficulty.

Independent Curtailment

Fall River, Mass., May 27.—The independent curtailment movement begun here today, the three mills of the Merchants' corporation announcing a two-weeks' shutdown. The action of the Merchants' mills is understood to mean that this corporation will pursue an independent course of action in the future, and limit its production to the needs of the market. Three-fifths of the plain goods mills are now included in the agreement.

Execution Again Delayed

Boston, May 27.—The second reprieve granted by the governor's council to Luigi Storti, condemned to die in the electric chair for murder, has expired, and, in the ordinary course of events, the death penalty would be carried out this week. The electrocution, however, will be delayed for a time, as an appeal on constitutional grounds to the full bench of the United States supreme court is yet to be decided.

"Thinks" Stones Are Lucky

Boston, May 27.—Walter L. Rand was arrested by the postal authorities, charged with using the mails to promote a scheme to defraud. He was held in $1000 for a hearing. Rand's business plan was to advertise "lucky" stones, which, according to advertisements, came from Ceylon. Rand claims to simply advertise that he thinks they will bring good luck.

Suicide Without Known Cause

Newport, N. H., May 27.—The body of Charles S. Partridge, aged 60, a prominent contractor and builder of Newport, was found suspended from a tree in the woods two miles from Grantham yesterday. He was a veteran of the Civil war and prominent in musical circles. He was also a prominent Odd Fellow. No cause can be assigned for the deed.

Two Blocks Burned

Machias, Me., May 27.—A fire in the clothing store of Ira Northey, on the first floor of the Eastern Trust Banking company's block, resulted in the destruction of that block as well as the Allen block, yesterday, causing a loss of $60,000. It is believed that the fire was caused by an electric light wire. The buildings had several occupants.

Big Stock of Ice Ruined

Lowell, Mass., May 27.—Ten ice houses of the Boston Ice company at North Chelmsford were practically destroyed by fire yesterday. About 50,000 tons of ice, valued at $1 a ton, was spoiled for commercial purposes. The fire probably caught on the roof of one of the buildings where tar roofers were at work.

Perfecting Minor Details

Boston, May 27.—The Herald says that the overhead system of the Boston Elevated railway will be put in operation on June 3. Work on the structure is practically completed, and the few minor details that remain will not interfere with the operation of through service by way of the subway.

Killed by Electricity

Providence, May 27.—Nathaniel T. Reynolds of East Greenwich, while attempting to turn on an electric light in the Masonic building, received a shock, resulting in death. Dr. Carpenter and Dr. Eastman were severely shocked by the electric current when they touched the lamp.

Well Stocked With the Ardent

Augusta, Me., May 27.—City Marshal Breen raided the Hotel Johnson and the drug store conducted by Will H. Johnson, opposite the court house, Saturday night. A large amount, consisting of several packages, including a barrel each of whisky and rum, was taken.

Hanged Himself In Barn

Everett, Mass., May 27.—Joseph A. Hill, a Boston Elevated railway conductor, about 60 years of age, committed suicide yesterday by hanging with a rein in a barn. The act was due to temporary insanity.

A New Texas Gusher

Dallas, May 27.—A great strike of oil has been made at Sour Lake. A well was struck in the rear of the Sour Lake hotel, and at once became a gusher, flowing at the rate of 15,000 barrels a day.

Supreme Court's Decision Regarding Porto Rico

FORAKER LAW IS UPHELD

Congress Has Power to Prescribe Manner of Collecting Revenues and Lay Duty on Imports and Exports—Vigorous Dissenting Opinions

Washington, May 28.—In the United States supreme court yesterday opinions were handed down in all but two of the cases before that court involving the relations of the United States to its insular possessions. The two cases in which no conclusion was announced were known as the 14 diamond rings case and the second of the Dooley cases. The undecided Dooley case deals with a phase of the Porto Rican question, and the diamond rings case involves the right to the free importation of merchandise from the Philippines to the United States.

The original intention of the court had been to adjourn for the term after yesterday's sitting, but discussion of the cases passed on yesterday took about five hours, so that the court adjourned until today, when it is presumed the remaining cases will be passed on.

Of the several cases decided yesterday the two which attracted the greatest share of attention from the court were what is known as the De Lima case and that known as the Downes case, and of these two, the opinion in the Downes case is considered the most far-reaching, as it affects our future relations, whereas the De Lima case dealt with a transitional phase of our insular relations.

The De Lima case was the first to receive the attention of the court, and, as it appeared to be quite sweepingly opposed to the government's contentions, many persons precipitately arrived at the conclusion that the government had been worsted all along the line. This view suffered a decided change when the conclusion was announced in the Downes case. The court was very evenly divided on both cases, but political lines were not at all controlling.

The De Lima case involved the power of the government to collect a duty on goods imported into the United States from Porto Rico after the ratification of the treaty of Paris and before the passage of the Porto Rican act. The court said the government's contention in this case was substantially a claim that Porto Rico is foreign territory. The entire case turned upon that contention. The court held that the position was not well taken; that Porto Rica was not at the time foreign territory, and that, therefore, the duty which had been collected must be returned.

The decision in the Downes case followed the history of the dealings of the United States with Porto Rico a step farther. The case dealt with the legality of the exaction of duties on goods imported from Porto Rico into New York, after the passage of the Foraker act, providing for a duty upon goods shipped from the United States into Porto Rico, and also on those shipped from Porto Rico to the United States. In this case, the court held that such exaction was legal and constitutional.

The point of the two opinions, considered collectively, is that Porto Rico was never, after the acquisition of that island, foreign territory; that until congress acted upon the question no duty could be collected, but that as soon as congress outlined a method of controlling the island's revenues, that action became binding; in other words, that congress has power, under the constitution, to prescribe the manner of collecting the revenues of the country's insular possessions, and has the right to lay a duty on goods imported into our insular possessions from the United States, or exported from them into the United States.

It holds, in brief, that for taxation purposes they are not a part of the United States to the extent that goods shipped between their ports and the United States are entitled to the same treatment as though they were shipped between New York and New Orleans.

Justice Brown delivered the court's opinion in both, and there were vigorous dissenting opinions in both. In the Downes case, four of the nine members of the court united in an opinion characterizing in strong language the opinion of the majority in that case. In this opposing opinion the chief justice and Justices Harlan, Brewer and Peckham united, and the chief justice and Justice Harlan presented their views in writing. Justices Gray, Shiras, White and McKenna also, while agreeing with the conclusion announced by Justice Brown, announced that they had reached the conclusion by different lines of argument, and Justices Gray, White and McKenna announced opinions outlining their respective positions. Justices Shiras, White and McKenna also dissented in the De Lima case, uniting in an opinion. Justice Gray also presented an independent and dissenting opinion in that case.

The small court room was crowded to repletion throughout the day, prominent government officials and many attorneys being present, and the proceedings were followed from start to finish with keen interest.

THE ONLY SURVIVOR

Paul Paulsen Tells the Story of the Wreck of the Bark Elise

Boston, May 28.—Paul C. Paulsen, the young sailor who is thought to be the only survivor of the bark Elise, which was in collision with the steamer Ohio last Thursday, made a statement of the affair to the Norwegian consul, G. Lootz, yesterday, in which he said the bark was in command of Captain Morch. Her crew consisted of 14 men, all told, and she had one passenger, a brother-in-law of the captain's, who was on his way to New York to settle.

On the night of the disaster, it was Paulsen's watch below, and he turned in at 8 p. m. Later that night he was aroused by a commotion on deck and said the first mate had given orders to blow the horn. Within a short time after this all hands were summoned on deck and had hardly reached there when the vessels came together. The crew was amidships, and rushed aft to the poop deck. The vessel, after drifting by the steamer, commenced to fill, and Paulsen says the first he remembers he was struggling in the water. The bark went down within five minutes after the collision. One of the boats was stove in and the boat he succeeded in reaching was a small boat, which was lying on the deck.

A survey of the Ohio disclosed two broken plates and two broken frames in the forepeak. In order that the steamer may sail on schedule time, it has been decided to make temporary repairs here.

From Affluence to Beggary

Boston, May 28.—Reduced in five years, through his unfortunate passion for strong drink, from a position of wealth and affluence to that of one of society's outcasts, a begging hobo, Dean Southworth was yesterday placed on probation in the municipal court, and ordered to depart from the city. Southworth retired from a wholesale jewelry firm in this city five years ago, taking with him at the same time the money value of his share in the concern, amounting to $50,000. A few months ago Southworth spent the last nickel of the $50,000 in a Washington street saloon. Lately the erstwhile jeweller was reduced to the last pitiable extreme—that of begging stray nickels from the charitable passerby. His was a familiar figure begging in the alleys almost directly opposite the Jewellers' building, where he had formerly handled thousands.

In the Divorce Court

Newport, R. I., May 28.—In the divorce court yesterday, the case of Gunner Charles Morgan vs. Mary E. Morgan was discontinued, as was also the case of Iezemmia Stearns vs. Waldo Harrison Stearns. The petition of Sallie H. Elliott vs. Captain Duncan Elliott, late of the Twenty-sixth volunteer regiment, and who had been nearly two years in the Philippines, was not contested. After hearing the case, Judge Douglass gave Mrs. Elliott a decree for desertion and the custody of the children. The case was heard on depositions.

Badly Wounded by Robbers

Webster, Mass., May 28.—Frank Balcom, night watchman at the Worcester and Webster Electric railway car barn, was shot through the mouth by four burglars, who attempted to break the safe in the railroad office, and he now lies at his home in a precarious condition. A crowd of townspeople was got together, and traced the burglars to Kennedy's store in North Oxford, where the tracks of the men showed that they left the highway and took the railroad tracks in the direction of Worcester.

Held Under Heavy Bonds

Athol, Mass., May 28.—Peter Myette of Gardner, accused of setting fire to his own house at North Dana on May 7, when there were two families in it, was tried yesterday and bound over to the superior court in $25,000. He did not get bail. All the people, who were asleep in the house at the time, got out safely, but there were some narrow escapes. The prosecution undertook to show that Myette's motive was to get $1000 insurance, in order to pay off a mortgage of $800.

Manchester's Police Muddle

Manchester, N. H., May 28.—The Manchester Evangelical Ministerial association yesterday took a hand in the agitation against the police department of this city, and passed resolutions commending the course adopted by the local press. The association holds the police commissioners as solely responsible for the existing condition of affairs.

Prisoners May Be Released

Boston, May 28.—During the work of repairing the naval prison at the Charlestown navy yard, the prisoners will be guarded at the Middlesex jail and house of correction, in Cambridge. There are about 100 prisoners, and of these 39, whose terms expire before July 4, have been recommended for immediate discharge.

No Loss of Time

I have sold Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea, Remedy for years, and would rather be out of coffee and sugar than it. I sold five bottles of it yesterday to threshers that could go no farther, and they are at work again this morning.—H. R. PHELPS, Plymouth, Oklahoma. As will be seen by the above the threshers were able to keep on with their work without losing a single day's time. You should keep a bottle of this Remedy in your home. For sale by all druggists.

BLOOD HELD IN $2000

For the Shooting of Fawn Davis and Her Mother

TROUBLE IN LOVE AFFAIRS

Culminated In Miss Davis Requesting That They "Die Together," According to His Story—Claims to Have Spent Vast Sum For Presents

Brockton, Mass., May 28.—Herbert E. Blood, charged with assault with intent to murder, was taken to the house of correction at Plymouth yesterday to await the June term of the grand jury sitting. He was arraigned in court yesterday for the shooting of Miss Fawn Davis and her mother, Mrs. George E. Nickerson, at their home in Bridgewater, last Monday, and found probably guilty, and held in $2000 bonds for the grand jury.

He told an officer that Miss Davis had begged him in a letter to shoot her, that they might "die together," since Mrs. Nickerson had turned him from the house. He said he loved Miss Fawn Davis, but had previously loved her older sister, Linnie. He claimed to have spent more than $2400 for presents for the family. It had previously been supposed that Blood shot Fawn Davis by mistake, intending to shoot Linnie, since she was the one with whom he was believed to be infatuated. In court yesterday the mother of the girls said she did not think he had turned from Linnie to Fawn, as he claimed.

Dr. W. F. Whitmarch, who has been attending Miss Davis since the shooting, said she was up and about, and would recover.

Dr. Drew of the state farm insane department examined Blood several day ago, at the request of his counsel. He reported that Blood is a "high-grade imbecile," with very little control over his emotions.

The bullet which Blood shot into his mouth can be felt near the right ear in the back of his neck. The wound does not pain him much, but he cannot swallow solid food.

Decapitated by Machinery

Watertown, Mass., May 28.—The mechanism of a boring machine in the United States arsenal which Daniel Curley operated, was arranged so that at intervals, in observing the progress of the work, the man could put his head inside. The machinery was supposed to be stopped for this proceeding. In some way, however, while Curley was looking at the work, yesterday, the machinery started, and he was decapitated, the head falling on the opposite side from the body, which remained seated on a stool.

When Powers Will Leave China

London, May 28.—Wiring to The Times from Pekin, Dr. Morrison, confirming assertions of the probable acceptance of the British indemnity proposal, says: "The powers will agree to begin the evacuation on the issue of an imperial edict admitting that China's indebtedness is 450,000,000 taels, plus interest, and that China will willingly comply."

Play Produced a Riot

St. Petersburg, May 28.—Rioting has spread to South Russia as a result of the production of the anti-Semite play, "The Smugglers." At Kutais, thousands of people congregated around the theatre and stoned the police. A detachment of Cossacks charged and dispersed the crowd. Thirteen policemen and 17 Cossacks were severely injured.

Agent Hazen Resigns

New York, May 28.—William P. Hazen, chief of the United States secret service bureau, with headquarters in this city, has tendered his resignation to the government authorities, to take effect on June 12 next. Mr. Hazen has been in the employ of the government since May, 1893. He is to be succeeded by William J. Flynn.

The Asphalt Controversy

Caracas, May 28.—The supreme court of Venezuela has refused to allow the exceptions taken by the New York and Bermudez Asphalt company, in the law suit resulting from the asphalt controversy. Messrs. Quinlan and Warner of Syracuse are the plaintiffs in the case.

Today Will Tell the Tale

Havana, May 28.—The Cuban constitutional convention has decided to take the final vote on the acceptance of the Platt amendment today. The Conservatives claim that the Platt amendment will be accepted by the convention by a vote of 17 to 11.

Size of Berry Baskets.

No that the strawberry season has arrived the new law of this Legislature relative to the size of berry baskets will be of interest at this time:

Sections one and two of chapter three hundred and thirty-nine of the acts of the year nineteen hundred are hereby amended by striking out the whole of said sections and inserting in place thereof the following:—Section 1. Every basket or other receptacle holding one quart or less, used or intended to be used in the sale of strawberries, blackberries, cherries, currants or gooseberries shall be of the capacity of one quart, one pint or one-half pint, Massachusetts standard dry measure.

Section 2. Whoever sells or offers for sale any such basket, or other receptacle, holding one quart or less, not conforming to said standard, to be used in the sale of any of the aforesaid fruit, and whoever sells or offers for sale any of the aforesaid fruit in any such basket or other receptacle holding one quart or less not conforming to the said standard, shall be punished by a fine of not less than five dollars nor more than ten dollars for each offence.

Approved May 1, 1901.

Annual Concert.

The boys and men of the three choirs under Mr. E. Landis Snyder's direction this year, are coming before the Quincy public on the evening of June 13 in Music hall, for their second annual concert. The music to be rendered this year is a new departure, for the men and boys and promises to be even more of a success than last year's concert and all who heard the excellent rendering of the Daughter of Jairus know that is saying a great deal. Old English glees and part songs will be the main features of the program.

The soloists for the occasion will be Mrs. H. Y. Follett, soprano of Trinity church, Boston; Mr. Russell Abott, tenor; Mr. H. Y. Follett and Mr. Arthur Gould, basses; Master John Findlay; Mrs. Edith Rowena Noyes Porter and Little Miss Eldridge, pianists. The alto to be announced later.

The boys are selling tickets and hope to make the concert a financial as well as musical success, and there can be little doubt of their doing so, as they have been most generous in giving their services for the various charitable affairs of importance given this past season.

Glee Club Reception.

The Men's Glee club gave a reception to the ladies last evening in the Unitarian vestry. In spite of the pouring rain a very pleasant evening was enjoyed by many. The program included vocal solos by Mr. Bullock and Mr. Hahn piano solo by Mrs. Moulton, quartette selections by Messrs. Hill, Howard, Sargent and Hahn and choruses. During the evening refreshments were served. This was the last meeting of the club this season. They will begin their work in October next season, which will doubtless be a prosperous one.

Stones for Soldiers.

Adjutant I. M. Holt of Paul Revere Post, 88, G. A. R., has received word from the Quartermaster General, U. S. A., at Washington, that his order for 34 soldiers' headstones for Quincy has been received, and that they with 4600 others are being made, and that the stones for Quincy will be shipped as soon as possible.

THREE YEAR TERM.

Voters to Pass on Longer Term for City Clerk.

The City Clerk will be an issue at the City election in December, as the voters are then to decide whether the appointment shall be for one or three years. A new act, approved by the Governor May 1, permits elections in some cities and appointments in others for three-year terms, providing a majority of the voters voting in 1901 accept the act.

The act, which is Chap. 332, reads as follows, Section 1 not be applicable to Quincy:

Section 1. In the year nineteen hundred and one and every third year thereafter there shall be elected by the voters in every city required to elect a city clerk in December, a city clerk, to hold his office for three years from the beginning of the next municipal year.

CITY CLERK CLEAVES.

Sect. 2. In the year nineteen hundred and two and every third year thereafter, in every city not required to elect or appoint a city clerk in December, there shall be elected or appointed as required by the charters of their respective cities, a city clerk to hold his office for three years from the day of his election or appointment.

Sect. 3. Every such clerk shall hold his office until the election or appointment an qualification of his successor, unless sooner removed by due process of law.

Sect. 4. When a vacancy shall occur in the office of city clerk the person elected or appointed to fill the vacancy shall hold the office until the end of the unexpired term of the person last holding the office.

Sect. 4. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

Sect. 6. This act shall be submitted to the voters of every city at the next annual municipal election and upon its acceptance by a majority of the voters voting thereon in any city shall take effect in that city.

Canada Cup Defender.

Work on the Cadillac, the yacht Hanley is building for Detroit parties, to race in the trial races to select a defender for the Canada cup is not progressing as rapidly as hoped, and she will not therefore be launched as early as announced ten days ago. She is, however, all planked, and will soon be ready for the water. It is said that the dimensions given out were not correct, and that she is longer than the Genesee, who won the cup races last year. The Genesee was 47 feet 6 inches overall, 27 feet 8 inches on the water line, and 11 feet 7 inches beam. The Cadillac, according to those who have seen her, is nearer 44 feet long, about 28 feet on the waterline and 12 feet beam. She has a very flat bottom both forward and aft of the centreboard, and resembles a scow. This however will enable her to skim lightly over the water and as she is a powerful boat she should be very fast, and will probably give a good account of herself. When completed she will be loaded onto a flat car and shipped to Detroit by rail.

PASTOR TO MANY.

Quincy Churches Represented at Funeral of Rev. C. W. Wilder.

The funeral of Rev. Charles W. Wilder was held Monday afternoon from the South Walpole Methodist church, to which he was called to preach a few weeks ago. The church was filled with parishioners and also many from Wollaston and West Quincy where he was located for six years. Delegates were also present from Paul Revere Post of which he was a member.

The services were conducted by Rev. Dr. W. T. Perrin, presiding elder of the Boston district, who preached the eulogy. Remarks were also made by Rev. James Mudge of Webster, a classmate in 1865 at Wesleyan University, Rev. J. H. Mansfield, D. D., presiding elder of the Cambridge district, and Rev. Daniel Dorchester, D. D., another classmate. The closing prayer was by Rev. George S. Chadbourne of Medford, and the benediction was by Rev. L. B. Bates of Boston. Singing was conducted by C. H. T. Kimball.

Among the clergymen present were: The Rev. C. E. Davis of the Tremont Street church, Boston; the Rev. N. T. Whitaker of Chelsea, the Rev. George H. Spencer of Newton, the Rev. L. H. Dorchester of People's Temple, the Rev. John Peterson of West Quincy, the Rev. George Whitaker of East Cambridge, the Rev. J. H. Tompson of St. Andrew's church, Jamaica Plain.

The bearers were the guard of honor from Paul Revere Post 88, G. A. R., who were Jonas Shackley, Thomas Smith, James Pierce, Henry Chubbuck and George Phillips.

The body arrived in Quincy that evening at 6.40, in charge of a guard of honor from Paul Revere Post, 88, G. A. R. The body was escorted to Mt. Wollaston cemetery where brief services were held by Rev. John Peterson. A squad of Grand Army men performed the burial service of the order, which closed with three volleys by the firing squad.

CITY BREVITIES.

A Local Budget With the News in a Nut Shell.

Clearing today.

A holiday Thursday.

Fair weather tomorrow.

The city stone crusher broke down Monday.

No Daily Ledger will be issued on Memorial day.

The City Council Committee on Finance met Monday evening.

The regular meeting of the School Committee will be held tonight.

The frame work for another new house on Upland road has been put up.

William J. Tilley is erecting a stable on his land at Great hill, Houghs Neck.

Mrs. Etta May is quite ill at the home of her mother, Mrs. Noble of Madison street.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Q. Litchfield spent Sunday with Mrs. Litchfield's mother at Hingham who is now ill.

The street railway is raising its tracks on that part of Coddington street that settled so badly last winter.

Mayor Hall has added Mr. George A. Wardwell to the committee to arrange for the visit of President McKinley.

The assistant assessors have about completed their work taking the polls of the city. All returns should be in Saturday.

A. F. Bussell, formerly a photographer of Quincy, was in the city Monday. He is now located in Guttenberg, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. Emile Brodie are receiving congratulation upon the arrival of a little daughter at their home on Upland road.

Nothing more has been learned about the body of the man that was found floating in the water Sunday off Wollaston beach.

The teachers and pupils of the Coddington school have extended invitations to their Memorial day exercises tomorrow.

Golf was played all day Sunday at the Wollaston links. It was noticed, however, that the players did not cross the line into Milton.

The frequent rains may be a good thing for the grass, but the general public would be better pleased to have a little more sunshine.

Memorial day is usually hot. Last year and the year before the noon temperature was 82, in 1898 it was 76, and the two preceding years 75.

The Edward Hewitson associates at the concert recently given in Wollaston netted the sum of fifty dollars which will be reserved for future purposes.

The street railway has planked over the cellar of the old Pierce block near its car house and have laid tracks over it so as to store some of the surplus cars.

John Hancock lodge, I. O. O. F., of Wollaston, will work the third degree on three candidates on Wednesday evening and entertain Mt. Wollaston and Neponset lodges.

Amos Bennett, who went to California for his health returned on Friday, May 24, and leaves today accompanied by his brother, W. H. Bennett, for Linwood, Nova Scotia. His health is very poor.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Morse have gone to their summer cottage at Rose Cliff, North Weymouth, for the summer. Such weather as we have experienced this week, however, makes living at the beach not over and above pleasant.

It is understood that the contracts for the sections of the Metropolitan sewer from Greenleaf street to Nut Island have been let, and that work will be commenced in a few days. There will probably be no blocking of the street this season.

The Meadow Golf club will hold a spring handicap tournament on Memorial day. In the morning there will be a qualifying round for the first sixteen. In the afternoon they will be matched off for the final round. The prize for the best gross score and winner of tournament will be a cup.

The Wollaston Yacht club are hoping for a pleasant day next Saturday as it is on that day that the club will have the city officials as guests. The plan as now outlined includes a sail to Bass Point, where lunch will be served, and then a sail home in the moonlight. The invitations have been generally accepted by the city officials.

☞ Billousness is a condition characterized by a disturbance of the digestive organs. The stomach is debilitated, the liver torpid, the bowels constipated. There is a loathing of food, pains in the bowels, dizziness, coated tongue and vomiting, first of the undigested or partly digested food and then of bile. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets allay the disturbances of the stomach and create a healthy appetite. They also tone up the liver to a healthy action and regulate the bowels. Try them and you are certain to be much pleased with the result. For sale by all druggists

WILSON VS. PACKARD.

The correspondent of Practical Politics evidently has discovered more politics in Quincy than the average voter. He says in the issue of May 25:

"Aside from the commissionership fight, a great deal of quiet work is being done to prepare for the candidacy of certain gentlemen all of whom wish to be congratulated as 'his honor, the mayor'' on Jan. 1, 1902.

"Rumors are now afloat that, not discouarged with his non-success, not defeat, in the caucuses of last year, ex-Councilman Packard is marshaling ihs forces for an assault on city hall. Well must his opponent, the Democratic nominee, look over the situation to make a good showing against this popular man from Ward 1.

"But from his home ward and immediate neighborhood come the warning that another ex-councilman has cast down the gauntlet and that his Democratic friends will fight and win the much courted office of chief executive for George H. Wilson, their candidate.

"Friends of each of the gentlemen put forth excellent arguments as to the personal strength and political popularity of their candidates, and undoubtedly there will be other and equally strong candidates in the field, who will have hearty support from the enthusiastic followers. It is early yet, and the campain is viewed at long range for the pesent."

HERE AND THERE.

Local Brevities of the City of Presidents.

Another change in the Houghs Neck timetable tomorrow.

Mr. William Blee and Mrs. Anna Winn both of Quincy were united in marriage at the manse of the First Presbyterian church on Wednesday evening, May 22, by the Rev. Dr. James Todd.

At the close of the exercises in the Sunday school of the First Presbyterian church last Sunday, Miss Sadie Fraser was presented by the pastor, with a handsome teachers' Bible for having recited without a mistake the shorter Catechism. The pastor complimented her on her effort.

Old Colony encampment of Odd Fellows will be instituted at Brockton Wednesday evening. The Middleboro encampment will work the Patriarchal degree, Wompatuck of East Weymouth the Golden Rule, and Manet of Quincy the Royal Purple. A large delegation will go from this city.

The funeral of Jacob Kolb, who died suddenly Friday evening, was held from his late residence on Clive street, Atlantic, Monday afternoon. Mr. Kolb was a barber by trade. He leaves a wife, three daughters and two sons, who have the sympathy of their many friends in their great bereavement.

CHANGES PROPOSED.

In the Apportionment of Congressional Districts.

Those who have been predicting unanimous approval of the committee plans for new congressional districts were doubtless surprised Monday at the assault made on the report in the House. Several changes are desired and some concern the political complexion of the Quincy district.

Representative Gilpatric moved as an amendment a complete shakeup of the three Boston districts, so that the Quincy district would be as follows:

Ward 16, Upham's Corner.
Ward 19, (Precincts 4, 5, 6, 7, 8), Reservoir.
Ward 20, Mt. Bowdoin.
Ward 21, Roxbury.
Ward 22, Jamaica Plain.
Ward 23, West Roxbury.
Ward 24, Dorchester.
Town of Milton.
City of Quincy.
Population 199,187.
Republican plurality for Congress 2,557.

Representative Albee also had a plan which makes up the district practically the same, the only difference being that Precinct 4 of Ward 19 is put into another district.

The Quincy district as proposed in the committee's report is as follows:

Ward 13, South Boston,
Ward 14, " "
Ward 15, " "
Ward 16, Uphams Corner,
Ward 17, Mt. Pleasant,
Ward 20, Mt. Bowdoin,
Ward 24, Dorchester,
City of Quincy,
Town of Milton,
Population, 199,222,
Democratic plurality for Congress, 5,600.

Representatives Badger and Sheppard of Quincy spoke against keeping Quincy in a Democratic district. Mr. Badger said the object of the revision on the part of the committee seemed not to give the Democrats their deserts but to give a Republican Back Bay district.

No vote was reached on the amendments yesterday and the bill was taken up again in the House this morning.

Dr. Todd Congratulated.

The Rev. Dr. Todd of Quincy read a paper Monday at the Presbyterian minister meeting in Boston, on "Christ and the Old Testament," which was unusually well received. The paper dealt with the higher critical view of today on the subject which is absorbing the attention of the theological world. The Rev. Dr. Withrow in speaking of the paper described it as "most excellent," and as one of the strongest ever read before the association, and expressed the wish that it might be printed in every religious journal in the land. Several questions were asked, and a general discussion followed, in which the paper was highly eulogized and Dr. Todd congratulated.

ANCIENT CHARTER.

Rural Lodge of Masons Has the One Granted in 1801.

Any documentt one hundred years old is of historical interest, and it is not surprising that Rural Lodge of Masons prize highly their original charter granted in 1801. Once when located in the Goodnow building, at the corner of Hancock and Granite streets now the site of Hotel Greenleaf, their headquarters were entirely destroyed by fire, but the charter was saved. It is reproduced below somewhat after the original style, the letter "f" being used for "s" as in the charter:

CHARTER.

SEAL.

To all the Fraternity to whom thefe Presents fhall come, the Grand Lodge of the Most Ancient and Honorable Society of Free and Accepted Masons for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts Sends Greeting:

SAMUEL DUNN, Grand Master.
JOSEPH LAUGHTON, Dep. G. Master.

Whereas, a Petition has been prefented to us by Brothers William P. Whiting, Thomas B. Wales, Jonathan Wales, Jr., Thomas French, Jr., Joshua Niles Elihu Bates, Isaac Walker, Eleazer Beals, Ephraim Wales, John Turner, Theophilus Wentworth, Isachar Snell and William French, all Ancient Free and Accepted Masons, praying that they, with fuch others as fhall hereafter join them, may be be erected and conftituted a regular Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons, which petition appearing to us as tending to the advancement of Mafonry and the good of the Craft.

Know Ye, Therefore, that We, the Grand Lodge aforesaid, repofing fpecial Truft and Confidence in the Prudence and Fidelity of our beloved Brethern above named, have conftituted and appointed, and by thefe Prefents do Conftitute and Appoint them, the faid Wm. P. Whitney, Thomas B. Wales, Jonathan Wales, Jr., Thomas French, Jr., Jofhua Niles, Elihu Bates, Isaac Walker, Eleazer Beals, Ephraim Wales, John Turner, Theophilus Wentworth, Isachar Snell, and William French, a regular Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons under the title and defignation of RURAL LODGE, hereby giving and granting unto them and their fucceffors full power and authority to convene as Masons, within the Town of Randolph, in the County of Norfolk, and Commonwealth aforefaid, to receive and enter Apprentices, pafs Fellow Crafts, and raife Master Masons, upon the payment of fuch moderate compenfations for the fame as may be determined by the said Lodge. Also, to make choice of Mafter, Wardens and other Office Bearers, annually, or otherwise as they fhall fee caufe; to receive and collect Funds for the relief of poor and diftreffed Bretheren, their widows or children, and, in general to transact all matters relating to Mafonry, which may to them appear to be for the good of the Craft according to the ancient Ufages and Customs of Masons.

And we do hereby require the faid conftituted Brethren to attend the Grand Lodge at their Quarterly Communications and other Meetings, by their Mafter and Wardens, or by proxies regularly appointed; alfo to keep a fair and regular record of all their Proceedings, and to lay them before the Grand Lodge when required.

And we do enjoin upon our Brethren of the faid Lodge, that they be punctual in the Quarterly payment of fuch fums as may be affeffed for the fupport of the Grand Lodge, that they behave themselves refpectfully and obediently to their Superiors in office and in all other refpects conduct themselves as good Masons.

And we do hereby declare the Precedence of the faid Lodge, in the Grand Lodge and elfewhere, to commence from the eighth day of June, Anno Lucis 5801.

In testimony whereof, We the Grand Master and Grand Wardens, by virtue of the power and authority to us committed, have hereunto fet our hands, and caufed the Seal of the Grand Lodge to be affixed, at Bofton, the eighth day of June, Anno Domini 1801, and of Mafonry, 5801.

JOHN BOYLE
Senior Grand Warden
JOHN SOLEY,
Junior Grand Warden.

By order of the Grand Lodge,
JOHN PROCTOR, Grand Secretary.

* The Grand Lodge granted the following dispensation in 1803:

To all the fraternity, to whom these Presents shall come:

Know ye, that on a petition referred to the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts on the evening of the 12th of December 5803, by the officers and members of Rural Lodge, for permission to hold that Lodge in future in the Town of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk,—which by the within Charter, was established to be held at Randolph in said county,—

It was unanimously Voted, to grant the prayer of the Petitioners; and that Rural Lodge should hereafter hold their meetings in the Town of Quincy only.

By order of the Most Worshipful Grand Master.

Attest:
JOHN PROCTOR,
Grand Secretary.

TODAY'S COURT.

RICHARD WATSON GILDER'S INSCRIPTIONS.

The Pen of the Gifted Editor Gives a Finishing Touch to the Exposition. He Proclaims a Prophecy and Pronounces a Benediction.

When the people of the two Americas visit the Exposition city just erected "by the great waters of the North," many will recognize the style of Richard Watson Gilder in the classic and poetic inscriptions which adorn its Propylæa, Stadium, bridges, palaces and temples. The Exposition was peculiarly fortunate in persuading the scholarly editor of The Century to put the finishing touch on the artistic masterpiece. Those who read the legends will feel that their author is a man who "has upheld the ideals of Liberty and Justice" and who throughout a laborious life now in its prime has been "faithful to the things that are eternal," one who "has never shunned the dust and sweat of the contest and on whose brow" already "falls the cool shade of the olive" and rests the wreath of the victor's laurel.

INSCRIPTIONS FOR THE PROPYLÆA.

PANEL I.

Here, by the great waters of the north, are brought together the peoples of the two Americas, in exposition of their resources, industries, products, inventions, arts and ideas.

PANEL II.

That the century now begun may unite in the bonds of peace, knowledge, good will, friendship and noble emulation all the dwellers on the continents and islands of the new world.

INSCRIPTIONS FOR THE STADIUM.

PANEL I.

Not ignoble are the days of peace, not without courage and laureled victories.

PANEL II.

He who fails bravely has not truly failed, but is himself also a conqueror.

PANEL III.

Who shuns the dust and sweat of the contest, on his brow falls not the cool shade of the olive.

INSCRIPTIONS FOR THE GREAT PYLONS OF THE BRIDGE.

On the pylons are statues of Courage, Liberty, Tolerance, Truth, Benevolence, Patriotism, Hospitality and Justice.

PANEL I.

The spirit of adventure is the maker of commonwealths.

PANEL II.

Freedom is but the first lesson in self government.

PANEL III.

Religious tolerance a safeguard of civil liberty.

PANEL IV.

A free state exists only in the virtue of the citizen.

PANEL V.

Who gives wisely builds manhood and the state—who gives himself gives best.

PANEL VI.

To love one's country above all others is not to despise all others.

PANEL VII.

The brotherhood of man—the federation of nations—the peace of the world.

PANEL VIII.

Between nation and nation as between man and man lives the one law of right.

DEDICATORY INSCRIPTIONS UPON PRINCIPAL BUILDINGS.

PANEL I.

To the ancient races of America, for whom the new world was the old, that their love of freedom and of nature, their hardy courage, their monuments, arts, legends and strange songs, may not perish from the earth.

PANEL II.

To the explorers and pioneers who blazed the westward path of civilization, to the soldiers and sailors who fought for freedom and for peace and to the civic heroes who save a priceless heritage.

PANEL III.

To the great inventors and farseeing projectors, to the engineers, manufacturers, agriculturists and merchants who have developed the resources of the new world and multiplied the homes of freemen.

PANEL IV.

To those who in the deadly mine, on stormy seas, in the fierce breath of the furnace and in all perilous places working ceaselessly bring to their fellow men comfort, sustenance and the grace of life.

PANEL V.

To the scholars and laborious investigators who in the old world and the new guard the lamp of knowledge and century by century increase the safety of life, enlighten the mind and enlarge the spirit of man.

PANEL VI.

To those painters, sculptors and architects, tellers of tales, poets and creators of music, to those actors and musicians who in the new world have cherished and increased the love of beauty.

PANEL VII.

To the prophets and heroes, to the mighty poets and divine artists and to all the light bearers of the ancient world who inspired our forefathers and shall lead and enlighten our children's children.

PANEL VIII.

To the statesmen, philosophers, teachers and preachers and to all those who in the new world have upheld the ideals of liberty and justice and have been faithful to the things that are eternal.

Why not use this liniment and get well? It is for sale by all druggists.

A TENNESSEE DISASTER

Twenty-One Miners, Most All Married, Meet Death

SOME OF THEM ENTOMBED

Gas, Formed by Coal Dust, Explode. With Terrific Force—Many of Those Who Were Rescued Are Not Expected to Recover From Injuries

Chattanooga, May 28.—A special from Dayton says: At the Richland mine of the Dayton Coal and Iron company, two miles from Dayton, yesterday afternoon, a terrific explosion of gas, formed by the collection of coal dust, resulted in the death of 21 men, all white, and most of them married and with families

The explosion was caused by what is known among miners as a "blown blast." It is the custom of the miners to place blasts and fire them off at quitting time each afternoon, leaving the coal thus thrown down to be loaded and hauled from the mine the next morning. The Richland mine is destitute of water, and hence great volumes of fine particles of coal dust, invisible to the naked eye, accumulate at the roof of the mine, forming a highly inflammable gas.

Yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock a dynamite cartridge was placed in position in one of the rooms for a blast. The miners had just started for the mouth of the mine. The blast did not explode as intended, but instead a long flame shot out of the blast hole, and ignited the accumulation of dust.

Instantly a terrific explosion occurred, a seething mass of flame shot to the mouth of the mine and extended 300 feet into the open air, scorching the leaves from the nearby trees. There were 34 men in the mine at the time. Four of these escaped with slight injuries. Twenty-one were killed and nine were terribly burned, most of them fatally.

The force of the explosion caused great masses of coal and slate to cave in from the roof of the mine, and many of the ill-fated miners were completely buried.

Word quickly reached Dayton and rescue forces were at once organized and proceeded to the mine. One by one the blackened and horribly disfigured bodies were taken from the debris, and carried to the mouth of the mine, where they were loaded onto a locomotive and carried to Dayton.

The two undertaking establishments at Dayton were turned into improvised morgues, where the mangled bodies were dressed and prepared for delivery to their families. All of the men employed in this mine were residents of Dayton.

The Richland mine is the property of the Dayton Coal and Iron company, owned by Glasgow capitalists. The company operates an iron furnace at Dayton, and operates coal mines in connection therewith.

A similar explosion occurred Dec. 23, 1895, a few hundred feet from where yesterday's explosion occurred, at the Nelson mine, in which 28 miners were instantly killed.

No Hens or Nightingales

Chicago, May 28.—The Eagle will hereafter be the model and emblem of the American Woman Suffragists. Alice S. Blackwell of Boston, in an address to her associates here yesterday, during a reception to delegates en route to Minneapolis, said: "Hereafter the American woman must cease to be a hen, which could do no better than cackle and scratch. She must cease to be a mere nightingale, that can only feed her young and warble. She must be the eagle mother, and her slogan must be: 'Woe betide the male chickenhawks, which swoop upon her offspring.'"

Creed to Be Revised

Philadelphia, May 28.—By a unanimous vote the Presbyterian general assembly yesterday adopted the report of the special committee on the revision of the confession of faith. The debate on this important question had extended into the fourth day, and when a viva voce vote was taken 640 ayes responded to the question.

New Lease of Life For Storti

Washington, May 28.—The United States supreme court yesterday announced that the hearing in the case of Luigi Storti, under sentence of electrocution in Massachusetts, would be postponed until Oct. 28 next. This decision will have the effect of prolonging Storti's life until after that date.

Nothing New, Says O'Connell

Toronto, May 28.—President O'Connell of the International Association of Machinists says that there is nothing new in the strike situation in the United States. Special conferences of the administrative council of the National Metal Trades, he says, will be held at Chicago today.

As to Woman Suffrage

Des Moines, May 28.—At yesterday's session of the United Presbyterian general assembly it was decided that the question of women suffrage is purely civic, and, therefore, not one that properly can come before an ecclesiastical legislative body.

Packet Struck a Rock

Burlington, Ia., May 28.—The Diamond Joe packet from Dubuque, southbound, struck a rock 12 miles north of here last evening, and sank in five feet of water in half a minute. Fifty passengers were on board, but there was no fatality.

Dynamite Demolished Train

Tacoma, Wash., May 28.—A Great Northern freight train collided with a dynamite car yesterday. The engine and train were totally destroyed.

COMPLICITY WITH CASHIER

Charged Against Prominent Men In the Vergennes Bank Case

Vergennes, Vt., May 28.—Lieutenant Governor M. F. Allen, vice president and director of the Farmers' National bank which recently suspended here, and J W. Ketchum, a representative to the legislature from this place, were arrested yesterday by United States officers, under indictments charging them with complicity with Cashier D. H Lewis in wrecking the bank. The indictments were found by the United States grand jury at Windsor last week.

Mr. Allen was given a hearing at North Ferrisburg before Clerk Johnson, and without going beyond the preliminaries, bail was fixed at $10,000, and was furnished by townsmen of Mr. Allen. He immediately was given his liberty. He said that if the books were wrong the fault was the cashier's, not his.

Mr. Ketchum was given a hearing at Burlington. He pleaded not guilty, and bail was fixed at $5000. Ketchum denies that he ever had any connection with the Farmers' National bank.

The work of investigating the condition of the Farmers' National bank practically has been completed, and it appears that the total shortage is about $54,373.

Wedding Without Vows

New York, May 28.—Announcement is made of the marriage in this city of Professor George D. Herron and Miss Carrie Rand. Rev. William T. Brown of Rochester performed the ceremony, which was extremely simple, there being no vows taken by either party. Professor Herron and Miss Rand merely announced to those present the fact of their choice, Dr. Brown following with a few remarks, and each of the guests saying an appropriate word. The lives of Mr. and Mrs. Herron are to be devoted to the cause of socialism. The remarks of Dr. Brown, who himself is a member of the socialist movement, were more in the nature of an announcement instead of the taking of pledges. After saying that the marriage was a sacrament, he continued: "Inasmuch, therefore, as George D. Herron and Carrie Rand are thus united together by the bond of a reciprocal love, I announce that they are husband and wife by every law of right and truth."

Jerome Still on the Warpath

New York, May 28.—Justice Jerome and agents of the committee of 15 yesterday raided two alleged pool rooms. Eight arrests were made at one place and seven in the other. Among those taken at one place was Thomas Ryan, a Tammany politician. He was found undressed and in bed. A warrant had been issued for Ryan's arrest in connection with the place. Fifty or 60 men in the place made desperate efforts to escape. The commander of the precinct knew nothing of the raid until Justice Jerome telephoned for the wagon.

Favored With Pleasant Weather

Julesburg, Col., May 28.—The presidential train made the third day's run on the homeward journey without incident. Brief stops were made for water, and to change engines at several stations. The president made no remarks at any of these places, but he appeared on the rear platform and shook hands with some of those nearest the car. Mrs. McKinley is standing the trip very well. The weather has been exceedingly pleasant. The train will arrive in Washington Thursday morning.

Root's Opinion Unchanged

Washington, May 28.—The cadets dismissed from West Point were closeted with Secretary Root for over an hour yesterday, and at the conclusion of their hearing were escorted to the office of the judge advocate general, with whom they spent about half an hour. Mr. Root stated at the conclusion of the conference that the statements made by the cadets had not altered his opinion.

Blood Vessel Ruptured

Columbus, O., May 28.—Governor Nash's physicians admit that he is suffering from the rupture of a blood vessel in the spine. This is the accident which the governor sustained in the high altitudes while returning from San Francisco. The physicians claim that with absolute rest the rupture may heal.

Schooner and Crew Lost

Milwaukee, May 28.—Incoming vessels confirm reports which indicate that the three-masted schooner C. H. Hackley of this city was lost in Friday's gale on Lake Michigan, together with her owner, Captain Oerthling, and five men.

Disabled Cutter Saved

Washington, May 28.—Captain Shoemaker of the revenue cutter service has received word that the cutter Grant, which recently was disabled about 80 miles from Seattle, has been raised, and will be towed to Victoria for repairs.

Robbers Commit Murder

Navarre, O., May 28.—Christian Stahl, a farmer living near this place, was bound and brutally murdered by two masked burglars, who broke into the house and demanded his money. There is no clue to the murderers.

Long Jump Record Broken

London, May 28.—In the Irish championship games at Dublin yesterday, P. O'Connor of Waterford covered 24 feet 9 inches in the long jump, beating all previous records.

Whooping Cough.

A woman who has had experience with this disease tells how to prevent any dangerous consequences from it. She says: Our three children took whooping cough last summer, our baby boy being only three months old, and owing to our giving them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, they lost none of their plumpness and came out in much better health than other children whose parents did not use this remedy. Our oldest little girl would call lustily for cough syrup between whoops.—JESSIE PINKEY HALL, Springville, Ala. This Remedy is for sale by all druggists.

MARKED BY ANARCHISTS

Men Chosen to Kill Emperor, Queen, President and the Czar

Rome, May 28.—A newspaper published in Verona reports the attempted suicide of a youthful blacksmith named Pietrucci, who has confessed that he belonged to a society of anarchists, and was chosen by lot to kill the Emperor of Germany. He preferred suicide to making the attempt. In his confession he also disclosed the names of certain of his comrades, who had been selected to kill Queen Helena of Italy, President Loubet of France and the Czar of Russia.

Bay State Legislature

Boston, May 28.—The legislative committee on metropolitan affairs last night completed its draft of the Washington street subway bill, and will submit it to the legislature today. The bill will have these features: The Boston transit commissioners will build the subway the Elevated company paying the bills; the railroad commissioners will determine when the surface tracks on Washington street shall be taken up; this board will also determine whether stocks or bonds shall be issued by the railway company to pay for the cost of construction; the bill will not be submitted to the people of Boston for their approval; the rights of labor are protected, and preference given to citizens; the Boston Elevated railway is granted a tenure of the new subway for 40 years.

Bricklayers Return to Work

New York, May 28.—The joint arbitration board of the Bricklayers' union and the Master Builders' association met last night. The conference lasted until this morning, when it was announced that all differences had been settled, and that the lockout and strike had been mutually declared off. The men returned to work this morning. From June 28 the men will receive 60 cents an hour, instead of 55 cents, as heretofore. This rate of wages will bold good until May 1, 1902. The settlement of the strike, which has been in force for about two weeks, will affect 20,000 to 25,000 men, and will mean an increase in wages of many thousands of dollars annually.

Memory Restored by Hypnotism

Buffalo, May 28.—A remarkable case of loss of memory and restoration by hypnotism developed here yesterday. John J. Kelly of Providence appealed to the police to find out, if possible, who he was. Dr. Fowler, the police surgeon, after satisfying himself that Kelly was not a fraud, called in three specialists. Kelly was hypnotized. Under the hypnotic spell he rationally answered all questions put to him. After being brought to after the experiment, Kelly was in a rational condition. He says he has no recollection of anything that has happened since last Friday.

Boers Losing Heavily

Pretoria, May 28.—Advices received yesterday from Lord Kitchener announce that since May 20 the British columns report 63 Boers killed, 36 wounded, 267 taken prisoners and 83 surrendered.

London, May 28.—The Times publishes the following from Cradock, dated May 27: Kritzinger's invaders of Cape Colony captured a British post of 41 men near Maraisburg, after a stout resistance.

Shamrock Wreckage Recovered

Southampton, May 28.—The wreckage of the Shamrock II was grappled up and drawn into shallow water yesterday. The topmast was sprung, but was not actually broken. So far as the divers could learn, the gaff, forestay and main rigging are intact.

Suicide Ended Suffering

Brattleboro, Vt., May 28.—Will Stearns, aged 45, committed suicide yesterday by hanging in the attic of his home. He had been ill for a year with progressive muscular atrophy, and his act was due to despondency.

Writ of Habeas Corpus Refused

Washington, May 28.—Judge Barnard has refused to issue a writ of habeas corpus in the case of Mrs. Bonine, charged with the killing of James Ayres.

NEWS IN BRIEF

An unknown man attempted to board a Boston-bound train at Newfields, N. H., after it was in motion, and was thrown beneath the wheels and instantly killed.

In response to the protest of the foreign embassies, the order issued by the Turkish government prohibiting the entry of typewriters into Turkey has been rescinded.

The prize of $100, offered by the College Equal Suffrage league for the best essay on woman's suffrage, was won by Miss Ava M. Stoddard, a sophomore at the Massachusetts institute of technology, who lives in Boston.

Mrs. Julia Ward Howe quietly celebrated her 83rd birthday at Boston. She is enjoying fairly good health. Innumerable gifts and congratulatory telegrams were received.

The new census returns give the population of Australasia at 4,550,651. This is an increase of 740,756 since the last enumeration.

Burglars cracked the safe at the Maine Central passenger station at Woodfords, Me. Two explosions accomplished the work, but as there was less than $1 in money in the safe the burglars weer hardly repaid. There is no clue.

When a man is drowning his rescue is a question of timely help. It is the same thing in disease. Many a time the doctor says of a man whose condition is hopeless, "If you'd begun in time you might have been cured."

This is especially true when the disease affects the lungs. Delay is dangerous. The timely use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will result in a quick cure of deep-seated coughs, bronchitis, and weak lungs. Even when hemorrhages have been frequent and profuse "Golden Medical Discovery" has been used time and again with the result of a perfect and permanent cure. Mr. McCauley, of Leechburg, Armstrong Co., Pa., had eighty-one hemorrhages, and after other medical aid had failed he was completely cured by the use of "Golden Medical Discovery,"

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is no other medicine just as good for "weak" lungs.

"I was in poor health when I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's medicine," writes Mr. Elmer Lawler, of Volga, Jefferson Co., Ind. "I had stomach, kidney, heart, and lung troubles. Was not able to do any work. I had a severe cough and hemorrhage of the lungs, but after using your medicine a while I commenced to gain in strength and flesh, and stopped coughing right away. Took about six bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' then, and last spring I had Grippe and it settled on my lungs, leaving me with a severe cough. I had the doctor, but he didn't seem to help me any; so I commenced your medicine again and took three or four bottles of the 'Discovery' and two vials of Dr. Pierce's Pellets, and that straightened me up. I feel like a different person. I gladly recommend your medicine to all sufferers, for I know it cured me."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

When a man is drowning his rescue is a question of timely help. It is the same thing in disease. Many a time the doctor says of a man whose condition is hopeless, "If you'd begun in time you might have been cured."

This is especially true when the disease affects the lungs. Delay is dangerous. The timely use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will result in a quick cure of deep-seated coughs, bronchitis, and weak lungs. Even when hemorrhages have been frequent and severe, "Golden Medical Discovery" has been used time and again with the result of a perfect and permanent cure. Mr. McCauley, of Leechburg, Armstrong Co., Pa., had eighty-one hemorrhages, and after other medical aid had failed was completely cured by the use of "Golden Medical Discovery."

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is no other medicine just as good for "weak" lungs.

"I was in poor health when I commenced using Dr. Pierce's medicine," writes Mr. Elmer Ryder, of Volga, Jefferson Co., Ind. "I had much kidney, heart, and lung troubles. Was unable to do any work. I had a severe cough and hemorrhage of the lungs, but after using the medicine a while I commenced to gain in strength and flesh, and stopped coughing right away. Took about six bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' then, and last spring I had a spell and it settled on my lungs, leaving me with a severe cough. I had the doctor, but he didn't seem to help me any; so I commenced using medicine again and took three or four bottles of the Discovery' and two vials of Dr. Pierce's Pellets, and that straightened me up, and I feel like a different person. I gladly recommend your medicine to all sufferers, for I know it cured me."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

WRECKED POSTOFFICE

Robbers Did a Thorough Job at Andover, Me

USED POWERFUL EXPLOSIVE

And Escaped With Plunder to the Amount of $1000—Posse Had Lost Trail and Given Up the Hunt, but Robbers Were Finally Captured

Andover, Me., May 29.—Two men, who entered the postoffice here early yesterday morning, wrecked the safe and building, and carried away money and postage stamps to the amount of $1000, were arrested in the woods at Roxbury Notch yesterday afternoon, after they had been surrounded by a posse of citizens, headed by two deputy sheriffs, and the plunder recovered.

When the robbers found themselves surrounded in the woods they refused to surrender, and several shots were fired before they gave themselves up. Finally, however, they saw it would be useless to resist, and consented to go quietly to the lockup at Rumford, after turning over to an officer a grip containing the stolen money and stamps.

The burglars gained entrance to the postoffice by forcing a widow with tools stolen from a blacksmith shop.

In blowing the safe either nitroglycerine or dynamite was used, and the job was done in a very thorough manner. The safe was literally blown to pieces and the interior of the postoffice building was almost completely wrecked. Everything of value that the safe contained was taken, but the letters in the office were not disturbed.

Although the robbers made good their escape before anybody arrived on the scene, there was little doubt that they were two in number, as indicated by tracks which were found leading in the direction of Roxbury Notch.

The building in which the postoffice is located is a small one-story structure, situated within 12 feet of the residence of Postmaster Thomas. In connection with the postoffice, Mr. Thomas conducted a fruit and confectionery business.

Although the sound of the explosion was heard by residents of other sections of the town, Mr. Thomas and his family were not awakened, and knew nothing of the occurrence until aroused by the excited voices of their neighbors. A hasty examination of the postoffice was then made, and a posse numbering 50 men was immediately organized and started in pursuit of the robbers, whose tracks, leading in the direction of Rumford, could be easily followed.

The robbers kept to the road, and the citizens had no trouble in following the trail until Roxbury Notch was reached, but at this point the tracks led into the woods and there the trail was lost.

After scouring about the country for several hours the posse broke up, and all, with the exception of Frank P. Thomas and Fernando M. Thomas, returned to their homes. These men continued the search alone, and about noon were successful in locating the men for whom they were looking. As they were unarmed and the fugitives appeared to be rather dangerous individuals, they decided to go for assistance, and the officers at Rumford Falls were notified. Deputy Sheriffs Elliott and Porter and a posse of citizens at once started for the scene, and the capture of the men followed.

Mrs. McKinley Gaining Strength

Cedar Rapids, Ia., May 29.—The trip of the presidential train from Omaha eastward yesterday across the state of Iowa, was made over the Chicago and Northwestern, and, to avoid the crowds at the stations, the engines and train crews were changed a few miles from the end of each division. Mrs. McKinley's condition has continued to show steady improvement since she left San Francisco. She is gaining some strength. She has not yet left her couch, however, but sits up in bed most of the day.

Smith's Claim Not Sustained

Washington, May 29.—The secretary of war has approved the finding of the board appointed to investigate the claim of Major William F. Smith, U. S. A., retired, that he, and not General Rosecrans, conceived the plan for the relief of Chattanooga by military operations to be conducted in Lookout valley in October, 1863. The board found that General Rosecrans devised the plan.

America a Formidable Enemy

Vienna, May 29.—The Neues Weiner Tageblatt, in the course of an article advocating the formation of a European customs league against the United States, says: "America is the common enemy of all, an enemy so formidable that each European country must succumb unless leagued with the rest of Europe. Even united Europe will have a hard fight."

GENERAL SATISFACTION

At Announcement of Recall of German Forces From China

Washington, May 29.—The state department yesterday replied to the announcement of the German government that the emperor considered that the time had come for the recall from China of Field Marshal Von Waldersee, expressing the satisfaction of the government of the United States at this announcement. This government already having withdrawn its troops from China, with the exception of a small guard, intended solely for the protection of its legation in Pekin, has expressed its views with regard to the further military occupation of China. In replying to the memorandum of the German government, occasion was taken to express the high esteem with which Field Marshal Von Waldersee had been regarded by the officers of the United States in China, and appreciation for all the personal courtesies extended by him.

Frenchman May Succeed Waldersee

Berlin, May 29.—The German press without exception comments in terms of approval upon the news that Emperor William has ordered Count Von Waldersee and the German troops to return home. Even the military papers join the chorus. The Lokal Anzeiger says it hears that Count Von Waldersee's successor will probably be a Frenchman.

Chinese Wouldn't Open Gate

Paris, May 29.—A dispatch received here from General Voyron at Tientsin, dated May 26, says that a reconnoitering party came upon a walled town northeast of Ting-Chau. The town authorities refused to open the gates, whereupon the French artillery opened fire, and the town was taken. One French infantryman was wounded.

Rate of Interest Too High

Pekin, May 29.—The Chinese plenipotentiaries have informed the ministers of the powers that the court has notified them of its willingness to pay indemnity to the amount of 450,000,000 taels, but the court objects to 4 percent interest.

Left to a Committee.

Philadelphia, May 29.—The 113th Presbyterian general assembly was dissolved last night by Moderator Minton, after having been in session for nearly two weeks, during which time many matters of importance to the church were considered. Chief among these was the question regarding the revision of the confession of faith. This momentous subject has been referred to a special committee of 21 members, who will make recommendations as to the manner in which the creed should be revised, and present them to the next general assembly.

Confederates Convene

Memphis, May 29.—More than 2300 members of the United Confederate Veterans met in Confederate hall yesterday for their 11th annual reunion. Although the convention, in point of oratory, enthusiasm and all other respects was a most brilliant success, the weather put a damper on the floral parade, which was postponed until today. The exercises were almost entirely confined to the welcoming addresses, the completion of permanent organization and the appointment of the committees on resolutions and credentials.

Competition Too Keen

Buffalo, May 29.—The Peter Paul Book company, one of the oldest and largest firms of its kind in western New York, went into the hands of a receiver yesterday. The company states that it is insolvent, and that it will be in the interest of its creditors and stockholders if the corporation goes out of business. The firm's failure is said to be due to the competition of department stores.

Suspicion of Bomb Throwing

New York, May 29.—Early this morning a supposed dynamite bomb was exploded in front of Gleason & Co.'s jewelry store on West One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street. Windows were broken and there was great excitement. As far as known no one was injured. The police are investigating.

Fairbanks' Boom Launched

Chicago, May 29.—Senator Fairbanks of Indiana is formally announced as a candidate for the presidential nomination before the Republican convention of 1904. Harry S. New, Republican national committeeman from Indiana, who is in Chicago, is authority for the statement that Indiana will stand behind Mr. Fairbanks in his race.

Former Senator Towne of Duluth will remove to New York the latter part of June, and will make that city his future home. Politics, it is said, will be a secondary consideration with Mr. Towne for the next few years.

WHISKEY AND JEALOUSY

The Motive For a Double Crime In Rhode Island

BEAUTIFUL WOMAN KILLED

Husband Fired But One Shot to Accomplish His Purpose—Then Turned Weapon Upon Himself and Ended His Own Life—Had Lived Apart

Lincoln, R. I., May 29.—In a fit of jealousy, heightened by the use of whisky, William Martineau, aged about 35, shot and instantly killed his wife, 22 years old, and, after attempting to kill Albert Fairbanks, who sought to rescue the woman, turned the weapon on himself, and completed the double tragedy.

The unpleasant relations of their married life, which led to a second separation on last Tuesday, and the personal beauty of his youthful wife, seems to have aroused the jealousy of Martineau, and he went, armed with a 44-calibre revolver, to the residence of Mrs. Henry Harper, where Mrs. Martineau had sought refuge, with the intention of having revenge.

He entered the house and flourished the revolver before Mrs. Harper and her child, who were dining, and a few minutes after they had sought safety in flight, a cry for help was heard from the dining room, and, with one shot, Mrs. Martineau lay dead at his feet.

Albert Fairbanks, who heard the cries of the young woman, hurried to her assistance, but he had no sooner reached the door of the house than he was greeted with bullets, one of which entered his arm. He then turned, but before he had gone a step another shot had closed the career of the murderer, whose body fell only a few feet from that of his wife.

Martineau had been married two years. His wife's former name was Victoria De Gonyoun, and her parents live in Bethel, Vt. She was considered beautiful, and for this reason Martineau soon became jealous of her, which led to a separation, about a year ago. After a stay of a month with her parents, she decided to return to him, and, not until last Tuesday, until he proposed that they separate, did she finally decide to close permanently their married relations. She went to the residence of [illegible] ing occurred she was preparing to return home.

Martineau was employed at Providence as a machinist, but for the past two or three days he had been idle and drank considerably.

The woman was shot in the right side of the head, and the bullet came out on the left side. The bullet which ended Martineau's life entered his left ear and crashed through his head.

Medical Examiner Marshall viewed the remains, which were removed to Pawtucket, where they await claimants.

Mrs. Martineau was one of six children. Before she married Martineau she had known him only 10 days.

The scene of the shooting was on the Lounsquisset turnpike, near the junction of Mitchell road, several miles from the town.

Helped Defeat Blaine

New York, May 29.—Barney Rourke, a local Republican politician, died yesterday, after a protracted illness. After the election of 1884 Rourke was credited with having accomplished the defeat of the late James G. Blaine. He was one of a group of independent Republicans which supported former President Cleveland. After the campaign of 1888 Rourke was expelled from the Republican county committee, and finally drifted into Tammany Hall.

Boers Want to Arbitrate

Berlin, May 29.—Special dispatches from St. Petersburg assert that Dr. Muller and Dr. Leyds, representing the Boer republics, have appealed formally to The Hague arbitration court, promising to abide by the decision of the tribunal regarding the issues involved in the South African war. The Berlin papers express the opinion that it is quite possible Great Britain would now submit the issues to the decision of the court.

Division Among Socialists

Lyons, May 29.—Divisions in the Socialist party have again been demonstrated by the defeat in the Socialist congress, in session here, of a resolution declaring that M. Millerand, minister of commerce, had placed himself outside the party by accepting a portfolio in a Bourgeois cabinet. The resolution created a sensation, and led to much noisy discussion.

Plague's Heavy Inroads

Hong Kong, May 29.—The progress of the bubonic plague here is becoming serious. The death rate is over 30 daily. The epidemic is the worst known since 1894.

HOLIDAY NOTICE.

Thursday, Memorial Day, will be observed by the Daily Ledger, as a holiday. No edition will be issued and the office of publication will be closed. Friday's Ledger will report at length the observance of the day by the Grand Army and the Spanish War veterans; also the sports the news in general.

Good Afternoon.

Some of the other City Hall officials are wondering why they did not get in on the ground floor with the City Clerk and get an act favorable to a three-year term to make them solid, but then the voters of Quincy have not accepted the new act which provides for the appointment of the City Clerk for three years, and it is doubtful if they will. So long as the Mayor is elected for but one year, the members of his offical family should come up for annual ap-

Representatives Badger and Sheppard correctly represented their constituency in opposing the committee's makeup of the Congressional districts. It is not so much that the Quincy district shall be either Democratic or Republican, as it is to secure an entire divorce from Boston politics, that Quincy voters want. Were they to make their choice, they would become a part of the Norfolk county district, as their affiliations are with the towns of the county rather than the Dorchester or South Boston wards of Boston. As Norfolk county has less population than a congressional district it should not be divided. Newton is out of place in the Norfolk county district. Although Brookline is a part of Norfolk county it is almost entirely surrounded by Boston, and its interests are with Boston. It is idle to say that no other division would be equitable or as compact. Chelsea could be taken into a Boston district, or East Boston and Charlestown could be dropped. Perhaps Senators Codman and Sprague will be more successful in the Senate.

Drift of Opinion.

☞The Federation of Musicians has voted to make war on "ragtime music. Nothing short of a policeman on every corner can prevent the small boy from whistling it even if it is under the ban. —Beverly Times.

☞Grand Army posts are again protesting against the use of Memorial Day for a day of sports. In reply it is said that the protest is of no use, and that it might as well not be made. However, we think that the old soldiers have logic and sentiment, if not custom, on their side. No doubt there is much vital appreciation of what Memorial Day means in the hearts of people who seem outwardly to care little for the day or for its observances. But they all allow their desire for pleasure to control their feelings of respect and thus make no sign in any way that they have any thought for the ceremonies of the day. It would be well if the community everywhere could agree to use Memorial Day for no other purpose than that of its institution. One day in the year wholly devoted to seriousness would scarcely be misspent. There is plenty of time for sports on other days, and while recreation is thoroughly advisable, other things are advisable also. A universal agreement to make Memorial day sacred to the objects for which it was founded would be a good thing for the country.—New Bedford Standard.

IN SOLDIERS MEMORY.

The Public Schools Observe Memorial Day.

Programs By Veterans of Both Wars.

The Usual Exercises at Mt. Wollaston Tomorrow.

Tomorrow will be Memorial day, and the first duty of every citizen of Quincy is to the soldiers who volunteered in the 60's that these United States might continue a union. Quincy furnished 954 men in those dark days, and many never returned.

The veterans who survive are mostly upwards of 60 years, while several are over 80 years, and they need assistance in the arduous duties of Memorial day.

AT THE SCHOOLS.

Memorial services were held this morning at the Quincy High school, the address being by Rear Admiral Belknap. Previous to the address there was singing of patriotic airs by the pupils of the school. Admiral Belknap as introduced by Col. Charles H. Porter, chairman of the School Committee, who spoke for nearly an hour, his address being reminiscences of the Civil war and the part he took in the blockading squadron. The address was of a very interesting nature.

The Grammar schools of the city are observing Memorial day this afternoon.

SPANISH WAR VETERANS.

The Memorial day services of the Legion of Spanish War Veterans will take place in the morning. Camp Boyd will form in City Square, and at 9 o'clock march through Temple street, Washington street and Hancock street to City Hall. There they will be reviewed by Mayor Hall, who will also address them. The camp will then march to West Quincy and hold exercises at the grave of John A. Boyd. The camp will then march back to City Square and be dismissed.

G. A. R. VETERANS.

The program of the Grand Army for [illegible] day is given at length in another column. In brief, the Paul Revere Post and auxiliaires will go to West Quincy at 9.15, holding services there about 10 o'clock. In the afternoon, the organizations will form at 2 o'clock and march to Mt. Wollaston cemetery, where there will be addresses and other services.

AS REPORTED.

Redistricting Bill Goes to Third Reading.

Before the redistricting bill was taken up in the House on Tuesday Representative Saunders of Boston arose to a question of personal privilege, and said he had unintentionally misquoted Mr. Badger of Quincy in the debate on the Redistricting bill.

The bill was further debated. Representative Badger again opposed the report of the committee. He said its map looks like a feather bed hung over the ridgepole of a barn. The Democrats," he argued, "have never given the Republicans a show when they had control and there is no reason why they should be presented by the Republicans with one more district. They need be given only one." He favored the Gilpatric amendment.

The first amendment to be voted on was that of Mr. McPherson of Framingham, who wanted Holliston, Hopkinton and Sherborn taken from the proposed 12th district and placed in the 4th. This received the support of only a handful of members, the "yea" vote being so feeble that Mr. McPherson did not even ask for a count.

Mr. Albee of East Boston withdrew his amendment providing for an arrangement of the Boston ward lines differing materially from that reported by the committee, and proposing to divide the East Boston wards by placing each in a different district. Mr. Albee announced that he did this in the interest of Mr. Gilpatric's amendment.

The vote on the Sleeper and Gilpatric amendments showed that their supporters had pooled issues. The former's proposition was to take Winthrop from the 9th district, and place it in the 7th, and to take Wakefield from the 7th and place it in the 5th. This was rejected on a rising vote by 48 to 113. The Gilpatric amendment, the chief purpose of which was to get Dorchester into a Republican district by placing it in the Roxbury, was then rejected by a vote of 48 to 112. A roll-call was not requested.

The question then came on ordering the bill to a third reading, and the affirmative response of yeas was almost unanimous. Not more than half a dozen members voted in the negative, so that no count was asked for.

When the bill reaches the Senate it will encounter further opposition.

Resignation Accepted.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Woodward Institute held Tuesday a letter was received from Miss Carrie E. Small, principal of the school, tendering her resignation to take effect at the close of the present school term, June 29. The resignation was accepted. No action was taken in the matter of filling the vacancy.

Miss Small has been principal of the Woodward Institute since the school was opened in the spring of 1894, having successfully filled the position of principal of the Plymouth High school for several years previous. Her efforts have been untiring to make the new institute a success, and those pupils who have attended the school are very much attached to her, and have worked faithfully to promote the interests of school. Because of the great popularity of the Quincy high school, the attendance at the Woodward has not been as large as many desired. The Woodward is unfortunate in having as its directors pastors of all the Quincy churches. It is a large and changeable board and has not been a unite in the management of the school, so that the position of a principal is not the most desirable. Miss Small has many warm friends in Quincy who wish her success.

Tragedy at a Picnic

Nardin, Okla., May 29.—At a picnic of society young people yesterday a picture was being made of the group when Miss Nora Wolfrum asked Miss Bishop to point a rifle at her to add to the romance of the scene. Miss Bishop did so. The rifle was accidentally discharged, and Miss Wolfrum was instantly killed, the bullet piercing her heart.

Not Easily Scared

New York, May 29.—A hotel keeper of Orange, N. J., yesterday received a letter from a person unknown, threatening him trouble if he did not stop buying supplies from certain persons and stop selling liquor on Sunday. He turned the letter over to the police, and offered $1000 reward for the writer.

Whooping Cough.

A woman who has had experience with this disease tells how to prevent any dangerous consequences from it. She says: Our three children took whooping cough last summer, our baby boy being only three months old, and owing to our giving them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, they lost none of their plumpness and came out in much better health than other children whose parents did not use this remedy. Our oldest little girl would call lustily for cough syrup between whoops.—JESSIE PINKEY HALL, Springville, Ala. This Remedy is for sale by all druggists.

CITY BREVITIES.

A Local Budget With the News in a Nut Shell.

Tomorrow will be observed as a holiday by employes of the Daily Ledger.

The predictions are not very encouraging for a pleasant Memorial day.

Lewis N. Curtis of Orchard place has a card in this issue as a painter and paper hanger.

It is hoped that Friday may be pleasant, that it may not cast a cloud over June weather.

The double doors leading into Wilson's store have been replaced with a large single door.

The musicale of Mr. J. D. Buckingham takes place this evening at the Woodward school hall.

Private Declough of Co. K has been detailed as paymaster on the 5th regiment staff with the rank of captain.

Ex-Councilman George H. Wilson who has been mentioned for Mayor, says the boys are making trouble for him.

Miss Edith Bates, who has served so faithfully for six years as teacher of Grade V of the Wollaston school, has resigned.

That game of base ball at Norfolk Downs — Married men vs. Single men will attract many "rooters" if the day is pleasant.

The Wollaston citizens have reasons to be proud of their new fire station. The interior presents a very neat appearance to visitors.

Corp. F. C. Chamberlain of Co. K will receive an appointment on the non-commissioned staff of Col. Oakes of the 5th Mass. regiment.

Rev. A. A. Ellsworth has been supplying the church at Assonet for a month past and is requested to make an engagement with them, but he will probably remain at Quincy for the present.

Francis L. Souther camp, Sons of Veterans, invite all eligible sons, whether members of any camp or not, to participate with them in the Memorial day parade and exercises. Place in the line will be reserved for them.

Officer Barry found a young son of Mr. Rogers of Cottage street, wandering on Hancock street, Tuesday afternoon, and returned the child to his home. The boy had his pet dog with him and when the officer attempted to lead the boy home, he was attacked by the dog.

The fifth annual opening of the Wollaston Yacht club will be held at the club house Wollaston beach Thursday evening. The program includes a musical and literary entertainment, refreshments and dancing. A good time is assured the members and their ladies.

There will be a spring handicap tournament for members of the Meadow Golf club, May 30, at 9.30 A. M. Best sixteen scores qualify for the Spring cup. First round to be played in afternoon, second round before Saturday noon; finals on Saturday, June 1, at 2 o'clock. Prize for best gross score in qualifying round a cup.

SOME NEW FEATURES

Proposed on Day of Visit of President.

Committee Will Ask for $1500.

Doubt Still As to Whether President Will Come.

The committee appointed by Mayor Hall and the Committee of the City Council, to arrange for the reception of President McKinley, should he come to Quincy in July, was held in the City Clerk's office at City Hall Tuesday evening. Mayor Hall presided and the meeting was largely attended. It is impossible to make definite plans until it is absolutely certain that the President will visit Quincy and what time he will arrive. A program, however, was laid out. It proposed that the distinguished guests should be met at the Quincy depot, and that the works of the Fore River Ship and Engine company, the First church and the Presidents houses should be visited, and possibly one of the quarries or stone sheds at Quincy Adams also that the school children should assemble at the Adams houses or City Square and sing songs. It was also proposed that there be a short parade by the Grand Army, Sons of Veterans, Legion of Spanish War Veterans, and other organizations. This parade either to escort the President from City Square to the Adams houses or from Adams houses to City Square.

The financial end of the affair was also taken up and discussed and it was decided to ask the City Council to appropriate $1,500 for the entertainment of the Chief Executive.

Monday Evening Club.

At the annual meeting of the Atlantic Monday Evening club the retiring board of officers were unanimously re-elected:

President, Rev. J. H. Whitaker.
Vice President, Mr. Charles A. Hall.
Secretary, Miss Isabel F. P. Emery.
Treasurer, Mrs. Charles L. Coe.

From the Secretary's report it was learned that the season closed with a paid up membership of two hundred and fifty-one.

The largest attendance was March 18 when two hundred and fifty were present. On five evenings there were two hundred or more. The smallest number was on very stormy night when on hundred braved the elements. Other than this there was no evening with less than one hundred and seventy-five. The average attendance was one hundred and ninety-two and seven-tenths.

The treasurer reported a balance of twenty-eight dollars and seventy-one cents in the treasury.

Flag Drill.

The flag drill given by the young ladies of the Park and Downs Congregational Church Monday night was indeed a great success, and doubtless the church would have been filled had the weather been more favorable. About 7.45 the pianist, Mrs. Ernest Shay, played the march, and a more thoroughly drilled company of girls never entered a hall for public exhibition. Their time was perfect and all marched with soldierly bearing. Their leader Miss Alda Shay, certainly deserves great praise for her instructions. At the close of the drill, dialogues were given by some of the young ladies, after which the audience had the pleasure of hearing a few solos by Miss Eva Smith, accompanied on the piano by Miss Damon, followed by a reading by Miss Evelyn McDonald. The programe closed with a vocal solo by Miss Shay.

Identified.

The body of the unknown man found floating Sunday off Squantum has been identified as Ernest Bormann of Cambridge. Sometime ago he was committed to Tewskbury, where it was found that he was not quite right in his head, and he was sent back to Boston and then taken to the State farm at Long Island. He disappeared from there May 3, since which time no trace of him has been found. It is supposed that he tried to escape and was drowned. The body has been claimed by relatives.

ELTINGE COMING.

He of Miss Simplicity Fame to be at Quincy Music Hall.

Many have thought that the season's entertainments in Quincy were over, and so doubtless will be surprised to learn that perhaps the finest thing of its kind ever given about Boston is to be given within a fortnight in Quincy Music hall. Everyone is familiar with the artistic work of Mr. J. D. Eltinge of "Miss Simplicity" fame, and many Quincy people doubtless saw him in that role, at the Tremont theatre last winter, paying fabulous prices for that privilege; and now "Eltinge's Vaudeville," which last week won the favor of the society people of Brookline, is to be presented in Quincy at prices which will enable all to attend.

Of course Eltinge is the bright and particular star of the cast, but the "Boston Herald" says that there is not a person named on the bill who has not "won his spurs" as an artist. The costumes are the same as those worn in Miss Simplicity with some additions, and the chorus consists of the same pretty girls. Whitney hall, Brookline, was filled with a brilliant and fashionable audience, two successive nights, and the patronesses included: Mrs. Eben D. Jordan, Mrs. Winthrop Sargent, Mrs. William H. Hill, Mrs. T. F. Edmands, Mrs. William H. Rothwell, Mrs. George W. Armstrong, Mrs. F. B. Percy, Mrs. Eben C. Stanwood, Mrs. Harry E. Converse, Mrs. A. L. Rand, Mrs. John B. Schoeffel, Mrs. Andrew J. George, Mrs. Wallace L. Pierce, Mrs. William J. Fegan, Mrs. Fiske Warren, Mrs. G. A. Pierce, Mrs. Waldo Richards. Mrs. George Walker and Mrs. W. F. Apthorp.

The program begins with a clever sketch entitled "Serious Situations in Burleighs rooms," a Harvard story, played by six characters, taken by John S. Bleecker, the Queen in "Miladi"; Fred W. Bailey, the Plotsky of "Miss Simplicity" Harry C. Johnson the chaperon in the same piece, Hal Taylor of the Pi Eta show, Arthur E. Corbin of the Harvard French plays and Mr. Eltinge. A capital bit of fun acted with much spirit.

Then comes the vaudeville proper, a monologue in verse by Waldo Glidden was received with bursts of laughter.

Mr. Glidden gradually transforms himself on the stage and in sight of the audience, into (Dan Daly it will be remembered what a hit he made with this impersonation at the Tremont theatre last winter.)

Then follows a song "You'd better take it back," by H. D. Gardner. This song was demanded again and again, as it has no end of snap to it.

A song "Now has your dream come true," by Messrs. C. W. Cole and J. D. Eltinge called forth great applause. Mr. Eltinge in his low cut and sleeveless dancing gown of white satin embroidered with pearls, with rows of pearls around his shapely throat, makes as pretty, as alluring and as shapely a girl as one often sees in the real thing, before or behind the foot lights.

The various performers both in the dances and the songs were encored again and again. The "Transcript" says—"Every number on the program was worthy of professionals."

Many of the leading society women of Quincy will be interested as patronesses, and it is hoped Quincy will show its appreciation of this opportunity to witness an artistic entertainmant at a moderate cost by filling Music hall. Watch the papers for further information.

School Attendance.

With one exception all the schools of Quincy had an attendance of over 90 per cent. for the four weeks ending May 3. That of the Lincoln—96 per cent. was unusually good, but the Willard was a close second. The Gridley Bryant had the fewest tardinesses, the Cranch the smallest number of dismissals, and seven of the schools had no truants. The average attendance at nine of the schools is between 300 and 400, one having over 700, and two less than 300. The report:

Sciatic Rheumatism Cured After Fourteen Years of Suffering.

"I have been afflicted with sciatic rheumatism for fourteen years," says Josh Edgar, of Germantown, Cal. "I was able to be around but constantly suffered. I tried everything I could hear of and at last was told to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which I did and was immediately relieved and in a short time cured, and I am happy to say it has not since returned." Why not use this liniment and get well? It is for sale by all druggists.

NEW TEACHERS.

Two Elected at Meeting of the School Committee.

The regular meeting of the School Committee was held Tuesday evening, Messrs. Porter, Merrick, Smith, Hallowell and Hunting were present.

The resignation of Miss Belle Smith, master's assistant at the Wollaston school, was accepted.

The transfer of Miss Beatrice J. Smith from the Willard to master's assistant at the Wollaston was approved. Miss Madge D. Ballue of Hyde Park was elected a teacher at the Williard school, to fill the vacancy caused by the transfer of Miss Smith.

The resignation of Miss Edith F. Bates of the Wollaston school was accepted to take effect at the close of the present term.

Miss Ruth Tousey of the Westbrock seminary, was elected a teacher at the High school, to commence at the opening of the September term.

Coroner's Report on Moore's Death

Providence, May 29.—Coroner Lincoln, in his report on the inquest held by him on the death of Special Officer Herbert Moore of Cumberland, who was shot by robbers, finds that death resulted from wounds inflicted by unknown persons.

A Girl's Strange Suicide

Sycamore, Ind., May 29.—Aggie Long, 14 years old, was a member of the Methodist church choir, and yesterday she went to the church alone for organ practice. She took a revolver with her, and later she was found dead on the floor of the pulpit, with a bullet through her heart. On the organ was found a letter naming her pallbearers, telling how she should be clothed for the funeral and also selecting the choir, organist and minister to officiate at the obsequies No cause is known for the deed.

Girl Strikers Make Trouble

New York, May 29.—Three hundred girl strikers at the Acheson, Hardern & Co.'s mills at Passaic, N. J., last night attacked the girl workers, who had taken their places. Eggs and stones were thrown, and when the police arrived several members of the force were struck. No one was seriously injured. Four girls were arrested and fined $5 each for disorderly conduct.

New York Machinists Win

New York, May 29.—Several hundred machinists, who have been on strike, having reached an agreement with the 15 companies which employed them, returned to work this morning. According to the men they have won a victory, and their demand for nine hours' work with 10 hours' pay will be complied with.

Police Had to Interfere

Newark, N. J., May 29.—Harvey Parker and M. J. Dwyer wrestled for two hours and 40 minutes, "catch-as-catch-can," here last night to a draw. Charles Leonhardt, a Newark wrestler, nagged Parker, and the latter, becoming angry, dared him to come on the stage. Leonhardt rushed at Parker, but the police cleared the ring.

☞ Biliousness is a condition characterized by a disturbance of the digestive organs. The stomach is debilitated, the liver torpid, the bowels constipated. COURT'S ADJOURNMENT

Averts Possibility of Extra Session of Congress

A CHANCE FOR SPECULATORS

To Introduce European Products Into the Philippines Can Be Blocked by the President by Proclaiming a New Tariff Pending High Court Decision

Washington, May 29.—The latest danger of an extra session of congress has been avoided by the adjournment of the supreme court for its summer recess. Members of the cabinet and others in the administration circle who expected the court to pass upon the Philippine question yesterday have been considering the possibility of a call being issued immediately on the president's return, since the decision that the Philippines are still in the same situation as was Porto Rico between the ratification of the treaty of Paris and the enactment of the Foraker law would have opened the door for an immense flood of speculative enterprises until congress could have got together and passed an act similar to that organizing a civil government for Porto Rico.

There are some controversialists in Washington who still cling to the idea that the president may call congress together in order to put the Philippine question finally and irrevocably out of the way, but the cooler heads incline to the belief that matters will be allowed to take their course, at least until the court reconvenes in October. Even then, it is considered doubtful whether an extra session will be deemed necessary, in view of that passage in the army appropriation act which provides that "all military, civil and judicial powers necessary to govern the Philippine islands shall, until otherwise provided by congress, be vested in such person and persons, and shall be exercised in such manner, as the President of the United States shall direct."

In the administration circle the opinion is general that these sweeping powers embrace the right to regulate the tariff duties on imports. This would be a delegation of legislative powers, but by way of analogy the case is cited of the tariff act of 1890, which gave the president a wide discretion in the application of the reciprocity provisions of that act to the countries with which we were trying to cultivate relations.

It is feared here, by the stronger protectionists, that the interval between now and the reassembling of congress may be seized by speculators to introduce into the Philippines, at the moderate rates of duty in force there, quantities of European products, against which we have built up a high tariff wall in this country, assuming that if the supreme court applies to the Philippines the same logic as to Porto Rico they will be enabled to bring these goods from the Philippines into the United States free of duty. But it is answered that the president can block this game as soon as he sees a sign that it is to be played, by proclaiming a new tariff for the Philippines equal to the rates in the Dingley act.

In the meanwhile, having no decision of the court, at least till next October, to disturb him, he can order the existing tariff relations retained between the Philippines and those of the territory of the United States. The right of the president to exercise a free hand in these matters cannot be passed upon by the court even at its October term, for the army appropriations act was not approved until March 2, some months after the diamond rings case was argued, and hence the question of delegated powers will not be before the court, and any utterance from the bench on the subject would be confined to obiter dictum.

A good deal of discussion here touches upon article four of the treaty of Paris, in which it is provided that for 10 years Spanish ships and merchandise shall be admitted to the ports of the Philippines on the same terms as the ships and merchandise of the United States.

Unquestionably, Spain will hereafter, until congress enacts a law for the government of the Philippines, become a passageway for much merchandise from other parts of Europe into the islands, unless the president draws a tariff circle about them, protecting their ports from the United States in the same way as from all other nations, and every duty paid on goods brought in a Spanish vessel to Manila will be paid under protest, to await the supreme court's decision in the fall.

Congratulations For Griggs

Boone, Ia., May 29.—The members of the cabinet aboard the presidential train united in a telegram to Former Attorney General Griggs, congratulating him upon the action of the supreme court in sustaining the able argument he made before the court. The telegram was signed by Secretaries Hay, Wilson and Hitchcock and Postmaster General Smith.

Game Wardens Are Busy

New York, May 29.—The search of cold storage warehouses by state wardens for contraband game continues, and another large amount was discovered yesterday at 11 West street. More than 2300 birds, including quail, grouse, woodcock and pheasant, and 11 deer carcasses were found. The fine is $100 for each deer carcass.

Farmers Lose Heavily

Huntsville, Ala., May 29.—The Tennessee river has flooded thousands of acres of land and it is estimated that the farmers of this section have lost $100,000 by the flood. Replanting of thousands of acres of cotton and corn will be necessary.

NO NEW EVIDENCE

Lambert Held on Charge of Murdering the Allen Family

Foxcroft, Me., May 29.—Henry Lambert, who is charged with the murder of J. Wesley Allen, his wife and daughter, at Shirley, was yesterday held by Judge Smith to await the action of the grand jury at the September term. No new evidence was brought out, yet 11 witnesses were examined for the state. No witnesses were put on the stand by Lambert's counsel. It is claimed that there is considerable evidence not yet made public in the hands of the state attorney, to be used before the grand jury later. Lambert was removed to jail to await the action of the higher tribunal.

Murder In Nutmeg State

Greenwich, Conn., May 29.—Jacob Larsen, an engineer, employed as night foreman of a gang constructing a sewer a mile east of Greenwich, was murdered last night by four Italians whom he had discharged. Larsen was stabbed in the abdomen, being nearly disembowelled.

Port Chester, N. Y., May 29.—Sheriff Fitz Roy of Greenwich, Conn., this morning arrested Jim Antone, Frank Carlo, James Columbus and Tony Pasto at an Italian lodging house here on a charge of murdering Jacob Larsen in Greenwich, Conn., last night. The men were identified by the superintendent of the sewer works as the four discharged by Larsen on Saturday night. They showed fight when arrested.

No Evidence of Poisoning

Marlboro, Mass., May 29.—Ozals Beauregard was arrested here yesterday and arraigned in court, charged with attempting to poison his wife. It was claimed that Beauregard placed poison in some cocoa which the woman drank. Dr. Stevens testified that Mrs. Beauregard had been hysterical and that the white powdered substance produced in court was alum. Beauregard testified that he had purchased some alum for his wife. The presiding justice decided there was not sufficient evidence to hold Beauregard, and he was discharged.

Millionaires In Law Suit

Meriden, Conn., May 29.—Many writs were served here yesterday in a suit brought by Walter H. Bradley of this city against his cousin, Peter H. Bradley of Hingham, Mass., for damages of $40,000, for alleged failure to deliver to the plaintiff a block of 118 shares of stock of the Bradley Salt company of New York, which has since been absorbed by the National Salt company. Both parties to the suit are millionaires.

Milk Farmers Sign Contracts

Milford, N. H., May 29.—The milk producers of Milford, Amherst and Mount eVrnon held a mass meeting here last night, which resulted in a vote being taken that all the producers would sign cards recently sent out by the milk contractors, calling for the surplus clause, or the straight price. Up to this time the farmers have refused to affix their signatures one way or the other.

Conference of No Avail

Northampton, Mass., May 29.—The state board of arbitration and conciliation held its second conference here yesterday with the striking forgers and managers of the Bay State Cutlery companies, but no agreement was reached The grinders employed in the three cutlery shops went out yesterday, making in all about 500 men on strike.

Mind Probably Unbalanced

Brockton, Mass., May 29.—Mrs. Addie Willett of this city is thought to be dying from refusal to take sustenance, her fast extending through a week. She is 35 years old, married and has three children. She says that God does not wish her to take nourishment. Her mental condition is probably responsible for her persistency.

Conductor Killed

Salisbury, Mass., May 29.—J. H. Hammond, conductor of the Salem working train, fell between the cars here last night, while the train was being shifted and his left leg was cut off. He died of his injuries. Hammond had been in the employ of the Boston and Maine railroad for 18 years.

FOR A CHILD

who is "not doing well"—the condition occurs now and then with all children.

Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil is a food that begins to build you up at once—of course, it don't show at once.

"Not doing well" means that the child is not getting the good of his food. Not today, or this week; it may have been going on for a month; before it begins to show in the child's condition.

You want him to get back to turning his usual food into strength.

You want the food that begins to build, up at once.

We'll send you a little to try, if you like.

Italians Engaged In a Probably Fatal Quarrel at Boston

Boston, May 29.—The sequel to a feud that originated in Italy some years ago was reached yesterday afternoon when Alesandro Spostito, 28 years old, was shot and probably fatally wounded by Guiseppe Pappasoli, 32, on Webster avenue, in the presence of scores of passers by. Pappasoli is locked up on the charge of assault with intent to kill, and the condition of his victim is such that the charge is likely to be changed to that of murder.

Spostito, who has been in this country but a week, secured lodgings yesterday at 26 Webster avenue, and was at once recognized by Pappasoli as his old enemy. At first the two avoided open hostilities, and drank together, but as they became heated by liquor they grew quarrelsome. Others interfered, and the men went out upon the avenue, where Pappasoli drew a revolver and fired at Spostito, the ball entering his left breast. The latter soon fell to the sidewalk, exhausted from loss of blood. He was carried to the Massachusetts general hospital, where he is reported to be in a dying condition.

After firing the shot Pappasoli ran through several alleys and streets, revolver in hand, into Charter street. Here, probably mistaking the house of Charles Lane for one he had occasionally visited, he ran through the entry down stairs into the cellar, where he threw away his revolver, then up stairs again and into the sitting room, where he coolly seated himself in a chair beside the astonished Mr. Lane. His movements had been followed, and he was quickly placed under arrest by an officer without any resistance. Pappasoli is a laborer and has recently been engaged upon the water works in Hingham.

A Sad Life Story

Milford, O., May 29.—Colonel James Miner, an assistant secretary of the Confederate navy during the Civil war, died in poverty here yesterday, aged 82 years. Colonel Miner was a graduate of Edinburg university, and a native of New England. Before the war he was one of the owners of the famous Tredegar Iron Works of Richmond. The Civil war swept away his fortune, and since then he has been battling unsuccessfully in the effort to build up a new fortune. In a trunk he had $1,000,000 of Confederate bonds and money. Three weeks ago, his wife, who had bravely shared his ill fortune with him, died, aged 80, and a Mrs. Spencer gave her burial, and took the broken-hearted old man to her home. Manufactur will see to his burial.

Thirty Days For Gamblers

New York, May 29.—Thirty days in the city prison is the first sentence imposed as a result of the committee of 15's gambling raids. The first three men called for trial before Judge Foster yesterday for keeping a gambling house were Sidney Munch, Walter Ashley and Thomas J. Daniels. The men were willing to pay any fine the court might impose, but District Attorney Philbin refused to acquiesce in the imposition of a fine. He was satisfied, however, with the imposition of a jail sentence of 30 days. Judge Foster accordingly sentenced the trio to 30 days each in the city jail.

To Make Full Investigation

Washington, May 29.—Adjutant General Corbin will be accompanied to the Philippines by General Weston, commissary general, and General Sternberg, surgeon general. At Manila he will be joined by Colonel Humphrey of the quartermaster's department. It is the desire of Secretary Root that a complete investigation of the administrative and supply departments of the army in the Philippines be made and the result reported to him.

Midway Inhabitants Suffer

Buffalo, May 29.—The fifth successive day of downpouring rain has depressed the spirits of nearly everyone connected with the Pan-American exposition. The Indians from the south, the Orientals, the natives of the South Sea islands, the Mexicans and the South Americans suffer greatly, and many cases of sickness have developed among them.

Three Deaths From Dynamite

Wilkesbarre, Pa., May 29.—Three Italians, employed on the new electric railway being constructed between Scranton and Wilkesbarre, were instantly killed by an explosion of dynamite yesterday. They were employed in the blacksmith shop and without any warning a big box of dynamite exploded.

Conductor Is Jailed

Albany, May 29.—On a warrant issued by Coroner Meredith, Charles T. Johnson, who was conductor of the car wrecked in the collision Sunday on the Albany and Hudson railroad, was last night placed under arrest. He is in jail, and will be charged with criminal negligence, resulting in death.

Accepted by Narrow Margin

Havana, May 29.—The Platt amendment was accepted by the Cuban constitutional convention yesterday by a vote of 15 to 14. The actual vote was on accepting the majority report of the committee on relations, which embodied the amendment with explanations of certain clauses.

Tunnel Strike Ended

New York, May 29.—Chief Contractor McDonald announces that work will be resumed all along the rapid transit tunnel today. According to McDonald the contractors agree to recognize the Central Federated union in all branches of work on the tunnel.

Children and Mother Burned

Belle Center, O., May 29.—The two children of Mrs. Frank Sickles, aged 2 and 5 years, respectively, were burned to death by a gasoline explosion at their home here last night. In attempting to rescue the children, Mrs. Sickles was fatally burned.

SEVEN WERE DROWNED

Young Pleasure Seekers Swept Over a Dam

CAUGHT IN SWIFT CURRENT

After Having Failed to Heed Warning That They Were In Danger—Boat Struck Water Bottom Up and Disappeared With Whole Party

Philadelphia, May 31.—A row boat, containing a merry party of eight young persons, was swept over Flat Rock dam in the Schuylkill river yesterday afternoon, and five girls and two boys were drowned. The only person saved is John Moore, aged 21.

The victims, all of whom were Philadelphians, were: Florence Densmore, 18; Massie Kennedy, 18; Maud Rutter, 19; Mamie Sullivan, 21; Florence Bond, 21; Roy Ricker, 18, and Bertram Osmond, 19.

The party was composed of members of the Elm Social club, organized for the promotion of picnics and other social functions. They, with the other members of the club, pitched their camp at Rose Glen, along the Schuylkill river, on the northern outskirts of this city.

After dinner the seven young people decided to go for a row on the river, all taking one boat. Heavy rains during the past week had made the stream quite high, and the current was much swifter than usual. However, the party immediately struck out for midstream.

After getting into the middle of the river and finding the current too swift for comfort, the boat was rowed in toward shore. During this time it was carried slowly down stream. The boy doing the rowing decided to go through the locks, but as he approached the dam he was hailed by the lock-keeper not to approach any closer. The warning was not heeded. He attempted to turn the boat, which was then about 50 feet from the dam and 25 feet from shore, but he turned the wrong way.

A moment later and the boat was in the swiftly moving current. Realizing then for the first time that they were in danger, the girls began screaming, and the oarsman lost control of the boat. Swiftly it was carried toward the brink of the falling waters and just as it reached the breast of the dam the entire party stood up and the boat went over stern first.

The drop to the rocks below is approximately 12 feet. The boat struck the water bottom up, and as it disappeared the whole party was under it. When the boat reappeared, one boy was clinging to its keel. Then a second was seen to come to the surface, and make a frantic effort to reach shore. The six girls never rose to the surface.

The boy who was swimming and who proved to be Bertram Osmond, became exhausted, and sank before he could be rescued. Moore, the other boy who was clinging to the boat, floated fully a half mile down the river, and his rescuers had an exciting time before they landed him in another boat. He was greatly exhausted and was slightly injured by the falling of the boat.

Young Queen at Potsdam

Potsdam, May 31.—Queen Wilhelmina and her husband arrived here yesterday. They were received at the station by the Emperor and Empress of Germany, who accompanied them to the new palace. The visitors were warmly cheered. The military tattoo given last night in honor of Queen Wilhelmina was a most interesting ceremony. The bands played a number of old Netherlands hymns. All the assembled troops presented arms when the hymn called "Wilhelmus Nassau" was rendered.

In Historical Andersonville

Americus, Ga., May 31.—A memorial fountain over the Providence spring in the Andersonville prison stockade was dedicated yesterday, in memory of the 52,345 Union soldiers who were confined there as prisoners of war, and of the 13,900 comrades who died and whose remains are buried in the adjoining national cemetery. The fountain is a beautiful piece of work in Italian marble, and is about 12 feet high.

Steamer Didn't Stop

North Sydney, C. B., May 31.—Fishing schooner Colin Cooke arrived yesterday and reported two of her crew drowned off the coast. They were trawling about a mile from the schooner when an ocean steamer bore down upon them, crushing their boat, and left the men struggling in the water. The steamer passed on, and the two men sank before help reached them. The event occurred in broad daylight.

A Peculiar Fatality

Louisburg, C. B., May 31.—Captain William E. Kennedy, one of the Dominion Coal company's captains, was in the pocket at the Waling pier, and the contents of several cars of coal were dumped from the trestle above, filling the pocket and smothering Kennedy. It was half an hour before his lifeless body was recovered.

REED'S BODY FOUND

Brockton, Mass., May 31.—The body of Hon. W. L. Reed was found in the Brockton reservoir yesterday by Oscar D. Sewell of Avon. The body was floating about 200 feet from shore and was seen by Mr. Sewell as he was walking along the path. With the assistance of Special Officers Russell and Macker he towed it to the gate house, and put it in there.

The body was fully clothed, with the exception of the hat, which was found floating in the water the day of Reed's disappearance. The heavy winter overcoat was worn, and the valuable watch which was handed to Mr. Reed when he left home on the morning of the day of his disappearance was in the waistcoat pocket. It had stopped at 10:36, a few minutes later than the time Mr. Reed was seen at the bank of the reservoir, where he had hitched his horse.

It is believed that he left home with the intention of committing suicide. He hired a horse and buggy at A. A. Dunbar's stable, about 9 a. m., and an hour later was seen on the reservoir bank. Since that time the divers have searched continually during daylight and grappling was resorted to. Searching parties in the woods went over nearly every foot of ground for a large area. A reward of $300 was offered for the recovery of the body by George E. Keith, son-in-law of Mr. Reed.

Lynching Was Threatened

Boston, May 31.—It required 11 stalwart patrolmen with drawn revolvers and freely wielded clubs to prevent "Judge Lynch" from officiating in the North End last night. A patrolman started to arrest an Italian for drunkenness, when two other Italians leaped upon his back, evidently intent on cutting the officer's throat. That the two men failed to accomplish their purpose and were finally captured and locked up was due to the activity of Patrolman Nickerson and the assistance of the sympathetic crowd. That the crowd did not lynch the prisoners was due to the timely arrival of the police reserves from station 1.

Squabbled Over Carriages

Newton, Mass., May 31.—The Loyal Legion of Spanish War Veterans did not participate yesterday in the Memorial day exercises or parade with the G. A. R. post, owing to a disagreement over the provisions for the Ladies' Auxiliary of the former organization. The post invited the legion to join in the day's proceedings, but later stated that no carriages would be provided for the auxiliary. The legion then reconsidered its acceptance of the post's invitation, and did not appear as a body.

Explosion Was Unexpected

Hanover, Mass., May 31.—While engaged in filling firecrackers at the fireworks factory of George J. J. Clark yesterday, William Bowers, over 70 years old, was terribly burned and perhaps fatally injured by the explosion of the composition used in his work. He was removed to the Massachusetts general hospital in Boston. Some six pounds of the composition exploded, the force being such that the entire roof of the small building was raised several feet in the air.

Burned For Second Time

Rockland, Me., May 31.—The Kimball block was visited by fire last evening which resulted in a damage of about $18,000 to the building and its tenants. The block was gutted by fire last fall, but has since been rebuilt. It was nearly ready to be occupied by various business concerns, two of whom had already moved in. The fire originated in a closet on the second floor.

Death Due to Accident

Waterville, Me., May 31.—In the case of Peter Ducette of this city, who died yesterday from injuries received in a street accident last Saturday, Coroner Snell deemed an inquest unnecessary, as the cause of death was apparently an accident. The driver of the team which run down Ducette provided medical attendance.

Dredge Burned In Harbor

Portland, Me., May 31.—Fire broke out last evening on dredge No. 5, one of the number that has been in this harbor for some time, engaged in dredging. The fire probably caught in the bunkers and spread to the scow that lay alongside. The loss is about $125,000. Nine men aboard the dredge escaped.

Made but One Arrest

Marlboro, Mass., May 31.—As a result of a cocking main on the outskirts of this city yesterday, one man is under arrest, while the police secured six live birds and two dead ones. The officers arrived from two directions, but about 50 men made their escape.

Killed by Electric Car

Boston, May 31.—Viola Simmons, aged 6 years, was run over by an electric car on Cambridge street yesterday, and died from her injuries an hour later. It is believed that the accident was due to the child's heedlessness in attempting to cross the track.

Charged With Bribery

Lexington, Mass., May 31.—Theodore W. Parker was arrested here yesterday on the charge of bribery in the recent special election for selectman in this town. Parker obtained bail in the sum of $500.

PRESIDENT IS IN DOUBT

As to the Administration of Affairs In Cuba

A MOST SERIOUS PROBLEM

Will Arise With the Formation of a New Government, the Acceptance of Which Rests With the President—Law and Order the Factor

Washington, May 31.—An important conference on Cuban relations took place at the White House yesterday afternoon. There were present with President McKinley, Secretary Root, Senator O. H. Platt, chairman of the senate committee on relations with Cuba, and Senator Spooner. The situation in Cuba was earnestly considered, and when the conference broke up no determination had been reached. It is expected that the whole matter will be brought before the cabinet today.

Secretary Root has been fully advised by Governor General Wood regarding the progress of events in Cuba. This information was the basis of the discussion during the conference yesterday.

The president and his advisers must determine whether the Platt amendment has been "substantially" adopted by the convention. This is preliminary to the withdrawal of the United States authority and forces from the island of Cuba. If it should be found that the interpretation of the convention is not satisfactory to this government, a difficult problem arises, as it seems to be the intention of the Cubans to proceed to form a government, and that must be recognized or rejected by the president, as he has full power to determine whether the act of congress has been complied with.

Another problem which has been discussed by those interested in Cuban affairs relates to what would follow should the new Cuban government be recognized. The Cuban government, it is asserted, will be for some time without the machinery to execute its own laws and put into operation its own edicts. It is held by some lawyers that the moment the Cuban government is recognized the authority of the United States ceases, and there is some question as to who would be responsible for the preservation of law and order, as the new government would have no troops and no police force, and would be practically powerless should there be any opposition to its decrees and orders.

The question whether United States forces would be warranted in upholding the government has been raised, also whether the President of the United States would be authorized, as commander-in-chief of the army, to give orders to our troops further than their recall from foreign territory.

Before the Cuban convention acted, these subjects were under consideration to some extent, but as a new government is in process of formation they become vitally interesting. That the president and secretary of war regard the whole Cuban problem as a serious one was shown in the consultation yesterday with the senators who were largely responsible for the legislation.

Remarkable Instance of Preservation

New York, May 31.—Thirty years ago the body of Mrs. Josephine Henshaw, weighing 180 pounds, was buried in the old churchyard of the Presbyterian church at West Farms. With the widening of the street line, part of the cemetery ground was cut away, and yesterday the body of Mrs. Henshaw was disinterred for removal to Woodlawn. The features were well moulded like a statue. Though the coffin was entirely decayed, the shroud of purple silk and the immaculate linen gown were in an excellent state of preservation. The body weighed fully 500 pounds.

Many Exposed to Smallpox

Providence, May 31.—A case of smallpox was discovered in a six-tenement house occupied by Italians on Arthur avenue, in a densely populated part of this city, last evening. It was a boy, 15 years old, who was prostrated with the malady which was found to be at about the seventh day of development. Four men have been sleeping in the room with him, and others in the building and neighborhood have been in daily contact with him. The house has been quarantined and under a police guard. The boy will be sent to the pesthouse.

Biliousness is a condition characterized by a disturbance of the digestive organs. The stomach is debilitated, the liver torpid, the bowels constipated. There is a loathing of food, pains in the bowels, dizziness, coated tongue and vomiting, first of the undigested or partly digested food and then of bile. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets allay the disturbances of the stomach and create a healthy appetite. They also tone up the liver to a healthy action and regulate the bowels. Try them and you are certain to be much pleased with the result. For sale by all druggists.

Mrs. McKinley Slightly Improved

Washington, May 31.—Mrs. McKinley rested well during yesterday, and, although visitors at the White House knew she was very weak, it was stated that she was showing slight signs of improvement.

Good Afternoon.

The Memorial day weather might have been worse. The rain held off but except for brief intervals the sun did not make its appearance.

The Wollaston band gave the best of satisfaction in its part of the Memorial day exercises, both in marches and other selections. As the veterans said, "They are all right."

Co. N. of the Boys' Brigade of Atlantic were a new feature in the afternoon parade of the Grand Army, and one that pleased the children and received favorable comment from adults. The company was well officered, attended strictly to business, and marched well.

Faxon hall made much better headquarters for the Grand Army on Memorial day than Hancock hall. The whole building was utilized and was none too large. The formation of the line for the afternoon parade was on Chestnut street away from the electric cars and the main thoroughfare for travel.

Each year those who gather about the soldiers' monument in Mt. Wollaston cemetery deplore the location, and lot owners complain because their lots are trampled upon and almost ruined. Now seems the opportune time to remove the monument to a new site just outside the present entrance to the cemetery, either on the knoll toward Coddington street or in a triangle directly in front of the entrance whose base should be on Sea street and vertex toward the entrance. Such a location would not only be better on Memorial days, but would attract attention every day.

MEMORIAL DAY.

Mayor Hall Pays Tribute to Living and Dead

Graves of Soldiers of Two Wars Decorated.

Out of Town Organizations in Afternoon Parade.

The weather Thursday was but little different from that of previous days this week. The wind was east and it was cold and damp. Along toward noon however it warmed up some and the sun tried hard to pierce through the damp clouds. The streets considering the recent and frequent rains were fairly dry and it was much more comfortable marching than it would have been with the streets hot and dusty.

Memorial day is full of meaning to the boys who rallied round the old flag in '61, for it is upon this day that incidents of those stirring days, now almost forgotten, are brought back and as the mind is carried back it seems but as yesterday that they marched shoulder to shoulder through the southern swamps and hurled shot and shell at the enemies of our country.

The duties of the Grand Army become more and more arduous every year owing to the rapidity with which the ranks are thinning, and each one of these soldiers as he hastened to respond to the Command, "Fall in," must have had it brought to mind that he would not be able to answer that command many more years.

In accordance with general orders the post assembled at headquarters at 7 o'clock and details proceeded to decorate the graves at the National Sailors' Home, Mt. Wollaston, the Hancock and English cemeteries and the graves of those who are buried in cemeteries out of town.

At 9 o'clock it was announced by Commander Warren that owing to the damp condition of the grass the start for West Quincy would be delayed an hour and that the afternoon parade would also be put off for an hour.

At 10 o'clock the command formed in front of headquarters, and headed by the Wollaston band marched to the junction of School and Franklin streets where barges were taken for West Quincy.

At the junction of Copeland and Crescent streets the line was again formed and moved through Crescent street to the Hall cemetery. The command formed about the Willard monument and the services were conducted by Commander Warner and Rev. Merrill C. Ward, chaplain of the day. The graves were then decorated and the parting salute fired.

The column then entered St. Mary's cemetery where services were conducted by Rev. A. F. Roche, the graves decorated and the salute fired.

The exercises at West Quincy over the command returned to City Square for dinner which was served at Faxon hall.

IN THE AFTERNOON.

As the exercises of the morning were delayed about an hour by the weather, the start of the afternoon parade was not made until 3 o'clock. The line was formed on Chestnut street, right resting on Bigelow street, and moved over the following route: Bigelow to Elm, to Hancock, to Washington, to Coddington, to Sea, to Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

All along the route, especially in City Square many people assembled, and flags were flying at many residences, and places of business. At Mt. Wollaston cemetery the gathering was very large.

The order of procession was:

AT THE MONUMENT.

The ceremonies at the soldiers' monument were much the same as usual. The opening remarks by Commander Warner were followed by prayer by Chaplain Ward and Memorial hymn by the band.

Mayor Hall was then introduced. After speaking of the bloom and beauty of spring, and the lesson of the flowers he said in part:

"We are here today not to glorify the living but to remember the dead. It may be that not all who sleep today in the cemeteries of our land or in nameless unmarked trenches upon the fields of battles were blameless in their lives either at home or in the service, but a soldier's death was theirs and the folds of the flag as they were borne to their last rest for ever covered their faults and the words of the 'Man of Nazareth' 'greater love hath no man than this that he lay down his life for his friends' has opened for him a brighter opportunity and a more generous possibility. Whatever their life was they died nobly and many of you can testify that the most daring, troublesome and slothful comrade in the camp bore wounds and suffering with heroic patience and in the time of peril amidst the flame and hell of battle was the bravest of the brave.

"In one common grave they rest heroes all; we gather about their graves today with tears and broken hearts, our eyes blinded by the depth of our sorrow and with the bright hues of flowers try to betoken the strength of our reverence and affection for them.

"We cannot come too often to this shrine for the hearts of men and women grow true as they grow tender and the incense of these lives which went out in the din of war arises as we moisten these graves with our tears and bedeck them with blossoms and becomes an inspiration to patriotism and righteousness to succeeding generations.

"I do not think that any of you were conscious a few years prior to the call in 1861 of the power for service and sacrifice which you underwent in those succeeding years but the spirit was then and when the demand came the response was prompt and all sufficient.

"It was prompt and ample because teaching and traditions of the past had implanted in the hearts this spirit of patriotic loyalty so strong and rich that nothing could daunt or withstand it.

"For this reason this day is set apart to commemorate the dead and is so generally observed that the youth of the land may have this same patriotic spirit implanted and fostered in their lives that they may be ready and able when the call comes to them.

"And so living comrades of the Grand Army we invoke the benediction of your gray hairs, the remembrance of your trials, your wounds and your suffering; sleeping comrades of the Grand Army we invoke the sweet incense of your heroic struggle and death upon this and all coming generations that they may live even more Godly and righteous lives than their fathers did, so that when the bitter trials comes to them they may shine like stars of the morning in the completeness of their victory over the enemies of liberty and justice. Loyal and living among the land who better can tell your power to serve and to save than these same living comrades of the Grand Army to whom you ministered in those dark and terrible days of war.

"In camp and field, amid sickness, wounds and death, the record of your service is written in loving letters of life.

"The living bear testimony to your living service, the dead have borne their testimony to Heaven and there it awaits you to be your crown of rejoicing forever.

"To the great heart of the women of our land we appeal to teach the children to look to the example of pious Godfearing fathers and brothers who sought wisdom from God that they might live righteously and die nobly.

"To you young men whose faces are looking to the full glory of the meridian sun of life, we ask that you remember kindly the history of the good, brave and loving parents whose children we are and never forget that patriotism and faithfulness, that power and success come only from righteous living and that sure victory comes to him whose whole life is governed by Divine wisdom and whose trust is in the God of His Father."

National airs by the band were followed by the reading of Lincoln's address at Gettysburg by Adjt. Holt. The officers of Paul Revere Post then performed the G. A. R. service of decorating the monument with wreaths. A squad of eight fired a salute of three rounds. Taps were sounded, the band played "America," and the benediction was pronounced by Chap. Ward.

AT THE SOUTHER LOT.

Francis L. Souther camp, S. of V., performed services at the grave of Francis L. Souther, the first soldier to fall in the Civil war. Capt. Hewson renewed the pledge of the Sons of Veterans to the Grand Army and deposited a bouquet. Miss Abbie Feltis president of the Ladies' Aid society also deposited flowers. A squad of four fired a salute of three rounds and Rev. M. C. Ward offered prayer.

Abraham Lincoln Camp 106 of Charlestown also decorated the grave of Past Commander Albert F. White with brief services. Commander J. T. De Castro deposited a wreath and a flag was also planted. Prayer was offered by Rev. M. C. Ward.

W. R. C. SERVICE.

At the "Unknown Lot" "Nearer My God to Thee" was sung by the W. R. C., accompanied by the band. The officers of Paul Revere corps then repeated the W. R. C. service and wreaths and flowers were deposited. A selection by the band was followed by a song. Miss Abbie Felits gave an appropriate reading entitled "Found dead on the battlefield." Benediction by Rev. M. C. Ward and a selection by the band closed the services.

The return to G. A. R. headquarters was over the same route. In City Square in front of City Hall all the oganizations were reviewed by Mayor Hall and the city officials.

AT THE SCHOOLS

The speakers at the Coddington school on Wednesday were Dr. Hallowell of the School Board; Franklin Jacobs, representing Paul Revere Post; and Supt. Parlin. Each of the grades with the exception of I and II had concert recitations, and there was music by the City Band, singing by the class of 1901, a group of boys and the school. As usual, cheers at the close were a feature.

The Grammar grades of the Wollaston school assembled in the large hall Wednesday afternoon to listen to a patriotic address by Mr. James Merrill of the G. A. R. The speaker, who was introduced by Mr. Charles E. Finch, principal of the school, related many of his experiences. The hall was tastefully decorated with flags and flowers. The program included recitations, singing, violin solos, concert exercises, etc.

The Boys' Brigade took a prominent part in the Memorial day exercises at the Quincy school, Atlantic, performing escort duty to the G. A. R. speakers in good style. The program included address, singing, etc.

There were exercises in the other schools of the city.

Spanish War Veterans.

The orders of the day as laid out by John A. Boyd Camp, Legion of Spanish War Veterans, was carried out as arranged. The camp assembled at headquarters at 9 o'clock, and half an hour later, escorted by Chief Hayden and a squad of police the camp marched to the music of a fife and drum via Hancock, Temple and Washington street to City Square where they were drawn up in line in front of City Hall. Here they were reviewed by Mayor Hall who also addressed them briefly. He said it was a good thing to wear the uniform of the United States and then he outlined briefly what it meant to be a soldier.

At the conclusion of Mayor Hall's remarks the command marched via Granite, Copeland and Crescent streets to St. Mary's cemetery, where services were held at the grave of John A. Boyd, a member Co. I of 9th Massachusetts regiment, U. S. V. A delegation from that company was also present to do honor to their comrade.

The camp also decorated the graves of Henry Mooney of the U. S. S. Oregon, at St. Mary's cemetery; Walter I. Page, of the 1st Mass. Artillery at Mt. Wollaston; Lewis Buckner of the 6th Mass. at Milton; Owen Smith of the 9th Mass. at Weymouth; and Charles Rinn of the U. S. Calvary at Brooklyn, N. Y.

In the afternoon the camp had the Brockton camp as its guest. They arrived on the 3.12 train and marched to the headquarters of John A. Boyd camp where they were welcomed by Capt. Morrissey, the address of welcome being responded to by the Captain of the Brockton camp.

Camp Boyd made a fine appearance and received many compliments.

Whooping Cough.

A woman who has had experience with this disease tells how to prevent any dangerous consequences from it. She says: Our three children took whooping cough last summer, our baby boy being only three months old, and owing to our giving them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, they lost none of their plumpness and came out in much better health than other children whose parents did not use this remedy. Our oldest little girl would call lustily for cough syrup between whoops.—JESSIE PINKEY HALL, Springville, Ala. This Remedy is for sale by all druggists.

The last day of May, also the last Friday of the month.

Mr. Geekie and family have moved from the Duggan block to Atlantic street.

Many Quincy people were noticed at the Country club, Brookline, Thursday.

Mrs. George B. Warner is visiting her sister, Mrs. Lucius Bassett of Walker street.

The Methodist society of Wollaston held a turkey supper on the night of Memorial day.

Flags are at half mast on City Hall and the Coddington school in respect to E. W. H. Bass.

Many boats from the Squantum yacht club entered the race off South Boston Thursday morning.

The speaker at the Quincy High school graduation will be Dr. Edwin F. Bolles of Tufts college.

The electric cars were well patronized Memorial day. Every car passing through Atlantic was crowded.

The new time table of the Old Colony Street Railway Co. to Houghs Neck, will be found in another column.

There were a great many camera-fiends in Atlantic, Thursday, who seemed impressed by the beauty of the place.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hill of Atlantic street are anxious over the illness of their little son, who has bronchial pneumonia.

The stone posts around the Washington Street Congregationl church have been taken down and a stone curbing is now being substituted.

The Fore River Co.'s restaurant is now under new management. Messrs. Butler & Greenlaw, the former proprietors having gone on a yacht for the summer season.

Rev. Edwin N. Hardy of Bethany church attended this week the commencement of Hartford Theological Seminary, serving the institution on the Board of Examiners.

Owing to the death of E. W. H. Bass, Overseer of the Poor, the reception to the City Officials by the Wollaston Yacht club, to have been held Saturday, has been postponed.

It is a great pity Dr. Woodward did not leave his school for Quincy born girls under the management of Quincy born ministers, for that would have been a difficulty easily overcome.

At the mid-week service at Bethany church this evening Mr. H. Walter Gray will give a report of the Jubilee meeting of C. H. M. S., and Dr. C. T. Sherman will report the State Association.

Some of the old members of Paul Revere Post who have not participated in the Memorial day services of late were in the ranks this year. Among these were Eusebe Degreeney of West Quincy and James Prouty of North Weymouth, who have been disabled.

It was reported to the police last night that Nester, the eight-year old son of John Polomackie of Town Hill, was missing. Search was made for him by the police and others but no trace of him was fonnd. This morning word was received from Whitman that the missing boy was in that town.

The young son of ex-Mayor Sears was run into on Elm street Thursday, but fortunately escaped injury. He was riding his bicycle when a man with a horse and buggy ran into him. The boy was thrown off his wheel away from the carriage and thus escaped injury. The driver of the carriage did not stop to see what damage he had done but drove rapidly away.

E. W. HENRY BASS.

City Official and Prominent Mason Dead.

The many friends of E. W. Henry Bass will be sorry to learn that he passed away at his home on Granite street Thursday morning. Mr. Bass had not enjoyed good health for several months but it was not until a month ago that he remained away from his desk at City Hall. At first it was not thought that his illness was of a serious nature but failing to improve he took to his bed from which he was never to rise.

Mr. Bass was born in Quincy, Feb. 13, 1842 and has always resided here. He received his education in the public schools and graduated from the High school. He then learned the shoemaker's trade which he followed up to a few years ago. His last work in this line was as manager for N. Curtis & Co., which position he held for many years.

He was elected a member of the City Council in 1889 and served in that body for seven years, in '93, '94, and '95 as its president.

In 1896 he was appointed Overseer of the Poor by Mayor Adams and he has been reappointed by every mayor since that time. He was very conscientious in the performance of the duties connected with that office and gave it almost his undivided attention.

In fraternal orders the only body with which he was affiliated was the Masons. He was Master of Rural lodge in 1873, 4 and 5, and for several years has been the treasurer. He was a Past Commander of South Shore Commandry Knights Templars.

He was also prominently identified with the Granite City club and has been its clerk and treasurer almost since its organization. He is survived by a widow. Funeral services will be held Sunday from the First Unitarian church at 2.30 o'clock and will be attended by the Masons and Granite City club.

Recital.

A full house greeted Mr John D. Buckingham and his pupils at the recital given by them at Woodward hall on Wednesday evening. Mr. Buckingham announced that owing to illness Miss Louise Dunham and Miss Linda Louise Clark would not appear, also the piano solo by Miss Helen Baxter would be omitted.

Mrs. Charles A. Price opened the program with two piano solos which were played with much accuracy and a pleasing touch. Mr. William Fisher followed with Gottschalk's Tremolo, Etude into which he put considerable life and played with most perfect time. Of the younger pupils Avard Sproul, Grace Spear, Esther Sidelinger, Helen Lincoln, Marguerite Davis and Carl Sheppard, all played remarkably well for young players. Their numbers were without notes and had that fine touch so noticeable in all Mr. Buckingham's pupils.

Miss Alice Claflin, had three selections, all pretty, and played with great taste, showing not only a love of music but diligence in practice. She was heartily applauded.

Mr. Ralph Pendleton was fine in his selections playing with fine touch and feeling.

The place of Miss Clark vocalist, who was to assist, was filled by Miss Victoria G. Johnson, who had a mezzo-soprano voice which she used in a pleasing and natural manner. Her three selections were received with great applause. She was called back and kindly responded.

The evening was a most enjoyable one and Mr. Buckingham and his pupils are to be congratulated on its success.

Sciatic Rheumatism Cured After Fourteen Years of Suffering.

"I have been afflicted with sciatic rheumatism for fourteen years," says Josh Edgar, of Germantown, Cal. "I was able to be around but constantly suffered. I tried everything I could hear of and at last was told to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which I did and was immediately relieved and in a short time cured, and I am happy to say it has not since returned." Why not use this liniment and get well? It is for sale by all druggists.

PROMPT MEASURES

Taken to Prevent Spread of Probable Small Pox Case.

What is supposed to be a case of smallpox was discovered Thursday on Gordon street near the John Hancock school building in the person of Kenneth Macbeth. Macbeth came from British Columbia two weeks ago. He has been employed as a driver of a stone team and boarded with John McLeod.

Macbeth was taken sick last Saturday, and consulted a Hebrew doctor, who pronounced his illness as being due to climatic changes. It is said that salve was prescribed. Naturally this did not improve his condition. Dr. McLennan was called in and as the symptoms had every appearance of being smallpox Dr. Dion of the Board of Health was notified and visited the patient. He concurred with Dr. McLennan but decided to call in Dr. Gordon, who was also of the same opinion.

A quarantine was immediately established over the house, and two officers placed on guard. A meeting of the Board of Health was called, and it was decided to order the John Hancock school closed as a precaution and to prevent the spread of the disease should the case prove to be smallpox.

This morning the State Board of Health was notified and it is expected that the physician of the board will visit Quincy today and examine the case.

There are three others in McLeod's family and a family live in the other side of the house. To what extent workmen employed with Macbeth have been exposed is an open question.

Dr. Morse of the State board of Health came to Quincy this morning, and in company with Dr. Dion visited the patient. Dr. Morse pronounced it a well developed case of small pox, but further said the man was over the worst of it. Later Dr. Morse held a meeting with the Board of Health and it was decided to remove the sick man to the pest house near the poor farm. This building will be put in readiness today and the man removed there before morning.

It was also decided to put another building adjoining the pest house and the McLeod family will be moved into that. Dr. Morse also ordered that the workmen employed at the Mitchell polishing works, where Macbeth was employed, should be vaccinated, as well as the children at the John Hancock school, all of whom have been more or less exposed.

Correction.

We received through the mail the following marriage notice:

In Concord, N. H., by the Rev. Mr. Baxter of Concord, Mr. William Bugbee to Miss Annie Cohalon, both of Quincy.

Now it appears from facts since gathered that the above persons were not married or had any intention of being married.

We would inform the evil disposed person who sent the notice to us that there is a heavy fine for such acts, and that we will give the person a taste of the law if we succeed in finding the miserable scamp. Any one who will give us any information that will lead to the detection of the writer will receive our thanks.

Q. H. S. Flag.

The girls of the Quincy High school have made a rich and beautiful flag of the school colors, dark red and dark blue, about 2 by 4 feet, which will be much in evidence at athletic events and entertainments. The only lettering is "Q. H. S." a part of the letter in red where it covers blue, and in blue where it covers red. The flag was presented on Tuesday to the Athletic Association by Miss Beatrice Walker in behalf of the young ladies, and was received by Head Master Harper, the president.

Death of J. Munroe Hayden.

J. Munroe Hayden, an old and well known resident of Quincy, passed away at his home on Gay street at the advanced age of 81 years. Mr. Hayden was for many years engaged in business as a shoe cobbler, but owing to poor health he has not followed his trade for a few years. He has been in poor health for a long time. He leaves two sons and two daughters.

TODAY'S COURT.

Bartholemew F. Miller was fined $5 for drunkenness at Weymouth.

Alex. McLellan was arraigned for drunkenness at Quincy. It was McLellan's third offence.

George W. Walsh was arraigned for drunkenness at Weymouth. Case continued until June 14.

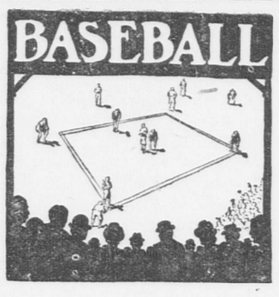

Patrick J. Whalen was arraigned for drunkenness at Weymouth. Case continued until June 14.

Karl Halverson was fined $5 for disturbing the peace at Quincy.

Thomas Miller was fined $12 for assault on Officer Thomas B. Loud at Weymouth.

Joseph Cain was arraigned for assault on Bernard Ward at Quincy and was fined $8.

John J. Riley was arraigned for sounding a false alarm of fire at Quincy. Case continued one week.

About 500 baseball fans witnessed the defeat of their favorites at the South Quincy Park on Memorial Day morning. After the first two innings Eldredge pitched in his old-time form and continually brought the crowd to their feet by his cool and perfect judgment at critical times. The boys played very well considering the condition of the field. Right field was a marsh with about six inches of water to wade through, while the base line from home plate to first base was a perfect swamp. The visitors made but four hits after the second inning, and but for errors of the home team they would not have scored again.

Smith, the backstop dislocated a finger in the fifth inning, but pluckily played the game through.

Taking the game all and all the South Quincy team made a very creditable showing. One thing is noticeable in the team and that is, they are not afraid to play teams that have a standing reputation. People who journey to that section of the city on Saturday afternoons, always leave the grounds satisfied that they have received their money's worth.

The make up and batting order of the South Quincys was: Perovano, ss.; Bernie, m.; Hollis, 1b.; Canfield, rf.; Walker, 2b.; F. Smith, 3b.; Flynn, lf.; 3b.; W. Smith, c.; Eldredge, p.; Guston, lf.

Defeated by Scrub Nine.

As the Roxbury High school failed to appear Thursday afternoon, a scrub team was matched against High school. High's inability to hit Colligan's curves and the Picked nine's strong batting at critical moments, chiefly caused the latter's victory. The first of the game was full of errors for the scrub nine, but after the first two innings High was an easy mark:

High School:—Nichols c. Lewis, p. Hayward 1b. Brown, 2b; Wright 3b. Fallon s.s., McTiernan, l. F. Histen cf. Miller r.f.

Scrub:—Dinegan c; Colligan, p; Remick, 1b; Carr 2b, cf; Saunders, 3b; Anderson, s.s., Atkins l.f; Keyes cf, bf; Thayer, r.f. 2b.

Tennis Tournament.

An all day tennis tournament was played Memorial day at the courts of the Quincy Tennis club on Whitney road. The courts were in prime condition and there was some good playing. The games drew quite a number of visitors. The prize was a tenis raquet and was won by Hall. The summary.

PRELIMINARY ROUND.

Howe beat Niles, 6-1, 6-4.
Hall beat Chase, 6-0, 6-0.
Harlow beat Wallis, 6-2, 6-3.
Packard beat Sampson, 6-2, 6-0.

FIRST ROUND.

Bates beat Severance, 6-2, 6-4.
Hall beat Howe, 6-2, 6-2.
Packard beat Harlow, 7-5, 1-6, 6-3.
Bruce beat Nowland, 6-4, 6-3.

SEMI FINALS.

Hall beat Bates, 6-3, 9-7.
Packard beat Bruce, 6-1, 9-7.

FINALS.

Hall beat Packard, 7-5, 1-6, 6-3, 3-6, 6-2.

Picnic at Downers.

A playout of hand-engines was the attraction at a picnic of the Urbane Pleasure club of Neponset at New Downer Landing on Memorial day, but only six engines entered. The tubs were very evenly matched as the result shows less than 20 feet between the highest and the lowest, as follows:

	Ft.	In.
Hancock of Brockton,	175	7 5-8
Butcher Boy of So. Braintree,	173	11
Active of Weymouth,	169	2 7-8
Union of East Braintree.	167	2 7-8
Conquerer of So. Weymouth,	162	1 1-8
Roxbury Vet. of Roxbury,	156	3

The first prize of $100 went to the Hancock, the second of $50 to the Butcher Boy, and the third of $25 to the Active.

The West Quincys won the ball game with the City Point C. A. nine, the score being 3 to 2.

Other sports were as follows: 100-yard dash, won by T. Greenough, T. Murphy, second; one-half mile run, won by Michael Guertin; one-half mile bicycle race, won by J. Doyle; two-mile bicycle race, won by J. Doyle.

$3,000 VERDICT.

Jury Reports This Morning against the City.

The jury at Dedham this morning in a case against the City of Quincy rendered their verdict in favor of the plaintiff for the sum of $3,000.

The case has been on trial during the whole of Tuesday and Wednesday in the Norfolk Superior Court—and was hard fought on both sides.

The plaintiff Mrs. Newcomb resides on Howard street near Bent's creek and on the evening of February 28, a year ago, while out making a call on a friend fell over a water shut-off box having a broken top which was projecting above the sidewalk on Howard street near Mr. Saunders house about two and one-half inches. The injury was to the knee.

The plaintiff claimed that it was negligent for the city to maintain the water box in this condition in the sidewalk particularly as witnesses for her testified that the box had been allowed to remain in this shape for a very long time before the accident. The city denied this and further claimed that considering the place Quincy Neck an outlying district of the city it had done all it could reasonably have been expected to do in caring for the sidewalk.

Paul R. Blackmur and James F. Harlow were counsel for Mrs. Newcomb and Russell A. Sears and Maurice Spillane for the city.

St. Mary's Coffee Party.

The first annual reunion and coffee party of St. Mary's parish since it became a separate parish was held Wednesday evening at St. Mary's hall. It was a most gratifying success. The hall was crowded and there was hardly breathing space. The interior of the hall was prettily decorated with flags and bunting, [illegible] and music was furnished by an orchestra.

Rev. A. F. Roche, Rev. William J. Foley and Rev. John J. Powers, the pastor and his curates, were present and received a warm welcome.

Owing to the crowd the grand march was started with difficulty. It was led by John J. Reardon and Miss Nellie Hart, who were followed by along line of young people. This was the opening of the dance which continued until 2 o'clock. At midnight ices, cake and coffee were served.

The floor was in charge of John J. Reardon, assisted by Philip T. Eagan and a large corps of aids.

Burglars About.

The hardware store of C. M. Jenness on Hancock street was entered by burglars sometime Wednesday night who carried away a miscellaneous lot of goods. Entrance was made through a window in the rear of the store. Mr Jenness has slept in his store for nearly a year, Wednesday night being the first night he has not slept there during that time.

Schoolhouse Entered.

The Adams school building was broken into sometime between Wednesday afternoon and this morning. The parties evidently gained entrance by climbing up the fire escape and smashing a window. The only thing missed is a few pennies that were in the master's desk.

The Adams building on Court street, Boston, once the property of President John Adams, and President John Quincy Adams, has just been sold.

THE WORLD OF SPORTS

Cornell Oarsmen Win an Easy Victory Over Opponents

CRACK BICYCLISTS RACE

Nelson, Stinson, Moran and Taylore Among the Winners—Elkes Has a Serious Fall—Day of Double Baseball Games—Memorial Day Sports

Ithaca, N. Y., May 31.—Cornell oarsmen proved their worth once more yesterday, and in the two-mile race on Lake Cayuga rowed across the finish easy winners over Columbia and Pennsylvania. Coach Courtney's men showed splendid form, and in addition possessed weight and power superior to their opponents.

They rowed to victory in the excellent time of 10m. 52s., lowering the record for the course, made two years ago, by 34 seconds. Columbia was second, finishing in 11:02, and Pennsylvania made the distance in 11:08 1-2. The Ithacans had a lead of 2 1-2 lengths on Columbia, and the New York crew had about the same advantage over the Pennsylvania oarsmen.

Both Cornell and Columbia left Pennsylvania behind shortly after the start of the race. The Pennsylvania crew were no doubt disappointed, for in the betting they were favorites, and Cornell had looked for a hard fight from Coach Ward's oarsmen. The Pennsylvanians apparently lacked power, however, and Cornell found her real rival in Columbia.

Elkes Meets With Accident

Boston, May 31.—The new cycle track at Revere was opened yesterday. The race in which the greatest interest centered was a 25-mile motor-paced race, with Harry Elkes, James Moran and Harry Caldwell as contestants. In the 10th mile Elkes, who was leading by 1 1-4 laps, was thrown violently on account of a punctured rear tire. He was badly hurt, and was brought to this city. Moran was second, with Caldwell hopelessly in the rear. Moran continued, and finished the 25 miles in 42:25 3-5. Caldwell only completed 20 miles, 7 laps.

Stinson Wins at Providence

Providence, May 31.—The new six-lap bicycle track was auspiciously opened yesterday afternoon, a 25-mile motor-paced race between Stinson, Walthour and Nat Butler being the principal event. The 25-mile race record for a six-lap track was broken, and the contest from start to finish was very close, Stinson winning by about one-quarter of a lap.

At Charles River Park

Boston, May 31.—At the Charles River park yesterday afternoon Johnnie Nelson did some brilliant bicycle riding, defeating Albert Champion an even mile and Archie McEachern by 2 1-3 miles, in the 25-mile motor-paced race, his time being 39:08 3-5. Champion added to the excitement of 4000 people by falling, and only the aid of a spare motor tandem saved second place for him when McEachern's sole motor had gone wrong. McEachern rode mile after mile without pace, cheered to the echo. Nelson lowered the track record for the distance, held by himself.

The racing was continued last evening. A 25-mile motor-paced race between Will C. Stinson of Cambridge, Ross of Brockton and Burns Pierce was the chief event upon the card, and was won by Stinson in 33 3-5. Stinson lead the others from the start.

Intercollegiate Bicycle Races

New York, May 31.—The intercollegiate bicycle championship were held at Berkeley Oval yesterday. Yale captured the championship, as was generally expected, scoring 30 points; Princeton, 17; Pennsylvania, 7, and Columbia, 1. All the finishes were close.

The Frenchman Won

Philadelphia, May 31.—Eduoard Taylore, the French cyclist, defeated Frank Cadwell of Hartford in a 20-mile motor-paced race here. Taylore's time for the 20 miles was 36:46 2-5.

Marred by Serious Accident

Meriden, Conn., May 31.—At the annual athletic meet of the Irish-American Athletic association here yesterday John Flannagan, the holder of the world's record, threw the 16-pound hammer through a fence surrounding the grounds, and the weight struck Henry Dierle, a bystander, on the head, fracturing his skull. Dierle's chances for life are slim. The actual throw to the spot where the man stood was 178 feet 5 inches, beating the old world's record by nine feet. The meet was closed after the occurrence.

The Knickerbocker Games

New York, May 31.—On its field at Bergen Point the Knickerbocker Athletic club yesterday held its annual sports. Two established records were broken. Ray C. Ewry of the New York Athletic club went 34 feet, 9½ inches in three standing jumps, which carried him 1½ inches over the record, and L. De B. Handley of the Knickerbocker Athletic club finished the medley race in 16m. 27 4-5s, which is under the 18m. flat of T. Savage, an Englishman.

Burlingame Was Handicapped

Brockton, Mass., May 31.—Harvey Parker of this city easily defeated George Burlingame of Baltimore two straight falls in a wrestling contest here last night. Parker clearly showed his superiority, although Burlingame was seriously handicapped by having his left arm in a bandage, it having been broken sometime ago.

Cornell's Good Work

Ithaca, N. Y., May 31.—The Cornell athletes surprised the Princeton team yesterday in the dual meet on Percy field by administering to the visitors a severe defeat. Out of 104 points, the Ithacans took 64, leaving only 40 for the visitors. The showing is by far the best ever made by Cornell in this branch of sports.

Lawson's Fast Horse

Boston, May 31.—A great holiday crowd saw some fine racing at the Brookline Country club yesterday. The Duke's cup, won by Lawson's Ronkonkoma, was run within three seconds of the record, Ronkonkoma showing himself to be one of the fastest steeple chasers in the country.

Railway Shops Crippled

Washington, May 31.—Reports received by the Southern railroad show that more than half of the machinists employed at the Southern railway shops at Charleston, Atlanta, Knoxville, Selma, Columbia, Spencer, Manchester and Birmingham are out on a strike.

Russell Probably Fatally Hurt

Springfield, Mass., May 31.—Bert E Russell, holder of the American bicycle hill climbing championship, and the bicycle record from New York to Boston ran into a trolley car while riding a bicycle here yesterday, and received injuries which may prove fatal.

Had Rough Experience

St. John's, May 31.—Mr. Haywood, manager of the Howard Lumber company, who was lost in the woods and missing for six days, has been found. He had subsisted on spruce rind and was very weak. When rescued he immediately went to sleep and remained in a lethargic state for 24 hours.

A PALE-FACE GIRL

may be almost safely set down as wanting red in her blood. If subject to dizziness, fainting, shortness of breath on slight exertion, no doubt remains.

To want red in the blood is to fail of the good of one's food. Her food is not nourishing her. She needs a change.

The easiest change she can get, and one of the best, is Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil.

It gives her the upper hand in the contest—her food has the upper hand now—she is pale no more.

We'll send you a little to try, if you like.
SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl street, New York.

WILL NEVER LOSE DIGNITY

General Grosvenor Has No Fear of Desecration of Our Flag

Boston, May 31.—General Charles H. Grosvenor of Ohio delivered the oration before the Edward W. Kingsley, No. 113, yesterday. The general referred to the beautiful ceremony performed at the navy yard of strewing flowers on the ocean in memory of naval heroes and to the other sacred ceremonies of the day. He pleaded for a better feeling toward he men of the south. Said he:

The speaker sketched the history of the United States since the War of the Rebellion, and upon reaching the Spanish war period paid a glowing tribute to Admiral Dewey, which was vociferously cheered. He also praised Admirals Sampson and Schley, saying their work at Santiago exceeded anything Nelson ever did.

"We have met men in congress, in the house and in the senate, who fought in battle against us, and they are vastly better and sometimes vastly truer patriots today than a good many men who stayed at home and howled in the rear.

In closing, he said he had no fear of Memorial day being desecrated. "The old flag of your country," he said, "that you carried in the dark hours of the war; the old flag that you followed when you charged at Gettysburg; the old flag that was always at the front in the seven days' fight in the Wilderness; the old flag that led the armies to the west and south to victory and glory the old flag that flew over Grant when he signed the surrender at Appomatox Courthouse, will never lose its dignity because somebody does not appreciate its sacredness."

Was Not Over-Popular

Berlin, May 31.—Count William Bismarck, after an illness of six days, died yesterday. The cause of death was peritinotis, from which he has suffered greatly. Few of the newspaper obituary notices of Count Bismarck are complimentary, and the majority point out that the son possessed all his father's foibles without his father's greatness.

COUNT WILLIAM BISMARCK.

Boston Labor Troubles

Boston, May 31.—A new feature has been introduced into the strike situation by the refusal of 70 drivers employed in division four of the Boston Ice company to return to work unless the company agrees to abolish the so-called "spy" system. The company now sends collectors in wagons to receive money for ice that the drivers sell. The drivers claim it is a reflection upon their honesty. There has been no change in the situation as regards the machinists and linemen's strikes.

No Loss of Time

I have sold Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea, Remedy for years, and would rather be out of coffee and sugar than it. I sold five bottles of it yesterday to threshers that could go no farther, and they are at work again this morning.—H. R. PHELPS, Plymouth, Oklahoma. As will be seen by the above the threshers were able to keep on with their work without losing a single day's time. You should keep a bottle of this Remedy in your home. For sale by all druggists.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Frank Reeves, a negro, was hanged by a mob at Georgiana, Ala. He had assaulted Miss Ada McMillin.

During a fire which destroyed the home of Thomas McAndrews at Moosic, Pa., his son, James, aged 22, was burned to death, and Mrs. McAndrews was fatally injured by leaping from a window.

While William Broderick was walking home at Fall River, Mass., he was waylaid and robbed of considerable money and valuables and roughly handled by his assailants.

As the result of a fire which occurred at Staraya Ermya, in southeastern Russia, 135 houses were destroyed. Two women were killed and many persons injured.

The country home for consumptives of the Montefiore home for chronic invalids was dedicated at Bedford Station, N. Y. Theodore Roosevelt made the principal address.

Weather Conditions and Forecast

Almanac, Saturday, June 1.
Sun rises—4:10; sets, 7:14.
Moon sets—3:38 a. m.
High water—11:15 a. m.; 11:30 p. m.

Showers are indicated for eastern Maine; fair weather will prevail elsewhere. The winds on the coast will be light and variable.

Says He Was Roughly Handled

Hyannis, Mass., May 31.—Manuel Silvia, aged 27, was assaulted on the Barnstable road yesterday and officers are looking for Warren Ellis and Nathan Eldridge. Silvia says all three were walking along the road when Ellis and Eldridge knocked him down and attempted to rob him. He further says that previous to the assault the men had given him knockout drops.

The guests are gone the smile slips from the face of the hostess and she gives up to the pain which racks her body. Many a woman entertains and wears a smile while her back aches and her nerves quiver with pain. Surely any medicine which offers relief to women would be worth a trial under such conditions. But when the woman's medicine, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, is offered with the proof of efficacy in thousands of well attested cures, what excuse can then be offered for suffering longer?

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong and sick women well. It dries enfeebling drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

"It is with the greatest pleasure I write you the benefit my mother has received from your 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medical Discovery,'" says Miss Carrie Johnson, of Lowesville, Amherst Co., Va. "She suffered untold misery with uterine disease and nervousness, and had a constant roaring and ringing noise in her head. After taking six bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery,' she was entirely cured."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets stimulate the liver.

Assessors' Notice.

TO the inhabitants of City of QUINCY and all other persons liable to pay taxes therein: You are hereby notified to bring in to the Assessors of said City

On or before JUNE 15, 1901,

True and Perfect Lists of all the Polls, and Schedules and Estimates of all the Personal Estates and Real Estate for which you are liable to pay Taxes.

Persons holding estates in trust, whether for minors or otherwise, are particularly requested to furnish the Assessors with Statements in relation to such estates.

When the estates of persons deceased have been divided, or have changed hands from other causes during the past year, the Executors, Administrators, or other persons interested, are required to give notice of such changes, and in default of such notice will be held to pay the taxes assessed.

Blank forms for "Return of Property for Taxation" can be procured of the Assessors.

The following may serve as a guide to assist in making up Schedules and Statements:

Number of Polls 20 years and upwards; Money at interest; Amount of Money on hand, including deposits in Banks, etc., other than Savings Banks; Railroad, Town, City, State and other Bonds (except those of the United States); Shares and Stocks of Insurance, Manufacturing and other incorporated companies chartered or organized under the laws of any State other than Massachusetts; Goods, Wares, Merchandise, and other stock in trade, within or without the State, Household Furniture, exceeding $1,000 in value; Horses, Mules, Carriages, Oxen, Cows, other neat Cattle not less than one year old, and Swine and Sheep not less than six months old; Income from Profession, Trade or Employment exceeding $2,000; Personal Property held in trust or by wife or minor children.

Attention is hereby called to Section 29 of Chapter 11 of the Public Statutes.

"Whoever, with intent to defeat or evade the provisions of law in relation to assessment or payment of taxes, delivers or discloses to an assessor or assistant assessor a false or fraudulent list, return or schedule of property as and for a true list of his estates, not exempted from taxation, shall be punished by fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or by imprisonment in jail not exceeding one year.

MORTGAGED PROPERTY.—Any mortgagor or mortgagee of real estate may bring in to the assessors of the town or city where such real estate lies within such time as shall be specified for bringing in the lists as provided in Sect. 38, of Chap. 11 of the Public Statutes, a statement under oath of the amount due on each separate lot or parcel of such real estate, and the name and residence of every holder of an interest therein as a mortgagee or mortgagor. When such property is situated in two or more places, or when a recorded mortgage includes for one sum two or more estates or parts of an estate, an estimate of the amount of the mortgagee's interest in each estate or part of an estate shall be given in such statement. The assessors shall, from such statements or otherwise, ascertain the proportionate parts of such estates that are the interests of mortgagees and mortgagors respectively, and shall assess the same. Whenever, in any case of mortgaged real estate, a statement is not brought in as herein provided, no tax of the then current year on such real estate shall be invalidated for the reason that a mortgagee's interest therein has not been assessed to him.—Chap. 175, Acts of 1882.

When a statement in conformity to the law above quoted is bronght in, the Real Estate therein returned will be assessed under Sects. 14, 15 and 16 of Chap. 11 of the Public Statutes. But in cases where the mortgagor of the real estate has agreed in writing to pay all taxes assessed thereon, no statement or return is required from either the mortgagee or mortgagor unless requested by the Assessors in writing.

The Assessors will be in session at their office every Thursday morning from 9 to 11 o'clock. Blanks will be furnished to all applicants.

For Women.

Dr. Tolman's Monthly Regulator has brought happiness to hundreds of anxious women. There is positively no other remedy known to medical science, that will so quickly and safely do the work. Have never had a single failure. The longest and most obstinate cases are relieved in 3 days without fail. No other remedy will do this. No pain, no danger, no interference with work. The most difficult cases successfully treated through correspondence, and the most complete satisfaction guaranteed in every instance. I relieve hundreds of ladies whom I never see. Write for further particulars. All letters truthfully answered. Free confidential advice in all matters of a private or delicate nature. Bear in mind this remedy is absolutely safe under every possible condition and will positively leave no after ill effects upon the health. By mail securely sealed, $2.00. Dr. E. M. TOLMAN CO., 170 Tremont St., Boston, Mass.
